Microphotographed
by

Harwell Goodwin Davis Library
Samford University
Birmingham, Alabama

NEWSPAPER CHECKLIST MICROFILM HOLDINGS

The Chilton View

1890

Only last two pages of 9th Available

Ja	M
	16
	23
	30
F	6
	13
	20
	27
Mr	6
	13
	20
	27
Ap	3
	10
	17
	24
My	1
	8
	15
	22
	29
Je	5
	12
	19
	26
Jl	3
	10
	17
	24
	31
Ag	M
	14
	21
	28
S	4
	11
	18
	25
O	2
	9
	M
	23
	30
N	6
	13
	20
	27
D	4
	M
	18
	25

1891

Ja	1
	8
	15
	M
	29
F	5
	M
	19
	26
Mr	5
	12
	19
	26
Ap	2
	9
	M
	23
	30
My	—
	Missing
	—
	—
Je	—
	—
	18
	25
Jl	M
	M
	M
	23
Ag	7
	13
	M
	27
S	3
	10
	17
	24
O	1
	8
	15
	M
	29
N	—
	M
	—
D	3
	M
	M
	24
	31

1892

Ja	7
	14
	21
	28
F	4
	11
	M
	25
Mr	3
	10
	17
	24
	31
Ap	7
	14
	21
	28
My	M
	12
	19
	M
Je	2
	9
	16
	M
	30
Jl	7
	14
	21
	28
Ag	4
	11
	18
	25
S	1
	8
	15
	22
	29
O	6
	13
	20
	27
N	3
	10
	17
	24
D	—
	8
	15
	22
	29

1893

Ja	5
	12
	19
	26
F	2
	9
	16
	23
Mr	2
	9
	16
	23
	30
Ap	6
	13
	20
	27
My	4
	11
	18
	25
Je	1
	8
	15
	22
	27
Jl	6
	13
	20
	27
Ag	3
	10
	17
	24
	31
S	7
	14
	21
	28
O	5
	12
	19
	26
N	2
	9
	16
	23
	30
D	7
	14
	21
	28

1894

Ja	4
	11
	18
	25
F	1
	8
	15
	22
Mr	1
	8
	15
	22
	29
Ap	5
	12
	19
	26
My	3
	10
	17
	24
	31
Je	7
	14
	21
	28
Jl	5
	12
	19
	26
Ag	2
	9
	16
	23
	30
S	6
	13
	20
	27
O	4
	11
	18
	25
N	1
	8
	15
	22
	29
D	6
	13
	20
	M

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 50 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. | WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. | TERMS: $1.50 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. | CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1892. | NUMBER 10.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Announcing candidates for office, Five Dollars, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S

GREAT COST SALE CAUSES AN UNABATED RUSH

Among the Bargain Seekers of Birmingham and Vicinity.

We inaugurate the greatest slaughter in prices of fine Dress Silks ever known in the South. All of our fine Rhadamas, Faille Francais, Gros Grains, Surahs, Chinas, Satins and fine Brocaded Silks. These goods are the very best the market affords. Avail yourselves of this opportunity.

THIS ENTIRE SILK STOCK AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST!

WE ARE PREPARED

To Execute Job Printing

With Economy and With Neatness and Dispatch

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

La grippe is spreading in Birmingham, and the epidemic seems to be increasing in severity as it spreads. Patients seem to be suffering more and are sick longer than when the disease was last epidemic in the city.

Mr. M. B. Houghton, president of the Commercial and Industrial Association, of Montgomery, has received a letter from the mayor of Gadsden requesting him to call a river convention to urge congress to make an increased appropriation for the improvement of the Coosa.

The Cullman Tribune says: W. H. Morgan killed two pigs last week, weighing, respectively, 804 and 346 pounds, aged 19 and 20 months. Still some people are hard run on account of the low price of cotton. Mr. Morgan is a farmer with plenty of corn in the crib, meat in the smokehouse and money in his pocket.

Rev. Dr. William Harris, the pastor of the First Baptist church of Montgomery, to which place he was called last April, and a most excellent minister and citizen, died several days ago of la grippe. The deceased was born and educated in Kentucky, filled several pulpits with distinction since at St. Louis and Baltimore, and was 43 years old. He leaves a grief-stricken wife and two children and a deeply sympathizing congregation.

The following circular was forwarded a few days ago by Commissioner of Agriculture Lane to nearly every merchant and provision dealer in every county of Alabama, in order to ascertain how much of the farm supplies, which ought to be abundantly raised in Alabama, are brought from other states and consumed in Alabama: "Dear Sir—Will you kindly inform this office what per cent of agricultural products such as are or could be raised by the farmers of Alabama you sell to them in the way of "farm supplies." For instance, you sell a farmer $100 worth of supplies, what per cent of these supplies consist of meal, corn, oats, peas, flour, wheat, meat, lard, hay, potatoes, etc. By giving this matter your attention and an early reply you will greatly oblige."

The recent case of Steve Ryan, of Atlanta, Ga., who was jailed for his refusal—after he broke—to produce in account $120,000 at the suit of his creditors, was quite similar to the case of Ex Parte Hardy, 69 Ala. p. 303. In the Hardy case, it will be remembered by the lawyers and newspaper readers, the latter was jailed by Judge Haralson, of Selma, for contempt, and was liberated by our supreme court on the point that it was a case of imprisonment for debt The court was divided and Judge Brickwell decided it as the Georgia court has done, but a majority of the court held otherwise. The case created considerable interest at the time in the profession, and was ably argued on his side by Hon. W R Nelson, and contra by the late Judge Saffold and by Col. Ray of the Selma bar. The case covers forty-nine pages of the 68 Alabams, and the opinion was published by the Montgomery Advertiser at the time.

Alabama Iron is Profitable.

The first shipment of Alabama pig iron via Mobile arrived in that city a few days ago. The consignment is to Naylor & Co., New York city, and consists of 160 tons. This is the beginning of quite a large amount to the same parties under contract. The iron was shipped from Birmingham via the Mobile and Ohio railway, at a rate of $2 per ton, and will go to New York per steamship at $2 a ton, or $4 freight in all, whereas all rail freight to New York is at $5 and $6. In the matter of time this route is a day and a half shorter than the average time by the all rail route. Regarding this important move the Age-Herald says editorially: Our special dispatches bring news of the first shipment of iron to the east via the Port of Mobile. We also have the interesting statement that this is but the beginning of much larger shipments by the same route. The important fact is conveyed that the freight by the water route is more than $1 per ton cheaper than by the all-rail route, with only a few days' difference of time in favor of the latter. This would indicate that sooner or later, a great trade may spring up with the Atlantic seaboard based on the water freight rate. Of course when water shipments shall reach a point of any magnitude, the railroads will promptly meet the rate and do the business. Here is the real significance of this shipment, if there is any significance in it. Iron is being made profitably in Birmingham at $13 per ton for the best grade. If this can be laid down in New York, Philadelphia and Boston at a total cost of $4, so that it can be sold regularly and systematically at $18 in those cities, there is room for an output much larger than at present. It is a great extension of our market.

Our State History.

A correspondent in the Age-Herald broaches a subject that should command the consideration of every loyal citizen of the state. He says: "No character of work is exciting more interest nowadays than that of historical research and investigation. Every number of the Magazine of American History, as well as of other papers devoted to this special work, contains reports of the enthusiastic meetings of such societies and accounts of the organization of new ones. While such work, however, is being pushed vigorously in other states and communities, it must be confessed that there is little, or nothing, being done in Alabama. In the early fifties an Alabama State Historical society was formed, and up to this time has sustained a fitful existence but without especial value to the historian or the cause of history. Something should be done to revive interest and stimulate the work for which the society was originally organized, and the question is here asked, why is not something being done? Valuable material is constantly being lost, and it will not be long before that character of history and information which rests alone in the memory of men now living will pass away forever. This society had its origin at the University of Alabama, and there still lives many who were present and assisted in its organization. Let those who are at present charged with its management make in attempt to get the organization together again. Call a meeting, invite specially at least 200 men and women from different parts of the state, prominent in political and social life, who might be supposed to be willing to take part and who would be of value in the society's work, and issue a general invitation through the press to all those interested in historical work to be present. The society ought by all means to have a meeting and arrange in the future for quarterly meetings. By proper management interest can be aroused and an impetus given to this character of inquiry the effect of which will be incalculable.

The Situation in Choctaw.

The following comment is taken from the Age-Herald and was published before the final acts in the drama of the now famous escapades of the Bob Sims gang. Since then the whole band has been nearly exterminated as our dispatches elsewhere will show: The news from Choctaw is most serious as well as sensational. The religious fanaticism of the sect known as "Simsites" has reached the point where it must be put down at all hazards. It will be remembered that a few months ago several lives were lost in a rescue of some of the gang by the others. It was reported at the time that the immediate family of the Sims' had obeyed the orders of their neighbors and moved off to a healthier clime. The next sensational incident of the story was a visit by two of the Sims girls to Governor Jones. They were pretty girls, too, fairly well educated, well dressed, modest and in earnest. They appealed for protection in their right to stay at home and cultivate their little fields. It was a pitiful and touching story. The next chapter is a scene of fire and blood that has no parallel save in the atrocities of Indian warfare. A farm house full of people is surrounded, the torch applied and the helpless inmates shot as they run out, or consumed in the flames. And then, as if to leave nothing out that would complete a story wild, desperate and romantic as the fiercest of the dime novels we all read in our youth, comes the report that two of these armed murderers and house-burners are the fair girls who but lately visited the Governor of the Commonwealth in the seeming of comely and distressed maidenhood pleading its own innocence. The next chapter finds the hunted outlaws, chased to their lair, surrounded by armed citizens and defying capture with the alternative of a fight to the last drop of blood. And the military arm of the State is raised and cannon are on their way down the sandy roads that stretch through the pine forests. The concluding scene will be enacted this morning. Before the hour of noon, the wretches will see through the cracks of their cabin the flash of uniforms among the trees and the awful menace of the cannon gaping in their faces. They will hear the State's relentless command to surrender, and then——.

The Decatur News says: "About the best cropping that we have heard of this year is that done by Ike Smith, colored, who lives on Mr. W. S. White's plantation, near Bellmina. He cultivated twenty three acres of cotton with one mule, and has picked, ginned and sold sixteen bales. Even at the low price that cotton has sold for this season, Ike has made money and is ready to begin with the new year to pitch another crop."

THE FATHER'S SURPRISE.

Widower (to his little daughter, aged 10)—Dora, do you know that Susanne, our housekeeper, is going to be married?

Dora—Oh, I'm so glad we're getting rid of the old pelican! Won't it be jolly! But who is going to marry her?

Father—Well, I am.

For the season, the shipments of apples from New York to Great Britain amount to 888,381 barrels, as against 800,311 last year.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

Telegrams of Sunday report that Poet Walt Whitman has somewhat improved.

Admiral Jorge Montt was formally installed Saturday as president of Chile.

Sir William White, British ambassador to Turkey, died of influenza in Berlin, Monday.

The grip is becoming epidemic in New York. Twelve deaths were reported Thursday.

Four trainmen were killed in a collision on the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad Tuesday.

The board of directors of the world's fair have decided to allow liquor to be sold on the grounds.

The total loss by Sunday night's fire in Boston will be nearly four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

On Tuesday the French chamber of deputies approved the tariff bill. The vote stood 396 to 112.

The house of representatives of Japan has been dissolved by the emperor and a new election ordered.

Miss Clara Barton, of the Red Cross Association, has started a dollar subscription for the starving Russians.

The British steamer Southgate arrived at New York, Monday, with 4,900 bales of Egyptian cotton—the first large importation of that article.

The total number of postoffices in the United States is 65,007, being the highest number ever reached. About three hundred are presidential.

Telegrams of Monday state that fully three-fourths of the people in Hamilton, O., are afflicted with the grip. The death rate is the highest ever known.

Captain John Wilkinson, aged about sixty years, died at Annapolis, Md., Tuesday. During the late war he commanded the Confederate steamer Robert E. Lee.

Ten deaths from grip were reported to the board of health of New York Friday as against twelve on the preceding day. Six were in tenement houses and four in private houses.

A dispatch of Monday states that the entire system of the San Antonia and Aransas Pass railroad is tied up by a strike of its employes. The trouble was caused by the discharge of a conductor.

A Washington dispatch says: Secretary Foster spent a short time at his office in the treasury department Monday afternoon, for the first time since November 17th, when he was taken ill in New York.

A New York dispatch says: According to statements made by the warden and attendants in Ludlow street jail, Edward M. Field is in a bad condition. He neither eats nor drinks and is growing perceptibly weaker every day.

A Washington dispatch of Friday says: The navy department has been officially informed of the arrival of the United States Cruiser Boston at Valparaiso, Chile. Orders have been issued to the commander to proceed to San Francisco.

The great yearly meeting of the Friends began Tuesday at New Garden, Guilford county, North Carolina. Several thousand were in attendance, many from the Western States. The Friends' Sabbath school conference was held at the same time.

Saturday was the 115th anniversary of the revolutionary battle of Trenton, N. J. Gov. Abbett laid the corner stone of a monument to the memory of Washington and the continental troops who crossed the Delaware and surprised and routed the Hessians.

At Camden, N. J., Saturday, A. Holt, publisher of the Echo, a religious journal, issued in that city, was fined $1,000 for contempt in publishing a statement reflecting on the court. He was committed to prison until further orders of the court are made.

A New York dispatch of Monday says: It is thought the United States steamer Constellation will be the vessel to take the contribution of flour and breadstuffs, made by the people of the United States to the famine sufferers in Russia. A full cargo has been contributed.

A New York dispatch says: The action of Henry Stanford, as president of the Adams Express company, against John Hoey was discontinued Monday by order of Justice Andrews, of the supreme court, and the attachment granted on October 18th has been vacated.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says: A reciprocity arrangement has been entered into between Salvador Blaine and the British minister, by virtue of which the British West Indian colonies of Jamaica, Barbadoes, Leeward and Windward islands, except Grenada, Trinidad and the colony of British Guiana.

Dispatches of Tuesday from New York say: The ravages of grip up to the present time have been the most severe ever known in the city. The number of deaths reported Tuesday to the health board, resulting from grip and other complications, is sixteen. The total number Monday was eleven.

A Tyrone, Pa., dispatch says: The cashier and stockholders of the defunct Tyrone bank turned over all their property to Assignee Stevens, Monday, for the benefit of their creditors. This will swell the assets to $160,000. As the liabilities are only $100,000, the depositors have good prospects of getting dollar for dollar.

A new people's party for independent politicial action was formed at Lansing, Mich., Tuesday, by the federation of all industrial organizations in the state, including the Farmers' Alliance, Patrons of Industry, Knights of Labor, prohibitionists, industrial party, people's party, Patrons of Husbandry, and several other minor organizations.

The Carpenter Steel works at Reading, Pa., were burned Saturday night. Two of the buildings, besides the office, were saved, and not as much of the machinery was damaged as was at first supposed. The work of rebuilding on a larger scale will be commenced at once in order to fill government contracts for steel projectiles for heavy ordnance. The total loss is estimated at $90,000 to $100,000, fully insured.

The new Gem opera house at Liberty, Ind., took fire Monday evening during a performance. A panic followed the alarm of fire, and men, women and children rushed for the windows, and before it could be prevented, several had jumped from the gallery windows. A number were hurt, and, happily, none seriously. A few buckets of water put out the blaze and the damage to the building was small.

Dispatches of Saturday say that la grippe has a firm foothold in Montreal, Canada, and it is now claimed there are 1,000 cases. It affects its victims in a different way than before—pains in the stomach and headache, followed by weakness in the lower limbs but the attack only lasts in most cases from four days to two weeks. The street railway companies, police force and fire brigade are the biggest sufferers. Out of 375 men on the police force fifty-five are laid up with it.

Judge Jacob R. Davis died on Sunday at his home in Washington, D. C., in the eighty-second year of his age. The cause of his death was paralysis. He had been living in Washington since the close of the war, when he moved there from Georgia. Judge Davis published the Signal at Dahlonega before the war, and was also superintendent of the Dahlonega mint, being appointed to the position by President Pierce. Judge Davis was the first secretary of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Georgia.

Nachman, Myer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods-buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this marketrequires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department, under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, veilings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's caps, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trouseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.

All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.

And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

A SIXTEENTH AMENDMENT.

To the United States Constitution to be Submitted to Congress.

A New York dispatch of Sunday says: The National League for the Protection of American Institutions has prepared an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which will be submitted to both houses of congress shortly after they resume their sessions. This amendment, which, if adopted, will be the sixteenth amendment reads as follows:

No state shall pass any law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the full exercise thereof, or use to property or credit, or any money raised by taxation, or authorize either to issue bonds for the purpose of furnishing, maintaining or aiding by appropriation, payment for services, expenses or otherwise, any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, society or undertaking, which is wholly, or in part, under sectarian or ecclesiastical control.

The following states prohibit sectarian appropriations in their constitutions: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming—twenty-one states.

THE BOOMING SOUTH.

A Gratifying Showing for the Past Twelve Months.

The Tradesman in its late annual review of the industrial developments of the south in the past twelve months says: 4,291 new factories were incorporated against 3,241 for 1890, 2,738 for 1889, and 2,153 for 1888. The statistics say that the showing made by the southern states in the past twelve months especially surprising in view of the fact that the country has been passing through a period of financial depression.

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

J. H. Wertz, clothier, Louisville, Ky., made an assignment Monday.

Fire at McKenzie, Tenn., Tuesday destroyed thirty thousand dollars' worth of property.

Atlanta made her first shipment of bonds, recently issued, to the purchasers in New York, Saturday. They represented $389,000.

The comptroller of currency has authorized the First National bank of Key West, Fla., to begin business, with a capital of $100,000.

The orthodox Jews of Atlanta have organized a relief association for the purpose of relieving and aiding their down-stricken brethren with as much as it is possible for them to do.

A telegram of Tuesday from Warrenton, Va., says: The shortage of Rosenberger, Spendler & Co., bankers, New Market, is now placed at $100,000, and that of the Warrenton bank at $40,000.

The statement of affairs of Rosenberger, Spendler & Co., the Newmarket, Va., bankers who had branches in three other towns, places the combined shortage at about one hundred thousand dollars.

Governor Fleming, of Florida, on Monday, appointed Edward J. Tracy, state treasurer, vice Francis J. Pons, deceased. Tracy has been the governor's private secretary since 1889. He is a native of Cuba, but was educated at St. Augustine.

An injunction was granted in the superior court at Macon, Ga., Saturday, against the Macon Abstract company pending the hearing of a petition for a receiver filed by W. L. Henry, who claims that he was induced to sink $12,000 in the company on false representation.

Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service at Washington, has received a telegram from the medical officer in charge of the smallpox district at Harris Neck, Ga., saying that the disease had been nearly stamped out, and that no fear need be felt of its breaking out elsewhere.

A Jackson, Miss., dispatch of Monday says: The low price of cotton has created consternation among the farmers, and the talk of reducing the acreage next year is rife, and seems to be the only remedy, but can united action in the matter be had? Talk is cheap, and will the discussion end in smoke?

A dispatch from Bristol, Tenn., says: The second trial of Dr. John A. P. Baker came up at Abingdon Tuesday. The counsel was not ready and the case was postponed till the January term for the third time. The case of Mrs. Gilmer, who was charged as being accessory to the murder of Mrs. Baker, was called and she was acquitted.

A Savannah telegram of Saturday says: The latest railroad news is to the effect that the Savannah, Macon and Dublin road is now working to come by Savannah early in 1892. The officers of the road have been in correspondence with the Middle Georgia and Atlantic people for some time, and it is understood that they are desirous of making their way to Hutchinson's island over the latter's track.

A dispatch of Saturday from Fresno, Cal., says: Gratton Dalton, the fugitive train robber, who escaped from Visalia jail last September, was overtaken by officers in the mountains Friday and in a desperate fight one of the officers was killed and two of the robber gang were wounded. Dalton escaped unhurt. He was convicted of robbing the Southern Pacific at Alila, in Tulare county, last January.

A New Orleans dispatch says: Judge B. D. McHenry, democratic convensional nominee for governor, sent his letter of acceptance to the committee Tuesday. It is a long document, and much of it is devoted to the discussion of the proposed amendments (lottery) amendments. He favors submitting the question to primaries. He is opposed to lotteries as a means of raising revenue for the support of the government.

A Chattanooga dispatch of Sunday says: To-day the full extent of the destruction by fire was more apparent. The principal sufferer is the Bank of Chattanooga, which is a total loss. A terrible scarcity of conveyances is made. The fire fiends strike an item of $50 against them. In all nineteen business houses were destroyed, which cost $400,000. The insurance will reach $200,000. The fire originated in the basement of the Bank of Chattanooga building, and was caused by a defective flue.

United States Commissioners Patterson and Henry on the charge of counterfeiting and passing counterfeit money. Sam Rose was sent to jail. His father gave bond for his appearance at the United States court in Asheville. They have been counterfeiting dollars and nickels, and the counterfeits exhibited in court are the basest sort of imitations of the coin of the realm, being made from pewter or metal.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch of Monday says: Trouble is brewing between the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company and its telegraphers. The telegraphers claim that the railroad authorized the discharge of an operator so soon as they learn that he belongs to the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Whatever the real facts of the case are, it may be stated that a number of operators have been silently decapitated recently. The trouble has been coming on for some weeks. It seems now about to be at a climax. The president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers is to investigate.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION

Being Waged Against the Simsites in Alabama.

A Mobile, Ala., dispatch of Monday says: Terrible scenes are being enacted in Choctaw county. The citizens are wrought to such a pitch of excitement that a war of extermination is being waged against the Simsites. Since Christmas two more of the deluded people have been hoisted to death at the rope's end.

A special of Monday to The Register from Shubuta, Miss., tells of the lynching, on Saturday night, of John Sims, brother of Bob Sims, and of Mosely Sims, Bob's nephew.

A most alarming thing about the situation is that Neal Sims, brother of Bob, and who rescued Bob from the deputy marshal at Bladen Springs, Choctaw county, in August last, is still at large and determined to avenge Bob's death. Neal is a desperate man. He firmly believes that his brother was a prophet from God and had divine sanction to kill off the devil's agents, namely officers of the law. It is reported that Neal Sims has collected forty of the Simsites and sent word Sunday that he intended to assault and burn the village of Womack Hill before the night of that day. The people are greatly excited and all of Sunday were massing at Womack Hill to defend the place.

The enraged people on Saturday morning, after the lynching of Bob Sims and his four followers, wrecked the Sims house and burned it to the ground, and then killed every living thing on the place except members of the family, who escaped to a neighbor's house and who will move as soon as possible to another state.

The bodies of Bob Sims and the three Savages were taken down Saturday and thrown over a wall into the graveyard. John Savage still hangs suspended.

A WAR CLOUD.

The President and His Cabinet in Council Over the Chilean Affair.

A Washington dispatch says: The president and his cabinet held a close conference Tuesday morning relative to the Chilean embroglio. Extensive preparations for war are going on at the ordnance department, while denials are being made that any significance could be attached to them.

Much talk is caused by Minister Egan's not attending the inauguration of President Montt, but the last indications are that Egan was not invited.

The order has been issued for the immediate shipment of a new twelve-inch gun, which has had one test at the proving grounds, by fast freight to San Francisco, where it is to be placed on board of the Monterey. A shipment of 42,000 pounds of powder and 11,000 six inch shells have also been ordered from the League Island navy yard to the same destination.

In speaking of this hurried shipment, a naval official said that it was understood to be the intention of the department to send the cruiser now finishing there to Chili. Should it be necessary without her armour which, he thought, would be a very hazardous proceeding. England is evidently "egging" Chili on, and now it looks like war. Many young military men, hungering for distinction, have already applied for Chilian commissions.

THE NEW ORLEANS TRAGEDY.

The Negro Joshing Implicated Charged with the Commission of the Deed.

The following dispatch from Captain W. C. Cooper, of Pinkerton detective agency at work on the New Orleans murder case, was received by the Associated Press at 10 o'clock last night:

THE NEW SPRING TRADE

Is now opening up and we are prepared to show you the largest and most complete line of

Dress Goods, Trimmings, Silks, Velvets, Plushes, Flannels, Cloaks, Wraps, Jackets, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, Handkerchiefs, Ribbons, Veilings, Fancy Goods, Ruchings, Neckwear, Fans, Umbrellas, Leather Goods, Novelties, Perfumery, Toilet Articles, Notions, Rubber Goods, Knit Goods, Infant's and Children's Caps, Infant's Complete Outfits, Ladies' Trouseaux and Mourning Outfits

Ever shown in the city, and at prices that will defy competition. Our stock is now complete in every department, and we invite the ladies to call and examine our goods and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 13,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 56 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. | WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. | TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. | CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1892. | NUMBER 10.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Announcing candidates for office, Five Dollars, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be headed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ Cash money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S

GREAT COST SALE CAUSES AN UNABATED RUSH

Among the Bargain Seekers of Birmingham and Vicinity.

We inaugurate the greatest slaughter in prices of fine Dress Silks ever known in the South. All of our fine Rhadamas, Faille Francais, Gros Grains, Surahs, Chinas, Satins and fine Brocaded Silks. These goods are the very best the market affords. Avail yourselves of this opportunity.

THIS ENTIRE SILK STOCK AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST!

WE ARE PREPARED

To Execute Job Printing

With Economy and With Neatness and Dispatch

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

La grippe is spreading in Birmingham, and the epidemic seems to be increasing in severity as it spreads. Patients seem to be suffering more and are sick longer than when the disease was last epedemic in the city.

Mr. M. B. Houghton, president of the Commercial and Industrial Association, of Montgomery, has received a letter from the mayor of Gadsden requesting him to call a river convention to urge congress to make an increased appropriation for the improvement of the Coosa.

The Cullman Tribune says: W. H. Morgan killed two pigs last week, weighing, respectively, 804 and 846 pounds, aged 19 and 20 months. Still some people are hard run on account of the low price of cotton. Mr. Morgan is a farmer with plenty of corn in the crib, meat in the smokehouse and money in his pocket.

Rev. Dr. William Harris, the pastor of the First Baptist church of Montgomery, to which place he was called last April, and a most excellent minister and citizen, died several days ago of la grippe. The deceased was born and educated in Kentucky, filled several pulpits with distinction since at St. Louis and Baltimore, and was 43 years old. He leaves a grief-stricken wife and two children and a deeply sympathizing congregation.

The following circular was forwarded a few days ago by Commissioner of Agriculture Lane to nearly every merchant and provision dealer in every county of Alabama, in order to ascertain how much of the farm supplies, which ought to be abundantly raised in Alabama, are brought from other states and consumed in Alabama: "Dear Sir—Will you kindly inform this office what per cent of agricultural products such as are or could be raised by the farmers of Alabama you sell to them in the way of "farm supplies." For instance, you sell a farmer $100 worth of supplies, what per cent of these supplies consist of meal, corn, oats, peas, flour, wheat, meat, lard, hay, potatoes, etc. By giving this matter your attention and an early reply you will greatly oblige."

The recent case of Steve Ryan, of Atlanta, Ga., who was jailed for his refusal—after he broke—to produce in account $120,000 at the suit of his creditors, was quite similar to the case of Ex Parte Hardy, 69 Ala. p. 303. In the Hardy case, it will be remembered by the lawyers and newspaper readers, the latter was jailed by Judge Haralson, of Selma, for contempt, and was liberated by our supreme court on the point that it was a case of imprisonment for debt The court was divided and Judge Brickwell decided it as the Georgia court has done, but a majority of the court held otherwise. The case created considerable interest at the time in the profession, and was ably argued on his side by Hon. W. R Nelson, and contra by the late Judge Saffold and by Col. Ray of the Selma bar. The case covers forty-nine pages of the 68 Alabama, and the opinion was published by the Montgomery Advertiser at the time.

Alabama Iron is Profitable.

The first shipment of Alabama pig iron via Mobile arrived in that city a few days ago. The consignment is to Naylor & Co., New York city, and consists of 160 tons. This is the beginning of quite a large amount to the same parties under contract. The iron was shipped from Birmingham via the Mobile and Ohio railway, at a rate of $3 per ton, and will go to New York per steamship at $2 a ton, or $4 freight in all, whereas all rail freight to New York is at $5 and $6. In the matter of time this route is a day and a half shorter than the average time by the all rail route. Regarding this important move the Age-Herald says editorially: Our special dispatches bring news of the first shipment of iron to the east via the Port of Mobile. We also have the interesting statement that this is but the beginning of much larger shipments by the same route. The important fact is conveyed that the freight by the water route is more than $1 per ton cheaper than by the all-rail route, with only a few days' difference of time in favor of the latter. This would indicate that sooner or later, a great trade may spring up with the Atlantic seaboard based on the water freight rate. Of course when water shipments shall reach a point of any magnitude, the railroads will promptly meet the rate and do the business. Here is the real significance of this shipment, if there is any significance in it. Iron is being made profitably in Birmingham at $13 per ton for the best grade. If this can be laid down in New York, Philadelphia and Boston at a total cost of $4, so that it can be sold regularly and systematically at $16 in those cities, there is room for an output much larger than at present. It is a great extension of our market.

Our State History.

A correspondent in the Age-Herald broaches a subject that should command the consideration of every loyal citizen of the state. He says: "No character of work is exciting more interest nowadays than that of historical research and investigation. Every number of the Magazine of American History, as well as of other papers devoted to this special work, contains reports of the enthusiastic meetings of such societies and accounts of the organization of new ones. While such work, however, is being pushed vigorously in other states and communities, it must be confessed that there is little, or nothing, being done in Alabama. In the early fifties an Alabama State Historical society was formed, and up to this time has sustained a fitful existence but without especial value to the historian or the cause of history. Something should be done to revive interest and stimulate the work for which the society was originally organized, and the question is here asked, why is not something being done? Valuable material is constantly being lost, and it will not be long before that character of history and information which rests alone in the memory of men now living will pass away forever. This society had its origin at the University of Alabama, and there still lives many who were present and assisted in its organization. Let those who are at present charged with its management make in attempt to get the organization together again. Call a meeting, invite specially at least 200 men and women from different parts of the state, prominent in political and social life, who might be supposed to be willing to take part and who would be of value in the society's work, and issue a general invitation through the press to all those interested in historical work to be present. The society ought by all means to have a meeting and arrange in the future for quarterly meetings. By proper management interest can be aroused and an impetus given to this character of inquiry the effect of which will be incalculable.

The Situation in Choctaw.

The following comment is taken from the Age-Herald and was published before the final acts in the drama of the now famous escapades of the Bob Sims gang. Since then the whole band has been nearly exterminated as our dispatches elsewhere will show: The news from Choctaw is most serious as well as sensational. The religious fanaticism of the sect known as "Simsites" has reached the point where it must be put down at all hazards. It will be remembered that a few months ago several lives were lost in a rescue of some of the gang by the others. It was reported at the time that the immediate family of the Sims' had obeyed the orders of their neighbors and moved off to a healthier clime. The next sensational incident of the story was a visit by two of the Sims girls to Governor Jones. They were pretty girls, too, fairly well educated, well dressed, modest and in earnest. They appealed for protection in their right to stay at home and cultivate their little fields. It was a pitiful and touching story. The next chapter is a scene of fire and blood that has no parallel save in the atrocities of Indian warfare. A farm house full of people is surrounded, the torch applied and the helpless inmates shot as they run out, or consumed in the flames. And then, as if to leave nothing out that would complete a story wild, desperate and romantic as the fiercest of the dime novels we all read in our youth, comes the report that two of these armed murderers and house-burners are the fair girls who but lately visited the Governor of the Commonwealth in the seeming of comely and distressed maidenhood pleading its own innocence. The next chapter finds the hunted outlaws, chased to their lair, surrounded by armed citizens and defying capture with the alternative of a fight to the last drop of blood. And the military arm of the State is raised and cannon are on their way down the sandy roads that stretch through the pine forests. The concluding scene will be enacted this morning. Before the hour of noon, the wretches will see through the cracks of their cabin the flash of uniforms among the trees and the awful menace of the cannon garing in their faces. They will hear the State's relentless command to surrender, and then——.

The Decatur News says: "About the best cropping that we have heard of this year is that done by Ike Smith, colored, who lives on Mr. W. S. White's plantation, near Bellmina. He cultivated twenty three acres of cotton with one mule, and has picked, ginned and sold sixteen bales. Even at the low price that cotton has sold for this season, Ike has made money and is ready to begin with the new year to pitch another crop."

THE FATHER'S SURPRISE.

Widower (to his little daughter, aged 10)—Dora, do you know that Susanne, our housekeeper, is going to be married?

Dora—Oh, I'm so glad we're getting rid of the old pelican! Won't it be jolly? But who is going to marry her?

Father—Well, I am.

For the season, the shipments of apples from New York to Great Britain amount to 332,381 barrels, as against 305,371 last year.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

Telegrams of Sunday report that Poet Walt Whitman has somewhat improved.

Admiral Jorge Montt was formally installed Saturday as president of Chile.

Sir William White, British ambassador to Turkey, died of influenza in Berlin, Monday.

The grip is becoming epidemic in New York. Twelve deaths were reported Thursday.

Four trainmen were killed in a collision on the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad Tuesday.

The board of directors of the world's fair have decided to allow liquor to be sold on the grounds.

The total loss by Sunday night's fire in Boston will be nearly four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

On Tuesday the French chamber of deputies approved the tariff bill. The vote stood 396 to 112.

The house of representatives of Japan has been dissolved by the emperor and a new election ordered.

Miss Clara Barton, of the Red Cross Association, has started a dollar subscription for the starving Russians.

The British steamer Southgate arrived at New York, Monday, with 4,900 bales of Egyptian cotton—the first large importation of that article.

The total number of postoffices in the United States is 65,007, being the highest number ever reached. About three hundred are presidential.

Telegrams of Monday state that fully three-fourths of the people in Hamilton, O., are afflicted with the grip. The death rate is the highest ever known.

Captain John Wilkinson, aged about sixty years, died at Annapolis, Md., Tuesday. During the late war he commanded the Confederate steamer Robert E. Lee.

Ten deaths from grip were reported to the board of health of New York Friday as against twelve on the preceding day. Six were in tenement houses and four in private houses.

A dispatch of Monday states that the entire system of the San Antonia and Aransas Pass railroad is tied up by a strike of its employes. The trouble was caused by the discharge of a conductor.

A Washington dispatch says: Secretary Foster spent a short time at his office in the treasury department Monday afternoon, for the first time since November 17th, when he was taken ill in New York.

A New York dispatch says: According to statements made by the warden and attendants in Ludlow street jail, Edward M. Field is in a bad condition. He neither eats nor drinks and is growing perceptibly weaker every day.

A Washington dispatch of Friday says: The navy department has been officially informed of the arrival of the United States Cruiser Boston at Valparaiso, Chile. Orders have been issued to the commander to proceed to San Francisco.

The great yearly meeting of the Friends began Tuesday at New Garden, Guilford county, North Carolina. Several thousand were in attendance, many from the Western States. The Friends' Sabbath school conference was held at the same time.

Saturday was the 115th anniversary of the revolutionary battle of Trenton, N. J. Gov. Abbett laid the corner stone of a monument to the memory of Washington and the continental troops who crossed the Delaware and surprised and routed the Hessians.

At Camden, N. J., Saturday, A. Holt, publisher of the Echo, a religious journal, issued in that city, was fined $1,000 for contempt in publishing a statement reflecting on the court. He was committed to prison until further orders of the court are made.

A New York dispatch of Monday says: It is thought the United States steamer Constellation will be the vessel to take the contribution of flour and breadstuffs, made by the people of the United States, to the famine sufferers in Russia. A full cargo has been contributed.

A New York dispatch says: The action of Henry Stanford, as president of the Adams Express company, against John Hoey was discontinued Monday by order of Justice Andrews, of the supreme court, and the attachment granted on October 15th has been vacated.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says: A reciprocity arrangement has been entered into between Secretary Blaine and the British minister, to embrace the British West Indian colonies of Jamaica, Barbadoes, Leeward and Windward islands, except Grenada, Trinidad and the colony of British Guiana.

Dispatches of Tuesday from New York say: The ravages of grip up to the present time have been the most severe ever known in the city. The number of deaths reported Tuesday to the health board, resulting from grip and other complications, is sixteen. The total number Monday was eleven.

A Tyrone, Pa., dispatch says: The cashier and stockholders of the defunct Tyrone bank turned over all their property to Assignee Stevens, Monday, for the benefit of their creditors. This will swell the assets to $160,000. As the liabilities are only $100,000, the depositors have good prospects of getting dollar for dollar.

A new people's party for independent politicial action was formed at Lansing, Mich., Tuesday, by the federation of all industrial organizations in the state, including the Farmers' Alliance, Patrons of Industry, Knights of Labor, prohibitionists, industrial party, people's party, Patrons of Husbandry, and several other minor organizations.

The Carpenter Steel works at Reading, Pa., were burned Saturday night. Two of the buildings, besides the office, were saved, and not as much of the machinery was damaged as was at first supposed. The work of rebuilding on a larger scale will be commenced at once in order to fill government contracts for steel projectiles for heavy ordnance. The total loss is estimated at $90,000 to $100,000, fully insured.

The new Gem opera house at Liberty, Ind., took fire Monday evening during a performance. A panic followed the alarm of fire, and men, women and children rushed for the windows, and before it could be prevented, several had jumped from the gallery windows. A number were hurt, and, happily, none seriously. A few buckets of water put out the blaze and the damage to the building was small.

Dispatches of Saturday say that la grippe has a firm foothold in Montreal, Canada, and it is now claimed there are 1,000 cases. It affects its victims in a different way than before—pains in the stomach and headache, followed by weakness in the lower limbs but the attack only lasts in most cases from four days to two weeks. The street railway companies, police force and fire brigade are the biggest sufferers. Out of 375 men on the police force fifty-five are laid up with it.

Judge Jacob R. Davis died on Sunday at his home in Washington, D. C., in the eighty-second year of his age. The cause of his death was paralysis. He had been living in Washington since the close of the war, when he moved there from Georgia. Judge Davis published the Signal at Dahlonega before the war, and was also superintendent of the Dahlonega mint, being appointed to the position by President Pierce. Judge Davis was the first secretary of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Georgia.

Nachman, Myer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods-buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this market requires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department, under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, vellings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's caps, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trouseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.

All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.

And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

J. H. Wertz, clothier, Louisville, Ky., made an assignment Monday.

Fire at McKenzie, Tenn., Tuesday destroyed thirty thousand dollars' worth of property.

Atlanta made her first shipment of bonds, recently issued, to the purchasers in New York, Saturday. They represented $389,000.

The comptroller of currency has authorized the First National bank of Key West, Fla., to begin business, with a capital of $100,000.

The orthodox Jews of Atlanta have organized a relief association for the purpose of relieving and aiding their downstricken brethren with as much as it is possible for them to do.

A telegram of Tuesday from Warrenton, Va., says: The shortage of Rosenberger, Spendler & Co., bankers, New Market, is now placed at $100,000, and that of the Warrenton bank at $40,000.

The statement of affairs of Rosenberger, Spendler & Co., the Newmarket, Va., bankers who had branches in three other towns, places the combined shortage at about one hundred thousand dollars.

Governor Fleming, of Florida, on Monday, appointed Edward J. Tracy, state treasurer, vice Francis J. Pons, deceased. Tracy has been the governor's private secretary since 1889. He is a native of Cuba, but was educated at St. Augustine.

An injunction was granted in the superior court at Macon, Ga., Saturday, against the Macon Abstract company pending the hearing of a petition for a receiver filed by W. L. Henry, who claims that he was induced to sink $12,000 in the company on false representation.

Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service at Washington, has received a telegram from the medical officer in charge of the smallpox district at Harris Neck, Ga., saying that the disease had been nearly stamped out, and that no fear need be felt of its breaking out elsewhere.

A Jackson, Miss., dispatch of Monday says: The low price of cotton has created consternation among the farmers, and the talk of reducing the acreage next year is rife, and seems to be the only remedy, but can united action in the matter be had? Talk is cheap, and will the discussion end in smoke?

A dispatch from Bristol, Tenn., says: The second trial of Dr. John A. P. Baker came up at Abingdon Tuesday. The counsel was not ready and the case was postponed till the January term for the third time. The case of Mrs. Gilmer, who was charged as being accessory to the murder of Mrs. Baker, was called and she was acquitted.

A Savannah telegram of Saturday says: The latest railroad news is to the effect that the Savannah, Macon and Dublin road is now working to come by Savannah early in 1892. The officers of the road have been in correspondence with the Middle Georgia and Atlantic people for some time, and it is understood that they are desirous of making their way to Hutchinson's island over the latter's track.

A dispatch of Saturday from Fresno, Cal., says: Gratton Dalton, the fugitive train robber, who escaped from Visalia jail last September, was overtaken by officers in the mountains Friday and in a desperate fight one of the officers was killed and two of the robber gang were wounded. Dalton escaped unhurt. He was convicted of robbing the Southern Pacific at Alila, in Tulare county, last January.

A New Orleans dispatch says: Judge S. D. McEnery, democratic conventional nominee for governor, sent his letter of acceptance to the committee Tuesday. It is a long document, and much of it is devoted to the discussion of the proposed revenue (lottery) amendments. He favors submitting the question to primaries. He is opposed to lotteries as a means of raising revenue for the support of the government.

A Chattanooga dispatch of Sunday says: To-day the full extent of the depression by new was more apparent. The principal retail business houses of Chattanooga are in ruins. A terrible picture of devastation is seen. The fire district covers an area of 300 square feet. In all nineteen storerooms were destroyed, with several above story there. The total loss will reach $600,000, with $400,000 insurance.

George Ross and his son Bob, were tried at Raleigh, N. C., Saturday before United States Commissioners Patterson and Henry on the charge of counterfeiting and passing counterfeit money. Sam Rose was sent to jail. His father gave bond for his appearance at the United States court in Asheville. They have been counterfeiting dollars and nickels, and the counterfeits exhibited in court are the basest sort of imitations of the coin of the realm, being made from pewter or metal.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch of Monday says: Trouble is brewing between the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company and its telegraphers. The telegraphers claim that the railroad authorized the discharge of an operator so soon as they learn that he belongs to the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Whatever the real facts of the case are, it may be stated that a number of operators have been silently decapitated recently. The trouble has been coming on for some weeks. It seems now about to be at a climax. The president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers is to investigate.

A SIXTEENTH AMENDMENT.

To the United States Constitution to be Submitted to Congress.

A New York dispatch of Sunday says: The National League for the Protection of American Institutions has prepared an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which will be submitted to both houses of congress shortly after they resume their sessions. This amendment, which, if adopted, will be the sixteenth amendment reads as follows:

No state shall pass any law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the full exercise thereof, or use to property or credit, or any money raised by taxation, or authorize either to issue bonds for the purpose of furnishing, maintaining or aiding by appropriation, payment for services, expenses or otherwise, any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, society or undertaking, which is wholly, or in part, under sectarian or ecclesiastical control.

The following states prohibit sectarian appropriations in their constitutions: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming—twenty-one states.

THE BOOMING SOUTH.

A Gratifying Showing for the Past Twelve Months.

The Tradesman in its late annual review of the industrial development of the south in the past twelve months says 3,331 new industries were incorporated against 3,061 for 1890, 2,356 for 1889 and 1,526 for 1888. The Tradesman says that the showing made by the southern states in the past twelve months is especially gratifying in view of the general condition of trade and the stringency of the money market.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION

Being Waged Against the Simsites in Alabama.

A Mobile, Ala., dispatch of Monday says: Terrible scenes are being enacted in Choctaw county. The citizens are wrought to such a pitch of excitement that a war of extermination is being waged against the Simsites. Since Christmas two more of the deluded people have been hoisted to death at the rope's end.

A special of Monday to The Register from Shubuta, Miss., tells of the lynching, on Saturday night, of John Sims, brother of Bob Sims, and of Mosely Sims, Bob's nephew.

A most alarming thing about the situation is that Neal Sims, brother of Bob, and who rescued Bob from the deputy marshal at Bladen Springs, Choctaw county, in August last, is still at large and determined to avenge Bob's death. Neal is a desperate man. He firmly believes that his brother was a prophet from God and had divine sanction to kill off the devil's agents, namely officers of the law. It is reported that Neal Sims has collected forty of the Simsites and sent word Sunday that he intended to assault and burn the village of Womack Hill before the night of that day. The people are greatly excited and all of Sunday were massing at Womack Hill to defend the place.

The enraged people on Saturday morning, after the lynching of Bob Sims and his four followers, wrecked the Sims house and burned it to the ground, and then killed every living thing on the place except members of the family, who escaped to a neighbor's house and who will move as soon as possible to another state.

The bodies of Bob Sims and the three Savages were taken down Saturday and thrown over a wall into the graveyard. John Savage still hangs suspended.

A WAR CLOUD.

The President and His Cabinet in Council Over the Chilean Affair.

A Washington dispatch says: The president and his cabinet held a close conference Tuesday morning relative to the Chilean embroglio. Extensive preparations for war are going on at the ordnance department, while denials are being made that any significance could be attached to them.

Much talk is caused by Minister Egan's not attending the inauguration of President Montt, but the last indications are that Egan was not invited.

The order has been issued for the immediate shipment of a new twelve-inch gun, which has had one test at the proving grounds, by fast freight to San Francisco, where it is to be placed on board of the Monterey. A shipment of 40,000 pounds of powder and 11,000 six inch shells have also been ordered from the League Island navy yard to the same destination.

In speaking of this hurried shipment, a naval official said that it was understood to be the intention of the department to send the cruiser now finishing there to Chili. Should it be necessary without her armour which, he thought, would be a very hazardous proceeding. England is evidently "egging" Chili on, and now it looks like war. Many young military men, hungering for distinction, have already applied for Chilian commissions.

THE NEW SMYRNA TRAGEDY.

The Negro Justice Re-arrested Charged with the Commission of the Deed.

The following dispatch from Captain W. C. Cooper, a Pinkerton detective at work on the New Smyrna murder case, was received by the Associated Press agent at Jacksonville, Fla., Wednesday:

"At 10 o'clock this morning I arrested Irving Jenkins for the murder of the family in the Pinkerton case and have produced evidence which will no doubt place him in the penitentiary for life."

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 7, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

The primary election plan of nominating candidates for office gave as little satisfaction in Jefferson county as it usually does elsewhere. A convention is a better plan.

The Age-Herald says: One thing that the public has to learn about newspapers is that they give all of all questions and are responsible only for the opinions they express editorially. Some people will never learn this, especially those who are ever ready to take offense.

Our brother, of the Northport Breeze, and Rountree, of the Hartselle Inquirer, managed to borrow enough from some confiding friend to hold Christmas receptions. We congratulate them upon their good luck; and as to the confiding friend in each case he can now get even by running for congress and collecting in editorial pyrotechnics.

The Centreville Express says the county commissioners of Bibb county saved an advertising bill of $1.50 by neglecting to advertise for bids for a new jail to be built for that county. It has also discovered that the failure to let the jail to the lowest bidder will make the building cost the tax-payers $2,000 more than it should.

The Montgomery Journal we opine has made a serious blunder in giving publication even as an advertisement to a card from such a weak character as J. L. Sheffield, a former independent, in which Sheffield in low billingsgate denounces that noble old Roman, Col. Jos. Hodgson, editor of the Mobile Register. The Journal, like Sheffield, seems to have drifted into an untimely dotage and second childhood.

The New Decatur Advertiser swears by its great head that it is not going to support any man for office who is too bigoted and narrow-minded and too penurious to announce in it, hence the Morgan county candidate who has any hopes of "getting there" is on his way to the Advertiser office with his announcement and a V. We hope the Advertiser may get them all and have its supply of the circulating medium largely increased as it deserves.

The Manufacturers' Record says; "Every banker, commission merchant, factor and newspaper in the South should exert their greatest influence from now on to induce the farmers to raise wheat, corn, oats and hogs next year, that they may have a full supply of foodstuffs for man and beast, and then to prepare for a smaller cotton crop. Plant more grain and less cotton should be the universal cry in the South, and every business man owes it to the prosperity of this section to encourage this. If out of the low price of cotton comes a diversification of agriculture and smaller cotton crops it will prove a great blessing to the whole South."

State Treasurer.

The Advertiser is authorized to state that Hon. John L. Cobbs will be a candidate for renomination by the Democratic State Convention for the office of Treasurer. He has waited until now, and is moved to take this step by the many and urgent letters and appeals from all over the State made to him to do so. Those who desire his renomination base it upon the ground of his eminent fitness for the place, his strict attention to every detail of his office, his unbending integrity and his uniform courtesy to all with whom he has business transactions. Under the present law examination by the State Examiner are frequent and always at a time of which the treasurer is not informed. Notwithstanding the large sums annually passing through his hands no examination has ever found his books wrong, nor has there ever been a failure to find every cent of the State's money in the vault. The examinations are strict always, and the money counted by experts. Before the present law enacted examinations were made every two years by Legislative committee. Now it is made whenever the Governor sees fit to order it and this has been very frequently.—Advertiser.

BARTEMUS.

HE COMES TO THE FRONT WITH A FEW CHRISTMAS REFLECTIONS.

And Discusses the Noble Farmer, Birmingham and Frank Pettus.

TRICKEM, Dec. 23, '91.

TO THE TIMES-MAIL.

The surging billows of Christmas are on us and we willingly become submerged in the mad whirl of its riotous pleasures.

The noble farmer is ever given to glorious festivity, but it is only during Christmas and other noted times that he demonstrates to the degree of perfection supreme loyalty to King Bacchus, the god of mirth and revelry, whom the noble farmer worships with a blind adoratin akin to idolitry.

The noble farmer never looks backward, his motto is "excelsior," and his course is ever upward, and he is always found manfully battling for the right in backing against his sleepless foe—the mortgage tiger.

When the Lord drove Adam forth from Paradise, the poor man gazed upon a barren world, and cried out from the depths of despair: "Lord, what shall I do?" The Lord said: "Adam, with all thy faults, I love thee still; arise and be a noble farmer, and I will feed you on the manna of hope through all the coming ages even unto the judgment day." And in truth the noble farmer never despairs even when closed out, for he is sure to be beguiled by fond hope into another mortgage.

There is a great deal truly said and written about the wrongs of the noble farmer, but all the same he pursues the even tenor of his way, and spurns trouble from his heroic heart like the lion shakes the dew-drops from his mane.

His mission is ordained of Heaven, and the pitiful robbers of the other vocations may never tear for the noble farmer will see them through this weary world and will finally get his reward in seeing them flounder, forever in the lake of fire along with Voltaire, Tom Paine and Bob Ingersoll.

There is much contention in this world as to who is going to Heaven and who is not, which contention seems foolish to me in the light of the Bible when it says: "It is harder for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of Heaven. That saying of scripture is saving grace to the noble farmer, for by the time the other vocations get through skinning him he can march by platoons through the eye of a needle.

Well the agony is over in Birmingham and left all sides so well satisfied that the primary election seems a useless piece of work. The friends of Jones claim and rejoice over a great victory, while Kolb's friends say the majority for Jones was so small that it was virtually a success for them.

What a happy menagery is Birmingham, where the lamb and the lion lie down, lie up and lie all around together. Now that the fight is over, we can take up a paper and get the news without being compelled to read the mud-slinging phillipics of her scrub orators, and whangdoodle statesmen. They have become as big a nuisance as the patent medicine novelettes and are more apt to be smothered in their own gas than die of heart failure or brain fever.

Poor Kolb, he surely did catch the devil, but being a Baptist he has a hard shell and can stand a blamed sight of mauling, but I hope he will not be up to going about killing people just to convince that bloody old man, Col. Sheppard that he ain't a coward.

When I was a boy Sheppard use to live in Perry, and was sometimes after running for the legislature, and I considered him quite a sensible man, but I never dreamed that he possessed the intellectual fire-works he shot off at Bessemer. He said he was seventy-three years old, and it is well he told his age as people would have judged from his speech that he was a hundred and seventy-three.

Kolb's grievous faults and Jones' riding a negro circus makes some of us yawn for a dark horse to pull the campaign out of the mud.

Down here in Perry politics are provokingly sober, but the race for office would be made more exhilirating but for the sad truth that the boys are playing the politicians dodge and are not getting on up in accordance with the noble farmers' ideas.

When I look at the long list of candidates hung up in your paper for Dallas, it makes my mouth water to contemplate the possibilities in the way of set-ups, that a fellow on the fence could avail himself of.

I hope Dallas will make a big fight for Hon. Frank Pettus, and secure for him the nomination for congress. I have known Gen. Pettus all my life, and was in the war with him, where we both were plumed heroes. If Frank is a chip of the old block he is good timber, needing perhaps, a little seasoning.

I hope the other candidates for congress in your district will not think hard of me for throwing the shadow of my influence over their prospects, but I am for Frank Pettus, and I have an abiding faith that he will do the right thing when we meet again.

I spoke to my friend, Col. Bob Craig, of Brown's about it, but I found he was already for Pettus, and Col. Craig is no woodlouse as a political heeler.

The National Democratic Committee will meet in Washington on January 21, for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the National Democratic Convention of 1891. The Democratic Convention of New York will probably be held in May next to elect delegates to the National Convention. The New York Sun says the delegates so elected will probably adopt what is known as the unit rule, by which the action of the New York delegation was controlled in the last six National Democratic Conventions. By this resolution the delegates to the national convention will be instructed to enter that Convention as a unit, and to vote and act as a unit in accordance with the will of a majority of the members of the delegation. The resolution will also provide that every delegate or alternate acting in place of a delegate, is to be bound by this rule. New York can have the nominee next time if it will be wise enough to heal up all differences and present the man the rest of the country wants.—Advertiser.

AGAINST THE LOTTERY.

Judge McEnery's Letter Accepting the Democratic Nomination for Governor.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.—Judge McEnery this morning sent Senator Jones his letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for governor unanimously tendered him by the Baton Rouge Convention. The governor takes ground against the lottery, not believing that the State should take the burden entirely off the shoulders of the people, and obtain its revenues through the operation of a lottery.

He does not believe that the lottery "should be permitted to disrupt the Democratic party," and thinks the opponents of the revenue amendent could have defeated the proposition without nominating an independent ticket. He councels a peaceful discussion of the proposition, and thinks that the campaign for and against the lottery should be continued without bitterness and fratricidal strife. He criticizes the Alliance movement and urges the farmers to remedy the evils they complain of through the Democratic party. McEnery's stand against the lottery puts him on the same footing with Senator Foster, who is also against the lottery.

The Fourth District Alliance.

The Fourth District Alliance is called to meet with Mardisville Alliance at Talladega on Thursday, January 21st, 1892.

JOHN W. PITTS, Pres.
J. M. K. GUINN, Sec.

Changed to Memphis.

The meeting called by Agricultural Commissioner Lane to be held in Montgomery on February 7th to devise plans to decrease the acreage of cotton, has been changed to Memphis Tenn., and will be held on the day above mentioned.

Congress meets next Tuesday and the Democratic majority will get down at once to the work of correcting the evils done by the billion dollar congress and pave the way to Democratic success this year.—Advertiser.

Of course you'll write to 1891 for awhile, but be patient and don't "cuss." You will discover that it is 1892 in a week or two.—Bham. News.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork, or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, tones digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it, and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung, or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Letters of administration upon the estate of M. E. VanDerveer, having been granted to the undersigned on the 30th day of November, 1891, by Hon. H. J. Callen, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

This 5th day of January, 1892.

J. P. VANDERVEER,
Administrator.

Notice!

Under and by virtue of a mortgage executed by J. P. Shanklin to the undersigned on Dec. 17th, 1890, and recorded in the Probate Judge's office of Chilton Co., Ala., in Vol. 25, page 464 of mortgages, I will proceed to sell for cash, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Jan. 15, 1892, in the town of Jemison, Ala., within the legal hours of sale, the following real estate, to-wit: The w ½ of sw ¼ and s e ¼ of sw ¼ of sec. 2, township 22, range 13.

H. T. CAFFEY, Mortgagee.

A Gold Watch and $20!

That is what every Agent receives who gets up a club on our $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $28 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO.
48 and 50 Malden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19131 for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ s 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec31o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2437 for the e w ½ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

MY ENTIRE STOCK OF GOODS

At Actual Cost For Cash Only!

I am determined to sell everything in my store in the next few weeks, and to do so I make such prices as will induce you to buy. My Stock is complete, consisting of everything usually kept in a first-class store, such as

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS, SHOES and the best stock of

CLOTHING

Ever offered for Sale in the town of Clanton. Suits that usually sell for $9.00 I offer for $5.75. Best Brogan Shoes for $1.10; Calico 5c per yard; Shirting 5c per yard; Cotton Checks 5c per yard; Sheeting, 6c per yard; Fruit of Loom Bleaching 8c per yard; Salt 75c per sack of 125 lbs; Flour $5.25, usual price $5.75; Meat 7½c; Lard 8c; Sardines 5c; 6 pounds of good Coffee for $1.00; 20 pounds Granulated Sugar for $1.00; 18 pounds Rice for $1.00.

While I regret to do this cutting and slashing business, I must reduce my Stock, as I have recently admitted Mr. R. EHRMAN as a partner for the coming year. Parties indebted to me must come forward and settle at once, or their claims will be placed in the hands of my attorney. I will further state to those that are slow to pay that no accommodations will be extended them by the new firm the coming year.

Respectfully,

W. H. MERRITT.

Clanton, Alabama, November 12th, 1891.

Come Quick and Secure the Bargains before the best Goods are Sold.

TELEGRAPHY Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Catalogue FREE. Write to Bryant & Stratton Business College, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Note Heads, Statements, and all kinds of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and prices equal to any house.

Hare, Pope & Dunberry, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.

Jobbers of and Dealers in

Paints, Oils & Glass

PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS,
COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS,
MIRROR PLATES, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.

1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
——MONTGOMERY, ALA.——

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,

Union Warehouse Co.

Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.

OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom the insured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It costs no more to insure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract.

And Pays Its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.

C. J. M'CARY, GENERAL AGENT.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 7, 1891.

SCHEDULE S. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	6:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Past	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mr. R. H. Croswell visited Clanton last week.

Prof. R. E. R. Hicks was in town Saturday.

Mr. Cantie Brown visited Clanton Saturday on business.

Rev. A. J. Briggs left for his new field of labor at Mt. Meigs last week.

Prof. Tipton Mullins, of the Jemison High School, was in town last week.

Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Hunter have gone on a visit to Lowndesboro.

Miss Bessie Collier, of Troy, is visiting Mr. W. A. Collier's family in our town.

Uncle Paddy Smith moved his family into his residence on Callen Street last week.

Mr. Tom Hannon is able to be out on the streets after a serious spell of sickness.

Mrs. Givhan and Miss Inez Collier spent several days of last week in the Magic City.

Miss Hartwell, of Lowndesboro, accompanied her mother on her return to Clanton.

We return thanks for a pretty new calendar sent us by the Alabama Printing Co.

Mr. E. H. Lowe has moved into Mr. John Aldridge's house near the Thornton house.

Mr. Joe Chandler has been elected Superintendant of the Baptist Sunday Sheool again.

Mr. W. M. Wilson has moved his family across the railroad opposite Mrs. Hannon's residence.

Mrs. C. G. Reading, of Montgomery, visited her niece, Mrs. W. H. Lawrence here last week.

Weren't those handsome calendars that the Commercial Fire Insurance Company sent out?

Mr. John Chandler has moved his family to his place in town, purchased from Mr. W. M. Wilson.

Mr. S. T. Nelson has moved to Mr. Garner's place, where Mr. Armstrong has resided for the past year.

Rev. R. M. Hunter has been called to the Jasper Baptist Church where he has a much more advantageous opening, and he has decided to accept the call.

Those who were at the candy pulling at Mrs. Dr. E. A. Mathews last Wednesday afternoon had a "sweet" time. The proceeds will go to the M. E. Sunday School Library.

Rev. A. J. Briggs has moved his family to Prattville. This young minister did much good work during his two years residence in our midst, and he will be long remembered by his numerous friends made here.

Our Methodist minister, Rev. B. E. Feagin and family arrived here last Friday night. They were met and welcomed at the parsonage by several ladies who had supper prepared for them. We are glad to have Bro. Feagin and interesting family in our community.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

Dr. H. T. Coffey thinks of moving from Jemison to Calera. He is a mighty good citizen whom Jemison can ill afford to lose; and it is probable that he will get very lonely at Calera.

Dan DeJarnette, colored, was arrested here for stealing coal from the tank pump-house last week. He had his trial before Judge H. J. Cullen and was sentenced to deal in coal four months and pay the cost of court.

Mr. Y. vanden Berg has been appointed Traffic Manager of the Louisville & Nashville R. R., and Mr. C. M. Compton has been appointed General Freight Agent of the same company, both took effect January 1st, 1892.

We publish this week a humorous and interesting letter of "Bartemus," a contributor to the Selma Times-Mail. The style and humor of the letter indicate that the author is Col. Theo. G. Fowler, of Perry. He thinks Frank Pettus a good man for this district to send to congress.

Tribute of Respect.

To the worshipful Master, wardens and brethren of Clanton Lodge No. 423.

No death that has occurred among the members of this Lodge has caused more sorrow than that of our beloved brother, Edward S. Stewart, who was a charter member of this Lodge, while in health he was always present at its communications. His fidelity to every trust imposed upon him, and his many masonic virtues caused his counsel to be sought and reverenced by his many brethren. He had an instructive tongue, attentive ear and a faithful breast. He was kind and charitable, and taught the principles of brotherly love. Of him it may be truly said that he was honored, love and respected by all who knew him. He was indeed, and in truth, a christian mason. To mortal man no higher title can be given. He has joined those on the other shore to forever dwell, in that temple whose maker and builder is God. Let us imitate his virtues and cheerish his memory. Rest brother, rest.

Committee.

Clanton, Jan. 2nd, 1892.

Advertisement.

EDITOR CHILTON VIEW:—As it seems time the people were picking out suitable men in the county for offices, and as I believe a good man should be given a second term, I would like to call the attention of the people to Mr. B. M. Gentry as a good man, fit and deserving to be re-elected tax-collector for another term. The VIEW was opposed to to his election three years ago as it seemed to be afraid he would not make a good officer. But I think that even the VIEW will admit that he has made a faithful and good officer.

Mr. Gentry does not seek re-election, and there will be other candidates for the place who are good and capable men, but where an officer has shown honesty and efficiency in his work it would be the right thing for the people to do to re-elect him for a second term.

V.

Change for a Quarter Please.

Here is a good one on the popular cashier of one of our banks:

A gentleman of color entered the temple of Mammon the other day and remarked to the cashier:

"Boss, please, suh, gim me change fo' a qua'tah."

"All right, give me the quarter."

"Do what, Boss?"

"Give the quarter."

"Scuse me, Boss, but I doesn't part with dis quarter twell I has de change in dis yere han'."

And as the darkey departed with an air of dignified indifference there was a dull, sickening thud behind the counter, and the boys laid the massive form of the cashier in the vault.

Had there been a band present it would have played Annie Rooney.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. —A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

New is the time to subscribe for your county paper

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Jemison.

At Rocky Mount Church, a few miles east of Jemison, there is now a large meeting house being built, which is rapidly approaching completion. The blind preacher alluded to last week, recently went to Birmingham to purchase lights and blinds for the new church, and to the joy of his heart, he secured them at half price.

On Christmas day the inmates of the county hospitital were recipients of a nice fat turkey, oranges and apples. The females also received warm shawls. No doubt the recording angel who took the names of the donators enjoyed the sweetest pleasure of the intire Christmas, looking down with smiling approval on a few who regard the Golden rule.

A MOTHER.

Lily Dots.

Miss Lula Fox has been visiting relatives near Stanton.

Miss Inez Hammond who has been spending several months in Birmingham is now at home.

Married on the 23rd ult., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. B. H. Jones to Miss Lena Nix.

Mr. Nat Spivy died at his home near this place on the 24 ult. His death was a very sudden one.

Married on the 24th ult., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Ben Davenport to Miss Jennie Malone.

Miss Mattie Lenoir spent her Xmas holidays in Clanton.

Miss Florence Deshazo who is attending school at Six Mile is now at home on a visit.

Mr. J. S. Wright who has been clerking in Selma the past year is now at home to stay.

Mr. Will Deshazo is visiting relatives in Coosa county. CLINT.

Maplesville Dots.

A happy new year to every reader of the VIEW, of which every good citizen is justly proud.

Mr. Marion Vines has moved into town.

Mrs. Anna DuBose has been spending some very pleasant weeks with her mother, but has now returned home.

Mrs. Quilla Goodwin and Mrs. Stewart have been visiting Mrs. N. A. Goodwin.

Mr. I. W. Gullahorn had his store broken into and robbed of about $25 worth of valuable goods. His valuable friend, N. A. Saportas rendered him efficient help, but with out success in finding the thief.

Mr. W. Goodwin, of Miss., brother of Mrs. Vines, has been visiting her here.

Mrs. Dunlap and family are visiting Mr. Martin.

Mrs. Dr. Woolley and Miss Gertie took Christmas dinner with friends in Randolph. REVOLG.

Space crowded.

Sermons in Satire.

The right kind of a smile never hurts a prayer meeting.

If you set up for a growler you can always be busy.

The only sins that God cannot forgive are those you desire to keep.

There is no mansion in heaven for the man who is mean to his wife.

Everytime you look at a sin it seems to become a little better looking.

There isn't a bit of religion in making a boy do a man's work with a dull hoe.

It is only when a man gets where he has nothing left to feel proud of that the devil leaves him.

People who blow their own horns do not always furnish good music for other people.

The religion that is noisy in church is sometimes very quiet in places where it is more needed.

Praying to the congregation may sound very nice, but it never attracts any attention in heaven.

It is a step toward heaven to find out that we are made out of the same kind of clay as other people.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jan13

Where the Major Laughed.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Advertiser has unearthed one shining exception to congressional life to the rule that $5,000 a year doesn't make both ends meet. This example is Major Martin, of Texas, who blew out the gas the first night of his arrival in Washington. The major's living expenses in Texas had ranged from $700 to $800 per annum. He resolved, when thrust into Congress by his neighbors, that he would not permit the extravagances of fashionable life to dally with him to the extent of more than $200 in excess of that sum. In short, society or no society, $1,000 per annum was his limit. He stuck to the resolution through the four years of his service. Upon the expiration of his term he walked right into the office of the sergeant-at-arms, threw down a huge roll of bills and asked for exchange on New York. He stroked his goatee complacently and remarked to the cashier: "They say the old man blew out the gas, but I guess none of them fellers that wear patent leather shoes and drink that fizzin' kind of wine will tote home any wad like that." The "wad" contained $17,000, saved in four years out of an aggregate salary of $20,000 and mileage. This is where the major has his laugh.

It is estimated that nearly an average of 5,000 patent medicines are put on the market every year, but less than one hundred survive. The 100 are those that are freely advertised in the newspapers.

A naturalist says that of all animals the horse has the acutest sense of hearing. This is contradicted, however by a prevailing superstition that the "little brother" possesses that faculty in the greatest degree.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES, Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

JEMISON High School.

(MALE AND FEMALE).

JEMISON, - - - ALA.

TIPTON MULLINS, L. I., A. B., PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about midway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 706 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $8.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

For further information address TIPTON MULLINS, aug13 Jemison, Ala.

Assessor's Notice!

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Cooper's,	January	1st,
Verbena,	"	2d,
Kinchcon,	"	4th,
Clanton Ford	"	5th,
Dixie	"	6th,
R. Latham's	"	7th,
Maplesville,	"	8th,
Benson,	"	9th,
Chandler's Saw Mill	"	11th,
Macedonia,	"	12th,
Prim's School House	"	13th,
Providence,	"	14th,
Jemison	"	15th,
Strasburg	"	16th,
Mineral Springs,	"	19th,
Maddox's Grist Mill,	"	20th,
Gore's School House	"	21st,
Cane Creek	"	22nd
Clanton,	"	23rd.

E. G. ROLLINS, Tax Assessor of Chilton County.

WE ARE HERE TO SELL YOU GOODS AT LOW PRICES.

Having opened a New Stock of Goods in my Store at Clanton I solicit the Patronage of my friends and the public. Goods of the best quality at reasonable Prices.

By Honesty and Fair Dealing I hope to merit your Patronage.

Respectfully,

J. P. ALLEN.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

MONTGOMERY ARMS CO.,

HENRY D. LONG, Manager.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SPORTING GOODS.

SUCH AS

GUNS, PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES, AMMUNITION, BLUE ROCKS, Traps, Base Ball and Gymnasium Goods,

MAGNIFYING GLASSES, TELESCOPES AND MANY OTHER NOVELTIES. CALL AND SEE US AT

112 Dexter Avenue, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Wall Paper, Artists' Materials And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH

The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,

Montgomery, Alabama.

Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.

Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.

W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

WORMS

WHITES CREAM VERMIFUGE

HAS LED ALL WORM REMEDIES FOR 30 YEARS

E. M. BARRETT, Attorney at Law.

CLANTON, ALA.

Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN, Attorney at Law,

VERBENA, ALA.

Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

O. P. BENTLEY, Attorney at Law.

CLANTON, ALA.

Office at the Courthouse.

ALEX. G. DAKE, Justice of the Peace,

CLANTON, ALA.

Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.

Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY, DENTIST.

Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD

THE LEADING

PHOTOGRAPHER.

—OF—

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE

(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)

Photographs of All Kinds Work Done in the BEST STYLE.

Call on him and have your picture taken. [mar24-y

J. W. BLYTH,

(Successor to Tresslar)

PHOTOGRAPHER

10 COURT SQUARE,

Montgomery

Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. Crayon portraits reduced to $12.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.

The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.

Call and see Specimens.

Correspondence solicited.

[Jan21-tf]

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 1, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on January 6, 1892, viz: Francis A. Gibson, homestead 16884 for the west half of n e ¼ of section 24, township 23 r, range 16 s. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Albert Headley, Peyton Headley, Andrew J. Henley, Ezekiel Cooper, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec3 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY

Fall Term begins September 15. Spring Term begins January 21.

Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A. and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The course of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the South. All the modern facilities and appliances carefully provided. Accommodations for 200 boarders. Superb location for health and beauty. Terms of tuition and boarding very low. Send for catalogue with full information. Address

REV. R. A. YOUNG, D. D., President, Greensboro, Ala.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS

Reform Press Comment and Items of Interest Everywhere.

There are now about 800 labor and reform papers in the United States and they publish truths and facts that the monopoly press dare not imitate.

***

A large Citizens' Alliance club has been organized in Indianapolis, Ind., and a people's Congress was also formed to discuss the economic questions of the day.

***

Why call the Sub-Treasury plan class legislation when it will benefit at least 90 per cent. of our population? Is there any other law on our statutes that will benefit as many?—Faulkner County Wheel.

***

The People's Journal (Anderson, Ind.) says: It was shown in the national meeting of the Alliance that the Alliance now has a larger and more active membership than at any time since it was organized.

***

The Alliance representatives in Congress stood nobly to their colors, not voting for either Crisp or Reed, but for one of their own number. May they prove true to the trust imposed in them is the one wish of their supporters.—Standard Farmer.

***

The Toiler (Nashville, Tenn.) says: The want of capital (money) is the great barrier to our material progress. English capital is flowing in abundance at 10 per cent, yet our vast resources are undeveloped and thousands of millions of our wealth is being lost to the world for the want of money to work with.

***

It is a contest between invested capital and the vast army of wealth producers and the lines are drawn in every city and hamlet in the land. The mechanics and laborers and smaller merchants of the cities should speedily join the great army of organized farmers in their effort to emancipate the people from the money power.—Weekly Republic.

***

This from the Alabama (Selma) Minor: "The sub-treasury idea is in no sense sectional, nor is it tinctured with favor to any class. It is as broad as the industries of the people. The principle is that industry shall furnish its products as security for the amount of money necessary to carry on the business of the country, the money to be issued, directly by the government to the people."

***

The Western Advocate (Mankato, Kansas) says: Men who recognize the great havoc that contraction has made with the price of land and farm products, should not reject without due investigation and consideration, all methods proposed to remedy the evil. The comments and misrepresentations of the party press on the subtreasury plan, should have no influence on those who are seeking for the truth. Let everyone give the plan honest consideration.

***

The Arkansas Farmer (Little Rock) puts it thus: If every farmer in the country could draw interest on what he has as well as what he owes, and a good deal that his neighbor owes they would be the most prosperous class of all citizens. This is just exactly what the national bank does. The scheme is accurately and skillfully fixed up by the national government, and to make the swindle still better the whole capital in the deal is practically exempt from any taxation whatever.

***

The Charlotte Chronicle intimates that the North Carolina Congressmen will do pretty much as they please in Washington, regardless of what the Alliance asks them to do. In answer to the Chronicle's intimation the Progressive Farmer adds: That is all right. They may do that way. Several members of the legislature of 1889 did that way, too, but when the roll was called they didn't answer the next time an election was held. Our Congressmen are free men. The voters can vote for whom they please next year.

***

Clarksburg Current (Clarksburg, Mo.) truthfully says: "That which any laborer creates is of right his, and any process that deprives him of the enjoyment of and the possession and use of it is unjust. The wealth of the earth, and of the United States in particular, was created by the joint labor of the whole people; then of right the whole people ought to own it and enjoy it, but do they? No. Then there is a wrong somewhere in the governmental machinery that causes a wrong distribution. The Alliance is an effort to find the wrong and correct it. Then why fight it?

***

The Arkansas Farmer (Little Rock) says: The anti-sub-treasury committee turned up at Indianapolis as expected. A committee was appointed by President Polk from the National Council to meet them. Livingston, of Georgia, was the chairman, and respectful attention was given to Dr. Yeamans in his presentation of objections to the Ocala demands. When he was through Livingston informed him that the "committee was ready to listen to a better proposition, if they had one to offer." This seemed to puncture the anti-sub-treasury bubble, and the doctor said "he had none to offer." This is about the result of all such controversies. They can object and condemn, but do not suggest or propose something better.

***

NATIONAL ALLIANCE DAY.

The Supreme Council wisely set apart the day on which our alliance all over the country will hold their first meeting in January as "National Alliance Day," and requested that the meeting should be devoted to the discussion of our demands, and that a collection should be taken up to aid in the distribution of alliance literature. A most important, noble and worthy object is thus presented for the consideration and action of our alliances, and we trust we may hear that a general and universal interest has been taken in the matter throughout the whole country. Let us start into the great work of 1892 with an enthusiastic earnestness that will tell on the good of the Order and the advancement of our cause.

***

HAS COME TO STAY.

The Sub-Treasury plan has arrived at that stage of existence where it is perfectly able to care for itself, says the National Economist.

It is no longer wearing infant's clothing, but stalks forth in garb of manhood, ready and anxious to meet all comers. It will be a sad and wiser individual who seeks to bar its onward march by an attempt to supplant it with something more palatable for the two old parties. The great common people and the Sub-Treasury plan are in perfect accord and will submit to no interference. Let no one be alarmed about the Sub-Treasury plan being preserved intact. It is the bulwark of the Order and has been recognized by every candid member of the Alliance. This fact has become so firmly rooted and grounded that no innovation even no trifling will be permitted.—Progressive Farmer.

***

STRAIGHT.

We fail to see how it is that certain people are continually crying out that "the Alliance must not go into a third party," and in the same breath yell lustily that it should go into the Democratic party. Keep cool, gentlemen. The Alliance is not going into any party. It will not be made the tail to any political party's kite. It will remain, as it has been—a great educational force and maintain its integrity and organization, as such. Its members can go where they please. If they want to stay in the old parties, it is their unquestioned right to do so. If they have lost faith in both the old parties and feel it their duty to go into a new party, they have just as much right to do so, and no one nor no party can prevent it. So be quiet, gentlemen. This is yet a free country, and the members of the Alliance will not forget it. They are free to act with any party they choose.—Progressive Farmer.

***

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

After two days' consideration by the committee appointed for that purpose at Indianapolis, they reported unanimously in favor of the Ocala demands, changing only two words to make the meaning of the Sub-Treasury plank plainer. This report was unanimously adopted by the Supreme Council. Thus we are sure to have a union of sentiment throughout the entire nation in the ranks of the Alliance, North, South, East and West. For the present, therefore, we may settle down to the conclusion that the battle is to be fought on the line of the Ocala platform. The objectors have totally failed to present at any time "the something better," that we have hitherto said that we would accept instead of our own plan, if it was offered to us. But as those objectors were those, who for one reason or another, are satisfied with the present state of things, it is hardly to be supposed that they would furnish a more efficient remedy for the ills of the farmer than the plan organized by the Farmers' Alliance.—Penninsula Farmer.

***

TOILING ON.

Under the above suggestive caption the Alliance Advocate, Louisville, Tenn., says: The masses of humanity to-day are toiling, and pinching, and saving, from one year's end to the other, and they receive only a miserable pittance upon which to subsist, and nothing is laid aside for a rainy day. We see this in our own immediate neighborhoods—men with families to support, who barely earn the food they eat, and are unable to procure sufficient clothing to keep them comfortable. The outlook is dark to them, and that their children must inherit only hardship and toil growing more severe with each succeeding year. Where shall relief be found? Will the plutocrat release his grip on the throat of the toiler, or the bondsman grow weary of turning into his coffers the earnings of his slaves? Shall we look to the men who have brought degradation and poverty to the toilers to remove the burdens they themselves have imposed upon them? History lifts it warning voice, crying from the shores of Ireland an alarm made more terrible by contrast with the happy past. Pauper labor prevails throughout the old countries, and the tendencies in this country are in the same direction. Aliens are constantly securing immense tracts of land in this country, and every effort is being made to control legislation in the interest of the plutocrat, and against the farmer and laborer. Toiling on, day after day, the laborers have allowed these wrongs to pass unnoticed, until now their removal will require herculean efforts. The wisest counsels must prevail, and organization must be perfected, and educated up to the needs of the hour. There is no call for anarchy. The American people have weapons all powerful in the ballots they are as yet permitted to cast. It is no longer a question of whether this or that party wins, but human liberty is at stake, and a revolution must take place in order that labor may receive the hire of which it is deserving. Laboring men—before you is a struggle as sure to come as the revolutions of the earth. Bare ye your arm for the work now; to delay means the awful arbitrament of force. Wait not for the resolution born of despair. To-day your blows will be ballots, to-morrow you may sow dragons' teeth in furrows of a present opportunity.

PANIC IN A THEATRE

In Which Several People are Trampled to Death.

A London cablegram states that a theatre in Gateshead, County Durham, was on Saturday night the scene of a frightful panic, in which, according to reports, at least ten persons, including nine children, were killed outright and many injured. The sight of a blaze, caused by a man in the audience dropping a lighted match on the sawdust-covered floor, caused some one to start the cry of "fire!" and a terrible panic at once ensued. There was immediately a wild rush for the doors, which, owing to the savage crush and struggle, quickly became so blocked that only a few succeeded at once in getting out. There was especially a violent rush from the stairway leading from the gallery. The passage giving access to this staircase became blocked almost at once with persons who were striving their utmost to escape, while the staircase itself was filled with a struggling mass of humanity from the top landing all the way to the outlet. When the panic had subsided so that an examination of the the premises could be made, the bodies of nine children, whose lives had been literally crushed out, were found lying on the staircase or near the door leading to it.

NEW POSTAL CARDS.

Issued from the Postoffice Department at Washington.

Two new sizes of postal cards went into effect Tuesday. The postoffice department issues them to postmasters, to be known as "A" and "C" cards respectively, in addition to the "B," the one now in current use. The A will be of fine quality of loft-dried paper; the C of a strong, finely finished jute paper. The former will be nearly gray in color and 3 15-16 by 4½ inches in dimension, with a portrait of General Grant in the upper right-hand corner. The card will be printed in dark blue. The C will be light manilla, 3¾x6½ inches, designed very much like the other new card. Postmasters will not be permitted under any circumstance s to redeem postal cards in the hands of the public, nor to exchange one kind for another.

KING TO THREE.

The Fate of Bob Sims and His Gang in Alabama.

A dispatch of Thursday from Mobile, Ala., says: Three months ago Bob Sims, leader of the anti-religionists in Choctaw county, all in the neighborhood of Womack Hill, was arrested for running an illicit distillery, which he claimed he had divine authority to run. Two of his brothers, fellow believers, rescued him, killing a bystander and wounding a deputy in charge. One of the brothers was killed. Sims and the other brother escaped, and have been hunted for vigorously ever since. Wednesday night Bob Sims and his gang reappeared in Womack Hill and attacked the house of John McMillan, who has been a member of the pursuing posse. At 11 o'clock at night seven of the Sims gang, all armed with Winchesters, fired into McMillan's house and shot the occupants as they ran out. Fluellen Utzen was shot, but not mortally wounded; John Kennedy, McMillan's father-in-law, was killed; John McMillan was shot three times and will die; the twelve-year-old neice of McMillan was killed; the ten-year-old nephew was shot in the house and burned; Miss McKenzie Shorter, boarding at McMillan's, was shot twice in the neck; Charley Ritsey escaped unhurt. They then opened McMillan's store and robbed it of what they wanted and left it lighted up and open, scattering shoes along the road.

PURSUING THE OUTLAWS.

After the slaughter an alarm was spread and Sheriff D. C. Gavin and posse started in pursuit of the desperadoes. They were found and surrounded in Sim's old home, six miles from the scene. Knowing that the cabin was provisioned with articles plundered from McMillan's store, and also that Sims and his men would not surrender without a fight in which the assaulting party would suffer severely, the sheriff telegraphed Governor Jones for a detachment of artillery, his purpose being to overawe Sims by a display of force, or to blow the cabin to pieces. The governor ordered Colonel Price Williams, commanding the First regiment of state troops, to respond with a detachment and one piece of artillery.

The troops left Mobile at a quarter of 3 o'clock Saturday morning, and reached Shubata, Miss., at 6 o'clock. At half-past 9 o'clock, the soldiers were en route for the scene of action in Choctaw county, Ala., twenty-one miles distant.

In the meantime Sheriff Gavin on Christmas morning sent to Bladen Springs for cannon. When Sims heard of this preparation to blow his strong-hold to splinters, he looked at his women folk and his heart misgave him. He began to parley with the sheriff. At 2 o'clock he said he would surrender if the posse would do him no injury, and if the posse would protect him from mob violence. At first the proposal was flatly refused, but the fact that there were women in the house was a strong point in favor of mercy to the inmates, so that at last the terms of Sims were accepted. At 4:30 o'clock the outlaws laid down their arms, and came out of the house. The posse were astonished to see that, instead of seven desperate outlaws, there were only two men and a boy, as follows: Robt. Sims, Thomas Savage and Young Savage, a nephew of Sims. Four women—Bob's wife and three daughters—came out, also. The others were at once ironed and placed in a wagon. The women were placed in a second wagon and under guard. At 5 o'clock the procession started to Butler, the county seat of Choctaw county, although it was feared that they would be mobbed on the way.

As showing the temper of the people of Choctaw it is said that John Savage, who was arrested the day before Christmas on the charge of being a member of the Sims gang, was hanged to a tree at 10 o'clock the same night.

THEY WERE LYNCHED.

A later dispatch states that while the posse in charge of the Sims party were enroute to Butler Friday night a mob of Choctaw men overpowered the posse and hanged the three men—Bob Sims, Tom Savage and Young Savage. It is reported that another of the Savage boys was hanged at the same time.

When the guard moved off with Sims and the three Savage men—for there were three of them, namely, Thomas Savage and two boys, sons of Con Savage—there remained behind the greater part of the posse that the sheriff had attracted to the scene, and these immediately held a consultation, and, after debate, decided it would not do to permit the desperadoes one chance of escape. So they set out in pursuit. On the way they met Con Savage, another of the Simsites, and without any delay he was strung up to a tree. This is the man reported hanged on Christmas eve. Later the guard was overhauled, but made no resistance. Sims and the other three were taken back to the tree upon which Con Savage had been hanged, and four ropes were quickly adjusted to the branches thereof. The nooses were quickly adjusted and the four desperadoes were launched into eternity.

THE VACANCIES STILL VACANT.

No Appointments by the President Yet for the Interstate Commission.

A Washington dispatch says: There was some comment at the capitol Wednesday upon the failure of the president to send to the senate for confirmation the names of the persons to fill the vacancies in the interstate commerce commission. One of the originally appointed commissioners is dead, one has resigned, and Commissioner Morrison's term of office will expire January 1st, before the senate reassembles. Owing to the peculiar phraseology of the creating act, the terms of the commissioners expire at the end of the period for which they are appointed, instead of continuing, as is usual, until the qualification of their successors, so that when Commissioner Morrison's term of office ceases on January 1st, the commission will consist of but two members. Some fears have been expressed that the commission will be seriously crippled and prevented from discharging its full functions after the first of the year owing to this state of affairs, but it appears from a perusal of the act that that emergency is guarded against by a paragraph in section 11, providing that no vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission.

Canada's New Cabinet.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Quebec, Canada says: The new Quebec ministry, which has been sworn in by Lieutenant Governor Angers, is as follows: DeBoucherville, premier and president of council. Mr. Hall, treasurer; Pelletier, provincial secretary; Rinfret, public works; Flynn, crown lands; Hamilton, agriculture; Casgrain, attorney general. There are three ministers without a portfolio, L. R. Masson, L. O. Taillon, and C. Robidoux.

A POSTAL GUIDE

Which Has Been Issued by Postmaster General Wanamaker.

Postmaster General Wanamaker has issued a postal guide, the only official organ of the postoffice department, and in it is a number of matters of interest. He makes several important recommendations. One is that physical examinations of applicants should be made for the heavy work of the railway mail. A very general extension of the money order system is advised, and a number of reasons given. The adaptation of the telephone to the postal system is heartily recommended. The lottery towns come in for a great deal of attention.

From all over the United States but 686 letters containing lottery tickets were received at the dead letter office from December, 1890, to last October, an average of sixty-two a month. At present the average is less than forty, which shows that the anti-lottery bill is being enforced. This enforcement, however, curtailed the revenue of the revenue service more than one million dollars last year. Here is a statement from the Postmaster General, the truth of which is not generally known:

"Only once in a quarter of a century—in 1863–1868, just prior to the inauguration of two-cent postage—have the department receipts met the expenditures. The estimates for 1893, which have been prepared for the action of congress at the coming session, show that the service may be made to reach a self-sustaining basis by July 1, 1893.

In the additional railway postal service established during the year, the south comes in for a full share. Of the 8,000 miles increase, three-fourths were supplied to western and southern states, the south having 1,400.

The postmaster general meets the views of a big number in what he has to say about the telegraph.

"I want to see," he remarks, "the two great servants of the people, the postoffice and the telegraph, reunited, and the telephone brought in to enhance the value of the combination. Public interests, private needs, and the popular will call for these agencies to perfect the great postal system of this country. Sixty-four millions of people are taxing themselves to-day to the amount of $70,000,000 annually to maintain the postoffice plant, and are denied the right to vitalize this magnificent machinery with the mightiest force which science has given to render that machinery most effective."

As to reducing letter postage to a uniform rate of 1 cent, Mr. Wanamaker has this to say:

"To do this means exactly that the department will lose one-half of the receipts from letter postage. One half would be $39,716,063.75. I have heretofore stated that 1 cent postage will be successfully demanded in time. I believe that time is not far off. It would not be just and fair to a service upon which every effort has been spent for two years to make it self-sustaining, and which now promises to become so in the next fiscal year, to heap upon it, the instant the balance sheet becomes clear, a burden of millions."

The postmaster general believes that letter-carriers should not be weighted down like pack-horses; that railway postal clerks should be paid for the dangers they face daily; that it is wrong to pay a fourth-class postmaster $100 a year who has to pay $200 for fitting his office with boxes, and that rural delivery should be widely extended.

Then comes a valuable item regarding newspapers which he says, could be carried free. "It is possible from July 1, 1893, to take off the entire tax on newspapers, except for city delivery, if all books of every kind are placed on a level with other merchandise and the postage may be reduced by consolidating fourth-class matter with the third-class.

DUN'S REVIEW

Of Business for the Week Ended December 24th.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the six days ended December 24th, reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States 357, and for Canada 35, a total of 392, as compared with a total of 335 last week and 320 the week previous to last. For the corresponding week of last year, the figures were 333, representing 308 failures in the United States and 30 in the Dominion of Canada.

The holiday trade is not always a just measure of the prosperity of the people, but it is satisfactory to know that at most points it is unusually large this year. It indicates that the people feel able to expend more liberally than usual, and it returns large outlays to the manufacturers of holiday goods. The general trade this season is unusually light, the merchants being engaged in taking stock, but at many points it is reported larger than usual, and even larger than last year.

The volume of trade measured by the clearings at the various cities, outside of New York, was 6 per cent more than last year for the first half of December, and later reports show an increase of about 9 per cent. The movement of products continues extraordinary. Reports from cities other than New York show less complaint as to collections, and a large trade in progress. At Baltimore trade in clothing, dry goods, and boots and shoes is good for the season. At Philadelphia, the jewelry trade is unusually busy, the grocery trade light, but equal to last year's. Trade in tea, coffee and sugar fairly active, and in chemicals quiet and steady; while tobacco, liquors and wool are quiet.

Southern cities report less cheerfully than the others, the low price of cotton causing the dullness. The great industries close the year with more than the usual activity, even woolen mills having orders enough to keep them fairly employed, and a number have recently started but none shut down. Cotton manufacturers find a good demand and numerous enlargements of plants are reported. Shoe factories are complain that the usual orders are lacking, and yet they are fairly active. Paper mills are busy and making many additions of machinery and buildings.

Iron manufacturers have been turning out more pig than ever before, though some works stop for the holidays, and the tone of the market is stronger, with rather more demand for finished products. Speculation continues moderate, wheat having risen 1¼ cents, with sales of 18,800,000 bushels, corn having declined 1 cent, and oats a fraction. Coffee unchanged, oil ¼ cent higher, and pork unchanged.

COTTON STILL LOWER.

Cotton has dropped a sixteenth below 8 cents, with receipts from the plantations continuing fair, 70,000 to date by 300,000 bales. The very large output of coal leads operators to expect lower prices. Money is plenty and cheap. And there is a general feeling that the favorable conditions will continue for some months.

Charitable Blacks.

I read with interest in your last issue, in Mr. Reid's communication, the following passage, says a writer in the London Spectator. "I observed a curious thing one day lately. Some food by some good Christian had been thrown out to the starving birds, when a rook came down and flew back to where it had left another rook sitting in a very weak-looking condition, and fed her with what he had picked up. This he did twice in my sight before taking anything to himself."

I had sometime previously received from a correspondent in Wales, a stranger to me, a precisely similar account of another of these birds. One day in the bitterest of the weather, when I am sure our friend, the rook I have spoken of, was indeed reduced to great extremities, the bird nevertheless performed the following good deed: It picked up a bit of bread, carried it to another rook, which sat on the terrace wall, too shy to come nearer, and fed it there. Nor was this after having satisfied its own hunger, for it had only just alighted."

When I put this little story down I had a misgiving that anyone who might read it would scarcely be disposed to believe it, as beyond credibility. I was therefore much gratified at having so soon afterward seen such an exactly similar corroboration of it, as above.

Salt and Water.

Salt is an absolute essential to the diet of man. It promotes health in various ways. Many of the functions of the body go on better under its influence, and without it the blood become impoverished. While a complete deprivation of salt would produce disastrous results, an excessive use of it would scarcely be less harmful.

In large doses it acts as an emetic; in quantities beyond the requirements of health it irritates the stomach and intestines and sometimes purges. Those who use salt unusually free almost always suffer more or less from constipation.

To drink large quantities of water daily should be the rule with those who suffer from constipation. Each day the system needs at least two quarts of water, as about that quantity is used up or thrown out of it every twenty-four hours. Fruits and vegetable foods contain much water, and in tea, coffee, soups, etc., considerable is taken habitually.

In all ways, as stated, about two quarts of water should enter the stomach daily. It is a good plan to drink one or two glasses of water from half an hour to an hour before eating breakfast. And it may be either hot or cold as preferred. Whichever be used, the water should be slowly sipped. To deluge the stomach with cold water would be to invite dyspeptic troubles.—[Boston Herald.

The Last Division.

Teacher—"If your mother should wish to give each one an equal amount of meat, and there should be eight in the family, how many pieces would she cut?"

Class—"Eight."

Teacher—"Correct. Now each piece would be one-eighth of the whole, remember that."

Class—"Yes'm."

Teacher—"Suppose each piece were cut again, what would result?"

Smart Boy—"Sixteenths."

Teacher—"Correct. And if cut again?"

Boy—"Thirty-seconds."

Teacher—"Correct. Now suppose we should cut each of thirty-two pieces again, what would result?"

Little Girl—"Hash."

Knew the Men.

Salesgirl—"I wish to resign my place. I'm going to be married to Mr. Clipper, of the ribbon counter."

Manager—"My dear child, that is no reason for stopping work. Keep your place."

Salesgirl (a close observer)—"It won't do. I'm afraid if I don't knock off and do nothing, he will."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Realistic Playing.

Petted Daughter—"They asked me to play at Mrs. Highupp's this evening, and I did; but——"

Fond Mother (proudly)—"Were they not entranced?"

Petted Daughter—"Hum! When I played 'Life on the Ocean Wave' with variations, half of them left the room."

Fond Mother (ecstatically)—"That's wonderful! They must have been seasick."—New York Weekly.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 2 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, and then the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

FITS stopped free by Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

WHO SUFFERS with his liver, constipation, bilious ills, poor blood or dizziness—take Beecham's Pills. Of druggists. 25 cents.

The devil may draw a Christian sometimes, but he can never drive him.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

No bad man ever makes himself any better by claiming to be a saint.

DR. SWAN'S PARISIAN Cure female weaknesses; his T-Tablets cure chronic constipation. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

Like Magic

In the relief given in many severe cases of Dyspepsia treated by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Possessing the best digestive elements, taken at once on the first appearance of the disease, this compound neutralizes at once the diseased conditions of the stomach, restores the digestive organs to health and vigor, and thus effects a permanent cure.

A Good Appetite

and good digestion are necessary results of the use of the World-renowned Sarsaparilla. Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A Reporter in Luck.

City Editor (hastily)—"Anything new about that suicide in the St. Pauline Hotel?"

Reporter—"Not much. The man was a stranger, shot my self with a 38-caliber revolver. Had on a dress suit at the time. The body has been taken to the morgue."

City Editor—"'Bout your size. That's luck. I want you to report a big society wedding in an hour. Rush around to the morgue and ask the keeper to lend you that dress suit."

Only a Half.

Little Dick—"Did you ever see half a boy?"

Little Dot—"No; did you?"

Little Dick—"Not yet, but we both will next week. A cousin of ours what we never saw is comin' here from the West, an' mamma says he's a half orphan."

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

If work is growth, the world is full of people who are very small.

"How do I look?"

That depends, madam, upon how you feel. If you're suffering from functional disturbances, irregularities or weaknesses, you're sure to "look it." And Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy. It builds up and invigorates the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage; purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and made especially for woman's needs. In the cure of all "female complaints," it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold so. Think of that, when the dealer says something else (which pays him better) is "just as good."

"Times have changed." So have methods. The modern improvements in pills are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They help Nature, instead of fighting with her. Sick and nervous headache, biliousness, costiveness, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers

Makes Child Birth Easy.

Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.

Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.

ATLANTA, GA.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Many a life has been lost because of the taste of cod-liver oil.

If Scott's Emulsion did nothing more than take that taste away, it would save the lives of some at least of those that put off too long the means of recovery.

It does more. It is half-digested already. It slips through the stomach as if by stealth. It goes to make strength when cod-liver oil would be a burden.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 9th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. 50.

THE SMALLEST PILL IN THE WORLD!

TUTT'S TINY LIVER PILLS

have all the virtues of the larger sizes; equally effective; purely vegetable. Exact size shown in this border.

"German Syrup"

Asthma. "I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario."

Gentle, Refreshing Sleep.

DR. HARTER'S TRADE MARK. THE ONLY TRUE IRON TONIC

Will purify BLOOD, regulate KIDNEYS, remove LIVER disorder, build strength, renew appetite, restore health and vigor of youth. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, that tired feeling absolutely eradicated. Mind brightened, brain power increased, bones, nerves, muscles, receive new force. LADIES suffering from complaints peculiar to their sex, using it, find a safe, speedy cure. Returns rose bloom on cheeks, beautifies Complexion. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent." Send 2c stamp for 32-page pamphlet.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

FOR BEAUTY OF POLISH, SAVING LABOR, CLEANLINESS, DURABILITY & CHEAPNESS. UNEQUALLED. NO ODOR WHEN HEATED.

Lace Back Suspender

You don't want comfort. If you don't wish to look well dressed. If you don't want the best, then you don't want the Lace Back Suspender. Your dealer has it if he is wise. If he isn't he shouldn't be your dealer. We will mail a pair on receipt of $1.00. None genuine without the stamp as above.

Lace Back Suspender Co., 97 Prince Street, N. Y.

IF

$50 REWARD to any one who will detect other TOBACCO than PURE HAVANA Cuttings in the fillers of our DON'T brand of cigars

DON'T buy a 10 cent Cigar when you can get as good a one for 5 cents. Many smokers now use DON'T in preference to 10 cent cigars.

W. B. ELLIS & CO., WINSTON, NORTH CAROLINA.

WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP. For the Skin, Scalp and Complexion. Result of 30 years experience. Sold by druggists or by mail, 25c. Sample Cake and 128 p. book on Dermatology and Beauty, (Illus.), on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and Blood disease and their treatment, sent sealed for 10c. Also Woodbury's Facial Powder (the Infant's Delight). Rose, White, Italia Tint and Pearl Shades, Exquisite, Refined, Fragrant, Lasting. Sold by druggists or by mail, 25c. JOHN H. WOODBURY, DERMATOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, 125 West 42d Street, N. Y. City. Consultation free, at office or by letter. Agents wanted in each place.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D. Atlanta, Ga. Office 1064½ Whitehall St.

PIANOS—Highest grade, equals $600 Upright Grand Pianos, sold wholesale, direct from Factory, $156.50 up each; magnificent, large 7½ octaves, finest tone, three Pedals, Steel patents, guaranteed 7 yrs. Highest World's Awards. Est. 35 yrs. Mention this paper if name is not in plain sight. Write, call. ANTISELL PIANO CO., MADAWAY, New Jersey.

$100.00 IN GOLD will be paid for one million cancelled postage stamps. An easy way to raise money for charity work. Send stamp for particulars. Rare stamps and collections bought. C. H. MERRELL, 1008 Locust St., St. Louis.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 50c. a year. FREE Send for sample. Dr. J. H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N.Y.

HOME STUDY, Book-Keeping, Business, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Shorthand, etc. Thorough Instruction by MAIL. Circulars free. Bryant & Stratton's College, 457 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PENSION No Pension, No Fee. JOSEPH H. HUNTER, WASHINGTON, D. C.

ASTHMA DR. TAFT'S ASTHMALENE CURED never fails; send at once for FREE trial bottle and treatise. DR. TAFT BROS. M. CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest. CATARRH

Sold by druggists or sent by mail, 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

A. R. U. ..... Fifty-three, '91

ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures CATARRH

Gives Relief at once for Cold in Head. Apply into the Nostrils. It is Quickly Absorbed. 50c. Druggists or by mail. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

FOR Colds, Coughs, Consumption,

HOARSENESS AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN

IS THE BEST KNOWN REMEDY.

Ask your Druggist or address one at 25 AND 50 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & G. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill, ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 58 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1892. NUMBER 11.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices [illegible] Cents per Square [illegible] Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Announcing candidates for office, Five Dollars, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S GREAT COST SALE CAUSES AN UNABATED RUSH

Among the Bargain Seekers of Birmingham and Vicinity.

We inaugurate the greatest slaughter in prices of fine Dress Silks ever known in the South. All of our fine Rhadamas, Faille Francais, Gros Grains, Surahs, Chinas, Satins and fine Brocaded Silks, These goods are the very best the market affords. Avail yourselves of this opportunity.

THIS ENTIRE SILK STOCK AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST!

WE ARE PREPARED

To Execute Job Printing

With Economy and With Neatness and Dispatch

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

The gain in values in the state of Alabama in 1891 over 1890, according to the Manufacturers' Record, was $13,000,000 The gain from 1880 to 1891 (eleven years) is $152,875,993.

The capital stock of the canning factory at Gaisden has been raised, and work on the buildings will be commenced at once and rushed to completion. This industry will give employment to many girls and boys.

The American Pipe Manufacturing company has finished laying the piping for the Opelika water works. Six and one-half miles of pipe have been laid. The water works will be in operation the 1st of April, and will cost $50,000.

The Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis railroad, for some time past working under financial stress, sold a number of their cars lately. They have shipped engines 25, 26, 27 and 28 to Chattanooga, to the order of the Brooks Locomotive works.

The conductors and motormen on the Birmingham electric street car lines went out on a strike several days ago. These men to the number of forty-odd have been receiving at the rate of 12 cents an hour, eleven hours to the day, and for some time they had been seeking an advance from the company from 2 to 3 cents an hour.

The American Coal company will soon enter the lists as one of the largest coal mining corporations of the state. The capital stock of $250,000 has all been subscribed and paid in and the organization perfected. The property consists of 2,500 acres of the best coal lands in Walker county, lying near Hewitt's station, on the Georgia Pacific railroad. The organization of this company means that the course of development in Alabama is onward all the time and at all seasons.

A Mobile telegram says: At a depth of about 800 feet below the surface, Elder & Co., of New Orleans, have struck artesian water, flowing 400 gallons a minute. The well is for the Mobile brewery and the flow three times the amount required. The idea of artesian water being obtained in Mobile has long been contended for and also ridiculed, and this strike is a welcome New Year's gift to the brewing company and to Mobile industries generally.

At last Lamar county is to be congratulated on the abandonment of the old plan of compelling road hands and citizens to build bridges, says the Vernon Courier. The change was agreed on at the November term of the commissioners' court. Our commissioners are progressive, if slow. They come around all right before it is too late. All bridges over large streams should be under the eye of some well bonded contractor. When a bridge is under the care of a road overseer he has but little more responsibility than any other citizen, and of course will not be so watchful about repairs.

Alabama Weather Service.

According to Director Mell's weather report the average temperature for the state during November was about normal. The 1st, 5th and 6th were the warmest days of the month—the highest temperature reported being 90 degrees at Brewton on the 6th. The coldest day was the 30th—the minimum temperature of 12 degrees recorded at Auburn on that date. Frost and ice occurred at frequent intervals over the state. The amount of rain that fell during the month was below the normal (1.32 inches), but in some portions of the state the precipitation was large. For instance, at Mobile the fall was above the normal for that point (3.31 inches). The great range of the barometer the month (1.112) indicates an unusual disturbance of the atmosphere on the 10th and 18th. During the first period a high pressure passed over the state, and a low pressure of considerable magnitude occurred on the 10th. This low pressure produced the first rain that had fallen to any extent in the state for a period of more than eight weeks.

County Alliances.

The following county alliances will be held at the places and dates designated, to-wit:

Autauga, January 14, Pine Flat.
Bibb, January 90, New Prospect.
Cullman, January 14, Holly Pond.
Cherokee, January 26, Mill Creek.
Calhoun, January 19, New Hopewell.
Colbert, January 26, Lone Star.
Dale, January 14, Scottsboro.
Lowndes, January 19 and 20, Steep Creek.
Lawrence, January 21, Cave Springs.
Macon county alliance meets with Cross Keys alliance, Wednesday, January 20.
Montgomery, January 26, Pine Level.
Morgan, January 18, Cool Springs.
Monroe, January 22, Monroeville.
Perry, January 15, Perryville.
St. Clair, January 15 and 16.

Other county alliances have already held their meetings.

The weather bureau at Washington issued the following statement Tuesday: Hereafter the omission of forecasts of temperature will be considered to mean that the temperature is expected to remain nearly stationary or that the twenty-four-hour change will not exceed 4 degrees from April to October, or 6 degrees from November to March.

Farmers, Take a Lesson.

Under the above caption the Anniston Hot Blast says: The editor of the Hot Blast wishes there were a thousand farmers in Calhoun county like Mr. George W. Lloyd of Peaceburg, whom we visited this week. The gentleman has not purchased a sack of flour or a pound of meat for his own use since the war, and is surrounded by every comfort that life could wish. He is not only an independent farmer, but is adding to his accumulations each year and laying up he necessary lucre for possible old age and helplessness. Mr. Lloyd returned to Calhoun county after the war penniless, but not despondent. He had a strong arm and a willing mind, and at once set to work to better his condition. The then high price of cotton didn't craze him as it did so many thousands of southern planters. He adopted the policy of producing his food supplies at home and making cotton a surplus crop. He has strictly adhered to this policy, and every year has shown an improvement in his financial condition, while the all-cotton planter has rapidly descended the ladder, and in this year of grace has about reached the lowermost round. The gentleman grows from one hundred to three hundred bushels of wheat annually, much more than is necessary for his own home supply, and finds it a much more profitable crop than cotton, even when the yield is an excellent one. If one man does raise his own bread stuffs, every planter in Calhoun county, can do it. What a different state of affairs would exist if such a thing had been done in the year just coming to a close. Instead of gaunt poverty pursuing us, prosperity would be smiling on every hill and in every vale. Prior to the war thousands and thousands of bushels of wheat were grown in this county, and there were flour mills by the score. To-day you can number such mills in the county by the figure 2. The ravages of war did not change the condition of our soil and our climate. The land will still return an abundant harvest to the wise and vigorous tillers of the soil. Let the old conditions be restored. Build up your smoke houses and grain bins and determine to fill them. Don't procrastinate, but begin now. Then there will be no necessity of appealing to congress for the passage of sub-treasury and warehouse bills.

PLUMB'S SUCCESSOR.

Ex-Congressman Perkins Appointed to Fill His Place.

A Topeka, Kan., dispatch says: Friday afternoon, Governor Humphrey ended the senatorial struggle and appointed ex-Congressman Bishop W. Perkins United States senator, to succeed the late Preston B. Plumb. For a week Govenor Humphrey has given patient consideration to the claims of nearly a dozen candidates.

Bishop W. Perkins was born at Rochester, Lorain county, Ohio, in 1842. He removed to Oswego, Kan., in 1869, and was soon appointed county attorney. He was elected probate judge in 1870, and held that office until he was appointed district judge in 1873. He remained on the bench ten years. In 1882 he was nominated as one of four candidates to congress at large in the most bitterly contested state convention ever held in the state. He was elected in the third congressional district in 1884, 1886 and 1888, being defeated in 1890 by the combined vote of the democrats and Farmers Alliance, with F. D. Clover as the candidate.

TROUBLE BREWING.

Once Again the Miners of Coal Creek Aroused.

A Knoxville dispatch of Wednesday says: A sentiment of anarchy is in the air throughout Coal Creek valley, and another outbreak of looting and bloodshed is expected every moment. The following circular has been sent among the miners to rouse them:

"Convicts shall never gain a foothold here again. Our prayers must be blessings on our people and destruction to the convicts, lessees and state militia. We must act with prudence and give tit for tat. No matter what comes—death, destruction or anarchy—we must stand together. One hundred and sixty-seven men think they may intimidate us. Shall we endure? Never! The time to strike once more for our families and home is almost at hand."

Miners come about the camps and watch the soldiers standing about in knots and examining their position. Trouble is bound to come inside of a week and there will be bloodshed.

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

TUESDAY.—The house re-assembled Tuesday noon and was called to order by Clerk Kerr. On motion of Mr. Springer Mr. McMillan, of Tennessee, was elected temporary speaker. Mr. Mills was granted an indefinite leave of absence. The states were then called for the introduction of bills. Every representative is fortified with a large number of measures, and the prospects are that all will now be completed within two days. The following were introduced and appropriately referred: By Mr. Herbert, of Alabama—for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the operation and effect of the customs administration act. By Mr. Oates, of Alabama—Authorizing the National Banking association to loan money on real estate security; also to define and punish blackmailing; also to regulate immigration; also to dispose of the interest of the Virginia indemnity fund. By Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas—For the admission of Indian Territory as a state. Mr. Blount interrupted the call and asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the senate resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to employ a United States vessel to transport food to the inhabitants of Russia, suffering from the want of sustenance. Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, objected and the call was resumed. By Mr. Watson of Georgia—To place jute bagging, jute, iron ties and binding twine on the free list; also to prevent the payment in advance by the secretary of the treasury of interest bonds; also to create an income tax. Bills were introduced and referred for the erection of public buildings at the following points: Selma, Ala.; Natchez, Miss.

WEDNESDAY.—The house spent the entire afternoon Wednesday debating the resolution which passed the senate Tuesday, for the appropriation of $100,000 to transport the flour, corn and other food material contributed in the northwest and elsewhere for the relief of the starving peasants of Russia. The only sensible solution of the whole problem offered in the afternoon was that of DeWitt C. Warner, of New York. He showed that the expenditure of $100,000 by the United States for carrying the flour contributed by the charity of our people, would be a misdirection of the money, and as far as the object aimed at was concerned, a piece of utter folly. What the starving peasants of Russia need is instant relief. It would, therefore, be six months before the food designed for the famished peasants could reach them. Mr. Warner proposed that the supplies contributed by the American people be sold, and the money cabled or sent immediately. Most of the members concurred in the suggestion, but republicans, insisted on the resolution. It was, however, first stripped of the appropriation, and then laid on the table indefinitely.

THE SENATE.

TUESDAY.—The senate was called to order Tuesday. Mr. Washburn introduced a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to employ any United States vessel best adapted to such service for the purpose of transporting contributions to the inhabitants of those provinces of Russia that are suffering from want of food, and if necessary to charter vessels for that purpose. He asked for its immediate consideration and had read a telegram received by him from Minneapolis, stating the amount of flour already pledged at 1,750,000 pounds, and the total amount expected to be contributed at 6,000,000 pounds. The president's message on the same subject was laid before the senate. Mr. Harris said that he would not antagonize the joint resolution, but would vote against it. It was amended by limiting the appropriation to $100,000, and was then passed. Senator Stewart introduced a resolution to investigate the question of whether or not a law passed in 1837, for the coinage of gold and silver deposited in the mints, has ever been invalidated.

The senate on Wednesday confirmed the following nominations: Interstate commerce commissioners: James W. McDill, of Iowa; William R. Morrison, of Illinois, and William M. Lindsey, of Kentucky. J. M. Jolly postmaster at Daytona, Fla. Georgia postmasters: Mrs. Martha Brown, Fort Valley; Miss Ella M. Henry, Kibbston; P. B. Hall, Waynesboro; M. G. Hall, Cordele; H. B. Attwood, Brunswick.

The Minnesota lumber season is over, and the cut reaches 647,715,363 feet, 307,251,000 shingles and 97,682,000 lath. This leads all records.

Nachman, Myer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods-buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this market requires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department, under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, veilings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's caps, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trousseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.
All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.
And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF,

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

Cab drivers of Paris went on a strike Monday.

Secretary Foster contemplates a trip south for the benefit of his health.

Two passenger trains on the Wabash road collided Tuesday, and a fireman and engineer were killed.

Earthquake shocks were felt Wednesday at Verona, Iliasi, Parma, Modena, Chiavari and Peschiera, Italy.

A meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Democratic Clubs will be held in Washington on the 20th instant.

A cablegram of Tuesday states that the public schools at Genoa and Milan have been closed in consequence of the epidemic of influenza.

A stage coach was held up by robbers near the Idaho line in Montana Monday night and they secured about six thousand dollars worth of jewelry.

General Montgomery C. Meigs, of the United States engineer corps (retired), died Saturday morning of grip at his residence in Washington, D. C.

The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade, says the mean value of prices during December was 5 pence below that of November.

The value of cutlery exported from Sheffield to the United States during the year 1891, was less than half the value of that exported during the preceding year.

Cable dispatches of Wednesday state that influenza is spreading in Yorkshire, Dorset, Essex and Kent, England. The disease is of a severe type, and many deaths are reported.

A fire, accredited to spontaneous combustion, occurred in Brooklyn, N. Y., Sunday evening, destroying the four-story grain elevator of Francis G. Pinto & Sons, and causing a loss of $100,000.

The government's suit against the schooner Robert and Minnie, for violation of the neutrality laws in conveying arms to Chilean steamer Itata, was dismissed in the circuit court of appeals at San Francisco, Wednesday.

At 2 o'clock Monday morning fire broke out in the all-night restaurant under the Waverly hotel, 262 Clark street, Chicago. The hotel was at once filled with smoke and the occupants rushed into the hallways, and attempted to reach the lower floor. As a result, two persons were killed, one fatally hurt and four others quite badly injured.

The two houses of the general assembly of Ohio met in Columbus at 10 o'clock, Monday morning, and organized by electing Senator E. L. Lampson, of Ashtabula, president pro tem. of the senate, and Representative Lewis C. Laylin, of Huron, speaker of the house. The regular caucus nominees for minor positions were also elected.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Columbus, O., says: The greatest sensational contest that the republicans of Ohio have ever known is practically at an end. Every political indication points to the nomination of John Sherman by a majority of ten or twelves votes over J. B. Foraker, although, of course, this is not conceded by the friends of the latter.

General Ebenezer Sprague died at the Masonic home in Grand Rapids, Mich., Monday. He was once prominent in Masonic circles and was Past High Priest of the grand chapter, Royal Arch Masons and Illustrous Past Grand Master of the Grand Council, Royal and Select Masons. Misfortune reduced him from affluence to comparative poverty.

A cablegram of Tuesday from Paris says: The reply of Bulgaria to the note of France, demanding the withdrawal of the degree of expulsion, issued by the Bulgarian government against Chadourne, agent in Sofia of the Agencie Havas, a French news association, is regarded in official circles as a refusal of all the French demands made in connection with the case.

A New York dispatch of Sunday says: For some time past threatening letters have been received by the Gould family, which were evidently written by a well-educated German writer evidently well acquainted with Jay Gould's career. The letters are dated as far back as 1879, and related incidents connected with the partnership between Gould and Jim Fisk and their management of the Erie railroad.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: The supreme court of Pennsylvania on Monday decided that a soldier's widow is entitled to a pension, although her husband was not in the service of the United States at the time of his death, if he died from disease contracted while in the service. This decision affects 2,000 cases.

Caroline Davis against Felix McKnight, a saloon keeper, appealing from the common pleas court of Allegheny county to recover damages for her husband's death.

A London cablegram says: A steamer believed to be the Red Star liner Nordland, which sailed from Antwerp Saturday for New York, ran down the British bark Childwell, off Wielingen lightship and cut her to pieces. The bark sank and fifteen of her crew were drowned. The steamer continued on her voyage without offering assistance. The Great Eastern Company's steamer Ipswich, rescued the captain and remainder of the crew, who were found clinging to the only remaining masts.

A telegram of Monday from the city of Mexico says: The latest news from the state of Durango is very sad. Though the government is trying to conceal the facts, and giving out contrary accounts, it is well known that the stories hitherto received were not exaggerated, and that many people are suffering from starvation, and it is said that if the government continues deaf to the cry of the sufferers, a rising of the people may be expected. To use the words of a man of influence among the common people, 'I prefer to die fighting, rather than from hunger."

A CYCLONE'S FURY.

Two People Killed Outright and Others May Die.

A roaring, seething cyclone burst upon Fayetteville, Ga., Tuesday night, carrying death and desolation along its track. In two homes are families weeping over their dead. Twenty victims of the storm are suffering from their injuries. Those who were killed are Will Travis and Sallie Graham. Several others are momentarily expected to die.

Those badly wounded are Tom Curlin, Freeman Simmons, his wife, a little negro girl named Jones, and D. C. Knox and wife. All of the latter are in a critical condition, and may die at any moment.

COMING OF THE STORM.

Tuesday night, as the residents were at their supper, a gradually increasing noise in the southwest, and a dense black cloud gave indications of an approaching storm. Louder and louder it became. The wind blew fiercely, and every one sought shelter. Then the wind began to cease, while a thousand cannons seemed simultaneously booming. All of a sudden a huge funnel-shaped cloud burst upon the town, and a moment later all was still. The heavy rain that followed fell in torrents upon more than a dozen wrecked homes. Immediately those who had escaped the cyclone rushed from their homes to ascertain the damage done. The storm covered a width of 200 yards. It grazed the tree tops in the woods, and just as it reached the town seemed to swoop down upon it, and, like an undulating wave of smoke and fire, gathered up its prey, and either dashed it to the ground or carried it through the air.

The first house struck was the barn of Mr. J. W. Graham, and some fine stock was killed. In his home near by his family of twelve had huddled with fear in a large room. The storm struck the chimney, throwing it upon Sallie Kate, a child of eight years, pinning her to the floor, lifeless. Then the house collapsed, and was soon in utter ruin. All the occupants were hurt, more or less seriously. Mr. Gragam's gin house, a blacksmith shop and a cottage, unteanted, followed in the track of destruction. The Fayetteville seminary, a building which withstood the war, was soon a mass of broken desks, books, tables and wood. Three hours sooner eighty laughing school children would have been buried in the ruins. At the home of Mrs. Lizzie Henderson, a widow, Mrs. Travis, her daughter, was lying sick. When the wind began to beat against the panes Mr. Will Travis rushed to move his wife away from the window. He was drawn through it and carried 200 yards through the air. The house was crushed, but the mother and two children were but slightly hurt. Two hours afterwards Mr. Travis was found two hundred yards away dead and terribly mangled. A large number of other buildings were wrecked and their occupants more or less injured. That more people were not killed is a miracle, as the houses were completely demolished.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE

Held by Blaine and Mantt Over the Chilean Affair.

Secretary Blaine and Senator Mantt, Chilean Minister, had a long conference at the former's residence in Washington Tuesday. It is reported that Mantt has received a copy of the report on the Baltimore incident, and that he furnished a copy to Mr. Blaine, but this could not be verified. Another report is that he has received instructions from Balmaceda to submit a full apology, but this also lacks confirmation. All that is known about the conference with Mr. Blaine is that it was of unusual length, and that the Chilean envoy is to call again.

NEW DIRECTORS

Who will Manage the Georgia Central Railroad.

The stockholders of the Central railroad of Georgia held a meeting in Savannah Monday and elected a new board of directors. General Henry R. Jackson and General G. M. Sorrell take the places on the Central railroad directory made vacant by the retirement of Pat and John C. Calhoun, Mr. C. J. Mills was elected to succeed Mr. S. M. Inman, who tendered his resignation because of press of business. General E. P. Alexander was re-elected president. The meeting was further enlivened by an attempt of the minority stockholders to enjoin the election of the new board. Out of this attempt future sensations are expected.

From New York comes gossip growing out of the situation, but developments were in a state of expectancy. The one fact is prominent, however, and that is that Brice and Thomas are in the saddle!

The board selected is composed as follows: General E. P. Alexander, J. K. Garnett, Abraham Vetaburg, Joseph Hull, Gen. Henry R. Jackson, George J. Mills, General G. M. Sorrell, C. H. Quinlizy, H. T. Inman, E. P. Howell, U. B. Harrold, James Swann, J. C. Maben.

The board is regarded as a very fine body of business men. It is a board of men who are above suspicion. No one reading the list will think for an instant that the majority of these men would stoop to any underhand dealings or anything calculated to injure the Central railroad or the interests of the minority stockholders. The new board gives great satisfaction to all interested parties.

SECRETARY'S STATEMENT.

After the adjournment of the meeting Secretary A. J. Raub gave out the following for publication:

The annual election of the Central railroad of Georgia was held to-day. Nine members of the old board were re-elected. Four vacancies which have occurred by death, resignation and otherwise, were filled by the election of J. C. Maben, of New York, and General G. M. Sorrell, General H. R. Jackson and Mr. G. J. Mills, all of Savannah. The last two gentlemen are the largest stockholders of the Central road in the state of Georgia. The directors of the Richmond Terminal company have acted in this case in the same way that they will act in the Richmond and Danville election to-morrow, and in the elections of boards of the smaller leased roads. That is, all boards of directors now elected are to hold office only until the stockholders' committee of representation, of which Mr. Olcott is chairman, shall submit its plan and the stockholders vote upon it.

SOUTHERN WEALTH.

Statistics of Values as Given Through the Manufacturers' Record.

Despite the financial troubles of 1891, says the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record, and the consequent depression throughout the world, the increase in the assessed value of property in the south was greater than in any preceding year since the war. The gain in 1890 over 1889 was $270,000,000, the largest increase in any one year up to that time, but the gain in 1891 over 1890 was $380,000,000. Every state shows a large gain, Texas leading with $75,000,000. The increase in Maryland was $33,000,000, Virginia about $40,000,000, North Carolina $30,000,000, South Carolina $18,000,000, Georgia $30,000,000, Florida $4,000,000, Alabama $13,000,000, Mississippi $6,000,000, Louisiana $1,000,000, Arkansas $8,000,000, Tennessee $18,000,000, West Virginia $8,000,000, Kentucky $60,000,000. The actual increase in some of the states was much larger than these figures indicate, as assessments of real estate in some of them are only made every two or ten years. This is the case in West Virginia, where no new assessment of real estate has been made for, we believe, nearly ten years. In 1880 the total assessed value of property in the south was $2,913,000,000, and in 1891 $4,614,000,000, an increase of $1,701,000,000. The official figures from each state show the following valuations:

	1879	1891
Maryland	$489,187,498	$610,000,000
Virginia	303,307,613	446,000,000
N. Carolina	160,916,907	257,000,000
S. Carolina	139,831,634	169,845,079
Georgia	241,434,687	445,047,000
Florida	31,127,849	97,000,000
Alabama	198,977,893	271,000,000
Mississippi	213,192,631	287,000,000
Louisiana	272,696,450	273,000,000
Texas	311,670,198	386,000,000
Arkansas	91,191,893	129,000,000
Tennessee	211,702,240	302,000,000
W. Virginia	146,891,740	190,000,000
Kentucky	305,670,241	365,000,000

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 14 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year - - - - $1.00
One copy six months - - - - 55
One copy four months - - - - 30

The vote of Madison county was divided equally between Jones and Kolb -- 4 for each at the county convention held on Monday.

Judge Cobb was appointed by Speaker Crisp, a member of the house committee on the District of Columbia. This is an important committee, charged with the duty of considering the laws of the District. Discussing the members of this committee. The Evening Star, published at Washington says of Judge Cobb:

"Mr. Cobb, of Alabama, is regarded as one of the strongest men of the House. He usually has little to say on the floor, but is always well informed on affairs of his committee and gives evidence of a thorough study of questions that come before him. He is a man of judical temperament and has a very clear understanding of things in general. He will probably be one of the hard workers of the committee."

It is estimated that a million emigrants left Europe this year in the steerage of ships bound for various countries. About 440,000 of them have come to the United States; about 200,000 have gone to Brazil, nearly 100,000 to Australia, and the rest of the million to the British-Canadian provinces, to Cape Colony, to the Spanish-American countries, and to other parts of the world. Besides this number of steerage passengers, not far from 200,000 cabin passengers of European birth have left their native countries for foreign parts. During the year 66.000 Italians landed in this country, but only 12-000 of the number were females. Jewish emigrants from Russia and Poland have come here this year to the number of between 70,000 and 80,000 and about two-thirds of them were males.

Impending Evil and A Remedy

In this issue we publish a telegram showing the state of starvation in Russian provinces. The telegram says the causes which have led to the prevailing famine have been existing for thirty years. We would like for every reader to peruse the telegram and then say how far are we in the United States from saying: "The President must feed us, and if he does not we must choose another." And how far are we from that other state so graphically pictured of the destitution of the Russian peasantry. The Alliance papers are every week telling us we are already there, and the same papers are every week demanding in effect that "the government must feed us, or we will change it."

From the Memphis Commercial we take another extract which gives a discouraging forecast for the farmers of Mississippi delta, but it points a moral that should be heeded. Mr. Foster, a gentleman of intelligence and experience gives his brother farmers the remedy for their troubles when he says: "Less cotton and more corn, pigs and produce is the only solution of the problem which presents itself to my mind."

An old planter writes to the Montgomery Journal and tells of worse times than these. What he says is about the only hopeful word that has been written since the bottom dropped out of cotton: "The writer sold his entire crop in 1848 to M. A. Chisolm, then a large cotton buyer in the city of Montgomery, for 3½c. per pound in depreciated Alabama currency, and Mr. Chisolm lost money, as he informed him, on the purchase. His surplus corn was sold that fall at 38c. delivered to T. I. Dillihay & Bro. Cotton is now worth 7c. and corn 75c. He has sold several crops in the Mobile market at 5c. per pound in similar currency. He has in his possession an account current rendered by Alex. Pope & Son, in December, 1839, for the sale of several hundred bales, the crop of the writer's portion at 5 cents per pound and containing a charge of 3¾ per cent. for exchange on New Orleans, on $5,000 due the Citizen's Bank of that city, the heavy exchange being due to the depreciated value of Alabama money. Depression in the prices of all products, whether of the farm, the mine or the manufactory, will sometimes occur, and worrying over them does no good, but only serves to depress the energy and vitality of the individual and often induces disease and death. A diversity of crops is the remedy.

A Word About Money.

Our attention was called a day or two since by a gentleman of this city to the following article which appears in the Home Almanac recently issued by the Home Insurance company of New York. It is so full of sound sense and puts the matter thusted of in so comprehensive and convincing a light that we can give it a place in our columns feeling satisfied that it be will be perused with interest by all of our readers:

A great writer has said that no civilized nation, no barbarous nation, no tribe, however ignorant, ever used anything as money that man could make. Nothing has ever been considered money among people on this globe that those people could make. What is a greenback? The greenback are a promise, not money. The greenbacks are the nation's note, not money. You cannot make a fiat dollar any more than you can make a fiat store. You can make a promise, and that promise may be made by such a splendid man that it will pass among all who know him as a dollar; but it is not a dollar. You might as well tell me that a bill of fare is a dinner. The greenback is only good now because you can get gold for it, it would not be worth any more than a ticket for dinner after the fellow who issued the ticket had quit keeping the hotel. A dollar must be made of something that nature had produced.

When I die, if I have a dollar left I want it to be a good one. I do not want a dollar that will turn into ashes in the hand of widowhood, or in the possession of an orphan. Take a coin of the Roman empire—a little piece of gold—and it is just as good to-day as though Julius Caesar still stood at the head of the Roman legions. I do not wish to trust the wealth of this nation with the demagogues of the nation. I do not wish to trust the wealth of the nation to every blast of public opinion. I want money as solid as the earth on which we tread, as bright as the stars that shine above us.

Governor Northern, of Georgia who is a successful farmer and an allianceman, says he discovered six years ago that there were more profitable crops than cotton, and since that time he has not planted a cotton seed. In a recent interview he said:

"Farmers might as well quit rallying, and rallying, and durning the government, and apply to their business the same business principles that the merchant applies to his business, and the doctor to his business, and the manufacturer to his business. All trades and professions are equally with the farmer, oppressed by the tariff and the money system, but when it is seen that the farmer's neighbors in other businesses are uniformily more prosperous than the farmer, the tariff and the money system can't be made to account for this difference. There are dozens of illustrations of the fact that farming on business principles will pay wonderfully well, and yet the average farmer earns hardly more than a bare living. The idea is that farming should be conducted on the same principle as any other business."

Here is something that is interesting: The postal inspectors are considering a very important matter in connection with the government stamp envelope. A proposition is made to make a uniform letter of different sizes, and stamp them and sell them for just the price of the stamp. Heretofore, indeed at present, a two cent stamp is worth three cents or two for five cents. By the adoption of the uniform envelope, purchasers will only be charged two cents, thus upon every two envelopes one cent will be saved. This will mean a great thing for the manufacturers of the country, and those engaged in business who use a quantity of these articles It will save hundreds of dollars annually to them. There is no boubt but the proposition of the postal inspectors will be carried into effect the early part of next year.—Times.

Judge Waxem's Proverbs.

Detroit Free Press.

Most pollitishans air nacheral born trimmers.

Polliticks can't make good craps ner plenty of them.

A first rate farmer can't be a first rate pollitishan.

Some statesmen with No. 6 heads gits sufferin' of the braine tryin' to fill No. 8 hats.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

STATE OF STARVATION.

The Fearful Misery of Fifty Provinces of Russia.

Moscow, Jan. 7.—In an interview on the famine with an eminent Russian official, one of the most remarkable men in the Empire, he said, after pledging the correspondent secrecy regarding his name:

"The present famine is not a bolt from the sky, a single phenomenon that has come suddenly and will as suddenly depart. It is the natural consequence of thirty years of bad management and will become chronic. If it had not occurred this year it would have occurred some other year. It is the inevitable result of a series of causes. The peasants may be relieved; we may buy corn and feed them, but how are we to give them back their horses and cattle? They have already killed half of them. This is one consideration. There is still another: These sixteen or seventeen provinces, which are now suffering from want, are not the only ones which will be in need of help next spring. Fifty—not sixteen—provinces will be in a state of starvation then."

"The state of peasantry is extremely unsatisfactory. They are at once apathetic and desperate. They are prostrate in the face of the terrible calamity that has befallen them, but their apathy cannot last. Risings may be expected. Peasants believe it to be the Czar,s duty to feed them. I have heard them talk as follows: 'The Czar must feed us, and if he does not we must choose another'.

Hon. J. R. Dowdell.

It affords the Sun great pleasure to announce that after many and earnest solicitations made upon him by leading Democrats all over the State, Judge Dowdell has decided to become a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Judge Dowdell is a native of Chambers county, in which he spent the years of his useful life thus far. He is now in the prime of manhood, and perhaps has more friends and fewer enemies than any man of like position in Alabama. It would be difficult to find a man who has reflected more honor upon Chambers county and done less discredit than he.

The record of Judge Dowdell is known of all men, and is without blemish. As a man he is genial, even tempered, resolute and faithful—in short, a Christian gentleman. By honest effort and strict adherence to duty he has been eminently successful in his profession, and in the responsible position of Circuit Judge he has won enviable reputation. Fitted by temperament and qualification for this position he has been successful. The position of Supreme Court he would fill with credit to himself and honor to his State.

The many complimentary expressions on the part of the press and the people of Alabama are striking indications of the triumphal election of Judge Dowdell now that he has consented to enter the race.

Belonging to the foremost families of the State, a family whose name is the synonym of honor, Judge Dowdell is himself a man of unsullied character, a lawyer of highest standing and a jurist of the first order. The Sun has no hesitancy in saying that no better man or abler jurist could be selected for the high position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court than Judge J. R. Dowdell. With this announcement Chambers county presents his name to the Democracy of Alabama for the high position of Judge of the Supreme Court with every reason to believe that all East Alabama will, as a united section, ask and urge his nomination before the next State Democratic Convention.

—LaFayette Sun.

The Chattanooga Times: The New York Sun suggests, that, "If the acreage devoted to cotton must be reduced what other crop can be advantageously raised by the landholders, who are aware that the country is already abundantly supplied with corn and all other kinds of grain?"

The "country" may be "supplied" etc., but the Southern planter and Southern cities get their chief supply of bread, and of meat as well, from the Northwest, paying exorbitant freights and two or three profits on the materials.

If we raise the supplies at home which can be done, the South would not be perpetually drained of all money realized on cotton raised with hired labor.

A Wasted Life.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a young man of Burlington, Colo., states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it, and is to day enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung, or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Administrator's Sale.

By virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Ala., the undersigned administrator of the estate of Nancy Sims, deceased, will sell "on the premises" at the late residence of said Nancy Sims, deceased, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry, to the highest bidder,

On Monday, February 15th, 1892 the real estate belonging to said estate, to-wit: Lots 3, 4, n w ¼ of n e ¼, s ½ of s w ¼ and w ½ of n e ¼ of section 14, and s w ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 11, all in township 23, range 12, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama.

TERMS OF SALE.—One half cash and balance on 12 months credit, with interest from date and approved security.

DRUCILLA E. TILTON,
Administrator Estate of Nancy Sims, Deceased.
WM. A. COLLIER, Attorney.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Letters of administration upon the estate of M. E. VanDerveer, having been granted to the undersigned on the 30th day of November, 1891, by Hon. H. J. Cullen, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

This 5th day of January, 1892.
J P. VANDERVEER,
Administrator.

A Gilt Edge Job!!

That is what every Agent receives who gets up a club no size $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $28 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH Co.,
48 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19131, for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ s 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec8to J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2337 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

MY ENTIRE STOCK OF GOODS

At Actual Cost For Cash Only!

I am determined to sell everything in my store in the next few weeks, and to do so I make such prices as will induce you to buy. My Stock is complete, consisting of everything usually kept in a first-class store, such as

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS, SHOES and the best stock of

CLOTHING

Ever offered for Sale in the town of Clanton. Suits that usually sell for $9.00 I offer for $5.75. Best Brogan Shoes for $1.10; Calico 5c per yard; Shirting 5c per yard; Cotton Checks 5c per yard; Sheeting, 6c per yard; Fruit of Loom Bleaching 8c per yard; Salt 75c per sack of 125 lbs; Flour $5.25, usual price $5.75; Meat 7½c; Lard 8c; Sardines 5c; 6 pounds of good Coffee for $1.00; 20 pounds Granulated Sugar for $1.00; 18 pounds Rice for $1.00.

While I regret to do this cutting and slashing business, I must reduce my Stock, as I have recently admitted Mr. N. EHRMAN as a partner for the coming year. Parties indebted to me must come forward and settle at once, or their claims will be placed in the hands of my attorney. I will further state to those that are slow to pay that no accommodations will be extended them by the new firm the coming year.

Respectfully,

W. H. MERRITT.

Clanton, Alabama, Novermber 12th, 1891.

Come Quick and Secure the Bargains before the best Goods are Sold.

TELEGRAPHY Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Catalogue FREE. Write to Bryant & Stratton Business College, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.

Jobbers of and Dealers in

Paints, Oils & Glass

PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, MIRROR PLATES, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.

1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,

Union Warehouse Co.

Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.

OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom the assured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It costs no more to assure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract,
And Pays its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.

G. J. M'CARY, GENERAL AGENT.
—BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—
C. C. HEATH, Special Agent, Clanton, Ala.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 14, 1892.

SCHEDULE R. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING NORTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:50 a. m.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Charlie Hannon is at home sick with the grip.

Mr. J. F. Maull was in our town Monday on business.

Rev. B. E. Feagin preached his first sermon here Sunday.

Mr. J. P. Vanderveer, of Jemison, was in town Monday.

Mr. Tom Foshee was visiting friends in our town Monday.

Mrs. Jno. Harrell, of Birmingham, visited Dr. Biving's family in our town last week.

It is so dull that most of us have little else to do than sit and listen to the patter of the rain.

Mr. F. W. Denty will now keep the Clanton restaurant formerly kept by "Uncle Paddy" Smith.

The young ladies of this place gave a Leap Year party last Friday night at the residence of Mr. W. A. Colliers.

The miserable weather has knocked the bottom out of business and laid the editor up with grip for the past two weeks.

Rev. R. M. Hunter left for his new charge at Jasper, Ala., on Tuesday. He delivered his farewell sermon to his congregation Monday night. His removal will be a great loss to the Clanton Baptist Church.

"Chilton" in the Birmingham Sunday News mentions Hon. Wm. A. Collier, of this place, for Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit to succeed Judge Dowdell. Mr. Collier would get a strong support should he become a candidate.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending Jan. 8th, 1892.

Misses Mary Duke, Blanche Foshee and Minnie Applewhite.

Master Osmond Middleton.

And now a crank is after Cornelius Vanderbilt's brains for the purpose of having them subjected to expert analysis in order to determine why Vanderbilt had been able to amass a great fortune, while he (the crank) was practically penniless. Said crank was arrested and committed pending on examination of his mental condition.

Money Motion.

During the discussion of the United States banking bill in congress sometime in 1835 or 1836 John Randolph of Roanoke, who was opposed to the passage of the bill which was intended to establish a United States band, said that he had discovered perpetual motion, and it was very simple, being the fact that—

"Paper makes money,
Money makes banks,
Banks make poverty,
Poverty makes rags,
Rags makes paper,
Paper makes money,
Money makes banks,"

and so on forever.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

The Adams Cotton Mill, of Montgomery was placed in the hands of a receiver last Monday. The mill is located in the western part of the city and has been in operation since '86. The capacity of the mill is about 3,000 spindles and it consumes about six bales of cotton a day. The cause which led to the dissolution of the corporation was indebtedness and stringency in monetary matters.

Dr. Keeley, of Dwight Institute for the cure of alcoholism, claims to have cured 9,500 victims of the drink and opium habit. He gives it as his experience that neither religion nor law can cure the drunkard. It is a disease that only physical means can cure. Education of public sentiment is valuable as a preventive, and in that line much good work can be done.

State Treasurer Cobbs has been busy for the past week distributing funds to the different schools in the State. The University at Tuskaloosa gets $24,000 a year, payable semi-annually. The State Insane Hospital, Tuskaloosa, gets $124,000 annually, payable quarterly, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Auburn, $20,00, payable also quarterly. In addition this school gets part of of the receipts of the Commissioner of Agriculture, accruing from the sale of tags, etc. —Advertiser.

Diversification Right.

Meridian News.

A wagon was on the street here yesterday upon which was a bale of good middling cotton; a coop with 16 opossums in it; 60 dozen eggs; two varieties of field peas; two sacks of peanuts; a bundle of coon skins; several otter and beaver skins. That's what East Mississippi can do when she attempts to "diversify" her products. Better than all, the independent farmer had on a neatly made homespun suit, and he said he didn't care a "continental darn who kept a school" or how low cotton went down.

Whiskey.

Florence, the actor once gave advice to friends in these words:

"My Dear ——: One gallon of whisky costs about $3 and contains about sixty-five 15-cent drinks. Now if you drink, buy a gallon and make your wife the barkeeper. When you are dry give her 15 cents for a drink and when the whiskey is gone she will have after paying for it $6.75 left, and every gallon thereafter will yield the same profit. The money she should put away so that when you have become inebriate, and unable to support yourself, and shunned by every respectable man, your wife may have money enough to keep you until your time comes to fill a drunkard's grave."

HON. WM. A. COLLIER.

Is Suggested as a Most Worthy Successor to Judge J. R. Dowdell of the Fifth Circuit.

To The Birmingham News.

CLANTON, ALA., Jan., 9.—We regret exceedingly to loose from the bench of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, the distinguished jurist and Christain gentleman, J. R. Dowdell, but as he aspires to a higher position, of which none are more worthy than he, we are left to cast about for a man to fill the Circuit Judgeship of the Fifth Circuit.

Who shall it be? Chilton says give us Hon. William A. Collier, of Clanton, who is an able and efficient lawyer, and who is capable and will make us an excellent Circuit Judge. We think of no other man in the limit of the circuit who is better qualified for the position, and who is more deserving, from a Democratic standpoint, than Wm. A. Collier, for I dare say that if faithfulness to the principles of Democracy and to her nominee (he has ever been faithful) should win for a man political debts, then certainly the nominees of the party, for many years owe their hearty support to William A. Collier. Let us have Collier for Circuit Judge.

CHILTON.

Clanton, Ala., January 9th.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

Now is the time to subscribe for your county paper

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Lily Dale.

Farm work will soon begin in earnest.

Messrs. Walter Lenoir and Floydie Jones left on the 4th inst., for Nixburg where they will attend Prof. Hunter's school.

Mrs. Robinson has moved her family to the Brasier place, which she has rented for this year.

Mr. Seals has moved to the Garner place.

The farmer who tries to make a living on his farm, instead of money, will do so and make money besides. While cotton is worth comparatively nothing this season, all other farm products are in great demand at good prices.

There is scarcely a single article upon a farm that is not controlled by a trust of some kind.

Stanton Notes.

Notwithstanding bad weather and a disappointment in not getting enough oysters as was expected, the Knights of Pythias' oyster supper was a grand success last Friday night. There were eatibles in abundance, and the participants were well entertained by sweet strains of music made by the Plantersville band, consisting of Miss McGuinn, Godwins, Russells, and Starr. Rev. J. W. Ruddick made a short talk in behalf of the occasion.

The supper committee composed of Messrs. C. W. Plant, W. W. Little, Spartis and H. H. Lassiter deserve much credit for the management of affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dykes, of Uniontown spent several days in Stanton last week.

Gregory & Coe Lumber Co. are going to build another dry kiln. Work on it will begin in a few days.

Verbena Views.

Dr. H. W. Caffey is visiting relatives in Florida.

Our enterprising young merchant, Mr. D. I. Deramus has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Autauga.

Miss Sallie Mullins has returned from a delightful visit to relatives in Evergreen.

Mr. Frank Caffey after a pleasant visit here has returned to Harvard College.

The farmers have commenced planting oats. They should plant more oats than ever before, and diversify their crops. They can make a good crop of oats and then make a good crop of corn and peas on the same land.

Miss Mamie Reid, one of our fairest young ladies, is visiting friends in Evergreen.

Miss Mary Brown and Mrs. Carrie House, of Autauga have been visting relatives in our city.

Miss Mary Carr Gibson, one of our most lovely young ladies, is visiting relatives in the Capital City.

Messrs. John Brooks and Berney Rosseau, of the Capital City, were the guest of friends here Sunday.

Mr. John Moody, is still confined to his room, but we are glad to hear that he is convalescent.

Mr. John Murphy has been quite sick, but he is improving we hope he will be out soon.

The South has just awakened to the value and importance of cattle raising. The cattle crop, predicts the New York Sun, will be right in line and near the head of the procession of magnificent products in this banner year of the Republic's agricultural achievements. Montanna has shipped East about 182,000 head, at an average of $35 each. The stockmen of Colorado are jubilant over the prospects for a good market this winter. There is an immense number of cattle on the ranges which will be marketed this year at goood prices. The cattle industry has been dull for some years.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. —A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

WHAT HE HAS TO SAY.

Mr. H. C. Patterson Discusses the Times Above the Times.

Mr. H. C. Patterson of Judge Foster of Alabama, is in the city. Mr. Foster is at present extensively engaged in cotton planting in Bolivar Miss.

"Times are very hard down my way," said Mr. Foster, yesterday. "In the first place, we raised not more than two-thirds of an average crop in the Bolivar County district. Then the staple is almost unsalable for cash. There is little now held by producers, less than at this time in any previous. Yet ready money is not forthcoming. Nearly every planter in my neighborhood is short of supplies, and it is the next thing to impossible to procure them on the margins supposed to be due on shipment. I raise my own corn and hay, and can see my way through, but the coming season promises to be a severe one on the less fortunate. The recent failure of the Bank of Greenville was a sore affliction to the entire Delta region. It was a ready and willing distributor of funds, and its downfall carries financial distress to thousands.

"No. I am not in favor of the Sub-Treasury scheme. The money shark would flourish under its operation, while the farmer would be led to certain discomfitures. Less cotton and more corn, pigs and produce is the only soulution of the problem which suggests itself to my mind. Let plantations be made self-supporting, and then cotton can be raised at a good profit."—Memphis Commercial.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

JEMISON
High School.
(MALE AND FEMALE).
JEMISON, - - - - ALA.
TIPTON MULLINS, L. L. A. B.,
PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about midway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 700 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $8.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

For further information address
TIPTON MULLINS,
aug13 Jemison, Ala.

Assessor's Notice!

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Cooper's,	January	1st,
Verbena,	"	2d,
Kincheon,	"	4th,
Clanton Ford	"	5th,
Dixie	"	6th,
R. Latham's	"	7th,
Maplesville,	"	8th,
Benson,	"	9th,
Chandler's Saw Mill	"	11th,
Macedonia,	"	12th,
Prim's School House	"	13th,
Providence,	"	14th,
Jemison	"	15th,
Strasburg	"	16th,
Mineral Springs,	"	19th,
Maddox's Grist Mill,	"	20th,
Gore's School House	"	21st,
Cane Creek	"	22nd
Clanton,	"	23rd.

E. G. ROLLINS,
Tax Assessor of Chilton County.

WE ARE HERE
TO SELL YOU GOODS
AT LOW PRICES.

Having opened a New Stock of Goods in my Store at Clanton I solicit the Patronage of my friends and the public. Goods of the best quality at reasonable Prices.

By Honesty and Fair Dealing I hope to merit your Patronage.
Respectfully,
J. P. ALLEN.

Hale, Dingley & Co.
—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—
Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,
PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,
—:MONTGOMERY, ALA.:—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.
Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

MONTGOMERY ARMS CO.
HENRY D. LONG, Manager.
HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF
SPORTING GOODS,
SUCH AS
GUNS, PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES,
AMMUNITION, BLUE ROCKS,
Traps, Base Ball and Gymnasium Goods,
MAGNIFYING GLASSES, TELESCOPES AND MANY OTHER NOVELTIES. CALL AND SEE US AT 112 Dexter Avenue, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.
—18 COMMERCE STREET,—
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.
Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

WORMS
WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE
HAS LED ALL WORM REMEDIES FOR 20 YEARS
EVERY BOTTLE GUARANTEED SOLD EVERYWHERE
PREPARED BY [illegible]

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

O. P. BENTLEY,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Office at the Courthouse.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST,
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds Work Done in the BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. [mar24-y

J. W. BLYTH,
(Successor to Tressler)
PHOTOGRAPHER.
10 COURT SQUARE,
Montgomery.
Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. Crayon portraits reduced to $12.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.
The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.
Call and see Specimens.
Correspondence solicited. [Jan21-tf]

CONSUMPTION CURED.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 1, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on January 9, 1892, viz: Francis A. Gibson, homestead 16684 for the west half of n e ¼ of section 24, township 21, r, range 16 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Albert Headley, Peyton Headley, Andrew J. Healey, Ezekiel Cooper, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec8 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY
Fall Term begins September 15. Spring Term begins January 21.
Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees B. A., B. A. and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the south. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Remedy improved system of heat and ventilation. Pure water from artesian well. Steam laundry. Gas from our own works. Location unsurpassed for healthfulness. Send for catalogue.

The Difficulty of Telling the Truth.

People are bad hands at expressing an opinion, unless it is a very strong one, one way or the other—that is, those who are unpractised and who do not make a conscience of correct speech. But on the other hand it must be admitted that the careful truth teller is sure to be misunderstood. He believes with certain modifications and qualifications; that is to say, answers his interrogator, he does not believe at all. Those who practice the art of telling the truth must not expect to have their sincerity appreciated by the common run of men. Indeed, one who always told the unvarnished truth would deceive anybody.

Some have the idea that you are equivocating if you will not answer them with a simple yes or no. "Do you love me?" says the enamored young man to his pretty cousin. She has known him from a child and does love him, but only with a cousinly affection. She cannot say "No," to his question; and if she says "Yes," she will awaken in his tender breast hopes that can never be realized.—All the Year Round.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

The fear of future evil is in itself the greatest of evils.

FOR Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

There is only one sudden death among women to eight among men.

FOR THROAT DISEASES AND COUGHS use Brown's Bronchial Troches. Like all really good things, they are imitated. The genuine are sold only in boxes.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

For indigestion, constipation, sick headache, weak stomach, disordered liver—take Beecham's Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Out of Sorts

Describes a feeling peculiar to persons of dyspeptic tendency, or caused by change of climate, season or life. The stomach is out of order, the head aches or does not feel right,

The Nerves

seemed strained to their utmost, the mind is confused and irritable. This condition finds an excellent corrective in Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by its regulating and toning powers soon

Cures Indigestion

restores harmony to the system, gives strength of mind, nerves and body. Be sure to get

Hood's Sarsaparilla

which in curative power is Peculiar to Itself.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers

Makes Child Birth Easy.
Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.

Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DONALD KENNEDY,
Of Roxbury, Mass., Says:

Strange cases cured by my Medical Discovery come to me every day. Here is one of Paralysis—Blindness—and the Grip. Now how does my Medical Discovery cure all these? I don't know, unless it takes hold of the Hidden Poison that makes all Humor.

VIRGINIA CITY, NEVADA, Sept. 8th, 1891.

Donald Kennedy—Dear Sir: I will state my case to you: About two years ago I was paralyzed in my left side, and the best doctors gave me no relief for two years, and I was advised to try your Discovery, which did its duty, and in a few months I was restored to health. About four years ago I became blind in my left eye by a spotted cataract. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Discovery was the thing for me; so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye—perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Discovery they all left my right eye but one; and, thank God, the bright light of heaven is once more making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully astonished at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery. Yours truly, HANK WHITE.

Ely's Cream Balm

is the best remedy for children suffering from

COLD IN HEAD or
CATARRH.

Apply balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

THE SMALLEST PILL IN THE WORLD!

TUTT'S TINY LIVER PILLS

have all the virtues of the larger ones; equally effective; purely vegetable. Exact size shown in this border.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D. Atlanta, Ga. Office 1064 Whitehall St.

The New Drill Regulations for INFANTRY. Full Paper Cover, 25 cents each. Full Leather Cover, 75 cents each. RIDABOCK & CO., (Military Goods), 161 Grand Street, New York.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 50c. a year. Send for sample. Dr. J. H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N.Y. FREE

PENSIONS Due all SOLDIERS! If disabled. $12 FOR 1st MONTH. 25 cents brings Write for Laws. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, Washington, D. C. 3 Cases Bars. O.

$700 in Prizes. Word Contest. For details send 2c. stamp to W. B. HARRIS & Co., Chemists, Boston.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. Advice free. Terms low.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. C. HOFFMAN, La Porte, Ind.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS

Reform From Centre and Rim—Interest Everywhere.

The Advocate (Escondido, Cal.) says: Farmers are always ready to sell their products at a reasonable price. But as a rule, grain goes through the hands of speculators, no matter what the price may be which the farmer gets. If he should insist on getting as much as $1.15 per bushel, and would not part with it for less than that price, the speculator would take it, and after getting into the hands of the speculator there's no telling where the price will go.

***

The Southern Alliance Farmer (Atlanta, Ga.) says: Merchants, doctors, lawyers and all other professional men have been convinced of the need of this country—more money. This is one demand of the Alliance that has been forced upon the public. Everybody has felt the need of more money and for this reason the Alliance strength has been increased and the next election will find many in the ranks who were opposed to us last fall. Experience is a dear school, but some people will learn in no other.

***

The Alliance Herald (Montgomery, Ala.) says: Why is money so scarce? Because the policy of the government is to contract the currency. Why is it the policy of the government? Does not the government belong to the people, and is not the will of the people the sovereign power of the government? Yes, that is true; but the people have been letting the politicians stand for the people and the interests of the politician be the supreme policy of the government. The politicians are in good condition. The big office-holder is in clover. As long as the people permit themselves to be bossed by them they will continue in clover, and the people will be in distress.

***

The Weekly Appeal (Simsboro, La.) says: The Alliance have placed their demands before the country, and these demands are right and just; yet both the Democratic and Republican parties repudiate these demands and denounce the Alliance as third party cranks, fiat inflationists, centralists and socialists. Yet what do they demand? Do they ask for anything more than has already been granted to others? Let us see. The principal demands can be stated in a few words, viz: Stop the payment of interest by placing the bondholders on the same footing with others, and pay his demands as you pay others. Lim him receive what the day laborer receives for his work. Adopt and act on the motto that what is money for one is money for all. Add to the taxable property of the country by such legislation as will force idle capital from bank vaults into actual circulation, and convert bonds into currency, and protect laborers more and bankers, bondholders and corporations less.

***

The New Era (Cass, Mich.) says: "The government ownership and control of railroads is one of the growing issues and ideas of our country. Centralization in the hands of all the people (the government) does not seem to be as bad as centralization in the hands of a few individuals, with a power greater almost than the government itself. In Australia the government owns the railroads. It only costs the people $6.50 to ride 1,000 miles. Commutation rates for local service is still lower. A workman can ride to and from his work a distance of 6 miles for 2 cents a trip, 12 miles for 4 cents, 18 miles for 6 cents, 30 miles for 10 cents. Yearly tickets good for 30-mile trips are sold for $17.40. This is the kind of centralization we need in this country. It centralizes the bread and meat into the mouths of the workingman's children and clothes on their backs. And yet, low as the rates seem to be, we are fully assured that there is a fair profit in the business. Statistics prove this beyond dispute.

***

The Dakota Ruralist (Huron) commenting on the Indianapolis session, says: "It was demonstrated to the satisfaction of every delegate and visitor present that the North and South could work together as harmoniously as the delegates from any State in the Union. What better proof of this could be asked than the fact that it was Delegate Stone, from Georgia, who moved the resolution in favor of a service pension to the Union soldier, and Delegate Page, of Virginia, an ex-Confederate soldier, who seconded it, and every Southern delegate supported it. When the question of admitting cotton goods free, that the foreign demand for the cotton grown in the South might have a better market, the delegates from the North voted for it. When the South Dakota resolution requesting 25 per cent of the receipts of our government lands to be retained for irrigation purposes was reported, every delegate from the South and East voted for it."

***

The Ocala (Fla.) Demand tackles a subject which should command the attention of every reform paper in the land when it says: "We advocate the ownership of American soil by American citizens. Just think of it for one moment, citizens of the United States. One English syndicate owns 4,500,000 acres of land in Texas, another, 3,000,000 acres; Edward Reed, K. C. B., has 2,000,000 in Florida; the Duke of Sutherland holds 423,000 acres of American soil; Philips, Marshall & Co., 1,800,000 acres; the London Land Company, of Tweedale, 1,700,000, etc., and, as it was very prominently brought to our notice during an important trial in our own county court in Ocala last summer, it was declared to be the avowed policy of certain foreign land and mortgage companies to acquire Florida lands through the foreclosure of their mortgages. Any thinking man will see, from these statements, that one of the things that Great Britain failed to accomplish during the bloody struggle from '76 to '83, she is slowly but surely accomplishing through the instrumentality of that powerful and secret enemy of American liberty and American homes, money.

***

The Industrial World (Spokane, Wash.) says: The business men, it is quite evident, do not pay much attention to the real reason for hard times. They say with one voice that there is "not enough money in the country," "business dull," "the people haven't got any money to pay with." They stop right here. They don't follow this up and ask why it is the people have no money, and if there is any way of increasing the volume of money. If were a question of experience in running a business they would give their undivided attention. In this respect they are the same of the lambs slaughtered. They spend all their efforts on trifles and pluck their carcasses to the crop in other directions. All the common interest that the people are paying is an great a burden on the business man as it is on the farmer or laborer, and the money strin gency affects him in precisely the same manner. The sooner the merchant realizes that his prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the masses the better it will be for all. The man of business has a tremendous influence, and it should be used for good.

***

Let us as true Alliancemen guard against an uncompromising spirit. In the principles of our order I say yield not a single item. Stand firm and unflinching by every precept laid down in the platform which we have adopted and which we must maintain in its completeness. But when it comes to politics and measures let us as brethren be yielding and non-aggressive. Let us meet on the Ocala platform and then adjust our differences, and if we find the majority are inclined to adopt certain measures to secure the grand result for which we are all striving. Let us fall into ranks and not stand aloof on account of an unwillingness to yield our pet opinions to the fiat of the majority, but with the spirit of compromise that the name of our order implies. Let us start to conquer, give up our views to the verdict of those who are perhaps in a better position to understand the safest measures and best policies to pursue. Compromising in measures, uncompromising in principle is our duty and our interest.—Southern Alliance Farmer.

***

ALLIANCE INSURANCE.

Hon. Alonzo Wardall, of South Dakota, member of the Executive Board, is a hustler. In an interview he expressed himself as follows: I would be happy to tell you that I had been home since the Indianapolis convention, but Illinois and Michigan have claimed that time. In short, I have been in 34 States and traveled 39,625 miles in the interest of the Farmers' Alliance in the past year. The work I am at present especially pushing is the organization on a natural basis of the Alliance Aid Association, a mutual insurance plan that will add a necessary and benevolent feature to our beloved Order. It has already met with widespread approbation from Alliance officers throughout the Union, and received the indorsement of the Supreme Council at Indianapolis, and will henceforth be a degree of the Alliance. My business here is to perfect details and enlarge its scope. We are a regularly chartered institution, and our one aim is to build up and cement together the men and women who have espoused our cause of reform. I will not enter into business explanations. The association will recommend itself without "blare of trumpet to the wind outblown," when it is laid before the people. There is no class more in need of its benefits or provision against the coming of the grim reaper than the farmers, and none less solicited by regular insurance companies or secret societies. We are beginning to apply certain goodly advice about "helping ourselves," and if we do not find a remedy for that majority of our afflictions and make wise provision against the future, the fault cannot be charged to the men brethren have honored with the present dignity of office.

***

THE ST. LOUIS MEETING.

The attention of alliancemen everywhere is turned to the great conference of producers to be held in St. Louis, February 22d. At the national alliance convention at Indianapolis, a few weeks ago, a committee consisting of C. W. Macune, Herman Baumgarten, Thomas W. Gilrath and John P. Steele, was appointed to formulate an address setting forth the objects of the St. Louis convention.

They have completed their work and their report has been printed. The address is quite a lengthy one, and is mainly taken up by a summary of the facts leading to the call for the convention, and the financial condition of the producers of America. The address says among other things:

"The call for said conference originated with the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union at Ocala, Fla., in December, 1890, as follows:

"This body gives its sanction and call for a meeting to be held about February, 1892, to be composed of delegates from all organizations of producers upon a fair basis of representation, for the purposes of general and thorough conference upon the demands of each, and to the end that all may agree upon a joint set of demands just prior to the next national campaign, and agree upon the proper methods for enforcing such demands. If the people, by delegates coming from them direct, agree that a third party move is necessary, it need not be feared that the next session of this supreme council elect delegates from this order to represent it in said national conference of productive organizations for political purposes.

"The call for the great labor conference has since been ratified and accepted by practically all farmers' and laborers' organizations. The national executive committee met in Indianapolis, Ind., on the 16th of November and fixed the basis of representation, and appointed a committee to choose the place of meeting.

"The objects of the coming meeting, under the blessings of God, to confer and agree upon the wisest, fairest and most just means of relief in the interest of the whole people, and to announce a declaration of principles upon which all are agreed to stand, and demand laws to cry out for this purpose. Every organization of producers in this broad land is invited to send delegates and participate in its deliberations. For the love of our country, for the sake of your family, in view of your duty to posterity, come! and let this be the second declaration of independence for the American people, in which, instead of throwing off the yoke of a tyrant king, they lisarate posterity from the national industrial tyranny and slavery."

The Industrial Educator (Fort Worth, Tex.) says: Now we have Finley Democrats and anti-Finley Democrats, Ocala Democrats and anti-Ocala Democrats, sub-treasury Democrats and anti-sub-treasury Democrats, free coinage Democrats anti-free coinage Democrats, alien land law Democrats and Democrats who opposed the alien land law, high tariff Democrats and no tariff Democrats, Jeffersonian Democrats, Jackson Democrats and Cleveland Democrats. But passing them all by, we propose to keep right in the middle of the road. We mean by that that we shall follow the line of reform movement mapped out in the St. Louis demands, the Ocala platform and that promulgated at Cincinnati. We shall not be switched off the track to follow a Democratic or Republican faction of any kind. We want nothing to do with the machine of either party, hopelessly controlled as they both are by the money power. The People's party is being rapidly organized in all the states. It is that party all the labor organizations in our

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

Twenty-five thousand people turned out to the funeral of the dead firemen in Nashville Wednesday.

The Georgia encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Augusta instead of Tallapoosa.

The liquor question is raging in Charlotte, N. C. Monday night, however, the council granted licenses under certain restrictions.

It is stated that H. M. Bowden, the long missing cashier of the wrecked First National bank at Wilmington, N. C., has within the past few days been seen at Baltimore.

A dispatch of Saturday from Denver, Col., says: The jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree against Dr. Graves for the murder of Mrs. Barnaby by poisoned whisky.

A telegram of Sunday from Apalachicola, Fla., says: The schooner Dexter Clarke, which went ashore on Flag Island shoals last Thursday, has gone to pieces and will be a total wreck. No lives were lost.

Dispatches of Tuesday state that the steamer Tuskar, Savannah for Bremen, is ashore at Nieuwe Diep, broken amidships, and her cargo is washing out of her. Two hundred bales of cotton of her cargo have been saved.

All the motormen and conductors in the employ of the Birmingham, Ala., railway and electric companies struck Monday for 15 cents per hour instead of 12. The demand has been refused by the companies. Much excitement prevails.

The firm of Lowenthal, Livingston & Co., grain and commission dealers of San Francisco, filed a petition of insolvency Wednesday. Liabilities $308,000, assets $165,000. Losses on account of speculation in charters of wheat-carrying vessels are the chief cause of the insolvency proceedings.

Tuesday the property of the Spout Springs Lumber Mill Company in Harnett county, North Carolina, with 13,000 acres of pine timber lands, was sold to John Y. Gossler, of Philadelphia, and R. W. Hicks, of Wilmington, N. C., who become the Consolidated Lumber Company, with 40,000 capital.

A Columbia, S. C., dispatch says: Richard Lewis, master of equity and judge of probate of Oconee county, committed suicide in his office at Walhalla, Monday, by shooting himself through the heart with a pistol. Judge Lewis has held the two offices above mentioned for many years, and was one of the most popular men in the county.

A dispatch of Monday from Laredo, Texas, says: It is stated that the Mexican revolutionist, Garza, is surrounded in the chapparel in the extreme northwestern corner of Zapata county by United States troops and Rangers, and that it is almost impossible for him to escape either to the westward or in the direction of Mexico.

A Raleigh, N. C., dispatch says: A mass meeting of the Ware County Farmers' Alliance, which has nearly three thousand members, was held Tuesday. The chief question considered was the reduction of the acreage in cotton. Resolutions were offered urging that the acreage be reduced 15 per cent, and that the proportion be added to the acreage in food crops.

A St. Louis dispatch says: Adelbert Sly, the alleged Glendale train robber, was, on Saturday, identified as having connection with the now famous robbery by the furniture men who sold the furniture of a Swan avenue house wherein detectives found clues by which the gang of thieves were traced. He was also identified by Express Messenger Mulrennan and the engineer and fireman of the train robbed.

A bill was filed in the Montgomery, Ala., city court Tuesday, by attorneys for the stockholders of the Adams Cotton Mill Company vs. S. D. Hubbard. The bill sets out that the value of the proper, ty of the Adams cotton mill is $83,500, and they pray that the corporation may be dissolved and a receiver appointed to wind up its affairs. They allege that the company owes about $75,000. The decree was granted.

On the Murphy branch of the Western North Carolina railroad, forty miles from Asehville, Tuesday, the engine of a westbound freight, while detached at a heavy grade, became uncontrollable and dashed down the track at a fearful rate of speed. At Dyke Ridge trestle it left the rails and plunged into a gorge, landing in the creek, more than one hundred feet below. Four men were killed and the engine completely demolished.

A dispatch of Sunday from Denver, Col., says: Deputy Sheriffs Sheans and Wilson, who conveyed Dr. Graves from the courthouse to the cell, state that on the way he made a confession, and said that Daniel R. Ballon was the instigator of the crime. Judge Furman emphatically denied that Dr. Graves had made a confession to the deputy sheriffs. Dr. Graves refused to say anything in regard to the matter, excepting that he is entirely innocent and desires to be left undisturbed in his cell at the jail.

The Mississippi legislature met at Jackson in regular session Tuesday. Lieutenant Governor Evans was absent on account of sickness in his family. Hon. R. A. Dean was re-elected president of the senate. In the house the contest for the speakership resulted in the election of Hon. H. M. Street, of Meridian, over Hon. J. S. Madison, speaker of the last house, by a vote of 61 to 59. Hon. R. R. Wilson was re-elected clerk of the house unanimously and the organization was completed by the election of minor officers.

Converse college at Spartanburg, S. C., was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The college was opened a year ago last October with the brightest prospects of any college south. There were over one hundred and fifty young ladies enrolled for the first session. The fire originated in the furnace room unaccountably. The loss will reach $60,000; insurance, $30,000. Mr. Converse, for whom the college was named, has lost his pet, and the people sympathize deeply with him and President Wilson in the loss of an institution of which any state might well be proud.

TRADE REVIEW

Report of Dunn & Co. for the Last Week of the Year.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States 207 and Canada 32, or a total of 239, compared with 203 last week and 335 the week previous. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 249.

The old year has closed with a little more than the usual dullness in general trade, but reports as to the volume of the holiday trade are mainly satisfactory. At Chicago it was the heaviest ever known; at St. Louis it was unusually large and in jewelry the biggest known, but at Philadelphia and New Orleans it was not quite up to expectations, and at Little Rock unsatisfactory. Quiet in other trades at this season is not a bad sign, and nearly all reports add that the prospects for the coming year are considered unusually bright.

REVIVAL OF LOW-PRICED COTTON.

Exceptions are to be found in the south, where the unusually low price of cotton and the accumulation of extraordinary stocks cause depression in trade and stringency in the money markets, but at New Orleans the money market is easier, though still there is a strong demand there, and at Richmond and Savannah. It is plain that the south is one obstacle to general progress at present, the overproduction of cotton being the cause. Receipts at ports are no longer equal to last year's, and yet do not fall off as much as expected, while the accumulation of stocks has become a heavy financial burden, and the price has dropped three-sixteenths during the past week to 7¼c for midling uplands at New York.

THE PROVISION MARKET.

The sugar movement is large at New Orleans, with prices improving, and the movement of rice steady, and tobacco is fairly sustained in the northern market, but the southern trade depends so largely upon cotton that a serious depression necessarily follows the lowest price for many years. It must be added that the greatly increased production of iron has made it very low, and thus strained the resources of many new and costly works at the south, while the bottom has gone out of many speculations in real estate. On the other hand, the west is peculiarly favored by an enormous foreign demand for crops, which would otherwise be depressed because the largest ever known.

Wheat comes forward as rapidly as the crowded conditions of the railroads will permit, and exports, though reduced last year, are very large again this week, and for six months have exceeded 120,000,000 bushels, flour included, whereas the greatest movement ever known in the last half of any previous year was 115,000,000, in 1879. The price has declined nearly 1 per cent during the last week; corn 2½ and oats ½, but prices are highly satisfactory to western farmers.

Pork products are a shade lower; coffee nearly a cent lower; oil five-eighths lower, and the prices of all commodities average more than one-half of 1 per cent lower for the week.

The money markets continue well supplied and undisturbed, and the treasury has again paid out more than $1,000,000 in excess of its receipts for the week.

A PENSION PROPOSED

By the Late Confederate States for Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

The following circular letter has been sent out from Memphis, Tennessee, by a committee to every State in the South: Pursuant to a resolution adopted at a meeting of ex-Confederate soldiers and citizens of this city, held to consider the propriety of each one of the late Confederate States granting a small pension to Mrs. Jefferson Davis, whose financial condition is embarrassed, who is in feeble health, and without an income sufficient to procure the needed comforts and conveniences of life, we beg leave to respectfully suggest that you and your fellow-citizens take immediate steps to call the attention of your legislature to this subject and to urge that it should pass a bill granting Mrs. Davis a small pension. We intend to urge this matter upon our next legislature, and herewith inclose for your fuller information a copy of the bill we propose to present, and, if possible, to have it enacted into a law. Hoping that you will cooperate with us in an effort to place Mrs. Davis above pecuniary distress, and in that condition of financial independence to which her distinguished position and her past anxious and eventful relations to our people entitle her.

The following Act will be presented to the next legislature of Tennessee and its passage urged before that body:

"Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Tennessee, That the sum ($1,000) one thousand dollars be, and the same is, hereby annually appropriated out of the treasury of the state as a pension for the use and benefit of Mrs. V. Jefferson Davis (widow of the late Hon. Jefferson Davis) during the term of her natural life; and the comptroller is hereby directed to issue his warrant on the treasurer in favor of Mrs. Davis for the sum of $1,000 on the 1st day of April in each and every year until her death.

MERCANTILE FAILURES

In the United States the Past Year—Beats the Record.

Mercantile failures for the year 1891, as reported by the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co., are 12,273 in the United States against 10,906 in 1890. Failures in 1891 are greater in number than in any previous year since the record has been kept by this agency, running back to 1857. The amount of liabilities, however, is almost precisely the same as the previous year, amounting to $189,000,000. The amount lost, therefore, does not exceed that of the precious year, while the average of liabilities of failures is $15,471 in 1891, against $17,396 in 1890. The distribution of loss in geographical sections shows that the liabilities of failures in the eastern states in the year just closed were $10,000,000 against $87,000,000 last year.

In the middle states the liabilities were $87,000,000 against $75,000,000 in 1890 in the southern states a marked increase in liabilities is noted, as they amounted last year to $45,000,000 against $27,000,000 in 1890. In the western states there is a decline of $3,000,000 in liabilities which amounted, in the year just closed to $48,000,000 against $50,000,000 in the year previous, while on the Pacific coast in 1891, the liabilities amounted to $8,000,000 as against $7,000,000 in 1890.

Some Bees and Their Products.

The largest beekeeper in the world is Mr. Eastman, of California, who has 6,000 hives, producing 900,000 pounds of honey yearly. In Greece there are 80,000 hives, producing 3,000,000 pounds of honey; in Denmark 60,000, producing 2,000,000 pounds; in Russia 110,000, producing the same; in Belgium 200,000, producing 5,000,000 pounds; in Holland 240,000, producing 6,000,000 pounds; in France 800,000, producing 32,000,000 pounds; in Germany 1,450,000, and in Austria 1,800,000, each producing 40,000,000 pounds of honey. But in the United States there are 2,800,000 hives, belonging to 70,000 beekeepers, and producing 60,000,000 pounds of honey yearly.—Yankee Blade.

Dangers of Procrastination.

Landlady—"I s'pose you noticed that long-whiskered old gentleman who sat opposite you at dinner to-day? That is Prof. Driebones, and you can have his room, as he is going West on a scientific exploration—strangest thing you ever heard."

New Boarder—"What is?"

Landlady—"The object of his tour. He has been told that a pre-historic cave has been discovered out West, and in it sat ten skeletons around a petrified table."

New Boarder—"Well! well! Why didn't the fools change their boarding house sooner."—New York Weekly.

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Add but one item to the store of knowledge of the world and you will be immortalized.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken "sick, and suffered as no one but a "dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time "I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I "had to throw it up. Then in a "few moments that horrid distress "would come on and I would have

For that Horrid Stomach Feeling.

"to eat and suffer "again. I took a "little of your medicine, and felt much "better, and after "taking a little more "August Flower my "Dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I "have never had the first sign of it. "I can eat anything without the "least fear of distress. I wish all "that are afflicted with that terrible "disease or the troubles caused by "it would try August Flower, as I "am satisfied there is no medicine "equal to it."

ASTHMA DR. TAFT'S ASTHMALENE CURED never fails; send us your address, we will mail trial BOTTLE FREE
THE DR. TAFT BROS. M. CO. ROCHESTER, N.Y.

Full of trouble

—the ordinary pill. Trouble when you take it, and trouble when you've got it down. Plenty of unpleasantness, but mighty little good.

With Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, there's no trouble. They're made to prevent it. They're the original little Liver Pills, tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, easiest and best to take. They cleanse and regulate the whole system, in a natural and easy way,—mildly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the value received. Can you ask more?

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass packages with every purchase.

DR. HARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

TRADE MARK

DO NOT GRIPE NOR SICKEN. Sure cure for SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid glands. They arouse vital organs, remove nausea, dizziness. Magical effect on Kidneys and bladder. Greater bilious nervous disorders. Establish natural DAILY ACTION.

ACTUAL SIZE

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. PURELY VEGETABLE.

The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, so one pill can never be too much. Each vial contains 40, carried in vest pocket, like lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent."

Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with sample.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

W. BAKER & CO.'S Breakfast Cocoa

from which the excess of oil has been removed. It is absolutely pure and it is soluble.

No Chemicals are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.
CONSUMPTION.

KING COTTON

Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES 5-Ton Cotton Scale. $60 NOT CHEAPEST BUT BEST. For terms address JONES OF BINGHAMTON, BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

PIANOS—Highest grade, equals $900 Uprights Grand & Piano, sold wholesale, direct from Factory, $185. Upcash; magnificent, large 7⅓ octaves, finest tone, three Pedals, Steel pedestal guaranteed 7 yrs. Highest World's Awards. Est. 25 yrs.; 25,000 in use; 6 sent on trial. Write, cat. ANTHRELL PIANO CO., Matawan, New Jersey.

HIGH FIVE or EUCHRE PARTIES should send at once to JOHN SEBASTIAN, G. P. A. C. R. I. & P. R. R., Chicago. TEN CENTS, in stamps, per pack for the slickest cards you ever shuffled. For $1.00 you will receive free by express ten packs.

PENSION No Pension, No Fee. JOSEPH H. HUNTER, WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. N. U. ..... Dec. 1892.

FOR Colds, Coughs, Consumption,

HOARSENESS AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF

SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN

IS THE BEST KNOWN REMEDY.

Ask your druggist or merchant for it, AND TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

We are anxious to know every one who wants a piano, new or second-hand. Are you one of them? Then send your address, with request for catalogue, etc., to Ivers & Pond Piano Co., Boston.

BOOK-KEEPING Thorough, Practical, Commercial Course, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Shorthand, Typewriting, Telegraphy, Actual Business, Civil Service, Preparatory, Normal. Elocution, Languages, Music, Drawing, Painting, Modeling, Engraving, Physical Culture, Literature, Science, Mechanics, Engineering, Architecture, Surveying, Assaying, Mining, Metallurgy, Electricity, Chemistry, Pharmacy, Medicine, Dentistry, Law, Theology, Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock Raising, Veterinary Science, Domestic Economy, Dressmaking, Millinery, Cookery, Etiquette, Home Nursing, Physiology, Hygiene, Mental Science, Moral Philosophy, Political Economy, Rhetoric, Logic, Ethics, Aesthetics, Psychology, Pedagogics, Ancient and Modern History, Ancient and Modern Languages, Mythology, Archæology, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy, Meteorology, Mathematics, Navigation, Surveying, Engineering, Architecture, Mechanics

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Georgia and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. ing. Population 14,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 30 miles south of Birmingham and 49 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1892. NUMBER 12.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per Square for each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, Resolutions.

Announcing candidates for office, Five Dollars, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S GREAT COST SALE CAUSES AN UNABATED RUSH

Among the Bargain Seekers of Birmingham and Vicinity.

We inaugurate the greatest slaughter in prices of fine Dress Silks ever known in the South. All of our fine Rhadamas, Faille Francais, Gros Grains, Surahs, Chinas, Satins and fine Brocaded Silks. These goods are the very best the market affords. Avail yourselves of this opportunity.

THIS ENTIRE SILK STOCK AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST!

WE ARE PREPARED

To Execute Job Printing

With Economy and With Neatness and Dispatch

THE PRICE OF COTTON

Sets Bill Arp in a Fit of Ruminating About the Farmers.

The Cotton Picking Machine Noted and Reflections on the Advancement of Machinery.

I was ruminating about the farmer and the low price of cotton

We have been watching with intense interest the advancement of the cotton-picking machines. Two weeks ago I felt satisfied that the Cunningham machine was a success, for it had picked 800 acres for Jeff Welborn in Texas at a cost of less than $3 a bale.

Then the Mason cotton-picker was in Augusta at the exposition and picked cotton in the field and was pronounced a success.

I saw the Mason machine several years ago and believed it could be made a success. There is no similarity in the two machines. The Mason actually picks the open cotton and leaves the maturing bolls harmless. It is emphatically a picker—a substitute for human fingers. But the Cunningham machine is simply a harvester and makes a clean sweep of everything on the stalk—stripping it of bolls and leaves and turning it all over to another machine that extracts the cotton and discards the trash. Hence the cotton must be pretty well open before the machine is put to work upon it. Hence the cotton must be of a variety that most all of it matures at once. And hence as "Roderic Dhu" says, it must be Jeff Welborn's "Pet" and hence the Texas farmers must buy their seed from Jeff, a seed that Roderick says has been discarded by Texans as a 'fraud under various names as the Cheatham (and it cheated 'em) and the Dixon and the Cluster and now Welborn's Pet.

"Roderic Dhu" pronounces the Cunningham machine "practically worthless," while others who saw it in operation declare it a success and say that the universal exclamation of the farmers who followed it was "farewell, darky; goodby, flagers." And so we are hearing both sides now. Dick Naylor seems to be the champion of the Cunningham machine, and admits that a change in the variety of cotton will have to be made. He declares the "Pet" to be the very cotton for the harvester as it all opens at once and is comparatively storm proof, and most of the leaves drop off as soon as the bolls open. But Roderic Dhu says the Pet will not stand a drought and is the home of the boll worm and the rank stocks fall down with their top-heavy load and lie upon the ground.

And so we will let the fight go on—we will watch and wait. But Mr. Cunningham never invented his machine to please Jeff Welborn. Whether any machine is wanted or not is the question—wanted by the toilers I mean. Of course the world wants everything cheap. The consumers do, and the producers want everything cheap that they do not produce. But it is a distressing thing to hear the poor crying for work. I had some tenants on my farm and their children picked the cotton. A great planter like Richardson, or Jeff Welborn, knows exactly what their cotton costs them to make it, but a poor tenant does not. I have seen Rowland's wife and children in the field before I got my breakfast. They chopped the cotton and they picked it, and Rowland could sell at 7 cents a pound and be thankful. If he got more he was the more thankful—that was all. What is the machine to do for Rowland? Machinery is a good thing, I know, but they are hard on the laboring man who can't buy them. The whole thing is a problem to me. The rich seem to be getting richer, and the poor poorer. There was a time when there was a wagon shop, and a blacksmith shop, and a hatter's shop, and a shoe shop, and a chair shop at every cross roads and little mills and tanyards all about, and the people were happy and had plenty of work to do, but machinery has run them all off. They couldn't compete. That helped me, but it was hard on the humble workman who made his living there. It is a pitiful, plaintive cry to hear anybody begging for work.

Ay, only give me work,
And then you need not fear
That I shall snare his worship's hare,
Or kill his grace's deer.

Whoever nature needs,
Whoever labor calls,
No job I'll shirk o' the hardest work,
To shun the workhouse walls.

No alms I ask; give me my task,
Here are the arms, tho' in a,
The strength, the sinews of a man
To work and not to beg.

The cry of the day is not for bread, but it is for work; our young men are begging for it. Seventeen from our town have found places in Atlanta with meager salaries, just enough for board and clothes, and seventeen more are trying. They are just from the schools and are capable and willing, but there are few vacancies. It is the same way with the girls. Almost every day I receive pleading letters from anxious mothers wanting teachers' places for their daughters. The genteel, educated poor are increasing in numbers. Will they have to be servants—housekeepers—menials?

But we were talking about the cotton picker. Suppose they are a success, what then? Who will it benefit? If the cotton can be picked at $8 a bale instead of $10, it will cheapen the price just that much. Eight dollars a bale will be saved to the world, but how will it profit the producer? The newspaper figure up a saving to the south of $60,000,000 a year, but it seems that it will save nothing, and will deprive thousands of our poor, white women and children of employment. Of course machinery is a good thing, and the progress of the age demands improved and cheaper methods, but I can't see any great good to come to our farmers from the cotton pickers. If it could be grown and picked and ginned and compressed for nothing, what then? I saw an immense sawmill at Brunswick that cut 125,000 feet of lumber a day, and kiln-dried most of it, and while I lingered there I thought the hands had gone to dinner, but they had not. Machinery was doing most all the work. What used to be done with a hundred hands is now done with ten. This would seem all right if the other ninety had something to do. These big things enrich the rich but reduce the poor to beggary. The farmers are crying for relief—for help, but I see no help for them except through bounties. The protective tariff is upon them for ten years at least. There is a bounty upon sugar, and it helps the sugar planter and has reduced the price to the consumer. Sugar never was so cheap. Why not give a bounty to every bale of cotton—say $10 a bale—and every tierce of rice and every bushel of wheat and corn. Why not? Suppose it took $200,000,000 a year—that is no more than is paid in pensions—make the plutocrats pay it by an income tax. Something must be done to make the government secure. Necessity knows no law, neither does misery. When the Central railroad suddenly turned off 200 workmen, and the Richmond and Danville does the same, and the men go to their homes right on the eve of Christmas, right on the eve of winter and know not today how their little ones will get bread tomorrow it shows that there is something wrong in the system; something wrong in the relations of capital to labor; something that the law cannot reach nor defend nor protect. Right in the face of the most bountiful crop ever produced on this continent we are in the midst of a crisis, a financial stringency that affects everybody and has paralyzed the business of the country. The debtor class are dunned and pursued with a persistency never known. One man jumps upon another, and it reaches all along the line. A duns B and B duns C and C duns D and so on down to lizard, and everybody feels aggrieved with everybody. It is like the old song of "Pray dog catch cat, make cat catch rat, make rat gnaw rope, and rope hang butcher, make butcher kill ox, make ox drink water, make water quench fire, make fire burn stick, make stick beat kid, make kid go. Time kid and I were home an hour and a half ago." Now, if we could just turn lizard loose with a little money and let him pay Y and let Y pay X and X pay W, and so on, until the money got up to A, there would be twenty-six debts paid and all would be calm and serene. And so I think we ought to have a kind of clearing house for the whole twenty-six. Let A lend $100 to lizard and let lizard pay it to Y and Y to X, and so on until it got back to A again, and he would put it in his pocket and be no worse off, and yet twenty-five debts would be paid and twenty-five persons made happy. Why not? Let's go into it and make up the schedule. Surely we can find one man in twenty six who will lend the money. There is a man dunning me now about once a week for a few dollars, and he writes me affectionate notes through the post office. He is worth five dollars to my one, but I'm afraid he will persist to cease and I would pay him if I could collect, but I can't, and so I think he ought to lend the money to lizard and let's start the ball rolling. There is nothing impracticable about this plan of relieving the financial embarrassment. It will do it certain, if we can get it started. It is on a better principle than that by which Joe Plunket settled with the cross roads barkeeper. He first bargained for a ginger cake and after handling and smelling it awhile handed it back and said he would take a drink of whisky instead of the cake. He drank the whisky and started out, when the barkeeper said, "hold on my friend, you didn't pay for that whisky." Joe was very indignant and said, "I give you the ginger cake for the whisky." "Well, but you didn't pay me for the ginger cake," said the barkeeper.

"Darn you," said Joe, "you've got the ginger cake. There it is on the shelf right where you put it," and he walked out like he had been insulted. Now what is the matter: why can't we turn the money loose among the people and let it pay a big lot of debts and get back to the banks again? These financial panics are distressing and there ought to be a remedy—a balance wheel, a safety valve, a regulator, a something that would restore the equilibrium. The rich can fatten on these panics, while the average merchant or trader or farmer can be crushed by them. Our taxes are a burden too great to be borne. They now amount to 10 per cent. of the average man's income—that is if he lives in a town or city that has gas and water and public schools. But maybe things will brighten up again after a while. The times are awful hard, but it is not so bad as it was. Sorrow endureth for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. The grip has got me and got Mrs. Arp and two of the children, and we are all fussing about who is the sickest, but it is not so bad as it was, and there is still room to be thankful.—BILL ARP, in Atlanta Constitution.

P. S.—I have scores of letters from Massachusetts to California asking for General Jackson's address, but the general writes me he has no copies. He will soon issue it in pamphlet form with important addenda and will be pleased to give it to the public.

B. A.

CARDINAL MANNING DIES.

The Fell Destroyer Cuts Down the Aged Prelate.

A London cablegram says: Cardinal Manning died at 6.20 Thursday morning after a lingering illness, followed by influenza. His eminence, Henry Edward, cardinal priest Roman church and Archbishop of Westminster, son of the late Wm. Manning, Esq., M. P., merchant of London, was born at Totteridge, Hertfordshire, July 15th, 1808.

The cardinal continued to grow weaker and weaker during the night. He was able, however, to join in the prayers which were being offered at the bedside. His Eminence continued these supplications for divine mercy until half past seven, when he became unconscious and his death calm, and he passed away evidently without pain. Telegrams of regret from all parts of the world are being received.

ANOTHER CARDINAL DIES.

Another dispatch of Thursday from Rome announces the death of Cardinal Simeoni, formerly papal secretary of state and prefect general of the propaganda. His death was due to an attack of influenza, from which he had been suffering for several days.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

Governor Francis, of Missouri, will call an extra session of the legislature.

Governor Brown, of Maryland, was inaugurated Wednesday with great enthusiasm.

The German landtag was opened in Berlin Thursday by Chancellor Von Caprivi.

Fire in Jersey City, N. J., Monday night destroyed property to the amount of $128,000.

A dispatch of Tuesday says: The street car strike in Indianapolis has completely stopped traffic in that city.

R. J. Andorf & Bro., dealers in diamonds, jewelry, etc., at New York, made an assignment, Monday, with preference of $12,500.

The two houses of the Ohio legislature met in joint session Wednesday and announced the election of John Sherman United States senator.

The works of the Waterbury Brass Company at Waterbury, Conn., were destroyed by fire Thursday night. The loss is $260,000; insurance, $187,000.

The town of Larissa and surrounding country, in Greece, were shaken by an earthquake Monday. Almost simultaneously hot springs appeared on Mount Ossa.

A Paris cablegram of Tuesday reports that King Humbert has made overtures to the Pope, offering to compromise the questions at issue between the state and the vatican.

On Monday a boiler in the pork-packing establishment of A. B. March, at Bridgeport, Pa., exploded, completely wrecking it. Two men were killed and eight injured.

The American Sugar refining Company held its annual meeting in Jersey City, N. J., Wednesday, re-elected new officers and decided to increase the stock of company by $2,000,000.

Dispatches from Paris state that the influenza continues to spread in that city. The record of Monday shows an increase of seventy in the number of deaths resulting from influenza.

A dispatch of Thursday says: The different organizations interested in the reform movement will hold a conference in St. Louis to decide the question of putting a national ticket in the field.

The senate, in executive session Monday ratified the general act signed at Brussels in 1890 by seventeen powers, including the United States, for the repression of the African slave trade.

The First National bank of Muncy, Pa., was closed Monday afternoon by order of Bank Examiner Dengler. News of the action of the bank examiner created great excitement in the village.

Dispatches of Wednesday report that the business portion of Seville, Spain, is inundated by flood from Gaudalupe river and the harbor is choked with debris brought down by a sudden freshet. The loss very heavy.

The senate and house of Ohio voted separately for United States senator, Tuesday. In the senate John Sherman received eighteen votes and James E. Neal eight. In the house Sherman received ninety-three votes and Neal twenty-nine.

Another effort was made by the Iowa senate Wednesday morning to elect a secretary, but the Democrats again refrained from voting, thus continuing the deadlock. The senate then adjourned until Thursday and the democrats went into caucus.

William McKinley, Jr., was inaugurated governor of Ohio at Columbus, Monday. The occasion was non-partisan, political friends and foes of the new governor all joining with the utmost harmony and zeal in the inauguration exercises and parade.

The six story brick power block, at Cleveland, O., occupied by the Cleveland Electric Supply company, Champion Safety Lock company and National Iron works was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Loss amounts in the aggregate to about $140,000.

A London cablegram of Tuesday says: There is no abatement whatever in the epidemic of influenza which is sweeping over England. On the contrary reports have been received from hundreds of places throughout the country showing that the disease continues to spread with increasing violence.

The Brook Iron company, of Birdsboro, Pa., notified its employes on Tuesday of a general reduction of wages. The puddlers were reduced from $3.50 to $3.35 per ton, the sheet mill employes from forty to thirty-six cents a ton and the nailers about ten per cent. The firm employs over four hundred hands.

A cablegram of Wednesday from Panama states that the Indians of Bolivia are in open revolt. In the towns along the frontier the revolting Indians have successfully resisted all efforts to suppress them. They have sacked several villages, killed many male inhabitants and carried away women.

The embarrassed cotton and wool commission firm of Joseph H. Coates & Co., at Philadelphia, made an assignment Thursday afternoon to Horace H. Fritz. The assignment is made by Joseph H. Coates, Harrison B. Schell and John Walter Gummey, individually and as the firm of Coates & Co.

A reception was given Tuesday evening at the white house by the president and Mrs. Harrison to the diplomatic corps, to which the congress, army and navy, and all persons prominent in official life, besides many others of equal note in Washington and from elsewhere, were invited, and which in point of brilliancy, had not been equaled in years.

Dan Talmage's Sons, the well-known New York merchandise brokers and authorities on rice, advise through the Associated Press that the farmers of the south cultivate rice wherever the cotton growth is curtailed, stating that it is the most profitable of southern products. The gross results are from $40 to $75 per acre. The cost of cultivation is $35 and less.

Nachman, Meyer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods-buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this market requires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, veilings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's caps, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trousseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL-ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.
All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.
And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

CAN BE SILENT.

Witnesses not Obliged to Answer Self-Criminating Questions.

A Washington dispatch says: It has now become a settled law that witnesses cannot be compelled to testify in any criminal case where the answers might tend to criminate them in any way, or subject them to possible future prosecution. It is held that the fifth amendment to the constitution, giving persons the right to refuse to answer questions which might be used against them in criminal cases, must be construed in its broadest sense. Such was the effect of a decision of the United States supreme court Monday in the celebrated interstate commerce case of Charles Counselman, appellant, vs Frank Hitchcock, marshal of the United States district court for the northern district of Illinois. Judge Gresham decided against Counselman, and held him in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions, and it is an appeal from Judge Gresham's order that the case decided by the supreme court came up. The court's ruling is that Judge Gresham's order was erroneous, and that Counselman can not be compelled to testify. It has been said that the effect of the decisions by the court that witnesses cannot be compelled to testify will seriously hamper the interstate commerce commission in the administration of the interstate commerce act. The court's decision was unanimous.

A STEAMER SINKS

And Carries Down with Her Over Four Hundred People.

A dispatch was received at London, Wednesday, from Hong Kong, stating that the steamer Meifoo has arrived at that port bringing the intelligence of the loss of the steamer Namichow, off Cape Horn points. The Meifoo reports that the shaft of the Namichow broke, which allowed the water to rush into the shaft and make its way to the engine room, thence into the fire room. The steamer fires were soon extinguished and she settled rapidly. The water continued to pour in unchecked, and in a short time the vessel foundered. She sank so rapidly that it was impossible to launch her boats. When she went down she carried with her 414 persons, every one of whom was drowned. The steamer was officered by Europeans and her crew also, consisted of sailors, firemen, etc., from different European countries. They stood to their posts to the last and did everything possible to the last and did everything possible to save their vessel. All went down with the steamer

THE SHORTAGE GROWS.

Latest from the Broken National Bank at Wilmington, N. C.

A dispatch of Thursday from Wilmington, N. C., says: In reference to the wrecked First National bank the outlook for the depositors and the stockholders is more discouraging than it was at first, as it now transpires that instead of a deficiency of over one hundred thousand dollars, there is in reality a shortage of $236 000. Since the examination began certificates of deposit have turned up for which no equivalent in money appears. The interest, however, was regularly paid on same, if not all of these certificates, but this has been one of the important items which has contributed to the increase of the indebtedness. There is no news of the disappearing cashier, J. H. Rankin.

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

Mr. Frank M. Gilmer, of Montgomery, died a few day ago. He was a notable figure in the industrial development of Alabama and in the social life of central Alabama.

The front room and office of the Limestone county alliance warehouse was burned recently. The loss is estimated between $3,000 and $4,000, without insurance.

A few days ago the Cordova Coal company filed in the office of the judge of probate a deed of trust in favor of the Alabama Trust and Savings company of Birmingham, for the sum of $250,000, secured by a mortgage upon 22,000 acres of coal lands and their entire plant and property in the counties of Walker and Jefferson.

The stockholders of the Gadsden canning factory held a meeting several days ago and elected directors. The directors then held a meeting and elected Robert Lucas president and general manager. Mr. Lucas was instructed to to at once negotiate for the construction of the necessary buildings and rush the work. The canning factory is now assured.

A. H. Burrow, father of Rube, has filed a bill in the circuit court at Vernon against the Southern Express company for $2,000 damaged. He claims that the company made way with Rube's gun, pistols, trunk and contents, and the money that was found on Rube's person when killed. Capt. J. D. McClusky and McEachin and Milner represent the plaintiff.

When the county seat of Blount was removed from Blountsville to Onenta, the court house building was turned into a college. The change was eminently to Blountsville's advantage and turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Now Somerville, Morgan's old county seat, is passing through the same blessed experience. A college is better than a court house, may be accepted now as sound economy.—Age-Herald.

The Selma Times-Mail says: Governor Jones has appointed Gen. R. M. Nelson a member of the board of revenue of Dallas county. This appointment will receive the hearty commendation of our citizens. The board of revenue of this great Alabama county has grave responsibility resting on it, and it has faithfully performed its duties and made a splendid record since its present members have been in office. When the present board went into office Dallas county was heavily in debt. This burden has, by wise management, been entirely removed, and the finances of the county were never in better condition than now.

Recently J. D. Coplan, general freight agent of the Monterey and Mexican Gulf line, had a long conference with General Freight Agent Poe, of the Mobile and Ohio, and Commissioner Osgood, of the St. Louis Traffic commission, concerning the new rail and water route from St. Louis to Mexico, via Mobile and Tampico. Divisions of through rates were discussed and the whole matter will be taken up at a conference in St. Louis on Wednesday, the 20th inst., at which officials of all the interested lines will be present. There is no doubt that the Mobile and Tampico route will afford St. Louis shippers to Mexico the relief that they stand so much in need of—high rates from the all-rail routes from St. Louis and low rates from New York by water, practically closing the gates of this market for Mexican trade. A reasonable through tariff via Mobile will solve the problem, and the sooner it is announced the, better it will be for all interests. The first vessel of the new line has already sailed from Mobile for Tampico.

Lem Coston.

The Sumter county alliance at its recent session adopted the following resolutions: Resolved (1), That it is the sense of this meeting that some concerted action should be taken by the planters in the cotton producing section of the country to counteract the overproduction of cotton, which has already reduced the price below the actual cost of production.

Resolved (2), That looking to such a result we suggest to cotton planters to adopt a system that will insure an abundant production of everything needed on a plantation that can be produced on it before the acreage to be devoted to cotton shall be fixed, and let that acreage be reduced to such an extent that the cultivation of cotton will not interfere with the proper cultivation of the other crops planted.

Resolved (3), That as the farmers actual living should come from the soil, let him look to that soil for it, and be sure in pitching his crops that he has given to all crops other than cotton, an abundant acreage and let cotton take the limited acreage.

Resolved (4), That all cotton seed saved upon each farm be reserved upon same for its use.

Resolved (5), That we ask the co-operation of merchants and all other classes of society in carrying out these suggestions, which will undoubtedly result in great advantage to the country.

TRADE A LITTLE DULL.

Dun & Co.'s Report of Business for Past Week.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during eight days since December 31st, reported to R. G Dun & Co., number for the United States, 395; Canada, 42; total, 435, against 330 last week. The first week of the new year has been marked by some striking events. There has been an important decline in the prices of wheat and cotton, which have been held of late a little too high for foreign estimates of value so that exports were somewhat checked. The decline will bring out larger orders for export.

FLUCTUATIONS IN PRICES.

Wheat has dropped sharply—3¼ cents for the week on sales of only 15,000,000 bushels, Oats also dropped 2½ cents, but corn rose an eighth, the large exports actually exceeding those of wheat for three days of the week, sustaining the price. Pork products scarcely changed; oil rose 2½ cents, and coffee a quarter. Cotton has dropped to the lowest price since early in 1849, viz., 7.44 cents for middling uplands. Receipts at the south continue greater than last year, and, though exports are also greater, the stock accumulated and largely carried by banks at various points has a depressing influence. This affects trade throughout the south, but the demand for sugar and rice is strong and active, with slightly better prices.

FAIR FOR THE SEASON.

Trade in other parts of the country is fair for the season, the New Year's quiet not having entirely passed. Great industries report no important change, though in iron a large business is being done, and the tone is improved. Some improvement is seen in bar and plates and fair business in structural iron.

The money market has been well supplied at New York, and other markets throughout the north are easier. The treasury has been disbursing freely during the week, and while the sales of stock on foreign account have lifted the rates of foreign exchange half a cent, the swelling exports appear to insure further imports of gold.

PROSPECTS FAVORABLE.

In brief, the business prospects of the country are remarkably favorable for the beginning of the new year, excepting at the south, and while the depression in that section may considerably affect some trades and branches of manufacture, the uplifting influence of the large northern crops and of the unprecedented foreign demand for northern products give substantial ground for the great confidence which prevails.

JACKSON'S DAY.

A Banquet by the Business Men's Association of New York.

The Business Men's Democratic Association of New York city celebrated Jackson's Day with a banquet Friday night. Speeches were made by Grover Cleveland and Mr. Springer, of Illinois.

Speaking on "The Issues of the Day," Mr. Springer said among other things: "I can state, without any fear of successful contradiction, that there is not the slightest probability of a free coinage bill becoming a law during this congress, nor is it likely that any amendment of the existing law will be made. If any measure on this subject is passed it will be one which democrats throughout the country can and will cordially support. It is possible that some such measure, acceptable to democrats generally, may be agreed upon and become a law during this session of congress. In reference to public expenditures, the democratic house of representatives of this congress may be relied upon for a record of rigid economy. This will not be another billion-dollar congress. A reduction of between fifty and a hundred millions a year by the present house of representatives may be confidently expected as compared with the appropriations of the previous congress."

INDIAN RE-ELECTED

President by Stockholders of the K. & D. Railroad Company.

At an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Kissimmee and Deer Vale railroad company held at Richmond Tuesday, James B. Pons in the chair, John H. Inman was elected president and the following board of directors: [illegible]

CHILTON COUNTY

In the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the S. F. V. & Gulf and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and 40 Cars draw in the immense flow on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 30 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1892. NUMBER 12.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per Nonpareil Insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Respect, half rates.

Announcing candidates for office, Five Dollars, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S

GREAT COST SALE CAUSES AN UNABATED RUSH

Among the Bargain Seekers of Birmingham and Vicinity.

We inaugurate the greatest slaughter in prices of fine Dress Silks ever known in the South. All of our fine Rhadamas, Faille Francais, Gros Grains, Surahs, Chinas, Satins and fine Brocaded Silks. These goods are the very best the market affords. Avail yourselves of this opportunity.

THIS ENTIRE SILK STOCK AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST!

WE ARE PREPARED

To Execute Job Printing

With Economy and With Neatness and Dispatch

THE PRICE OF COTTON

Sets Bill Arp in a Fit of Ruminating About the Farmers.

The Cotton Picking Machine Noted and Reflections on the Advancement of Machinery.

I was ruminating about the farmer and the low price of cotton

We have been watching with intense interest the advancement of the cotton-picking machines. Two weeks ago I felt satisfied that the Cunningham machine was a success, for it had picked 300 acres for Jeff Welborn in Texas at a cost of less than $3 a bale.

Then the Mason cotton-picker was in Augusta at the exposition and picked cotton in the field and was pronounced a success.

I saw the Mason machine several years ago and believed it could be made a success. There is no similarity in the two machines. The Mason actually picks the open cotton and leaves the maturing bolls harmless. It is emphatically a picker—a substitute for human fingers. But the Cunningham machine is simply a harvester and makes a clean sweep of everything on the stalk—stripping it of bolls and leaves and turning it all over to another machine that extracts the cotton and discards the trash. Hence the cotton must be pretty well open before the machine is put to work upon it. Hence the cotton must be of a variety that most all of it matures at once. And hence as "Roderic Dhu" says, it must be Jeff Welborn's "Pet" and hence the Texas farmers must buy their seed from Jeff, a seed that Roderick says has been discarded by Texans as a 'fraud under various names as the Cheatham (and it cheated 'em) and the Dixon and the Cluster and now Welborn's Pet.

"Roderic Dhu" pronounces the Cunningham machine "practically worthless," while others who saw it in operation declare it a success and say that the universal exclamation of the farmers who followed it was "farewell, darky; goodby, fingers." And so we are hearing both sides now. Dick Naylor seems to be the champion of the Cunningham machine, and admits that a change in the variety of cotton will have to be made. He declares the "Pet" to be the very cotton for the harvester as it all opens at once and is comparatively storm proof, and most of the leaves drop off as soon as the bolls open. But Roderic Dhu says the Pet will not stand a drought and is the home of the bollworm, and the trash stocks fall down with their top-heavy load and lie upon the ground.

And so we will let the fight go on—we will watch and wait. But Mr. Cunningham never invented his machine to please Jeff Welborn. Whether any machine is wanted or not is the question—wanted by the toilers I mean. Of course the world wants everything cheap. The consumers do, and the producers want everything cheap that they do not produce. But it is a distressing thing to hear the poor crying for work. I had some tenants on my farm and their children picked the cotton. A great planter like Richardson, or Jeff Welborn, knows exactly what their cotton costs them to make it, but a poor tenant does not. I have seen Rowland's wife and children in the field before I got my breakfast. They chopped the cotton and they picked it, and Rowland could sell at 7 cents a pound and be thankful. If he got more he was the more thankful—that was all. What is the machine to do for Rowland? Machinery is a good thing, I know, but they are hard on the laboring man who can't buy them. The whole thing is a problem to me. The rich seem to be getting richer, and the poor poorer. There was a time when there was a wagon shop, and a blacksmith shop, and a hatter's shop, and a shoe shop, and a chair shop at every cross roads and little mills and tanyards all about, and the people were happy and had plenty of work to do, but machinery has run them all off. They couldn't compete. That helped me, but it was hard on the humble workman who made his living there. It is a pitiful, plaintive cry to hear anybody begging for work.

Ay, only give me work,
And then you need not fear
That I shall snare his worship's hare,
Or kill his grace's deer.

Wherever nature needs,
Whoever labor calls,
No job I'll shirk or the hardest work,
To shun the workhouse walls.

No alms I ask; give me my task,
Here are the arms, the legs,
The strength, the sinews of a man
To work and not to beg.

The cry of the day is not for bread, but it is for work; our young men are begging for it. Seventeen from our town have found places in Atlanta with meager salaries, just enough for board and clothes, and seventeen more are trying. They are just from the schools and are capable and willing, but there are few vacancies. It is the same way with the girls. Almost every day I receive pleading letters from anxious mothers wanting teachers' places for their daughters. The genteel, educated poor are increasing in numbers. Will they have to be servants—housekeepers—menials?

But we were talking about the cotton pickers. Suppose they are a success, what then? Who will it benefit? If the cotton can be picked at $3 a bale instead of $10, it will cheapen the price just that much. Eight dollars a bale will be saved to the world, but how will it profit the producer? The newspapers figure up a saving to the south of $60,000,000 a year, but it seems that it will save nothing, and will deprive thousands of our poor folks whites and blacks, of employment. Of course machinery is a good thing, and the progress of the age demands its improved and cheaper methods, but I can't see any great good to come to our farmers from the cotton pickers. If it could be grown and picked and ginned and compressed for nothing, what then? I saw an immense cotton mill at Boston that cut 1,200,000 yards of sheeting a day, and kiln-dried most of it, and while I lingered there I thought the hands had gone to dinner, but they had not. Machinery was doing most all the work. What used to be done with a hundred hands is now done with ten. This would seem all right if the other ninety had something to do. These big things enrich the rich but reduce the poor to beggary. The farmers are crying for relief—for a help, but I see no help for them except through bounties. The protective tariff is upon them for ten years at least. There is a bounty upon sugar, and it helps the sugar planter and has reduced the price to the consumer. Sugar never was so cheap. Why not give a bounty to every bale of cotton—say $10 a bale—and every tierce of rice and every bushel of wheat and corn. Why not? Suppose it took $300,000,000 a year—that is no more than is paid in pensions—make the plutocrats pay it by an income tax. Something must be done to make the government secure. Necessity knows no law, neither does misery. When the Central railroad suddenly turned off 300 workmen, and the Richmond and Danville does the same, and the men go to their homes right on the eve of Christmas, right on the eve of winter and know not today how their little ones will get bread tomorrow it shows that there is something wrong in the system; something wrong in the relations of capital to labor; something that the law cannot reach nor defend nor protect. Right in the face of the most bountiful crop ever produced on this continent we are in the midst of a crisis, a financial stringency that affects everybody and has paralyzed the business of the country. The debtor class are damned and pursued with a persistency never known. One man jumps upon another, and it reacts all along the line. A duns B and B duns C and C duns D and so on down to izzard, and everybody feels aggrieved with everybody. It is like the old song of "Pray dog catch cat, make cat catch rat, make rat gnaw rope, make rope hang butcher, make butcher kill ox, make ox drink water, make water quench fire, make fire burn stick, make stick beat kid, make kid go. Time kid and I were home an hour and a half ago." Now, if we could just turn izzard loose with a little money and let him pay Y and let Y pay X and X pay W, and so on, until the money got up to A, there would be twenty-six debts paid and all would be calm and serene. And so I think we ought to have a kind of clearing house for the whole twenty-six. Let A lend $100 to izzard and let izzard pay it to Y and Y to X, and so on until it got back to A again, and he would put it in his pocket and be no worse off, and yet twenty-five debts would be paid and twenty-five persons made happy. Why not? Let's go into it and make up the schedule. Surely we can find one man in twenty six who will lend the money. There is a man dunning me now about once a week for a few dollars, and he writes me affectionate notes through the postoffice. He is worth five dollars to my one, but I'm afraid he will persist to death and a wound pay mm if I could collect, but I can't, and so I think he ought to lend the money to izzard and let's start the ball rolling. There is nothing impracticable about this plan of relieving the financial embarrassment. It will do it certain, if we can get it started. It is on a better principle than that by which Joe Plunket settled with the cross roads barkeeper. He first bargained for a ginger cake and after handling and smelling it awhile handed it back and said he would take a drink of whisky instead of the cake. He drank the whisky and started out, when the barkeeper said, "hold on my friend, you didn't pay for that whisky." Joe was very indignant and said, "I give you the ginger cake for the whisky." "Well, but you didn't pay me for the ginger cake," said the barkeeper.

"Darn you," said Joe, "you've got the ginger cake. There it is on the shelf right where you put it," and he walked out like he had been insulted. Now what is the matter; why can't we turn the money loose among the people and let it pay a big lot of debts and get back to the banks again? These financial panics are distressing and there ought to be a remedy—a balance wheel, a safety valve, a regulator, a something that would restore the equilibrium. The rich can fatten on these panics, while the average merchant or trader or farmer can be crushed by them. Our taxes are a burden too great to be borne. They now amount to 10 per cent. of the average man's income—that is if he lives in a town or city that has gas and water and public schools. But maybe things will brighten up again after a while. The times are awful hard, but it is not so bad as it was. Sorrow endureth for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. The strip has got me and got Mrs. Arp and two of the children, and we are all fussing about who is the sickest, but it is not so bad as it was, and there is still room to be thankful.—BILL ARP, in Atlanta Constitution.

P. S.—I have scores of letters from Massachusetts to California asking for General Jackson's address, but the general writes me he has no copies. He will soon issue it in pamphlet form with important addenda and will be pleased to give it to the public.

B. A.

CARDINAL MANNING DIES.

The Fell Destroyer Cuts Down the Aged Prelate.

A London cablegram says: Cardinal Manning died at 8.30 Thursday morning after a lingering illness, followed by influenza. His eminence, Henry Edward, cardinal priest Roman church and Archbishop of Westminster, son of the late Wm. Manning, Esq., M. P., merchant of London, was born at Petterilge, Hertfordshire, July 15th, 1808.

The cardinal continued to grow weaker and weaker during the night. He was, able, however, to join in the prayers which were being offered at the bedside. His Eminence continued these supplications for divine mercy until half past seven, when he became unconscious and his death calm, and he passed away evidently without pain. Telegrams of regret from all parts of the world are being received.

ANOTHER CARDINAL DIES.

Another dispatch of Thursday from Rome announces the death of Cardinal Simeoni, formerly papal secretary of state and prefect general of the propaganda. His death was due to an attack of influenza, from which he had been suffering for several days.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

Governor Francis, of Missouri, will call an extra session of the legislature.

Governor Brown, of Maryland, was inaugurated Wednesday with great enthusiasm.

The German landtag was opened in Berlin Thursday by Chancellor Von Caprivi.

Fire in Jersey City, N. J., Monday night destroyed property to the amount of $128,000.

A dispatch of Tuesday says: The street car strike in Indianapolis has completely stopped traffic in that city.

R. J. Andorf & Bro., dealers in diamonds, jewelry, etc., at New York, made an assignment, Monday, with preference of $12,500.

The two houses of the Ohio legislature met in joint session Wednesday and announced the election of John Sherman United States senator.

The works of the Waterbury Brass Company at Waterbury, Conn., were destroyed by fire Thursday night. The loss is $260,000; insurance, $187,000.

The town of Larissa and surrounding country, in Greece, were shaken by an earthquake Monday. Almost simultaneously hot springs appeared on Mount Osza.

A Paris cablegram of Tuesday reports that King Humbert has made overtures to the Pope, offering to compromise the questions at issue between the state and the vatican.

On Monday a boiler in the pork-packing establishment of A. B. March, at Bridgeport, Pa., exploded, completely wrecking it. Two men were killed and eight injured.

The American Sugar refining Company held its annual meeting in Jersey City, N. J., Wednesday, re-elected new officers and decided to increase the stock of company by $9,000,000.

Dispatches from Paris state that the influenza continues to spread in that city. The record of Monday shows an increase of seventy in the number of deaths resulting from influenza.

A dispatch of Thursday says: The different organizations interested in the reform movement will hold a conference in St. Louis to decide the question of putting a national ticket in the field.

The senate, in executive session Monday ratified the general act signed at Brussels in 1890 by seventeen powers, including the United States, for the repression of the African slave trade.

The First National bank of Muncy, Pa., was closed Monday afternoon by order of Bank Examiner Dengler. News of the action of the bank examiner created great excitement in the village.

Dispatches of Wednesday report that the business portion of Seville, Spain, is inundated by flood from Gaudalupe river and the harbor is choked with debris brought down by a sudden freshet. The loss very heavy.

The senate and house of Ohio voted separately for United States senator, Tuesday. In the senate John Sherman received eighteen votes and James B. Neal eight. In the house Sherman received ninety-three votes and Neal twenty-nine.

Another effort was made by the Iowa senate Wednesday morning to elect a secretary, but the Democrats again refrained from voting, thus continuing the deadlock. The senate then adjourned until Thursday, and the democrats went into caucus.

William McKinley, Jr., was inaugurated governor of Ohio at Columbus, Monday. The occasion was non-partisan, political friends and foes of the new governor all joining with the utmost harmony and zeal in the inauguration exercises and parade.

The six story brick power block, at Cleveland, O., occupied by the Cleveland Electric Supply company, Champion Safety Lock company and National Iron works was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Loss amounts in the aggregate to about $140,000.

A London cablegram of Tuesday says: There is no abatement whatever in the epidemic of influenza which is sweeping over England. On the contrary reports have been received from hundreds of places throughout the country showing that the disease continues to spread with increasing violence.

The Brook Iron company, of Birdsboro, Pa., notified its employes on Tuesday of a general reduction of wages. The puddlers were reduced from $3.50 to $3.25 per ton, the sheet mill employes from forty to thirty-six cents a ton and the nailers about ten per cent. The firm employs over four hundred hands.

A cablegram of Wednesday from Panama states that the Indians of Bolivia are in open revolt. In the towns along the frontier the revolting Indians have successfully resisted all efforts to suppress them. They have sacked several villages, killed many male inhabitants and carried away women.

The embarrassed cotton and wool commission firm of Joseph H. Coates & Co., at Philadelphia, made an assignment Thursday afternoon to Horace H. Frits. The assignment is made by Joseph H. Coates, Harrison B. Schell and John Walter Gummey, individually and as the firm of Coates & Co.

A reception was given Tuesday evening at the white house by the president and Mrs. Harrison to the diplomatic corps, to which the congress, army and navy, and all persons prominent in official life, besides many others of equal note in Washington and from elsewhere, were invited, and which in point of brilliancy, had not been equaled in years.

Dan Talmage's Sons, the well-known New York merchandise brokers and authorities on rice, advise through the Associated Press that the farmers of the south cultivate rice wherever the cotton growth is curtailed, stating that it is the most profitable of southern products. The gross results are from $40 to $75 per acre. The cost of cultivation is $35 and less.

Nachman, Myer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods-buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this market requires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department, under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, veilings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's caps, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trousseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL-ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.

All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.

And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

CAN BE SILENT.

Witnesses not Obliged to Answer Self-Criminating Questions.

A Washington dispatch says: It has now become a settled law that witnesses cannot be compelled to testify in any criminal case where the answers might tend to criminate them in any way, or subject them to possible future prosecution. It is held that the fifth amendment to the constitution, giving persons the right to refuse to answer questions which might be used against them in criminal cases, must be construed in its broadest sense. Such was the effect of a decision of the United States supreme court Monday in the celebrated interstate commerce case of Charles Counselman, appellant, vs Frank Hitchcock, marshal of the United States district court for the northern district of Illinois. Judge Gresham decided against Counselman, and held him in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions, and it is an appeal from Judge Gresham's order that the case decided by the supreme court came up. The court's ruling is that Judge Gresham's order was erroneous, and that Counselman can not be compelled to testify. It has been said that the effect of the decisions by the court that witnesses cannot be compelled to testify will seriously hamper the interstate commerce commission in the administration of the interstate commerce act. The court's decision was unanimous.

A STEAMER SINKS

And Carries Down with Her Over Four Hundred People.

A dispatch was received at London, Wednesday, from Hong Kong, stating that the steamer Meifoo has arrived at that port bringing the intelligence of the loss of the steamer Namiehow, off Cape Horn points. The Meifoo reports that the shaft of the Namiehow broke, which allowed the water to rush into the shaft and make its way to the engine room, thence into the fire room. The steamer fires were soon extinguished and she settled rapidly. The water continued to pour in unchecked, and in a short time the vessel foundered. She sank so rapidly that it was impossible to launch her boats. When she went down she carried with her 414 persons, every one of whom was drowned. The steamer was officered by Europeans and her crew also consisted of sailors, firemen, etc., from different European countries. They stood to their posts to the last and did everything possible to the last and did everything possible to save their vessel. All went down with the steamer.

THE SHORTAGE GROWS.

Latest from the Broken National Bank at Wilmington, N. C.

A dispatch of Thursday from Wilmington, N. C., says: In reference to the wrecked First National bank the outlook for the depositors and the stockholders is more discouraging than it was at first, as it now transpires that instead of a deficiency of over one hundred thousand dollars, there is in reality a shortage of $300,000. Since the examination began certificates of deposit have turned up for which no equivalent in money appears. The interest, however, was regularly paid on same, if not all of them certificates, but this has been one of the important items which has contributed to the issuance of the additional. There is no news of the absconding cashier, C. M. Bowden.

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

Mr. Frank M. Gilmer, of Montgomery, died a few day ago. He was a notable figure in the industrial development of Alabama and in the social life of central Alabama.

The front room and office of the Limestone county alliance warehouse was burned recently. The loss is estimated between $3,000 and $4,000, without insurance.

A few days ago the Cordova Coal company filed in the office of the judge of probate a deed of trust in favor of the Alabama Trust and Savings company of Birmingham, for the sum of $250,000, secured by a mortgage upon 22,000 acres of coal lands and their entire plant and property in the counties of Walker and Jefferson.

The stockholders of the Gadsden canning factory held a meeting several days ago and elected directors. The directors then held a meeting and elected Robert Lucas president and general manager. Mr. Lucas was instructed to to at once negotiate for the construction of the necessary buildings and rush the work. The canning factory is now assured.

A. H. Burrow, father of Rube, has filed a bill in the circuit court at Vernon against the Southern Express company for $2,000 damaged. He claims that the company made way with Rube's gun, pistols, trunk and contents, and the money that was found on Rube's person when killed. Capt. J. D. McClusky and McEachin and Milner represent the plaintiff.

When the county seat of Blount was removed from Blountsville to Oneonta, the court house building was turned into a college. The change was eminently to Blountsville's advantage and turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Now Somerville, Morgan's old county seat, is passing through the same blessed experience. A college is better than a court house, may be accepted now as sound economy.—Age-Herald.

The Selma Times-Mail says: Governor Jones has appointed Gen. R. M. Nelson a member of the board of revenue of Dallas county. This appointment will receive the hearty commendation of our citizens. The board of revenue of this great Alabama county has grave responsibility resting on it, and it has faithfully performed its duties and made a splendid record since its present members have been in office. When the present board went into office Dallas county was heavily in debt. This burden has, by wise management, been entirely removed, and the finances of the county were never in better condition than now.

Recently J. D. Coplan, general freight agent of the Monterey and Mexican Gulf line, had a long conference with General Freight Agent Poe, of the Mobile and Ohio, and Commissioner Osgood, of the St. Louis Traffic commission, concerning the new rail and water route from St. Louis to Mexico, via Mobile and Tampico. Divisions of through rates were discussed and the whole matter will be taken up at a conference in St. Louis on Wednesday, the 20th inst., at which officials of all the interested lines will be present. There is no doubt that the Mobile and Tampico route will afford St. Louis shippers to Mexico the relief that they stand so much in need of—high rates from the all-rail routes from St. Louis and low rates from New York by water, practically closing the gates of this market for Mexican trade. A reasonable through tariff via Mobile will solve the problem, and the sooner it is announced the better it will be for all interests. The first vessel of the new line has already sailed from Mobile for Tampico.

Less Cotton.

The Sumter county alliance at its recent session adopted the following resolutions: Resolved (1), That it is the sense of this meeting that some concerted action should be taken by the planters in the cotton producing section of the country to counteract the overproduction of cotton, which has already reduced the price below the actual cost of production.

Resolved (2), That looking to such a result we suggest to cotton planters to adopt a system that will insure an abundant production of everything needed on a plantation that can be produced on it before the acreage to be devoted to cotton shall be fixed, and, let that acreage be reduced to such an extent that the cultivation of cotton will not interfere with the proper cultivation of the other crops planted.

Resolved (3), That to the farmers actual living should come from the soil, let him look to that and for it, and be sure in planting his crops that he has given to all crops as large their quotas, an abundant acreage and has cotton taken the limited acreage.

Resolved (4), That all cotton used on ed upon each farm be reserved up on same for its use.

Resolved (5), That we ask the co-operation of merchants and all other classes of society in carrying out these suggestions, which will undoubtedly result in great advantage to the country.

TRADE A LITTLE DULL.

Dun & Co.'s Report of Business for Past Week.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during eight days since December 31st, reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States, 365; Canada, 42; total, 435, against 390 last week. The first week of the new year has been marked by some striking events. There has been an important decline in the prices of wheat and cotton, which have been held of late a little too high for foreign estimates of value, so that exports were somewhat checked. The decline will bring out larger orders for export.

FLUCTUATIONS IN PRICES.

Wheat has dropped sharply—3½ cents for the week on sales of only 15,000,000 bushels. Oats also dropped 2½ cents, but corn rose an eighth, the large exports actually exceeding those of wheat for three days of the week, sustaining the price. Pork products scarcely changed; oil rose 2½ cents, and coffee a quarter. Cotton has dropped to the lowest price since early in 1849, viz., 7.44 cents for middling uplands. Receipts at the south continue greater than last year, and, though exports are also greater, the stock accumulated and largely carried by banks at various points has a depressing influence. This affects trade throughout the south, but the demand for sugar and rice is strong and active, with slightly better prices.

FAIR FOR THE SEASON.

Trade in other parts of the country is fair for the season, the New Year's quiet not having entirely passed. Great industries report no important change, though in iron a large business is being done, and the tone is improved. Some improvement is seen in bar and plates and fair business in structural iron.

The money market has been well supplied at New York, and other markets throughout the north are easier. The treasury has been disbursing freely during the week, and while the sales of stock on foreign account have lifted the rates of foreign exchange half a cent, the swelling exports appear to insure further imports of gold.

PROSPECTS FAVORABLE.

In brief, the business prospects of the country are remarkably favorable for the beginning of the new year, excepting at the south, and while the depression in that section may considerably affect some trades and branches of manufacture, the uplifting influence of the large northern crops and of the unprecedented foreign demand for northern products give substantial ground for the great confidence which prevails.

JACKSON'S DAY.

A Banquet by the Business Men's Association of New York.

The Business Men's Democratic Association of New York city celebrated Jackson's Day with a banquet Friday night. Speeches were made by Grover Cleveland and Mr. Springer, of Illinois.

Speaking on "The Issues of the Day," Mr. Springer said among other things: "I can state, without any fear of successful contradiction, that there is not the slightest probability of a free coinage bill becoming a law during this congress, nor is it likely that any amendment of the existing law will be made. If any measure on this subject is passed it will be one which democrats throughout the country can and will cordially support. It is possible that some such measure, acceptable to democrats generally, may be agreed upon and become a law during this session of congress. In reference to public expenditures, the democratic house of representatives of this congress may be relied upon for a record of rigid economy. This will not be another billion-dollar congress. A reduction of between fifty and a hundred millions a year by the present house of representatives may be confidently expected as compared with the appropriations of the previous congress."

INDIAN RE-ELECTED

President by Stockholders of the E. & R. Railroad Company.

At an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Richmond and Danville railroad company held at Richmond Tuesday, James H. Pace in the chair, John H. James was elected secretary and the following were elected directors: [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 21, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

Some of the counties of Georgia are working their convicts on the public roads successfully.

The various county alliances over the State are meeting and endorsing candidates for county offices.

The State Democratic Executive Committee meets in Montgomery on the 26th inst., to fix upon a time for holding the State Convention and a rate for representation for the counties.

The Alliance Herald and Montgomery Journal do not subscribe to the third term "racket" that will probably be used against Hon. John L. Cobbs for State Treasurer. Mr. Cobbs is a safe man and the examinations of the State Treasury being so frequent under the new law, the State is amply protected. The third term racket is going to be used however for all it is worth by friends of other aspirants.

Always With Us.

Dr Pickard, of the First Baptist Church, Birmingham, recently delivered a sermon on "hard times." He said as far back as he could remember he had heard the cry of "hard times." This is a very general experience and reminds us of the description of America by Charles Dickens in his history of the adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit, who turned up in New York at a period of "great commercial depression." He said: "Martin knew nothing about America, or he would have know perfectly well that it its individual citizens to a man are to be believed, it always is depressed, and always is stagnated, and always is at an alarming crisis, and never was otherwise; though as a body they are ready to make oath at any hour of the day or night that it is the most thriving and prosperous of all the countries on the habitable globe." The spirit of Mr. Dickens has no doubt observed that the same conditions still prevail.

A contemporary says the farmers of the State will go on raising more cotton this year than last and it expects times will be harder next winter than now. It says the farmers are conservative. The meaning of conservative in this use is not evident, unless it may mean that our farmers don't know enough to be positive about what is best for them. The farmer who will raise more cotton this year than he did last is suicidal rather than conservative. We have heard several farmers foreswear cotton and declare they would raise something to eat in 1892. The thing is to get each one to carry out that declaration, and not wait for his neighbor to do so. In this section of the State we buy car load upon car load of western corn to run the saw mills and their teams. Our farmers ought to raise this corn, and we think it would be more of a money crop than cotton now is. But they don't raise enough corn and meat for their own use, and it is not infrequently the case that they may be seen buying such articles from the saw mill commissaries where stores are not convenient. It may be that our climate is somewhat against us in raising meat to sell, but the climate is much in our favor in raising grain crops, and yet we give no thought to the advantages we possess over other sections, but continue to go from bad to worse. For instance, before the late war Calhoun county raised enough wheat to run twenty flour mills, now the raising of wheat has dropped off until the number of such mills in that county is but four. Consider the result. Calhoun county in spite of its mineral development is one of the most debt-ridden counties in the entire country judging from the number of sheriff sales, mortgage sales and other sales for debt to be seen in every issue of the papers published there. Raising cotton did the work, and the debtor class are the farmers in nine cases out of ten. Let them persist in refusing to raise food crops and destitution must be the final result. There are men of means in every county who have made their money at farming. They have learned to farm in the right way. They raise food crops.

HON. L. W. GRANT.

The VIEW takes pleasure in presenting the above named gentleman to its readers as a candidate for Congress in this district.

Mr. Grant has no doubt had longer experience as a legislator in the General Assembly of the State than any man within our knowledge. For fifteen years or more he has been a member of the State Senate or the House of Representatives, and every recurring session he has added to his reputation as a wise and safe legislator, and as a Democrat of that quality that is ever faithful to the interests of the State as well as of the party.

He will go into the congressional convention with the votes of Calhoun and Cleburne counties solid for him. These two counties of the new fourth district compose the State Senatorial district which Mr. Grant has represented in the General Assembly so often.

The people of this county having no local candidate to present to the convention will consider the claims of those of other counties, and in an examination of records that of Hon. L. W. Grant, will stand out well to his advantage. He can afford to leave his claims in the hands of the true blue Democracy of the district.

The Georgia Alliance "Resolutes" That Col. Livingston Must Resign a la Oates.

Col. Leonidas F. Livingstone, Congressman from the great state of Georgia, seems to have displeased some of the Alliance brethren in no small degree.

Thos. E. Watson, also a Georgia Congressman, and Col. Livingstone are not on friendly terms, so far politics are concerned. Watson, though elected as a Democrat, is an out and out Third Party advocate.

Col. Livingstone is berated by the People's Party paper as a traitor to the movement of reform. The charge is being passed upon by the Georgia Alliance. The Richmond county Alliance met on the 9th inst. passed resolutions calling upon Col. Livingstone to resign his seat in Congress, thus leading in the movement against the erstwhile favorite.

Tom Watson is to take the place of Livingstone in the hearts of the Ocalaites. Wonderous change this!

Field Notes.

Selma Mirror.

Dallas county has two candidates for Congress.

Some of the candidates for Congress and many of the politicians are in favor of divorcing the Congressional from the State and county primaries and having a primary election throughout the district. This seems to be fair and practicable.

Hon. Cecil Browne comes down often to see after his fences in this part of the "shoestring." We are always glad to see him, as he is a clever and agreeable gentleman and has no anti-Alliance record that we have been able to unearth.

"If any candidate for Congress thinks he carries Dallas county's vote in the district convention in his pocket, he is very much mistaken." So said a gentleman to us on Monday. We agreed with him.

We understand that Hon. Gaston A. Robbins is actually a candidate for Congress. Well, we have believed for sometime he was anxious to enter the race. The more the merrier, and the prorate given every one a chance.

The "shoestring" convention will be a lively one if all the candidates succeed in getting before it. Grant, Browne, Burns and Robbins are candidates, with Grace, Longshore, Lane or Irwin as a possibility.

Farmers are Conservative.

Eutaw Mirror.

From all the indications we are of the opinion that negroes will rent land, get advances and make cotton this year, just about the same as they have been doing, and white farmers will go on about as formerly, with the exception, perhaps, that a few of them will try a little harder than usual to make enough corn to do them. This being the case, another large cotton crop and correspondingly low prices may be expected, and harder times next winter than now. We therefore suggests to all, now, while the plans are being laid, that the man who has plenty of corn and pork the first of January, 1893, will be the man to be envied. We believe this, but we would not insist on any man acting on the suggestion. We want them all to come as near doing as they please as possible.

MAILS IN RURAL DISTRICTS.

Congressman Clarke of Alabama Introduces a Bill to Provide for Free Collections.

The following is a text of a bill introduced in the House by Congressman Clarke of Alabama. It was read twice, referred to the Committee on Post-Office and Post-Roads, and ordered to be printed:

A Bill, To provide for the free collection and delivery of mails in rural districts.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Postmaster-General be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to established between postoffices, upon or near the line of each star route, suitable boxes for the reception of mail for forwarding and also for delivery. Such boxes shall be established in such number and at such points as will, in judgment, best facilitate the prompt collection and forwarding and delivering of mail through out the country outside of towns.

Sec. 2. That mail to be forwarded shall be taken from such boxes by the pouch-carrier on the route, or by such other persons as may be designated by the Postmaster-General, and shall be delivered by such pouch-carrier to the first postoffice thereafter reached by him. Mail for the delivery shall be deposited by the pouch-carrier in the proper box therefor; and shall be taken out of the same under such rules and regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe.

Sec. 3. That the Postmaster General shall be authorize to make such contracts as may be necessary for the proper execution of this act, in like manner as contracts are now made for the carriage of star-route mails. He shall require of each contractor a sufficient bond for the due performance of the duties of each carrier of the route. He shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to secure personal fitness and efficiency of the pouch-carriers employed by contractors upon routes upon which this act shall be put in execution.

Sec. 4. That, if the revenue of the Postoffice Department shall be insufficient to meet the additional expense of carrying this act into execution, a sum equal to such deficiency, not to exceed two and one-half millions of dollars, is hereby appropriated, to supply such deficiency for the year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

Sample Justice in Texas.

"We don't parley long with murderers out in our State," said a solemn looking man in the Broad street station the other day.

"What State is that?" I asked.

"Texas," he replied. "We just give a man a fair trial an' thar it ends. If he is acquited, all right. An' if he's convicted he hangs."

"That so?"

"Yes sir. It's very seldom we let him escape us. Jist before I came East I saw a man convicted in a peculiar way."

"Ah! You don't say? Let me have the story, will you?"

"It was an ordinary case. Jake Saunders stole a hoss, and when Gib Welsh, the deputy sheriff, tried to nab him, Jake pinged him. He was arrested, and the prosecutin' attorney made out a fine case 'gin him. He had the thing all his way, cose Jake's lawyer couldn't produce anythin' in defence, and all thought it was sure hang for Saunders when his attorney got up to argy. By thunder. I never heard a man talk so in all my life. Hour after hour, suh, he talked, till the jedge, the jury, prosecutin' attorney, prisoner, and everybody else got tired listin' to him, an' ope by one fell asleep."

"What! O, say—"

"Yes, suh. They fell asleep one by one; but still Jake's lawyer spoke on beggin' and pleadin' for his client's life until he had talked about thirteen hours."

"Thirteen hours?"

"Yes, suh. 'Pon my honah. Well, as I was sayin' he talked about thirteen hours an' when he quit a court officer went roun' an' woke up the jedge, jury and attorneys. It didn't take the prosecutin' attorney long to sum up, an' the jedge delivered his charge in a few words. Then the jury retired. They were out only five minutes."

"An' they convicted Saunders, of course?"

"No, suh. They acquitted him and convicted the lawyer. An' believe me or not, suh, they hung him that same night."

And believe me or not, dear reader, that Texan didn't even smile.—Philadelphia Press.

A Spoiler Spoiled.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it, and to-day enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung, or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Many Persons are kept from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Administrator's Sale.

By virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Ala., the undersigned administrator of the estate of Nancy Sims, deceased, will sell "on the premises" at the late residence of said Nancy Sims, deceased, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry, to the highest bidder,

ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15TH, 1892, the real estate belonging to said estate to-wit: E ½ of s w ¼, n w ¼ of n e ¼, E ½ of s w ¼ and w ½ of n e ¼ of section 14, and s w ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 11, all in township 22, range 12, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama.

TERMS OF SALE.—One half cash and balance on 12 months credit, with interest from date and approved security.

DRUCILLA E. TILTON,
Administrator Estate of Nancy Sims, Deceased.
WM. A. COLLIER, Attorney.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Letters of administration upon the estate of M. E. VanDerveer, having been granted to the undersigned on the 30th day of November, 1891, by Hon. H. J. Cullen, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

This 5th day of January, 1892.
J. P. VANDERVEER,
Administrator.

A Gold Watch and Chain

Free to every Agent sending us who gets up a club on our $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $28 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH Co.,
42 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19131 for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec31o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2937 for the e w ½ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

MY ENTIRE STOCK OF GOODS

At Actual Cost For Cash Only!

I am determined to sell everything in my store in the next few weeks, and to do so I make such prices as will induce you to buy. My Stock is complete, consisting of everything usually kept in a first-class store, such as

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS, SHOES and the best stock of

CLOTHING

Ever offered for Sale in the town of Clanton. Suits that usually sell for $9.00 I offer for $5.75. Best Brogan Shoes for $1.10; Calico 5c per yard; Shirting 5c per yard; Cotton Checks 5c per yard; Sheeting, 6c per yard; Fruit of Loom Bleaching 8c per yard; Salt 75c per sack of 125 lbs; Flour $5.25, usual price $5.75; Meat 7½c; Lard 8c; Sardines 5c; 6 pounds of good Coffee for $1.00; 20 pounds Granulated Sugar for $1.00; 18 pounds Rice for $1.00.

While I regret to do this cutting and slashing business, I must reduce my Stock, as I have recently admitted Mr. R. EHRMAN as a partner for the coming year. Parties indebted to me must come forward and settle at once, or their claims will be placed in the hands of my attorney. I will further state to those that are slow to pay that no accommodations will be extended them by the new firm the coming year.

Respectfully,

W. H. MERRITT.

Clanton, Alabama, November 12th, 1891.

Come Quick and Secure the Bargains before the best Goods are Sold.

Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Ask Catalogue FREE. Write to Bryant & Stratton Business College,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company,

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Statements, SAW MILL CHECKS and all classes of LEGAL BLANKS, BOOKS, PAMPHLET PRINTING will be done by this company. They guarantee prices and workmanship equal to any similar concern in the State.

Have, Pope & Pescherry, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without Injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.

Jobbers of and Dealers in

Paints, Oils & Glass

PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS,
COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS,
MIRROR PLATES, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.

1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,

Union Warehouse Co.

Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.

OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom the assured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It costs no more to assure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract,
And Pays its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.

C. J. M'CARY, GENERAL AGENT.
—BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—

B. C. BAKER, Special Agent, Clanton, Ala.

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 21. 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year	$1.00
One copy six months	75
One copy four months	50

Some of the counties of Georgia are working their convicts on the public roads successfully.

The various county alliances over the State are meeting and endorsing candidates for county offices.

The State Democratic Executive Committee meets in Montgomery on the 26th inst., to fix upon a time for holding the State Convention and a rate for representation for the counties.

The Alliance Herald and Montgomery Journal do not subscribe to the third term "racket" that will probably be used against Hon. John L. Cobbs for State Treasurer. Mr. Cobbs is a safe man and the examinations of the State Treasury being so frequent under the new law, the State is amply protected. The third term racket is going to be used however for all it is worth by friends of other aspirants.

Always With Us.

Dr Pickard, of the First Baptist Church, Birmingham, recently delivered a sermon on "hard times." He said as far back as he could remember he had heard the cry of "hard times." This is a very general experience and reminds us of the description of America by Charles Dickens in his history of the adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit, who turned up in New York at a period of "great commercial depression." He said: "Martin knew nothing about America, or he would have know perfectly well that if its individual citizens to a man are to be believed, it always is depressed, and always is stagnated, and always is at an alarming crisis, and never was otherwise; though as a body they are ready to make oath at any hour of the day or night that it is the most thriving and prosperous of all the countries on the habitable globe." The spirit of Mr. Dickens has no doubt observed that the same conditions still prevail.

A contemporary says the farmers of the State will go on raising more cotton this year than last and it expects times will be harder next winter than now. It says the farmers are conservative. The meaning of conservative in this use is not evident, unless it may mean that our farmers don't know enough to be positive about what is best for them. The farmer who will raise more cotton this year than he did last is suicidal rather than conservative. We have heard several farmers foreswear cotton and declare they would raise something to eat in 1892. The thing is to get each one to carry out that declaration, and not wait for his neighbor to do so. In this section of the State we buy car load upon car load of western corn to run the saw mills and their teams. Our farmers ought to raise this corn, and we think it would be more of a money crop than cotton now is But they don't raise enough corn and meat for their own use, and it is not infrequently the case that they may be seen buying such articles from the saw mill commissaries where stores are not convenient. It may be that our climate is somewhat against us in raising meat to sell, but the climate is much in our favor in raising grain crops, and yet we give no thought to the advantages we possess over other sections, but continue to go from bad to worse. For instance, before the late war Calhoun county raised enough wheat to run twenty flour mills, now the raising of wheat has dropped off until the number of such mills in that county is but four. Consider the result. Calhoun county in spite of its mineral development is one of the most debt-ridden counties in the entire country judging from the number of sheriff sales, mortgage sales and other sales for debt to be seen in every issue of the papers published there. Raising cotton did the work, and the debtor class are the farmers in nine cases out of ten. Let them persist in refusing to raise food crops and destitution must be the final result. There are men of means in every county who have made their money at farming. They have learned to farm in the right way. They raise food crops.

HON. L. W. GRANT.

The VIEW takes pleasure in presenting the above named gentleman to its readers as a candidate for Congress in this district.

Mr. Grant has no doubt had longer experience as a legislator in the General Assembly of the State than any man within our knowledge. For fifteen years or more he has been a member of the State Senate or the House of Representatives, and every recurring session he has added to his reputation as a wise and safe legislator, and as a Democrat of that quality that is ever faithful to the interests of the State as well as of the party.

He will go into the congressional convention with the votes of Calhoun and Cleburne counties solid for him. Those two counties of the new fourth district compose the State Senatorial district which Mr. Grant has represented in the General Assembly so often.

The people of this county having no local candidate to present to the convention will consider the claims of those of other counties, and in an examination of records that of Hon. L. W. Grant, will stand out well to his advantage. He can afford to leave his claims in the hands of the true blue Democracy of the district.

The Georgia Alliance "Resolutes" That Col. Livingston Must Resign or Is Outed.

Col. Leonidas F. Livingstone, Congressman from the great state of Georgia, seems to have displeased some of the Alliance brethren in no small degree.

Thos. E. Watson, also a Georgia Congressman, and Col. Livingstone are not on friendly terms, so far politics are concerned. Watson, though elected as a Democrat, is an out and out Third Party advocate.

Col. Livingstone is berated by the People's Party paper as a traitor to the movement of reform. The charge is being passed upon by the Georgia Alliance. The Richmond county Alliance met on the 9th inst. passed resolutions calling upon Col. Livingstone to resign his seat in Congress, thus leading in the movement against the erstwhile favorite.

Tom Watson is to take the place of Livingstone in the hearts of the Ocalaites. Wonderous change this!

Field Notes.

Selma Mirror.

Dallas county has two candidates for Congress.

Some of the candidates for Congress and many of the politicians are in favor of divorcing the Congressional from the State and county primaries and having a primary election throughout the district. This seems to be fair and practicable.

Hon. Cecil Browne comes down often to see after his fences in this part of the "shoestring." We are always glad to see him, as he is a clever and agreeable gentleman and has no anti-Alliance record that we have been able to unearth.

"If any candidate for Congress thinks he carries Dallas county's vote in the district convention in his pocket, he is very much mistaken." So said a gentleman to us on Monday. We agreed with him.

We understand that Hon. Gaston A. Robbins is actually a candidate for Congress. Well, we have believed for sometime he was anxious to enter the race. The more the merrier, and the prorate gives every one a chance.

The "shoestring" convention will be a lively one if all the candidates succeed in getting before it. Grant, Browne, Burns and Robbins are candidates, with Grace, Longshore, Lane or Irwin as a possibility.

Farmers are Conservative.

Eutaw Mirror.

From all the indications we are of the opinion that negroes will rent land, get advances and make cotton this year, just about the same as they have been doing, and white farmers will go on about as formerly, with the exception, perhaps, that a few of them will try a little harder than usual to make enough corn to do them. This being the case, another large cotton crop and correspondingly low prices may be expected, and harder times next winter than now. We therefore suggests to all, now, while the plans are being laid, that the man who has plenty of corn and pork the first of January, 1893, will be the man to be envied. We believe this, but we would not insist on any one acting on the suggestion. We want them all to come as near doing as they please as possible.

MAILS IN RURAL DISTRICTS.

Congressman Clarke of Alabama Introduces a Bill to Provide for Rural Free Collections.

The following is a text of a bill introduced in the House by Congressman Clarke of Alabama. It was read twice, referred to the Committee on Post-Office and Post-Roads, and ordered to be printed:

A Bill, To provide for the free collection and delivery of mails in rural districts.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Postmaster-General be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to establish between postoffices, upon or near the line of each star route, suitable boxes for the reception of mail for forwarding and also for delivery. Such boxes shall be established in such number and at such points as will, in judgment, best facilitate the prompt collection and forwarding and delivering of mail through out the country outside of towns.

Sec. 2. That mail to be forwarded shall be taken from such boxes by the pouch-carrier on the route, or by such other persons as may be designated by the Postmaster-General, and shall be delivered by such pouch-carrier to the first postoffice thereafter reached by him. Mail for the delivery shall be deposited by the pouch-carrier in the proper box therefor; and shall be taken out of the same under such rules and regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe.

Sec. 3. That the Postmaster General shall be authorize to make such contracts as may be necessary for the proper execution of this act, in like manner as contracts are now made for the carriage of star-route mails. He shall require of each contractor a sufficient bond for the due performance of the duties of each carrier of the route. He shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to secure personal fitness and efficiency of the pouch-carriers employed by contractors upon routes upon which this act shall be put in execution.

Sec. 4. That, if the revenue of the Postoffice Department shall be insufficient to meet the additional expense of carrying this act into execution, a sum equal to such deficiency, not to exceed two and one-half millions of dollars, is hereby appropriated, to supply such deficiency for the year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

Sample Justice in Texas.

"We don't parley long with murderers out in our State," said a solemn looking man in the Broad street station the other day.

"What State is that?" I asked.

"Texas," he replied. "We just give a man a fair trial an' thar it ends. If he is acquited, all right. An' if he's convicted he hangs."

"That so?"

"Yes sir. It's very seldom we let him escape us. Just before I came East I saw a man convicted in a peculiar way."

"Ah! You don't say? Let me have the story, will you?"

"It was an ordinary case. Jake Saunders stole a hoss, and when Gib Welsh, the deputy sheriff, tried to nab him, Jake pinged him. He was arrested, and the prosecutin' attorney made out a fine case 'gin him. He had the thing all his way, cose Jake's lawyer couldn't produce anythin' in defence, and all thought it was sure hang for Saunders when his attorney got up to argy. By thunder, I never heard a man talk so in all my life. Hour after hour, sah, he talked, till the judge, the jury, prosecutin' attorney, prisoner, and everybody else got tired listin' to him, an' one by one fell asleep."

"What! O, say—"

"Yes, sah. They fell asleep one by one; but still Jake's lawyer spoke on beggin' and pleadin' for his client's life until he had talked about thirteen hours."

"Thirteen hours?"

"Yes, sah. 'Pon my honah. Well, as I was sayin' he talked about thirteen hours an' when he quit a court officer went roun' an' woke up the judge, jury and attorneys. It didn't take the prosecutin' attorney long to sum up, an' the judge delivered his charge in a few words. Then the jury retired. They weren't out only five minutes—"

"An' they convicted Saunders, of course?"

"No, sah. They acquitted him and convicted the lawyer. An' believe me or not, sah, they hung him that same night."

And believe me or not, dear reader, that Texan didn't even smile.—Philadelphia Press.

A Terrible Visitor.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a grocer, dealer of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment, but still was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it, and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung, or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Many Persons are brought down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Administrator's Sale.

By virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Ala., the undersigned administrator of the estate of Nancy Sims, deceased, will sell "on the premises" at the late residence of said Nancy Sims, deceased, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry, to the highest bidder,

ON MONDAY, FEBUARY 15TH, 1892, the real estate belonging to said estate to-wit: E ½ of s w ¼, n w ¼ of n e ¼, n ½ of s w ¼ and w ½ of n e ¼ of section 14, and s w ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 11, all in township 22, range 12, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama.

TERMS OF SALE.—One half cash and balance on 12 months credit, with interest from date and approved security.

DRUCILLA E. TILTON,
Administrator Estate of Nancy Sims, Deceased.
WM. A. COLLIER, Attorney.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Letters of administration upon the estate of M. E. VanDerveer, having been granted to the undersigned on the 30th day of November, 1891, by Hon. H. J. Cullen, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

This 5th day of January, 1892.
J. P. VANDERVEER,
Administrator.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19181 for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec31o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2837 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

MY ENTIRE STOCK OF GOODS

At Actual Cost For Cash Only!

I am determined to sell everything in my store in the next few weeks, and to do so I make such prices as will induce you to buy. My Stock is complete, consisting of everything usually kept in a first-class store, such as

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS, SHOES and the best stock of

CLOTHING

Ever offered for Sale in the town of Clanton. Suits that usually sell for $9.00 I offer for $5.75. Best Brogan Shoes for $1.10; Calico 5c per yard; Shirting 5c per yard; Cotton Checks 5c per yard; Sheeting, 6c per yard; Fruit of Loom Bleaching 8c per yard; Salt 75c per sack of 125 lbs; Flour $5.25, usual price $5.75; Meat 7½c; Lard 8c; Sardines 5c; 6 pounds of good Coffee for $1.00; 20 pounds Granulated Sugar for $1.00; 18 pounds Rice for $1.00.

While I regret to do this cutting and slashing business, I must reduce my Stock, as I have recently admitted Mr. R. EHRMAN as a partner for the coming year. Parties indebted to me must come forward and settle at once, or their claims will be placed in the hands of my attorney. I will further state to those that are slow to pay that no accommodations will be extended them by the new firm the coming year.

Respectfully,

W. H. MERRITT.

Clanton, Alabama, November 12th, 1891.

Come Quick and Secure the Bargains before the best Goods are Sold.

Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Catalogue FREE. Write to Bryant & Stratton Business College, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Reporter Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Statements, BANK BILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL PRINTING write to this Company. They guarantee Speed and Duplicate prices of work by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dunberry, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.

Jobbers of and Dealers in

Paints, Oils & Glass

PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS,
COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS,
MIRROR PLATES, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.
1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,

Union Warehouse Co.

Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.

OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom the assured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It could be no more to assure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract,

And Pays its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.

C. J. M'CARY, GENERAL AGENT.
—BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—

G. C. BAKER, Special Agent, Clanton, Ala.

GO TO BLANK BROS, LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 21, 1892.

SCHEDULE L. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING NORTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:09 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:05 a. m.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 2 Fast	2:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	2:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:09 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

COUNTY CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Claude McRee visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. T. Phillips is visiting relatives in Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holly visited relatives in Lowndesboro last week.

Mr. W. H. Merritt took a business trip to Lowndesboro last week.

One thousand old newspapers for sale at this office. Good for wrapping paper.

Rev. I. F. Smith will preach at the Episcopal Church the fifth Sunday in this month.

During the recent rain the water rose within a few feet of the trestle south of the depot.

Mrs. Carroll is having a new residence put up on the same lot where her other house stood.

Miss Minnie Phillips has returned home after a visit of several weeks to relatives in Montgomery.

Judge John Haralson, of Selma, has been mentioned as a suitable man for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. W. H. Phillips, our accommodating grocery man, has moved his stock of groceries into Mr. John Aldridge's store.

We can send you the Birmingham News for one year and the VIEW for six months for $1.25. Or both papers will be sent for a year for $2.00.

Buy goods from those who advertise. Such men keep fresh goods, they have a spirit of enterprise that deserves recognition and should be liberally patronized.

Hon. L. W. Grant, of Calhoun County, who is a candidate for congress in this district was in town Thursday. Col. Grant is a staunch Democrat and means to "get there."

Our subscribers are requested to bear with the VIEW and overlook any deficiency. The hard weather has kept the publisher confined to his room since the first of the present month.

Dr. H. T. Caffey, of Jemison, has removed with his family to Calera. We regret very much to lose Dr. Caffey from our county, but wish that he may meet with abundant success in his new home.

In noticing the improvements in Clanton in a recent issue, we inadvertently omitted to mention the handsome new seven room cottage of Mr. McKee, of Jumbo, which will soon be completed on his lot adjoining Mr. Pat. Smith's.

On Paper.

They may talk about the editors,
And say that they are poor,
With very few good creditors,
And little earthly store.
But there is one thing certain,
You cannot keep them down.
For when they can't support themselves.
They still support the town.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

The VIEW appreciates the items sent in by our neighborhood correspondents, and we are always glad to hear from them. Give us the news first, personals next and politics not at all.

Mr. O. P. Bentley left Tuesday evening for Rockford. He received a telegram that morning stating that his father, Judge Bentley, of Coosa county was very ill, and for him to hasten to his bedside.

From an exchange we learn that a good rat trap can be made by placing a wash tub in a corn crib, fill it half full of water, cover it with cotton seed, and sprinkle meat over it. The rats will jump in and drown. The water must be changed every two or three days. Hundreds of rats can be caught in a week. If you are troubled with the pests, try this plan which destroys them by the wholesale.

A teacher who asked a girl to purchase a grammar, received the following note from the little girl's mother:

"I do not desire that Mattie shall engage in grammar, as I desire her to engage in more yousful studies, and can learn her to speak and write proper myself. I went through two grammars and can't say as they did me no good—I prefer Mattie to engage in German and drawing and vocal music on the piano."—London Tit-Bits.

Well Said.

The Louisville Courier-Journal sends forth this encouraging advice: "Don't dwell unnecessarily upon your losses during the year. If you have life and health and home and dear ones left roll up your sleeves and begin the year courageously. Millions of men have thus met misfortunes and mastered them. Dwell on the dark side only long enough to learn its lesson; then turn and close the book. Nothing is more unprofitable to the mind than brooding over past defeats."

The man who conducts his business on the theory that it does'nt pay, and he can't afford to advertise, sets up his judgment in opposition to all the best businessmen in the world. With a few year's experience in conducting a small business on a few thousand dollars of capital, he assumes to know more than the thousands of business men whose hourly transactions aggregate more than his do in a year, and who have made their millions by pursuing a course that he says does not pay.—Centreville Express.

What will a mother not do for her child? The mother-love prompts and sustains women in making sacrifices that men, even the least selfish of them, can scarcely comprehend. Health, life, rest, comfort and safety are all ignored at a demand of a child who is sick or wounded or in danger from any cause. A case in point is that of Mrs. Anna Muench of New York, who recently submitted herself to the knife of a surgeon of Bellevue Hospital to be stripped of skin to be transplanted on the body of her little boy, who had been badly burned, and whose recovery from severe wounds was only possible by such means. Both mother and son, it is a pleasure to be able to say, are doing well. There is always sunshine somewhere in the world.

At last Lamar county is to be congratulated upon the abandonment of the old plan of compelling road hands and citizens to build bridges, says the Vernon Courier. The change was agreed on at the November term of the Commissioners' Court. Our Commissioners are progressive, if slowly. They come around all right before it is too late. All bridges over large streams should be under the eye of some well-bonded contractor. And, when this is the case, no such heart-rending scenes as occurred near here Christmas eve will again occur. When a bridge is under the care of a road overseer he has but little more responsibility than any other person, and of course will not be so watchful about repairs. The accident referred to above ought to forever silence men who, for the sake of argument, popularity or buncomb, cry out against a liberal expenditure of money on bridges.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. [jan15]

HON. THOS. L. BULGER.

The VIEW is authorized to announce Hon. Thos. L. Bulger, of Tallapoosa, as a candidate for Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit.

It is a matter of congratulation to the people of the circuit that a man of Mr. Bulger's mental qualities has been prevailed upon to become a candidate for this high and honorable office.

Mr. Bulger is a gentleman of conservative and judicial mind, a successful lawyer, in the vigor and prime of life, and has had a large experience in public affairs.

The people of Chilton are familiar with his record in the Alabama Legislature, where no member stood higher for legal attainments, or for an earnest and patriotic devotion to duty. It is therefore with a degree of pleasure that his name is presented to the people of this portion of the circuit for their favorable consideration.

Influenza and Its Treatment—Views of a Distinguished Paris Expert.

We publish to-day a Paris cable dispatch giving a highly important communication to the European edition of the Herald on influenza and its treatment, from the pen of the distinguished Paris physician, Dr. Albert Robin. Dr. Robin points out at the beginning of his paper that though vital statistics ascribe but little mortality to influenza, or grip, taken by itself, nevertheless, owing to its complications, its fatality becomes exceedingly heavy.

These complications are pneumonia, congestion of the lungs, weakness, nervous prostration and acidulous poisoning of the blood. Dr. Robins researches show that the perspiration of an influenza patient is twelve times as poisonous as that of a well person.

To guard against the real danger of influenza Dr. Robbin recommends rigorus confinement to bed, aromatic drinks to induce free perspiration and remove poisonous products from the blood. This treatment should be followed by weak doses (from about four to eight grains) of sulphate of quinine, taken three times a day. Quinine, in small doses, given frequently, promotes exudation and the elimination of the poisons which are the true source of danger. Dr. Robin decidedly disapproves of the use of antipyrine in influenza.—N. Y. Herald, 10th.

Judge Waxem's Political Proverbs.

Most Congressmen would rather be promoted to the United States Senate than to Heaven.

I ain't never been able to unstand egsactly, why a man that says he can make $5,000 a yer in his biziness is so dogon anxyus to git a $2,000 government job.

Some good statesmen ain't good poker players and visy versy.

I have never knowed a candidate that wouldn't trim some.

Whiskey is the unpardonable sin of politicks.

Praps G. Washington never told a lie, but then George had a way of keepin' his mouth shet.

The trouble with some statesmen is that they talk when they havn't got anything to say.

A million dollars is a power in politicks. It's mighty easy to humbug Uncle Sam in his own family.

Heaven ain't made up of politishans.—Detroit Free Press.

The Centreville Express says: J. L. Davidson is the only advertiser Centreville affords starting off with the new year. The business houses show by their patronage how they appreciate any enterprise; but a glance at the condition of the country answers the question why Centreville is leaking in business men. It would be useless to ask us why we don't leave here if we don't like it, for we would tell you we would if we could.

It is just possible that some of Centreville's merchants are in the same fix the Express is in—in regard to leaving.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. —A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

The Justice of the Case.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal says the Augusta Chronicle has never been known so forcibly impressed upon the farmers of the South as it is now in 1891. From all sections come reports of a prosperous year, abundant crops and no scarcity of money. The South alone suffers for the want of money. The enormous cotton crops of the past year have exceeded the demand, and the prices have fallen disastrously low in contrast to the high price of this staple in the increase in the cost of food products, and the Southern farmer is to-day paying more for his provisions than his cotton is bringing him. Instead of money coming into this section for the products of our farms the people are paying out more than they make in order to live. This is the situation in the States that are richest in natural resources and agricultural land.

The money markets in the North, East and West are easy, but in the South the balance of trade is against us. The circulation of the country is not contracted, but is coursing through the arteries of trade outside of the South. Money is plentiful and is growing more plentiful in every section, but less so in ours. The year will be tided out without trouble, and if our farmers will profit by their experience, next season will be one of the most prosperous in all our history. Agriculture is the basis of prosperity, and the future of the South depends more upon the farmers that upon any other class of its population.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

JEMISON
High School.
(MALE AND FEMALE).
JEMISON, - - - ALA.
TIPTON MULLINS, L. I., A. B., PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about midway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 706 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $8.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

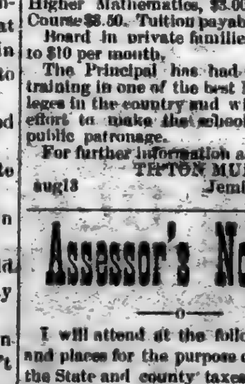
For further information address
TIPTON MULLINS,
aug13 Jemison, Ala.

Assessor's Notice!

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Cooper's,	January	1st,
Verbena,	"	2d,
Kincheon,	"	4th,
Clanton Ford	"	5th,
Dixie	"	6th,
R. Latham's	"	7th,
Maplesville,	"	8th,
Benson,	"	9th,
Chandler's Saw Mill	"	11th,
Macedonia,	"	12th,
Prim's School House	"	13th,
Providence,	"	14th,
Jemison	"	15th,
Strasburg	"	16th,
Mineral Springs,	"	19th,
Maddox's Grist Mill,	"	20th,
Gore's School House	"	21st,
Cane Creek	"	22nd
Clanton,	"	23rd.

E. G. ROLLINS,
Tax Assessor of Chilton County.



WE ARE HERE
TO SELL YOU GOODS
AT LOW PRICES.

Having opened a New Stock of Goods in my Store at Clanton I solicit the Patronage of my friends and the public. Goods of the best quality at reasonable Prices.

By Honesty and Fair Dealing I hope to merit your Patronage.

Respectfully,
J. P. ALLEN.

Hale, Dingley & Co.
—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—
Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,
PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,
—:MONTGOMERY, ALA.:—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.
Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

MONTGOMERY ARMS CO.
HENRY D. LONG, Manager.
HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF
SPORTING GOODS.
SUCH AS
GUNS, PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES,
AMMUNITION, BLUE ROCKS,
Traps, Base Ball and Gymnasium Goods,
MAGNIFYING GLASSES, TELESCOPES AND MANY OTHER NOVELTIES. CALL AND SEE US AT 112 Dexter Avenue, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.
—18 COMMERCE STREET,—
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.
Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

WORMS
WHITES CREAM VERMIFUGE

H. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Chilton. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Chilton.

O. P. BENTLEY,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Office at the Courthouse.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his new barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD,
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds
Work Done in the
BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. [mar24-y

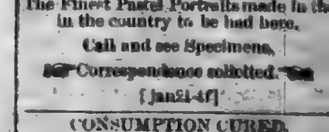
J. W. BLYTH,
(Successor to Tressler)
PHOTOGRAPHER.
10 COURT SQUARE,
Montgomery
Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. Crayon portraits reduced to $12.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.
The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.
Call and see Specimens.
Correspondence solicited. [jan21-4m]

CONSUMPTION CURED.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.
Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 1, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on January 9, 1892, viz: Francis A. Gibson, hom. stead 18864 for the west half of n e ¼ section 24, township 21 n, range 13 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Albert Headley, Peyton Headley, Andrew J. Henley, Euclid Cooper, all of Clanton, Ala.

Geo. J. H. BINGHAM, Register.



SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY.
Fall Term begins September 13.
Spring Term begins January 21.
Over 150 boarders, 21 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Healthfulness and unsurpassed natural scenery. Of the former [illegible] of the latter [illegible]

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS.

Editorial Views Comment and Items of General Interest.

The Kansas State Alliance Benefit Association saved its members three times the cost of the State Alliance.

***

On a capital of only $28,000 the Kansas Alliance Exchange did a business of $1,215,940 during the last fiscal year.

***

The Labor Tribune (Carthage, Mo., says. Good crops and close economy can not supply the deficiency in the volume of money, nor pay taxes or debts. Some papers are shouting as if big crops could bring money into circulation, when the fact is impossible. Good crops cause prices to fall for want of money enough to handle and hold the same, whereas if money was plentiful, it would be called into use in handling the crops, which would make large crops a blessing in two ways—first, by the extra labor it would employ; and, second, by the amount of money that would go into circulation.

***

MEETING OF ALLIANCE PRESIDENTS.

The presidents of the various state alliances held an executive session in Washington a few days ago. According to dispatches, the meeting was somewhat heated when the question of alliance political affiliation came up. A number of other alliancemen who happened to be in Washington, but had no vote in the meeting, were allowed to be present and express themselves. It was agreed by them that an attempt to transfer the alliance vote of the country to any party would result in the complete destruction of the order. A resolution was passed unanimously calling upon the February St. Louis convention to refrain from committing the alliance to any party. The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, That it is the sentiment and desire of this conference of the presidents of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union that the delegates from the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union who attend the industrial conference to be held in St. Louis, February 23, 1892, use their influence and votes to establish perfect fraternal relations with all the labor organizations represented in said meeting with the Ocala demands as a basis and a platform for principles, and that such platform be presented to the national conventions of the democratic party, the republican party and the people's party, this year, with an earnest request that the principles involved be ingrafted into their platforms for the coming elections of 1892; but that they carefully refrain from committing our orders, as such, to affiliation with any political party or parties.

***

NOT SIBBELINGS.

In an extensive article on Alliance matters, a correspondent in the Atlanta Constitution admits that the lodges of the order are not as fully attended as formerly, accounting various reasons therefor, and adds: "So you cannot judge the power of the alliance in Georgia by the roll call at the lodges, and to oppose the alliance is to oppose an unbroken array of our agricultural element. Abuse only strengthens them in their determination, and poverty and oppression but drives them the closer together. Our farmers are not the untutored, irresponsible, visionary fanatics that their enemies would like to make the world believe. On the other hand, they are liberal in their views, are always open to conviction, conservative and law-abiding. Since the alliance was organized they have devoted great time and care to a study of the economic questions that agitate the public mind, and it would surprise an outsider to attend one of our alliance meetings and hear uneducated men, just from between the plow-handles, debate great public issues, which you would think as far removed from their understanding as are the poles. I assert that the average alliancemen is to-day as well or better informed in regard to the politics of our country as is the average professional man; and they know as much about financial questions as the average banker or capitalist. There is no danger of the alliancemen of Georgia being led astray by designing and ambitious demagogues. At this time I know that the third party has not a ghost of a show in this section, and if the democratic majority in the house will give to the country financial relief, and show their willingness to lift the burden from the backs of the people, I do not believe that the new party will command a corporal's guard in any county in Georgia. You never hear it even discussed at our alliance gatherings, while the course of Col. Livingston, and those of our alliance congressmen who went into the democratic caucus, is universally commended."

***

THE ALLIANCE NOT UNDERSTOOD.

Under the above headlines the Midland Journal has a very comprehensive article from which we extract the following:

The aims and scope of the Farmers' Alliance in its several associations, and which separate branches are fast consolidating in our national body, are but dimly understood by the general public, who have been misled by the daily papers, either through design or ignorance on the part of their editors. The general impression with outside parties is that the Alliance is a kind of farmers' political party which will make nominations, and if those candidates fail of election, will speedily dissolve and be heard of no more; that they, the farmers, have some crude ideas about laws of finance and other economic questions, which are undigested and chaotic, which, if attempted to be put into practice, would utterly fail to work. The monopoly press of the cities have been industrious to spread this belief among the people and create a prejudice if possible against the Alliance. Many intelligent farmers who draw all their information from the daily press and flatter themselves that they are well posted on public matters, are the dupes of this misinformation. The Alliance is in no sense a political party, but a co-operative brotherhood, in which all political parties are treated with impartiality, or rather not considered at all, but in which all economic questions are receiving a searching examination without respect to what party may support them. The Alliance has an order of business which is followed in its meetings which never varies, and insures its work and proceeding to be uniform, and moving toward the same point throughout the country. Political affairs are closely scanned and the true inwardness of every measure transmitted to the whole organization from National or Supreme Council down to every sub-Alliance in the country, divested of all party favoritism; each measure being examined and discussed wholly on its merits, without a thought of its being a party measure. By this means members get a true knowledge of public affairs, and are enabled to form an opinion which arises from an independence of thought and individuality which have heretofore been unknown to the masses of the people who have been dominated by a party bigotry which was little better than a state of moral and political servitude. * * * Reverses or successes of political parties can have little or no effect on the continuance of the Alliance. It will continue to enlarge the scope of its usefulness and gain in power and influence throughout the country. Its mission is to undo the mischief that class legislation has wrought, and have laws passed that will stop favoritism to the money and monopoly classes—in fact work their utter downfall and make it impossible for the system of legal robbery to be pursued, which has over-ridden individual rights for the past thirty years, by placing the corporation above the citizen and turning over the prerogative of government to the control of a banking and stock gambling class.

AN ADDRESS.

Below we give the address of the committee on the St. Louis meeting in full: To all citizens of the United States Greeting:—The undersigned have been appointed a committee to issue an address setting forth the object and purposes of the great conference of producers which has been called to convene in St. Louis, on the 22d day of February, 1892. The call for said conference originated with the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union at Ocala, Fla., in December, 1890, as follows: "This body gives its sanction and call for a meeting to be held about February, 1892, to be composed of delegates from all organizations of producers upon a fair basis of representation, for the purpose of a general and thorough conference upon the demands of each, and to the end that all may agree upon a joint set of demands just prior to the next national campaign, and agree upon the proper methods for enforcing such demands. If the people, by delegates coming from them direct, agree that a third party move is necessary, it need not be feared. That the next session of this Supreme Council elect delegates from this Order to represent it in said national conference of productive organizations for political purposes." Committees from the National Farmers, Alliance and Industrial Union, the Knights of Labor, the National Citizens, Alliance, and the Colored National Farmers' Alliance and Co-operative Union met in Washington, D. C., January 24, 1891, and chose a national executive committee, and fixed the time for the coming conference at February 22, 1892, and instructed their executive committee to decide on the place of meeting and the basis of representation. The call for the great labor conference has since been ratified and accepted by practically all farmers' and laborers' organizations. The national executive committee met at Indianapolis, Ind., on the 16th day of November, and fixed the basis of representation, and appointed a committee to choose the place of meeting. This shows the call to be regular, and to be supported by millions of people scattered throughout every section of this broad land. A movement of such great extent and popularity involves great forces and must wield great power; its causes, objects, purposes and methods, therefore, are important subjects of consideration. The causes are many, and depend on combinations of circumstances that have been transpiring for years; many of them are to-day unnoticed, and to attempt even a list of the causes would be almost an endless task, but prominent among the causes for this great movement, causes which should fill with alarm and concern every loyal citizen of this government, are: The rapid accumulation of the wealth of the nation in the hands of a few, and the general impoverishment and discontent of the masses; a financial system that furnishes a volume of money which at one season of the year is so redundant that money is worth in the metropolis only 1 per cent. on call, while at another season it is so inadequate that money ranges as high as 188 per cent on call, thereby entailing great hardship and distress upon all classes as a result of instability of prices. The general and widespread belief on the part of the masses that the government is administered in the interest of a favored class (whether this be true or not, the fact that such belief exists is a matter of public concern) in spite of the wise and just provisions of the constitution. Boss rule methods and the distribution of millions of corruption money by political organizations, the depressed condition of all productive pursuits, the menace to free government involved in the shameful abuses of aggregated wealth, using combinations of transportation companies to control legislative and judicial proceedings, the foreign invasion which is received and allowed to exact tribute on account of the unavailability of American wealth in business, the plainly visible wide separation between the government and the people who seem to feel that they are pushed aside for the politician and lose a proper interest in government affairs; that monster, the mortgage, which is rapidly devouring the liberties and the independence of the grandest and best people the sun ever shown upon, and whose conscienceless exactions must soon bring on a climax of violence unless wise counsel shall prevail and the cause of justice assert itself. These among the many causes are sufficient to enlist the support of all patriotic citizens in any laudable effort to wrest American institutions from such abuses and restore them to the foundations laid by the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The object of the coming meeting is, under the blessing of God, to confer and agree upon the wisest, fairest and most just means of relief in the interest of the whole people, and to announce a declaration of principles upon which all are agreed to stand and demand laws to carry out. For this purpose every organization of producers in this broad land is invited to send delegates and participate in the deliberations. For the love of our country, for the sake of your family, in view of your duty to the prosperity, and pursuant of your responsibility to God, come! and let this be the second Declaration of Independence for the American people in which instead of throwing off the yoke of a tyrant king they liberate posterity from threatened industrial tyranny and slavery. The purpose of the meeting will be developed when the delegates of the people assemble. It is idle to suppose that they will adopt a set of demands without making adequate provision to enforce them. It is not for this committee to say what the purposes will be, but it is the duty of this committee to urge the intelligence, wisdom and virtue of the land to participate in the deliberations and ability by the results of that meeting.

C. W. MACUNE,
HERMAN RAFTENBERGER,
THOMAS W. GILBERTH,
JOHN P. STEER,
Committee.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—In the house, Mr. Breckinridge of Kentucky asked unanimous consent to offer a resolution reciting the letters written by the secretary of state by direction of the president to the diplomatic representatives of Venezuela, Nicaragua, Columbia, Honduras and other nations, calling attention to section 3 of the McKinley act relative to reciprocity, and stating that the president deems the duties imposed by these countries to be reciprocically unequal and unreasonable, and that, unless on or before March 15th next some satisfactory arrangement is entered into, the president will issue a proclamation suspending the provisions of this section; and further, reciting that such action by the president would be unconstitutional, onerous and unjust, and instructing the committee on ways and means to report before February 25th the bill repealing the third section of the McKinley act. It also authorizes the president, without further legislation, to declare ports of the United States free and open to all products of any nation of the American hemisphere upon which no export duties are imposed, so long as such nation shall admit to its ports free of all national, municipal and other taxes, flour, corn, meal and other breadstuffs, preserved meats, fish, vegetables and fruits, cotton-seed oil, rice lumber, agricultural implements or such other products as may be agreed upon. Referred to the committee on ways and means. The call of states was then resumed, and under the calls a large number of bills were introduced and referred.

TUESDAY.—Congress was in session for only eighteen minutes Tuesday morning. Speaker Crisp being still unable to preside the house was called to order by the speaker pro tem. Richardson, of Tennessee, introduced a bill to regulate public documents. Referred. After the introduction of several other bills the house adjourned till Wednesday.

WEDNESDAY.—Wise, of Virginia, offered a resolution in the house, Wednesday, authorizing the committee on interstate and foreign commerce to sit during sessions of the house, to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths in pursuing inquiry touching any matter of proposed legislation referred to it. After amendment the resolution was adopted. Stone, of Kentucky, offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a tabular statement of all goods imported into Porto Rico and the Dominican republic since the reciprocity treaty went into effect. Also a resolution (agreed to) calling on the secretary of state for copies of all communications between the United States and Spain and Brazil on the subject of reciprocity.

THURSDAY.—The house spent all of Thursday, in discussing the Holman resolution, providing for the retrenchment of government expenditures, and announcing the house as opposed to subsidies and bounties. The purpose of this resolution was simply to commit to retrenchment and to repeal of subsidy and bounty laws. This congress proposes to repeal all the permanent appropriations except those upon which the credit of the government depends. In this repeal will be included the subsidies and bounties passed by the late congress, and now in existence.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The senate on Monday in executive session finally ratified a general act signed at Brussels, July 2, 1890, by seventeen powers, including the United States, for the repression of the African slave trade; and also a convention of commerce and navigation between the United States and the independent state of Congo, signed at Brussels July 24, 1891. Mr. Teller introduced a joint resolution providing for an international bimetallic agreement. The resolution declares it to be the determined policy of the United States government to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money, either under the existing ratio in use or under one that may hereafter be established by the United States alone or in accord with other nations. It directs the president to invite the governments of the countries comprising the Latin union, so-called, and of such other nations as he may deem advisable, to join the United States in a conference and to adopt a common ratio between gold and silver for the purpose of establishing internationally the use of bimetallic money and of securing a fixity of relative values between these metals, the conference to be held at such place as may be mutually agreed upon by the executive of the various governments. The resolution was referred to the finance committee. Mr. Butler offered a resolution instructing the finance committee to report a bill repealing all taxes imposed by congress on the circulation of state banks of issue, and at his request it was laid on the table. The executive session adjourned.

TUESDAY.—In the senate, Mr. Dolph, from the committee on coast defenses, reported a bill for the purchase of sites for fortifications; also a bill to provide for fortifications and other seacoast defenses. Mr. Berry a member of the committee, said he dissented from the latter bill, which covered an appropriation of twenty-three million, extending over a period of eleven years. Dolph explained that the appropriation in the bill had been reduced to one hundred million, and it is thought best to make the appropriation all at one time, to be used during the eleven years, ten millions for the first and nine millions at the end of the succeeding ten years.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, among the bills reported from the committees and placed on the calendar is one appropriating $32,000 to complete public buildings at Pensacola, Fla., as originally designed. Mr. Gordon made a personal statement in explanation of his absence from the session of the committee on coast defenses. It was to the effect that he had seen in the Record the name of Gorman as a member of that committee instead of his own. He found now that that was an error, and would hereafter attend the meetings.

HOUSE.

O'Neal, of Massachusetts, has set the department in a flurry by proposing to introduce a bill providing that they shall work eight instead of six and a half hours daily.

Mr. Bulss, of Tennessee, introduced a bill, Thursday, providing that not exceeding $500 shall be appropriated towards the burial expenses of any deceased member or representative.

The committee on coinage decided on Wednesday morning to postpone action for the present. They will meet again next week, and will then report some sort of a silver bill. A small majority of the committee favor free coinage.

Colonel Wise introduced bills Thursday to pension the survivors of the Creek and Florida wars; also allowing the court of claims to pass upon claims of persons who lost horses and other property while in the service of the army; also to perfect the records of the Georgia troops in the union army.

The senate committee, in executive session Tuesday confirmed the following nominations: Chief engineer, G. W. Melville, United States navy, to be engineer in chief, and chief of the bureau of steam engineering of the navy department. Department of court of private land claims, Joseph R. Reed, of Iowa, to be chief justice; associate justices, W. W. Murray, of Tennessee; T. C. Fuller, of North Carolina; H. C. Sloss, of Kansas; W. Y. Stone, of Colorado. United States attorney, Matthew G. Reynolds. United States district judges, W. W. Morrow, for the northern district of California; J. S. Woolson, for the southern district of Iowa; H. C. Niles, for the northern and southern districts of Mississippi; Beniah H. Watson, district of Delaware; E. W. Camp, district of North Dakota; M. A. Montgomery, northern district of Mississippi; Warren Truitt of Oregon, United States district judge for the district of Alaska; D. McCoy of Indiana, minister and consul general to Liberia; William B. Hess of Indiana, United State consul general at Constantinople; M. W. Harrington of Michigan, chief of weather bureau department of agriculture; Walter Wyman of Missouri, supervising surgeon of the marine hospital service; T. H. Carter of Montana, commissioner of general land office. Postmasters, Tennessee—A. H. Faulkner, McMinnville; W. K. Sheddan, Cleveland; J. E. Batton, Springfield; George McPherson, Jonesboro, and R. F. Haun, Milan.

ADVICE OF COMMISSIONERS

Is that a Reduction of Twenty Per Cent in Acreage be Made.

A Memphis dispatch says: A conference was held between the commissioners of agriculture of the various cotton states, who at ended the convention of cotton growers regarding the action of the convention and they agreed to the following memorial:

"The commissioners of agriculture, representing the states of Alabama, Arkansas, North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee, being impressed with the necessity of a reduction in the acreage of the cotton crop and greater diversification of crops, for home consumption, hereby indorse the action of the cotton growers and merchants' convention, held in the city of Memphis, Tennessee, on the 8th day of January, 1892, do earnestly appeal to all agricultural and mercantile organizations, consisting of alliances, granger, state and county agricultural societies, boards of cotton exchanges, chambers of commerce, etc.; also individual farmers and merchants, to assist and co-operate with us in securing the foregoing resolution. And to this end they recommend a general and local adoption of the action of the convention, pledging themselves to a reduction of not less than 20 per cent of the cotton acreage of the last year; and further urge and recommend immediate organization of state, county and districts, or townships, to act either independently or through legally organized societies, as may be deemed best, and which will most readily insure the benefits arising from concert of action and decreased production of cotton for the year 1892."

WAR TALK.

Chile Will Have to be Licked into an Apology.

A Washington dispatch of Wednesday says: It looks very much like we might have war with Chile. The reports of the testimony at San Francisco have been read with great interest by congressmen, and the situation is now looked upon as grave. President Harrison has been very much exercised by the reports from San Francisco. He has received intimation from the Chilean minister, in an unofficial way, that the Chilean government would apologize for the outrages committed upon the American sailors, but has received nothing official from the Chilean government to that effect. Indeed, Chile has expressed no regrets at the outrages, and the president is beginning to believe that Chile is simply attempting to postpone action, and will finally try to arbitrate matters without making a straightout apology. Indeed, President Harrison has about reached the conclusion that the Chileans are as unfriendly, arrogant and offensive in their attitude as they have been at any time. The matter was considered at a cabinet meeting Wednesday morning, and it was decided that in the event that no apology was received from the Chilean government by the early part of next week, the entire correspondence will be submitted to congress, and this government will take decided and firm action. Thus, unless Chile makes amends for outrages of her citizens upon the Baltimore sailors, there is going to be war.

THE DUKE IS DEAD

An Heir Apparent to England's Throne Passes Away.

A London cablegram, in announcing the death of Prince Clarence, Duke of Avondale, says: When the solemn tolling of the great bells in St. Paul's cathedral were heard Thursday morning they conveyed to everyone within hearing of their deep mouthed booming the fact that the Duke of Clarence and Avondale had passed away. The bells in St. Paul are never tolled save on the occasion of the death of the heir to the throne, and therefore no further information was necessary for the people of London to make them aware that after a gallant struggle the duke had finally succumbed.

The announcement of his death caused far less commotion in London than was expected, but this was, no doubt, due to the fact that nearly everybody had given up hope Wednesday, and believed that death was sure to claim the duke.

THIRD PARTYITES

Will Put Out a Regular Ticket in Louisiana.

The central executive committee of the people's party, better known as the third party, held a session at New Orleans Wednesday and called the state convention to meet at Alexandria, February 17th next, when a full state ticket will be put in the field headed by Colonel Thomas J. Guice, editorial manager of the Farmers' Alliance, who so persistently fought the Ledoux machine in the session of Farmers' Alliance at Lafayette when it was adopted. He is a strong advocate of the third party movement.

The Copyright Law.

By the common law, an author had a perpetual right in the products of his intellect. This is now denied, and the whole matter has become the subject of statute, so that now, unless the provisions of the law designed to secure to the author the exclusive ownership of the results of his labor are strictly complied with, the product is public property. We shall now see what may be copyrighted, and the method thereof.

First—Books, meaning not only such in their ordinary sense, but such as are printed only on one sheet, as the words of a song, or the music accompanying it. It may be a diagram with directions on one sheet of paper, private letters, abstracts of title, an illustrated newspaper. If the book is manuscript, it may yet be copyrighted. Foreign books may not be, translations otherwise. A new edition of a copyrighted book is protected by the original copyright, but not to the extent of protecting new matter in it.

Compilations may be copyrighted. Under this head also fall dictionaries, books of chronology, gazetteers, guide books, directories, calendars, catalogues, tables, collections of statistics, recipes, designs.

Abridgments and law reports, where there is original matter, may be copyrighted.

Advertisements, as such, may not be copyrighted. Maps, charts, newspapers, magazines, musical any dramatic compositions, engraving, cut, print or photograph may be copyrighted.

The law gives the right to the author, inventor, designer or proprietor, or the assigns thereof, who are citizens or residents in this country, to obtain a copyright. To obtain a copyright:

1. Deliver to the librarian of congress, by mail or otherwise, a printed copy of the title of the book or other article, or a description of the painting, drawing, or whatever it may be.

2. Within ten days from the publication, deliver to the librarian of congress two copies of such book or article, or in case of a painting or other work of such sort, a photograph of the same.

3. Give notice of the copyright by inserting in several copies of every addition published, on the title page, or the page following, or if a picture or any such production, on the face or front thereof, the following words: "Entered according to act of congress, in the year———; by A. B., in the office of the librarian of congress, at Washington," or the words, for instance, "Copyright, 1891, by George Brown."

A copyright is assigned by an instrument in writing, which instrument must be recorded in the office of the librarian within sixty days after its execution, otherwise it is void as against a subsequent purchaser or mortgaged for a valuable consideration without notice.

A Monster Corpse.

John Dietel, the fattest man in America, weighing 420 pounds, well known among dime museum visitors, was placed in a vault at Baltimore last week. The coffin was 5 feet and 6 inches long, 36 inches wide and 27 inches deep. It required the strength of ten men to bear the coffin from the wagon to the vault. No hearse large enough to carry the coffin could be secured, and a wagon was used.

Leap year is so called because of an ancient custom in Scotland. The lassies met and the one who jumped highest over a stick was entitled to a husband. This custom has not changed so much after all, for many maidens who marry take a "stick" for a husband.

The Most Pleasant Way

Of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and fevers is to use the liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all druggists in 50c. and $1 bottles.

One of the biggest of the insurance companies in this country pays a woman manager $10,000 a year.

If your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

What man is will always depend upon what he believes God to be.

Deafness Can't be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75 cents.

"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are excellent for the relief of Hoarseness or Sore Throat. They are exceedingly effective."—Christian World, London, Eng.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

DR. SWAN'S PANELLS Cure female weaknesses; 40 T-Tablets cure chronic constipation. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

Fast Eating

And irregular meals are causes of Dyspepsia, which will soon become incurable except by careful attention to diet and taking a reliable stomach medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"Owing partly to irregularity in eating, I suffered greatly from dyspepsia, accompanied by

Severe Pain After Meals

I took two or three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and entirely recovered, which is my gratification. I frequently have opportunity to praise and am glad to, for I consider it a great medicine." C. J. THOMPSON, Travelling salesman for Schlotterbeck & Foss, Portland, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

CHILD BIRTH ... MADE EASY!

"MOTHERS' FRIEND" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

WILL DO all that is claimed for it. SHORTENS Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book "To Mothers" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Any druggist who may attempt to impose upon customers something said to be "just as good" as MOTHERS' FRIEND, can not be trusted, as the fact proves that he is trying to sell something on which the profit is greater.

Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price, or C. O. D.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Gold.

The Presidents of Railway Companies paid $20,000 last month for stock brokerage; the receipts amounted to $60,000.

There is a very obliging judge in Mt. Grove, Ia. A juror in his court was granted a leave of absence to enable him to get married.

The Edison Electric Light Company is to put up a one million-dollar plant in Chicago, which will be the largest concern of the kind in the world.

The 6,000 people engaged in watch making in the United States turn out about two million four hundred thousand watches, which are disposed of by about eighteen thousand retailers.

Wages are so low in India that men may be hired at $2 a month to do household work. A dollar is a great sum to them, and one meal a day the rule.

European engineers intend to store the waters of the Nile to such an extent as to enable a greater extension of the cotton and sugar cane crops in that region.

The domestic potato crop is estimated at from 225,000,000 to 230,000,000 bushels, the largest ever gathered. The average was nearly ninety-four bushels per acre, against fifty-seven and one-half bushels in 1890.

Russia's Famine.

Advices from St. Petersburg show that the czar is either willfully blind to the situation of affairs in his empire, or that the true condition of the peasant has been kept from his knowledge. Reports have gone out that the emperor has heretofore stated that no widespread famine exists in his dominions, and that the sufferings of the poor are due entirely to the partial failure of crops, which the government finds no trouble in making up from stock in the provinces where the crops were not affected. A correspondent who accompanied the government inspector on his rounds in the famine districts of Toula, Russia, writes that many huts were found packed with families, the members of which tried to keep warm by crowding together. Unclad women and children of three generations slept huddled together on the same benches above stoves. Barns and outhouses were destroyed for fuel. The interiors of houses were without light and bare of furniture, and permeated by an intolerable stench.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Europe consumes upward of $30,000,000 worth of gold and silver annually for plate, jewelry and ornaments.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week. From The Dr. Hart'er Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS & SAMPLES FREE.

Don't fool with indigestion nor with a disordered liver, but take Beecham's Pills for immediate relief. 25 cents a box.

It's an insult to your intelligence, but some unscrupulous dealers try it. For instance: you're suffering from some Skin, Scalp or Scrofulous affection, or are feeling "run-down" and "used-up." There's a torpid liver, impure blood, and all that may come from it. You've decided, wisely, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to help you. You know that it's guaranteed to do so, as no other blood-purifier is.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you get your money back.

But what is best for you to take isn't always best for the dealer to sell. He offers something else that's "just as good." Is it likely? If the makers of a medicine can't trust it, can you?

One of two things has to happen. You're cured of Catarrh, or you're paid $500 cash. That's what is promised by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, it cures the worst cases.

Ely's Cream Balm
QUICKLY CURES
COLD IN HEAD
PRICE 50 CENTS.
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

THE SMALLEST PILL IN THE WORLD!
TUTT'S
TINY LIVER PILLS
have all the virtues of the larger ones; equally effective; purely vegetable. Exact size shown in this border.

WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP
For the Skin, Scalp and Complexion. Result of 30 years' experience. For sale by Druggists or by mail, 50c. Sample Cake and 132 p. book on Dermatology and Beauty, (illus.), on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and Blood disease and their treatment, sent sealed for 10c.; also DISFIGUREMENTS like BIRTH MARKS, Moles, Warts, Ingrowing Nose, Superfluous Hair, Pimples, &c., removed. DR. JAS. R. WOODBURY, DERMATOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, 125 West 42d Street, N. Y. City. Consultation free, at office or by letter. Agents wanted in each place.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

AGENTS—$30 A WEEK and one $750 GOLD Prizes. Complete Sets, Brushes and Medicines. Sample Box, Brushes, &c., Free. Bridgman, 321 Pine, N.Y.

Obstinate Blood Humor.

I HAD TERRIBLE ECZEMA for eighteen years—was in bed six months at a time—body and limbs swollen and scaly like a dead fish. The itching was terrible, and finally LOST MY SIGHT. After treatment by five physicians, and other remedies without relief, I took S. S. S. and IT CURED ME. My skin is soft and smooth, and the terrible trouble is all gone.—R. N. MITCHELL, Macon, Ga.

I know the above statement to be true.—S. S. HARRIS, Macon, Ga.

I was for some time troubled with an obstinate RASH OR HUMOR, that spread over my face and breast. I consulted physicians, and used many remedies without a cure. At the suggestion of a friend I used Swift's Specific, which completely cured me. This was two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble.—E. H. WELLS, Chesterfield, Va.

S. S. S. is the safest and best remedy for all troubles of the Blood and Skin. It cures by removing the cause, and at the same time builds up the general health.

Send for our Treatise, mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Cod-liver oil suggests consumption; which is almost unfortunate. Its best use is before you fear consumption—when you begin to get thin. Consumption is only one of the dangers of thinness.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver-oil makes the thin plump, and the plump are almost safe.

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING—free.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.
Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. 97

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH
DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.
The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

HIGH FIVE OR EUCHRE PARTIES should send at once to JOHN SEBASTIAN, G. P. A., C., R. I. & P. R. R., Chicago. TEN CENTS, in stamps, for pack for the slickest cards you ever shuffled. For $1.00 you will receive free by express ten packs.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 36c. a year. Free Send for sample. Dr. J. H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N.Y.

HOME STUDY, Book-keeping, Business Forms, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Short-hand, etc. THOROUGHLY TAUGHT BY MAIL. Circulars free. Bryant's College, 437 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y.

PENSION No Pension, No Fee. JOSEPH H. HUNTER, WASHINGTON. - D. C.

ASTHMA DR. TAFT'S ASTHMALENE will cure you. We will prove it. Address, we will mail trial FREE. DR. TAFT BROS. M. CO., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

$65 A MONTH for 3 Bright Young Men or Ladies in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Phila., Pa.

DR. HARTER'S
TRADE MARK.
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain.
REVIVES Failing ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Your Toes.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

AUTOMATIC LACE BACK
IF
You don't want comfort. If you don't wish to look well dressed. If you don't want the best. Then you don't want the Lace Back Corset. Your dealer has it. If he is naive. When can't he shouldn't be your dealer. We will mail a pair on receipt of $1.00. None genuine without the stamp as above.
Lace Back Suspender Co., 27 Prince Street, N. Y.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
LAWN TENNIS, BASE BALL, GUNS, RIFLES, FISHING TACKLE, BICYCLES
BOYS' and GIRLS' 20 in. Safety $11.00
BOYS' and GIRLS' 24 in. adjustable Cone Bearings 20.00
SAFETY and LADIES' 28 in. Ball Bearings 23.00
GENTS' or LADIES' 30 in. Ball Bearings 25.00
GENTS' or LADIES' 30 in. Ball Bearings, Cushion Frame all over 34.00
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., ST. LOUIS, MO.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D. Atlanta, Ga. Office 1064 Whitehall St.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest. CATARRH
Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

A. N. U. ..... Two, 1892.

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF
SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN
Is the BEST KNOWN REMEDY.
Ask your druggist or merchant for it, and take no substitute, or anything else will take its place.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS.

Reform Press Comment and Items of General Interest.

The Kansas State Alliance Benefit Association saved its members three times the cost of the State Alliance.

On a capital of only $22,000 the Kansas Alliance Exchange did a business of $1,918,840 during the last fiscal year.

The Labor Tribune (Carthage, Mo., says. Good crops and close economy can not supply the deficiency in the volume of money, nor pay taxes or debts. Some papers are shouting as if big crops could bring money into circulation, when the fact is impossible. Good crops cause prices to fall for want of money enough to handle and hold the same, whereas if money was plentiful, it would be called into use in handling the crops, which would make large crops a blessing in two ways—first, by the extra labor it would employ; and, second, by the amount of money that would go into circulation.

MEETING OF ALLIANCE PRESIDENTS.

The presidents of the various state alliances held an executive session in Washington a few days ago. According to dispatches, the meeting was somewhat heated when the question of alliance political affiliation came up. A number of other alliancemen who happened to be in Washington, but had no vote in the meeting, were allowed to be present and express themselves. It was agreed by them that an attempt to transfer the alliance vote of the country to any party would result in the complete destruction of the order. A resolution was passed unanimously calling upon the February St. Louis convention to refrain from committing the alliance to any party. The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, That it is the sentiment and desire of this conference of the presidents of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union that the delegates from the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union who attend the industrial conference to be held in St. Louis, February 22, 1892, use their influence and votes to establish perfect fraternal relations with all the labor organizations represented in said meeting with the Ocala demands as a basis and a platform for principles, and that such platform be presented to the national conventions of the democratic party, the republican party and the people's party, this year, with an earnest request that the principles involved be ingrafted into their platforms for the coming elections of 1892; but that they carefully refrain from committing our orders, as such, to affiliation with any political party or parties.

NOT HIKELIMUS.

In an extensive article on Alliance matters, a correspondent in the Atlanta Constitution admits that the lodges of the order are not as fully attended as formerly, accounting various reasons therefor, and adds: "So you cannot judge the power of the alliance in Georgia by the roll call at the lodges, and to oppose the alliance is to oppose an unbroken array of our agricultural element. Abuse only strengthens them in their determination, and poverty and oppression but drives them the closer together. Our farmers are not the untutored, irresponsible, visionary fanatics that their enemies would like to make the world believe. On the other hand, they are liberal in their views, are always open to conviction, conservative and law-abiding. Since the alliance was organized they have devoted great time and care to a study of the economic questions that agitate the public mind, and it would surprise an outsider to attend one of our alliance meetings and hear uneducated men, just from between the plow-handles, debate great public issues, which you would think as far removed from their understanding as are the poles. I assert that the average alliancemen is to-day as well or better informed in regard to the politics of our country as is the average professional man; and they know as much about financial questions as the average banker or capitalist. There is no danger of the alliancemen of Georgia being led astray by designing and ambitious demagogues. At this time I know that the third party has not a ghost of a show in this section, and if the democratic majority in the house will give to the country financial relief, and show their willingness to lift the burden from the backs of the people, I do not believe that the new party will command a corporal's guard in any county in Georgia. You never hear it even discussed at our alliance gatherings, while the course of Col. Livingston, and those of our alliance congressmen who went into the democratic caucus, is universally commended."

THE ALLIANCE NOT UNDERSTOOD.

Under the above headlines the Midland Journal has a very comprehensive article from which we extract the following:

"The aims and scope of the Farmers' Alliance in its several associations, and which separate branches are fast consolidating in our national body, are but dimly understood by the general public, who have been misled by the daily papers, either through design or ignorance on the part of their editors. The general impression with outside parties is that the Alliance is a kind of farmers' political party which will make nominations, and if those candidates fail of election, will speedily dissolve and be heard of no more, that they, the farmers, have some crude ideas about laws of finance and other economic questions, which are undigested and chaotic, which, if attempted to be put into practice, would utterly fail to work. The monopoly press of the cities have been industrious to spread this belief among the people and create a prejudice if possible against the Alliance. Many intelligent farmers who draw all their information from the daily press and flatter themselves that they are well posted on public matters, are the dupes of this misinformation. The Alliance is in no sense a political party, but a co-operative brotherhood, in which all political parties are treated with impartiality, or rather not considered at all, but in which all economic questions are receiving a searching examination without respect to what party may support them. The Alliance has an order of business which is followed in its meetings which never varies, and insures its work and proceeding to be uniform, and moving toward the same point throughout the country. Political affairs are closely scanned and the true inwardness of every measure transmitted to the whole organization from National or Supreme Council down to every sub-Alliance in the country, divested of all party favoritism; each measure being examined and discussed wholly on its merits, without a thought of its being a party measure. By this means members get a true knowledge of public affairs, and are enabled to form an opinion which gives them an independence of thought and individuality which have heretofore been unknown to the masses of the people who have been dominated by a party bigotry which was little better than a state of mental and political servitude. * * * Reverses or successes of political parties can have little or no effect on the continuance of the Alliance. It will continue to enlarge the scope of its usefulness and gain in power and influence throughout the country. Its mission is to undo the mischief that class legislation has wrought, and have laws passed that will stop favoritism to the money and monopoly classes—in fact work their utter downfall and make it impossible for the system of legal robbery to be pursued, which has over-ridden individual rights for the past thirty years, by placing the corporation above the citizen and turning over the prerogative of government to the control of a banking and stock gambling class.

AN ADDRESS.

Below we give the address of the committee on the St. Louis meeting in full: To all citizens of the United States Greeting:—The undersigned have been appointed a committee to issue an address setting forth the object and purposes of the great conference of producers which has been called to convene in St. Louis, on the 22d day of February, 1892. The call for said conference originated with the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union at Ocala, Fla., in December, 1890, as follows: "This body gives its sanction and call for a meeting to be held about February, 1892, to be composed of delegates from all organizations of producers upon a fair basis of representation, for the purpose of a general and thorough conference upon the demands of each, and to the end that all may agree upon a joint set of demands just prior to the next national campaign, and agree upon the proper methods for enforcing such demands. If the people, by delegates coming from them direct, agree that a third party move is necessary, it need not be feared. That the next session of this Supreme Council elect delegates from this Order to represent it in said national conference of productive organizations for political purposes." Committees from the National Farmers, Alliance and Industrial Union, the Knights of Labor, the National Citizens, Alliance, and the Colored National Farmers' Alliance and Co-operative Union met in Washington, D. C., January 24, 1891, and chose a national executive committee, and fixed the time for the coming conference at February 22, 1892, and instructed their executive committee to decide on the place of meeting and the basis of representation. The call for the great labor conference has since been ratified and accepted by practically all farmers' and laborers' organizations. The national executive committee met at Indianapolis, Ind., on the 16th day of November, and fixed the basis of representation, and appointed a committee to choose the place of meeting. This shows the call to be regular, and to be supported by millions of people scattered throughout every section of this broad land. A movement of such great extent and popularity involves great forces and must wield great power; its causes, objects, purposes and methods, therefore, are important subjects of consideration. The causes are many, and depend on combinations of circumstances that have been transpiring for years; many of them are to-day unnoticed, and to attempt even a list of the causes would be almost an endless task, but prominent among the causes for this great movement, causes which should fill with alarm and concern every loyal citizen of this government, are: The rapid accumulation of the wealth of the nation in the hands of a few, and the general impoverishment and discontent of the masses; a financial system that furnishes a volume of money which at one season of the year is so redundant that money is worth in the metropolis only 1 per cent. on call, while at another season it is so inadequate that money ranges as high as 188 per cent on call, thereby entailing great hardship and distress upon all classes as a result of instability of prices. The general and widespread belief on the part of the masses that the government is administered in the interest of a favored class (whether this be true or not, the fact that such belief exists is a matter of public concern) in spite of the wise and just provisions of the constitution. Boss rule methods and the distribution of millions of corruption money by political organizations, the depressed condition of all productive pursuits, the menace to free government involved in the shameful abuses of aggregated wealth, using combinations of transportation companies to control legislative and judicial proceedings, the foreign invasion which is received and allowed to exact tribute on account of the unavailability of American wealth in business, the plainly visible wide separation between the government and the people who seem to feel that they are pushed aside for the politician and lose a proper interest in government affairs; that monster, the mortgage, which is rapidly devouring the liberties and the independence of the grandest and best people the sun ever shown upon, and whose conscienceless exactions must soon bring on a climax of violence unless wise counsel shall prevail and the cause of justice assert itself. These among the many causes are sufficient to enlist the support of all patriotic citizens in any laudable effort to wrest American institutions from such abuses and restore them to the foundations laid by the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The object of the coming meeting is, under the blessing of God, to confer and agree upon the wisest, fairest and most just means of relief in the interest of the whole people, and to announce a declaration of principles upon which all are agreed to stand and demand laws to carry out. For this purpose every organization of producers in this broad land is invited to send delegates and participate in the deliberations. For the love of our country, for the sake of your family, in view of your duty to the prosperity, and pursuant of your responsibility to God, come! and let this be the second Declaration of Independence for the American people in which instead of throwing off the yoke of a tyrant king they liberate posterity from threatened industrial tyranny and slavery. The purpose of the meeting will be developed when the delegates of the people assemble. It is idle to suppose that they will adopt a set of demands without making adequate provision to enforce them. It is not for this committee to say what the purposes will be, but it is the duty of this committee to urge the intelligence, wisdom and virtue of the land to participate in the deliberations and abide by the results of that meeting.

O. W. MALONE,
SHERMAN RANSDELL,
THOMAS W. GILREATH,
JOHN P. STEED,
Committee.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—In the house, Mr. Breckinridge of Kentucky asked unanimous consent to offer a resolution reciting the letters written by the secretary of state by direction of the president to the diplomatic representatives of Venezuela, Nicaragua, Columbia, Honduras and other nations, calling attention to section 3 of the McKinley act relative to reciprocity, and stating that the president deems the duties imposed by these countries to be reciprocically unequal and unreasonable, and that, unless on of before March 15th next some satisfactory arrangement is entered into, the president will issue a proclamation suspending the provisions of this section; and further, reciting that such action by the president would be unconstitutional, onerous and unjust, and instructing the committee on ways and means to report before February 25th the bill repealing the third section of the McKinley act. It also authorizes the president, without further legislation, to declare ports of the United States free and open to all products of any nation of the American hemisphere upon which no export duties are imposed, so long as such nation shall admit to its ports free of all national, municipal and other taxes, flour, corn, meal and other breadstuffs, preserved meats, fish, vegetables and fruits, cotton-seed oil, rice lumber, agricultural implements or such other products as may be agreed upon. Referred to the committee on ways and means. The call of states was then resumed, and under the call a large number of bills were introduced and referred.

TUESDAY.—Congress was in session for only eighteen minutes Tuesday morning. Speaker Crisp being still unable to preside the house was called to order by the speaker pro tem. Richardson, of Tennessee, introduced a bill to regulate public documents. Referred. After the introduction of several other bills the house adjourned till Wednesday.

WEDNESDAY.—Wise, of Virginia, offered a resolution in the house, Wednesday, authorizing the committee on interstate and foreign commerce to sit during sessions of the house, to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths in pursuing inquiry touching any matter of proposed legislation referred to it. After amendment the resolution was adopted. Stone, of Kentucky, offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a tabular statement of all goods imported into Porto Rico and the Dominican republic since the reciprocity treaty went into effect. Also a resolution (agreed to) calling on the secretary of state for copies of all communications between the United States and Spain and Brazil on the subject of reciprocity.

THURSDAY.—The house spent all of Thursday, in discussing the Holman resolution, providing for the retrenchment of government expenditures, and announcing the house as opposed to subsidies and bounties. The purpose of this resolution was simply to commit to retrenchment and to repeal of subsidy and bounty laws. This congress proposes to repeal all the permanent appropriations except those upon which the credit of the government depends. In this repeal will be included the subsidies and bounties passed by the late congress, and now in existence.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The senate on Monday in executive session finally ratified a general act signed at Brussels, July 2, 1890, by seventeen powers, including the United States, for the repression of the African slave trade; and also a convention of commerce and navigation between the United States and the independent state of Congo, signed at Brussels July 24, 1891. Mr. Teller introduced a joint resolution providing for an international bimetalic agreement. The resolution declares it to be the determined policy of the United States government to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money, either under the existing ratio in use or under one that may hereafter be established by the United States alone or in accord with other nations. It directs the president to invite the governments of the countries comprising the Latin union, so-called, and of such other nations as he may deem advisable, to join the United States in a conference and to adopt a common ratio between gold and silver for the purpose of establishing internationally the use of bimetallic money and of securing a fixity of relative values between these metals, the conference to be held at such place as may be mutually agreed upon by the executive of the various governments. The resolution was referred to the finance committee. Mr. Butler offered a resolution instructing the finance committee to report a bill repealing all taxes imposed by congress on the circulation of state banks of issue, and at his request it was laid on the table. The executive session adjourned.

TUESDAY.—In the senate, Mr. Dolph, from the committee on coast defenses, reported a bill for the purchase of sites for fortifications; also a bill to provide for fortifications and other seacoast defenses. Mr. Berry a member of the committee, said he dissented from the latter bill, which covered an appropriation of twenty-three million, extending over a period of eleven years. Dolph explained that the appropriation in the bill had been reduced to one hundred million, and it is thought best to make the appropriation all at one time, to be used during the eleven years, ten millions for the first and nine millions at the end of the succeeding ten years.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, among the bills reported from the committees and placed on the calendar is one appropriating $83,000 to complete public buildings at Pensacola, Fla., as originally designed. Mr. Gordon made a personal statement in explanation of his absence from the session of the committee on coast defenses. It was to the effect that he had seen in the Record the name of Gorman as a member of that committee instead of his own. He found now that that was an error, and would hereafter attend the meetings.

NOTES.

O'Neal, of Massachusetts, has set the department in a flurry by proposing to introduce a bill providing that they shall work eight instead of six and a half hours daily.

Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, introduced a bill, Thursday, providing that not exceeding $500 shall be appropriated towards the burial expenses of any deceased senator or representative.

The committee on mileage decided on Wednesday morning to postpone action for the present. They will meet again next week, and will then report some sort of a silver bill. A small majority of the committee favor free coinage.

Colonel Wilson introduced bills Thursday to pension the survivors of the Greek and Florida wars; also allowing the court of claims to pass upon claims of persons who lost horses and other property while in the service of the army; also to perfect the records of the Georgia troops in the union army.

The senate committee, in executive session Tuesday confirmed the following nominations: Chief engineer, G. W. Melville, United States navy, to be engineer in chief, and chief of the bureau of steam engineering of the navy department. Department of court of private land claims, Joseph R. Reed, of Iowa, to be chief justice; associate justices, W. W. Murray, of Tennessee; T. C. Fuller, of North Carolina; H. C. Stone, of Kansas; W. Y. Stone, of Colorado. United States attorney, Matthew G. Reynolds. United States district judges, W. W. Morrow, for the northern district of California; J. S. Woolson, for the southern district of Iowa; H. C. Niles, for the northern and southern districts of Mississippi; Beniah H. Watson, district of Delaware; E. W. Camp, district of North Dakota; H. A. Montgomery, northern district of Mississippi; Warren Truitt of Oregon, United States district judge for the district of Alaska; D. McCoy of Indiana, minister and consul general to Liberia; William B. Hess of Indiana, United State consul general at Constantinople; M. W. Harrington of Michigan, chief of weather bureau department of agriculture; Walter Wyman of Missouri, supervising surgeon of the marine hospital service; T. H. Carter of Montana, commissioner of general land office. Postmasters, Tennessee—A. H. Faulkner, McMinnville; W. K. Sheddan, Cleveland; J. E. Batton, Springfield; George McPherson, Jonesboro, and R. F. Haun, Milan.

ADVICE OF COMMISSIONERS

Is that a Reduction of Twenty Per Cent in Acreage be Made.

A Memphis dispatch says: A conference was held between the commissioners of agriculture of the various cotton states, who at ended the convention of cotton growers regarding the action of the convention and they agreed to the following memorial:

"The commissioners of agriculture, representing the states of Alabama, Arkansas, North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee, being impressed with the necessity of a reduction in the acreage of the cotton crop and greater diversification of crops, for home consumption, hereby indorse the action of the cotton growers and merchants' convention, held in the city of Memphis, Tennessee, on the 8th day of January, 1892, do earnestly appeal to all agricultural and mercantile organizations, consisting of alliances, granger, state and county agricultural societies, boards of cotton exchanges, chambers of commerce, etc.; also individual farmers and merchants, to assist and co-operate with us in securing the foregoing resolution. And to this end they recommend a general and local adoption of the action of the convention, pledging themselves to a reduction of not less than 20 per cent of the cotton acreage of the last year; and further urge and recommend immediate organization of state, county and districts, or townships, to act either independently or through legally organized societies, as may be deemed best, and which will most readily insure the benefits arising from concert of action and decreased production of cotton for the year 1892."

WAR TALK.

Chile Will Have to be Licked into an Apology.

A Washington dispatch of Wednesday says: It looks very much like we might have war with Chile. The reports of the testimony at San Francisco have been read with great interest by congressmen, and the situation is now looked upon as grave. President Harrison has been very much exercised by the reports from San Francisco. He has received intimation from the Chilean minister, in an unofficial way, that the Chilean government would apologize for the outrages committed upon the American sailors, but has received nothing official from the Chilean government to that effect. Indeed, Chile has expressed no regrets at the outrages, and the president is begining to believe that Chile is simply attempting to postpone action, and will finally try to arbitrate matters without making a straightout apology. Indeed, President Harrison has about reached the conclusion that the Chileans are as unfriendly, arrogant and offensive in their attitude as they have been at any time. The matter was considered at a cabinet meeting Wednesday morning, and it was decided that in the event that no apology was received from the Chilean government by the early part of next week, the entire correspondence will be submitted to congress, and this government will take decided and firm action. Thus, unless Chile makes amends for outrages of her citizens upon the Baltimore sailors, there is going to be war.

THE DUKE IS DEAD

An Heir Apparent to England's Throne Passes Away.

A London cablegram, in announcing the death of Prince Clarence, Duke of Avondale, says: When the solemn tolling of the great bells in St. Paul's cathedral were heard Thursday morning they conveyed to everyone within hearing of their deep mouthed booming the fact that the Duke of Clarence and Avondale had passed away. The bells in St. Paul are never tolled save on the occasion of the death of the heir to the throne, and therefore no further information was necessary for the people of London, to make them aware that after a gallant struggle the duke had finally succumbed.

The announcement of his death caused far less commotion in London than was expected, but this was, no doubt, due to the fact that nearly everybody had given up hope Wednesday, and believed that death was sure to claim the duke.

THIRD PARTYITES

Will Put Out a Regular Ticket in Louisiana.

The central executive committee of the people's party, better known as the third party, held a session at New Orleans Wednesday and called the state convention to meet at Alexandria, February 17th next, when a full state ticket will be put in the field headed by Colonel Thomas J. Gaiso, national lecturer of the Farmers' Alliance, who so persistently fought the Lafayette coalition in the session of Farmers' Alliance at Lafayette when it was adopted. He is a strong advocate of the third party movement.

The Copyright Law.

It was formerly held that, by common law, an author had a perpetual right in the products of his intellect. This is now denied, and the whole matter has become the subject of statute, so that now, unless the provision of the law designed to secure to the author the exclusive ownership of the results of his labor are strictly complied with, the product is public property. We shall now see what may be copyrighted, and the method thereof.

First—Books, meaning not only such as are printed only on one sheet, as the words of a song, or the music accompanying it. It may be a diagram with directions on one sheet of paper, private letters, abstracts of title, an illustrated newspaper. If the book is manuscript, it may yet be copyrighted. Foreign books may not be, translations otherwise. A new edition of a copyrighted book is protected by the original copyright, but not to the extent of protecting new matter in it.

Compilations may be copyrighted. Under this head also fall dictionaries, books of chronology, gazetteers, guide books, directories, calendars, catalogues, tables, collections of statistics, recipes, designs.

Abridgments and law reports, where there is original matter, may be copyrighted.

Advertisements, as such, may not be copyrighted. Maps, charts, newspapers, magazines, musical any dramatic compositions, engraving, cut, print or photograph may be copyrighted.

The law gives the right to the author, inventor, designer or proprietor, or the assigns thereof, who are citizens or residents in this country, to obtain a copyright. To obtain a copyright:

1. Deliver to the librarian of congress, by mail or otherwise, a printed copy of the title of the book or other article, or a description of the painting, drawing, or whatever it may be.

2. Within ten days from the publication, deliver to the librarian of congress two copies of such book or article, or in case of a painting or other work of such sort, a photograph of the same.

3. Give notice of the copyright by inserting in several copies of every addition published, on the title page, or the page following, or if a picture or any such production, on the face or front thereof, the following words: "Entered according to act of congress, in the year———; by A. B., in the office of the librarian of congress, at Washington," or the words, for instance, "Copyright, 1891, by George Brown."

A copyright is assigned by an instrument in writing, which instrument must be recorded in the office of the librarian within sixty days after its execution, otherwise it is void as against a subsequent purchaser or mortgaged for a valuable consideration without notice.

A Monster Corpse.

John Dietel, the fattest man in America, weighing 420 pounds, well known among dime museum visitors, was placed in a vault at Baltimore last week. The coffin was 5 feet and 6 inches long, 36 inches wide and 27 inches deep. It required the strength of ten men to bear the coffin from the wagon to the vault. No hearse large enough to carry the coffin could be secured, and a wagon was used.

Leap year is so called because of an ancient custom in Scotland. The lassies met and the one who jumped highest over a stick was entitled to a husband. This custom has not changed so much after all, for many maidens who marry take a "stick" for a husband.

The Most Pleasant Way

Of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and fevers is to use the liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all druggists in 50c. and $1 bottles.

One of the biggest of the insurance companies in this country pays a woman manager $10,000 a year.

If your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

What man is will always depend upon what he believes God to be.

Deafness Can't be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75 cents.

"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are excellent for the relief of Hoarseness or Sore Throat. They are exceedingly effective."—Christian World, London, Eng.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

DR. SWAN'S PASTILLES Cure female weaknesses; his T-Tablets cure chronic constipation. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

THE DUKE IS DEAD

An Heir Apparent to England's Throne Passes Away.

A London cablegram, in announcing the death of Prince Clarence, Duke of Avondale, says: When the solemn tolling of the great bells in St. Paul's cathedral were heard Thursday morning they conveyed to everyone within hearing of their deep mouthed booming the fact that the Duke of Clarence and Avondale had passed away. The bells in St. Paul are never tolled save on the occasion of the death of the heir to the throne, and therefore no further information was necessary for the people of London, to make them aware that after a gallant struggle the duke had finally succumbed.

The announcement of his death caused far less commotion in London than was expected, but this was, no doubt, due to the fact that nearly everybody had given up hope Wednesday, and believed that death was sure to claim the duke.

THIRD PARTYITES

Will Put Out a Regular Ticket in Louisiana.

The central executive committee of the people's party, better known as the third party, held a session at New Orleans Wednesday and called the state convention to meet at Alexandria, February 17th next, when a full state ticket will be put in the field headed by Colonel Thomas J. Gaiso, national lecturer of the Farmers' Alliance, who so persistently fought the Lafayette coalition in the session of Farmers' Alliance at Lafayette when it was adopted. He is a strong advocate of the third party movement.

Death.

The Presbyterian of Rahway, Union pays $60,000 last month for death benefits; the receipts amounted to $90,000.

There is a very obliging judge in Mt. Gilead, O. A juror in his court was granted a leave of absence to enable him to get married.

The Edison Electric Light Company is to put up a one million-dollar plant in Chicago, which will be the largest concern of the kind in the world.

The 6,000 people engaged in watch making in the United States turn out about two million four hundred thousand watches, which are disposed of by about eighteen thousand retailers.

Wages are so low in India that men may be hired at $2 a month to do household work. A dollar is a great sum to them, and one meal a day the rule.

European engineers intend to store the waters of the Nile to such an extent as to enable a greater extension of the cotton and sugar cane crops in that region.

The domestic potato crop is estimated at from 225,000,000 to 230,000,000 bushels, the largest ever gathered. The average was nearly ninety-four bushels per acre, against fifty-seven and one-half bushels in 1890.

Russia's Famine.

Advices from St. Petersburg show that the czar is either willfully blind to the situation of affairs in his empire, or that the true condition of the peasant has been kept from his knowledge. Reports have gone out that the emperor has heretofore stated that no widespread famine exists in his dominions, and that the sufferings of the poor are due entirely to the partial failure of crops, which the government finds no trouble in making up from stock in the provinces where the crops were not affected. A correspondent who accompanied the government inspector on his rounds in the famine districts of Toula, Russia, writes that many huts were found packed with families, the members of which tried to keep warm by crowding together. Undad women and children of three generations slept huddled together on the same benches above stoves. Barns and outhouses were destroyed for fuel. The interiors of houses were without light and bare of furniture, and permeated by an intolerable stench.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervous and creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Europe consumes upward of $30,000,000 worth of gold and silver annually for plate, jewelry and ornaments.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 2 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Don't fool with indigestion nor with a disordered liver, but take Beecham's Pills for immediate relief. 25 cents a box.

It's an insult to your intelligence, but some unscrupulous dealers try it. For instance: you're suffering from some Skin, Scalp or Scrofulous affection, or are feeling "run-down" and "used-up." There's a torpid liver, impure blood, and all that may come from it. You've decided, wisely, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to help you. You know that it's guaranteed to do so, as no other blood-purifier is.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you get your money back.

But what is best for you to take isn't always best for the dealer to sell. He offers something else that's "just as good." Is it likely? If the makers of a medicine can't trust it, can you?

One of two things has to happen. You're cured of Catarrh, or you're paid $500 cash. That's what is promised by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, it cures the worst cases.

Ely's Cream Balm
QUICKLY CURES
COLD IN HEAD
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

THE SMALLEST PILL IN THE WORLD!
TUTT'S
TINY LIVER PILLS
have all the virtues of the larger ones; equally effective; purely vegetable. Exact size shown in this border.

WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP
For the Skin, Scalp and Complexion. Result of 20 years' experience. For sale at Druggists or by mail, 50c. Sample Cake and 100 p. book on Dermatology and Beauty, (Illus.), on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and Blood diseases and their treatment, sent sealed for 10c.; also DISFIGUREMENTS like BIRTH MARKS, Moles, Warts, Indin Ink and Powder Marks, Scars, Pittings, Redness of Nose, Superfluous Hair, Pimples, &c., removed. JOHN H. WOODBURY, DERMATOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, 125 West 42d Street, N. Y. City. Consultation free, at office or by letter. Agents wanted in each place.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

AGENTS make 100 PER CENT and 6 to 8 CASH Profits on my Corsets, Belts, Brushes and Medicines. Complete Sam. Outfit free. Dr. Bridgman, 181 Pine, N.Y.

Obstinate Blood Humor.

I HAD TERRIBLE ECZEMA for eighteen years—was in bed six months at a time—body and limbs swollen and scaly like a dead fish. The itching was terrible, and finally LOST MY SIGHT. After treatment by five physicians, and other remedies without relief, I took S. S. S. AND IT CURED ME. My skin is soft and smooth, and the terrible trouble is all gone.—R. N. MITCHELL, Macon, Ga.

I know the above statement to be true.—S. S. HARMON, Macon, Ga.

I was for some time troubled with an obstinate RASH OR HUMOR, that spread over my face and breast. I consulted physicians, and used many remedies without a cure. At the suggestion of a friend I used Swift's Specific, which completely cured me. This was two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble.—E. H. WELLS, Chesterfield, Va.

S. S. S. is the safest and best remedy for all troubles of the Blood and Skin. It cures by removing the cause, and at the same time builds up the general health.

Send for our Treatise, mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Cod-liver oil suggests consumption; which is almost unfortunate. Its best use is before you fear consumption—when you begin to get thin. Consumption is only one of the dangers of thinness.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil makes the thin plump, and the plump are almost safe.

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING—free.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

DR. HARTER'S
TRADE MARK.
HARTER'S WILD CHERRY BITTERS
RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain.
REVIVES Failing ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

AUTOMATIC LACE BACK—PATENTED
IF
You don't want comfort. If you don't wish to look well dressed. If you don't want the best, then we don't want the Lace Back Suspender. Your dealer has it if he is adve. If he isn't he should n't be your dealer. We will mail a pair on receipt of $1.00. None genuine without the stamp as above.
Lace Back Suspender Co., 9 Prince Street, N. Y.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE
LAWN TENNIS, BASE BALL GUNS RIFLES,
FISHING TACKLE.

HIGH FIVE OR EUCHRE PARTIES Should send at once to JOHN SEBASTIAN, G. P. A., C. R. I. & P. R. R., Chicago. TEN CENTS, in stamps, per pack for the slickest cards you ever shuffled. $5.00 you will receive free by express ten packs.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 50c. a year. FREE Send for sample. Dr. J. H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N.Y.

HOME STUDY, Book-keeping, Business Forms, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Short-hand, etc. Thoroughly Taught by MAIL. Circulars free. Bryant's College, 459 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PENSION No Pension, No Fee. JOSEPH B. HUNTER, WASHINGTON, D. C.

ASTHMA DR. WAFFE'S ATHENALEUM cured in 1 to 3 days. Never fails. Send at once for FREE BOTTLE. Address, we will mail trial FREE. THE DR. WAFFE MED. CO., 1095 BROADWAY, BROOKLYN, N.Y.

$65 A MONTH for 3 Bright Young Men or Ladies in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & Co., Phila., Pa.

A. H. U. ..... Two, 1892.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D. Atlanta, Ga. Office 1044, Whitehall St.

They Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest.
CATARRH
Relief by druggists or sent by mail. 60c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN
Is the BEST KNOWN REMEDY.
Ask your druggist or storekeeper for it, and take no substitute, as nothing else can take its place.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH
DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

FastEating
And irregular meals are causes of Dyspepsia, which will soon become incurable except by careful attention to diet and taking a reliable stomach medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"Owing partly to irregularity in eating, I suffered greatly from dyspepsia, accompanied by
Severe Pain After Meals
I took two or three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and entirely recovered, much to my gratification. I frequently have opportunity to praise and am glad to, for I consider it a great medicine." C. I. THOMPSON, Travelling salesman for Schlotterbeck & Foss, Portland, Me.
Hood's Sarsaparilla

CHILD BIRTH MADE EASY!
"Mothers' Friend" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown
"MOTHERS' FRIEND"
WILL DO all that is claimed for it. Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book sent to "Mothers" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.
Sold by druggists at $1.50 per bottle.
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the N. C. & St. L. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. Pop. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 30 miles south of Birmingham and 49 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Proprietor. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1892. NUMBER 13.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Announcing candidates for office, $10 00 in advance, strictly in advance.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham. Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

Good-Bye.

Our two roads part today,
Here must we turn away.
Dear friend—good-bye—
A smile,
A sigh,
Good-bye!

As leaves together blown
Are once more sent to roam
We part—Good-bye—
A smile,
A sigh,
Good-bye!

Into each history
Enters new mystery.
We drift—Good-bye-
A smile,
A sigh,
Good-bye!

—Truth.

WHAT A GIRL DID.

BY WILLIAM PERRY BROWN.

It had been raining for days. The earth was spongy with accumulated moisture.

"There was another slide yesterday on the turnpike down at Homer's gap," remarked Mart Stratton to his daughter Ann, as he stood in his doorway, taking a final look at the weather before going to bed. "The greasy red West Virginny dirt do beat the world anyhow."

Mart was a section boss and had charge of the Elk River trestle, that began not more than forty yards from his cottage under the Elk River bluffs. Ann, a wholesome looking girl of fifteen, was ironing at the other side of the room. Between the front door and the foot of the bluff ran the single railroad track.

The outlook that night was not comforting. Overhead the atmosphere was a mass of impalpable blackness, out of which a thin rain drizzled down. From the direction of the trestle came a low roaring, as of wind and water. Elk River was out of banks and flooding the marshes, that began where it broke through the line of bluffs just above.

Stratton returned inside, sat down and tilted his chair back. Ann stepped out into the back yard for another stick or two of wood.

"Why don't ye let me fetch it in?" called Mart; but just then a curious, grinding noise began to be heard, up in the air, and before the house.

"What in the nation—" he began, but the remark was never finished.

The rumbling, apparently, exploded in a dull crash. Something struck the front and roof of the little house, crushing it like an egg-shell. The light went out. Mart, in trying to rise, was hurled under the ironing-table and pinned there by a mass of falling debris.

Then, as the jar and the uproar ceased, he was conscious of a sharp pain in one leg, besides, sundry other aches and bruises. There was darkness everywhere. Upon his upturned face the rain was sifting.

"Father! Where are you?"

He heard Ann's anxious and terrified tones, but his reply subsided into a prolonged groan.

"Seems like my leg must be broke; but mebbe it's only twisted," he thought, as the pain grew sharper with each movement. "I told the superintendent six months ago as that shoulder of bluff would be down on us sooner or later."

"Are you there, father?" exclaimed Ann, who was close beside him now. "I just know you're hurt, for I heard you groan."

"I'm here, child; but if you will pull some of this trash away, I will manage somehow. The track must be kivered up for yards and yards. Hit's bound to be—I know."

"Well, father," said Ann, who was frantically pulling the house boards and other litter from off the table that pressed Mart to the floor, "we can't help that. If I can only get you out—"

"There—you've done enough. I can crawl out now, I reckon. But there's the train—the No. 4 express. She's due over to Rombolds at 'leven ten. I noticed the clock just before the slide came and it was nearly half-past ten."

"Can't we signal?" asked Ann, holding her breath under the strain of this new fear.

"The lamp's broke, I know. P'raps you know where you had the matches last."

But the only box in the house was buried deep by the fireplace, where the main avalanche of earth had fallen. It could not be found.

"Well, well," groaned Stratton. "It's an awful situation for we uns to be in—shore."

He had, with Ann's assistance, pulled himself from under the table, but he could not walk.

"I'am all crippled up," he faltered "'nd you'll have to go yourself."

"Where, father?"

"Some one has got to go to Rombolds—and go in a hurry, too."

"But the trestle—"

"You must feel your way, child," said he, as if Ann already understood. "God forgive me for sending you—it's a cruel task! But we've got no way to stop that train 'thout fire; and fire we hain't got nor we can't git, being we're the only house this side the trestle within a mile."

Ann hesitated only for an instant. Was it right to leave her father thus, even to ensure the safety of others?

"Ann," groaned Mart, "you ain't hardly got time the best you can do. If you don't put out right straight, I—I'll have to whip ye when I get well—"

"I'm going, father." She stooped and kissed his bearded face and darted away, half checking a sob that struck a remorseful echo in Stratton's heart.

"God forgive me if I'm doing wrong!" he ejaculated. "I couldn't begin to make it in time myself."

As the girl clambered around the small mountain of earth, under which, fathoms deep, lay the railroad track, she saw that her father was right. Rumbolds must be reached somehow. The darkness was such that she kept between the rails only by the sense of touch.

Slowly she felt her way until the air, blowing up from below, made her aware that she was at the trestle. Then sinking upon her hands and knees, she began a laborious and painful crawl that must not even slacken until she felt the pressure of the earth upon the other side. The rain fell upon her back, wetting her calico dress until the chill of it rendered the night air doubly cold.

Would she have time to reach Rombolds before the express? The fear and the suspense were harder to bear than her own peril, until a succession of jars added to her sense of the last. Loose logs were bumping against the piling below. The Elk was out of banks, and timber from the mountain gorges above was scattering over the submerged bottoms instead of passing through the open space under the bridge that spanned the river's channel.

Suppose an unbroken raft were to be hurled by the fierce current against the trestle? Ann did not know what the consequences might be, but the thought spurred her to still greater efforts.

She reached the bridge, tailed wearily across, and began the long stretch of trestle upon the other side. The unseen waters dashed against the piling, almost within reach of her arm. They seemed to be dangerously near the ties. Her clothing clung coldly to her aching limbs, her hair whipped loosely to the wind and the rough ties chafed her hands and knees.

Suppose the express should pass Rombolds before she reached the end of the trestle? How could she avoid it on that narrow track, with water beneath and the darkness everywhere? This terror now haunted her, and she strained her eyes looking at nothing, lest the locomotive headlight should suddenly appear 'round the sharp curve, beyond which was the station.

Suddenly she felt a heavier jar than usual, accompanied by a grinding noise. Something had happened, she dared not think what. A burning conviction that she must hasten on,—on, either for life or death, prevented her from giving away utterly.

"I must not fail, I must not fail," she kept whispering to herself.

* * * * * * *

Stratton lay upon his side for many minutes. Then he sat up and stared into the blackness toward the roaring river until his eyes ached. He might as well have tried to look through a wall. The intense darkness rather appalled him, and he began to think less reassuringly of the difficulties in Ann's way. He thought of her frailty, of her tender years, of the natural terrors of such a journey at such a time, with the awful consequences of failure aggravating her premonitory fears.

His anxiety grew unendurable. He reproached himself for sending her away. What was the safety of other lives to him, compared with that of his only child? And he had even threatened to punish her if she did not go!

He managed to drag himself to the railway track and began to crawl along between the rails, without any set purpose other than by exertion to ease his mind a little. Ordinarily the pain of his sprained limb would have kept him still, but now he could not remain still. Ann must have been gone a good while he thought. Had she succeded in crossing? But while he crawled and groaned and stared a great light suddenly shot into view from around the curve this side of Hombolds.

"It's—it's the express!" grasped Stratton, heedless of the jars and wash of waves beneath, heedless of his pain or his possible danger, while the great glare of the engine slowly deepened and widened as it approached.

Where was Ann? She could not have arrived in time to give the warning. With this cruel conviction upon him he once more reached forth his hands along the ties and grasped—the empty air.

He recovered himself with difficulty—felt again, then drew yet further back, his flesh creeping under this new horror. Part of the trestle had been carried away!

"Hit's them that log rafts," he thought, while a cold sweat prickled upon his brow. "And thar's the train coming." Something must have happened to this poor girl!

Stratton lay prostrate upon the remaining ties, his ears throbbing with sullen jars and the angry wash of waves. His child—where was she? There was the fated train, rushing to its doom; and he, more than helpless, lying there. He pictured to himself her fear, her reluctance, when he drove her forth to her death, under the mistaken sense of what was right. All the father in him now cried out against himself.

"Ann! Ann! Ann!" he groaned incapable of saying more.

The advancing glare resolved itself into a myriad of dancing lights, then he knew no more.

* * *

"Father! Father! What shall I do? He's killed himself a-tryin' to—"

"Bless your eyes, he ain't dead! I can feel his heart a-beatin' yet."

As Mart Stratton opened his eyes, something deadened them, but he strove to rise.

"Where is she?" he gasped. "I thought I heard—"

"He's a-coming to!" half shrieked the same dear voice, and then he was nearly choked into insensibility again by a pair of wet soft arms.

"Where's the—the train?" he faltered.

"It's all right, father. I just got to Rombolds in time. Then when I told 'em 'bout the slide 'nd you, they put me in the cab 'nd felt their way with the engine; for I told 'em I just knew something must have give way. Then they found the station master's boat; 'nd we crossed over, and just as we struck the ties again, we saw you a-lyin' thar."

They placed Stratton in the boat, while Ann, oblivious alike of chills or her own heroism, hung over him tenderly. Ten minutes later they were in the station at Rombolds, surrounded by a wondering and grateful crowd from the half-emptied train.—[Yankee Blade.

The Petrified Forest of Arizona.

From the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad it is not hard to reach one of the greatest of natural curiosities—the petrified forest of Arizona. Much the nearest point is the little station of Billings, but there are the scantiest accommodations for the traveler. Only a mile south of the track, at that point, one may see a low, dark ridge, marked by a single cottonwood tree. Walking thither (over a valley so alive with jack-rabbits that there is some excuse for the cow-boy declaration that "you can walk clear across on their backs"!) one soon reaches the northern edge of the forest, which covers hundreds of square miles. Unless you are more hardened to wonderful sights than I am, you will almost fancy yourself in some enchanted spot. You seem to stand on the glass of a gigantic kaleidoscope, over whose sparkling surface the sun breaks in infinite rainbows. You are ankle-deep in such chips as I'll warrant you never saw from anyother woodpile. What do you think of chips from trees that are red moss-gate, and amethyst, and smoky topaz, and agate of every hue? Such are the marvelous splinters that cover the ground for miles here, around the huge prostrate trunks—some of them five feet through from which Time's patient axe has hewn them. I broke a specimen from the heart of a tree there, years ago, which had around the stone pith a remarkable array of large and exquisite crystals; for on one side of the specimen—which is not so large as my hand—is a beautiful mass of crystals of royal purple amethyst, and on the other, an equally beautiful array of smoky topaz crystals. One can get also magnificent cross-sections of a whole trunk, so thin as to be portable, and showing every vein and "year-ring," and even the bark. There is not a chip in all those miles which is not worthy a place, just as it is, in the proudest cabinet; and, when polished, I know no other rock so splendid. It is one of the hardest stones in the world, and takes and keeps an incomparable polish.—[St. Nicholas.

Words in the New Testament.

The total number of words in the New Testament, excluding proper names and their derivatives, is 4929. A few comparisons may be interesting. The vocabulary of the Old Testament is larger. Genesis, "Lexicon," omitting proper names and obsolete roots, contains 5210 words, of which 592 are marked "Chald." The "Iliad" and the "Odessy" together contain 5000 words. Shakespeare uses 15,000 and Milton 8000.—[Presbyterian and Reformed Review.

A steel steamer is now building in Chicago, Ill., which will carry 4000 tons.

Nachman, Meyer & Meertief

29 Dexter Avenue.

MONTGOMERY, - - - ALA.

Have just opened a strictly first-class retail Dry Goods and Fancy Goods Business.

Our close association with the dry goods buying public of this city and vicinity for many years, and perfect familiarity with every want and detail this market requires, enabled us to select one of the

CHOICEST STOCKS

to be found anywhere.

We have a thoroughly equipped Dress Making Department, under the management of Miss Ella Hannigan, one of New York's most

Fashionable Dressmakers,

and a large corps of thoroughly competent and experienced hands.

This department is already a decided success, as evidenced by the many artistic and elegant costumes we have made, and the unbounded satisfaction expressed to us by our patrons.

We guarantee perfect satisfaction in originality of style, fit and workmanship, and shall spare no pains to please.

OUR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Black and colored dress goods, high novelty suits, fancy suitings, ladies' cloths, black and colored silks, novelty silks for street and evening wear, velvets and plushes, plain and fancy flannels, novelty sackings, white goods, Domestics, laces, embroideries, high novelty dress trimmings, hosiery, gloves, corsets, handkerchiefs, underwear, ribbons, veilings, fancy goods, ruchings, neckwear, fans, umbrellas, leather goods, novelties, perfumery, toilet articles, notions, rubber goods, knit goods, infant's and children's capes, and infant's complete outfits.

Ladies' Trousseaux and mourning outfits are our specialties.

MAIL ORDERS.

For the convenience of our patrons living at a distance, we introduce a

MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We will be pleased to have you write for samples.
All orders entrusted to us will have our personal attention.
And all goods ordered that are not to the purchasers

Entire Satisfaction

May be returned. We will cheerfully take them back.

All orders amounting to 5 dollars and over, will be sent prepaid, free of all express or mail charges.

NACHMAN, MEYER & MEERTIEF.

29 Dexter Ave.

MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

The legislature of Mendoza, Buenos Ayres, on Wednesday deposed the governor of that province.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Annapolis, Md., says: Hon. Arthur P. Gorman was re-elected to-day United States senator to succeed himself.

A cablegram of Thursday from Madrid, Spain, says: An anarchist uprising is reported at Ronda, Malaga. Troops are being hurried to the scene.

Officers aided in running street cars in Pittsburg, Pa., Wednesday. The strikers are as determined as ever, and trouble is feared before the strike is over.

The Robinson electric street railway barns, at Toledo, O., burned Tuesday morning with thirty-five electric cars. Loss about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

A dispatch from Beaver, Pa., says: Argument was concluded in the Quay libel suit against the newspaper men. The judge charged the jury, and the latter, after being out twenty minutes, returned a verdict of guilty as charged.

A dispatch of Wednesday says: It is understood that the fire insurance companies of Philadelphia will notify their policy holders of an immediate increase in the rates of twenty per cent. This is due to the enormous increase of losses during the past year.

A Washington dispatch says: Secretary Blaine, while at the cabinet meeting Tuesday, experienced another attack of indigestion, accompanied with nausea, and felt so uncomfortable that he left the meeting about 12:15 p. m. and was compelled to go home.

The New York Herald's Valparaiso special dispatch of Thursday morning says President Montt told an official, high in the Chilian service, Tuesday, there was not the slightest doubt but what all matters at present in dispute between United States and Chili would be amicably settled within a short time.

Dispatches of Thursday say that the whole of the Rio Grande frontier is covered with snow, the first time ever known. Suffering among the poorer classes of Mexicans and among United States troops has been intense for the past few days. Several commands of United States cavalry in the field are without comfort and convenience.

"Colonel" Pickett Nelson, who claimed to be the tallest man on earth, died at Baltimore, Md., Thursday. His body measured eight feet five inches in length. In life he claimed to be eight feet one inch tall, and to weigh 367 pounds. After death his frame relaxed and became four inches longer than it had been. Nelson was a colored man.

The funeral services over the remains of Cardinal Manning were held in Brompton oratory, at London, Thursday. The admission to the oratory was by ticket only, for it would have been utterly impossible for the structure to contain one hundredth part of the vast crowd desirous of paying a last token of respect to the dead prelate.

Fire broke out Thursday afternoon in the five-story brick building, No. 20 West Fifteenth street, New York City. It spread to No. 22 East Fifteenth street, and also to the Lincoln bank building, Nos. 1 and 3 Union square, at the Fourteenth street corner. It was under control at 8 o'clock. The loss is very heavy, falling upon a large number of business houses.

A dispatch of Tuesday from St. Petersburg, Russia, says: Famine fever is increasing at a terrible rate in Kazan and Saratoff, and the suffering among the famished people where the mainly live made its appearance is fearful. The dread disease is more devastating now than it was during an epidemic which raged in Russia in the time of the Ottoman war.

A London cablegram of Thursday says: The city is wrapped in a dense and almost impenetrable fog equal to that which prevailed about Christmas time, and which caused much loss of life and incalculable money damage. Traffic is greatly impeded, and so dark is it that the use of electric and gaslight is resorted to throughout the city in houses, shops and factories.

The general assembly of the committee on revision of the confession of faith in session at New York completed its work Thursday. Chapter 11, treating of the ordained elder of the gospel, which has been a bone of contention during the various stages of the consideration of the confession in subsequent years, all other amendments or records thereof were adopted as amended.

A Washington dispatch says: The net gold in the treasury Thursday including bullion, is $119,749,286, being a loss of over six million dollars since the 10th instant, and a loss of over ten million dollars since the 1st instant. Receipts from customs at New York during the first twenty days of January were $8,896,043, being $661,513 less than receipts during the corresponding period of last year.

A London cablegram is to the effect that the anarchists who were arrested at Walsall on January 7th and others who have since been taken into custody were again in the Walsall police court Thursday. One of the prisoners is named Slaughter. The police claim to have evidence that he was concerned in the Chicago Haymarket massacre, and that he was the prime mover in the present conspiracy.

A dispatch of Wednesday says: E. V. Douglas and others representing parties in New York and Chicago, are in New Orleans for the purpose, it is said, of purchasing the rice mills of the city, some fourteen in number, and forming a rice trust. They have had conferences with the millers, and it is generally believed that a majority was willing to sell, the only point at issue being the price. The deal involves about six millions.

STATUS OF TRADE

For Past Week as Given by Dunn & Co.'s Agency.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during week ended Jan. 16, as reported by R. G. Dunn & Co., number, for the United States, 287; Canada, 43; total, 330, against 435 last week, eight days.

It was suggested two weeks ago that exports in December were likely to be extraordinarily large. Preliminary reports just issued indicate that the exports in that month were probably the largest ever known, for, while no increase appears in cotton and exports of provisions, cattle and oil were slightly less than a year ago, a gain of $20,160,000 appears in breadstuffs, making a net increase in the principal items of $17,540,854, or nearly 28 per cent, indicating that the aggregate exports for the month will probably exceed $116,000,000 against about $98,000,000 last year, when the amount was greater than it had ever been in any month.

The exports of flour increased 80 per cent, and exports of wheat 15,000,000 bushels against 4,800,000 bushels last year, while the exports of cotton are 43,000,000 pounds greater in quantity though no increase appears in value, owing to low prices. These enormous exports overshadow all other features in the commercial situation. They insure large supplies of money, if ever needed, but at present the markets are everywhere well supplied, except at southern points, and better supplied there than a week ago.

THE IRON MARKET.

Another fact of large importance is that the iron output was not diminished in December as is usual, owing to the stoppage of furnaces during the holidays, but was 168,023 tons weekly against 168,135 December 1st and 167,599 a year ago.

The depression of business at the south on account of the low prices of cotton still continues.

Breadstuffs have been much weaker since the publication of the government reports and wheat has fallen 1¼ cents, corn 1¼ cents and oats ¼ of a cent. Exports and receipts continue large, though colder and less favorable weather, to some extent, restricts the movement. Coffee is unchanged and oil has advanced 3 cents. Cotton fell to 7.37 cents during the week, the lowest price for forty-three years, but has since recovered to 7.56 cents, though receipts and stocks are remarkably large. Depression at the south is not relieved by the talk at the cotton convention, and probably cannot be in any way except by free sales of cotton which is now held for higher prices.

FEVER AMONG CATTLE.

Secretary Rusk Issues a Notice to Railroads and Steamers.

A Washington dispatch of Wednesday says: Secretary Rusk has issued a notice to managers and agents of railroad and other transportation companies, steamers and others interested, that splenetic or southern fever exists among cattle in a described area, which includes nearly all of the territory lying south of and including the states of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas, and the Indian Territory. From February 15 to December 1, 1892, no cattle are to be transported from this area to any portion of the United States, except by way of [illegible] by rail, the [illegible] shall have been tested right previous to shipment.

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Tuesday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 26, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.50
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

The man who "lives at home and boards at the same place" is usually happy and prosperous. The cotton planters of the South need but one more season like the present to have neither home nor a place to board.

The Evening News of Birmingham says—A politician has noticed that nearly all the candidates who were on the fence have been slaughtered by both sides. It is always best to be open and above board.

Birmingham News: "There are several newspapers in Alabama that are in love with themselves—and they havn't got any rivals."

We have more than once heard it said that the News is the captain of the self-love gang.

From the Wetumpka Times it is learned that when Judge Dowdell was appointed judge of this circuit by Governor O'Neal, Hon. Thos. L. Bulger, was his most formidable competitor for the position. Mr. Bulger, it is hardly necessary to say, is confident that the people will do for him what the Governor neglected to do.

Moulton Advertiser: Since this paper was made up and put to press, we have received and read Gov. Jones' great speech, delivered at Birmingham, in which he proves beyond contradiction that there are no fraudulent means resorted to in the last State Convention and that no taint or smell of corruption to his nomination. With this matter explained we announce ourselves for Gov. Jones' re-nomination and election.

No farmer should depend upon his neighbor to raise his home supplies, because he may have heard that neighborhood swear that he would do so. The experience of the past in this particular is enough to teach him that for good hard business sense in this particular his neighbor can not be depended upon. Raise your home supplies yourselves is the way to get even with that neighbor and the rest of the world besides.

Eutaw Mirror.—It is announced that a colored farmer at Epes drove off the bluff into the river—committed suicide—because he could not pay up and his stock were to be taken away from him. If this thing should become the rule and all the darkies who cannot pay out should drown themselves, it occurs to us that pure drinking water would command higher figures than cotton does.

After all, occupation, social position, human achievement, are largely the results of circumstances. No one has the right to scorn a brother man because of his station in life. If the beggar had been given the banker's opportunities, he might be a better man than the banker. If, on the other hand, the banker had all through his life known poverty and contamination, abuse and temptation, it is by no means certain that he would be a beggar rather than a robber.

Has the careless voter ever stopped to consider what a sacred thing precedent is? Has it ever occurred to him that his right to freedom and his own property and his protection in life and limb is secured to him by precedent, and precedent only? The common law is a mere aggregation of precedents coming down through the generation and finally lodged in our statutes. Every time a court passes on any matter of human rights, it consults what? The precedents.—Age-Herald.

A wise exchange says that it is not infrequent that newspapers find themselves unappreciated by the men whom they have favored by their support, column after column being published in their favor, and yet such favors, when the test comes, are unappreciated. When you find your home paper taking no interest in you or your success, when you find it keeps aggravating silence when you think the editor should tear his linen in your behalf, do not work yourself into a fever of anxiety as to the cause, but just ask yourself wherein have you placed the paper and editor under obligations to use space and energy for you.

MR. COLLIER FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

Because of the candidacy of Judge Dowdell for a place on the Supreme Bench, it will be necessary to elect a new Circuit Judge for the Fifth Circuit. Among those suggested for the place is Hon. Wm. A. Collier, of Chilton, a man well and favorably known in the circuit and one eminently qualified both by learning and experience to fill the place with credit to himself and honor to the circuit.

Mr. Collier's liberal education, quick perceptions, sound judgment, ripe and varied experience in both the Civil and Criminal Law, peculiarly fit him for the place and we feel safe in saying that he would make an able and acceptable Judge.

Mr. Collier has not decided to offer, but there is a strong force both within and outside of Chilton, urging him to announce as a candidate, and we hope to make the announcement later.

Something of the Man.

Complying with a general desire for information as to the records and political history of candidates for Congress in the new fourth district, the VIEW will present some occasional extracts from different sources, concerning these candidates, and we desire to add that such publications will be made gratuitously and solely as news matter for the information of our readers We give herewith something relating to Mr. Grant, of Calhoun, having already republished what we have seen in our exchanges regarding Mr. Browne, of Talladega:

Concerning Mr. Grant's war record we learn that he entered the Confederate army at the age of 18, and served until the close of the war in the 10th Alabama Regiment, being promoted to Adjutant for meritorious service. His regiment was commanded successively by Col. John H. Caldwell and Gen. Wm. H. Forney, both of whom have served in Congress, and Col. Wm. T. Smith, of Shelby, and all these gentleman are Mr. Grant's supporters.

Following the session of the last Legislature, Mr. Frank P. Glass, editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, thus speaks through that paper of Mr. Grant:

"Discussing the probable results of the next Congressional campaign in this State, a keen observer of passing events, said to the 'Gossiper:' 'No man in either branch of the legislature has made more reputation this session than Mr. Grant, the Senator from the Calhoun and Cleburne district. He has been very attentive to his duties, and no bill has come before the Senate with which he did not thoroughly familiarize himself. His positions in the main have been correct, and he supported them with an independence of mind and action that was truly refreshing. His best friends have been surprised at his power of debate. They knew he was clear as a bell intellectually, but he has been so modest and retiring that he has never asserted himself. No man who has met him in debate during this session will hesitate to accord him a high place as a speaker. Mr. Grant's efforts for the redistricting bill after it was determined on were invaluable, and his work for the bill moved many obstacles. He is in the new Fourth District at one end and Dallas at the other. Where is there any better Congressional timber in the district than the able Senator from Calhoun?'"

About the same time Mr. Lucien J. Walker, of the Birmingham Age-Herald, writing of the Legislature said:

"Speaking of the senators, Lon. W. Grant, of Calhoun, was one of the best equipped and most useful men in the upper house of the recent general assembly. He is one of those calculating, patient, men who are capable of doing much work and doing it well. Mr. Grant had many friends and wielded great influence in the senate."

Subsequently Col. Robt. McKee, the veteran editor of the Piedmont Inquirer, noting a visit of Mr. Grant to that town said:

"He met many friends here who served with him in ardous campaigns and fought by his side in bloody battle, who saw him when but a stripling in years grasp with gentle touch and firm hand the leadership of the party in the county, who have supported him in conventions and applauded him in the legislature, and who respect and admire and honor him and will stand by him in the future as they have done in the past.

It goes without the saying, that all of his friends here have not at all times agreed with him—all of them are now in entire accord with him touching some matters of public concern; but they know, that thinking men must often differ as to the best means of accomplishing any particular result, and that he is as honestly as themselves, is striving to the end they have at heart, and trust and follow him with all the more confidence because he has the courage of his convictions in opposition to their opinions.

Mr. Grant is understood to be a candidate for congress in this district. If so, he will find here, among those who have known him longest and best, his supporters, who know how capable and faithful he has been in all the trusts confided to him, and who believe that if promotion comes to him he will be found wanting in none of the qualities which have distinguished his political career.—Piedmont Inquirer."

Some of the Alliance leaders and newspapers have been convinced of their error, notable among whom are Congressman Livingston, of Georgia, and Governor Tillman, of South Carolina. An Alliance paper, the Selma Mirror says of them:

The Hon. L. F. Livingston is following the steps of the Hon. Ben. Tillman. Both are right, with the present outlook before them; but it will take time to convince the people that they are right.

It will take time to convince the people perhaps, and they must be properly approached. The Ocala platform was the outgrowth of the distressing condition of the large class who uphold it. Debt-ridden and confined year in and year out to the bare necessities of life, they have endorsed an error (formulated by politicians) that cannot assist them. As soon as this idea of its ineffectiveness is made clear to their comprehension, the Ocala platform will naturally have no adherents. Gov. Jones is doing much in this line by his able campaign speeches. A campaign of reason like that of Senator George in Mississippi is bound to win while a campaign of denunciation such as that waged against Tillman in South Carolina is not often as effective of good results. The results in the two States should be considered by those extremist who unlike Gov. Jones are pursuing a different course. Mr. Kolb and his followers are not all of a kind, and even the Montgomery Advertiser will admit that. It is probable that there are worse men than Mr. Kolb supporting him, but there are a large number who have been mislead, and a still larger number who are his adherents from misplaced sympathy, which has been created by this wholesale denunciation. There are many of his followers who would be glad to see the Alliance cause led by a purer and better man than Mr. Kolb, but they are in a powerless minority. Many of his followers can be reclaimed by a campaign of reason led by Governor Jones on the stump, and that is the only hope for the Governor's renomination. Every day makes this truth more patent, and if the Governor wins at all it will be by close and vigorous campaigning.

The Selma Mirror, an alliance paper which grows wiser and more conservative with each issue, says:

What the country now needs is rest and quiet, and an earnest effort on the part of the present congress to undo the work of the last congress, and restore confidence in our business interests. Agitation is sometimes unavoidable and absolutely necessary, but like everything else it may be carried to an extreme.

The merchant who comes to the assistance of the farmer at this time by encouraging him to make his supplies at home will be remembered hereafter by every true Allianceman in this section, and will not lose a dollar by his indulgence or assistance.

Let the farmers, merchants and men of business all pull together and forget the disasters of the past year. Confidence is the parent of success, and there is no case for lack of confidence in this section of Alabama. Our lands never fail to make corn and cotton when properly managed. The white man is again in the saddle and he expects to remain there until next Christmas.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, a very able young lawyer, of the Selma bar, is announced for congress in this district by the Selma Journal. Mr. Robbins has a strong following, and we shall have some further statements concerning his history in succeeding issues.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Okla, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it, and as to day enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung, or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Administrator's Sale.

By virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Ala., the undersigned administrator of the estate of Nancy Sims, deceased, will sell "on the premises" at the late residence of said Nancy Sims, deceased, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry, to the highest bidder,

ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15TH, 1892, the real estate belonging to said estate to-wit: E ½ of n w ¼, n w ¼ of n e ¼, n ½ of s w ¼ and w ½ of n e ¼ of section 14, and s w ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 11, all in township 23, range 12, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama.

TERMS OF SALE.—One half cash and balance on 12 months credit, with interest from date and approved security.

DRUCILLA E. TILTON,
Administrator Estate of Nancy Sims, Deceased.
WM. A. COLLIER, Attorney.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Letters of administration upon the estate of M. E. VanDerveer, having been granted to the undersigned on the 30th day of November, 1891, by Hon. H. J. Callen, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.

This 5th day of January, 1892.
J. P. VANDERVEER,
Administrator.

A Gold Watch and $30.

That is what every Agent receives who gets up a club on our $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $20 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO.,
47 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19131 for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ s 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec31o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz; Warren Nix, homestead 2437 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion.
Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.
Jobbers of and Dealers in
Paints, Oils & Glass
PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS,
COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS,
MIRROR PLATES, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.
1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks,
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.
—DEALERS IN—
PIANOS & ORGANS
And Musical Merchandise
Of Every Description.
Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.
Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.
Farmers' Alliance Exchange,
Union Warehouse Co.
Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.
OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.
Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.
sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.
In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom assured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It costs no more to assure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?
The Equitable Life Assurance Society
Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract,
And Pays its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.
C. J. McCARY, GENERAL AGENT.
—BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.
DRY GOODS
—AND—
-CARPETS-
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT.
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades.
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

TELEGRAPHY Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Catalogue FREE. Write to Bryant & Stratton Business College, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company.
(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)
For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CIRCULARS, and all classes of CIRCULARS AND PAMPHLET PRINTING apply to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.
Hare, Pace & Dunlap, Montgomery, Ala.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., JAN. 28, 1891.

SCHEDULE M. & N. ALA. RAILROAD. Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:39 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:55 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Prof. J. M. Corderie was in town Saturday.

Mr. Will Kemp is behind the counter at J. P. Allen's store.

Rev. I. F. Smith will preach at the Episcopal church Sunday.

Mr. S. T. Nelson, the blacksmith, has completed his shop near this office.

Mr. G. A. Northington, of Verbena, was in Clanton on business Monday.

Miss Willie Hartwell returned to Lowndesboro last Saturday after a pleasant visit here.

Mrs. T. Phillips has returned home from Auburn, where she went on a visit to her mother.

Miss Bessie Collier who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks returned to Troy Sunday accompanied by Miss Inez Collier.

It is to be regretted that our town is shortly to lose Mr. O. P. Bentley and his interesting family as citizens. Mr. Bentley will remove to his old home, Goodwater, Ala.

There have been fewer cases of grip in Clanton this winter than last. Our people have very wisely been exercising more care in the matter of exposing themselves to the inclement weather.

Our business men should bear in mind that as a matter of courtesy and of business we are bound to patronize those merchants who patronize the VIEW, whether the merchants may be doing business in Clanton or elsewhere.

Clanton is now "sporting" a first rate bakery. The proprietor is an industrious and worthy colored man, and we hope to see his enterprise sustained well. He is established in the Sartor store near the postoffice. Give him a trial

John L. Cobbs & Co., of Montgomery, have a new advertisement in this paper to which your attention is invited. The Cobbs, father and son are among the most popular and enterprising business men of our hustling capital city.

Our typographical artist, Prof. Samuel W. Catts, and the scribe return thanks to Mr. W. H. Foshee and to Judge H. J. Callen for a treat to some nice venison, which they killed on a camp hunt in Clarke county last week. After eating some of the juicy steak our artist went to Verbena on a visit to his best girl, in unusually good spirits.

The VIEW has received a neatly lithographed folder calendar for 1892, sent out by the Berney National Bank, of Birmingham. Roberts & Son are the lithographers, and W. P. G. Harding, assistant cashier of the bank, is the compiler. Mr. Harding is a gentleman of unusual versality, and the calendar contains much valuable information concerning Birmingham.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending Jan. 25th, 1892.

Misses Mary Duke, Blanche Foshee, Lonnie May and Annie Lane and Pallie Chandler.

Master R. Q. Lane.

Judge John S. Bentley, probate judge of Coosa county, died at his home at Rockford, Tuesday morning. His son, O. P. Bentley, Esq., of this place, left on the evening train for Rockford, the same day to be present at the last and rites.

Bibb county is beset with thugs and murders, and is losing many goods citizens on that account. The Centreville Express has inaugurated a war on evil-doers, but it is not being seconded by the law abiding class, and can accomplish nothing The Express man got into a bad hole when he located in Bibb and it seems now that his principle desire is to get out.

In these dull, hard times when money is scarce, and you want the most you can get for your dollar, you should read the advertisements in a newspaper and look out for the bargains offered. Read W. H. Phillips' advertisement if you want cheap groceries. He has moved into the Aldridge store and will soon lay in a large stock of heavy groceries. Mr. Phillips will always be found a clever and accommodating gentleman to trade with.

A woman in Americus, Ga., is using a lamp chimney that she has used daily for the past eight years, and she expects to use it for many years yet. She says that she boiled it in salt and water when it was bought, in 1882, and no matter how large a flame runs through it, it won't break. Some of the house-keepers who read the above would do well to try this plan; there may be a good deal of virtue in it and if there is it will be of much benefit to a household.

The little three year old girl of Mrs. Zella Givhan had a narrow escape from being burnt seriously while playing in the yard Monday, with other children who were making a fire out of a trash pile. The apron of the little girl caught and was burnt entirely away, and the fire burnt through other garments to the skin before any one could reach her, when her nurse seized her and immersed her in a tub of water and extinguished the flames. Remarkable to say the child received no serious injury.

If there are any candidates for the various county offices in Chilton none of them seem rich enough to risk five dollars on his chance of getting the Democratic nomination, by announcing his candidacy to the people through the press. In no other county are the candidates so timid and so loth to invest their capital in this way. Every other county is a head of us in this respect. We have often heard that capital is timid, but have never known it to be so completely terror-stricken as it appears to be among the worthy candidates for the county offices in Chilton.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Stay-at-Home Presidents.

Andrew Johnson was the only President that ever stood on foreign soil while holding office. It occurred during the famous "swing around the circle," in 1866, while visiting Niagara Falls, when he went in a carriage to the Canadian side. The president did not think at the time that he had violated a precedent, and it occurred to him only when he had returned to his hotel and was alone with his secretary, who promised to keep the matter secret.—Buffalo Times.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

In Memoriam.

In Maplesville, on Dec. 29th, 1891, passed away in peace, Mrs. Evelyn Gandy, widow of Henry Gandy. She was in her 66th year, and was born near where she died. Her death was very sudden, but found her prepared for the summons from her Master, whom she had served faithfully for many years. She was very industrious but found time daily to read her bible, was remarkably energetic laboring for the good of others to within a few hours of her death. She was remarkably charitable. She never turned a hungry fellow being from her door. Was a member of the Methodist church, and none lived more up to the requirements of their duty. She labored always for the good of others. Our heartfelt sympathy is tendered her bereaved family.

M. E. THOMAS.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Maplesville Dots.

Mrs. Glover takes the opportunity of thanking all the good people who have been so kind during the sickness of her family.

Mr. T. DuBose's family have suffered much with grip, but are better now.

Mrs. N. Goodwin is convalescing from a serious illness.

We regret that our friend I. W. Gulliborn, will retire from business here. No one would be more loss to our town. We sincerely hope he will remain with us.

Frank Glover has been on a visit to his mother.

There has been much trouble with the famers who had mortgages foreclosed.

Miss Fannie Martin has gone to stay some time with her aunt, Mrs. Little.

Lily Dots.

Rain, mud, cold and disagreeable weather has been the order of the day for sometime past.

The public roads are in bad condition in this section.

A large number of our good people are sick and the pill venders are kept quite busy.

Mr. J. J. Veazey has been seriously ill for sometime, and is not much better. We hope however he will soon be well again.

Mrs. F. W. Wright is on the sick list.

The la grippe is getting prevalent in this section.

Mr. B. L. Woolley was a visitor to Jemison last week.

Miss Inez Hammond who has been suffering with a sore foot for the last five months is now improving. We hope she will soon be able to walk without crutches.

Some one went into Mrs. Robinson's kitchen one night last week and stole five gallons of molasses and some flour. I guess they were hungry.

Mr. B. F. Hammond visited Clanton last week on business.

Miss Geneva Jones has discontinued her school on account of measels.

Some one who knows, says that hemorrhage of the lungs may be quickly stopped by small doses of salt instead of whisky, which is used. CLINT.

Verbena Views.

Miss Laura Davis, a charming young lady of Prattville is visiting the family of Mr. A. L. Haralson.

Messrs. Ed. and Tom Gains, of Autauga, visited our city this week.

Mrs. G. A. Northington and daughter, have returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Autauga.

Messrs. Bose and Jim Rawlinson, of Autauga, visited Verbena this week.

Mrs. Macon, of Stanton, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ben. Williams.

Miss Virgie Smith, of West Chilton, is visiting Miss Mamie Green.

The Downs Bros. of Coopers, have bought out Pratt Saw Mill Company's store.

Mrs. S. W. John, of the Magic City, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. John Clisby.

Miss Mary Carr Gibson, one of our most lovely young ladies has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in the Capital city.

Mr. Kennerly Williamson, of Montgomery, has been visiting relatives here.

There was a leap year party at Mr. F. A. Gulledge's on the evening of the 22d.

Messrs. John Scott and Claud Falkner, of West Chilton, were in town this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Williamson gave Master Blocker Williamson, a birthday party on the evening of the 22d. All who attended had a delightful time. Blocker's friends wish him a long life of happiness and may all his birth days be like this last one.

It is reported that one of our young merchants will soon take unto himself a better-half, as he has bought a set of furniture.

Our handsome young friend, Sam Catts, of Clanton, spent Sunday in our city.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinson Wells, have returned from a visit to their children in Mississippi.

Messrs. John Parker and John Brooks of Montgomery, were the guests of friends here Sunday.

For the Grippe.

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, the discoverer of the cure for the whiskey habit, says "I would like to suggest a treatment for grippe which I know is nearly specific as well as innocent. It is asafœtida, given in four grain pills, one pill four times a day. No man need be sick of grippe these days who will take it. If this treatment was generally known it would save sufferers much sickness and wretchedness and many valuable lives."

HON. THOMAS L. BULGER FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

Talladega New Era.

Among other officers to be elected by the people this year will be a Circuit Judge for the fifth judicial circuit, and as Judge Dowdell will stand for one of the places on the supreme court bench, Talladega has a man the equal of any in the circuit. He has a large experience coupled with a well stored mind with legal lore. Besides he has an education superior to a large number of lawyers.

In the transaction of every day life his experience is unexcelled. As a parliamentarian he proved himself equal to any emergency while representing Macon and Talladega in the Senate of the State.

Fully equipped for the task of presiding as Circuit Judge, he is firm, yet polite to a degree seldom met with. His rulings would be models of fairness and legal acumen.

As a staunch and tried Democrat he stands the peer of any man in the State. Withal he is noted for his liberality towards all the better institutions which go to build up a country, prominent among which are the schools and churches.

It is a fact that he stands prominently before the bar and people as one of the brighest and most promising men who are yet to prove an honor to the State. Possessed of rare intellectual vigor, he gives promise of many years of useful service.

Hon. Thomas L. Bulger carries about him a personal magnetism that wins friends wherever he is known, and should the Democrats of the fifth judicial circuit see fit to select him for that honorable position he will prove himself the equal of any Circuit Judge in the State.

In discussing his fitness for the position, we do so not as a partisan, but through pride for our county, because she can present such able material out of which to make a Judge, and we feel confident of a cheerful endorsement from a large majority of the voters of the county.

Mrs. J. H. May, of Birmingham, is visiting, her sister -Mrs. Hester here.

Jack Gulliborn has moved to Gravella Conecuh county, and gone into business. Success to him.

JEMISON
High School.
(MALE AND FEMALE).
JEMISON, - - - ALA.
TIPTON MULLINS, L. I., A. B., PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about midway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 706 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $9.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

For further information address
TIPTON MULLINS,
aug13 Jemison, Ala.

Assessor's Notice!

LAST ROUND.

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Callaways Mill	March	1st,
Mountain Creek	"	2d,
Verbena,	"	3d & 4th,
Pies't Grove Chr., beat 5	"	5th,
Providence Chr., beat 6	"	7th,
Cooper's,	"	8th,
Kinchean	"	9th,
Chambers' Grist Mill	"	10th,
Pilgrim's Rest	"	11th,
Stanton,	"	14th,
Dixie,	"	15th,
Chilton Lum. Co.'s Mill	"	16th,
Welch & Bro's Mill	"	17th,
Valley Creek Church	"	18th,
R. Latham's	"	19th,
Maplesville	"	21st,
Benson	"	22d,
Macedonia	"	23d,
Jemison	"	28 & 29,
Providence, beat 3	"	31st,
Edith Busby's	April	1st,
Smith's School Hse, beat 1	"	2d,
Willett's Store	"	4th,
Mineral Springs	"	5th,
Lyman	"	6th,
Stanton	"	8th & 9th.

R. G. ROLLINS,
Tax Assessor of Chilton County.

TIMES ARE HARD
AND I AM SELLING
GROCERIES
AT CLOSE PRICES.

I am now located in the Aldridge Store, and am enlarging my Stock. Call on me if you want FIRST-CLASS GROCERIES at the lowest prices.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,
Clanton, Alabama.

THE CAMPAIGN IS OPEN!
And you want to keep up with it. We club the VIEW with the Birmingham News, the Age-Herald and the Montgomery Advertiser at $2 per year for our paper and any one of the others.

Hale, Dingley & Co.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,
PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.
Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

MONTGOMERY ARMS CO.,
HENRY D. LONG, Manager.
HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF
SPORTING GOODS.
SUCH AS
GUNS, PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES, AMMUNITION, BLUE ROCKS,
Traps, Base Ball and Gymnasium Goods,
MAGNIFYING GLASSES, TELESCOPES AND MANY OTHER NOVELTIES. CALL AND SEE US AT 112 Dexter Avenue, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.
18 COMMERCE STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.
Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

O. P. BENTLEY,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Office at the Courthouse.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
OF
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds Work Done in the BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. [mar24-y

J. W. BLYTH,
(Successor to Tressler)
PHOTOGRAPHER
10 COURT SQUARE,
Montgomery
Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. Crayon portraits reduced to $12.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.
The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.
Call and see Specimens.
Correspondence solicited. [jan21-tf]

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY
Fall Term begins September 15.
Spring Term begins January 21.
Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the South. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Sinnod's improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. Abundance of bath-rooms and closets. Parlors, library, reading rooms and gymnasium conveniently located. Cash cost of buildings, $90,000. Eight acres of campus. Board, lights, fuel, servant's attendance, etc., five months, $64.50; tuition, $25.00. Send for catalogue to Rev. L. D. Bass, D. D. Florence, Ala. dec24y

All questions Cheerfully Answered.

Housekeeper—"It vex you to say Mason and Dixon?"

Dave Dawson—"Yes, ma'am."

"O saints! Mercy!"

"Just I posted, ma'am."

"I expect it pounces!"

"Oh, yes, mum. I send my orders direct to the—the Sultan, mum."

"Humph! How much have you on hand?"

"Six and sixty pounds, mum."

"You have, eh? Sixty pounds? I read in the paper this very morning that not over fifty pounds of genuine Mocha reach the country annually."

"Yes mum, that's true. I had 'bout ten pounds left over from last year."—New York Weekly.

Lactic acid in a tonic, for children who are building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is necessary to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints makes the Blood rich and pure.

Teacher—How do you spell Shakespeare?
Pupil—Any way I please.
Teacher—Correct.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of $100 for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 5 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house pleases a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF WEATHER cause Throat Diseases. There is no more effectual remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc., than BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cts.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

If you are constipated, bilious or troubled with sick headache, Beecham's Pills afford immediate relief. Of druggists. 25 cents.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

No Stomach

Can long stand abusive treatment, such as too hearty and rapid eating, too much rich food, hurrying to and from meals, overuse of stimulants or narcotics, etc. The inevitable result must be indigestion, and later,

Dyspepsia

with all the horrible suffering so many people know too well. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention to diet and a good medicine like which regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, stimulates secretion of the gastric juice, removes acidity and tones the entire system to health.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills cure liver ills. Price 25c.

CHILD BIRTH MADE EASY!

"MOTHERS' FRIEND" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

WILL DO all that is claimed for it AND MORE. It Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book to "MOTHERS" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sent by express on receipt of price $1.50 per bottle. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"German Syrup"

Asthma. "I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario."

Gentle, Refreshing Sleep.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Nasal Passages. Allays Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

TRY THE CURE. HAY-FEVER

CATARRH

THE CURE FOR CATARRH COLD IN HEAD HAY FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE ELY'S CREAM BALM 50c

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 35 Warren Street, New York.

It is for the cure of dyspepsia and its attendants, sick-headache, constipation and piles, that have become so famous. They act gently, without griping or nausea.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

PENSIONS—Thousands still NEGLECTED. Write to-day to A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, WASHINGTON, D. C. Since '65.

$225 DETECTIVE for two years retained by corporation. Pays $75 per month and expenses. Business at Shoppell Block, Room 24, Syracuse, N. Y.

$65 A MONTH and expenses to agents in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Phila., Pa.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS

Reform Press Comment and Items of General Interest.

RETRENCHMENT NEEDED.

In his speech before the house some days ago, on the Holman resolution providing for retrenchment in expenditures Mr. Livingston, president of the Georgia State Alliance, among other things said that from one end of the land to the other, there existed to-day more destitution and distress than had ever before been known in the history of the country. It was time for congress to call a halt in the making of unnecessary and reckless appropriations. The cause of this distress was a large increase in taxation, which to-day was five times as much as it was in 1860. How could the producers of the country live under such a system of taxation? While the rate of taxation had been increasing, the price of products had been decreasing. Cotton had gone down from 10 cents, 1860, to 6½ cents, in the city of Augusta, Ga. What had gone down in proportion? The legislation of congress had increased taxation, and had decreased the means of paying it. Was it not time that the farmers and laborers should be heard on this floor? The resolution offered by the gentleman from Indiana, [Mr. Holman] not only contained sound democratic principle, but it was honest and statesman-like. He did not see how any gentleman, whether he belonged to the first, second or third party, could do aught but support it. The people were looking with their eyes and listening with their ears for some sign of relief from this congress. Would they receive it, or would they be sent word, as they had been sent during the last twenty-five years, "work on and we will take care of the government." The passage of this resolution would encourage the workingmen of the country, and he gave it his earnest support.

***

THE SUB-TREASURY BOILED DOWN.

Under the above headline the Southern Alliance Farmer says: This one plank in our platform has caused more contenton among the old party hacks than all the rest of our demands. It has been the great drawback to our woul-be democratic friends. They view it with a perfect horror, a system which would ruin the country at once, they say. Oh, yes, they will tell you, we can take the rest of your platform, but the sub-treasury, we can't stand it. These same parties and papers who prate against the sub-treasury, know simply nothing about it. They have been fighting the air and have not succeeded in making it very lurried with common sense. The sub-treasury system boiled down and shorn of detail is simply this: The government should issue direct to the people, upon good security, a sufficient amount of currency, at cost, to do the business of the country upon a cash basis.

This is all there is in this demand, and who can object to it? Would it benefit the merchant, the lawyer and the doctor? Certainly, if the people who support these professions are benefited. There is no reasonable objections that any honest man can urge against the sub-treasury system. Everybody had rather do a cash than a time business, for in the end both the customer and the merchant are ruined when the credit system is adhered to. Then let us all join hands for the sub-treasury system which means a sufficient volume of money direct from the government to the people at a low rate of interest. All men can stand on this plank except those interested in robbing the people through our present financial system. This is the main plank in our Ocala demands, and one that the country must have. Let us accept nothing as a compromise, but insist on having the government to control our financial system instead of national banks and plutocrats.

***

AN OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION.

Special Notice to all Alliancemen:

The Supreme Council is session unanimously passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the brethren of the entire order be requested to set aside and observe the first meeting in January each year in every sub-alliance in the United States as National Alliance Day, and that upon that day they read and discuss the national demands, and the sub-alliance lecturer and others deliver addresses in behalf of the national propaganda fund for the distribution of approved alliance literature, and that the sub-alliance secretary take up a collection in behalf of the said propaganda fund, and forward same to the national secretary at Washington, D. C."

This resolution is far-reaching in its effect, and is commended to the careful consideration of the entire order. The following questions and answers are here presented in order to give a better understanding of the Propaganda fund and the national alliance day:

What is the object of the national alliance day?

ANS.: It is to concentrate the thoughts and attention on one day in the beginning of the year upon national alliance work and national issues, and to secure from every member of the order such contributions as he or she may be able and willing to give toward assisting in the educational work of the order.

How may national alliance day be made interesting, useful and instructive?

ANS: By each member giving such new facts as he may possess as to the history of our objects of the order, singing alliance songs, and by reading and discussing the demands.

What are the demands of the order?

ANS: The following is a correct copy of the demands as amended at Indianapolis:

"1. We demand the abolation of national banks.

"2. We demand that the government shall establish sub-treasuries in the several states which shall issue money direct to the people at a low rate of tax, not to exceed two per cent per annum, on non perishable farm products, and also upon the real estate, with proper limitation upon the quantity of land and amount of money.

"1. We demand that the amount of the circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

"2. We demand that congress shall pass laws as will effectually prevent the dealing in futures of all agricultural and mechanical productions, providing a stringent system of procedure in trials that will secure prompt conviction, and imposing such penalties as shall secure the most perfect compliance with the law.

"3. We condemn the silver bill recently passed by congress, and demand in lieu thereof the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

"4. We demand the passage of laws prohibiting alien ownership of land, and that congress take prompt action to devise some plan to obtain all lands now owned by foreign syndicates, and that all lands held by railroads and other corporations in excess of such as is actually used and needed by them be reclaimed by the government, and held for actual settlers only.

"5. Believing in the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we demand—

"a. That our national legislation shall be so framed in the future as not to build up one industry at the expense of another.

"b. We further demand a removal of the existing heavy tariff tax from the necessities of life that the poor of our land must have.

"c. We further demand a just and equitable system of graduated tax on incomes.

"d. We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all national and state revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically and honestly administered.

"6. We demand the most rigid, honest and just state and national governmental control and supervision of the means of public communication and transportation, and if this control and supervision does not remove the abuses now existing, we demand the government ownership of such means of communication and transportation.

"7. We demand that the Congress of the United States submit an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people of each state."

What is the Propaganda fund?

ANS: It is a special fund composed of donations for the purpose of assisting the alliance educational work. It is in charge of the Propaganda fund committee, which is composed of the president and secretary and the executive board of the order. The regulations governing it are that none can be paid out except by unanimous consent of the Propaganda fund committee. At regular intervals the secretary publishes in The National Economist all receipts and disbursements of this fund. All literature purchased with this fund must be at cost, and all services rendered by officers or others in handling or disbursing this fund or any of its literature, must be without pay. Every effort is to be made to every dollar do the most possible good.

To what use is the Propaganda fund applied?

ANS. To the purchase of pamphlets, tracts and leaflets explaining and defending alliance principles and to the distribution of literature to reform and other papers for publication, and sometimes to paying the actual expenses of a lecturer on some important occasion when the lecturer cannot be made self-sustaining. There is a demand for information in unorganized sections, and there is a great demand for reform literature in all sections.

Does this Propaganda fund correspond to the campaign funds of the political parties?

ANS. It does not in any sense of the word. Campaign funds, as used in politics, represents money paid by capitalists to dominate the administration after the party have succeeded, and it is distributed largely as boodle for corrupt purposes. Its object is to perpetuate machine domination. The Propaganda fund is more nearly represented by the manner in which the Irish fight for liberty has been conducted. The expenses have been met by donations from those devoted to the cause of liberty. Our battle will soon be raging, our cause is an embodiment of right, justice and equity, we strive to emancipate productive labor from the money power to oppress and thereby prevent the enslavement of posterity. Every person who assists in this cause is a hero. Let each give as the Lord has prospered him.

How should remittance to the Propaganda fund be sent?

ANS. Address a letter to J. H. Turner, 239 North Capitol street, Washington, D. C., and tell him the amount of your donation, and who it is from, and inclose him the money either in postal note, money order, or registered letter. Then address another to C. W. Macune, chairman executive board, 241 North Capitol street, Washington, D. C., stating what amount you have sent Brother Turner, and give a short report of your meeting and what resolutions you have passed, and the name and number of your alliance, and the name and postoffice address of the president, secretary, lecturer and chaplain.

L. L. POLK,
J. H. TURNER,
C. W. MACUNE,
J. F. TILLMAN,
ALONZO WARDALL,
Propaganda Committee.

CHICAGO THE PLACE,

And June 21st the Date of the Next Democratic Convention.

The national democratic committee met at Washington at noon Thursday, Chairman Brice presiding. Alabama was represented by Henry D. Clayton, Jr.; Florida, Samuel Pasco; Georgia, J. H. Estill; Mississippi, C. A. Johnston; North Carolina, Senator Ransom; South Carolina, John C. Haskell; Tennessee, R. T. Looney; Virginia, Senator Barbour. The committee at once went into secret session to settle the questions of proxies and contests.

Chicago was selected as the place, and Tuesday, June 21st as the date, for the assembling of the democratic national convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice president. The selection gives general satisfaction, and is regarded as the best available. It has already developed that Minneapolis is unequal to entertaining the republican convention. Indeed, the national conventions are now becoming so ponderous that it is difficult to find accommodations for them anywhere. It was this condition which had a controlling influence in the choice of Chicago. That city has the largest buildings, the best general railroad approach and the greatest number of hotels of any city in the union. The crowd which will attend the next convention will be enormous.

The cities contesting for the honor were: Cincinnati, Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, New York, San Francisco, St. Paul, Chicago and Des Moines. On the fifteenth ballot the vote stood: Detroit 1, Milwaukee 18, St. Paul 1, Chicago 37. During the progress of the vote all the other cities dropped out. The vote was then made unanimous for Chicago.

Quay's Libel Suit.

A dispatch from Beaver, Pa., says: The Quay-Stone criminal libel suit was begun Monday morning. Senator Quay swore that he did not know Bardsley, and that the loan he had made to the republican committee had been paid back in full; also that the lithographed certificate of deposit was from a forgery.

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Meetings of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—When the house met at noon Monday Mr. Reilly, of Pennsylvania, asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to what amount of money was appropriated and is available under the act of April 25, 1890, relating to the World's exposition at Chicago, and what amount of money so appropriated has been expended, with itemized statement showing to whom it had been paid and for what purpose. The resolution was finally adopted. Mr. Lester, of Georgia, introduced a bill appropriating $3,150,000 for the improvement of the Savannah harbor.

TUESDAY.—The house on Tuesday was engaged altogether in routine business. No measures of importance were acted upon.

WEDNESDAY.—The house, on Wednesday, after the introduction of a few bills, finding itself with nothing to do, adjourned until Thursday.

THURSDAY.—No business of importance was transacted in the house Thursday.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—A number of bills were introduced and referred in the senate. Among them was one by Mr. Peffer, proposing amendment to the constitution so as to elect the president and vice-president by the direct vote of the people. Mr. Hale offered a resolution calling on the secretary of state for copies of all agreements with other countries relating to interchange trade, and for a report as to the practical effect of such agreements. The resolution was laid on the table, Mr. Hale stating that he would call it up shortly.

TUESDAY—Nothing of importance was done in the senate Tuesday. After the introduction of bills, etc., the calendar was taken up and various measures discussed.

WEDNESDAY.—When the senate met Wednesday, Senator Walthall was in his seat and received congratulations from his fellow-senators of both parties on his re-election. Senator George entered the chamber while the business of the morning hour was in progress. He also was warmly congratulated. After the introduction of several bills the senate took up the calendar, the first eighteen bills on it being for public buildings.

THURSDAY.—After the introduction of a few important bills in the senate Thursday, Senator Sanford made a long speech in favor of the land loan bureau.

NOTES.

Senator Sherman appeared in his seat in the senate Monday for the first time since his re-election.

In the senate Wednesday Mr. Platt introduced, by request, a bill for the admission of New Mexico as a state.

In the house, Wednesday, Mr. Springer introduced his free wool bill, and it was referred to the commites on ways and means.

O'Neal, of Massachusetts, has set the department in a flurry by proposing to introduce a bill providing that they shall work eight instead of six and a half hours daily.

Representative Bankhead, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds, says that bills for new buildings and improvements to the amount of $27,000,000 are already before the committee.

The senate committee on privileges and elections had under consideration Thur-day morning the contested Florida election case of Call vs Davidson, and decided by a unanimous vote to recommend that Senator Call retain his seat.

Senator Gallenger on Thursday proposed an amendment to the interstate commerce act to allow all railroads to grant passes to newspaper publishers for printing advertisements, and for other services, as well as to their respective editors and actual employes.

The following public building bills were passed by the senate Wednesday: Grand Haven Mich., $50,000; Deadwood, S. D., $200,000; Dover, N. H., $100,000; Stillwater, Minn., $100,000; Salem Ore., $100,000; The Dalles, Ore., $100,000; Providence, R. I., $300,000; Fresno, Cal., $75,000.

Congressman Oats says: "The placing of the power of the appointment of the house in the hands of one man is undemocratic, and if I am in another congress I propose to oppose it. This has been the practice since congress was organized. We have pursued it for a hundred years, and the plan has outlived its usefulness."

Three weeks from Wednesday, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the house committee on coinage, weights and measures, will, by the terms of a resolution agreed upon in committee, vote upon the question of reporting to the house a bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. This decision was reached harmoniously and after a meeting free from dispute. The anti-silver men realized that they were in the minority on the committee, and the free silver men, confident of their strength, were disposed to meet the other side half way in an amicable arrangement that would bring the matter before the house within a reasonable length of time, so that the decision as to the hour of voting was unanimous.

Speaker Crisp will, perhaps, preside over the house on Monday. He has been steadily improving each day, and has been able to walk about the halls of the hotel a little. The fact that he has concluded his work on the rules, and that they were reported to the house Thursday, relieves his mind of a burden. The rules are to be adopted by the house on Monday, Mr. McMillin and Mr. Catchings, of the committee on rules, will make speeches in explanation of them. Ex-Speaker Reed will offer the rules of the last congress as a substitute, in order that he may have an opportunity to defend them from the attacks which have been made upon them for the past two years.

Mr. Stanford addressed the senate Thursday in a speech of the bill introduced by him on December 22, to provide the government with means sufficient to supply the national want of a sound circulating medium. The bill proposes an issue of the United States circulating notes to the amount of $100,000,000, and such additional amounts from time to time, as shall be necessary to meet the requirements of the act, to be lent (under supervision of the land loan bureau) to owners of agricultural lands to an amount not exceeding half the assessed valuation of land, at the rate of 2 per cent interest. Mr. Stanford was followed by Mr. Peffer, in a long speech in favor of the bill, which was afterwards laid aside.

There was a meeting of the full house committee on rules Tuesday morning in the rooms of Speaker Crisp in the Metropolitan hotel. A majority of the members had drafted a code of rules, and this was submitted to the minority. They are substantially the rules of the fifteenth congress, with three changes. One change is a return to the rule in force prior to the forty-ninth congress, under which legislation on appropriation bills was permitted when in the interest of retrenchment in expenditure. Another change limits the time for the call of states for the introduction of bills on "suspension Mondays" to one hour, the object being to check filibustering by consuming suspension day in the introduction of bills. The third change gives the report from the committee on rules fixing the time for the consideration and voting on any measure, parliamentary status not accorded to the motion to suspend the rules, viz: That only one motion to adjourn can be made before a question is put on motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill. The purpose of this amendment is to check dilatory motions.

LOOKS CONCILIATORY.

War Talk in Washington Subsiding, But Preparations Still Going On.

Dispatches of Wednesday state that the Chilean question is in a state of passivity. Congress is suspending judgement until the president's message is placed before it. The conservatives, who are in a large majority on this question, still believe that there will be no war. The president is daily receiving dispatches from Chile. He will incorporate any additional information in his message and submit it to the cabinet before sending it to congress. There is a decided diminution in the war talk around the navy department and a more peaceful feeling prevails. Secretary Tracy had a conference with Senators Cameron and McPherson, of the senate naval committee, and it is understood that the secretary laid before them a statement of expenditures he has recently incurred in his preparations for naval demonstration in the southern waters, and asked that when his estimates for appropriations should be submitted he receive the support of the committee. A week ago, he is alleged to have said, these preparations seemed to be absolutely necessary, but now he believes there will be no war. It is further understood that the secretary received the assurances of the committee that he would be supported in every proper and necessary expenditure involved in his precautionary movement. This expression on the part of the secretary of the belief that the crisis had been passed is taken as an indication that the conciliatory dispatches from the Chilean government referred to in Tuesday's report of the cabinet meeting, are regarded as paving the way for an ultimate act of reparation on the part of Chile. At all events, it is certain that the war-like tone recently manifested at the navy department has been considerably modified. No steps have been taken, however, to undo all that has been so hurriedly done by the department during the past few weeks to put this country on a fighting basis.

THURSDAY'S DISPATCHES.

Washington dispatches of Thursday say: The Chilean war cloud turns out its silver lining today. The women organizations of the country will present a peace memorial to congress if it is necessary and a democratic congress will place the request of several hundred thousand women ahead of the recommendations from the president. The president's message has scarcely been mentioned during the day, and it may not come before congress at all. Upon having his feelers report upon disposition of congress, he finds that body not half so warlike as they have been reported. The fear of being ditched by this practical body is making the president very careful.

SHOWING THE CHILEANS BRUTALITY.

A complete report of the testimony taken by Judge Remey into the attack on the Baltimore's sailors at Valparaiso, which was taken at Valle jo, has been received at the navy department. The copy is now in the possession of the president and will be transmitted to congress together with the Chilean correspondence. Some fifty of the sailors attacked by the mob were examined, and in their testimony agree that attacks were made in different parts of the town. All were treated with great brutality by the Chilean citizens, and even the police of whom they sought protection assaulted them. Several of the sailors, Johnson, Langen and Larsen, testified that the Chilean soldiers fired shots which killed Boatswain Mate Riggins. The testimony showed that many of the sailors were warned by friendly Chileans that the attack upon them was premeditated.

AFFAIRS IN CHILE.

Another dispatch of Thursday says: It is learned upon the highest authority that the reason for delay in sending to congress the Chilean correspondence is that the administration is advised that a cabinet crisis in Chile is imminent. Montt is in favor of a withdrawal of the Matta letter, through the publication throughout the world of an apology, this to be accompanied by full reparation to the United States. The Balmacedists, who are constantly plotting against Montt, have succeeded in stirring up such opposition to this course that Montt dare not act. He is confronted with two Lorns of a dilemma, and, according to the latest advices, he must choose between war with the United States and internal war, and is likely to select the former. Unless, therefore, there is a decided change in the situation, the message will be sent to congress on Monday.

BOIES INAUGURATED.

He Touches Upon Some Prohibition Questions in His Address.

Governor Horace Boies was inaugurated at Des Moines, Ia., Wednesday. In his inaugural address he acknowledged his gratitude to the people of the state for their continued confidence. "I cannot avoid the obedience that we legislate too much," was the first sentence of the address proper, and the governor proceeded to an arraignment of the prohibitory laws of the state as having failed of their purpose, being disregarded by entire communities, otherwise law-abiding, and as making crimes of acts regarded as innocent by the best people of the civilized world. He insisted that the people, in at least two gubernatorial elections, had repudiated prohibition, and urges its immediate repeal as the duty of both parties. He recommended the passage of the Australian ballot law; urged care and caution in dealing with corporations; advised reforms in assessment and taxation, and closed with an earnest appeal for patriotic and non-partisan legislation.

The Crank and the Dealer.

WILD-Eyed Crank—"Gimme some dynamite."

Dealer—"Yes, sir. How much, sir?"

Crank—"Enough to blow up a big building and kill everybody in it."

Dealer—"Yes, sir. You'll need about ten pounds, sir. Here you are, sir. One dollar, sir."

Crank—"Ain't got no dollar."

Dealer—"Then you can't have the dynamite."

Crank—"I've got the dynamite, an' if you don't shut up I'll throw it at you. See! Good mornin'."

Dealer (to himself)—"That fellow ought to be in the penitentiary. He's a bare-faced swindler."—New York Weekly.

Why Dick Took His Time.

Wife—"I wonder why little Dick doesn't come home. I want him to run on a lot of errands."

Husband—"Does he know it?"

Wife—"Yes; I told him before he went to school."

Husband (who was once a boy himself)—"You might have had more sense."—Street & Smith's Good News.

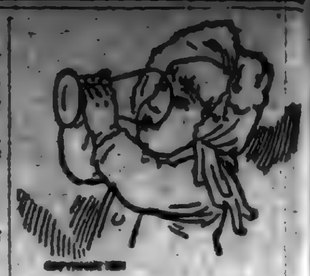
Careful Mother (severely)—"Mabel, I have discovered that you went with Mr. Nicefello to a restaurant after the opera the other night. When I asked you what made you so late, you said it was on account of the long waits."

Mabel—"Y-e-s, ma, the—the waits at the restaurant, you know."—New York Weekly.

MANY persons are broken down from overwork or bad blood cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. A splendid tonic for women and children.

Inquiring Child—Papa, why do people cry at weddings?

Papa—(abstractedly)—Most of 'em have been married themselves.



All gone—woman's suffering and woman's weakness. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription puts a stop to it. It's a remedy for all the delicate derangements and disorders that make her suffer, and a cure for all the diseases and disturbances that make her weak. It's a legitimate medicine, that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nervine that soothes and strengthens. For bearing-down pains, displacements, all the functional irregularities peculiar to the sex, it's a safe and certain remedy.

Other medicines claim to cure? That's true. But they don't claim to do this: if the Favorite Prescription fails to give satisfaction, in any case for which it's recommended, the money paid for it is refunded.

Judge for yourself which is likely to be the better medicine.

And think whether something else offered by the dealer is likely to be "just as good."

You pay only for the good you get. On these terms it's the cheapest.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

DONALD KENNEDY,

Of Roxbury, Mass., Says:

Strange cures cured by my Medical Discovery come to me every day. Here is one of Paralysis—Blindness—and the Grip. Now how does my Medical Discovery cure all these? I don't know, unless it takes hold of the Hidden Poison that makes all Disease.

VIRGINIA CITY, NEVADA, Sept. 8th, 1891.

DONALD KENNEDY—Dear Sir: I will state my case to you: About nine years ago I was paralyzed in my left side, and the best doctors gave me no relief for two years, and I was advised to try your Discovery, which did its duty, and in a few months I was restored to health. About four years ago I became blind in my left eye by a spotted cataract. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Discovery was the thing for me, so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye—perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Discovery they all left my right eye but one; and, thank God, the bright light of heaven is once more making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully astonished at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery.

Yours truly, HANK WHITE.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.

The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

HIGH FIVE OR EUCHRE PARTIES should send at once to JOHN SEBASTIAN, G. P. A. C., R. I. & P. R. R., Chicago. TEN CENTS, in stamps, per pack for the slickest cards you ever shuffled. For $1.00 you will receive free by express ten packs.

ASTHMA CURED FREE. TRIAL PACKAGE sent FREE. Address, with stamp, naming this paper, and we will mail trial. THE DR. TAFT BROS. M. CO., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.

DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

TRADE MARK

THE ONLY TRUE

Will purify BLOOD, regulate KIDNEYS, remove LIVER disorder, build strength, renew appetite, restore health and vigor of youth. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, that tired feeling absolutely eradicated. Mind brightened, brain power increased, bones, nerves, muscles receive new force. All suffering from complaints peculiar to their sex, using it find a safe, speedy cure. Returns rose bloom on cheeks, beauties Complexion. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent." Send 2c stamp for 32-page pamphlet.

LADIES

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

W. BAKER & CO.'S Breakfast Cocoa

from which the excess of oil has been removed,

Is absolutely pure and it is soluble.

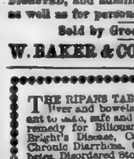
No Chemicals

are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

THE RIPANS TABULES regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, purify the blood, are pleasant to take, safe and always effectual. A reliable remedy for Biliousness, Blotches on the Face, Bright's Disease, Catarrh, Colic, Constipation, Chronic Diarrhœa, Chronic Liver Trouble, Pimples, Diseased Stomach, Disordered Stomach, Dyspepsia, Eczema, Flatulence, Female Complaints, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Fits, Jaundice, Kidney Complaints, Liver Trouble, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Nausea, Nettle Rash, Nervousness, Painful Digestion, Rush of Blood to the Head, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Scrofula, Sick Headache, Skin Diseases, Sour Stomach, Sour Feeling, Torpid Liver, Ulcers, Water Brash or symptoms resulting from impure blood or a failure in the proper performance of the functions of the stomach, liver and intestines. Persons given to over-eating are benefited by taking one tabule after each meal. A dose fitted in my left eye by a spotted cataract. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Discovery was the thing for me, so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye—perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Discovery they all left my right eye but one; and, thank God, the bright light of heaven is once more making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully astonished at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery.



Sold by druggists, or sent by mail, prepaid, at 50 cents a box. Five boxes, $2. Book, "Plain Home Talk," 168 pages, sent free. Address DR. RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, P. O. Box 626, New York.

PISO'S CURE FOR

Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.

CONSUMPTION

KING COTTON

Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES

$60 5-Ton Cotton Scale. NOT CHEAPEST BUT BEST.

For terms address JONES OF BINGHAMTON, BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 30c. a year. FREE Send for sample. Dr. J. R. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio

A. N. U. ..... Three, 1892.

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, CONSUMPTION AND

ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS,

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF

SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN

Is the BEST KNOWN REMEDY.

Ask your druggist or merchant for it, and take no substitute, as nothing else can take its place.

PIANOS

We send pianos on approval, returnable if unsatisfactory, railway freight both ways at our expense. Distance, even thousands of miles, makes no difference.—With our patent soft-stop the piano wears less and lasts longer; also is rendered practically noiseless, when desired, for practising.

We take old pianos as part pay, balance to suit reasonable convenience. Catalogue, etc., free. Write.

Ivers & Pond Piano Co., Boston.

All gone
Hering and woman's
r. Pierce's Favorite ts a stop to it. It's all the delicate del disorders that make a cure for all the disurbances that make s a legitimate medi-rects and cures; a igorates and builds
e that soothes and
For bearing-down
nents, all the func-
ities peculiar to the
and certain remedy.
ines claim to cure?
But they don't claim
the Favorite Pre-to give satisfaction,
r which it's recom-
oney paid for it is urself which is likely medicine.

ether something else
dealer is likely to be for the good you get.

it's the cheapest.

THE
ONLY TRUE
RON ONIC purify BLOOD, regulate SEYS, remove LIVER
ilor, build strength, renew etite, restore health and or of youth. Dyspepsia, digestion, that tired feeling absolutely eradicated.
Mind brightened, brain power increased, bone, nerves, muscles, receive new force.
ting from complaints pe-
to their sex, using it, and , speedy cure. Returns beautiful Complexion.
All genuine goods bear
2-cent stamp for 32-page
CINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.
L. PARIS, 1878.
BAKER & CO.'S kfast Cocoa om which the excess of oil has been removed,
absolutely pure and it is soluble,
Chemicals
ed in its preparation. It more than three times the gth of Cocoa mixed with
h. Arrowroot or Sugar,
s therefore far more eco-cal, costing less than one cup. It is delicious, nourg, strengthening, EASILY ably adapted for invalids
s in health.
ers everywhere.
., Dorchester, Mass.

THE ONLY TRUE CURE FOR ives and people
h lungs or Asth-
a Piso's Cure for
. It has cured
It has not injur-
not bad to take.
ough syrup.
where. 25c.
MPTION.

COTTON
otton on JONES
on Cotton Scale.
CHEAPEST and BEST.
For terms address
S OF BINGHAMTON,
NGHAMTON, N. Y.

ealth Helper shows 50c. a year
d for sample. Dr
H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N. Y.
FREE

ine Habit Cured in 10
ays. No pay till cured.
TEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.
.....Three, 1893.

AND LUNGS,
LLEIN MEDY.
ke no substitute,

OS
pproval, return-
ailway freight
se. Distance, makes no dif-
t soft-stop the longer; also is eless, when de-rt pay, balance
free. Write.
Boston.

CHILTON COUNTY

In the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 55 miles south of Birmingham and 49 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Proprietor. WEEKLY, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1892. NUMBER 14.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING

Notices Marked Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Deaths, Cards of Thanks, Resolutions of Respect, Etc., Etc., will be charged for accordingly.

Legal advertisements must be paid for when ordered by the year.

All the money is due up all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—The information furnished by the president would on Monday send to congress his anxiously looked for message relative to the Chilean troubles, had the effect of bringing to the capitol a large number of visitors. At precisely noon Speaker Crisp ascended to the chair and his colleagues, without regard to party, warmly greeted him as he reassumed the reins of authority, laid down so long on account of sickness. The chaplain in his prayer feelingly alluded to the death of Justice Bradley. During the call of the states, Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, appeared at the door of the house and was announced by the assistant doorkeeper. He delivered the message of the chief executive relating to the Chilean troubles, and the call having been suspended the message was immediately laid before the house. The buzz of conversation which usually pervades the chamber was instantly hushed and every member dropped the work upon which he was engaged and became an attentive listener. The spectators in the galleries evidently appreciated the gravity of the situation, and there was none of that noise which so frequently interrupts the deliberations of the house.

TUESDAY.—The debate over the rules in the house Tuesday was very much tamer than had been anticipated. Mr. Reed made a conservative speech in defense of the rules of the last congress. He simply claimed that they were the best, but made no vicious attack upon Speaker Crisp's new rules. In the allotment of time to the respective parties for debate, the third party was recognized. The democratic and republican parties were given three hours each for general debate, and to the third party one hour was alloted. A verry significant amendment to the new code of rules was offered by Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky. It read as follows: "Provided further, That whenever any general appropriation bill is nured conside ation it shall be in order to move as an amendment any amendment reducing taxation or providing out of what fund or taxes such appropriation shall be paid." This proviso Mr. Breckenridge proposed to add to the Holman rule, whose adoption was recommended by the rules committee, permitting riders on legislative or appropriation bills when in the interest of retrenchment. If enacted it would enable a complete tariff bill to be appended to any appropriation bill under consideration in the house. Mr. Breckenridge said that his resolution did not contemplate any move against the chairman of the ways and means committee. He said that he did not believe in legislation on appropriation bills, but was in favor of keeping appropriation bills confined to government expenditures strictly. During the debate on rules Mr. Sayres, of Texas, sprung the silver question upon the house by an amendment allowing the committee on coinage to report to the house at any time, and by giving its report precedence over other measures. That brought Mr. Bayner, of Maryland, to his feet, and he made a vigorous attack upon free coinage, taking occasion at the same time to eulogize Mr. Cleveland in the most flattering terms, and too speak out for him for president. Livingston, of Georgia, introduced the old subtreasury bill. He will not, however, agitate this question for the present. He wants the house to pass his resolution providing for an investigation of the financial affairs of the country, which will probably lead to a more practical solution of the problem. Senator Colquitt introduced a bill for the improvement of the Savannah river and harbor.

WEDNESDAY.—In the house, Wednesday, the discussion of the proposed code of rules was resumed, and Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, though in general advocacy of the proposed code, expressed himself as in favor appointing a "steering" committee of fifteen members, who should decide what measures should be brought to the attention of the house. This was too large a power to vest in the committee on rules. Mr. Otis, of Kansas, congratulated the country that for the first time a representative of the third party was permitted to occupy the floor of the house of representatives. That the third party claimed to be founded on equal rights, Jeffersonian doctrine; on the Washingtonian policy of Washington and upon the Abraham Lincoln idea of the superiority of labor over capital. He proceeded to criticise the rules as conferring dangerous power upon the speaker and upon the committee on rules. Mr. Watson, of Georgia, then took the floor, and was followed by several others. Mr. Martin, of Indiana, offered a resolution calling on the president to transmit to the house all correspondence had by him, by the secretary of state, by the secretary of war, by the secretary of the navy, by the United States minister to Chili and by all other public officials of the United States navy, with each other and with any public official of Chili upon matters concerning the republic of Chili during the Balmaceda regime and since the overthrow of that regime as to all matters of public affairs of both the United States and Chili growing out of or connected with the existence, beginning and overthrow of the Balmacedan regime and the establishment and continuance of the present government of Chili. Referred to the committee on foreign affairs. Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, introduced a bill providing that oleomargerine transported into any state or territory, or remaining therein for use, consumption, sale or storage, shall, upon arrival in such state or territory, be subject to the laws thereof in the exercise of its policy powers, in the same manner as though such oleomargerine had been produced in such state or territory, and shall not be exempt therefrom by being introduced in original packages or otherwise. Referred.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—At noon Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, appeared at the bar of the senate and delivered the message in relation to Chili, with a large package of copies of the correspondence on that subject. At 12:55, when the morning business was completed, the vice president presented the message, and it was read.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate Wednesday Mr. Morgan offered a resolution directing the secretary of state to send to the senate copies of the correspondence with the Chinese government, relating to the non-acceptance of Henry W. Blair, as United States minister to China. Mr. Blair had been confirmed instantly by the senate, and, so far as the senate was concerned, there had been the strongest affirmation of Mr. Blair's fitness to represent the United States government in China or anywhere else. The matter had lingered along for some time, and Mr. Blair had resigned the position. In view of the question now presented, alluding to the objection of the Chilian government to Mr. Egan, it was important to know what was the established line of procedure on the part of the United States. There was no more important question connected with the diplomatic service. Mr. Hoar stated that the attitude of the Chinese government might yet be changed, and the publication of what had been already said by its representative might interfere with that change. It seemed to him, therefore, that the senate should pursue the usual course of requesting the president to furnish the correspondence if he deemed it not incompatible with public interests. Mr. Morgan modified the resolution so as to request the president to furnish the correspondence, if not incompatible with public interests, and it was agreed to. The resolution heretofore reported by Mr. Hoar, from the committee on privileges and elections, declaring Mr. Chilton, of Texas, entitled to retain his seat in the senate, was taken up, discussed briefly and agreed to without division.

NOTES.

The senate on Wednesday confirmed the nomination of J. G. Harris, postmaster at Birnesville, Ga.

A colored delegation from South Carolina waited on the president Tuesday and urged the appointment of Dr. William B. Crumb as postmaster at Charleston, S. C., Dr. Crumb is a colored man.

Next Wednesday the house committee on agriculture will begin consideration of anti-option bills now before it. A number of communications, expressing a desire to be heard upon the bills, have been received by the committee from boards of trade and farmers' organizations.

The senate committee on privileges and elections held a meeting Saturday afternoon and decided by an almost unanimous vote to report in favor of Dubois in the contest of W. H. Clagett for the seat now occupied by the former in the United States senate. The committee also decided by a unanimous vote to report in the case of Senator Chilton, of Texas, that his appointment had been regular and in accordance with law and precedent.

Assistant Secretary Spaulding, of the treasury department, was before the ways and means committee of the house Saturday and made a statement of the financial condition of the treasury. He presented a long array of figures, showing the comparative receipts and expenditures of the government during the past year or two. The Secretary stated that the estimate of the river and harbor improvements next year was $40,000,000. He also stated that at the close of last month the treasury had paid upwards of $1,000,000 in sugar bounties.

The Associated Press, after adjournment, interviewed upwards of a hundred senators and representatives concerning the President's message on the Chilean situation. The senators were much more cautious about commenting on the message and the probable outcome than members of the house. But it was evident that party considerations did not bind the members of either house in their views, and that a decided majority was willing to sustain the president in upholding, with firmness and vigor, the position taken by this government. Many of them, in expressing their views, said it seemed to them that the United States had, in some respects, perhaps, not acted altogether in the right, but they said they had no doubt that much should be done by Chili, and that, in the end, she would comply with most of our demands. Of the message itself, the opinion of democrats and republicans alike was that it was a strong presentation of the case.

FIVE IN JAIL

Charged With the Murder of Dr. and Mrs. Barrett at Creswell.

A telegram from Griffin, Ga., says: There were sensational developments Friday in the now celebrated Barrett double murder case. Five persons were arrested for alleged complicity in the crime, and one of these was Mr. Will Nunnally, the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Barrett. The other four are negroes. Naturally, therefore, the greatest interest centered in the arrest of Nunnally—It was, in fact, the great sensation in the case.

Mr. Nunnally was carried to Atlanta, and is now in Fulton county jail. He strongly protests his innocence of any connection with the horrible crime.

TWO RELEASED.

A dispatch of Saturday states that Curran Barrett and Felix Watson after a preliminary hearing before Walter C. Beeks, judge of the county court at Griffin, were released, as no evidence was aduced to warrant their detention. There are yet three prisoners in custody and the officers declare that at least two or three are guilty of the commission of and complicity in the crime.

A FURNITURE TRUST

To Control the Manufacture and Prices of School Supplies.

The Grand Rapids Furniture Company at Grand Rapids, Mich., the largest manufacturers of school furniture in the world, has sold out to an organization of capitalists known as the United States Furniture Company, with headquarters in Chicago. This company, which is believed to be in the nature of a trust, already controls seven-eighths of the school furniture plants of the United States, and the capture of the Grand Rapids concern will practically give it control of the business. The capital of the United States company is $2,000,000, but the capital of the firms now in the combine aggregate $15,000,000.

TEXAS COTTON PLANTERS

Disgusted With the Situation and Future Outlook.

A dispatch of Monday from Dallas, Tex., says: At least 80 per cent. of the cotton crop has been marketed and it is thought that not more than ten per cent. remains at the gin houses. The planters have lost heavily upon it and are disgusted with the situation and the outlook. They loudly protest that they won't plant more than half what they did last year. The price now obtained is two cents below the actual cost of production per pound.

HOSPITALS ARE FULL

Of Unfortunates Wrestling With the Dreaded Grip.

Dispatches of Thursday state that the hospitals in the city of Paris, France, are crowded with patients suffering from influenza. The diseases prevails in a most dangerous form throughout the city, and the municipal authorities and assistance publique are making arrangements to convert available vacant buildings into hospitals. De Freycinet, minister of war, will be asked to allow the barracks on the outskirts of the city to be used as infirmaries. There is a great increase in the number of deaths resulting from the disease.

THE GRIP IN PARIS.

The Hospitals Overcrowded and Fatalities Increasing.

A cablegram of Tuesday says: The epidemic of influenza prevailing in Paris has increased the weekly mortality by one hundred daily. All the hospitals of the city are so crowded with patients as a result of the epidemic of influenza that there is no room for new sufferers, and the municipal authorities have been compelled to ask the government to provide the use of vacant barracks as temporary hospitals for the large number of afflicted persons seeking relief.

CHILI APOLOGIZES.

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT CAN DECIDE

Or Some Neutral Nation Can Arbitrate the Matter.

A cablegram of Monday from Santiago de Chile says: The Chilean government has sent her reply to the ultimatum of the United States. The reply is in effect as follows:

Chile agrees to withdraw the offensive note sent by Senor Matte to all Chilean ministers abroad, and acknowledges that its issuance was due to an error of judgment.

Chile also withdraws its request for the withdrawal of United States Minister Egan.

A FAIR PROPOSITION.

In addition to this, the Chilean government, in its answer, proposes that the affair of the attack on the Baltimore sailors in Valparaiso, be submitted to the arbitration of some neutral nation.

THE SUPREME COURT CAN ARBITRATE.

If this proposition is not acceptable to the United States government the Chilean government suggests that the matter be submitted to the decision of the supreme court of the United States.

IN A DILEMMA.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says: President Harrison and President Montt are both in positions of personal embarrassment. If President Harrison should accept the the Chilian apology as it is, with the insinuations that are going the rounds, he would not be applauded very vigorously by the country. Then if President Montt should make an humble and complete apology, he would find his colors trailing in the dust, and perhaps awake some bright morning to find himself a statesman out of a job. Thus it will be seen there is a new phase upon the situation. It is as serious now as it appeared Monday. Indeed, the prospects of war, which seemed to have completely vanished are reappearing, and no one is willing to venture a prediction now, but all agree that were personal ambitions eliminated from the situation, peace would be a certainty.

DISCUSSED BY THE CHILIAN LEGISLATURE.

The question of the relations between Chili and the United States came up in the chamber of deputies at Santiago Tuesday. Deputy Jordan brought the matter before the chamber. He said much alarm and concern existed in the public mind relative to the condition of affairs between the two countries. He thought that the ministers should make some definite statement about the matter. The fact that, in his opinion, the United States was a great nation, honorable and just in its dealings, was emphasized and he could not believe that there was any desire on her part to humiliate Chili. He felt positive of her good intentions and urged the chamber to remember the position which she assumed when the French occupied Mexico. To the United States, continued Senor Jordan, Chili and all the smaller South American republics must look for protection in the expounding and enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. Chili, he felt sure, ought to meet the demands made upon her in a friendly manner and acknowledge with regret the unfortunate occurrence of which complaint is made.

FAVORABLE TO THE UNITED STATES.

The general sentiment of the chamber was favorable to the sentiments expressed by Senor Jordan. In reply to Senor Jordan's interpolation, Minister Pereira stated that an answer to the ultimatum of the United States had been sent to the American minister, Mr. Egan, which he hoped and believed would prove satisfactory to the United States.

THE REPLY NOT SATISFACTORY.

Washington dispatches received Wednesday state that so far as can be learned at this time, no instructions have yet gone to Minister Egan respecting the reply of Chili to the note of the United States of the 21st instant. The reply, as stated, is unsatisfactory for the reason that it contains nothing definite on the subject of an apology for the assault upon the Baltimore's sailors, although Senor Pereira, minister of foreign affairs, says the Chilian government deplores its occurrence, as it has in the past.

The effort to refer the case to the United States supreme court for arbitration is said to relate only to the amount of indemnity to be paid.

As to the withdrawal of the Matta circular, the note of December 11th, the reply points to no question of importance that demands that the disapproval of the government terms contained in it be made of public and as general as was the circulation of the note originally. The recall of Minister Egan is regarded by Minister Blaine as the most important point involved in the Chilian reply.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE CULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

The emperor's birthday was celebrated throughout Germany Wednesday.

The new khedive of Egypt took the oath of allegiance Tuesday at Cario.

A dispatch of Wednesday from Aurora, Ill., says that there are over a thousand cases of grip in that city.

A dispatch of Tuesday says: The New York democratic state convention has been called to meet on February 23d in Albany.

Dispatches of Wednesday state that matters in the famine-stricken districts of Russia are reported as growing from bad to worse.

All of the switchmen on the Chicago and Erie railroad at Huntington, Ind., went out on a strike Tuesday, and no freight is being handled.

Whitelaw Reid, United States minister to France, has been confined to his residence in Paris for past week by a slight attack of influenza.

Burglars made a rich haul Monday night on the Union bank of Wilton, Ia. They opened the safe, and got away with $4,000 in paper, silver and gold.

The street car strike in Pittsburg continues. Friday night the strikers attacked every car that went out of the shed. Several arrests were made.

The Manchester Guardian says the market for yarns and fabrics has been unsettled, owing to the renewed weakness in the price of cotton at Liverpool.

After being out three and a half hours, the jury in the famous criminal libel suit of Senator Quay against the Pittsburg Post brought in a verdict of guilty Friday.

A cablegram of Wednesday from Paris is to the effect that the French government will ask a credit of $700,000 to enable France to participate in the Chicago world's fair.

A Chicago dispatch says: The site for the Chilean government building at the world's fair was approved Monday. It is on the main driveway. Sites for seven other Central and South American governments were also approved.

A London cablegram of Wednesday says: The Rev. Mr. Spurgeon's condition has become worse, and fears are entertained for his recovery. A doctor is in constant attendance. He is suffering from an attack of gout in the head and hand.

The twelfth annual meeting of the National Farmers' Alliance began its session at Chicago Wednesday, with an attendance of about one hundred members. President Powers says the meeting has no political significance, being merely a business one.

A Washington telegram of Tuesday says: It is ascertained on the best authority that Whitelaw Reid, minister to France, is seriously contemplating his resignation in order to resume his journalistic life. The state department, it is understood, has been advised to this effect.

A St. Petersburg cablegram of Friday says: During service in a church at Slobodskoi, in the government of Viatka, the roof gave way and fell upon the worshipers beneath. The wreckage was soon cleared away, when it was found that fifty persons had been either killed or injured.

A New York dispatch says: The tug Webster and four scows containing street cleaning refuse were blown out to sea beyond Sandy Hook, Wednesday, and a heavy off shore gale has blown ever since. It is scarcely possible that they are still afloat, and the ten men on the tug and the eight on the scows are supposed to be drowned.

A dispatch of Wednesday from Pittsburg, Pa., says: James Peck, a south side newsdealer, was fined $25 and cost for selling newspapers on Sunday. Eight others, charged with the same offense, were held for a later hearing. The information was made by the Law and Order League under the blue laws of 1794. The cases will be appealed.

A Paris cablegram of Tuesday says: Cardinal Lavigerie, archbishop of Algiers, has written a letter in which he announces adhesion to the joint encyclical just issued by the archbishops of Paris, Toulouse, Rheims, Lyons and Rouen, congratulating that the country has become orthodox. The movement of the past thirteen months has made quite a mile in the religious sky as it passes.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK.

Dun & Co., Give a Bright View of Trade Throughout the Country.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the week ending Jan. 29, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States 274, and for Canada 54; total 328, against 280 last week. Report from cities outside of New York shows some increase in trade as well as great confidence in the future. At Philadelphia, increasing sales are seen in dry goods; large orders reported for nails, and general improvement in hardware and better orders for iron have caused additional furnaces to begin blast. At Charleston some improvements is seen, though large supplies of cotton are still on hand.

THE PRECIOUS METALS.

The output of precious metals in 1891 has been surpassed in only two years, according to Wells-Fargo's statement, amounting to $81,975,994 in gold, $60,614,094 in silver, $13,261,663 in copper, and $13,385,780 in lead. The Mexican output of silver was $42,000,000. Annual reports of many other industries show that the production in 1891 has rarely, if ever, been equaled, and the new year begins with no prospect of a decrease in any important industry. The reduction of rate by the Bank of England from 3½ to 3 per cent shows the confidence that prevails in foreign money markets.

Reports from all money centers show ample supplies, an easier market and, except at the south, a comparatively light demand, with fair or good collections. The enormous excess of exports still continuing leads many to believe that more gold must soon be imported.

The industries are remarkably well employed for the season and the movement of crops is still large, and reports from every part of the country express even greater confidence than before in the prospects for trade. The market for products has been undisturbed by speculation, which is held in check by enormous supplies. Wheat advanced 1½ cents and receipts at the west have been lighter owing to the severe weather, but exports continue large. Corn is coming forward freely and has declined 1¼ cents, and the exports for the week will probably be heavy. Oats are a quarter lower, but pork products a shade stronger. Oil has declined one-half, and coffee advanced a quarter. Increasing strength is reported in markets for iron and steel products.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Speculation in cotton has taken courage from the fact that receipts have recently declined at some points largely, and the price has advanced a sixteenth during the week and a quarter above the lowest point, 7⅞, was touched. Spot interior sales last week footed up 200,000 bales at New York, and the improving market caused a better tone in many southern points.

CYRUS FIELD DYING.

After a Brave Fight Death Must Soon Relieve Him.

A New York telegram of Saturday says: Cyrus W. Field is rapidly sinking and will not live until daylight.

Cyrus W. Field, whose end now has attracted such widespread sympathy, comes of a family which has had its famous men in every generation for nearly four centuries. The first American ancestor of the family came to Boston shortly after the landing of the Mayflower, coming from a family in England of illustrious reputation. From him the Field family traced direct descent.

THE mileage accounts of Congressmen are now being paid. Representative Geary, of Santa Rosa, Cal., traveled the greatest distance, 3836 miles, and drew mileage amounting to $1,305.80, and Mr. Barnes Compton, of Laurel, Md., the shortest, only eighteen miles, with mileage at $7.80.

ATLANTA MARKETS.

CORRECTED WEEKLY.

Groceries.

Coffee—Roasted—Arbuckle's 19½c @ 160 lb, cases 19½c; Lovering's 19c. Green—Extra choice 21c; choice good 19c; fair 18c; common 16½c. Sugar—Granulated 4½c; off granulated —c; powdered 5½c; cut loaf 5½c; white extra C 4½c; New Orleans yellow clarified 4¼c; yellow extra C 4c. Syrup—New Orleans choice 45@50; prime 35@40c; common 30@35c. Molasses—Genuine Cuba 35@38c; imitation 25@28. Teas—Black 25@65c; green 40@60c. Nutmegs 75@80c. Cloves 20@30c. Cinnamon 10@12½c. Allspice 10@12½c. Jamaica ginger 18c. Rice—Choice 6@7c; good 5c; common 5½@6c; imported Japan 6@7c. Salt—Hawley's dairy $1 50; Virginia 75½c. Cheese—Full cream, Cheddars 13c; flats 12c; skim ——. White fish, half bbls $4 00; pails 60c. Soaps—Tallow, 100 bars, 75 lbs $3 00@3 75; turpentine, 60 bars, 60 lbs, $2 00@2 25; tallow, 60 bars, 60 lbs $2 25@2 50. Candles—Paraffine 12c; star 10½c. Matches—400s $4 00; 300s $3 00@3 75; 200s $2 00@2 75; 60s, 5 gross $2 75. Soda—Kegs, bulk 5c; 1 lb packages, 1 lb 5½c, 40 1 and 2 lbs 6c, 20 4 lb 6½c. Crackers—XXX soda 6½c; XXX butter 6½c; XXX pearl oysters 6c; shell and sweetlet 7½c; cream cream 9c; XXX ginger snaps 9c; cornhills 6c. Candy—Assorted stick 6½c; French mixed 12½c. Canned goods—Corn—red cobs $6 00@8 00; limits with marks of $5 00@6 00; salmon $6 00@7 50; F. W. oysters $2 20c——; L. W. $1 40; corn $2 00@3 75; tomatoes $1 10@1 30. Ball potash $3 20. Starch—Pearl 6½c; lump 6½c; nickel packages $3 50; cabinet $5 00. Pickles, plain or mixed, pints $1 00@1 60; quarts $1 50@1 80. Powder—Rifle, kegs $5 50; ½ kegs $3 00; ¼ kegs $1 65. Shot $1 70 per sack.

Flour, Grain and Meal.

Flour—First patent $4 60; second patent $4.00; extra fancy $4.75; fancy $4 25; family $3 50@3 60. Corn—No. 2 white 60, mixed 58c. Oats—Mixed (new) white 40c; Kansas (new) 38c. Hay—Choice timothy, large bales, $16 00 @16; No. 1 timothy, large bales, $15; clover timothy, small bales, $14; No. 1 timothy, small bales, $13; No. 2 timothy, small bales, $12. Meal—Plain 60c; bolted 50c. Wheat bran—Large sacks $1 05; small sacks $1 07. Cotton seed meal—$1 20 per cwt. Cotton seed hulls—$1 00 per cwt. Chicken feed—$1.05 per cwt. Cracked feed $1.05.

Produce, Provisions.

Eggs 18c. Irish potatoes—Western, prime 45@50c; choice Tennessee Rivers 40@45c. Live poultry—Turkeys 12@13c; hens 18@20c; spring chickens 20@25c; young ducks 20@25c; old ducks 15@20c. Dressed poultry—Turkeys 13@14c; hens 15@16c; spring chickens 20@25c; young ducks 20@25c; old ducks 15@20c. Irish potatoes $2 00@2 50 per bbl. Cabbage $1.00 per cwt. Onions $2.00 per bbl.

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., FEB. 4, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 50
One copy four months 35

NOTICE.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Chilton county are called to meet at the court house in Clanton on Saturday, the 20th day of February, 1892, at 12 o'clock, to attend to important business. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

J. H. BOSTWICK, Chairman.
W. E. STEWART, Sec'y.

The Bluffton Mascott says: "The Michigan editors wisely declined Anniston's invitation to visit that city." The editor of the Mascott no doubt experienced Anniston's Yankee spirit of selfishness at the Alabama Press Association last year.

The Birmingham News evidently believes that poverty is the price of idleness. It says: "Quit talking 'hard times' and get a hustle on you. There is plenty of money and plenty of business in this great and glorious land, but a man with a 'torpid liver' will never get any of it."

Since Judge J. R. Dowdell, of the Fifth Circuit, has announced his candidacy for the Supreme Court bench, candidates for his position have become very numerous. Those mentioned are Messrs. Mac A. Smith, of Autauga, N. D. Denson, of Chambers, and Thos. L. Bulgor. There may be others to enter the race. These are all lawyers of well known ability and reputation, and either of them would do credit to themselves on the bench.—Advertiser.

Chilton county in the next State Democratic convention will have but five votes, a loss of one vote since the last convention. Chilton will have equal representation with the following counties, some of which are considerably larger in population: Autauga, Blount, Colbert, Dale, DeKalb, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Macon, Pickens, Russell and Walker. Our vote will be greater than that of Baldwin, Bibb, Choctaw, Clay, Cleburne, Coffee, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Cullman, Escambia, Fayette, Franklin, Geneva, Limestone, Marion, Randolph, St. Clair, Washington or Winston.

The Centreville Express thus remarks upon the removal of that excellent gentleman, Mr. Sam H. Gist, from Centreville:

We regretted to see Sam H. Gist, a brother newspaper man, and his family, leave Centreville Tuesday morning, and we know as well as himself why he left. Sam ran the Bibb Blade in this county for nearly a dozen years, a portion of the time in Centreville, and it was here where he was forced to the wall. The people here would not support the paper, and when the old man and wife drove out of town in a lumber wagon, all caused from the lack of a spark of enterprise on the part of the business men of Centreville, we glanced at our future and shuddered. That you have gone, Sam, to where your old declining days will be more appreciated, we believe and hope; at any rate, you will be where the life of a fellow-being is worth more than a hound pup.

Bro. Gist deserved a better fate at the hands of his home people and we trust that he will met with better fortune in Calera.

A friend writes to know why the VIEW does not speak out for Governor Jones. There is only one reason. It is that a newspaper campaign cannot do the Governor the least bit of good. He must come into the county and face the people and talk to them himself if he would reach them and convince them of the justness of his claims for a re-nomination. It is a lamentable fact, that there are voters enough in our county who are unable to read to hold a balance of power and control the politics of the county by throwing their votes solidly for that man who gains their sympathy and approval. It is hardly necessary to add that they are Democrats, according to a ruling of the State Executive Committee, and that they are just now sympathizing with Mr. Kolb, because he and his friends have been at work among them. We have been told by some of the Jones men here that anything the press might say in the Governor's behalf would be perverted and misrepresented to these voters.

HON. GASTON ROBBINS.

The above named gentleman having been announced for Congress in this district, we republish in this issue some newspaper comments upon his candidacy. Mr. Robbins, with the support of the great county of Dallas will make a formidable competitor for the high honor of representing our district in congress. He is well and favorably known not only in the district but over the entire State. He is a lawyer of ability, a gentleman by nature and education, and a Democrat whose record is without blemish, and whose party service will speak for him in other counties of the district than his own. Should Mr. Robbins secure the nomination, and be elected, our district would be ably represented.

Hon. N. D. Denson for Circuit Judge.

The Judgeship of this, the Fifth Circuit, seems to be attracting much and well deserved attention. It is an honorable and important position.

Of the candidates whom the VIEW has been called upon to announce for the office, none of them stand higher as a lawyer and a true Democrat than Hon. N. D. Denson, of Chambers. Mr. Denson is from a family of able lawyers, and while we have not the honor of his acquaintance, we have heard him spoken of as a man of much modesty and of equal merit and capacity as any of the numerous able members of the bar for which the Fifth Circuit is noted. Speaking of him the Roanoke Herald says:

Hon. J. R. Dowdell is a candidate for a place on the Supreme bench, and the Democracy of Alabama will doubtless recognize his fine ability and special fitness for the position he asks.

And the 5th Circuit will need a man who can worthily wear the ermine after Dowdell, Lapsley and Cobb. He should be a ripe lawyer of distinguished ability. That his integrity, his love of justice should be above reproach is of course essential. Solid, rock-like integrity, legal lore, love of justice should be combined in the just and upright man who is placed in judicial position. We find this rare combination in Hon. N. D. Denson, of Chambers. Every lawyer in the Circuit can speak to his ability, and his integrity and love of justice cannot be questioned. We name him because his ability and fitness defy criticism and because the Judiciary of Alabama holds high place in the annals of the American bar and the standard ought not to be lowerd.

The State Committee.

The State Democratic executive committee met on the 26th inst., and decided upon Montgomery as the place and the 8th of June as time for holding the next State Convention. The same basis of representation was adopted as has always prevailed—the Democratic vote for Governor at the last preceding election. The basis gives Chilton five delegates. The action of the committee in instructing that no pro rate of the vote for candidates be had in any county hereafter, caused some fast and furious "kicking" among some members of body. It cannot be reasonably said that the committee has transcended its authority. If it has no authority to prescribe rules and regulations its duties are of no consequence to the party, and could be transacted by one man as well as by a committee.

An important decision reached is to the effect that only those voters should be allowed to participate in Democratic primary elections who have habitually voted the Democratic State and National tickets, and who intend to support the nominees of the party.

The committee has done some work that other State committees have not done, for lack of courage. For that it is to be commended, and its work will receive the endorsement of the party.

The Kolb men in Chilton confidently claim the county, and we presume will be glad to know of the ruling against a pro rate of the vote. It is to be expected that consistency and right will impell them to accept the other rulings relating to giving thirty days notice and the definition of a democratic voter. A contest in the State Convention would thus be avoided.

Hon. Reuben Dowdell, of LaFayette, Ala., is a candidate for Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of that State. He has his illustrious father's name and is one of the purest and ablest judges on the bench of a State noted for the high character of its judiciary. The writer knows him well, esteems him highly, and hopes he will "get there."—LaGrange (Ga.) Reporter.

Democratic Platform.

The State Executive Committee of the Democratic party adopted the following resolution at their meeting in Montgomery on Tuesday:

"Any person who voted the Democratic ticket at the last State and National elections or who, having been prevented from or failing to vote in said election, and has heretofore habitually voted the Democratic ticket and who is in accord with and intends to support the nominees of the party, will be entitled to vote in the primary election and participate in the different conventions of the party; provided this resolution shall not apply to conventions or primaries already held."

Resolution was also passed to the effect that a majority of any county convention should elect delegates to the state convention, said delegates to cast their votes for any candidate they saw proper, unless otherwise instructed by a majority of the county convention. In counties where primaries are held, the persons receiving the highest number of votes for delegates to the state convention shall be the delegates, shall cast their votes as they deem proper, unless otherwise instructed by a majority of the democrats voting at said primary election.

This resolution settles the pro rate question. There must be no more of it in the present campaign, for Governor, at least. It is all, or none.

The Committee further resolved that no county convention, beat meetings or primary election shall be held for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention without giving at least thirty days notice of the time of holding said convention, beat meetings or primary election.

It was also decided that in the counties where conventions are held to select delegates to the State convention, the representation from each beat shall be in proportion to the democratic strength of such beat, provided each beat shall be entitled to at least one vote.

Eight of the twenty-four members of the Committee entered a protest against the passage of several of the above resolutions.

HON. GASTON A. ROBBINS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

Selma Journal.

The Journal has frequently made allusion to the different candidates for Congress from the new Fourth District but has only mentioned casually the name of one of Dallas county's prominent candidates.

We refer to Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, a young but prominent representative man of Alabama.

He is the son of as brave a soldier as ever drew sword in defence of a country's right. Captain Julius A. Robbins was among the first to answer the call for volunteers when Alabama seceded from the Union, and commanded a company of citizens from Dallas county and the vicinity of Birmingham. At Mt. Sterling just before the surrender he was killed while leading a calvary charge made by a division of the brigade of Gen. John H Morgan. The valor of the "Robbins Boys" is well known to the soldiers of Alabama and especially to the remnant of the gallant old Fourth Alabama.

Gaston Robbins is the only male representative of the family now living in Alabama.

He graduated at Chapel Hill, the University of North Carolina and was granted a license to practice law by the Supreme Court of the State, but he returned to the home of his father and began the practice of his chosen profession.

In 1881 he became the editor of the Southern Argus, which paper afterwards became the Times-Argus.

In 1884 Gaston Robbins was elected the presidential elector from the Fourth District, and had the privilege of voting for the first Democratic President of the United States after the war.

Since that time he has applied himself closely to his profession, and now asks honors at the hands of his people. Though only thirty-three years of age his ability is unquestionable and should the district select him as their representative in the Fifty-third Congress Alabama will have a champion and the Fourth District a legislator to be proud of.

A Georgia farmer clears $1700 a year on a 140 acre farm, and does not plant a seed of cotton. He raises a diversity of crops and runs a dairy and poultry farm.

Mr. Gaston A. Robbins, of Dallas is a candidate for Congress in the fourth district. Mr. Robbins is a lawyer of ability and of the highest character, and his record as a democrat is as clear and bright as the noon-day sun. He would make an able representative of the fourth district in congress, and is worthy of any trust his people may repose in him.—Montgomery Journal.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins is announced as a candidate for Congress in the Fourth Congressional District. Mr. Robbins is a working Democrat and lives in Selma, where he occupies an honorable position at the bar. He was a Cleveland elector in 1884 and has been spoken of as a candidate for Attorney-General. He is a clean, able man and will make a strong race.—Age-Herald.

Tuskaloosa county Alliance refused to endorse candidates for the offices. A wise step.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price fifty cents.

A Bill With and $20.

This is what every Agent receives who gets up a club on our $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Eight or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $20 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they didn't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO.,
48 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 28, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 6, 1892, viz: James A. Mims, homestead 19181 for the n ½ of n e ¼, s e ¼ of n e ¼ and n e ¼ of s e ¼ of 14, t 22 n, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: William H. Parrish, James M. Parrish, Anderson Baker, Sr., and Nathan Minor, all of Clanton, Ala.

dec31o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 19, 1891.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on February 5, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2387 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land viz: Daniel Z. Merchant, James Nix, Squire Waldrop, and Zach Jones, all of Randolph, Ala.

dec31o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

LADIES

Feeling a tonic, or children who want building up, should take BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Subscribe for this paper.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.

DRY GOODS
—AND—
-CARPETS-

NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.

LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT.
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

SHORTHAND Thorough, Practical Instruction. Graduates assisted to positions. Catalogue free. Write to BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Publishing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, BANK BILLS, CHECKS, and all classes of LETTER, BILL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee good work and prices down to any figures.

Hats, Caps & Gents' Furnishing Goods, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

Birmingham Paint and Glass Co.

Jobbers of and Dealers in

Paints, Oils & Glass

PLATE AND WINDOW GLASS, HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINTS,
COLORED & ENAMEL GLASS, BENT SHOW CASE GLASS,
MIRROR PLATES, BUGGY PAINTS, VARNISH & BRUSHES.

1916, 1918 and 1920 THIRD AVE., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS
And Musical Merchandise
Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

1891. 1892.
Farmers' Alliance Exchange,
Union Warehouse Co.
Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants.
OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtained for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.
sep17 F. H. MERRITT, Manager.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.

In selecting a company in which to insure, why not take the best instead of being persuaded by the eloquence of representatives of weaker companies to take what is less advantageous? It is the company, not the agent, with whom the assured must deal after the policy is once taken. It is the company, not the agent that pays the dividends and meets claims when they mature. It costs no more to assure in the best and strongest company than any other established on a sound business basis; therefore, we again ask, WHY NOT TAKE THE BEST?

The Equitable Life Assurance Society
Does a Larger Business,
Holds a Larger Surplus,
Gives a Better Contract.
And Pays its Losses more promptly than any other Life Assurance Society in the World.

C. J. B'CARY, GENERAL AGENT.
—BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—
O. C. BAILEY, District Agent, Clanton, Ala.

GO TO BLANK BROS. LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 2ND AVENUE BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., FEB. 4, 1892.

MONTGOMERY & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Pass'r stop	7:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	2:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	4:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Pass	9:33 a. m.
No. 4 Express	0:01 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:00 p. m.

Nos 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mr. W. L. Sampey is having his store painted.

Mrs. W. H. Fashoe visited Lily neighborhood last week.

The Methodist quarterly conference meets here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holly took a trip up to Hartselle recently.

Mrs. W. A. Collier spent several days in Montgomery this week.

Mr. Nolen will move into the residence of the late Mrs. McRee.

The VIEW is adding new names to its subscription list every day.

Tom Thornton, formerly of Clanton, is now at Cameron, Indian Territory.

We have heard of but little sickness in the community compared to last winter.

Since the weather has the promise of spring a great deal of gardening is being done.

Mr. W. J. Vankirk, the great Florida "boomer," was in Clanton Monday for a few hours.

Mrs. Chas. P. Jones, of Montgomery, is visited her father at the Misses Duke's House Tuesday.

Mr. O. P. Bentley and family leave for Goodwater to-day where they will reside in the future.

From the number of drummers seen on the streets, it looks as if business is picking up considerably.

Rev. A. E. Burns preached at the Baptist Church on last Thursday night. The church thinks of calling him as pastor.

Miss Minnie Phillips gave a masquerade party Tuesday night. Quite a number of young people spent a most delightful evening as Miss Minnie proved a model hostess.

Miss Minnie Hester had her young friends to a sociable Friday night at her home, where the evening was pleasantly spent with music and games to add interest to the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Smith, of the Episcopal church, failed to fill his appointment at Clanton last Sunday on account of sickness. We are requested to announce that if nothing interferes he will hold services here on Friday night.

We are glad to be able to state that Mr. W. H. Merritt will continue in business at Clanton, and upon his "own hook." We hope he will meet with the liberal success which such an enterprising and public spirited citizen so well deserves.

The types made us speak of an old time friend in last issue as possessed of unusual "versality." What that is we don't know, but we have long known the gentleman referred to as one of uncommon versatility. Being unable to read the proof sheets we apologize for numerous other typographical errors in our last issue.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Our farmers are rattled, our merchants are rattled, the women folks are discomboberated by the hard times, but all the same ye rural newspaper man marches seriously on, by the free pass, to glory and renown; he has never known anything but hard times, and the slight change in the temperature of his normal condition only makes him take a new grip on the fat of his thumb. — Aberdeen (Miss.,) Weekly.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, it is general debility. Try
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

Honor Roll.

At the Public School for two weeks.

2nd Grade—

Anna Lake Phillips, Sam Stapfield, Wilbur Pinkard, Clifford Gullahorn.

3rd Grade—

Eza Hunt, Lula Dudley, Mollie Vines, Rush Vines, Jessie Ray, Preston McCrary.

4th Grade—

Maud Robberts.

5th Grade—

Mamie Nelson, Belle Athey, Tommie Kemp, Napoleon Johnson.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Lily Dots.

The roads have dried off considerably during the past week.

The pleasant weather of the past week was a welcome change from the cold weather of a few weeks past. For it really seemed that the north pole had come down south for its health.

Mr. W. B. Bazemore is confined to his room with grippe.

Mr. J. J. Veazey is still very low with pneumonia. We long to see him well again.

Mrs. F. W. Wright who has been sick for the past two weeks is now improving.

Jas. Sewell, of Selma, was up last week on business.

Mr. L. Jones has moved his family on Dr. Johnson's place, which he has rented for this year.

Several of our citizens attended court in Birmingham last week.

Mr. John Kemp has moved his family to Mr. Lee Hayes' place near Lily.

CLINT.

Verbena Views.

Rev. A. E. Burns and wife, of Jemison, have been visiting the family of Rev. J. M. McCord.

Mr. Robert Fitzpatrick, of Elmore, has been visiting friends in our city.

Mr. B. H. Oliver has been visiting friends in Coosa. Mr. Arch Bentley, of Rockford, returned home with him.

Rev. J. M. McCord, and Mr. W. B. Strock have been attending a Baptist district meeting in Autauga.

Mr. John Hill, of Autauga, who is attending school here has the sympathy of this community in the sad loss of his brother, Mr. Will Hill, who died at his home on the evening of the 29th with grippe.

Young ladies! don't forget this is Leap Year. We have some old batchelors here yet.

Major J. C. Gibson, has been confined to his room for several days with grippe, but we hope he will be out soon.

Our popular young merchant, Mr. D. I. Denmus, has gone to Prattville on business. If Madame Rumor is correct that "set of furniture" will soon be in use.

Miss Anna Logan is visiting friends in Jemison.

The young ladies are having a nice time horse back riding.

Our esteemed friend, Mr. P. M. Moore, of south west Chilton, visited our city this week.

The Persuasive Book Agent.

Book Agent—Can't I sell you a copy of the "Exploration of the Holy Land?"

Hostetter McGinnis—"I can't read."

"But your wife might want to read it."

"She can't read, either."

"How about your children? They can read, can't they?"

"Not a word."

"Well, you keep a cat don't you?"

"Yes, but the cat can't read either."

"I know that, but you need something to throw at the cat, and this book is just the right size."—Texas Siftings.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

As hens require carbonate and phosphate of lime for their shells, it must be given to them in unstinted quantities, and in the most convenient manner for them to pick and swallow into their crops. These requirments will be found in old plastering, broken oyster shells, and best of all, in fresh bones, with some of the gristle and meat attached.

A Little Girl's Experience In A Light House.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the government lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a dreadful cough, and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you get a trial bottle free.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The County Democracy.

This body met at the courthouse on Tuesday, and endorsed the following candidates for the various county offices:

Representative—O. M. Martin.

Probate Judge—B. M. Haneycutt.

Circuit Clerk—J. T. Vanderveer.

Sheriff—P. M. Moore.

Tax-Assessor—E. G. Rollins.

Tax-Collector—B. M. Gentry.

Treasurer—J. M. Parrish.

There were also endorsements for county commissioners, but we did not learn their names.

Health Notes.

It is well, as far as possible, to avoid dosing with expectorant medicines, as they irritate and offend the stomach, and rarely do any good; the cough cannot be prevented; it is Nature's way of throwing off offending matter from the lungs. Rational living is the best remedy and alleviation.

Damp situations are entirely unsuitable as buildings sites. Residence long continued in a damp atmosphere is a powerful influence toward developing scrofulous disease. Persons who are obliged by force of circumstances to live in such a locality should have their living-rooms and sleeping-rooms up-stairs and go out into the sunshine as much as possible.

Pork, whether fresh, salted or smoked, should be thoroughly cooked, for it is well known that it is especially liable to be infested to speak not too strongly on the subject, with parasites, the most dreaded of which is the trichina spiralis. Tapeworm also comes from infested pork. All meat is, in fact, the better for being thoroughly cooked.

Many people advocate the shower bath, but few constitutions can stand it; in fact, it is highly dangerous to many persons of weakly habit, for they have no reactive power. Says a clever writer on this subject: "Every change in our growth and development is slow and gradual. If Nature approved of sudden changes she might make a man bald in a single night. We cannot stand shocks, and I don't believe we were ever intended to.

Freckles are considered a great disfigurement by their unhappy possessors, and sometimes when they are very numerous and dark in color, they really are. The best way is to keep from having them by wearing a green veil. Do not keep out of the sun and air, however; it is better to have freckles to have them than to lose the benefits from sunshine and pure air.

Five Cent Cotton.

And still it drops lower and lower. A gentleman of Lowndes county recently sold 20 bales of cotton in Montgomery of last year's crop at less than five cents per pound, after holding it for a year and paying storage, insurance and commissions. Numbers of our best business men confess that it is more than probable that the price of the present crop will not touch bottom until it reaches five cents. The question now is, what are we going to do about it? This is a question that each individual must decide for himself. The true plan is to quit trying to make money and go to work to make or raise what we buy with money. That will solve the problem. With more grain, grass and live stock, and an abundance of fruit, vegetables and other provision crops there will be but little need for money, and those who have the money will be stripped of their power to corner the products and control prices.—Selma Mirror.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Butler county instructed its delegates to the State convention to vote for Jones. A split resulted.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. Aug14-y

BRASSVILLE, ALA., Jan. 30, '92.

Many Friends and Fellow-citizens of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for Congress on the broad platform of "Equal rights to all; special privileges to none."

As in the past I shall continue the advocate of white supremacy, and labor unceasingly for the upbuilding of the industrial and educational interest of my section.

I would be proud to represent the farmers, working men, merchants and manufacturers of our young and rising sister county. Respectfully soliciting the votes of all who shall participate in the Democratic primaries, I am your obedient servant,

JNO. F. BURNS.

Montgomery has organized a David B. Hill Democratic club. Now for a Cleveland club.

Executor's Notice.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Probate Court, Special Term, February 2nd, 1892.

Estate of Mrs. M. E. Vanderveer, Dec'd.

Notice to all whom it may concern: Take notice that on this day came J. P. Vanderveer the executor of said estate, and filed his application in writing and under oath for an order of sale of the personal property belonging to said estate for the purpose of distribution. It is therefore ordered that the 7th day of March, 1892, be set as a day for hearing said application, at which time all persons at interest can appear and contest said application if they see proper so to do.

H. J. CALLEN,
Judge of Probate.

Final Settlement.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Probate Court, February 1st, 1892.

Estate of Elijah Mims, Deceased.

This day came Alfred Baker, Sr., the administrator of said estate, and filed his statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a Final Settlement of his administration, it is therefore ordered that Monday, the seventh day of March, 1892, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

H. J. CALLEN,
Judge of Probate.

JEMISON High School.

MALE AND FEMALE.

JEMISON, - - - ALA.

TIPTON MULLINS, L. I., A. B., PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about halfway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 700 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages, and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $8.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

For further information address

TIPTON MULLINS,
Jemison, Ala.
aug13

Assessor's Notice!

LAST ROUND.

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Calhways Mill	March	1st,
Mountain Creek	"	2d,
Verbena,	"	3d & 4th,
Pleas't Grove Chr., beat 5	"	5th,
Providence Chr., beat 6	"	7th,
Cooper's,	"	8th,
Kinchson	"	9th,
Chambers' Grist Mill	"	10th,
Pilgrim's Rest	"	11th,
Stanton,	"	14th,
Dixie,	"	15th,
Chilton Lum. Co.'s Mill	"	16th,
Welch & Bro's Mill	"	17th,
Valley Creek Church	"	18th,
R. Latham's	"	19th,
Maplesville	"	21st,
Benona	"	22d,
Macedonia	"	23d & 24th,
Jemison	"	25 & 26,
Providence, beat 2,	"	28th,
Mims' Store's	"	1st,
Shiloh Church Hall	"	2d,
Willett's Store	"	4th,
Mineral Springs,	"	5th,
Lotman,	"	6th,
Clanton	"	7th,

E. G. ROLLINS,
Assessor Chilton County.

TIMES ARE HARD

AND I AM SELLING

GROCERIES

AT CLOSE PRICES.

I am now located in the Aldridge Store, and am enlarging my Stock. Call on me if you want FIRST-CLASS GROCERIES at the lowest prices.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

THE CAMPAIGN IS OPEN!

And you want to keep up with it. We club the VIEW with the Birmingham News, the Age-Herald and the Montgomery Advertiser at $2 per year for our paper and any one of the others.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

MONTGOMERY ARMS CO.,

HENRY D. LONG, Manager.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SPORTING GOODS.

SUCH AS

GUNS, PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES, AMMUNITION, BLUE ROCKS,

Traps, Base Ball and Gymnasium Goods,

MAGNIFYING GLASSES, TELESCOPES AND MANY OTHER NOVELTIES. CALL AND SEE US AT

112 Dexter Avenue, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds,

Wall-Paper, Artists' Materials

And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH

The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,

Montgomery, Alabama.

Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.

Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, A. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.

W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT FOR MAN OR BEAST

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. DARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. F. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

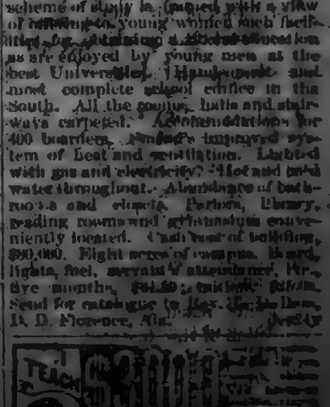
F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Blacksmith and Shoe Work done. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE.
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds Work Done in the BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken.
may24-y

J. W. BLYTH,
(Successor to Tressler & Blyth)
PHOTOGRAPHER,
10 COURT SQUARE,
Montgomery
Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. Crayon portraits reduced to $12.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.
The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.
Call and see Specimens.
Correspondence solicited.
[Jan2-4y]

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY.
FALL Term begins September 15. Spring Term begins January 22.
Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, degrees of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of refining as well as educating young women. Such facilities for obtaining a thorough education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsome and most complete school edifice in the South. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Modern improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. Abundance of bath-rooms and closets. Parlors, library, reading rooms and gymnasium conveniently located. Cash cost of building, $80,000. Eight acres of campus. Board, lights, fuel, servants' attendance, for five months, $50.00; entire session, $100. Send for catalogue to Rev. Geo. Ilsley, D. D., Florence, Ala.



The Most Pungent Odor

Of preventing the spread, while fumigating and freeing it to use the liquid fumigant commonly, Sprays of Pine, whose fine aromatic oxide a gentle, yet effective disinfectant. To be found of one mean get the most remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all druggists in the land 50 bottles.

Genius would soon starve and pay rent, if not occasionally fed by memory.

Beecham's Pills for Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervous system and restores the best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

The true way to conquer circumstances is to be greater circumstance to yourself.

Catarrh Can't be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, price 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house pays a "Crescent" on every line they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

T. W. Wood & Sons' New Seed Catalogue for 1892 is pronounced the most instructive and useful work of its kind published. It not only gives full cultural directions and description of all Garden and Farm seeds, but contains much valuable information to enable the farmer and Gardener to decide which are the best and most profitable to grow. Mailed free on application. (See advertisement in another column.)

"I have been occasionally troubled with Coughs, and in each case have used BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, which have never failed, and I must say they are second to none in the world."—Felix A. May, Cashier, St. Paul, Minn.

Justice is the keystone of the world; all else is over out of line.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which invigorates, purifies, enriches the blood, tones the digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill-health, giving new energy and strength.

A judicious reticence is hard to learn, but it is one of the great lessons of life.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cost only 25 cents a box. They are presumably known throughout the world to be "worth a guinea a box."

DR. SWAN'S PASTILLES cure female weaknesses; his T-Tablets cure chronic constipation. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

THE GRIP

So many remedies are advertised to cure the Grip that people smile and shake their heads. Now we do not claim Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a cure for this really dangerous complaint. If you have the Grip the best thing you can do is to call a reliable physician. But we do claim that for two conditions in relation to the Grip, Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very valuable medicine.

1st, as a Preventive

Hood's Sarsaparilla so purifies the blood and builds up the strength that the system successfully resists attacks of the Grip. This complaint and other diseases are often preceded by a weakness, that tired feeling, which Hood's Sarsaparilla taken in season will soon overcome, and serious illness be thus prevented.

2d, After the Grip

Convalescence from any form of the Grip is very slow, and to regain the desired strength a good tonic is absolutely necessary. Words are not strong enough to express our confidence in as a tonic after attacks of the Grip, or after typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, pneumonia or other prostrating diseases. Many testimonials from people who have taken it, conclusively prove that it possesses just the building-up effect so much needed; it vitalizes and enriches the thin and impoverished blood, and it invigorates the liver and kidneys.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the liver and bowels, cures headache.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

CASTERSVILLE, April 26, 1888.
This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect is truly wonderful. J. W. STRANGE.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed FREE, which contains valuable information on all female diseases.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,
ATLANTA, GA.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken "sick, and suffered as no one but a "dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time "I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I "had to throw it up. Then in a "few moments that horrid distress "would come on and I would have "to eat and suffer again. I took a little of your medicine, and felt much better, and after taking a little more August Flower my Dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I have never had the first sign of it. I can eat anything without the least fear of distress. I wish all that are afflicted with that terrible disease or the troubles caused by it would try August Flower, as I am satisfied there is no medicine equal to it."

For that Horrid Stomach Feeling.

HIGH FIVE OR EUCHRE PARTIES

$50

WAR WITH CHILI

President Harrison's Message to Congress.

CHILI SAID TO BE READY TO ARBITRATE---WAR PREPARATIONS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 25.—Anticipation of the Chilian difficulties packed the general house galleries this morning. All the official galleries were filled and the gallery for the members' families suffered a tremendous overflow.

The members looked as peaceable as ever, but the general surroundings indicated both fear and expectancy of war.

Speaker Crisp added to the importance of the situation's appearance by coming to his seat for the first time since the holidays. Very encouraging applause greeted him as he ascended the chair.

A canvass of the house indicates that they will not favor war unless it becomes more necessary than has yet appeared.

The British minister in Chili has been instructed to offer his services as a mediator.

The big Pacific Steamer San Benito has been chartered to carry coal to Chili in case her people need a roasting. She will hold 4,500 tons.

The Message of the President

DELIVERED TO THE HOUSE AND SENATE TO-DAY—ITS CONTENTS.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—The information furnished by the press that the president would today send to congress his anxiously looked for message relative to the Chilean troubles, had the effect of bringing to the capitol a large number of visitors.

Crisp in His Chair.

At precisely noon Speaker Crisp ascended to the chair and his colleagues, without regard to party, warmly greeted him as he resumed the reins of authority, laid down so long on account of sickness.

The chaplain in his prayer feelingly alluded to the death of Justice Bradley.

During the call of the states, Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, appeared at the door of the house and was announced by the assistant doorkeeper. He delivered the message of the chief executive relating to the Chilian troubles, and the call having been suspended, the message was immediately laid before the house.

The buzz of conversation which usually pervades the chamber was instantly hushed and every member dropped the work upon which he was engaged and became an attentive listener. The spectators galleries evidently appreciated the gravity of the situation, and there was none of that noise which so frequently interrupts the deliberations of the house.

Received in the Senate.

At 12:40, Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, appeared at the bar of the senate and delivered the message in relation to Chili, with a large package of copies of the correspondence on that subject.

At 12:55, when the morning business was completed, the vice president presented the message, and it was read by Mr. Johnson, chief clerk.

The President's Conclusion.

The following is the concluding portion of the presidents' message on the Chilian question. After summarizing the correspondence to a certain point, he says:

The communications of the Chilian government in relation to this cruel and disastrous attack upon our men as will appear from the correspondence, have not in any degree taken the form of a manly and satisfactory expression of regret, much less of apology.

"The event was of so serious a character that if the injuries suffered by our men had been wholly the result of accident in a Chilian port, the incident was grave enough to have called for some public expression of sympathy and regret from the local authorities.

"It is not enough to say that the affair was lamentable, for humanity would require that expression, even if the killing of our men had been justifiable. It is not enough to say that the incident is regretted, coupled with the statement that the affair was not of an unusual character in ports where foreign sailors are accustomed to meet.

"It is not for a generous and sincere government to seek for

Words of Small or Equivocal Meaning in which to convey to a friendly power an apology for an offense so atrocious as this.

"In the case of an assault by a mob in New Orleans upon the Spanish consulate in 1851, Mr. Webster wrote to the Spanish minister, Mr. Calderon, that the acts complained of were "a disgraceful and flagrant breach of duty and propriety, and that his government regrets them as deeply as the minister or his government could possibly do; that these acts have caused the president great pain and he thinks proper acknowledgement is due to her majesty's government."

He invited the Spanish consul to return to his post, guaranteeing protection and offered to salute the Spanish flag if the consul should come in a Spanish vessel.

Such treatment by the government of Chili of this assault would have been more creditable to the Chilean authorities, and much less can hardly be satisfactory to the government that Values Its Dignity and Honor.

In our note of October 25, last, which appears in the correspondence after receiving the reports of the board of officers appointed by Captain Schley to investigate the affair, the Chilian government was advised of the aspect which it then assumed, and called upon for any facts in its possession that might tend to modify the unfavorable impressions which our report had created.

In our note of October 23d last, which appears in the correspondence after receiving the reports of the board of officers appointed by Capt. Schley to investigate the affair, the Chilian government was advised of the aspect which it then assumed and called upon for any facts in its possession that might tend to modify the unfavorable impressions which our report had created.

It is very clear from the correspondence that before the receipt of this note, the examination was regarded by the patios authorities as practically closed. It was, however, reopened and prosecuted through a period of nearly three months. We might justly have complained of

This Unreasonable Delay,

but, in view of the fact that the government of Chili was still provisional and with a disposition to be forbearing and hopeful of a friendly termination, I have awaited the report which has been recently

On the 7th inst. consul-general Pedro presented to the government of Chili by the American citizens at Santiago, the official dispatch of the government after a full consideration of all the evidence, and of every suggestion offering this matter, and to these conclusions others. They were as follows:

One Thousand.

"First—That the assault is not relieved of the aspect of which early information of the event gave to it, viz: That of an attack upon the quarters of the United States navy, having its origin and motive in a feeling of hostility to the government, and not in the act of the sailors.

The Authorities Derelict.

"Second. That the public authorities of Valparaiso flagrantly failed in their duty to protect our men, and that some of the police and of the Chilian soldiers and sailors were themselves guilty of unprovoked assaults upon our sailors before and after the arrest. He (the president) thinks the preponderance of evidence and the inherent probabilities lead to the conclusion that Riggin was killed by the police or soldiers.

"Third—That he (the president) is therefore compelled to bring the case back to the position taken by the government in the note of Mr. Wharton, of October 25, last, and to ask for a suitable apology and for some adequate reparation for the injury done to the government.

Matta's Insulting Note.

In the same note the attention of the Chilean government was called to the offensive character of the note addressed by Mr. Matta, its minister of foreign affairs, to Mr. Montt, its minister, at this capitol on the 11th ultimo. This dispatch was not officially communicated to this government, but as Mr. Montt was directed to translate and to give it to the press of the country, it seemed to me that it could not pass without official notice.

It was not only undiplomatic, but grossly insulting to our naval officers and the executive department, as it directly imported untruth and insincerity to the reports of our naval officers, and to the official communications made by the executive department to congress.

It will be observed that I have notified the Chilian government that, unless this note is at once withdrawn and an apology as public as the offense made, I will Terminate Diplomatic Relations.

The request for the recall of Mr. Egan upon the ground that he was not persona grata, was unaccompanied by any suggestion that could properly be used in support of it, and I infer that the request is based upon the official acts of Mr. Egan, which have received the approval of this government.

"But, however that may be, I could not consent to consider such question until it had first been settled whether our correspondence with Chili could be conducted upon basis of mutual respect.

In submitting these papers to congress for that grave and politic consideration which the questions involved demand, I desire to say that I am of opinion that the demands made of Chili by this government should be Adhered to and Enforced.

If the dignity as well as the prestige and influence of the United States are not to be wholly sacrificed we must protect those who, in foreign ports, display the flag or wear the colors of this government, against insult, brutality and death, inflicted in resentment of the acts of their government and not for any fault of their own.

"It has been my desire in every way to cultivate friendly and intimate relations with all the governments of this hemisphere. We Do Not Covet Their Territory.

We desire their peace and prosperity. We look for no advantage in our relations with them, except increased exchanges of commerce upon a basis of mutual benefit. We regret every civil contest that disturbs their peace and paralyzes their development and are always ready to give our good offices for the restoration of peace.

"It must, however, be understood that this government, while exercising the utmost forbearance towards the weaker powers, will extend its strong and adequate protection to its citizens, to its officers, and to its humblest sailor, when made the victims of wantonness and cruelty in resentment, not of their personal misconduct, but of the official acts of their government. Upon information received that Patrick Shields, an Irishman and probably a British subject, but at the time a fireman of the American steamer Keuneaw in the harbor of Valparaiso for repairs, had been in that city, largely by police, I directed the attorney-general to cause the evidence of the officers and crew of that vessel to be taken upon its arrival in San Francisco; and that testimony is also herewith transmitted.

Subjected to Personal Injuries

"The brutal, and even savage, treatment of this poor man by the Chilian police

Would be Incredible

if the evidence of Shields was not supported by other direct testimony and by the distressing condition of the man himself when he was finally able to reach his vessel. The captain of the vessel says:

"He came back a wreck; black from his neck to his hips from beating, weak and stupid and still in a kind of paralyzed condition, and has never been able to do duty since."

Claim for Reparation

has been made in be alf of this man, for while he was not a citizen of the United States, the doctrine long held by the United States as expressed in consular regulations, is:

"The principals which are maintained by this government in regard to the protection as distinguished from the relief of seamen are well settled. It is held that the circumstance that the vessel is American is evidence that the seamen on board are such, and in every regularly documented merchant vessel the crew will find their protection in the flag that covers them."

"I have as yet received no reply to our note, but in my opinion I ought not to delay longer to bring these matters to the attention of congress for such action as may be deemed appropriate.

[Signed] BENJ. HARRISON.
"Executive Mansion, January 25, 1892."

JUDGE BRADLEY DEAD.

He was Arbitrator to Decide the Hayes Tilden Presidential Contest.

A Washington dispatch says: Justice Bradley, of the United States supreme court, died Friday morning. His residence will be entered at his former home, Newark, N. J. The supreme court adjourned for the day after the announcement of death, without transacting any business. He will be chiefly remembered for having been the ninth justice in deciding the Tilden-Hayes presidential contest.

HIS POSITION UNCERTAIN.

The prevailing opinion at Washington is that the president will appoint Attorney General Miller to succeed the late Justice Bradley. Ex-Governor Edmunds, of Vermont, is considered a possible selection. However, should the appointment go to Justice Bradley's circuit, comprising Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, Chief Justice Butler and Judge Marshall, of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, are prominently mentioned.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS

Editorial From Co-operative and Home of General Interest.

The sub-treasury is to the Alliance what the hub is to a wagon wheel.—Southern Mercury.

The supreme question of the hour is, shall manhood or money rule this republic?—Alliance News.

The Ocala platform—The bridge for the bloody chasm—The shroud for sectional strife.—Nashville Toiler.

Mr. Livingston, of Georgia, has introduced the sub-treasury bill in the house, but the question will not be taken up at present. The bill is the same as that introduced last session.

The principles advocated by the reform press are the ones and we hope to soon see the day when honest men will represent the people in our legislatures and congress and frame honest and just laws that all can understand.—Standard Farmer.

The open Alliance of Nebraska at its annual state meeting adopted a resolution unanimously, instructing the State delegates to their annual National meeting, to vote for a permanent union with our Order. This brings into our Order one of the strongest and best organized of all the American States.

The Commissioners of Agriculture from five Southern States met at Memphis, Tenn., a few days ago. They say that we should reduce the cotton acreage 20 per cent. We suggest a further reduction of 20 per cent. from the salaries of all officials who are overpaid. There is an overproduction of salaries just now in some places.—Progressive Farmer.

Recently the Russell county (Ala.) alliance met and resolved that they would not support any man for congress who was not an alliancemen; and also that no candidate for county offices who was not an alliancemen, would get the support of the organization. A meeting of the alliance will take place the day preceding that of the county democratic convention, and candidates selected and delegates idatucted to support them.

The third party convention of Lamar county, Texas, has adopted a long platform, in which there is a financial plank demanding the issue of $150,000,000 legal tender treasury notes, $50,000,000 to be paid for the labor for public improvements, such as buildings, levees for the Mississippi river, and securing or constructing government railroads and telegraphs; the other $100,000,000 to be furnished the farmers at 1 per cent. to take up the overdue farm mortgages, on condition the farmer transfer the note and mortgage to the United States to be deposited in the treasury as collateral security on the same terms as those on which banks deposit United States bonds.

THE THIRD PARTY IN GEORGIA.

In a recent interview the editor of the People's Party Paper, published at Atlanta, Ga., says that the people's party intend running a full state ticket this year. "We will elect our governor and state house officials and elect members to the legislature in a great majority of the counties. Of course, I can only judge of this by the reports that come into this office. We requested the friends of the cause to send us the names of voters friendly to the third party movement, and since October 50,000 names have been sent in. We will nominate a National ticket regardless of the action of the Alliance convention in St. Louis in February. That convention may be dominated by politicians, just as the selection of delegates to that convention from Georgia was accomplished. The third party men will withdraw and hold a convention, if that convention decides not to support the People's party. You see that convention will be composed of Alliancemen and various labor organizations, and is not called entirely as a third party convention. If they resolve themselves into a third party all right and good, but if they do not that will not interfere with the third party that is now organizing.

The third party is a political party, and will be composed of all parties who believe in the doctrines set forth in the Ocala platform whether he be an Alliancemen, a doctor, lawyer, republican or laborer. We are the peoples' party and will demand the relief that neither of the old parties have accorded us. We will hold our conventions and anybody can be a member who is with us."

PRINCIPLES.

The Progressive Farmer of a recent issue contained the following strong editorial which will undoubtedly meet the approval of all true Alliancemen: The Alliance organization in its sub, county, State and national meetings have decided on a platform of principles. It is a duty of every member to stand by the principles, these demands. The Alliance member who goes outside of the lodge room to offer another plan, conceding "for the sake of harmony" to any party, a particle of these principles, deserves the censure, and should receive it, of every true man in the order. It seems that the members have been duped long enough with compromises to parties without principles to back them. We are surprised that a brother now and then so far forgets himself as to offer a compromise on any of our demands, especially the Sub Treasury plan, the one of all the demands (if made into a law) which will undoubtedly destroy the "power behind the throne" to oppress us. We have written this much, noticing the occasional substitute offered by some brother, behind which we can recognize the "cloven foot" of an old political boss, who has by flattery or otherwise induced this brother to try his hand at demolishing our leading principle. It is well enough for our enemies, and those of our weak-kneed brethren who are induced to act so indiscreetly, to remember that the sub-treasury plan is the rallying issue, and that the other demands are subordinated to this one; and that the Alliance and other labor organizations will stand by it, and will have it or something better made into a law, "world without end." We further say that no man in North Carolina will be voted for by the Alliance members who dares to oppose this issue, and not stay [illegible] with it. . . . No matter who the man may be, whether he stands high or low, rich or poor, he must be true to the principles of the people, or they will not support him. Let this be understood right now, and let those who think they are fooling the masses by all this chop-strop eccentric their foolishness. The people are watching and waiting, and when the time comes, the masses, not the old political bosses, will name the man. Brethren watch the booming business through the partisan press.

ADDRESS OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE OF THE NATIONAL ALLIANCE.

The following resolution, also the accompanying memorial, was unanimously passed at the meeting of the State Presidents, recently. The memorial was printed in the Congressional Record:

"Resolved, That it is the sentiment and desire of this conference of the Presidents of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union that the delegates for the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union who attend the Industrial Conference to be held in St. Louis, Feb. 22d, 1892, use their influence and votes to establish and perfect fraternal relations with all labor organizations represented in said meeting, with the Ocala demands as a basis for a platform of principles, and that such platform be presented to the National Conventions of the Democratic party, the Republican party and the People's party this year, with an earnest request that the principles involved be engrafted into their platforms for the coming national elections of 1892. But that they carefully refrain from committing our order as such to a affiliation with any political party or parties."

Mr Pierce asked and obtained unanimous consent to have printed in the Record the following memorial of the Farmers' Alliance:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives and Senate of the United States in Congress assembled:

Your memorialists, a committee elected by the Supreme Council of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, under instructions on its behalf, would most respectfully present:

That the universal and unparalleled depression in all departments of our great agricultural industry has impressed the farmers of the United States with the gravest concern and alarm. That despite their fruitful soils, the favoring conditions of climate, their faithful application and courageous industry, and irrespective of seasons and harvests, their farms and the products of their labor are constantly and steadily depreciating in value. That the inspiriting hope of competency and comfort, as a reward for their toil, is vanishing in their earnest struggle for sustenance and the preservation of home. That patient, honest and earnest investigation of this anomalous condition of affairs has impressed the farmers of the country with the solemn conviction that the evils which are thus clogging and paralyzing their energies are largely due to discriminating inequalities in our governmental policy, and which are the legitimate outgrowth of partial and unfriendly legislation.

Your memorialists would further respectfully represent:

That in their organized capacity the farmers of thirty-eight states and territories of the Union, after long and earnest deliberation and with remarkable unanimity, formulated and adopted a declaration of principles (an official copy of which is hereto appended) which they believe, if enacted into law, would restore agriculture to its true and just position among the great industries of the country, and would conserve the highest and best interests of the public good. That they respectfully, but most earnestly commend to the patriotic consideration and favor of your honorable bodies the justice and wisdom of enacting such laws as will embody the principles enunciated in the declaration referred to.

Your memorialists would respectfully represent:

That they are specially charged to ask the attention of your honorable bodies to the great and urgent necessity for immediate legislative action for the financial relief of the industrial and business interests of the country. That they believe that the present financial system of the country is not only inherently defective, but that it is incompatible with the genius and spirit of our institutions, and is in conflict with the fundamental principles of our government. That they believe that the system, born of the terrible exigencies of a mighty civil war, purely as a military expedient and necessity, which, while it doubtless saved the life of the nation in war, has been demonstrated, under the test of experience, not to be the system for preserving and perpetuating that life in peace. That they believe that a sacred and steadfast observance and maintenance of the powers and functions conferred upon the government by the constitution for making, issuing and controlling the money of the people is absolutely essential to healthful and symmetrical development in our material progress, and that these powers and functions cannot in any manner be relinquished or transferred without violence to equity and justice and great peril to the liberties of the people. That they believe that the exclusive right secured to the government by the constitution to make money carries with it the unavoidable obligation and responsibility to supply it in such manner and amounts as to meet at all times the requirements of the legitimate business of the country and of our growing country and trade. That they believe that the exercise of the legitimate and rightful functions in the control of money would obviate a recurrence of the ruinous effects of undue contraction in volume, as demonstrated in the present depressed conditions which are paralyzing the energies of the people in all departments of industrial enterprise. That they believe that all money should be issued direct by the government direct to the people at a low rate of interest and in sufficient volume to meet the legitimate demands of the legitimate business of the country, on safe and valid securities, and that it should be a full legal tender for all debts. That they believe that silver should have all the rights in coinage and all the qualities of legal tender which gold possesses.

L. L. POLK,
C. W. MACUNE,
MOSE RAGS,
W. F. OSWHITE,
L. L. FRAVERMEYER,
National Legislative Committee of the N. F. A. and I. U.

According to the organization throughout all the counties agency in this Germania State has [illegible], it is estimated that it will be made up of [illegible] members, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Cahaba river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 35 miles south of Birmingham and 50 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWERENCE, Editor and Publisher. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1892. NUMBER 15.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices [illegible] per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

News comes from Gadsden that Uncle Johnathan Sitz, the aged demented old man who wandered off two weeks ago, has not yet been found, although the searching parties have constantly been hunting for him. It is now feared that he was drowned in the high waters of Willis creek. He was 76 years of age.

* * *

The Montgomery Advertiser says: "The question of the union depot here seems to be in statu quo, but with a prospect of encouraging development at some near day. The special committees from the commercial and industrial association and city council have carried out their mission satisfactorily to themselves, and it now remains for the Louisville and Nashville road to do their part."

* * *

Considerable consternation was caused at the United States Rolling Stocks works at Anniston by the car inspector for the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, receiving peremptory orders from his company to have the repair work on their cars stopped at once, and to have the cars removed from the yards at once. No cause has been learned for this action. About sixty-five cars were being repaired.

* * *

A large reduction in was made in the working force in the Alabama Great Southern shops recently and fifty skilled mechanics were thrown out employment. The force as reduced will work eight hours a day, presumably from 7 to 4, with an hour for dinner. Heretofore the men have gone to work at 6 a. m. and quit at 6 p. m, with an hour for dinner. This change is understood to be in the interest of economy, and has not been suddenly decided upon.

* * *

The electric light committee of the Mobile city council made a favorable report on the proposition of L. N. Cox, of the new American Electric Arc Light company of Washington, D. C., who proposed to furnish 200 2,000 candle power arc lights and build a plant for the city for $43,750 and operate the plant for $10,000 a year, or $50 per lamp per annum. The contract will require that Mr. Cox shall furnish a bond of $25,000 for the fulfillment of the contract.

* * *

The Anniston City Land Company, which owns Blue Mountain farm, located just north of the city, is having the property divided up into small truck farms of ten acres, and will invite Russian Jews to come over and settle on them. The tract to be divided consists of about two thousand acres, and is very fertile. Three-room cottages will be built on each plot, and the farms will be sold or rented as desired. The company will have the Russian Jews in this city to communicate its wishes to their down-trodden and famine ridden countrymen in Russia.

* * *

In Geneva county, recently, a jury, by its verdict, settled the value of kisses in this state. A young fellow named William Horton, was indicted for assault and battery on a young lady. The testimony of the young woman was that Horton had laid violent hands on her and kissed her against her will. Horton testifies that the kiss was with her free will and consent, and that he had kissed her one hundred and fifty times before. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and assessed a fine of $150, stating that kisses in Geneva were worth $1 each.

* * *

According to the report of the American Iron and Steel association on December 31 last, Alabama had 34 furnaces in blast out of a total of 53, which is 64 per cent. Tennessee had 14 out of 19, or 74 per cent. Georgia had 40 per cent. Virginia and Kentucky had less than half of their total in operation. On the other hand, Pennsylvania had 61 per cent in blast, New York 88, New Jersey 83, Ohio 55, Illinois 65, and Michigan 43 per cent. Thus it shines out that the representative iron states of the north are doing better than the best of the North, and the minor iron sections south of the Ohio have the advantage of the north.

* * *

There lives across the river, east of Linden, distance about six miles, a man who attracts a great deal of attention wherever he goes. His name is George Nolph. He is 36 years of age, 3 feet 6 inches high and weighs only eighty-four pounds, and is the smallest man in the state. He came of a family that are large people but himself. He married a lady who was very large who bore him a child, who is a dwarf like himself. He is the main support of an aged father and mother, with whom he lives, and on his farm, and he can do as much work as any ordinary man. He has a very large head and is unusually bright and intelligent, and attracts a great deal of attention.

* * *

The Mobile women forming local organizations for the Alabama exhibit at the World's fair, held a large and enthusiastic meeting in the city recently. Able addresses were made by Mrs. John R. Tompkins, the president of the Mobile association; Mrs. Anna W. Fordyce, commissioner for the women's department, and Mrs. Erwin Craighead of the local executive committee; also, by Rev. G. C. Tucker, Rabbi O. J. Cohen and Hon. F. G. Bromberg, commissioner for Alabama. The earnestness shown by the women seems infectious and will produce a good result. But much reliance is placed on the women of Montgomery and Birmingham, the mention of whose efforts drew forth great applause.

* * *

He is Exhonerated.

Some days ago the Age-Herald published under the Gadsden date, some strictures on the postmaster at that place. The statements were to the general effect that under Postmaster Standifer there were less accommodations afforded the people than ever. In answer Mr. Standifer secured the following certificate, signed by some sixty of Gadsden's business men, which entirely exhonorated him: "We, the undersigned citizens of Gadsden and patrons of the postoffice, state that our present postmaster and his two assistants are devoting their entire time to the postoffice affairs and are rendering as good service as was ever rendered in Gadsden, and we do not hold them responsible for the irregularity of the arrival of the mails at the postoffice."

* * *

Mobile Mystics.

Mobile, which is "Mother of Mystic" by name and age, will celebrate the 62d birthnight of her mystic societies this mardi gras in elaborate carnival on Monday, February 29, and Tuesday, March 1, ushered in on Sunday evening by a grand instrumental and sacred concert, inauguration of prismatic electric fountain, and free cosmographic exhibitions Monday in honor of Emperor Felix. There will be civic parades, bicycle parades and tournaments, competitive infantry drill and night pageant of the mystic crews of mirth. On Tuesday there will be processions by masked societies and general public masking for visitors and the residents. On Tuesday night the Order of Myths and Infant Mystics will give brilliant allegoric parades and masked balls at the theaters.

* * *

Liquor and Minors.

The Birmham Age-Herald touches up the evil of furnishing intoxicating liquors to minors. It says that the laws of Alabama prescribe a penalty for the sale of liquor to minors. The law is based on reason and right, and if there is one law that ought to be enforced above others, that is the one. If young men can be saved from contracting the drinking habit and the worse one of loafing around barrooms until they are old enough to see the harm of it, the chance is they will never contract them. Boys cannot be kept at home in cities, nor can their parents guard them against the temptations that beset them. Is the proper effort made to enforce this law? Is it not a notorious fact that boys about Birmingham find no difficulty in getting all the drinks they want at the public bars? Is it not a common sight to see them step up along with drinkers of adult age and take their liquor as big as anybody? The Age-Herald calls attention to this evil because it is necessary to arouse public sentiment from time to time. Violations of this and similar laws are passed over by the authorities until they become flagrant and then comes the outcry. The enforcement of the law should be consistent and persistent.

BRAVE FIREMEN

Rescue Twenty Little Girls from a Terrible Death.

A fire was discovered shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Trinity church mission house, a six-story building, at 211 Fulton street, New York. On the second and third floors there were twenty children, all girls, in charge of several sisters. The fire broke out in the basement, and was caused by a defective flue. Before its presence was known the smoke and flames filled the lower portion of the building, seemingly cutting off from escape the children and sisters. A panic seized the children and they ran to the windows, screaming for help. Hook and ladder company No. 1 and engine company No. 10 are only a few doors distant. Firemen were promptly on hand. Fireman Argue covered his head with his coat and rushing up stairs through the smoke, returned with five little girls. He went back again and brought out five more children. Other firemen followed him and all the other children and the sisters were taken out in safety.

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—There was a lively set to Monday morning just after the house was called to order between young Sherman Hoar and Mr. Morse of Massachusetts. Sherman Hoar charged the stove polish statesman with having written in words in official stenographer's notes of a speech which he did not deliver. The allegation was vehemently denied. The house spent nearly all day in discussing the new code of rules. The discussion will probably continue several days. There was no heated debate but the rule to prevent filibustering, upon which the house caucussed on Saturday night, was adopted. There were but few votes cast against it. Mr. Arnold, of Missouri, introduced a resolution requesting the president to recall Mr. Egan from Chili because he is obnoxious to the people of that country.

TUESDAY.—The house committee on postoffices and postroads Tuesday authorized by a strict party vote a favorable report on Representative Enloe's bill repealing the mail subsidy act of the last congress. Enloe was authorized to prepare a report embodying the views of the majority on the subject, which he will lay before the committee on Tuesday next.

WEDNESDAY.—That the members of the house are becoming somewhat weary of its long discussion over the rules was evidenced Wednesday morning by the small attendance when the speaker called the body to order. The house resumed consideration of the rules. The pending motion was that made by Mr. Boatner, of Louisiana, striking out the clause permitting general legislation on appropriation bills, provided that, being germain, it retrenches on expenditures.

THURSDAY.—Consideration of the rules having been resumed, Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, offered an amendment providing that eulogies to deceased members shall be delivered Sundays, (and Sunday only,) on which day the ceremonies shall be opened with prayer by the chaplain. These services, he said, were in the nature of religious services, and no more appropriate day could be selected for giving tribute to deceased members than Sunday. Mr. Morse, of Massachusetts, seconded the amendment. He believed that memorial services were educational and proper and the Lord's day was the most suitable one that could be chosen. Mr. Ray, of New York, opposed the amendment. It was evidently offered in the interest of those persons who never attended church. Mr. Reed, of Maine, gave information that the consumption of time in the first session of the last congress for memorial services was twenty-four days.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—Mr. Butler, who has been absent from the sessions of the senate for some weeks, was again in his seat Monday. A number of bills were introduced. At the conclusion of the morning hour business on the calendar was taken up.

TUESDAY.—In the senate, Tuesday, Mr. Mitchell, from the committe on privileges and elections, made a report in the case of the Claggett-Dubois contest for a seat in the senate from the state of Idaho. The resolutions declared Dubois entitled to retain his seat, and that Claggett is not entitled to it. He asked that the report and resolutions lie on the table, and gave notice that he would call them up at a very early day. Mr. Palmer, of Illinois, introduced a joint resolution to ammend the constitution so as to have the United States senators elected by a popular vote, and gave notice he would on some convenient occasion address the senate on the subject.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, Mr. Dolph, from the committe on foreign relations, reported back adversely the various anti-Chinese bills introduced and referred at the present session, and reported, in lieu of them, a bill continuing in force for ten years all laws now in force prohibiting and regulating the coming into this country of Chinese persons and persons of Chinese descent. Calendar. The joint resolution, proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States relating to marriage and divorce, heretofore introduced by Mr. Kyle, was taken up and Mr. Kyle addressed the senate in support of it.

THURSDAY.—In the absence of Vice President Morton, the chair was occupied by Mr. Manderson, president pro tem. Among the bills reported from the committees and placed on the calendar were the following: Authorizing the construction of bridges across the Tallapoosa and Coosa rivers; to extend the provisions of the act in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods to St. Augustine, Fla. The following bills were reported back adversely: To extend the provisions of the act for the immediate transportation of dutiable goods to Fernandina, Fla. At the request of Mr. Pasco, this bill was placed on the calendar. At 12:30 the senate proceeded to executive business. When the doors were reopened the report of the committee on privileges and elections in the case of the Florida senatorship (declaring Mr. Call entitled to the seat) was taken up for action, and the report read, closing with the sentence: "The appointment of Davidson was an act of mere irrelevancy, which it is not necessary further to notice."

NOTES.

The senate on Wednesday confirmed the nomination of J. G. Harris, postmaster at Barnesville, Ga.

The third party people have issued a manifesto, declaring their purpose to act together, and to avoid the democratic Alliancemen.

On Monday the senate committee on privileges and election reported in favor of Call in the Davidson-Call election contest. The committee was unanimous.

The debate on the rules came to an end Thursday, the last move of the opposition being an effort on the part of Mr. Reed to substitute therefor the rules of the fifty-first congress, which was voted down without division. An effort to get rid of eulogies on dead members was defeated. The house is now ready for the transaction of business.

HALL'S WARNING

To Alliancemen Regarding the St. Louis Convention.

A Jackson, Miss., dispatch of Wednesday says: Wm. S. McAllister, chairman of the national anti-sub-treasury alliance, has promulgated the following paper from U. S. Hall, a member of his committee to the members in Missouri, and makes it general:

HUBBARD, RANDOLPH MO., Feb. 1, 1892.

To the Members of the Farmers' and Laborers' Union of Missouri:

Brothers—Be on your guard. Do not allow yourselves to be committed, or compromised or entangled politically.

The meeting that is to be held in St. Louis, Mo., on the 22nd of this month, under the so-called authority of the Farmers' National alliance, is for that sole purpose.

We did not allow that body to dictate to us how we should vote nor to commit or bind us by recommendation or otherwise to any political party, and any attempt to do so is without authority, and is a violation of every principle of our order.

(Signed.) U. S. HALL.

THEIR POSITION DEFINED.

The Third Party and Alliance are Separate Organizations.

A dispatch of Wednesday from Topeka, Kan., says: The official organ of the Farmers' Alliance in this state, published by the executive committee of the order, this week contains statements authorized by the executive committee, showing the distinction between the people's party and the Alliance. The two organizations are, the committee states, entirely separate, the people's party being outside of and independent of the Alliance. The statement continues:

"We now officially declare that there is no such things as an alliance ticket. Neither can the alliance hold a party political caucus, party primary election or adopt direct party measures as such within alliance meetings proper, without the liability of forfeiting their charter. We have not the shadow of right to use the funds of the treasury for strict party purposes, yet we have the right to advocate any principle or platform adopted by state or national organization.

DR. M'KENZIE DEAD.

He Was the Acknowledged Greatest Physician of the Century.

A London cablegram of Wednesday night says: Sir Morell MacKenzie, the greatest physician, is dead. He had suffered from bronchitis and asthma, following his recent attack of influenza. His illness, however, it was considered, had taken a favorable course. His death was quite sudden.

The career of Dr. MacKenzie as a physician is a striking example of the force of genius. He early displayed great analytical and surgical power, and, when yet quite young, was regarded by the seniors of a jealous profession as their equal. His fame traveled from England to all parts of the world, where his name came to be regarded as an authority in medicine.

TYPUS IN MEXICO

Becoming Epidemic—Many Cases of Its Presence.

A dispatch of Thursday from the city of Mexico states that Typhus is terribly prevalent in Saltillo, and there are also many cases of the disease among the [illegible]

NO MORE LOTTERY

THE GREAT L. S. L. GIVES UP THE FIGHT.

And will Retire from Business---The Announcement a Surprise.

A New Orleans dispatch of Thursday says: The state is convulsed by the sensation produced by the card issued by John A. Morris, announcing that the Louisiana Lottery company will go out of business. The most bitter feelings were aroused through the lottery's fight for a renewal of its charter. Both political parties split, and the moral question, like that involved in liquor prohibition campaign, has entered even the families, which are divided everywhere. Those not on the scene can hardly begin to appreciate the bitterness of passion which has existed. Happily, this will now subside, the cause being removed.

The company takes high ground for giving up the fight. As a matter of fact, a continuance of it would be costly to the lottery corporation, and could not help it any. Since the lottery was excluded from the mail, the revenues have dwindled to a point where there is little profit left. Mr. Morris, who is the principal holder of the lottery company and stock, says in his card to the people of the state:

"Realizing thoroughly, my associates and I, that we have been incorrect in our opinion of public sentiment on this question of a new charter, and not desiring to see the people of the state of Louisiana involved in strife over this question, I hereby declare upon my part and upon the part of my associates that we would not accept or qualify under the proposed amendment to the constitution, even were it to be adopted by the people at the general election of April next. As the supreme court of the United States has decided the anti-lottery postal law to be constitutional, it is my purpose and that of my associates to respect that law and abstain from violating it in any manner. Our offer was prompted as much by the desire to benefit the people of Louisiana as by the prospect of profit to ourselves from the grant as a business proposition. My associates and I are closely identified with the interests of the people of Lousiana, as we own much property within the borders of the state. Convinced that the granting of another lottery charter in the state would be the cause of continued agitation and discontent upon the part of a number of citizens of Louisiana for the entire period for which the charter might be granted, we would be unwilling to accept such a charter even though it was given to us without the payment of $1 of license tax."

THE LETTER A SURPRISE.

Mr. Morris's letter was a surprise to the great majority of the people, although it had practically been decided on some two weeks ago. After going over the matter, Mr. Morris had come to the conclusion that, in view of the strong opposition that had been aroused to the company, and especially the passage of the anti-lottery postal law, it would be impossible, if the law was declared constitutional by the United States supreme court, to pay Louisiana $1,250,000 a year and carry on the business with profit. The net earnings of the company were about four million a year. Since it has been shut out of the mails it has shrunk to barely one-third what it was before, having earnings of about one million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars or one million four hundred thousand dollars. If the state of Louisiana received $1,250,000 of this, there would be nothing left for the stockholders. These facts were laid before the company, and it was decided to abandon the application for a renewal of the charter in case the court decided the anti-lottery postal law constitutional. When the decision came the paper was drawn up and given to the press.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

This disposes of the question of the extension of the charter. All the tickets at the coming election will be against the lottery amendments, and the vote will be practically unanimous against it. The charter of the company has still two years to run, until January 1895. The company will serve out its charter, as it can well do, as it now pays the state a bonus of only $40,000 a year. At the end of the term it will wind up its affairs and retire from business.

INDEMNITY FROM CHILI

For the Murder of One of the Baltimore's Sailors.

A Washington telegram states that W. P. Kerr, late assistant attorney general of the United States on [illegible] engaged at the department of justice [illegible]

MILLIONS STARVING.

Deplorable State of Affairs in Far Off Russia.

A Washington dispatch of Monday says: In response to many sympathetic inquiries and proffers of aid received from friends in the United States, the department of state has received from Minister Smith, at St. Petersburg, an interesting report of the actual conditions of the stricken districts of Russia, prepared from the evidence of eye witnesses and most trustworthy sources, of which the following is an epitome.

THE TERRITORY AFFECTED.

The territory affected by the drought comprises thirteen provinces of European Russia, where the famine is general. In five other provinces the famine prevails in part. The first thirteen provinces in this area are one-third greater than all Germany. They cover an area equal to the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Kentucky all together. The population is about equal, or 27,000,000. The five other provinces above named, if included in the comparison, would equal the combined area of Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and half of Ohio. The total population of these last five provinces is nearly double that of the eleven states last named. This vast section is agricultural and the richest and ordinarily the most fruitful soil of Russia.

THE DESTITUTION EXISTING.

The destitution is not universal, as there are those whose accumulations have saved them from want, and there are some spots preserved from blight by irrigation that bore a good harvest and was reaped, but at the best estimate the proportion of suffering is enormous. An official estimate of the numbers of those without food or means of support who require aid is given at 14,000,000 persons, and this is probably below the number.

For three years crops have fallen short of the average and the deficiency of the past season left the storehouses well nigh empty, and through the increased failure of this year it is evident, and Minister Smith adds positively, that unless adequate relief can be supplied, the great present destitution and suffering will grow worse as the season continues.

COLD AS WELL AS HUNGER.

Cold as well as hunger causes terrible sufferings. In some neighborhoods large numbers of persons huddle together in some houses most conducive to warmth. Barns have been torn down and the boards used for firewood; even thatched roofs are torn off and the straw made to feed the dying embers. Clothing is given away for bread. Horses and cattle are sacrificed at a tithe of their value. Fodder is as scarce as human food, and in some cases horse flesh has been sacrificed for sustenance.

THE COUNTRY FROZEN UP.

The rivers are frozen. Two or three railroads run into the famine-stricken region, but there are no branches of these roads and all the provisions must be carried for long distances on sledges. The problem is how to carry enough during the next three months, not only for immediate use, but also to tide over the period until the next harvest shall be realized, which should be in July.

IMPERIAL RELIEF FUND.

The imperial government has up to the present time appropriated eighty-five million roubles ($42,000,000) from the public treasury for the work of relief. But the work must go on, and the expenditure must amount to a much higher sum. Up to the present time there have been few contributions from abroad, but the government and people of Russia are deeply sensible of the spontaneous offers that have been made in various parts of the United States and the emperor's ministers, as well as others have manifested such to Minister Smith, in their expression of appreciation.

TO SUE THE SOCIETY

For Failure to Hold Its Fairs as Per Contract.

A telegram from Macon, Ga., states that the indications at present are that the state agricultural society will figure, at no distant day, as the defendant in a case in court. The plaintiff will be the city of Macon, which will file within the next few days a suit for $10,000 damage against the society. The failure of the society to hold its fairs there as it had contracted to do, will be the ground of action on which the city's claim for damages will be based. The contract was that the city should furnish and keep in repair the grounds and buildings for [illegible] years, in return for which the society should hold [illegible]

IMPORTANT DECISIONS

Boyd Governor---Constitutionality of the Lottery Law Upheld.

A Washington dispatch says: The United States supreme court on Monday decided in favor of Boyd in the Nebraska governor case. All the justices, except Justice Field, concurred in the conclusion of the court, that Boyd was a citizen of the United States and entitled to the office of governor of Nebraska.

Justices Harlan, Gray and Brown concurred in that part of the opinion which held that Boyd was a citizen because from the record in the case it must be considered as established that Boyd's father having exercised all the rights of a citizen, had in fact, in 1884 taken out his final naturalization papers notwithstanding he did not have any record of such final naturalization papers.

The court also held that there was such a thing as collective naturalization; that enabling the act of Nebraska constituted the non relization of all the inhabitants of Nebraska at the time of its admission, except such as desired to retain their foreign rights, and that Boyd's excuse of various offices showed his intentions to become a citizen. Opinion by chief justice court reversed the judgment of the supreme court of Nebraska and ordered it to take further proceedings in conformity with the decision that Boyd is a citizen.

THE LOTTERY LAW STANDS.

The United States supreme court also upheld the constitutionality of the recent anti-lottery act of the last congress, affirming the decision in the case of Dupre and Rapier, publishers of the New Orleans States and Mobile Register, who were indicted on the charges of sending through the mails newspapers containing lottery advertisements. By common consent the cases were made test suits as to the constitutionality of the law.

Chief Justice Fuller announced that owing to the death of Justice Bradley, to whom the writing of the opinion in the anti-lottery cases had been given, the court would postpone any elaboration of its views and confine itself to an expression of the general ground on which the decision proceeds.

CHILI'S CONCESSIONS

Accepted by Uncle Sam and Everybody Satisfied.

Secretary Blaine sent a cable message to Minister Egan Saturday morning instructing him to inform the Chilian government that its propositions for a settlement of the differences between the two governments, made in response to the ultimatum of the 21st instant, are gratifying to the president of the United States as indicating a good prospect that the controversy can now be adjusted upon terms satisfactory to this government by the usual diplomatic methods.

The telegram makes no request or suggestion of any kind whatever for a salute by Chili to the American flag, and there is no reason to believe that this government will require such a salute from Chili, which may, of her own accord, perform this graceful act at the termination of the diplomatic adjustment of all difficulties, which is now in progress.

CHILI IS PLEASED.

A telegram of Saturday from Valparaiso states that the United States' acceptance of Chili reply to the ultimatum has given great satisfaction in that city. Exchange has risen 1½d.

PUBLIC DEBT FIGURES.

A Big Decrease Shown in the Cash Balance.

The public debt statement issued at Washington Monday shows a net decrease in the cash balance in the treasury during January of $3,905,668; decrease of the bonded debt, $1,895,652; aggregate of public debt, included gold and silver certificates and treasury notes, $1,572,402,706, gold certificates outstanding, $190,685,769; silver certificates, $336,854,646; currency certificates, $16,880,000; treasury notes of 1890 (bullion purchase notes,) $51,538,000; total cash in the treasury, $778,790,871; net cash balance, $31,868,450.

CATTLE QUARANTINE

Regulations to be Imposed Upon Several Southern States.

Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina and Virginia will be under cattle quarantine regulations after February 1st by order of the United States department of agriculture. The territory is a large one, and the regulations contain strict orders as to the manner of feeding and watering all cattle shipped south of the quarantine line, and as to the disinfecting of cars so [illegible] The state authorities are to [illegible] the quarantine [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., FEB. 11, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year - - - - $1.00
One copy six months - - - - 75
One copy four months - - - - 50

NOTICE.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Chilton county are called to meet at the Courthouse in Clanton on Saturday, the 20th day of February, 1892, at 12 o'clock, to attend to important business. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
Chairman.

W. E. STEWART, Sec'y.

The lottery is dying hard in Louisiana. Such an engine of the devil always dies that way if it dies at all.

If the Alliance Herald could practice as it preaches it would at once inaugurate a civil war in Alabama over the question, who should be governor?

Hon. David Clopton, an Associate Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court, died at his home in Montgomery last week with pneumonia. His was a noble and useful life.

It is the use of the commercial fertilizers that largely helps to pauperize the farmer and his land. Use home made fertilizers and raise less cotton and there is hope for you yet.

Ignorance in the agricultural sections of the south is the curse of our land. We reproduce a timely article on the subject of our public schools from the Huntsville Mercury. Alabama must do something to rid herself of the dense ignorance among the people.

Maj. L. C. Ramsey, late clerk in the office of Secretary of State Barron, has assumed the business management of the Alliance Herald, and been announced as a candidate for Secretary of State. Knowing Maj. R. to be a kindly and charitable gentleman, it is hoped that his influence for good will be felt in the double-barreled hades factory with which he is now connected.

The president of the Tuskaloosa Jones club created much enthusiasm, when on taking the chair, he said it was a mistake that the alliance was opposed to democracy or to Thomas G. Jones, that he was an alliancemen himself and Governor Jones had no better friend or more ardent supporter than he, and he knew many other members who felt towards the governor as he did.

The Montgomery Journal is endeavoring to create a sentiment in favor of an independent democratic state Convention to nominate Kolb for Governor; and therein is an admission that Mr. Kolb is already defeated so far as the regular convention is concerned. The Journal's supply of sweet oil and soothing syrup seems to be exhausted. It should draw on the Age-Herald.

The Columbiana Chronicle comes to us in a new dress. We extend congratulations to its enterprising proprietor. Columbiana's business men have stood by the Chronicle well. It is repaying them in many ways. A glance at the Chronicle's advertising columns shows that its town has a full quota of live and enterprising business men, and that means much for the paper. May the Chronicle continue to grow.

"We don't get the Alliance Herald, but we have been led to the belief that it was started as an agricultural paper and the organ of an agricultural organization," says the Eutaw Mirror. What a pity that the Mirror misses such an immense amount of fun every week. The Herald is Alabama's great humorous weekly, and the Mirror should ask for an exchange. The remarkable manner in which the Herald kicks and snorts and rears in each issue may cause the Mirror to conclude that the paper is edited by Belzebub himself. That is a mistake which has been made by some others not personally acquainted with the great Herald slush foundry. Read the Herald a while and learn what an infernal old world we live in, and when you come to die, you can have no regret at leaving a country which produces anything so diabolically hot and tough and terrible as the Herald. The Herald will eventually obtain for the Alliance spirit a place of pre-eminent glory.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democratic Voters of Alabama:

At the solicitation of many friends in the old Fourth and in the new Fourth Congressional districts, and in the counties of Lowndes, Butler, Conecuh, Monroe, Clarke, Choctaw, Washington, Mobile, Baldwin, Escambia, Barbour, Bullock, Chilton, Dallas, Montgomery, Elmore, Tallapoosa, Calhoun, Talladega, Shelby, Chilton, Bibb, Autauga and Jefferson, I have consented to become a candidate for Governor of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries or County Conventions. I will meet Hon. Thomas G. Jones, of Hon. Reuben F. Kolb at any one point in each county named that both they, or either of them may name, or I will meet either of their lieutenants, sergeants or corporals, from "Governor down to constable," at any point in Alabama between noon the 15th of February and 1st of August, for a calm, dignified, conservative and fair discussion of the constitution and by-laws of the Farmers' Alliance, and the State convict system, the public school system and the present abominable system of working the public roads of Alabama, which imposes the whole burden of opening and keeping up our public and private or neighborhood roads upon the poor white men and the farm laborers, while property escapes taxation for that purpose.

I will also discuss the action of the billion dollar Congress — the present pension and homestead laws, land grants by Congress, the status of the Southern States towards the Federal Government as at present constituted, free trade, protection, etc.

Very respectfully,
G. L. GRAHAM,
Editor of the Alabama Mirror.

CAPT. JOHN F. BURNS.

Capt. Burns having announced his candidacy for Congress to the people of Chilton through our columns, we take pleasure in publishing a sketch of his life as furnished us by his friends in Dallas.

The subject is a native of Dallas, and was educated at Howard College. The war coming on he left college in his senior year, and served until the surrender in many hard fought battles.

Since the war he has followed the occupation of farming at his home, Burnsville, near Selma, and has represented his county and state in nearly all important agricultural gatherings both State and National, and has the ability to make himself heard, and takes a leading part in the proceedings of any public assembly of which he is a member. He is a member of both the Grange and the Alliance, and was a delegate to each of the last National conventions of these orgaizations.

Capt. Burns is now in the meridian of life, of a hardy and vigorous physique, and with many years of usefulness before him. Among his active supporters in Dallas he numbers such men as H. C. Lea, R. D. Berry, Dr. J. W. Pratt and R. S. Underwood. His friends have announced him for Congress with great hopes of success, and claim for him a strong support in Cleburne, Talladega, Shelby and Chilton, besides his home following.

The Alliance Herald having insinuated interrogatively that Governor Jones had played the "deadbeat" with two of his creditors, the Governor was thereby afforded opportunity to write an admirable letter in reply. The Governor is a lawyer of no uncommon attainments, and his defence is strong and his refutation of the insinuations against his integrity is complete. As a matter of course, the Herald is anxious to stir up some "campaign thunder" upon which to defeat the Governor's renomination, and promises some further developments on this line. The Governor has shown his ability to take care of himself, and in his cool and deliberate way he is able to make use of the attempts to impeach his honor, and gain new friends to his cause. Gov. Jones, recognizing the fact that abuse of persons is a sign of weakness, has not taken part in the ventilation of Mr. Kolb's private record which has been going on for sometime, and he informs his inquisitor that he is not afraid of any inquiries into his individual and private affairs, and that he will not fail to answer any insinuations thrown out by his enemies.

That is a proper way for a public officer to treat investigations of his record, and it is the man who stands the test and comes out of the ordeal with a character stronger and fairer than before who wins and holds the admiration of the people.

Gov. Jones' administration has not been above criticism, and he may have made some mistakes in the exercise of his executive functions. Any other man would have made mistakes. But if you would investigate his record for honesty and integrity it would be found as bright and clear as his best friend could have it be. As to his administration, it has fully demonstrated, in spite of mistakes that Jones is Governor.

Let Progressive Madison County Fire the First Shot.

Huntsville Mercury.

If the people of Madison fail to send good men to the next Legislature from this, the leading agricultural and most progressive county in the State, they will throw away a golden opportunity. What the State needs is for Madison county, the largest white county in the white section of the State, to be represented by men who will make a hard fight to remove that curse from our land known as our public school present and farce, and pass some laws that will emancipate the children of our farmers from the infamy of ignorance, and supplant the present system with a broad gauge school system that will not only educate the sons and daughters of our farmers, but will solve the problem of dividing up the great farms of this country by inviting Northern people to come among us with their children and locate on our lands that are being daily wasted by lack of civilization.

The present public school system of Alabama has cost our State millions of dollars by driving back the tide of emigration that would have settled with us, for no man of intelligence will take his children to a land in which they must grow up in ignorance. One of the curses of the present system is that it is not only insufficient in itself, but it expels private schools from our land.

Upon this question has the Mercury made its hardest fight in behalf of the farmers of this country, for our broad experience and observation among them has told us in unanswerable logic, that this was their greatest curse and misfortune. There is no denying the fact Alabama must meet this proposition, meet it liberally and meet it at the next sitting of the legislature, and if they fail, truly is the future dark for the daughters and sons of the wealth producers, and supporters of our State, the farmers of Alabama.

So let our farmers consider wisely this question and let them come to our county convention with an eye single to firing the first shot towards releasing themselves from the mortification of raising a family in ignorance and consigning them to the operation of a disgraceful school system to forever being laborers and tenants of other men. We may be wrong upon many questions, but upon this one we have the endorsement of the religious, the civilized and progressive world.

Senator Morgan has introduced a bill to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the mineral lands yet belonging to the government in Alabama to the State as a fund to be exclusively employed in promoting technical education in any school, college or university that the legislature shall designate in the branches of learning connected with the mining of coal and iron ore and the production and manufacture of iron and steel.—Piedmont Inquirer.

Does not Senator Morgan realize that Alabama would derive vastly more benefit if such funds be given to her public schools. Every college in Alabama is rich compared to our public schools. The sore and crying need of our State is for funds to relieve the cloud of ignorance that enthralls the backwoods. When that relief is obtained the colleges and high schools will have a stimulated field to draw upon for patronage and will not be so slimly attended.

The News believes the Democrat masses are the masters, and that they and no Executive Committee, County or State, can muzzle them and say that the Democratic rank and file cannot prorate their delegations if they see fit and proper so to do.— Birmingham News.

This argument would have been all right if the State committee had adopted the proposition on which it is based. The State committee didn't seek to "muzzle" any majority any where—and the News conclusions are its own and gratuitous.—Eufaula Times.

The concluding clause of the resolution against proxies is very plainly in these words: "unless otherwise instructed by a majority of the Democrats voting at said primary election." Which goes to show that a good deal of the criticism of the State committee, like that of the News, is mere "fuss and feathers."

Mr. Brent, of the Alliance Herald, is the author of Warwick letters. He is a vigorous writer, but he is a republican, and his attacks on the Democratic party come easy to him.—Jacksonville Republican.

Subscribe for this paper.

The Mobile Register very effectually answers the Age-Herald and its unnecessary defense of the white Republicans of north Alabama. The Register's charge that there were "tens of thousands of white Republicans in north Alabama," was such a bald truth that it made the A.-H. somewhat sensitive. One might think the Age-Herald editor was only a boy ten years of age to judge of his knowledge of the history of north Alabama, past and present. Let the Age-Herald man go into the counties of Lawrence, Winston, Walker, Limestone, DeKalb, Etowah, and come back to Jefferson, Talladega and Shelby, and if he can't put his hand on a thousand white Republicans in almost any one of these counties it will be because he is too lazy to move around among them. They are unfortunately numerous in every county north of Montgomery. In many cases it is only necessary to put the question in order to hear them openly declare that they are Republicans.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as consumption, inflammation of lungs, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. junl1

Among a house full of children who were being taken sick should take BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

A Gold Watch and $20!

That is what every Agent receives who gets up a club on our $1 per Week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $20 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO.,
48 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 9, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 18, 1892, viz: Avey Wilson, homestead 17622 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 26, township 21 north, range 14 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Alfred Hill, Holley Ray, John R. Kemp, John Headley, all of Clanton, Ala.

febl1-o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., February 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Madison Tyus, homestead 19023 for the w ½ of s e ¼ of sec 25, township 20 n, range 15 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Kato Price, James Cooper, Ed. Cooper, Lewis Price, all of Verbena, Ala.

febl1o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.
Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.
THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.
ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.
In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

BRYANT & STRATTON Business College

BOOK-KEEPING, SHORTHAND, TELEGRAPHY, &c.
WRITE FOR CATALOGUE AND FULL INFORMATION. LOUISVILLE, KY.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.

DRY GOODS

—AND—

-CARPETS-

NEWEST THINGS IN

DRESS GOODS

ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.

LARGEST

CARPET DEPARTMENT

In the City. All Grades of

CARPETS.

Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Statements, BAY MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee satisfactory and prompt work at prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dunberry, Montgomery, Ala.

1891. 18

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,

Union Warehouse C

Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants

OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtainable for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

F. B. MERRITT, Manager.

TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

ILTON VIEW.

TON, ALA., FEB. 11, 1892.

...GLE S. & N. R.R. RAILROAD.
...pass Clanton daily, as follows:

...ORTH BOUND.

Express Don't stop 5:36 a. m.
Mail 5:35 p. m.
Accommodation 2:56 a. m.

...OUTH BOUND.

Fast 9:32 a. m.
Express 9:28 p. m.
Accommodation 6:08 p. m.

9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Valentine's Day comes on ...y, the 14th.

A. J. Scott, of Albany, Ga., ...lated among friends here Mon-

...ss Inez Collier has returned ...e after a pleasant visit to ...

...r. and Mrs. McCants, of Bir...gham, spent Friday night with ...Lives here.

...r. P. C. Dennis, the leading ...chant of Cooper's, was in town ...day on business.

...sh Wednesday, the beginning ...ent, will fall on March 2nd, ...Easter Sunday on April 17th.

...uring 1892 the three great hol...s, Feb. 22nd, July 4th, and ...oration Day, May 30th, will ...on Monday.

...he railroad will sell round trip ...kets at reduced rates to the ...rdi Gras celebration in Mobile ...d New Orleans.

...Rev. B. E. Feagin preached here ...nday, as the Presiding Elder ...led to come on account of sick...s.

...Rev. A. E. Burns, of Jemison, ...s been called to Tuscumbia and ...effield Baptist Churches. He ...ll move to Tuscumbia at an early ...te.

...The Alabama Fertilizer Co. has ...n advertisement in another col...mn. Any one answering this ad...ertisement will confer a favor up...n us by mentioning that the ad. ...as seen in this paper.

...Information is that the county ...dvance endorsed for Superinten...nt of Education, Prof. J. W. ...Moore, and the following for com...missioners; Sam Pate, Moses Rob...nson, a man named Glasscock, ...nd one named Bailey. This in...ormation may or may not be cor...rect.

Rev. R. M. Hunter and wife ar...ived in Jasper last Friday eve...ning, and are now occupying the Baptist pastorium. Mr. Hunter comes highly recommended as a preacher and pastor, and those who heard him last Sabbath were convinced that the Baptist church could not have made a better selection.—Jasper Eagle.

The Farmers' Alliance ticket in Chilton seems to be causing some kicking and it is principally among some of the earnest Alliance workers who have been entirely ignored in the make up of the ticket. They have worked long and hard and sacrificed time and labor for the good of the order, and they have some sympathy from outside the order if not within it.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

If any of the farmers in this part of the vineyard wish to experiment with tobacco culture, the Commissioner of Agriculture will furnish them the seed free of cost. Write to Hon. Hector D. Lane, Montgomery Ala., stating specifically the character of the land you expect to cultivate, and he will send the seed, together with the necessary information as to cultivation and handling the crop. It is worth the trial.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

HAMILTON-BROWN SHOES.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's store at reasonable prices. They are first class shoes and wear well.

New Bridge.

Contractor Abbott has completed a new bridge across Yellow Leaf creek at a cost of $570.00. The bridge is 270 feet long. It is guaranteed a substantial piece of work.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending Feb. 5th, 1892.

Misses Mary Duke, Blanche Foshee, Lonnie May and Annie Lane and Minnie Gilchrist.

Master R. Q. Lane.

Advertisement.

VERBENA, ALA., Feb. 8th, 1892.

MR. EDITOR:—I noticed a complimentary communication from some one in your paper a few days ago in behalf of Mr. B. M. Gentry, our Tax Collector. I wish to mention another one of our officers, who has been tried time and again, has performed his duty well, has the confidence of our people, has guarded the finances of our county, and I have often heard him complimented. That officer is H. J. Callen. His official acts are open for inspection. They have been inspected and passed upon.

I think it would be wise to place him in the office again. He understands the business connected with the office and its duties. I know it is Democratic policy to rotate, but when an officer occupying the office of Probate Judge with no charges against him, I think he should hold on. I do not know that he wishes the office again, not having inquired, but what say you Judge, and what do the people of our county say? It is getting time for us to find out. A VOTER.

Verbena Views.

Dr. O. R. Bird, of the Capital City, visited Verbena recently.

Major L. C. Ramsey, of Montgomery, candidate for Secretary of State, has been visiting our city.

Miss Fannie Nix, is visiting friends in the Capital City.

Our handsome young friend, Sam Catts, of Clanton, came down Sunday to see his best girl. We are sorry that she was not here.

Miss Sallie Mullins is visiting relatives at Six Mile, Ala.

Miss Maxie Watt, a charming young lady of the Capital City, is visiting Miss Mary Carr Gibson.

There is another one of our enterprising young merchants that would like to get a set of furniture, if he could get some one to help use it.

Rev. J. M. McCord, is quite sick with the grip.

Dr. A. A. Green, and Mr. Will Pitts, of Montgomery, have been visiting relatives here.

Mr. W. L. House, of Autauga, has been visiting relatives in our city.

Miss Virgie Smith has returned to her home in west Chilton, after a pleasant visit to friends here.

Mr. Lawler Wells, of Six Mile, has been visiting the family of Mr. J. T. Mullins.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A writer in the Fayette News, an alliance paper, says: "I have been thinking about the reduction in the price of cotton, and made to wonder why it is so cheap. I believe guano is the sole cause. We raise so much cotton that there is a surplus on hand. * * * It is estimated that it requires two million bales to pay the guano debt, which amount is lost to the farmers, towards paying debts other than guano debts; but the manufactures get 2,000,000 for which the farmers get nothing." That is the most sensible remark we have heard from an alliance writer within twelve months. Guano does not materially enrich the land; but the stimulant is given, while it impoverishes both the land and the farmer.

The loss in the price of the guano, which is the first debt to be paid, leaves nothing for the farmer's sweat and toil. Build up the land with home-made fertilizers; quit buying the "ardent," make your meat and bread, and you will realize more money for your cotton; because you will have no guano debt to pay, which is the amount which ought to go into your pockets instead of into the till of the fertilizer company.—West Alabamian.

A correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution who is traveling through Middle Georgia on a tour of inspection, writes that the farmers of that region have sown "more wheat than any year since the war." "When the weather permits immense quantities of oats will be put in;" the farmers are exercising the most rigid economy; the merchants say they are selling only the bare necessities of life; every man is wearing his old clothes, and the sight of a new buggy is a rarity; not a cent is spent that can be avoided." The farmers through the section "will plant from 25 to 50 per cent. less of cotton; only what their pressing debts force them to plant." They are not buying fertilizers; "and it begins to look as if they intend to make one crop with such fertilizers as they can save. Abound their lots." "If the seasons are favorable, Georgia will make more provisions next year than she can consume," and 1892 will probably find the greater number of farmers "self-sustaining and indebted." It is a hard and narrow road to independence, but it appears the Georgia farmers are "in it" at last, and have cheap cotton to thank for their prospects. The crop of 1891 may pay for itself after all.—Mobile Register.

TALK AND THOUGHT.

Difference Between What is Said and What is Thought in Society.

He—I am glad to see you here to-night, Miss Smith. (Confound it, I wonder if I've got stuck on her for the whole evening).

She—I am pleased to see you, too, Mr. Brown. (I wonder if Charlie Jones is here to-night).

He—Your lips are as red as the rose. (By George, she wears her dresses mighty low).

She—I heard somebody pay you a compliment the other day. (Look how the poor fool brightens with pleasure).

He—Pray, what was it? (She thinks to catch me with honeyed bait, but I'm no sucker).

She—Oh, guess! (Now he's nibbling).

He—I never was good at guessing. (I'll bet I could guess her age to a day.)

She—Well, I'll tell you the next time I see you. (I hope he will take me out to the theater).

He—I'll call next Sunday. (I must ask her to go out with me, but I hope she will have a previous engagement.

She—This is fine weather we are having now, Mr. Brown. (He is a numbskull, or I would start the conversation on some other topic).

He—It is indeed, fine weather. D—n the weather!)

She—I saw you with Miss Blank the other evening; are you trying to get her? (He couldn't touch her with a 10-foot pole).

He—No, I'm not in love with her. (My mouth is getting dry—I must get out of this—I must have a smoke).

Some Good Resolves.

The redoubtable Rufus Sanders in concluding his last week's article, gives a synopsis of his New Year's resolutions, which are good and practical enough for anybody to adopt at any time. They are as follows:

"If it aint too late in the season maybe you would like to go snooks with me in some New Year resolves that I made on the 1st, and which the same was as follows:

1—Resolved that I will do less cussin and kickin and more workin and thinkin.

2—That I will keep politics out of my religion and religion out of my politics, and vote for mother and the baby.

3—That I will make a little more than I spend or break a few traces and let the brachin down a tryin.

4—That I will give all the road to the man with a new plan to run the Government and save the country.

5—That I will plant more corn and less cotton one year if it costs the United States another war.

6—That I will work a right smart and sleep a plenty and eat a whole passle.

7—That I will put my trust in the good Lord and keep my liver movin, and stay young and be happy.

8—That I will never drink another drop of mean whiskey as long as I live. Henceforward I must have good whiskey or none.

9—That I will pay my honest debts and not make any new ones and go on tootin my own horn the best I can.

10—That in my religion or politics I will show my hand every time I git called. I am too big and fat to ride the top rail this year.

11—That if I never die until hard times kill me I will live a long time. RUFUS SANDERS.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama. [1y]

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr15-y

A pitiful looking object on the streets Tuesday was a negro who had had his hands and feet badly burnt.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Executor's Notice.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Probate Court, Special Term, February 2nd, 1892.

Estate of Mrs. M. E. Vanderveer, Dec'd.

Notice to all whom it may concern: Take notice that on this day came J. P. Vandefveer the executor of said estate, and filed his application in writing and under oath for an order of sale of the personal property belonging to said estate for the purpose of distribution. It is therefore ordered that the 7th day of March, 1892, be set as a day for hearing said application, at which time all persons at interest can appear and contest said application if they see proper so to do. H. J. CALLEN, Judge of Probate.

Final Settlement.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Probate Court, February 1st, 1892.

Estate of Elijah Mims, Deceased.

This day came Alfred Baker, Sr., the administrator of said estate, and filed his statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a Final Settlement of his administration; it is therefore ordered that Monday, the seventh day of March, 1892, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper. H. J. CALLEN, Judge of Probate.

JEMISON
High School.
(MALE AND FEMALE).
JEMISON, - - - ALA.
TIPTON MULLINS, L. I., A. B., PRINCIPAL.

Jemison is pleasantly situated on the L. & N. Railroad about midway between Montgomery and Birmingham. Location healthy being in the centre of the piney woods region and having an elevation of 700 feet above tide water. Water the best. Church facilities good. No bar-rooms. Next session begins Sept. 14th, 1891.

A class will be opened for teachers.

Free tuition will be granted one student, male or female, from each beat in Chilton county.

Rates of Tuition: Primary Department $1.50; Intermediate $2.00; Academic $2.50; Dead Languages and Higher Mathematics, $3.00; Teacher's Course $3.50. Tuition payable monthly.

Board in private families from $8.50 to $10 per month.

The Principal has had three years training in one of the best Normal Colleges in the country and will spare no effort to make the school worthy of public patronage.

For further information address TIPTON MULLINS, aug13 Jemison, Ala.

Assessor's Notice!

LAST ROUND.

I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of assessing the State and county taxes of Chilton county for the year 1892:

Callaways Mill	March	1st,
Mountain Creek	"	2d,
Verbena,	"	3d & 4th,
Pleasant Grove Chr., beat 5	"	5th,
Providence Chr., beat 6	"	7th,
Cooper's,	"	8th,
Kinchoe	"	9th,
Chambers' Grist Mill	"	10th,
Pilgrim's Rest	"	11th,
Stanton,	"	14th,
Dixie,	"	15th,
Chilton Lum. Co.'s Mill	"	16th,
Welch & Bro's Mill	"	17th,
Valley Creek Church	"	18th,
R. Latham's	"	19th,
Marbleville	"	21st,
Bonnell	"	22d,
Macedonia	"	28th,
Seabum	"	29 & 30,
Providence, beat 2,	"	31st,
Elijah Busby's	April	1st,
Smith's School Hs, beat 1	"	2d,
Willett's Store	"	4th,
Mineral Springs,	"	5th,
Lomax	"	6th,
Clanton	"	7th & 8th.

R. G. ROBBINS, Tax Assessor of Chilton County.

"You Must Eat To Live."
And I Am Headquarters for
THE BEST GROCERIES
In this Part of the Country.

I am now located in the Aldridge Store, and am enlarging my Stock. Call on me if you want FIRST-CLASS GROCERIES at the lowest prices.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,
Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,
PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

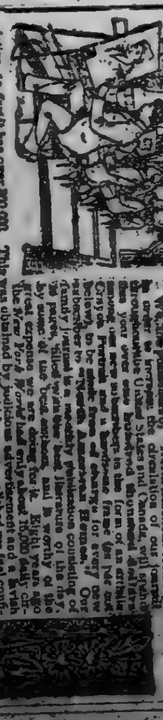
Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.
Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.
18 COMMERCE STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.
Please write for prices and sample cards.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.



FREE CRAYON PORTRAITS & FRAMES
To all our Subscribers for 1892.
To all Subscribers of "North American Homes," the circulation of our journal is now over one hundred thousand, and is rapidly increasing. Subscribers will receive a beautiful Crayon Portrait of themselves, or any member of their family, free of charge, handsomely framed, suitable for any home. Any one sending a photograph can receive a crayon portrait free of charge. Send us $1.00, price of one year's subscription, and a photograph, and we will make you from same an artistic crayon portrait in a good substantial gilt or walnut frame, free of charge; will also furnish you a beautiful French plaque, boxing and packing same free of charge. Send this out and mention this paper. Address, NORTH AMERICAN HOMES PUBLISHING CO., 27 Rose Street, New York. Money Orders, Express Money Orders or Postal Notes, payable to NORTH AMERICAN HOMES PUBLISHING CO. References—Any newspaper publisher, Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, Editor in New York City.

This was obtained at an expenditure of $1.00. What the proprietor of this first of doing ourselves. Nevertheless we are giving you will convince among our subscribers money we will be pleased to send you a portrait of yourself, or any member of your family, free of charge, handsomely framed, suitable for any home. Any one sending a photograph can receive a crayon portrait free of charge. Send us $1.00, price of one year's subscription, and a photograph, and we will make you from same an artistic crayon portrait in a good substantial gilt or walnut frame, free of charge; will also furnish you a beautiful French plaque, boxing and packing same free of charge. Send this out and mention this paper. Address, NORTH AMERICAN HOMES PUBLISHING CO., 27 Rose Street, New York. Money Orders, Express Money Orders or Postal Notes, payable to

READ THE FOLLOWING GRAND 30 DAYS' OFFER:

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST
SURE SPEEDY

COURT PARTICULARS.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term first and Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

B. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER,
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds
Work Done in the
BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. [Jan24-y

J. W. BLYTH,
(Successor to Tresslar)
PHOTOGRAPHER
10 COURT SQUARE,
Montgomery
Photographs reduced for a short time only. Cabinets $4 per dozen. CARD photographs reduced to $2.50 including handsome frame, a specialty.
The Finest Pastel Portraits made in the in the country to be had here.
Call and see Specimens.
Correspondence solicited. [jan21-tf]

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY
Fall Term begins September 8th.
Spring Term begins January 2d.
Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the south. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Grand's improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. Abundance of bath rooms and closets. Parlors, library, reading rooms and gymnasium conveniently located. Cash cost of building $80,000. Eight acres of campus. Boards, lights, fuel, servant's attendance, one five months, $84.50; tuition, $25. Send for catalogue to Rev. R. H. Rivers, D. D. Forrest, Ala.

La Grippe.

On December 16th, I was confined to my room with the Grippe. The Treasurer of the "Commercial Advertiser" recommended that I should try a bottle of "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," as it had cured him of the same complaint. I sent for a bottle, and in two days I was able to resume my business, and am now entirely cured.

As I took no other remedy, I can but give all the credit to the "Cherry Pectoral," which I gratefully recommend as a speedy specific for this disease.

Yours very truly,
F. T. HAZELTINE.
99 Park Row, New York, N. Y.

Good Recipe.

To clean bottles, cut a raw potato into small pieces, and then put them into the bottle with a tablespoonful of salt and two tablespoonsful of water. Shake well together until every mark is removed.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

A Big Profit

$200 Realized on an investment of $2

Mr. W. F. Eltzroth, an esteemed school teacher in the town of Morrow, Ohio, states his case so clearly that no comment is necessary, further than to say to those run down and out of health,

Co and Do Likewise

"I feel that I must add my name to the list of those who feel grateful for benefit derived from using Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has been worth $100 a bottle to me in the following manner, viz.: I have been teaching school for 8 years. Last fall I became worn out, and had no appetite, couldn't sleep at night, and became so debilitated that it was impossible to perform my duty as a teacher. I

Wrote My Resignation

to take effect in two weeks, but I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Within a week I was so much better that I continued my school and am still teaching. I have used two bottles and feel like a new man and have over $200 clear from ($2 spent for Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. F. ELTZROTH.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier, the best strength builder, the best nerve helper. Give it a trial.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

CARTERSVILLE, April 26, 1886.
This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect is truly wonderful. J. W. STRANGE.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed FREE, which contains valuable information on all female diseases.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,
ATLANTA, GA.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"German Syrup"

Just a bad cold, and a hacking cough. We all suffer that way sometimes. How to get rid of them is the study. Listen—"I am a Ranchman and Stock Raiser. My life is rough and exposed. I meet all weathers in the Colorado mountains. I sometimes take colds. Often they are severe. I have used German Syrup five years for these. A few doses will cure them at any stage. The last one I had was stopped in 24 hours. It is infallible." James A. Lee, Jefferson, Col. ①

Kennedy's Medical Discovery

Takes hold in this order:

Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Driving everything before it that ought to be out.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by

DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

The dyspeptic, the debilitated, whether from excess of work of mind or body or exposure in malarial regions, will find Tutt's Pills the most genial restorative ever offered the invalid.

What is It?

THE MAGIC POCKET LAMP AND CIGAR LIGHTER. Gives a bright light from a minute to an hour. Half a million in daily use. Indispensable to the smoker. Fits the vest pocket in size and price. Sample, express paid, $1.00.

A FREE TICKET TO THE WORLD'S FAIR. How? Buy one of our MAGIC POCKET BANKS, save your dimes, and you will "get there" without feeling it. The Bank locks, registers deposits and opens itself when fifty dimes ($5) have been deposited. Price, post paid, 50c. Agents wanted. Write for catalogue of Magic Novelties. Mention this paper. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Magic Introduction Co., 391 Broadway, New York.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.
CONSUMPTION

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS ON A LIMITED CAPITAL

open to any enterprising party in every town and village in the United States in which there is no newsdealer. For particulars address

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY,
NEW YORK.

WE CAN MAKE MONEY for you by securing Rights of Washington. Write us. BARWELL & WARREN, Government Business, Patents, Washington, D.C.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS

Reform Press Comment and Items of General Interest.

The abolition of the national banking system and the substitution of an improved system of finances has become an absolute necessity.—Groveton (Texas) Vigilant.

⁂

It is predicted that 90 per cent. of the Alliance will abide by the action of the St. Louis convention, whatever that may be. Let us stand solid until that conference acts.

⁂

In California, as well as in Kansas and the East, the question confronts our people: Shall we own the railroads, or are the railroads to own us!—Boston New Nation.

⁂

The Farmers' Alliance has never receded from any proposition. It is not built that way. It never has been nor never will be a political party.—Gainesville (Texas) Signal.

⁂

The people need relief and we should not care from what source it comes, just so we get it. Don't let us fight over which road, but let the Alliance keep in the middle of the road and stand solid until the victory is won.—Ex.

⁂

The Alliance has not come to destroy the primitive principles of the government, but to correct abuses, purify the government, and re establish justice; and this, too, without becoming a partisan organization or political parry.—Southern Mercury.

⁂

If the alliance would scrutinize those who apply for membership, and renovate or relegate those disturbing elements within the order that will sooner or later bring disgrace and disaster to the order, they will have both the sympathy and aid of all good men.

⁂

The alliance senators and representatives in congress have been introducing bills which differ very materially from the usual character that have filled the calendar of late. The greater portion of these bills strike square at the root of the difficulty, a discussion of which will open the eyes of the people.

⁂

The Alliance Herald (Montgomery, Ala.) says: The progress made by the Alliance in forcing its demands upon the country, has been most gratifying, and the success so far achieved is as great as could have been reasonably expected. The work goes bravely on, well systematized and ably pressed, with the opposition weakening in every quarter.

⁂

There are thirty-nine Alliance members in Congress, of these four are Senators. The only Republican Allianceman in the House is Pickler, of Dakota. There are thirty or forty Democrats in the House, who, though not actual Alliancemen, are in sympathy with the Alliance and can be counted on by this organization.

⁂

The Southern Alliance (Talladega, Ala.) says: The Alliance is gaining ground in every State in the Union. As the people read and become acquainted with the plutocratic methods which are in vogue for the purpose of robbing labor of that which it produces, they denounce the corruption and join with the Alliance in the great work of reform.

⁂

The Rector Star (Rector, Ark.) says: The advice to raise less corn, cotton, wheat, etc., would not relieve the country if followed. There are not any more victuals, clothes and shelter in the world than the people of the world actually need to keep them comfortably. There are more products than there is money to handle, but the remedy is not in producing the bulk of the products, but in increasing the bulk of the money to handle them.

⁂

The greatest political revolution and public upheaval ever known to this nation will be witnessed during the year 1892. What its results will be, this deponent sayeth not, but we do say the very existence of our government and the freedom of our people from degraded servitude depends upon the patriotic action of the honest masses at the ballot box. Reader, you are one of the people and must bear your part of the responsibility.—The Toiler.

⁂

Tom Watson's bill to investigate the power of the Pinkertons is meeting a responsive feeling from one end of the country to the other. A private concern with a standing army equal to Uncle Sam's is a menace to the liberties of the working people of America. This tremendous power is used every day by combined capital to oppress the people and carry out the bidding of the money power. It is high time some step was taken to cut off the power of such an institution as the Pinkertons in a free republic.—Ex.

⁂

The following resolutions were passed by Erath county Texas, Farmers' Alliance at a recent meeting: Resolved, That the alliance in regular session assembled recommedd that our membership vote for no one for the United States Senate who does not favor the alliance demand.

Resolved, That we recognize an efficient and perfect alien land law that shall protect the homes of our people from the soulless corporations and avaricious greed of foreign capital as being indespensably necessary for the maintainance and perpetuation of American freedom.

⁂

The following terse warning from the Southern Alliance Farmer should be heeded by the people for whose benefit our great order was brought into existence: "This is the last struggle the working people of America will make. If they fail in this effort they will be slaves. It is no time to strike for home and fireside when our homes are gone. Now is the time to strike the blow. It is no time to be fighting over men or means, but stand for measures and put the men on record. We can accomplish nothing when divided, but if we will stand united we can obtain relief."

⁂

The following bill, which has attracted considerable attention, has been introduced in the senate.

Section 1. That all past and present issues of gold, silver and paper money made, and all money of coinages authorized to be made by authority of congress shall be legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, of future contract, all stipulations or specifications of coin, coinages, or money to the contrary notwithstanding; tender of subsidiary silver coin to be limited to twenty dollars, and of minor coins to five dollars.

If this should become a law, gold mortgages and gold interest would lose their power to trouble and oppress.

⁂

The Georgia congressmen in Washington, who are members of the alliance are indignant at the charges which have been made against them, to the effect that Colonel Livingston simply introduced the subtreasury bill as a blind. In speaking of the matter Mr. Moses said that the delegation had selected Colonel Livingston as the man to introduce the bill, but in doing so they had decided not to advocate its adoption as it is until the alliance members of congress had met in caucus and decided upon the best thing to be pushed. He says all the alliancemen are in favor of the subtreasury plan in a general way, but as to the best direct measure to be pushed they have not agreed.

⁂

Add two more States to the National Farmer's Alliance and Industrial Union's column. At their recent State meetings the open Alliance of the States of Minnesota and Nebraska voted unanimously to consolidate with the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union. Such action demonstrates the wisdom and power of conservative methods, and is conclusive proof that the great northwest is not afraid of the so-called "Southern invasion." The order in these two States have carefully considered the matter, and, in spite of political trickery and falsehood, have joined their fortunes with the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union. This will do great good, since it brings with it all the power and prestige that waits upon a united effort under one central management. Doubtless during the year all reform agricultural organizations will be consolidated into one.—National Economist.

⁂

ALLIANCE PROSPERITY.

A fact to be noted is a decided tendency of some papers that have been bitterly opposing the alliance to get a little closer to it now. This evidences that this organization is being recognized as an order of strength and that it is a fixed and solid body that will hereafter be felt and seen in national government and will be no longer a cipher in the political, commercial and financial world, but the harvest is already ripening when the alliance will be a factor known and felt at the gleanings from each of these fields and will gather in sheaves that will warrant the assumption, that the Farmers' Alliance is a power in the nation. It is like leaven hid in the three measures of meal that will keep on till the whole is leavened. A small beginning we have had, but we are growing and increasing, and ere long the much despised and long abused Alliance will step out in the full armor of justice and standing upon its chosen platform, will proudly float its banner to the breeze with its legions of followers fully enlistend under its broad protecting folds and its general proclamation "Equal Rights to All."—* * * Southern Alliance Farmer.

⁂

THE QUESTION SOLVED,

The recent conference of State presidents at Washington did not hesitate to put themselves squarely on record as to what should be done at the coming convention to be held in St. Louis February 22. The following resolution was passed without a dissenting vote:

Resolved, That it is the sentiment and desire of this conference of the presidents of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union that the delegates for the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union who attend the industrial conference to be held in St. Louis February 22, 1892, use their influence and votes to establish and perfect fraternal relations with all the labor organizations represented in said meeting, with the Ocala demands as a basis for a platform of principles, and that such platform be presented to the national conventions of the Democratic party, the Republican party, the People's party this year, with an earnest request that the principles involved be engrafted into their platforms for the coming national elections of 1892. But that they carefully refrain from committing our Order as such to affiliation with any political party or parties.

This is a fair, just, and practical solution of the whole question.—Economist.

⁂

NEW ALLIANCE DEGREE.

Pursuant to instructions from the Supreme Council at its last session, the executive board have been preparing the plans for a co-operative degree, and have them so far completed as to be prepared to announce the name, plan, object and general scope of the work of this degree. The instituting of this degree was a most important step in the direction of putting into practical operation one of the grandest aims of the order, viz: mutual assistance in times of distress, which, if generally adopted by the membership, as it should be, cannot fail to prove a source of strength and assistance in building up and perpetuating the Alliance. Briefly stated, the degree is to be known as the "Alliance Aid degree," which may be instituted in every sub-Alliance where seven or more members wish to join. The object of the degree is:

1. To provide on the assessment plan similar to that of the Masonic, Knights of Honor, and other benevolent orders, a fund out of which may be paid a sum not exceeding $2,000 to the family of deceased members.

2. To establish permanent relief committees to look after and care for the sick and unfortunate of the Order.

3. To inaugurate a reliable bureau of information and exchange, where members can apply for employment or employers can obtain competent help, and assistance can be rendered in securing reliable information regarding different sections of the country by those contemplating a change of location.

The national headquarters will be at Washington, and the work carried on through the State Alliance officers as far as possible. A charter has been granted instituting the degree by the officers of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, under and by virtue of their own charter from the United States, which provides for a life insurance and relief department.

A COSTLY STORY.

Newspaper men Fined $600 Each and Six Months in Jail.

A dispatch from Beaver, Pa., says: John H. Mellon proprietor, and William H. Porter, editor of The Beaver Star, recently convicted of criminal libel upon Senator Quay, were on Monday sentenced to six months in jail and pay $600 fine each and cost of prosecution.

THE WIDE WORLD.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE GULLINGS

Of Brief Items of Interest From Various Sources.

There was a slight shock of earthquake at Omaha, Neb., Thursday.

Resolutions endorsing Cleveland's 1887 message will be debated in the Maryland house of representatives.

Two men were killed by the explosion of the boiler of a freight engine on the Chicago and Alton railroad Wednesday.

Thirty barges were torn from their moorings by the drift ice at Breslau, Germany, Thursday, and forty persons are reported drowned.

Two families—Watson and McGuffy—who started to Oklahoma from Cedar Glades, Ark., were frozen to death in the recent blizzard.

A dispatch of Thursday states that the governor of New York has signed the bill allowing newspapers to publish details of electrocutions.

The London papers are urging the British government to see that Great Britain is properly represented at the World's fair in Chicago.

The steamer Buffon arrived at New York quarantine station Thursday with yellow fever on board. Five of the seamen died during the voyage.

A cablegram of Thursday from Antwerp, Belgium, says that the French steamer St. Andre collided with and sank the Danish brig Thor, drowning all the crew.

It is reported that Governor Thayer will make no resistance to Governor Boyd, should the latter wish immediately to assume his duties as governor of Nebraska.

A cablegram of Wednesday says: Austrian officials on the frontier have been given instructions to stop all moneyless Russian Jews seeking to enter Austria or Hungary.

Impressive services were held Thursday in the Scotch church at Mentone, Italy, over the remains of the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, which were then started by rail for London.

The employes of the steel department of Moorehead, McLean & Co.'s mills, at Pittsburg, Pa., struck Wednesday against an obnoxious rule, and the department is closed down.

A cablegram of Tuesday says: The minister of war of Brazil has resigned. The minister of marine has been appointed to succeed him and will hold back the portfolios ad interim.

Prisoners at Deer island, Massachusetts, refused to go to work Wednesday, and threatened the officers' lives. Details of policemen were sent from Boston, and by using their clubs the convicts were soon brought to subjection.

A dispatch of Wednesday from Ottawa, Ontario, says: Sir John Thompson and Financial Minister Forrester leave next week for Washington to renew the discussion with Secretary Blaine, and arrange a basis for negotiations looking to reciprocity between the United States and Canada.

A Washington dispatch says: The president on Tuesday issued his proclamation promulgating the modifications of the tariffs agreed upon by Germany in acceptance of the reciprocity provisions of the McKinley tariff act. Tariff modifications took effect February 1, instant. They have all been published heretofore.

A London cablegram says: The will of the late Cardinal Manning was opened Thursday. It shows that he possessed less than one hundred pounds, which was in consols, and a collection of books. This fact speaks louder than words in showing the benevolence of the cardinal. The will contains no statement of public interest.

Advices received Tuesday from the city of Pueblo, the capital of the state of Pueblo, seventy-six miles southeast of the City of Mexico, says that a financial and commercial crisis prevails there, and many business houses have closed their doors. Much dissatisfaction is expressed with the local and federal authorities, and a revolution is imminent.

A severe earthquake shock occurred at Portland, Ore., Wednesday night. Brick buildings shook and windows rattled, terrifying the inmates, who in many instances rushed into the streets. The shock lasted about thirty seconds and is probably the most severe earthquake ever felt in the city. No damage was done beyond breaking a few window panes.

Ex-President Cleveland returned to New York city Wednesday night, from his pleasure trip to the south. A number of reporters attempted to interview him on the political situation, but the subject was always cleverly evaded by Mr. Cleveland. On all other subjects, however, he was voluble enough. He finally escaped from the reporters and left for his home at Lakewood, N. J.

A cablegram of Wednesday from Valparaiso, Chili, says: A crowd of young men, Monday night, sacked the office of La Republica, a newspaper which has vigorously opposed the present administration. During the past week there have been many large fires in Santiago, from which losses estimated at $3,000,000 resulted. The insurance agents were startled by the incendiaries.

A dispatch of Wednesday says: Johnstown, Pa., is excited over five mysterious murders within a radius of twelve miles since December 4th, all apparently committed by the same person for the purpose of robbery. It is surmised that the murderer is hiding in the mountains and selects victims at leisure. The last murder attributed to this mysterious individual was that of an old couple whose bodies were cremated in their house.

A New York telegram says: S. V. White, the senior member of the firm of S. V. White & Co., who failed for several millions some months ago, has practically settled all debts, and on Thursday applied for readmission to the stock exchange. His New York creditors have for the time being written off one million dollars of his indebtedness. Their only security is his word. No such compliment was ever paid to a business man in the financial district before.

CHILI AT CHICAGO.

It is Probable that She Will Not Send an Exhibit.

A cablegram of Tuesday from Valparaiso to the New York Herald says: There does not appear to be any likelihood of the Chilian government voting money for the Chicago fair, partly on account of the present financial states of the country and partly because Commissioner Harlow is accused of being the author of sensational telegrams which have been sent to certain American papers. This has set the people against him.

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

An anti-Pinkerton bill was passed in the New York assembly Thursday.

According to a dispatch of Wednesday a rice-mill trust has been formed in Louisiana.

George Sharp, one of Berry Turner's gang of outlaws near Pineville, Ky., was killed Wednesday.

A David Hill club was organized at Montgomery, Ala., Tuesday night, with Dr. B. J. Baldwin president.

Two men were killed and six injured in an accident at the Sloss furnace, near Birmingham, Ala., Thursday.

The first term of the United States circuit court of appeals, fourth district, began at Richmond, Va., Tuesday.

Fitzsimmons, the Pittsburg thief and murderer, committed suicide Thursday at the parish prison, New Orleans.

The steamer Charles Lee, on the Neches river, Tex., sank twelve miles below Wright's landing Tuesday, loaded with cotton.

H. B. Laskey, a jeweler of Roanoke, Va., was arrested Wednesday charged with attempting to swindle an insurance company by firing his store.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch says: Messrs. Pound & Hart, of the Chattanooga News, on Tuesday closed a trade for the material of the old Sentinel office and will take charge of the new Sentinel and continue its publication as an afternoon paper.

A Nashville dispatch of Thursday says: The Cincinnati division of the Adams Express Company has dropped twelve men found to be members of the Brotherhood of Express Messengers. It is understood that a number of other dismissals will follow.

A dispatch of Thursday from Pineville, Ky., says: The Turner and Parton factions have had another clash, and this time one of the Turner gang was killed. The man killed was George Sharp, son of old Kirk Sharp, at whose house Turner and his gang have been making headquarters.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ga., says: The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eagle and Phenix mills was held Wednesday and largely attended. Nearly ten thousand shares were represented. Contrary to expectation, there was no sensational action, and the meeting was marked with earnestness and zeal. The president's report was a very able document, and reviewed the operations of the factory, showing a satisfactory condition of affairs.

The North Carolina republican state executive committee met at Raleigh, Wednesday. There was much discussion as to whether the convention could nominate candidates for state officers, or elect delegates to the national convention. It was, by a large majority, decided that it should only elect delegates, and that the nominating convention should be held later. April 14th is the date, and Raleigh the place.

A telegram from Rome, Ga., says: The postponed exercises celebrating the birthday of General Robert E. Lee, were held Tuesday afternoon. It was a general holiday. In the procession were many hundred veterans, citizens, military and school children. The exercises were very impressive. Colonel John Locke Martin, and Captain A. B. S. Moseley were the orators of the occasion, and their speeches were able ones, and are receiving much comment.

A Charlotte dispatch of Thursday says: In his confessions, Boyd, the wrecker, told of having been employed last June on the Carolina Central road, and of having tried to wreck a train on that road during that month. This was not related in his confessions, because it had not then been confirmed. An investigation made by the Carolina Central authorities shows that Boyd's story of his connection with that road and the attempted wreck is true.

A Louisville dispatch says: Judge John Ritter, cashier of the deposit bank of Glasgow, Ky., which failed a few days ago, is a defaulter and insane. He was found to be in debt to the bank $35,000. Judge Ritter, besides being one of the representative citizens of Barren county, is one of the most widely known men in that section of the state. When the failure of the deposit bank was announced as imminent, Judge Ritter took prompt measures to turn over to the bank all of his property.

The directors of the Eagle and Phenix mills of Columbus, Ga., met Tuesday. The annual meeting of the stockholders was held Wednesday. Ex-President Young recently issued a circular to the stockholders, in which he severely criticized the present management, and intimated that the interests of the stockholders were not as fully protected as they should be, and that there was extravagance and bad judgment in the conduct of the affairs. It is expected that this circular will figure in the proceedings and a very lively time is expected.

A Chattanooga dispatch of Tuesday says: The sensation now agitating East Tennessee is the action of Judge Snead, at Knoxville, in the case of Sizemore, who was on trial for the murder of young Johnson. Sizemore, was acquitted, and the judge could not control his surprise. He proceeded to tell the jurors what he thought of their action, and closed by striking their names from the jury list and refusing to allow them to try any other cases. His scathing rebuke created intense excitement and the occurrence is creating a deal talk.

A dispatch of Tuesday says: The excitement at Creede, Col., the new mining camp on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, is intense. People are flocking in from all parts of the country, and a large city of rough board houses has sprung up in a short time. The mines are something wonderful, and almost equal to those of Leadville in its best days. David H. Moffit has been offered $1,000,000 by an English company to bond Holy Moses mines at Creede, but he refused to do so. Since the first hole was started at the Creede mine a month ago there has been $5,000,000 worth of ore taken from the mines there.

THAYER WON'T RESIST

And Boyd Can Immediately Assume the Governorship.

A dispatch of Wednesday from Lincoln, Nebraska, says: Notwithstanding the sensational reports to the contrary, the best information obtainable is that Governor Thayer will make no resistance to Governor Boyd, should the latter wish immediately to assume his duties.

FOR Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleanses the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

The devil may draw a Christian sometimes, but he can never drive him.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.
WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Teacher—How do you spell Shakespeare?
Pupil—Any way I please.
Teacher—Correct.

The Only One Ever Printed.
CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—The irritation which induces coughing immediately relieved by use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Sold only in boxes.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The test of true manhood is what it is willing to suffer for others.

FOR impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Bilious-ness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Genius would soon starve and pine away if not ceaselessly fed by memory.

BEECHAM'S PILLS enjoy the largest sale of any proprietary medicine in the world. Made only in St. Helens, England.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

$85 A MONTH for 3 Bright Young Men or Ladies in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Phila., Pa.

Word

disease by removing the cause of
It's with the liver or the blood, times out of ten. A sluggish li makes bad blood—and bad bl makes trouble. Dr. Pierce's Go en Medical Discovery makes blood. It invigorates the liver kidneys, rouses every organ healthful action, and cleanses renews the whole system. Throw the blood it cures. For Dyspep
Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulo
Skin and Scalp Diseases—ev
Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) its earlier stages, it's a certa remedy.

Nothing else is "just as good
Anything "just as good" could sold just as this is. It's the o blood-purifier that's guaranteed benefit or cure, in every case, or money is refunded.

The catarrh that isn't cured co
$500. Not to you, but to the pr prietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Re
edy. They promise to pay you t money, if you have an incurab case.

They don't believe that you ha
one.

What Piano?

Musically, it is of immens importance what one you buy
Its life will be many years
years that will make or ma your musical life. Then don make a choice that you wil regret all these years.

In the Ivers and Pond you not only get a first-class piano you get all you pay for.

We send on approval, a our risk and expense, or di rect you to a dealer who ca supply you. Write for Cata logue.

Ivers & Pond
Piano Company, Boston.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.
W. BAKER & CO.'S
Breakfast Cocoa

from which the excess of oil has been removed,
It absolutely pure and it is soluble.
No Chemicals
are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.
W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

CATARRH
—ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures
THE CURE FOR CATARRH COLD IN HEAD HAYFEVER ELY'S CREAM BALM 50c
Gives Relief at once for Cold in Head.
Apply into the Nostrils. ——It is Quickly Absorbed.
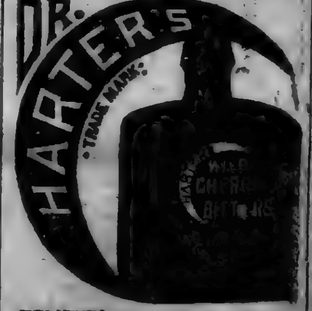
50c. Druggists or by mail. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY
SWEET GUM & MULLEIN
CURES
COUGHS COLDS CONSUMPTION
AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES
Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.



RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Constipation, Pain.
REVIVES Failing ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and WARMS TO THE TIPS.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH
DO NOT BE DECEIVED
with Paints, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.
The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.
OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

A. N. U. ..... Nov. 1892

Reasons why
YOU SHOULD ORDER YOUR SEEDS
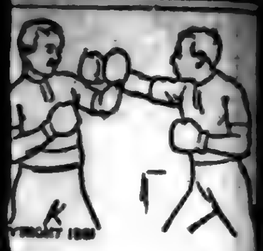
FROM
T. W. WOOD & SONS
RICHMOND, VA.
GARDEN SEEDS.
Our GRASS, CLOVER,
NO RISK
T. W. WOOD & SONS



Ward
e by removing the cause of ith the liver or the blood, n out of ten. A sluggish li bad blood—and bad blo trouble. Dr. Pierce's Go edical Discovery makes p
It invigorates the liver a rs, rouses every organ in ful action, and cleanses a the whole system. Throu ood it cures. For Dyspepsi stion, Biliousness, Scrofulo and Scalp Diseases—ev mption (or Lung-scrofula)
rlier stages, it's a certa
y.
hing else is "just as good ing "just as good" could st as this is. It's the onl urifier that's guaranteed or cure, in every case, or t is refunded.

catarrh that isn't cured cost
Not to you, but to the pro of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Rem
They promise to pay you th
if you have an incurabl

don't believe that you hav hat Piano?

ically, it is of immense
ance what one you buy.
ife will be many years;
hat will make or mar usical life. Then don't a choice that you will all these years.
e Ivers and Pond you
v get a first-class piano;
all you pay for.
send on approval, at k and expense, or diu to a dealer who can
you. Write for Cata-rs & Pond

o Company, Boston.
MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.
W. BAKER & CO.'S
Breakfast Cocoa
from which the excess of oil has been removed,
It absolutely pure and it is soluble.
No Chemicals
are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY and admirably adapted for invalids for persons in health.
d by Grocers everywhere.
ER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

e the Nasal
ation, Heals and Cures
H
Head.
A boarded.
ren St., N. Y.
THE CURE FOR CATARRH SOLD IN HEAD HAYFEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE
ELY'S CREAM BALM
50c

EDY
LEIN
PTION
BLES ettitute.

ING SUN
VE POLISH
GENER
anvels, and Paints which stain
e the iron, and burn off.
n Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odor-and the consumer pays for no tin
e with every purchase.
NTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.
Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.
Five. 1892

sons why
OLD ORDER YOUR EEDS
FROM OOD & SONS
HMOND, VA.
W SEEDS
ASS, CLOVER,

CHILTON COUNTY

In the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & G. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 12,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 56 miles south of Birmingham and 48 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. HERALD, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA. NUMBER 17.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

Business Notices Twenty cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Meetings, public.

Communications corresponding with the editor will be headed as advertisements charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

MISSING ISSUE

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to thr whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Al

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

A Race for Life.

A gun is heard at the dead of night,
"Lifeboat ready?"
And every man to the signal true
Fights for place in the eager crew:
"Now, lads, steady!"
First a glance at the shuddering foam,
Now a look at the loving home,
Then together, with bated breath,
They launch their boat in the gulf of death.
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

They see the ship in a sudden flash,
Sinking ever;
And grip their oars with a deeper breath;
Now it's come to a fight with death;
Now or never!
Fifty strokes and they're at her side,
If they live in the boiling tide,
If they last thro' the awful strife;
Ah, my lads, it's a race for life!
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

And loving hearts are on the shore
Hoping, fearing,
Till over the sea there comes a cheer,
Then thh click of the oars you hear
Homeward steering.
Ne'er a thought of the danger past,
Now the lads are on land at last;
What's a storm to a gallant crew
Who race for life, and who win it too?
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"
—[J. L. Molloy, in Temple Bar.

The Hero of High Bridge.

BY FORREST GRISSEY.

"How came that man here?"

"Can't tell you; and what's more neither can the superintendent nor any of the officers," replied the roadmaster of one of the extreme southwestern lines, as we shook hands with the keeper of the High Bridge, and swung on to the rear platform of the officer's special car.

"All anybody knows about him," continued the roadmaster, "is, that just as the company had about given up getting a good, responsible man to take the place of the former keeper, who had been mysteriously shot, this man walked into the superintendent's office and applied for the place. I was in the office at the time; and I never saw the superintendent so taken back in my life. He just looked at the fellow in blank astonishment for a minute, and then blurted out: 'Why, man alive! you don't want that job; High Bridge is the lonesomest place on God's earth.'

"'All the better,' said the fellow, in a cold-blooded way.

"'Very well, then, the place is yours,' said the superintendent, and that's the beginning and the end of all this company knows about Argus Steele."

Let me explain. I had just been appointed superintendent of bridges, on this line, and the general superintendent and road-master were showing me "over the road;" introducing me to my future duties and subordinates.

The latter were uniformly ignorant and faithful, and discharged their monotonous tasks with a dogged perfunctoriness which even the most exacting [illegible] later. But the keeper of High Bridge was a startling exception to the rule. So strong was the impression he made upon me, that on entering the car, I scarcely exchanged a dozen words with my companions over the next fifty miles of our journey.

Probably I would have given him only a passing thought had I met him in some select circle of Boston or Baltimore, but to meet a man of his fine presence doing a watchman's duty at a solitary station in the southern end of semi-civilization; that was the creative of it. On the shelf in his little "look-out," at the southern end of the bridge, were several old Greek and Latin classics and a curious work on occult science, in rich bindings, which only a man of rare learning and fine mind would have been able to read, let alone enjoy. The man had those clear, steady blue eyes that I fancy are the special property of heroes and poets, or of those who would become such if the right opportunities are presented.

Another thing I noticed in his room which seemed even more out of place in his perch on the edge of a precipice between two rock-ribbed mountains than did his classics, was the most modern make of a wheel. I had laughed outright when I saw it leaning against the wall and told him that "Bighorn" or "Mountain Goat" was the only breed of bicycle that could operate in his territory. His only reply to my bantering was a sort of half-hearted smile, good-natured enough, but far too sad to be an expression of amusement.

From that time on for three years and over, I saw Steele every month; but the first impression which he made on me always remained, and the better I came to know him the stronger was my conviction that the man had some hidden mystery in his life that would some time come to the surface again. But I never thought of this without also thinking with a good deal of enthusiasm, too, that the man had the right kind of stuff in him, that, whatever came, he would come out all right in the end.

Of course we got to know each other pretty well, in a way. Occasionally he would make some statement of facts, and when pressed for his authority, would cite his experience in different countries which showed a wide range of travel. Once I remember, after I had made an unusually close inspection of the bridge, I made the remark that it seemed as though an earthquake couldn't dislodge that bridge.

"Think so?" was his laconic answer.

"Well of course I don't know," I answered, "as I never witnessed one. But you don't seem to share my faith, perhaps you have felt one, and know more about it?"

"Yes, I have been in one," he replied, at the same time turning his face from me, and choking audibly.

Of course I changed the subject, and never referred to it again in his presence until the morning of April 24th last, just after the severest earthquake shock which has been experienced in the southwest since 1868. And well might I refer to it then, even in Steele's presence, for it shook that bridge, just as the early morning express was due, so that the addition of 500 pounds to its weight would have plunged it into the bottom of the ravine below.

This is how it happened, and I give it in his words, as he gave it to the officers of the road.

"Gentlemen, as you will not be able to understand all the circumstances without it, I will explain to you that I was stopping in Naples with my young wife and little girl at the time when the great earthquake of Casamicciola occurred, in 1883. We were buried in the falling buildings, and when, weeks after, consciousness returned, I was lying in a hospital. Those who had rescued me from the ruins stated that the dead body of my wife was found beside me, but not the slightest clue could be found of my child; [illegible] from time to the day which I applied for the position as keeper of High Bridge I did nothing but search for some knowledge of my child, but without any success. [illegible] else, and only enough of that which was intangible to form the basis for a hope or an impression that she was living. Under that impression I have not only scoured Italy but every country in which I had hopes of finding a clue.

"Much of my search pilgrimage has been made on the wheel which some of you have noticed in the "look-out" at the bridge. On the day which I applied for the position as keeper, the last of my fortune had been spent and I had only a few books and my wheel. I could part with neither of these. My resources were exhausted and must be replenished. More than this I was led to seek this position from the very fact that it was solitary and isolated. The impression was so strong upon me that, as I had exhausted several years and thousands of dollars in search of my child among the people, without results, there might be a paradoxical providence in pursuing an opposite course of retirement, seclusion and rest from pursuit.

"I obeyed that impulse, whether wisely or not I was in doubt, until the moment when on the morning of the recent accident I took down my lantern preparatory to making my beat over the bridge, before the evening train should cross. As I stepped on to the track, in front of the 'look-out,' I remembered that I had felt strangely depressed all the preceding day, and that my mental state was not unlike that in which one recalls the impressions of a bad dream. Before I had taken six steps the whole sickening recollections of the moment in which the earthquake began to rock the walls of Naples crept over me, because the first of those sensations was being repeated. I knew what was coming, and I must confess, gentlemen, that the motive of stopping the train, which that instant I heard whistling around the mountain side, before it should reach the trembling bridge was intensified by the feeling that upon my success in saving that train hung that for which I have spent the best of my manhood, the discovery of my child. To signal from the look-out end of the bridge was, as you know hopeless, because of the curve at the other approach. It was equally hopeless to attempt to run the length of the bridge before the train would be upon me. That moment my eye chanced to see the flash of my lantern light upon the nickel of my wheel, which I had taken outside to oil. It was my only hope! To make it tread the centre of the track, across the bridge in four minutes, meant life to that train load of human beings and perhaps to my child—who could say? Anything less meant—well, you know.

"I caught my lantern on to the handlebar and sprang into the saddle. With nearly my whole weight thrown into every stroke, she responded to my will like a part of my body. I could feel the vibrations of the bridge increase with each second as the roar of the swiftly approaching train grew louder and louder. Could I save it? A moment more would tell. As I flew over that last span the rocking was tremendous! But, gentlemen, if the span had snapped when I was within a rod of the abutment, I believe that machine would have made a leap and carried me over, at the speed she was under. Well, you know the rest; that wheel saved the day, and, gentlemen," said the hero of High Bridge, in a broken voice, "that train carried a messenger of the Italian government who brings me certain proof that my child has been discovered and will soon come to me."

If the carpets and furniture of the director's room had never felt the touch of tears before, they did that day.

If you should happen into the vice-president's room of this railroad you would notice the wheel which made [illegible] yesterday than that night over the rattling bridge. At the desk you will see a man of middle age, who never looks up [illegible] but keeps on [illegible] in his clear, blue eyes; a gleam whose warmth and intelligence is unmasked only when a tall and beautiful young woman enters, and resting her arm on his shoulder, says with a slight foreign accent: "Father, dear, aren't you almost ready to go home with me?"—[Wheelmen's Gazette.

Financial wealth is not the greatest

A Private Banquet in China.

Private banquets among the higher class of Chinese are given with all due respect to form and ceremony. The guests are invited by means of little slips of red paper (red being the festive color) on which is written, "On the —— day a trifling entertainment will await the light of your countenances. Fung Keung's compliments." The host, dressed in gorgeous array, welcomes his guests and when they have all arrived, invites them to lay aside their robes of ceremony. The tables are laid out in tasteful manner, having pyramids of cake, piles of fruit and dishes of preserves, the whole almost buried with flowers. Some time is consumed by host and guests in formal requests and refusals to take the highest seats, though no one will sit down until the host has taken his place. The host apologizes for the frugal character of the repast, and at certain moments the guests rise simultaneously and drink his health. Then, in politeness, they invert their glasses to show that they are drained. At the conclusion of the feast it is not considered impolite for a guest to express satisfaction with the good things he has eaten and exhibit signs of having stuffed himself to repletion in appreciation of the dinner.—[New York Voice.

Bibles for Rent.

The popular impression that every family possesses a Bible as well as a dictionary and a copy of Shakespeare, like many other popular impressions, seems to be an erroneous one, for there is in New York a firm that makes a business of renting out Bibles of an expensive and handsome kind, suitable to hand a bishop or fashionable clergyman on the occasion of a christening, wedding or funeral in the family.

If on the occasion of these religious episodes in the family the High Church dignitary should turn to the blank leaves between the Old and New Testaments he would find them devoid of genealogical records, to the consternation of the family. A deposit is demanded when the Bible is hired and a charge of $2 a night is the regular price.

A Watch for Every Day in the Year.

Few people, however, carried their appreciation of watches so far as Count Bruhl appears to have done, who is said to have had a different habit, with its appendages of watch, stick and snuff-box, for every day in the year; still, the French were not far behind as time-servers, as it was the fashion in France about 1765 to wear two watches, one on the right and another on the left side. This stupid foppishness was soon adopted in England, and it is told of the Earl of Bridgewater that on one occasion, having been robbed of one watch by a footpad the other was also demanded. "What makes you think I have another?" asked his lordship. "I know," was the reply, "for I saw you cross your hand to your left fob when you gave me this."—[Chicago News.

Making Himself Solid.

Mabel—You. I give you my hand with my heart in it.

Jack—You cannot do that.

Mabel—Why not?

Jack—Because you have not a heart.

That made the engagement irrevocable.—[Harper's Bazar.

A curious discovery has been made at Halstead, near Chelmsford, England, as to the cause of a fire which took place there. On pulling off the roof of the house which had been on fire it was found that a quantity of straw stuff and rubbish had been stowed by thieves between the roof and the ceiling of the upper room, and also had been placed over a hole in the chimney. About the middle of [illegible] had been [illegible]

Mr. Beecher's One Poem.

During the days of Henry Ward Beecher's courtship, it is related by his wife that he once dropped into poetry, and wrote a few lines of verse, teeming with affection for his sweetheart. But the verses were always kept secret by Mrs. Beecher as they are at the present day and nothing can win them from her.

One day Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were in the office of Robert Bonner, who was then conducting the New York Ledger.

"Why don't you write a poem, Beecher?" said the acute publisher. "I will give you more for such a poem than I have for 'Norwood.'"

"He did, once," said Mrs. Beecher, and at once Mr. Bonner's eyes sparkled. "Recite it for me, won't you, Mrs. Beecher?" he asked.

But the eyes of the great preacher were riveted on his wife, and she knew that meant silence.

"Come," said the persistent publisher, "I'll give $5000 if you will recite that poem for me," addressing Mrs. Beecher.

"Why, it ran—," began the preacher's wife.

"Eunice," simply said Mr. Beecher.

And, although Robert Bonner offered to double the sum first offered, he never got the poem from Mrs. Beecher, and no one has since been a whit more successful.—[Epoch.

Beauty.

What is beauty, after all? Each eye makes it for itself. You think Smith's lady-love raw-boned and hard-featured. He calls her a "magnificent woman," and wonders what you see in your little angel, with her baby face and tiny stature. So it is the world over; and yet we would each give something to be beautiful after our own fashion. How the powders and lotions which are to bestow upon poor bilious mortals skins of satin and snow, and the hair-dyes and pomades and cosmetics of all sorts sell, we need not mention to prove the fact. In France old ladies are even being made over, at the cost of half their fortunes.

Yes, we all want to be beautiful; and if only our ideas of beauty were what they should be, we might accomplish our desire easily. Meekness and love make all faces pleasant. There are plain features so charming with the sparkle of good humor that we love them. There are blemished faces so sweet that they are pleasanter to look upon than the most perfect. After all, it is in the expression that the actual charm lies.—[The Ledger.

The Reindeers of Lapland.

In Lapland 400,000 domestic reindeer sustain 27,000 people. According to the law of that country, each owner has his mark on the ears of all his reindeer, and to this mark he has an exclusive right, nobody else being allowed to use it. If such a device were not employed, the herds mingling at pasture could not be separated. No one can invent and assume a mark of his own, and the only way to get one is to buy that of an [illegible] hand. If several marks are owned [illegible] Men owning them often sell high prices for them.—[Boston Transcript.

[illegible] has been [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] square leagues of [illegible] and [illegible] square leagues of [illegible] [illegible]

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

J. T. Cruse, ex-mayor of Decatur, and George O. Tenny, also of that city, prominent railroad contractors, received news a day or two ago of their being awarded by the war department at Washington, the contract for furnishing the teams and labor to grade the National park at Chattanooga, Tenn. These gentlemen will begin work at once with 150 men and forty teams.

* * *

An Anniston telegram states that United States Deputy Collector, W. W. Colquitt, and Deputy Marshals Briggs and Jackson have just returned from the most successful revenue raid of years. They were gone four days and traversed Cleburne from one side to the other. Four moonshiners were captured at work. Nine stills and all the working apparatus were destroyed, and about ten thousand gallons of beer and several hundred gallons of whisky were spilled on the ground. This is about seventy moonshine stills destroyed in Cleburne county in the last four months, but the number does not seem to diminish.

* * *

There seems to be a conflict of dates between the Alabama Educational association, which is to meet in Birmingham July 5, 6 and 7, and the Southern Educational association, which will be held at Atlanta, Ga., at the same time. By all means let the executive committee reconsider the matter, and if possible change the dates of the Alabama association so that it will not conflict with the southern association. Hon. Solomon Palmer of East Lake, is president of the southern, and Alabama teachers should not do anything that would be construed as antagonism to the effort to unite southern teachers upon the great work of education.

* * *

Captain Ross Killed.

Capt. Newt. Ross was shot and killed in Florida a few days ago by one of his hands. The captain was down at his Florida estate, where he usually spent the winter months. The particulars of the killing could not be learned, as there was only a brief telegram summoning his brother to come. Mr. Ross' death will be keenly felt at many a fireside. He was very benevolent. He has given and deeded town lots to several of his old slaves in Heflin, and has others on his land who are allowed to cultivate as much land as they wish, rent free. The Ross farm is situated four miles from Heflin on the Tallapoosa river, and is one of the most noted in that section. Captain Ross was never married. He leaves a large estate, something near $100,000.

* * *

The Birmingham correspondent of the Atlanta, Ga., Constitution sends the following special to that paper: "The division in the democratic party over the contest between Governor Jones and the alliance candidate, Captain R. F. Kolb, for the democratic nomination for governor, is growing serious, and threatens to involve the congressmen. Another county convention went to pieces Monday. The convention in Fayette split, and in the same hall two conventions, with separate chairmen, proceeded at the same time, to elect delegates to the state and congressional conventions. One faction instructed for Jones for Governor and John H. Bankhead for congress, and the other for Kolb and John M. Davis. This is the second county out of the five which has split and will run a double-barreled convention. Clarke is reported to be in the row, and if so, that will be three splits out of five. The danger of two state tickets grows greater with every convention.

* * *

Major Moore Released.

Major W. M. Moore, president of the McNab bank at Bulsalo, which broke last year, was indicted for embezzlement, and on a change of venue the trial was held at Union Springs recently. The jury found him guilty.

The Bulsalo Times says: "The Times understands that counsel for the defendant has entered over 300 exceptions to the judge's charge and the evidence on which he bases an appeal. It is the judgment of attorneys and laymen that [illegible] will be reversed, and the result [illegible] Major Moore will be released on bail [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 56 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1892. NUMBER 17.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be headed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

A Race for Life.

A gun is heard at the dead of night,
"Lifeboat ready!"
And every man to the signal true
Is ready for peace in the eager crew:
"Now, lads, steady!"
First a glance at the shuddering foam,
Now a look at the loving home,
Then together, with bated breath,
They launch their boat in the gulf of death.
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

They see the ship in a sudden flash,
Sinking ever.
And grip their oars with a deeper breath:
Now it's come to a fight with death,
Now or never!
Fifty strokes and they're at her side,
If they live in the boiling tide,
If they last thro' the awful strife:
Ah, my lads, it's a race for life!
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

And loving hearts are on the shore
Hoping, fearing
All over the sea there comes a cheer,
Then thh click of the oars you hear
Homeward steering.
Never a thought of the danger past,
Now the lads are on land at last:
What's a storm to a gallant crew
Who race for life, and who win it too?
Over the breakers wild,
Little they reck of weather,
But tear their way
Thro' blinding spray,
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, lads, and lift her
All together!"

—[J. L. Molloy, in Temple Bar.

The Hero of High Bridge.

BY FORREST GRISSEY.

"How came that man here?"

"Can't tell you; and what's more neither can the superintendent nor any of the officers," replied the roadmaster of one of the extreme southwestern lines, as we shook hands with the keeper of the High Bridge, and swung on to the rear platform of the officer's special car.

"All anybody knows about him," continued the roadmaster, "is, that just as the company had about given up getting a good, responsible man to take the place of the former keeper, who had been mysteriously shot, this man walked into the superintendent's office and applied for the place. I was in the office at the time; and I never saw the superintendent so taken back in my life. He just looked at the fellow in blank astonishment for a minute, and then blurted out: 'Why, man alive! you don't want that job; High Bridge is the lonesomest place on God's earth.'

"'All the better,' said the fellow, in a cold-blooded way.

"'Very well, then, the place is yours,' said the superintendent, and that's the beginning and the end of all this company knows about Argus Steele."

Let me explain. I had just been appointed superintendent of bridges, on this line, and the general superintendent and road-master were showing me "over the road;" introducing me to my future duties and subordinates.

The latter were uniformly ignorant and faithful, and discharged their monotonous tasks with a dogged perfunctoriness which even the most energetic tracksman acquire sooner of later. But the keeper of High Bridge was a startling exception to the rule. So strong was the impression he made upon me, that on entering the car, I scarcely exchanged a dozen words with my companions over the next fifty miles of our journey.

Probably I would have given him only a passing thought had I met him in some select circle of Boston or Baltimore, but to meet a man of his fine presence doing a watchman's duty at a solitary station in the southern end of semi-civilation; that was the wonder of it. On the shelf in his little "look-out," at the southern end of the bridge, were several old Greek and Latin classics and a curious work on occult science, in rich bindings, which only a man of rare learning and fine mind would have been able to read, let alone enjoy. The man had those clear, steady blue eyes that I fancy are the special property of heroes and poets, or of those who would become such if the right opportunities are presented.

Another thing I noticed in his room which seemed even more out of place in his perch on the edge of a precipice between two rock-ribbed mountains than did his classics, was the most modern make of a wheel. I had laughed outright when I saw it leaning against the wall and told him that "Bignonia" or "Mountain Goat" was the only breed of bicycle that could operate in his territory. His only reply to my bantering was a sort of half-hearted smile, good-natured enough, but far too sad to be an expression of amusement.

From that time on for three years and over, I saw Steele every month; but the first impression which he made on me always remained, and the better I came [illegible] now him the stronger was my c[illegible] that the man had some hidden mystery in his life that would some time come to the surface again. But I never thought of this without also thinking with a good deal of enthusiasm, too, that the man had the right kind of stuff in him, that, whatever came, he would come out all right in the end.

Of course we got to know each other pretty well, in a way. Occasionally he would make some statement of facts, and when pressed for his authority, would cite his experience in different countries which showed a wide range of travel. Once I remember, after I had made an unusually close inspection of the bridge, I made the remark that it seemed as though an earthquake couldn't dislodge that bridge.

"Think so?" was his laconic answer.

"Well of course I don't know," I answered, "as I never witnessed one. But you don't seem to share my faith, perhaps you have felt one, and know more about it?"

"Yes, I have been in one," he replied, at the same time turning his face from me, and choking audibly.

Of course I changed the subject, and never referred to it again in his presence until the morning of April 24th last, just after the severest earthquake shock which has been experienced in the southwest since 1868. And well might I refer to it then, even in Steele's presence, for it shook that bridge, just as the early morning express was due, so that the addition of 500 pounds to its weight would have plunged it into the bottom of the ravine below.

This is how it happened, and I give it in his words, as he gave it to the officers of the road.

"Gentlemen, as you will not be able to understand all the circumstances without it, I will explain to you that I was stopping in Naples with my young wife and little girl at the time when the great earthquake of Casamicciola occurred, in 1883. We were buried in the falling buildings, and when, weeks after, consciousness returned, I was lying in a hospital. Those who had rescued me from the ruins stated that the dead body of my wife was found beside me, but not the slightest clue could be found of my child, dead or alive. From that time to the day which I applied for the position as keeper of High Bridge I did nothing but search for some knowledge of my child, but without any tangible clue, and only enough of that which was intangible to form the basis for a hope or an impression that she was living. Under that impression I have not only scoured Italy but every country in which I had hopes of finding a clue.

Much of my search pilgrimage has been made on the wheel which some of you have noticed in the "look-out" at the bridge. On the day which I applied for the position as keeper, the last of my fortune had been spent and I had only a few books and my wheel. I could part with neither of these. My resources were exhausted and must be replenished. More than this I was led to seek this position from the very fact that it was solitary and isolated. The impression was so strong upon me that, as I had exhausted several years and thousands of dollars in search of my child among the people, without results, there might be a paradoxical providence in pursuing an opposite course of retirement, seclusion and rest from pursuit.

"I obeyed that impulse, whether wisely or not I was in doubt, until the moment when on the morning of the recent accident I took down my lantern preparatory to making my beat over the bridge, before the evening train should cross. As I stepped on to the track, in front of the 'look-out,' I remembered that I had felt strangely depressed all the preceding day, and that my mental state was not unlike that in which one recalls the impressions of a bad dream. Before I had taken six steps the whole sickening recollections of the moment in which the earthquake began to rock the walls of Naples crept over me, because the first of those sensations was being repeated. I knew what was coming, and I must confess, gentlemen, that the motive of stopping the train, which that instant I heard whistling around the mountain side, before it should reach the trembling bridge was intensified by the feeling that upon my success in saving that train hung that for which I have spent the best of my manhood, the discovery of my child. To signal from the look-out end of the bridge was, as you know hopeless, because of the curve at the other approach. It was equally hopeless to attempt to run the length of the bridge before the train would be upon me. That moment my eye chanced to see the flash of my lantern light upon the nickel of my wheel, which I had taken outside to oil. It was my only hope! To make it tread the centre of the track, across the bridge in four minutes, meant life to that train load of human beings and perhaps to my child—who could say? Anything less meant—well, you know.

"I caught my lantern on to the handlebar and sprang into the saddle. With nearly my whole weight thrown into every stroke, she responded to my will like a part of my body. I could feel the vibrations of the bridge increase with each second as the roar of the swiftly approaching train grew louder and louder. Could I save it? A moment more would tell. As I flew over that last span the rocking was tremendous! But, gentlemen, if the span had snapped when I was within a rod of the abutment, I believe that machine would have made a leap and carried me over, at the speed she was under. Well, you know the rest: that wheel saved the day, and, gentlemen," said the hero of High Bridge, in a broken voice, "that train carried a messenger of the Italian government who brings me certain proof that my child has been discovered and will soon come to me."

If the carpets and furniture of the director's room had never felt the touch of tears before, they did that day.

If you should happen into the vice-president's room of this railroad you would notice the wheel which made priceless time that night over the rocking bridge. At the desk you will see a man of middle age, who never looks up at the wheel without a brighter gleam in his clear, blue eyes; a gleam whose warmth and tenderness is exceeded only when a tall and beautiful young woman enters, and resting her arm on his shoulder, says with a slight foreign accent: "Father, dear, aren't you 'most ready to go home with me?"—[Wheelmen's Gazette.

Financial wealth is not the greatest.

A Private Banquet in China.

Private banquets among the higher class of Chinese are given with all due respect to form and ceremony. The guests are invited by means of little slips of red paper (red being the festive color) on which is written, "On the —— day a trifling entertainment will await the light of your countenance. Fung Keung's compliments." The host, dressed in gorgeous array, welcomes his guests and when they have all arrived, invites them to lay aside their robes of ceremony. The tables are laid out in tasteful manner, having pyramids of cake, piles of fruit and dishes of preserves, the whole almost buried with flowers. Some time is consumed by host and guests in formal requests and refusals to take the highest seats, though no one will sit down until the host has taken his place. The host apologizes for the frugal character of the repast, and at certain moments the guests rise simultaneously and drink his health. Then, in politeness, they invert their glasses to show that they are drained. At the conclusion of the feast it is not considered impolite for a guest to express satisfaction with the good things he has eaten and exhibit signs of having stuffed himself to repletion in appreciation of the dinner.—[New York Voice.

Bibles for Rent.

The popular impression that every family possesses a Bible as well as a dictionary and a copy of Shakespeare, like many other popular impressions, seems to be an erroneous one, for there is in New York a firm that makes a business of renting out Bibles of an expensive and handsome kind, suitable to hand a bishop or fashionable clergyman on the occasion of a christening, wedding or funeral in the family.

If on the occasion of these religious episodes in the family the High Church dignitary should turn to the blank leaves between the Old and New Testaments he would find them devoid of genealogical records, to the consternation of the family. A deposit is demanded when the Bible is hired and a charge of $2 a night is the regular price.

A Watch for Every Day in the Year.

Few people, however, carried their appreciation of watches as far as Count Bruhl appears to have done, who is said to have had a different habit, with its appendages of watch, stick and snuff-box, for every day in the year; still, the French were not far behind as time-servers, as it was the fashion in France about 1765 to wear two watches, one on the right and another on the left side. This stupid foppishness was soon adopted in England, and it is told of the Earl of Bridgewater that on one occasion, having been robbed of one watch by a footpad the other was also demanded. "What makes you think I have another?" asked his lordship. "I know," was the reply, "for I saw you cross your hand to your left fob when you gave me this."—[Chicago News.

Making Himself Solid.

Mabel—Yes. I give you my hand with my heart in it.

Jack—You cannot do that.

Mabel—Why not?

Jack—Your hand is too daintily small to hold such a large heart.

That made the engagement irrevocable.—[Harper's Bazar.

A curious discovery has been made at Halstead, near Cambridge, England, as to the cause of a fire which took place there. On taking off the roof of the house which had been on fire, it was found that a quantity of straw stuff and rubbish had been carried by birds between the roof and the ceiling of the upper room, and this had been ignited from a hole in the chimney. About two cubic of rubbish had been accumulated.

Mr. Beecher's One Poem.

During the days of Henry Ward Beecher's courtship, it is related by his wife that he once dropped into poetry, and wrote a few lines of verse, teeming with affection for his sweetheart. But the verses were always kept sacred by Mrs. Beecher as they are at the present day and nothing can win them from her.

One day Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were in the office of Robert Bonner, who was then conducting the New York Ledger.

"Why don't you write a poem, Beecher?" said the acute publisher, "I will give you more for such a poem than I have for 'Norwood.'"

"He did, once," said Mrs. Beecher, and at once Mr. Bonner's eyes sparkled. "Recite it for me, won't you, Mrs. Beecher?" he asked.

But the eyes of the great preacher were riveted on his wife, and she knew that meant silence.

"Come," said the persistent publisher, "I'll give $5000 if you will recite that poem for me," addressing Mrs. Beecher.

"Why, it ran—," began the preacher's wife.

"Eunice," simply said Mr. Beecher.

And, although Robert Bonner offered to double the sum first offered, he never got the poem from Mrs. Beecher, and no one has since been a whit more successful.—[Epoch.

Beauty.

What is beauty, after all? Each eye makes it for itself. You think Smith's lady-love raw-boned and hard-featured. He calls her a "magnificent woman," and wonders what you see in your little angel, with her baby face and tiny stature. So it is the world over; and yet we would each give something to be beautiful after our own fashion. How the powders and lotions which are to bestow upon poor bilious mortals skins of satin and snow, and the hair-dyes and pomades and cosmetics of all sorts sell, we need not mention to prove the fact. In France old ladies are even being made over, at the cost of half their fortunes.

Yes, we all want to be beautiful; and if only our ideas of beauty were what they should be, we might accomplish our desire easily. Meekness and love make all faces pleasant. There are plain features so charming with the sparkle of good humor that we love them. There are blemished faces so sweet that they are pleasanter to look upon than the most perfect. After all, it is in the expression that the actual charm lies.—[The Ledger.

The Reindeers of Lapland.

In Lapland 400,000 domestic reindeer sustain 27,000 people. According to the law of that country, each owner has his mark on the ears of all his reindeer, and to this mark he has an exclusive right, nobody else being allowed to use it. If such a device were not employed, the herds mingling at pasture could not be separated. No one can invent and assume a mark of his own, and the only way to get one is to buy that of an existing herd. If unused marks are scarce, the families owning them often ask high prices for them.—[Boston Transcript.

Mexico has been estimated to contain 479 square leagues of forests, 18,134 square leagues of mountain land, and 4822 square leagues of uncultivated land.

The Rev. S. Lehner, of Berwick, Penn., awoke suddenly from a deep sleep and found that his false teeth were missing. He thought he felt a choking sensation. Two doctors were sent for. They could give no relief. The minister gasped for breath. He bade farewell to his family and thought he was going to die. His little daughter soon found the missing teeth in a bureau drawer, when the patient at once recovered.

ALABAMA BRIEFS.

News of the State Briefly Paragraphed.

J. T. Crass, ex-mayor of Decatur, and George O. Tenny, also of that city, prominent railroad contractors, received news a day or two ago of their being awarded by the war department at Washington, the contract for furnishing the teams and labor to grade the National park at Chattanooga, Tenn. These gentlemen will begin work at once with 150 men and forty teams.

* * *

An Anniston telegram states that United States Deputy Collector, W. W. Colquitt, and Deputy Marshals Briggs and Jackson have just returned from the most successful revenue raid of years. They were gone four days and traversed Cleburne from one side to the other. Four moonshiners were captured at work. Nine stills and all the working apparatus were destroyed, and about ten thousand gallons of beer and several hundred gallons of whisky were spilled on the ground. This is about seventy moonshine stills destroyed in Cleburne county in the last four months, but the number does not seem to diminish.

* * *

There seems to be a conflict of dates between the Alabama Educational association, which is to meet in Birmingham July 5, 6 and 7, and the Southern Educational association, which will be held at Atlanta, Ga., at the same time. By all means let the executive committee reconsider the matter, and if possible change the dates of the Alabama association so that it will not conflict with the southern association. Hon. Solomon Palmer of East Lake, is president of the southern, and Alabama teachers should not do anything that would be construed as antagonism to the effort to unite southern teachers upon the great work of education.

* * *

Captain Ross Killed.

Capt. Newt. Ross was shot and killed in Florida a few days ago by one of his hands. The captain was down at his Florida estate, where he usually spent the winter months. The particulars of the killing could not be learned, as there was only a brief telegram summoning his brother to come. Mr. Ross' death will be keenly felt at many a fireside. He was very benevolent. He has given and deeded town lots to several of his old slaves in Heflin, and has others on his land who are allowed to cultivate as much land as they wish, rent free. The Ross farm is situated four miles from Heflin on the Tallapoosa river, and is one of the most noted in that section. Captain Ross was never married. He leaves a large estate, something near $100,000.

* * *

The Birmingham correspondent of the Atlanta, Ga., Constitution sends the following special to that paper: "The division in the democratic party over the contest between Governor Jones and the alliance candidate, Captain R. F. Kolb, for the democratic nomination for governor, is growing serious, and threatens to involve the congressmen. Another county convention went to pieces Monday. The convention in Fayette split, and in the same hall two conventions, with separate chairmen, proceeded at the same time, to elect delegates to the state and congressional conventions. One faction instructed for Jones for Governor and John H. Bankhead for congress, and the other for Kolb and John M. Davis. This is the second county out of the five which has split and will run a double-barreled convention. Clarke is reported to be in the row, and if so, that will be three splits out of five. The danger of two state tickets grows greater with every convention.

* * *

Major Reeves Indicted.

Major W. M. Reeves, president of the McNab bank at Eufaula, which broke last year, was indicted for embezzlement, and on a change of venue the trial was held at Union Springs recently. The jury found him guilty.

The Eufaula Times says: "The Times understands that counsel for the defendant has reserved over 200 exceptions to the judge's charge and the evidence on which to base an appeal. It is the judgment of well-informed lawyers that he will get a new trial, it being very difficult for a judge to so charge and rule in cases like this so as to prevent a supreme court from reversing him, a conviction in an embezzlement case being very hard to secure. The Times understands that Major W. M. Reeves will have to go to jail, or at least, remain in the custody of the sheriff until a new trial is secured, if one is granted. The trial of Mr. J. H. Reeves on a similar charge will come up at the next term of court.

At the trial an attempt was made to prove that the statement the bank made public three or four years ago claiming a capital of $100,000 and a surplus and undivided profits of about $30,000 more was wholly untrue. It was attempted by this to show that the bank was already broke when this statement was made. The interest in the case was unflagging, the court-house being full of spectators all the while. The defendants contested every inch of ground.

* * *

Alabama's Cotton Production.

The census office at Washington has issued the preleminary statistics of cotton produced in Alabama, compiled by B. C. White, under the supervision of Special Agent Hyde, in charge of the division of agriculture. The acreage in cotton in the state in the year 1889 and 1890 was 2,761,771; the number of bales produced, 914,414, not including linters; the average yield per acre almost exactly one-third of a bale, and the total value of the crop to the producers, $42,009,171. The figures reported at the tenth census for the year 1879-80 were as follows: Acreage, 2,330,085; number of bales, 699,655, and yield per acre three-tenths of a bale. No attempt was made at the tenth census to ascertain the value of the cotton crop which it reported, but it was estimated by the department of agriculture at $35,393,490. The figures now issued are subject to slight modification in the final report, which will also include cotton seed and other branches of cotton investigation which the census office is engaged in.

Commenting editorially on the above the Age-Herald says: A short review of the statistics on the cotton crop of this State may not be a waste of time. It is shown by the statistics that the farmers of Alabama, in 1879-80, planted 2,330,085 acres in cotton and marketed 699,653 bales of cotton. It is shown that in 1889-90 they planted 2,761,771 acres, and it is estimated will not market more than 914,414 bales. The yield per acre in 1879, it will be seen, was a little more than one-third of a bale per acre. The yield in 1889-90 was hardly a third of a bale per acre. It will be seen that in 1889-90 the farmers planted 431,785 acres more than they had in cultivation in 1879-80. It will also be seen that they raised 215,760 more bales in 1889-90 than they did in 1870-80. The price paid for cotton in 1879-80 was about 10 cents per pound. The price paid last year will average about 7 cents. This also exposes a lamentable condition of affairs. While the farmers of the state last year cultivated an excess of 431,745 acres of land over 1879 and produced 215,760 bales of cotton more than that year, still they received only about $32,039,940 for the whole crop, or actually $1,483,210 less than for the crop of 1879-80. This is altogether out of joint and there is something radically wrong at some point.

Of course these figures do not include the returns from the sales of cotton seed, neither do the figures of 1879-80 embrace any such sales, for ten years ago the cotton seed oil industry was but in its infancy. These figures show that the farmers of this state have actually cultivated more acres, made more cotton and have received less for it than they received for the crop ten years ago. Another point, which has never been considered very seriously by southern farmers, is that the figures show that the land produced more per acre in 1889-90. This tells the tale of the care taken of land in the south. The soil has become exhausted and this loss of a little over a million dollars more, makes the difference in the results of the periods taken, of over two millions of dollars on the poverty side of the ledger. This, it would seem, is enough to force the farmers to plant less cotton and raise their hog and hominy at home.

THE COLONEL SKIPPED

And Something Like $300,000 Disappeared With Him.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Dallas, Texas, says: Colonel J. B. Simpson, well known throughout the south and Texas especially, who has been at the head of a dozen business firms in Dallas, is absent, and numbers of creditors and people who have been duped are looking for him. The grand jury, it is reported, has found several indictments against him, and the air is filled with rumors of crooked transactions. His career has been so glittering and the crush so sudden and so complete that his flight is regarded as a mystery, the solution of which is bound to implicate him to such an extent as to exile him from this country. It is estimated that he got away with at least three hundred thousand dollars in cool cash belonging to other people.

LOTTERY MEN IN LIMBO.

Arrested Under Indictments for Violation of Anti-Lottery Law.

A New Orleans dispatch says the lottery officials were placed under arrest Tuesday under the indictment found by the Boston grand jury charging violation of the anti-lottery postal law.

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., FEB. 25, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

Capt. Kolb said to the Decatur News man in the most emphatic way: "Jones can't beat me in Barbour to save his gizzard." It appears that Jones will beat him gizzard or no gizzard. A rabbit foot may do the work.

Walter Besant asks: "Where are our poets gone?" A Pennsylvania insane asylum manager states that eight out of every ten of the patients under his care are addicted to writing verse. If Mr. Besant will address a letter to him he can probably get the desired information.—St. Joseph Daily News.

If any of these patients have escaped, further information can probably be obtained at the Age-Herald office in Birmingham, Ala.

St. Louis Republic: America is not the only land where self-supporting women abound. Germany and England both boast of 5,000,000 such. France, Australia and Italy have half as many a piece. The day is gone when woman was content to pose as live bric-a-brac and live on the sweat of somebody else's brow. Occupation for mind and hands is a law of health and happiness; idle women are priestesses of Satan.

The political warmth of some of our contemporaries is exceedingly worrying. There is a consolation in the fact that the war is so far only "on paper," and in the hope that it will continue to be so confined. The innocent souls whom our grangers style "the people" should not be drawn into so much unnecessary cussing and discussing of politics and politicians while the weather is bright and the fields need plowing.

One new railroad has just been completed to Montgomery, and the outlook is that the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis will be completed here before the first day of March, 1893. The Alabama Grand Trunk will be next, and it will be shortly followed by the building of the Montgomery, Hayneville and Camden road, and when these roads are completed Montgomery will be one of the best railroad centers in the South. —Montgomery Journal.

The Talladega County Alliance has demanded of Captain Kolb that he give a satisfactory explanation of the Guice cotton transaction over his own signature. They further demand of him, that if the Guice matter be false as he says it is, that he immediately institute legal proceedings against Guice for damage to character. Until he does the things above enumerated the Talladega Alliance respectfully withhold their support from him.

The following is the qualification for voters in the Tuskaloosa primaries to take place February 27th:

The qualified voters at said election shall all be white Democrats who voted for the Democratic nominee for Governor in the last election in which they voted in this State, or who will be qualified electors at the general election in 1892, and will on the day of the primary election register there as Democrats and agree in writing to vote the Democratic ticket at the general election in August, 1892, and the managers shall have charge of such registration.

The Louisiana lottery will be removed to Mexico in 1893. It is stated that arrangements have been made for this purpose. It is thought that the lottery company submitted the same proposition to the Mexican government as it did to the State of Louisiana, and that the Mexican government accepted it. This is stated to be the true secret of the withdrawal of the lottery from the fierce political struggle that has been raging for many months past in Louisiana.

The campaign having developed a "crazy poet" on the Age-Herald, we give his recent effort a wider circulation through the VIEW in order that it may bring him all the fame he could hope for. Here is what he says about the result in Marengo:

The pivot has swung with a great big swing,
And Governor Jones has carried Marengo,
Which means he gets there in the spring,
And Captain Kolb died "in a" by Jingo.

Political.

The vote in the Kolb Jones contest to date stands:

Jones, 46.

This includes Marengo with its 16 votes, the primaries having gone for Jones; Butler with its 9, Jefferson 11, Madison 4 and Clarke 3.

Kolb 23.

This gives him 12 from Jefferson to which he is hardly entitled; one half of Madison, 4, one-half Clarke, 3, and all of Fayette.

Giving Kolb the benefit of every possible doubt he can't claim more than 23 out of the 60 delegates already elected. From these same six counties last year he got 33 votes.

He thought he would carry 60 out of the sixty-six counties in Alabama. Six have acted and he hasn't a clear title to a single county. The nearest he came to it was Fayette where a number of beats were thrown out because Republicans were allowed to vote in a purely Democratic primary.

The Times doesn't believe that it is possible for Mr. Kolb to get the nomination or even get in the neighborhood of it.—Eufaula Times.

Less Politics and More Practical Business.

Under the above heading a Texas correspondent sends out these truthful words:

While we discuss constitutional and theoretical questions the Yankees go right along in their practical way and select their representatives on business principles, always getting the better of us.

By way of illustration I will give a few figures to show why the practical Yankee is long on cash, while we theorectical Southerners are always short in finances.

We sell our cotton at 6 cents per pound and buy it back at 20. We sell wool at 20 cents per pound and buy it back at 50. Sell hides at 12 cents and buy them back in boots and shoes at $1 to $3. We rush our wheat off to glutted markets by the car load and buy it back by the 100 pounds. Sell broom corn by the ton and buy it back by the broom. Send our hogs to Kansas City and Chicago and get them back in bacon, hams and lard. Sell a beef steer in Chicago for $25, and when we have purchased the manufactured articles from the horns, hair, hide and hoofs and the packed beef from the carcass we have paid near $150 to get him back, a profit to the Yankees of about $125.

We have the finest stock raising country in the world, yet buy our horses in Kentucky, our mules from Missouri and our blooded cattle from Iowa. With a superior corn country we get our starch from New York, glucose from Illinois, whiskey from Kentucky and bacon and lard from everywhere. We send out of Texas every year $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 for machinery and agricultural implements of every kind, while our own iron mines remain undeveloped and our virgin pine forests untouched. And so on until we have imported everything from a needle to a steam engine, from an axe handle to a thrashing machine. On all these things we pay the manufacturers from 100 to 300 per cent profit, while our raw material lies unused and wasting. The manufacturer becomes a millionaire and the Eastern farmer grows richer supplying the populous cities with the products of his farm, while our Texas farmer grows poorer and more dependent and despondent with each succeeding year.

Superfluous Joe Brown.

Old-man Joe Brown, of Georgia, who imagines that the people of this country are always anxious to know what is going on on the inside of his head, and who recently did the altogether superfluous thing of declaring himself for Dave Hill, will go down to history for his famous arguments in favor of the repeal of the internal revenue laws. Old man Joe has always been an ultra-protectionist, desiring, no doubt, to protect his chain gangs of convict labor from the pauper labor of Europe. He is also strongly opposed to the tax on whiskey and tobacco, and in the immortal speech referred to he argued that a repeal of the whiskey tax would be as good as a reduction of the tariff because it would enable a man to save enough money on his whiskey to buy his clothes, and the more whisky he drank, of course the more money he would save. As a unique and altogether original bit of reasoning the argument stands alone.—Memphis Commercial.

Things for Kolb to Ask.

Hamilton Mercury.

The Mercury has done all in its power to refute Mr. Kolb of the insinuations and open charges made against him, which purports to come from a Mr. J. G. Guice, a most reputable citizen of Eufaula, the charges being of so serious a character that they are enough to render any man infamous, if not contradicted.

They are in substance that Mr. Kolb sold Mr. Guice a certain lot of cotton, and furnished weights, the cotton on being weighed after purchase proved to be extremely short. Mr. Guice called Mr. Kolb's attention to the matter, and Mr. Kolb proceeds to corroborate his weights by his weighers certificates; both were cotton buyers. Mr. Guice called on the weigher and he disclaimed any knowledge of the transaction; Mr. Guice then wrote Mr. Kolb a note saying, "if you don't pay me back my money I will send you to the penitentiary," and that under this threat Mr. Kolb refunded the money. This is the substance of the charge.

We attempted to defend Mr. Kolb by saying the whole thing was a lie, and called for the witness to tell what he knew. Mr. Guice said that the Mercury had no right to call on him that he was a private citizen, but if Mr. Kolb would call he would furnish all the information he desires.

We don't believe Mr. Kolb guilty of the charge, but since Mr. Guice has offered to tell Mr. Kolb what he knows about it, we think Mr. Kolb owes it to the State to demand a public statement from Mr. Guice. The charge is too serious to go unnoticed, there has been too much publicity about it for it to have escaped Mr. Kolb's attention, so we know that we express the sentiment of many strong Kolb men, for we have talked to them and they say Mr. Kolb must take some action in the matter. Now, we can call upon Mr. Kolb to take some action in the matter, for we are getting rather tired of defending a man who don't defend himself. Further, we have been put in the very ridiculous attitude all over the State of calling Mr. Guice a liar. An omnibus denial won't do; he must accept Mr. Guice's challenge and make a specific denial.

The people of North Alabama know exactly what is right and what an honorable man would do under the circumstances, and if Mr. Kolb don't take a stick and go to Eufaula and half kill Mr. Guice for giving foundation for base slander, and prove that the whole thing is a lie he will lose the confidence of this people.

This is pretty plain talk coming from a Kolb Journal, but we know it is due the Kolb following of this end of the State, and that it is good safe politics for any honest man to pursue, for there are no two ways about matters of this kind, and further, the gravity of the case demands promptness.

Roads.

A "soft Christmas" characterized about three-quarters of the surface of the United States in 1891. Hundreds of people missed the fun they would have had because the roads were so bad they could not get away from home. Hundreds of merchants had a most disastrous Christmas trade because the farmers and their families were fast mud bound at home, and could not get to town even for a bottle of brandy to flavor mince pie. Thousands of hearts were sad, thousands of pairs of pretty eyes looked out upon a dull, gray, wretched, mean and vile world. Why? Just because the United States has the worst roads of any country in civilization; roads that would make even a wild buffalo of the plains blush for his kind if he had to travel by such trails.

While most other improvements, even to opera singers and race horses, have advanced in America with a great bound, our public highways have remained the same they were when farmers kept six horses to do the hauling two can do on a decent track, and villages ten miles apart were shut off from one another three months in a year as completely as if they had been on opposite sides of the continent, because the roads were impassable. It is a disgrace to an enlightened country.

The road laws are as antiquated in many parts of the country as the old laws against witch burning. With all the money at command in this country agriculturalists and business men ought at once to take measures to improve our highways. There is no spot where a fine highway could not be built, and such a road will improve the value of property as nothing else can. America ought to emerge from the mud and go to roadbuilding, letting no dunderhead old hunker notions stand in the way.—Ex.

Subscribe for this paper.

Examination of young girls by a certain gentleman interested on address before a school to dictate an essay. He began the speech by telling his audience that he was a candidate for the legislature, and wanted to announce his platform. "If the good people send me to Montgomery, children, I will tell you what I will do," he said. "I'd pass laws making cotton worth fifteen cents a pound; make everybody give me all of their money; make the Legislature give every poor man a mule, and all of the widowed a pig; make it against the law to have tax collectors; marry off all the old bachelors; and then turn all the creeks into whiskey, so that you children can set on the banks and catch suckers all times of day. I'd regulate this country sho', and cut a caper in that Montgomery town if I can just get there."—Greensboro Watchman.

We understand that all of the patients who go to the legislature on those sort of promises are not yet dead.

La Grippe Again.

During the epidemic of La Grippe last season Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, proved to be the best remedy. Reports from the many who used it confirm this statement. They were not only quickly relieved, but the disease left no bad after results. We ask you to give this remedy a trial and we guarantee that you will be satisfied with results, or the purchase price will be refunded. It has no equal in La Grippe, or any Throat, Chest or Lung Trouble. Trial bottles free. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says: "I find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle. jun11

Dr. Miles' Nervine Tablets.

The Best Nerve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jan11

LADIES
Reading a book, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

A Gold Watch and $304.

That is what every Agent receives who gets up a club on our $1 per week plan.

Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement. Stem wind and set. Ladies' or Gent's size. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the Hunting Case Watches for the Club price $28 and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our Jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such work for the money."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place, write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO.,
48 and 50 Maiden Lane, New York.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 9, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Avey Wilson, homestead 17622 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 26, township 21 north, range 14 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Alfred Hill, Holley Ray, John R. Kemp, John Headley, all of Clanton, Ala.

feb11-6 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., February 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Madison Tyus, homestead 19023 for the w ½ of s e ¼ of sec 25, township 20 n, range 15 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Kato Price, James Cooper, Ed. Cooper, Lewis Price, all of Verbena, Ala.

feb11-6 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.

DRY GOODS
—AND—
-CARPETS-

NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.

LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT.
In the City. All Grades of

CARPETS.

Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, - ALA.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, RAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria has been well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS
And Musical Merchandise
Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which the ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.
Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.
THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.
ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

BRYANT & STRATTON Business College
BOOK-KEEPING, SHORTHAND, TELEGRAPHY, &C.
WRITE FOR CATALOGUE AND FULL INFORMATION. LOUISVILLE, KY.

1891. 1892.

Farmers' Alliance Exchange,
Union Warehouse Co
Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants
OFFICE ON TALLAPOOSA STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - ALA.

Lowest rates of Storage and Highest Price obtainable for all Cotton entrusted to us for sale. We charge no Drayage. Free Wagon Yard. No commissions.

sep17 P. H. MERRITT, Manager.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., FEB. 25, 1892.

SCHEDULE L. & N. ALA. RAILROAD—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	8:15 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:06 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 3 and 5 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A Literary club is to be organized here in the near future.

Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Green visited relatives here this week.

Mr. John Hester has gone to Montgomery on business.

Mr. W. H. Phillips' $40 cow was killed by the train last Wednesday.

Mr. H. Evans, of Bozeman, was in Clanton on business last week.

Mr. Charlie Hannon spent Sunday here with his mother and sister.

Mr. Mac Featherstone, of Nashville, Tenn., was in Clanton Monday.

Mr. O. Mullins has moved into the Bell residence on Court Avenue.

Mrs. E. M. Butler, of Birmingham, has been visiting her parents here.

Mrs. Hugh Holly, of Lowndesboro, visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. McEwen, a sister of Mr. H. A. Logan, was buried here Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Evans and daughter, Miss French are visiting relatives in Randolph and Anniston.

Rev. A. J. Briggs was in Clanton last week and was the guest of Mr. John Garner while here.

Mr. Bob McAlister, of Greenville, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. R. Q. Lane here recently.

Mr. N. Kicker has moved out to take charge of the commissary at Duke, Merritt & Ehrman's saw mill.

There will be services at the Episcopal Church next Tuesday night. Rev. I. F. Smith will be here.

Miss Etta Matthews, of Marion, Ala., has been visiting her brother's family here for the past two weeks.

Messrs. Devon Middleton and Alwin McDuffie, of Lowndes county, were in Clanton visiting friends last week.

Mr. H. C. Martin, of Hanceville, has taken charge as depot agent here and Mr. Jim Hester has been made his assistant.

Wanted—As a household servant a white woman over thirty-five years of age and without children. Apply to O. R. Bell, Clanton, Ala.

Managers of the primary election had best preserve a copy of this issue of the VIEW for reference. The committee instructions will not appear again.

Mr. Brooks, of Verbena, who is traveling in the interest of Marbury & Jones' saw mill at Bozeman, was in our city last week and was the guest of Mr. W. A. Collier.

We are requested to announce that the Methodist ladies' Aid Society will have a special meeting Monday afternoon. All the members are request to attend as business of importance will be transacted.

Hester Dinkerman, a worthy old colored woman, died here last week

The VIEW office has been kept busy for the past ten days turning out job printing. If you wish to see some extra good work in this line we can show it to you.

A young man by the name of Bean was arrested Monday at Jemison on the charge of forgery. He was brought to Clanton and given a preliminary examination, and was bound over in the sum of $500. The amount involved was only ten dollars.

The VIEW had a semi-annual report of the county treasury for publication last week, but at the request of a member of the board of revenue the report is held over until the board can make an official examination as to its correctness at the next regular meeting of that body in April.

In this issue appear the announcements of Rev. R. M. Honeycutt and Mr. A. G. Dake for the office of Probate Judge, Mr. J. P. Vanderveer and Mr. Will H. Sartor for Clerk of the Circuit Court; Mr. P. M. Moore for Sheriff and Mr. B. M. Gentry for Tax Collector. It will be noted that each of them makes his candidacy subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending Feb. 19th, 1892.

Misses Mary Duke, Lonnie May and Annie Lane, Pallie Chandler and Jessie Gilchrist.

Masters R. Q. Lane, Eugene Chesnutt, Jim Prichett and Otis Chandler.

Notice.

An assessment of $1.00 against each of the candidates for the various county offices having been made by the county executive committee to pay for printing the primary election tickets, notice is given that such assessment must be paid to the Secretary of the committee by April 1st. Failure to meet the assessment by that date will cause your name to be omitted from the tickets.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
Chairman.

W. E. STEWART, Sec'y.

Lily Dots.

Farm work has begun in earnest. Our farmers are very busy making preparations for planting their crops.

Rev. B. E. Feagin comes highly recommended as a preacher and pastor. Those who heard him on the 2nd Sunday of this month were convinced that Isabella could not have done better if she had selected her own pastor. We hope he will have a good congregation next first Sabbath.

Rev. A. E. Burns preached his farewell sermon to Mulberry church last Sunday.

Mr. J. J. Veazey is still dangerously ill. It saddens the writer's heart to look upon him.

Miss Sue Sanford is visiting relatives and friends near Stanton.

Mrs. Douglass, of Autauga county, is up on a visit to Mr. Deshazo's family.

Mr. W. M. Wright is on the sick list.

CLINT.

My Dear John.—I want to remind you that when you find work you must consider that work your own. Don't go into it, as some boys do, with the feeling that you will do as little as you can and get something better soon, but make up your mind you will do as much as possible, and make yourself so necessary to your employer that he will never let you go.

"You have been a good son to me. Be as good in business, and I am sure God will bless your efforts."

"H'm!" said the lawyer, reading it over the second time. "That's good advice, John—excellent advice! I rather think I'll try you, even without references."

John had been with him five years, and last spring was admitted to the bar.

"Do you intend taking that young man into partnership?" asked a friend lately.

"Yes, I do. I couldn't get along without John."

And John always says the best references he ever had was a mother's good advice and honest praise.

Men Who Hurt a Town.

All who oppose improvements.

All who distrust public spirited men.

Men who envy their neighbor's possessions.

Men who oppose everything that does not originate with them.

Men who wear long faces when strangers speak of locating in the town.

Men who find fault with every enterprise with which they are not connected.

Men who refuse to subscribe towards the building of schools and churches.

PRIMARY ELECTION

CALLED FOR APRIL 16th TO NOMINATE COUNTY CANDIDATES.

Action of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee held on last Saturday there were present the following committeemen:

Beat 1—H. C. Young; beat 2—J P Vanderveer; beat 3—D. A. White; beat 4—W R Stewart; beat 5—J H Bostwick; beat 6—J W Scott; beat 8—P M Moore.

W Y Nix was elected member from beat 7.

It was decided to call a primary election to be held on Tuesday, the 16th day of April, 1892, for the purpose of nominating county officers and electing delegates to a convention to be held at Clanton on Saturday, the 16th day of April, 1892, to select delegates to the different conventions and elect a new executive committee.

In selecting delegates the beats are entitled to the following:

Beat 1—Two delegates.
Beat 2—Jemison—Three delegates.
Beat 2—Providence—Two	"
Beat 3—Benson—Two	"
Beat 3—Macedonia—One	"
Beat 4—Five	"
Beat 5—Verbena—Three	"
Beat 5—Cooper's—Two	"
Beat 6—Two	"
Beat 7—Latham's—One	"
Beat 7—Maplesville—Three	"
Beat 8—Six	"

The following persons were named as managers of the election, and any of them are empowered to elect suitable persons to supply the place of any who may fail to serve, viz:

Beat 1—W A Mims, W. H. Conway, H N Mullins.

Beat 2—Providence—W H Shaw, G B Armstrong, and J J Mote. Jemison—W W Adams, Thomas Harrison and J H Hughes.

Beat 3—Benson—James Cooley, Calvin Jones and Robert Williams. At Macedonia—J P Nix, J L Williams and T J Elam.

Beat 4—Oscar Mullins, E J Parrish and John Garner.

Beat 5—At Verbena—B S Williams, H B Northington and W H Strock. At Cooper's—P C Dennis, J E White, and W M Golson.

Beat 6—J R Vincent, R W Scott, W I Mullins.

Beat 7—At Maplesville—Ed. Smitherman, J D McGee and J G Smitherman. At Macedonia—Hamp Shoults, Jasper Gentry and William Green.

Beat 8—P E Harris, E L McKee and J H Gandy.

The managers are to select their own returning officer and clerks, and the boxes are to be returned to the Sheriff at Clanton as soon as possible, and the committee must be notified by Friday, the 15th of April, of all contests. The committee will meet on Saturday, the 16th of April, to count the vote.

The following resolution was offered, and after much discussion was finally adopted by a vote of 5 to 2:

Resolved, That at the primary election ordered if it can be ascertained from the returns of the various boxes what name received the majority of the votes cast for each county office, and then the office for which said name was intended, said returns shall be accepted as legal and correct returns, and no returns shall be excluded or fail to be accepted and counted on account of any informality or technical errors that may exist therein.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Any person who voted the Democratic ticket in the last State and National elections or who, having been prevented from or failing to vote in said election, and has heretofore habitually voted the Democratic ticket and who is in accord with and intends to support the nominees of the party, will be entitled to vote in the primary election and participate in the different conventions of the party; provided this resolution shall not apply to conventions or primaries already held.

It was further resolved that each candidate be required to pay to Dr. Stewart $1 for the purpose of paying Mr. Lawrence for the printing of the tickets, and the thanks of the committee was voted Mr. Lawrence for his uniform kindness in publishing calls, &c., for the committee without charge.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
W. E. STEWART, Chairman.
Secretary.

Dr. J. P. Givhan, of Jemison, gave us a pleasant call Tuesday.

Grip Poetry.

Backwark, turn backward, O time, in your flight; give me the nose that I breathed through last night. Bring back the smeller that twodays ago knew not the torment of a continual blow. Wipe from my mustache the moisture of sneeze; put wooden splints on my poor weaken knees. Rub my red nose, as you oft have before, with tallow, dear mother it is so sore. Backward, turn backward, O tide of the nosel I am so tired from my head to my toes. Tired out with mopping and coughing and sneezing; weary from handkerchief continually squeezing. I have grown weary of sniffle and snuff, of wiping my bugle until it is rough. Stick my head in a big pillow slip and sew it up, mother.—I have the grippe.—Exchange.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Prof. J. S. Cordaris's Arithmetic School will open in a house belonging to Mr. E. T. Gullahorn near the Methodist parsonage in this place Monday 29th inst.

Democrats now want to know who the candidates are in Chilton that will pledge themselves in public print to submit their candidacy to and abide by the action of the Democratic primary election. Announcements "V" in advance.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

R. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. G. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention.

WILL H. SARTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

J. P. VANDERVEER.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

B. M. GENTRY.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES.

Call on H. P. BAIER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[32]

Sheriff's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a Writ of Attachment issued out of the Court of Chilton County, Alab. in favor of the Wood-Dwyer Grocery Company and against Charles Studstill, I will proceed to sell, at the Court House in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property—levied upon as the property of the said Charles Studstill, to-wit:

MONDAY, MARCH 7TH, 1892,

One Bay Mule, about 12 years old.
One Bay Colt, about 2 years old.
Two Large Oxen.

LEE HAYES,
Sheriff Chilton County.
Clanton, Ala., February 25th, 1892.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage executed to the undersigned by William Willis and Louisa Minerva Willis, and recorded in Mortgage Book 28, page 105 in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton county, We will proceed to sell on the

19TH DAY OF MARCH, 1892,

in front of the courthouse of Chilton county, in the city of Clanton, Ala., within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate and personal property, to-wit:

The south ½ of southwest ¼ and the northwest ¼ of the southwest ¼ and the southwest ¼ of the southeast ¼ section 29, township 24, range 16.

One bay mare named "Mollie" and colt.

One black mare mule named "Kit."

Three red cows, one dun cow, one white cow, one buggy, one wagon, and one hundred bushels of corn, more or less.

SELIGMAN & ABRAHAM,
feb25 Mortgagees.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2694, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 26, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2697 for the e ½ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s w ¼ sec 6, township 23 s, range 15 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: David Higginbotham, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Gentry, and Wiley Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

"You Must Eat To Live."
And I Am Headquarters for
THE BEST GROCERIES
In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH
FRUITS and CANDIES
I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.
W. H. PHILLIPS,
Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.
—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—
Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,
PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

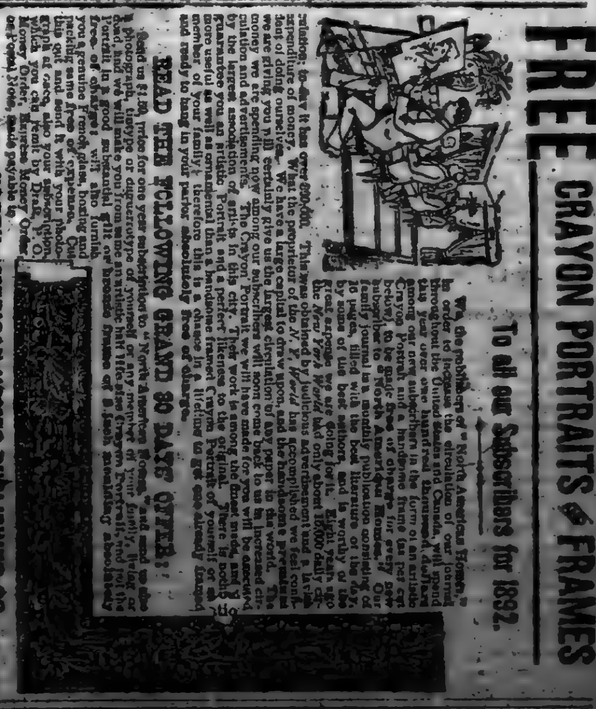
Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.
Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.
—18 COMMERCE STREET,—
MONTGOMERY - - - - ALA.
Please write for prices ample cards.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.



FREE
CRAYON PORTRAITS & FRAMES
To all our Subscribers for 1892.
READ THE FOLLOWING GRAND 60 DAYS OFFER.
NORTH AMERICAN HOMES PUBLISHING CO.
World Building, Ky. Tel.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST

COUNTY CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continues three days.

Circuit—On the Seventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

Barber Shop.
Mr. H. A. Logan, who has his barber shop upstairs in the Allen Building, solicits the patronage of the good people of Clanton. He does good work and is well fixed up for the business.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Worker. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSE
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton County, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds
Work Done in the
BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. (mar24y

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited. [feb25-92]

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY
Fall Term begins September 15.
Spring Term begins January 2d.
Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the South. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Steward's improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. Attendance of baths, music and elocution. Parlors, library, reading rooms and gymnasium conveniently located. Cash cost of tuition, $80,000. Eight acres of campus. Board, lights, fuel, servant's attendance, etc., five months, $61.50; tuition, $5.00. Send for catalogue to Rev. L. D. Rose, D. D. Florence, Ala. dec9y

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.
When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

HAMILTON-BROWN SHOES.

The celebrated Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company's goods can be had at W. L. Sampey's at reasonable prices. They are first-class shoes and well

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—There was quite an interesting debate in the house Monday morning over the resolution for the agricultural committee to investigate the effect of the McKinley tariff bill upon the farmers of the country. It gave the alliance members an opportunity to be heard, and they were not slow in speaking out for their constituents. Moses and Livingston, of Georgia, both made brief but telling two-minute speeches in favor of the resolution. Mr. Funston, of Kansas, a Republican member of the committee on agriculture, opposed it, and the two Georgians attacked him without gloves. Mr. Funston, while commenting upon the prosperity of farmers, challenged the Democrats to bring in a bill to repeal the McKinley act, and taunted them with cowardice in their tariff policy. The gentleman from Kansas objected to this resolution because, he said, it was introduced for political effect and because a majority of the committee on agriculture was composed of democrats. Mr. Livingston, of Georgia, in a two-minutes' speech, took issue with Mr. Funston as to the effect of the tariff law upon the farmers, and among other things said that the farmers of the country would be heard on this floor, if not now, in the next congress, and the gentleman from Kansas could take due notice. Mr. McKinley, of New Hampshire, the author of the resolution, denied that it had been offered for political effect. He believed that it was proper that congress should investigate this question in order that the people should know what effect the tariff law had upon the agricultural interests.

TUESDAY.—Speaker Crisp was at his post of duty in the house Tuesday morning, evidently none the worse for his temporary indisposition. Mr. Brown, of Indiana, from the committee on elections, submitted a report on the contested election case of Craig against Mr. Stewart from the 24th senatorial district of Pennsylvania. The report which finds in favor of the contestant was placed upon the calendar, and Brown gave notice that he would call it up for action on Tuesday next. Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, from the committee on election of president, vice president and members of congress, reported joint resolution propoting the constitutional amendment for the election of the senators by the people of the several states. Referred to the house calendar.

WEDNESDAY.—The Indian appropriation bill was up in the house Wednesday, and on it the new members orated to their hearts' content on all subjects. Watson, of Georgia, took advantage of the bill to speak about the depressed condition of the people, not the Indians, but other people whose votes are necessary to a re-election. He was frequently interrupted by Mr. Funston, of Kansas, (whom he dubbed "Farmer Funston,") and the colloquy between the two gentlemen was amusing, though carried on amid confusion which rendered their voices almost indistinguishable. Livingstoe, of Georgia, asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the following preamble and resolution: "In view of the unrest and extremely distressed condition of the masses of the people in this country, and their eager inquiry as to the policy of this house towards the people, resolved, that we extend to them our sincere sympathy, and promise to do all in our power for relief, on the line of improved finances and reduced taxation." Mr. Taylor, of Illinois, objected.

THURSDAY.—Speaker Crisp called the house to order Thursday morning, but immediately after the delivery of the prayer, resigned the gavel to Richardson, of Tennessee. The president's message relative to the Choctaw and Chickasaw claims was laid before the house and read by the clerk. On motion of Mr. Bolman it was laid on the table for the present. Mr. O'Neill, of Pennsylvania, presented a protest of the Philadelphia board of trade against the free coinage bill. Referred. The speaker pro tem laid before the house a response from the secretary of the treasury to the house resolution asking for information as to the authority by which 4½ per cent. loan was authorized. Referred to the committe on ways and means. On motion of Mr. Newberry, of Illinois, it was ordered that when the house adjourns on Friday it shall be to meet Tuesday. (This order is taken so as to enable members to accept an invitation to visit Chicago.)

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—In the senate, Monday, Mr. Gibson, of Louisiana, from the committee on commerce, reported a bill appropriating $15,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and it was placed on the calendar. Ten millions of the amount is for the river from the head of the passes, near its mouth, to the mouth of the Ohio river (not more than two millions to be expended in any year) and five millions is for the river from the mouth of the Ohio to the mouth of the Illinois.

TUESDAY.—The vice-president laid before the senate Mr. Sherman's credentials or the term commencing March 4th, 1893. They were read and placed on file. Mr. Vance, from the finance committee, reported back adversely the bill introduced by Mr. Gibson, of Louisiana, to provide an income tax to pay the pensions and salaries of postmasters—Mr. Vance stating that the senate had not constitutional power to originate such a measure. The bill was indefinitely postponed.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday immediately after the reading of the journal, Mr. Sherman, from the committee on foreign relations, reported back favorably the joint resolut on introduced by Mr. Hopkins requesting the president to return to the republic of Mexico twenty-one battle flags, now in the museum of the United States military academy, which were captured by the army of the United states during the late war with Mexico. He said that it was an act of courtesy to a friendly power which had been suggested to con[illegible] by the American minister to Mexico, [illegible] by Mr. Curtis, a gentleman connected with the organization of the bureau of American republics. The committee on foreign relations thought it a generous and proper thing to do for a friendly nation. Mr. Gockrell expressed his hearty approval of the joint resolution, and it was thereupon passed.

THURSDAY.—In the senate, Thursday, Mr. Sherman, the chairman of the committee on foreign relations, reported the resolution referring to that committee so much of the president's annual message as relates to criminal offenses committed within the United States against the treaty rights of foreigners domiciled in the United States, with instructions to report such provisions of the law as will empower the federal court to try all such cases involving the consideration of international questions, and with such police and judicial processes will enable the government of the United States to use its constitutional powers to define and punish crimes against treaty rights conferred on such foreigners. The resolution was laid on the table for the present.

NOTES.

Speaker Crisp was too unwell to preside over the house Monday morning. Mr. McMillin presided.

On Monday the house committee on the election of president and vice-president and representatives in congress agreed to report the bill leaving the election of senators to the people and conferring the exclusive power on the state legislatures to fix the time, place and manner of holding such election.

The senate committee on commerce reported a bill Wednesday appropriating $15,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river. The senate will probably pass this bill, for the senate never refuses any appropriation asked for at its hands. But the bill will have a very rough road to travel when it gets into the house of representatives.

The meeting of the ways and means committee was short and decisive Tuesday morning, but final action was taken in the very brief time on three very important bills. By a strict party vote the Springer free wool bill, the Bryan free binding twine bill and Turner's bill placing cotton ties, cotton bagging and machinery for manufacturing the same on the free list, were all ordered favorably reported.

The president sent to the senate Tuesday the following nominations: Robert E. Bowne, of New York, assistant appraiser of merchandise in district of New York; Samuel H. M. Byers, Iowa, consul-general of the United States at St. Gall; Harry R. Newberry, of Michigan, secretary of the delegation of the United States at Constantinople; Francis McNutt, of the District of Columbia, secretary of the legation of the United States at Madrid.

Perhaps not more than fifty members and senators will take advantage of Chicago's invitation to visit that city next Monday to witness the World's fair as it stands at present. As to the five-million dollar appropriation, it is quite safe to say that Chicago stands no chance whatever of getting it at this session of congress. The majority of the members do not believe in appropriations of this character, and especially on the verge of a presidential campaign.

Mr. Bankhead, of Alabama, introduced a resolution in the house Wednesday instructing the committee on judiciary to investigate the charges of corrupt practices upon the bench, and many other charges that have been preferred against Judge A. P. McCormick, the Texan, recently appointed judge of the new fourth judicial circuit. Those who know him say there will be some sensational developments when his record is delved into, and that the senate cannot confirm him, but his friends say the charges have been brought by other aspirants.

The failure of Postmaster Genera' Wanamaker to recommend to the post-office committee of the house the continuation of the three-hundred-thousand-dollar subsidy to the Atlantic Coast Line for carrying the Cuban mails, has led to considerable discussion. For ten years past the Atlantic Coast Line has received a subsidy of $295,000 annually for running a fast train over it lines to carry the northern mails to Tampa, Fla., and thence to the West Indies. The subsidy has been in addition to the regular amount according to weights paid to railroads for carrying the United States mail. There has been quite a protest from all the cities between Washington and Tampa, which are interested in this schedule of the Atlantic Coast Line. These cities claim that if the subsidy is discontinued, fast trains will be discontinued, and mail service will not be so good.

FIFTY-EIGHT BELOW ZERO.

Terrible Tale of Freezing and Starvation in Portions of Russia.

A cablegram of Friday from London says: A dispatch from Penza, capital of a government of that name in the southwestern part of what is known as Great Russia says the thermometer registers 58 degrees below zero, and there is terrible suffering among the peasants. A number of men were frozen to death on the high roads, and so intensely cold is it that birds drop dead from the trees in which they had sought shelter. None of the children in Penza are allowed to go to school. A quantity of grain for the famine sufferers arrived at Penza, but it is impossible to distribute it among the peasants in the surrounding country owing to the fact that nearly all the horses have been killed for food or sold to procure money with which to buy the necessities of life. Five thousand horses were killed in Penza alone, and it is estimated that several million draught animals have been killed throughout the empire since autumn. Typhus fever, smallpox and diphtheria are decimating the inhabitants around Penza. Two hundred peasants have died from these diseases.

FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS

Sweeps Away Two Million Dollars in Property.

Two millions of money went up in smoke in New Orleans Wednesday night by the destruction of the largest retail dry goods establishment in the city. The palatial stores of A. Schwartz & Sons, Amos Bankel, S. G. Kreeger, gloves, millinery and fancy goods; Philip Werlin, pianos and musical instruments; Kraus' Bros., fancy goods and notions; P. W. Clavoying, retail drugs; John McCloskey, confectioner; Jos. M. Hoffman, worsteds and fancy goods; L. Vipie, gloves and perfumery, and Wenger's concert hall are in ruins. The scene of the fire was on Canal street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, at a point where it is intersected by Bourbon. The Schwartz establishment, a commanding structure and but recently completed, occupied the corner of Canal and Bourbon. It was valued at over $500,000, was insured for $260,000, and building for $85,000, considerably below its value. Altogether the losses will approximate $2,000,000.

THE IRISH BILL

Will Have No Show in the English Parliament.

A London cablegram of Friday says: The Irish county councils bill will be brought up in the house next Thursday. The McCarthyites and the Parnellites will unite in opposition to it. Mr. Gladstone will be on hand to tear it to pieces. The electoral districts are arranged on the American gerrymandering plan.

A sensational development has been that of the ugly waterproof to the stylish schemozzle.

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

The Farley National bank, at Montgomery, Ala., which suspended payment the 31st of last August, has resumed business Monday.

The state democratic executive committee of Florida has named June 1st as the day and Tampa as the place for holding the state convention.

A stick citizen named Jones Hess was arrested in Chattanooga Tuesday for making counterfeit silver dollars. The imitation is excellent and a large number of them were circulated.

The Charleston chamber of Commerce and Cotton Exchange both adopted resolutions Wednesday advocating an appropriation for the continuance of the Cuban fast mail on the Atlantic Coast Line.

A joint resolution was introduced in the Virginia house of delegates Tuesday memorializing congress to purchase the celebrated Semple farm, at Yorktown in York county, the scene of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis.

A number of naval stores producers held an informal meeting in Savannah Wednesday for the discussion of the business outlook and proposed a reduction of prices of wages paid to labor. They hold that it is absolutely necessary to reduce wages to meet the prevailing low prices of turpentine and rosin.

About a week ago, J. D. Bridges, a merchant of Shelby, N. C., made an assignment and on the same day he disappeared. A special from Shelby of Wednesday night, says that for several days there have been rumors of fraud, and forgeries amounting to over five thousand dollars have been discovered.

A Louisville dispatch of Thursday says: Albert Fink, father of railroad pooling, has received from a committee from the terminal company an offer of the presidency of the Great Southern Company, which is to be the name of the Richmond Terminal as reorganized by the Brice-Thomas party management.

A Nashville telegram says: The opinion is taking hold here that sooner or later there will be bloodshed at Coal Creek. Adjutant Norman has received the following telegram from Colonel Kellar Anderson, in charge of the troops: "An effort was made to assault our captain at 10:30 o'clock Monday night from ambush. The party was routed at the first volley.

A San Francisco dispatch says: One of the largest timber land sales ever made in California was closed Wednesday when 28,000 acres of sugar pine timber were sold to Miller & Brewster, and Tatum & Bowen. The land is so situated that all the timber may be brought on the down grade of the Southern Pacific railroad. A branch railroad will also tap other large bodies of fine timber. The average price was $15 per acre.

A Columbia, S. C., dispatch says: The State, in its issue of Thursday, exposed a trick of the state government which may cost the various railroads in South Carolina hundreds of thousands of dollars. The scheme is to force the railroads to pay the 50 per cent penalty for non-return of property for taxation when it is beyond the pale of possibility for them to comply with such requirement, the having only two days to make their returns according to the new order.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch says: The labor people at Coal Creek have been holding numerous conferences. One thing which has caused some of the conferences was the proposition made by the Tennessee Mining Company, Saturday, viz., to conduct the mine at Briceville on the co-operative plan. The miners have not fully decided yet what they will do, but indications are that the offer will be accepted. It is said now that if the offer is not accepted, the company will sell its property to the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, and the penitentiary leases will put convicts to work.

IN RYAN'S BEHALF

A Circular is Sent to All Sub-Alliances in Georgia.

The latest development in the Ryan case is a movement to interest the farmers of Georgia in his behalf. A call has made on the Farmer's Alliance of the state to enter their protest against the imprisonment of Stephen A. Ryan, and at the same time sign a petition asking the governor to interfere in the prisoner's behalf. Mr. Larry Gantt, former editor of the Southern Alliance Farmer, is the mover in the matter, and he has prepared the following printed circular:

TO THE ALLIANCE OF GEORGIA.
WATKINSVILLE, GA., Feb. 2.

There now languishes in the Fulton county jail, Mr. Stephen A. Ryan, a young man whose only crime is that he has not the means to pay the debt demanded by the courts. Mr. Ryan is a victim of that barbarous and brutal law—we thought wiped from the statute books of the state of Georgia—imprisonment for debt. His fate to-day may be your fate to-morrow. Steve Ryan is the first martyr, but unless the people rise in their majesty and place the brand of condemnation upon the ruling of our courts of law, a felon's cell awaits every debtor in Georgia.

Now, I call upon every free-born Georgian, who is opposed to the re-enactment of this outrageous law, to at once sign and send a petition to Governor Northen expressing their condemnation of this ruling by our courts, and asking that he at once release Mr. Ryan from prison, as our governor is the only power that can now save him. Lose no time, brethren, in signing your petitions. Forward them to me at Watkinsville, Ga., and they will be promptly presented. Remember that you are not doing this for Steve Ryan, but to rebuke a dreadful precedent that is forging fetters for the thousands of poor debtors in Georgia for whom our jails are gaping, unless they get relief. Act promptly, for the petitions should be in by the first of March. Call your alliance together and get to the petition every signature you can. Yours fraternally,

T. L. GANTT.

There are 2,000 sub-Alliances in Georgia and Mr. Gantt believes that the petitions will average forty names from each Alliance. This will give a list of one hundred thousand farmers who will make an appeal to Gov. Northen in Mr. Ryan's behalf.

The United States note-of-hand Publishing Co. of Memphis, Arkansas, Executive [illegible] announces an issue for current [illegible] and will be sent on receipt of [illegible] in the Masonic temple. All [illegible] and every [illegible] called for before the [illegible] agent in charge of the office of [illegible] The Publishing is a matter of [illegible] and [illegible] Commissioner [illegible]

A Handy Book.

Miss Hicks—"There is the world in Mr. Hicks' revolver! I forgot to take it from under his pillow this morning."

New Girl. (a recent arrival)—"What's it like, mum?"

"It's about so long, with a crook at one end, and its bright like silver."

"I don't know, mum, only—s it's that little thing T m is hammerin' looks wild."—Street & Smith's Good News.

LADIES troubled with a taste of children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints, makes the Blood rich and pure.

The true way to conquer circumstances is to be a greater circumstance to yourself.

BOWLES of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

The Only One Ever Printed.
CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 7 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house pays a "Premium" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

For Coughs and Throat troubles use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. "They stop an attack of my asthma cough very promptly."—C. Falch, Miamiville, Ohio.

FITS stopped free by Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Mrs. Cleaveland

Tells of Her Cure of Nervous Dyspepsia

Mrs. A. B. Cleaveland, of Milford, Mass., is the sister of the Norcross Brothers, of Boston, the famous builders. In a long and interesting statement (which will be sent in full to any one who wishes it), Mrs. Cleaveland says that a few years ago she had a severe form of nervous dyspepsia, the symptoms being

Palpitation of the Heart burning sensation in the stomach, fainting spells, and an awful death-like feeling from which she often thought she should never recover. She was tired and languid all the time and did not dare to lie down for fear of a fainting spell. She had six different physicians but none did her any good. One day, reading about Hood's Sarsaparilla she decided to try it. The fainting spells grew less, soon ceased wholly, her appetite returned, and her increased

From 88 to 132 Pounds

She has not been so well for 20 years, does all her household work easily. To

Hood's Sarsaparilla

she ascribes all her improvement and is ready to convince any one of the merit of this medicine. If you suffer similarly, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers

Makes Child Birth Easy.
Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.
Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"German Syrup"

Boschee's German Syrup is more successful in the treatment of Consumption than any other remedy prescribed. It has been tried under every variety of climate. In the bleak, bitter North, in damp New England, in the fickle Middle States, in the hot, moist South—everywhere. It has been in demand by every nationality. It has been employed in every stage of Consumption. In brief it has been used by millions and its the only true and reliable Consumption Remedy.

Kennedy's Medical Discovery

Takes hold in this order:

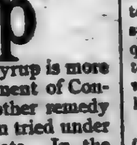
Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Relieving every ailment before it has caused to be sick.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by
DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

Ely's Cream Balm
WILL CURE
CATARRH
CREAM BALM
Applied into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.



Tutt's Tiny Pills

PATENTS

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.

A DELIGHTFUL MIXTURE FOR PERFUMING CLOTHES.

A delightful mixture for perfuming clothes that are packed away, and which is said to keep out moths also, is made as follows: Pound to powder one ounce of cloves, caraway seeds, nutmegs, mace, cinnamon and Tonquin beans, respectively, and an ounce orris root as will equal the weight of the foregoing ingredients put together. Little bags of muslin should be filled with this mixture and placed among the garments.—New York Journal.

HOW TO COOK BREAST OF MUTTON.

Put a whole breast of mutton into a pan and just cover it with slightly salted water; bring it to the boil, and then draw it aside and let it simmer for three hours. Now take it out, draw out the bones, and cover it on one side with a layer of stuffing rather highly seasoned, roll it up neatly, skewer it into shape, egg and bread crumb it thickly, and bake in a moderate oven, basting it well with a little dripping, and serve it with tomato sauce.

Breast of mutton is also good if stewed with vegetables, seasoning, and stock, the bones removed as above, and the meat put aside under weights to get cold; then cut it into neat cutlets; egg and breadcrumb them and fry them lightly, and dish round a puree of spinach or mashed potato.—New York Recorder.

POLISHING A STAINED FLOOR.

A highly polished floor is effective. Beyond its artistic value it is economical. The secret is not hard to find. A tin of wax and a little system are the essentials. Do not be induced to use oil as less trouble, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. In reality it is more. The oil will cling and every atom of dust with it. No amount of polishing will carry off this evil effect of oil.

First have the floor washed with soda and hot water, then apply the soft wax lightly and evenly, rubbing with the grain. If you cannot afford a regular polisher, have a flat-iron covered with an old piece of carpet, a mop handle tied on (to obviate stooping) and that weight thoroughly rubbed on your floor will make it shine like a mirror.

Once every day, or two, instead of sweeping, have any dust taken up by a soft cloth wound round the broom, then the weight applied, and this will last months. Should there be any scratching from the moving of furniture, or stain of any sort, there will be ample wax in the box to rub lightly over the injured place. It will rub in so smooth and dry that the whitest garment will not be soiled in passing over it, and its decorative effect in the room is by no means its least recommendation.

SOUPS.

"Soup," said a famous French cook, "rejoices the stomach and disposes it to to receive and digest other food." The soups which have for their bases the pure essence of meat, as bouillon, consomme, etc., are quite substantial enough to make the principal part of a meal. By skillful commingling of flavors, writes Mollie Grub in the Farm, Field and Stockman, a great variety of soups can be served from the same stock. If one has a soup kettle, with a faucet to draw off the clear soup, all bits of meat trimmings, "left over" scraps of cooked meats, gravies, etc., can be utilized and with various flavorings as thyme, celery seed, bay leaves, sage, parsley, onion, with rice, sago, macaroni, etc., for thickenings, one can prepare various palatable soups at a small expense. Cold water should be used in making soup, and when it reaches the boiling point should be carefully skimmed, should not boil rapidly. "To make good soup the pot should scarcely smile." The so prepared soups, extracts of beef, etc., which can now be procured, afford a great saving in labor, many, however, prefer the flavor of food home-made soups. The following are some easily prepared meatless soups:

Mock Bisque Soup—Stew one-half can of tomatoes until they strain easily, adding a small pinch of soda. Cook one teaspoonful of cornstarch in two tablespoonfuls butter. Stir in carefully one quart of scalding milk, add the strained tomatoes, salt and pepper. Serve hot with squares of stale bread fried brown in hot lard or butter.

Celery Soup—Boil one head of celery for forty-five minutes in a pint of water. Boil one-half a medium-sized onion, also a bit of mace if one prefers in a pint of milk. Add to this boiling milk one tablespoonful flour stirred smooth in a little cold milk. Mash the celery in the water in which it was boiled and stir into boiling milk. Add butter, salt and white pepper to taste; strain and serve immediately.

Asparagus Soup—A French culinary authority says that the water in which asparagus has been boiled "with the addition of butter rolled in flour, palatable seasoning and a few sorrel leaves makes an elegant soup."

Potato Soup—Boil four large potatoes and one onion in two quarts of water until soft. Press through a sieve and add one pint sweet milk, one tablespoonful butter, salt and pepper. Let it boil up again and serve.

Bean Soup—Soak one pint dried white beans over night. In the morning drain, add one quart of water, when it boils pour the water off and add one quart fresh boiling water, also about a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda, boil until the beans are very soft; then press through a sieve and return to the kettle, add salt and pepper to taste and a small cup of cream or cup of milk and slice of butter. Serve with squares of fried or toasted bread.

Corn Soup—Cut the kernels from six large ears of green corn or use two quarts of canned sweet corn to three quarts of boiling soft water. If green corn is used, boil the cobs in the water fifteen minutes and then remove. When the corn is tender strain through a strainer cloth to prevent the hulls from escaping; then place the soup over the fire again, mix smooth a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, stirring constantly in a thick saucepan over the fire, and pour in gradually a pint and a half of hot milk; when the soup boils add this, and cook a few minutes, salt or further season if too. A slice of onion is sometimes boiled with the milk to flavor it slightly.

The Florin.

The florin, one of the most famous of modern coins, originated in Florence. Some say that it gave the name to the city, while others assert that it was first so called because it had on it a flower-de-luce, from the Italian florone, or "flower," for the same reason that an English silver piece is called a "crown," or certain gold pieces in France indifferently a "Napoleon" or a "Louis," or the ten dollar gold piece in America an "eagle."

Two countries, Austria and Holland, have retained the florin as a unit of monetary value, taking it at a time when it was very universal in Europe, its usage having been rendered general by the financial supremacy of the little states of northern Italy and the imperfect coinage system of the other countries of the Continent.

Little Girl—"My mamma is awful strict. Is yours?"

Little Boy—"Orful!"

"But she lets you go anywhere you want to, and——"

"Oh, she ain't strict with me."

"Then who is she strict with?"

"Pap."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Patron—"I wish you'd stop my paper for about three weeks. Then you can begin sending it again."

Editor—"Certainly; going away?"

Patron—"No, but I see you are getting in a new press, and I haven't time to spend all day reading about presses."

MANY persons are wrecked down from overwork or how could cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. A splendid tonic for women and children.

Fashions run so much to the decollete that even the popular gloves are undressed.

Is your blood poor? Take Beecham's Pills. Is your liver out of order? Use Beecham's Pills. 25 cents a box.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

Hard to take —the big, old-fashioned pill. It's pretty hard to have to take it, too. You wouldn't, if you realized fully how it shocks and weakens the system.

Luckily, you don't have to take it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better. They're sensible. They do, mildly and gently, more than the ordinary pill, with all its disturbance. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels, as well as thoroughly cleanse them. They're the original Little Liver Pills, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest and the easiest to take. One little Pellet for a gentle laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly and permanently cured.

They're the cheapest, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.
CONSUMPTION

$65 A MONTH for 3 Bright Young Men or Ladies in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Phila., Pa.

DR. HARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
TRADE MARK
DO NOT GRIPE FOR SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid stomach. They arouse vital organs, remove nausea, dizziness. Magical effect on Kidneys and bladder. Conquer Bilious nervous disorders. Establish natural DAILY ACTION.
Beautify complexion by purifying blood. PURELY VEGETABLE.
The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, as one pill can never be too much. Each vial contains 45, carried in vest pocket like lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Orescent."
Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with sample.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.
W. BAKER & CO.'S
Breakfast Cocoa

from which the excess of oil has been removed,
It is absolutely pure and it is soluble.
No Chemicals
are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.
Sold by Grocers everywhere.
W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

DROPSY Treatise FREE
Positively Cured with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured thousands of cases. Cure patients pronounced hopeless by best physicians. From first symptoms rapidly disappear; in 10 days two-thirds of symptoms removed. Book of testimonials free. 10 days' treatment free by mail. If you order trial, send 10c. in stamps to pay postage. DR. H. H. GREEN & SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

GET WELL Health Helper tells how. 50c. a year. Sample free. Address J. H. DYE, Editor, Buffalo, N. Y.

PENSIONS—Due all SOLDIERS! Widows, Parents, Children, Brothers, Sisters, Heirs, Etc. Pensioned. $8 FEE for increase. 25 years' experience. WRITE FOR LAWS. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, WASHINGTON, D. C. & CINCINNATI.

A. M. U. ..... Seven,

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM & MULLEIN CURES COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES
Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

PIANOS.—EASY TERMS

However far away you live you can get a piano for a sum down, balance in still smaller monthly payments. We send it on approval, to be returned if unsatisfactory, railway freights both ways at our expense. Methods fair and easy to understand. We take all the risks. Write us.

Ivers & Pond Piano Co., Masonic Temple, 135 Tremont St., Boston.

Reasons why YOU SHOULD ORDER YOUR SEEDS FROM T. W. WOOD & SONS RICHMOND, VA.
GARDEN SEEDS.
Our GRASS, CLOVER,
NO RISK

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa River is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill, ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 35 miles south of Birmingham and 60 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1892. NUMBER 18.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Respect, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

ALLIANCE HOSTS

ASSEMBLED IN CONVENTION AT ST. LOUIS.

Proceedings of the Meeting—Independent Political Action Evident.

The industrial conference at St. Louis was called to order at half-past 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was a most remarkable gathering, and viewed in the light of a historic event deserves more than passing mention. Just before the meeting was called to order B. Snyder, an ailisaceman from Kansas, who had been assigned to arrange the different delegations in Music Hall, made a short speech, in which he said that under the new declaration of independence that was about to be inaugurated he knew nothing but the stars and stripes, and he wanted the north and south, east and west to strike hands with him on this proposition. He then proceeded to assign the different delegations to seats on the floor.

Ben Terrell, of Texas, then called the gathering to order. Rev. S. H. Basher, of Illinois, opened with prayer, and then, [illegible] reference to the Woman's Christian [illegible] union and other female or[illegible] that have a hankering after [illegible]ges of the ballot box. Miss [illegible]oll was introduced and sang in a rich full voice "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Suwanee River" amidst tremendous applause.

NUMBER OF DELEGATES PRESENT.

The report of the credential committee showed that there were 246 delegates from the Farmers' Alliance; 53 from the Farmer's Alliance Mutual Benefit Association, 82 from the Knights of Labor, 97 from the National Farmers' Alliance, 5 from Citizens Alliance, 97 from the National Colored Alliance, 27 from the National Citizen's Alliance, 75 from the Patrons of Industry and 25 from the Patrons of Husbandry.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

C. P. Walbridge, president of the city council of St. Louis, welcomed the gathering to the city, saying he felt assured that the power that would go out from [illegible] hall would warp and change all [illegible]er powers in the political world of [illegible] union. President L. L. Polk was then introduced.

PRESIDENT POLK'S SPEECH.

In his speech to the convention President Polk said among other things:

"We have presented these complaints [illegible]fully and presistently to the two [illegible]st political parties of this country. [illegible] presented them to these parties [illegible]ere they could have rendered us service, not in political conventions, but we [illegible]nt into the halls of congress and presented them to the two great old parties. [illegible]ey did not demur, they admitted that [illegible] complaints were just. That was [illegible]o years ago. In January 1891, we [illegible]nt before these two parties and laid [illegible] complaints before them. In January, [illegible]2, we went before these same two old [illegible]ties and presented our complaints, [illegible] what has been the answer? [illegible]ou don't know what you need." [illegible]aughter.] "Go home, work harder, [illegible]e closer and keep out of politics and [illegible]u will be all right." [Laughter and [illegible]plause and renewed applause.] Vilification, misrepresentation, abuse and [illegible]rder was the answer we got for our [illegible]eal for help. That body has been in [illegible]ion for fourteen months since our first [illegible]eal was filed, and there was not one [illegible]atch of a pen on their statute book to [illegible]ow that they have ever attempted to [illegible]us relief. * * * Mr. Chairman, [illegible]rant relief, we demand relief—[applause]—we will have relief—[voice, [illegible]en" and applause]—and we desire to [illegible]t here and now, and to emphasize [illegible]I have said from New York to California, and from Michigan to Texas, we [illegible]d to have that relief if we have to [illegible] the two old parties out of existence!"—[Great cheering.]

[illegible]n the uproar was so great that the [illegible]er had to suspend for a minute [illegible].

[illegible]V. Powderly, of the Knights of [illegible] spoke out and out for independent political action, declaring that he [illegible]ery other Knight of Labor in the [illegible] would stand by whatever this [illegible]nce agreed upon.

SENATOR DONNELLY TALKS.

[illegible]or Donnelly claimed the wrapt [illegible]n of the vast assembly in a clever [illegible]ll-timed speech. He is a natural [illegible]e well as a man of culture, and [illegible]ed the crowd with a whoop and [illegible]. He began a flood of ridicule [illegible]ing: "In this august gathering, [illegible]s here who will speak of the old [illegible]ical parties? Why, my friends, [illegible] gatherings soon to assemble in Chi[illegible]and Minneapolis will be conglomerations of unprincipled politi[illegible] to divide the plunder of the [illegible]ople is a sublime meaning to this gathering. All the past has prepared the way for it. From the insurrection of the slaves, who seized the rocky island, from the revolt of the gladiators under Spartacus, from the old German peasant war so ruthlessly trampled out, from the French revolution, from the Cromwellian outbreak, from the insurrection of Watt Tyler and Jack Cade, from the birth of the American republic in the collision of 1776 to this time, events led up to the doors of this chamber. This is the culmination of all the sufferings and ignorance of the past; this the magnificent efflorescence and flowering out of the constitution of the United States and the declaration of independence. This, I repeat, is the most august event that has happened in the history of the human family. The bond of reunion established between the wage workers of the cities and the oppressed occupants of the lands of America shall never be dissolved." [Applause.]

In his satire on the alleged affiliation of democrats and republicans, he exclaimed: "It may come this year, and if it don't it will come next year—there will be a wedding in this country. [Great applause.] The wedding will be between the democrats and republicans. [Applause.] They will be married at the altar of plutocracy, and Grover Cleveland and Ben Harrison will act as bridesmaids. [Great laughter.] The devil will give away the bride—[great laughter and applause; renewed laughter and cheering]—and Jay Gould will pronounce the benediction. [Applause.]

WIPE OUT THE LINE.

Right here Mr. Donnelly made an important statement, to-wit: "I will tell you, my friends, what we propose to do. We propose to wipe Mason and Dixon's line out of our geographies. [Great cheering.] We propose to wipe the color line all off our politics. [Applause.] We propose to take injustice out of our laws. We propose to give the American people prosperity. [Applause.] We propose that the man who creates shall own what he creates. [Great applause.] We propose to take the robber class from the throat of industry. We propose, my friends, to take possession of the government of the United States. [Applause.] We propose to place our nominees in the white house. [Great applause.] Don't you go our from this meeting with any half-hearted declaration or any puny hope in your hearts."

A PLATFORM COMMITTEE.

On motion of Ignatius Donnelly, a recess was taken to select a committee on platform to consist of one from each state and three from each organization represented. A temperance plank will be in the platform, as Miss Frances E. Willard, Lady Somerset, Miss Hoffman and Mrs. F. H. Ingalls, of the W. C. T. U., were admitted as delegates.

Miss Frances E. Willard and Ben Terrell were elected vice-presidents of the conference. Miss Willard was brought forward and spoke for woman suffrage, saying she knew no sect in religion, no section in politics, and no sex in citizenship. She was wildly cheered by the west and north.

In the midst of great confusion on account of many strangers being on the floor, Colonel L. L. Polk was nominated for permanent chairman. Kentucky clamored for recognition, and finally a delegate from that state advanced into the aisle and nominated Ben Terrell, of Texas, for permanent chairman. Ben Terrell came forward and declined, asking that Colonel Polk's election be made unanimous, which was done.

The report of the committee on credentials was made, showing that a unanimous report had been agreed except in the case of Georgia, whose delegates had not been agreed upon.

The motion for the committee on platform was amended so that one member from each state and one from each twenty-five delegates will be chosen.

A telegram from Washington received from C. W. Macune, asked that an expression of opinion be given on the bill to prevent dealing in futures and for that purpose a committee of one from each state was appointed to denounce futures.

SECOND DAY.

The Georgia delegation held a caucus Tuesday afternoon, at which Moses demanded the credentials of the election of Post, Branch and Parker, and which created some disturbance. Gilmore was appointed by Humphreys, of Texas, to represent the negro alliancemen of Georgia and given eleven votes.

When the National Citizens' Alliance caucussed at the organization of the convention there were members enough in several states to entitle them to twenty-five delegates, but there were not states enough, so three votes were given to Ellington, Parker and Branch, and the Georgia delegates were finally seated.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning a remarkable scene occured in the music hall. Two hundred old soldiers marched upon the stage, and old confederate arm in arm with an old federal, and the most intense excitement prevailed. Resolutions pledging allegiance to the stars and stripes, and promising to act hand in hand in the future for the benefit of the common country were adopted, and then rousing speeches of fraternity were made by Vandivere, of North Dakota, for the blue, and Polk, of North Carolina, for the gray. At the conclusion of Polk's speech he and Watterson clasped hands while the crowd went wild. Ex-Senator VanWicke, of Nebraska, spoke for the north. At every mention of another party the wildest enthusiasm prevailed, while the flag that floated over the veterans on the stage was waved frantically back and forth.

Branch, of Georgia, introduced a resolution protesting against the condition of the common people of this country today and holding the democratic and republican parties responsible for it, and moved the suspension of the rules for its adoption. Ben Terrell, of Texas, who had been called to the chair, ruled that the resolution was out of order. Branch appealed from the decision of the chair, but, before the question could be put, he agreed for the resolution to lay on the table until the committee on platform reported.

A resolution was introduced to call the roll of delegates and fire all who were not. This provoked quite a discussion which called the president of the committee on credentials to the front. He said this should be done, as the committee had been imposed upon in one case—Georgia's.

THE PLATFORM BROUGHT IN.

Powderly spoke in favor of the resolution and asked the convention to put out A. A. Carsey and Gallahew, two labor strikers from New York. The resolution was adopted. The committee on platform reported, Ignatius Donnelly having prepared the preamble to the platform, which he read.

THE PLATFORM.

The following is the platform with the closing paragraphs of a lengthy preamble:

"We assert that a political organization representing the political principles herein stated, is necessary to redress the grievances of which we complain.

Assembled on the anniversary of the birth of the illustrious man who led the first great revolution on this continent against oppression; filled with the sentiments which actuated that grand generation, we seek to restore the government of the republic to the hand of the 'plain people' with whom it originated.

Our doors are open to all points of the compass. We ask all honest men to join with us and help us, in order to restrain the extortions of aggregated capital, to drive money changers out of the temple, to form a perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves and our posterity. We do ordain and establish the following platform of principles:

1. We declare the union of labor forces of the United States this day accomplished, permanent and perpetual. May its spirit enter into all hearts for the salvation of the republic and the uplifting of mankind.

2. Wealth belongs to him who created it. Every dollar taken from industry without an equivalent is robbery. If any will not work neither shall he eat. The interests of rural and urban labor are the same; their enemies are identical.

3. We demand a national currency, safe and sound and flexible, issued by the general government, the only full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and without the use of banking corporations, a just and equitable means of circulation; a tax not to exceed 6 per cent, as set forth in the sub-treasury plan of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system; also by payments in the discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

4. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

5. We demand that the amount of the circulation medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

6. We demand a graduated income tax.

7. We believe that the money of the treasury should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all national and state revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered.

8. We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people and to facilitate exchange.

9. Your subcommittee upon the land plank begs to submit to your approval the following: The land, including all natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All land now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs and all land now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

10. Transportation being the means of exchange a public necessity the government should own and operate roads in the interest of the people.

11. The telegraph and telephone, like the postal system, being necessary for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

12. We demand that the government issue legal tender notes and pay union soldiers the difference between the price of the depreciated money in which he was paid in gold.

Resolved, That we hail this conference as the consummation of the perfect union of hearts and hands of all sections of our common country, men who wore the grey and men who wore the blue meet here to extinguish the last smouldering embers of the civil war in tears of joy of a united and happy people, and we agree to carry the stars and stripes forward forever to the highest point of national greatness.

While the convention was preparing to consider the platform a side whiskered fellow who afterwards turned out to be Fred Swaine, an ex-member of the Missouri Legislature and a labor agitator who had recently been fired from a labor union, moved to put in a plank for eight hours of labor. "He's not a delegate," shouted Witt, the secretary of the union that fired Swaine. "He's a democrat bolter." The outcome was that Swaine was forcibly ejected from the hall.

The wildest excitement prevailed when the platform had been read, but great disappointment was manifested when it was learned that prohibition and woman suffrage had been ignored. In consequence of this, Miss Willard, as one of the members of the platform committee, presented a minority report.

Richardson, the superintendent of the Georgia Negro Alliance, was dissatisfied with the action of Humphries in issuing credentials to men who he claims do not represent the order, and he and his associates have called a convention of the Negro Alliance in another city yet to be named.

A CONVENTION CALLED.

The people's party executive committee, with full authority from the convention, or mass meeting, was in session with the people's party national committee Wednesday afternoon, and agreed upon a date and place for the national presidential nominating convention. May 4th and 24th were each favored July 4th was selected as the date, the place for holding the convention being left to be chosen by a subcommittee of ten to be appointed by Mr. Taubeneck, of Illinois. Omaha and Kansas City, Kan., were favorably mentioned. The latter date was given preference over May 24th, for one reason, because it was alleged an early date might be in the interest of Leland Stanford as a republican presidential possibility, and in addition July 4th would afford an opportunity to see what the enemy will do.

LUMBER MEN

Meet and Transact Some Important Business.

The Southern Lumber Manufacturer's association held a meeting in New Orleans Friday, at which a resolution was adopted against the evils of selling by the face measure, prevalent in Alabama and Georgia. The directors were constituted a permanent price list committee, with power to change the prices. The only change in the grades was the abolition of the star reft sawed flooring. A memorial to congress was adopted, asking for additional ports on the gulf coast. Various vice presidents were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions for the yellow pine exhibit at the world's fair. Kansas City was named as the next place of meeting. B. B. White, of Missouri, was re-elected president; George S. Lacey, of Louisiana, vice-president, and M. F. McLeod, of Missouri, treasurer.

HUNTING DYNAMITE.

The Paris Police Make a Raid Upon Anarchist Haunts.

A cablegram from Paris says: Some excitement was caused a few days ago in police circles by the receipt of information that a large quantity of dynamite had been stolen from a factory belonging to the state where that explosive was made with many safeguards as to its manufacture and as to its subsequent storage and disposition. It was immediately concluded that the theft was the work of anarchists, and on Tuesday the police searched all houses in Paris in a vicinity known to be occupied by anarchists in the expectation of finding the dynamite. The police refuse to divulge the result of their search.

HARD A HAM.

She—Do you ever see Mr. and Mrs. Chopley chase their mustangs?

He—Oh, yes; it is a case of love rode with hot a single thought.

She—How lovely!

He—Yes, she mashed a dude.—[Texas Siftings.

THROUGH DIXIE.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED

Forming an Epitome of Daily Happenings Here and There.

The Dixie Plow works, at Richmond, Va., were partially burned Wednesday. Loss, $10,000; insured.

The Southern Baptist convention will meet in Atlanta, Ga., in the early part of next May. There will be at least 1,500 delegates and visitors present.

The republican state executive committee of West Virginia, on Wednesday, fixed the convention to select delegates to the national convention, to be held at Martinsburg May 5th.

The Daily Florida Standard, which began publication at Jacksonville in July, 1890, and was the organ of the anti-Call faction in the democratic party, suspended publication Tuesday.

An inter-state football game was played at Atlanta, Ga., Saturday, between the Athens, Ga., and Auburn, Ala., college football teams, and resulted in a victory for the Alabama boys.

A Jackson, Miss., dispatch says: Mr. Vardaman's bill making the 3d of June Jefferson Davis's birthday a legal holiday, passed the house of representatives Wednesday with only two dissenting votes.

All the banks in Charleston, S. C., paid their taxes Saturday, an amicable agreement having been made with the comptroller general whereby the banks will pay on the valuations fixed by the county board of equalization.

William B. Crawford, a prominent farmer and cattle dealer, at Staunton, Va., assigned Saturday. Liabilities, $15,000; assets $30,000. The object of assignment was to save individual creditors and to save cost of litigations.

A Nashville dispatch of Wednesday says: Peter Turney, chief justice of the supreme court, is out in a card in answer to calls upon him from all over the state, in which he announces his intention to become a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

A Tuscaloosa, Ala., dispatch of Tuesday says: Bishop C. P. Fitzgerald, D. D., of California, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, has accepted an invitation to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the forthcoming commencement of the State university, June 26th.

A Bristol, Tenn., dispatch of Tuesday says: The famous Dr. Baker is on trial for wife poisoning. The 100 witnesses are all well. Twenty-nine men came from Bortetourt county, from which a competent jury of twelve was selected. The case has taken a different turn. Mrs. Gilmer, the paramour and accessory to the awful crime, has seemingly taken the law into her own hands.

A Richmond dispatch says: The house of delegates have passed the senate bill retiring $2,500,000 in state bonds held by educational institutions, and issuing certificates therefor. The senate finance committee reported a bill appropriating annually $30,000 or $150 per capita for the Lee Camp Soldiers' Home. This appropriation is made upon condition that the property of the home shall revert to the commonwealth after a period of not over twenty-two years.

A Raleigh dispatch says: On Tuesday the representatives of the Postal Telegraph Company appeared before the railway commission and urged it to take some steps to secure properly qualified operators to send train orders. It was set forth that many of the operators at the railway stations are mere boys, without proper knowledge of telegraphy, and that that greatly increases the danger to life and property. If the board has the power, it is asked to recommend to the legislature the desired action. The board now has the matter under consideration.

The most violent earthquake shock ever experienced at San Diego, Cal., routed the people out of bed at 11:14 o'clock Wednesday night. The movement began at that time, and contrary to the usual experience, continued nearly a minute. It was very severe. Buildings swayed so much that guests in the hotels and private houses, awakened from sound sleep, rushed to the street in their night clothes. A loud rumbling accompanied the trouble. No damage was done. The shock was also felt at Los Angeles.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES EXPLAINED.

"Gentlemen gracious," yelled the watchman, meeting the leader of the enthusiasts coming up, "there was a terrible smash of it half way to the last one."

"And didn't I manage it admirably?" said the leader. "I caught the car that came from the west, knowing that I couldn't meet those from the east when the passengers had."—[Philadelphia Bulletin.

DAVID B. HILL

The Choice of New York for the Presidential Nomination.

The New York state democratic convention met at Albany Monday and selected delegates to the national convention at Chicago. The result is that New York's vote will be cast in the Chicago convention for David B. Hill. And silver is declared, equally with gold, to be the money of the constitution.

The national delegates and alternates chosen were: At large, Roswell P. Flower, Edward Murphy, Jr., General Daniel E. Sickles and General Henry W. Slocum. The alternates were Manton Marble, John Bigelow, Sidney Webster and Alfred C. Chapin.

THE PLATFORM.

The report of the committee on resolutions submitted the following:

The democratic party of the state of New York, in convention assembled, renews the pledge of its fidelity to the great cause of tariff reform and to the whole democratic faith and tradition as affirmed in our national platforms from 1876 to 1888, as well as in our state platforms concurrent with the opening of Governor Tilden's brief, and the close of Governor Hill's long approved and alike illustrious service in the chief magistracy of the Empire State.

The New York state platform of 1874, declared gold and silver the only legal tender; no currency inconvertible with coin.

2. Steady steps toward specie payments, no step backward.

3. The honest payment of the public debt in coin; the sacred preservation of the public faith.

4. Revenue reforms; federal taxation for revenue only; no government partnership with protected monopolies.

5. Home rule, to limit and localize most jealously the few powers intrusted to public servants, municipal and federal; no centralization.

6. Equal and exact justice to all men; no partial legislation; no partial taxation.

7. The presidency a public trust; not a private perquisite; no third term.

8. Economy in public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened.

The New York state platform of 1891. We now, as then, steadfastly adhere to the principles of sound finance. We are against the coinage of any silver dollar which is not of the intrinsic value of every other dollar of the United States.

We, therefore, denounce the new Sherman silver law, under which one-tenth of our gold stock has been exported and the silver output has been dammed up at home as not only a false pretense, but an actual hindrance of the return to free bimetallic coinage, and as tending only to prod[illegible]page from one kind of [illegible]money to another. We, therefore, ur[illegible]th the friends of honest money [illegible]ywhere in stigmatising their Sherm[illegible]progressive silver basis law as no solution of the gold and silver question, and as a fit appendix to the subsidy and bounty swindle.

The McKinley—worse than war tariff, the Blaine reciprocity humbug, the squandered surplus, advancing deficit, defective census and falsified representation, and revolutionary procedures of the billion congress; all are justly condemned by the people's great uprising last November (1890); a verdict, which renewed this year (1892) will empower democratic statement to guide the people's councils and to execute the people's will.

The democrats of New York recall with proud memory the inflexibly sound finance of Governor Tilden, who not only administered the state government with frugality, but who also, with unequaled ability and unflagging resolution, demanded a thorough reform of tariff taxation, and likewise, with a statesman's energy and foresight, assailed the shameless degradation of our greenback currency, and led the democratic party in pushing on compulsory republican advance to current coin redemption, if not also to that coin payment of the same wherein, as well, "the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged."

AGAINST ORGANIZED LABOR.

Shipping Firms of London to Fight the Unions.

A London cablegram of Sunday says: A movement is on foot among the shipping men which will probably have highly important results. A committee of the shipping federation, which aims to break up the seamen's and other unions, is on the point of manufacturing a gigantic and long-projected scheme for the absorption of all industries connected with shipping. Two committees, composed of three men each, have been appointed to draw up the scheme, and their report will be submitted to a general meeting of the federation on the 15th inst. The scheme is said to be a gigantic one, and if it is carried out will place the whole of the shipping industry of the country under the control of the federation. The committees have almost completed their work, and it is believed he will have gathered sufficient strength to be able to resume and succeed to his duties.

NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS AT WORK.

Daily Routine of Both Houses Briefly Outlined.

THE HOUSE.

TUESDAY.—There was not one hundred members present when the house was called to order at noon Tuesday by Chief Clerk Towles, who stated that owing to the continued absence of the speaker, on account of sickness, it became incumbent on the house to elect a speaker pro tem. On motion of Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, McMillin, of Tennessee, was elected to perform the duties of the chair, and resolution adopted providing for the notification of the president and senate of this action. Brown, of Indiana, gave notice that he would call up the Pennsylvania contested election case of Craig vs. Stewart, Thursday. A few reports were made from committees and placed upon appropriate calendars, and the house then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.—The attendance in the house Wednesday was small when Speaker Crisp, looking somewhat improved from his short vacation, called the house to order. Mr. Tarsney, of Missouri, asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of resolution directing the committee on labor to investigate—first, whether the continuance of the eight-hour law and its enforcement are desirable; second, by what methods, and to what extent has the law been evaded; third, whether amendments are required to provide for the practical enforcement of the law; fourth, whether any convict labor is being used by the United States or any contractor or subcontractor in the construction or repair of public works; fifth, whether the product of convict labor is being furnished to any department of the government. There was no objection, and the resolution was adopted. The house then went into committee of the whole (Bynum, of Indiana, in the chair), on the Indian appropriation bill. After disposing of forty-six of the sixty pages of the bill, the committee rose. Senate amendments to the census deficiency bill were non-concurred in, and a conference committee, composed of Messrs. Sayers, Holman and Dingley, was ordered. The house then adjourned.

THE SENATE.

TUESDAY.—After three days of recess of the two houses the senators were not very punctual in their attendance Tuesday for not one-fourth of their whole number was present when the opening prayer was offered and the journal of last Friday read. Vest gave notice that he would, on Thursday, call up Hale's reciprocity resolutions for the purpose of submitting some remarks upon them. Call gave like notice for Monday next on his resolutions as to railroad corporations in Florida influencing senatorial elections. The calendar was then taken up and the senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Newport News, Va.

WEDNESDAY.—Nothing of unusual importance occupied the senate Wednesday. The time was taken up with routine business.

NOTES.

The senate has confirmed the nomination of Rowland B. Mahony, of New York, to be minister to Ecuador.

Speaker Crisp returned from Fortress Monroe Wednesday morning with his family. While the speaker was quite ill there for several days, he returned much improved.

Neither the senate nor the house had a quorum Tuesday, owing to the absence of members. As a consequence no business was taken up in either house except of a routine character.

The president, on Tuesday, sent to the senate the following nominations: William R. Gilbert, of Oregon, United States circuit judge for the ninth judicial circuit. Henry H. Smith, of Montana, assistant register of the treasury.

There was no session of either house of congress Saturday, and but few members were in the city. Those who did not go on the Chicago excursion repaired to some of the surrounding resorts to spend Sunday and Monday. Speaker Crisp went to Fortress Monroe, and a telegram from that place states that he is improving, and that within a few days it is believed he will have gained sufficient strength to be able to return and attend to his duties.

A DISMAL MORNING.

Barnacles—Can I [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 3, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year . . . $1.00
One copy six months . . 75
One copy four months . . 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
H. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. G. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILL H. SARTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. Very respectfully,
G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.
P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
B. M. GENTRY.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Friends of DR. H. W. CAFFEY present him as a suitable man to place upon the Democratic ticket for the office of county commissioner, subject to the action of the party organization.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce G. A. NORTHINGTON, as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election. J. W. MOORE.

Our neighbor of the Calera Journal is conducting his paper on a dignified plane. The Journal does not deal in billingsgate, nor get so close to the ragged edge of the vulgar as some latter day newspapers pride themselves in doing. Though the Journal has a hard field to work in we hope it will have the grit to hold on until Calera is pulled out of her rut and will do something for the paper.

It is a good while off yet, but we wish to suggest that the next Legislature pass a law taxing dogs one dollar a head, and apply the proceeds to working the public roads. It would be safe to say that the dogs in Hale county cost the people $10,000 a year—maybe more. A dog that isn't worth paying a dollar tax on isn't worth having. Mississippi has set the example. Let Alabama follow it.—Ala. Beacon.

Capt. Kolb has carried Tuskaloosa county by a small majority. The three newspapers in that county opposed him, and we opine the newspaper war helped him. Each paper seemed to prefer dogmatism to conservatism, and each tried to eclipse the other on this line. The Gazette a daily paper would characterize Kolb's speeches as twaddle, and the word became monotonous. We would suggest that in the next campaign they might try a new word—say foddle or poddle—just for the sake of variety.

D—n a county that will vote for a man who talks only twaddle.

Courier Journal: It is reported that some of the members of the Legislature found themselves in an awkward predicament yesterday, when, in discussing a bill with reference to convicts, they attempted to proceed with their speeches without the use of the word "leg," on account of the presence of ladies in the hall. It is an astounding disclosure that there are still people left in the world who have legs and it is to be hoped that the Legislature will promptly pass a law providing amputation as a penalty for all citizens guilty of such depravity.

Let no voter pass you without an appeal from you to him to help you vindicate the cause of the people, the cause of right and justice, by going to primary or beat meetings and rebuke these petty despots and tyrants, who seek to rob you of your rights and to reduce you and your children to bankruptcy and ruin.

The above is a fair specimen of the Alliance Herald's humorous productions in behalf of Mr. Kolb for the office of Governor. It would be humor if not such a serious appeal to the prejudices and ignorance of the adherents of the Herald.

If Mr. Kolb should by any possibility become Governor of Alabama, and the Democrats should want to know why he does not proceed to relieve the bankruptcy and ruin among the people, the Herald will come forth with more sensible talk—something on this order: What in the name of the devil and common sense has the Governor of a State a to do with the financial condition of the people? He does not fix the tax rate and cannot even disburse an appropriation except in the manner designated by legislative enactment.

Yet the Herald will continue to confine its reasoning to this style of argumentum ad hominem—appeals to the passions and prejudices of the ignorant and financially unfortunate. It is that paper's stock in trade. In a little while it will rebound with a force that will completely shatter the Herald and the political bubble which it has helped to bring to the surface. Yet a little while and what appears to be a popular craze now, will have passed into a proverb as the idle vaporings of political place hunters, and history will but repeat itself.

R. M. Honeycutt.

Rev. R. M. Honeycutt is announced as a candidate for Probate Judge. Mr. Honeycutt has been president of the Chilton county Alliance some years and is so well known over the county, that commendation from the VIEW would be superfluous. He has a strong following.

A. G. Dake.

Mr. A. G. Dake is announced as a candidate for Probate Judge. During four years past Mr. Dake has filled the position of Justice of the Peace for this beat, and has made numerous friends by his kindness to those having business with him. The man who wants to beat him in the race will make a mistake to under-estimate Mr. Dake's strength.

Mr. J. P. Vanderveer.

The above named gentleman asks for the suffrages of the Democrats of Chilton for the nomination for circuit clerk. He is well qualified for the position and if elected would fill it with honor to himself and credit to the office. He will make the race lively for all competitors.

Will H. Sartor.

Mr. Will Sartor is announced as a candidate for the clerk of the circuit court. He has sufficient experience at clerical work to acquire considerable proficiency, and is capable of discharging the duties of the office most acceptably, should he be elected.

B. M. Gentry.

Mr. Gentry announces himself for re-election to the office of tax collector. He has filled the position acceptably for the past four years and is qualified by his experience in the office to give satisfaction in the discharge of its duties. He knows how to hustle and any competitor in the race will have to know some thing in that line in order to beat him.

P. M. Moore.

The above named gentleman is announced as a candidate for Sheriff of the county. Mr. Moore is at present a member of our county board of revenue, by recent appointment of Governor Jones. A gentleman who has known Mr. M. longer than the writer states that he is every inch a good man and a strong candidate.

G. A. Northington.

This gentleman announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of the General Assemby of Alabama. His experience will count for something in the race. He took a prominent part in the work of the last legislature and familiarized himself with the duties of a legislator.

Dr. H. W. Caffey.

The office of county commissioner is a very important one. Mismanagement of our county finances would mean bankruptcy, and the office of commissioner should be given to men of intelligence, discretion and experience. These qualities are well combined in Dr. Caffey, and it is for this reason that he has been brought forward for this position, against his wish, by the very natural desire of a large tax-paying community to have a representative in the court of county commissioners. Their claims should be duly recognized.

J. W. Moore.

Prof. Moore announces his candidacy for the position of County Superintendent of Education. Mr. Moore is a young man of thirty-two years, but has had considerable experience on the board of school examiners. We have not heard of any opposition to him, and presume he will go through with a rush.

A JUST TRIBUTE

From an Alliance Paper to Alabama's Greatest Railroad System.

The Alliance Monitor, published in Morgan county, has the following just tribute to the great Louisville and Nashville railroad system:

For the past four years we have been living directly on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. We have had good opportunities to learn of the management of that road and their way of dealing with the public. After having watched them in dealing with the public for four years, and then taking into consideration the vast amount of wealth that has been added to all the counties of Alabama, through which it passes, as well as to the State at large, we have come to two conclusions, viz: First, it is the best managed and most accommodating road in the South; and second; that the people of Alabama ought to be proud of, and liberal towards that road. It is true that they don't run a train just at the time, and in the direction and manner to suit everyone who wishes to travel, or stop their trains at every place the people would have them stop, yet they accommodate more people, and in the most pleasant and comfortable manner of any road that passes through the state. The entire system is well officered. Take the main line and you cannot find better men anywhere. They are gentlemen to the core; they are always on the lookout how they can improve their line and add to the comfort and safety of their patrons. They handle both passengers and freight with care and speed. No money or labor is withheld which will enable them to better serve the public in the transportation of passengers and freight. And they take interest in the building up and beautifying the towns on their lines. Evidence of this statement is to be seen all along their line.

The building of the Louisville and Nashville railroad through Alabama has caused the building of many good business and manufacturing towns, where waste places and almost wilderness formerly existed, and converted worthless property into revenue yielding sources.

For most of these comforts and accommodations and enterprises, the people are greatly indebted to Mr. M. H. Smith, president; Mr. J. G. Metcalf, general manager; Mr. C. P. Atmore, general passenger agent; Judge W. J. Wood, third vice-president of the system; and W. M. Newbold, superintendent; and B. M. Starke, assistant superintendent of the South and North Alabama division. These are men who take great pride in doing whatever will advance the interest of their patrons, and they keep employed only such men on trains and in depots as will be kind and obliging to the public. These officials are entitled to the gratitude of the people whose interest they have looked to in the management of their road.

Mr. Blaine's Letter.

The Richmond (Va.) Times asks: "What does Mr. Blaine's letter mean?" The Times then proceeds to answer its question in the following manner: "It means that he is a candidate for the nomination of the Republican party as President of the United States. We cannot help having a semi-kindly feeling for Blaine. He is a good natured, easy going sort of a fellow who would not put himself out of the way to hurt anyone, and, on the whole, had rather see us let alone down here than see us badgered and worried about the "nigger." Nevertheless, the day after it was ascertained that Cleveland had beat him for the office of President, he made at Augusta, Me., one of the most intensely bitter speeches against the South that has yet been made by the wildest of South haters. Our memory is long, and we treasure such incidents as that. On the whole, we think Blaine the most expert 'fakir' of the day. In personal appearance he is not at all unlike Mr. Punch, and it requires but a superficial knowledge of his character for one to learn that he is in all respects, just such a humbug as Mr. Punch marks out always for his shafts. Blaine wants the nomination, and we predict that from this time until the convention meets he will be pulling the wires to set underhand Blaine movements on foot in every quarter of the United States. He has command of one prodigious agency with which he will especially contrive his dark machinations. Somehow (we know not how) he seems all potential with the Associated Press of the United States, and this furnishes telegraphic news to at least 700 newspapers in this Union. The power of striking the readers of 700 newspapers simultaneously with a statement favorable to his nomination, and with no power whatever of contradicting the statement when it is false, is the most tremendous engine of political power ever controled by one man. Yes Blaine just controls this one engine. Look out for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain from this time forward."

[Advertisement.]

P. M. Moore.

MR. EDITOR:—Let me through your paper say that from a long personal acquaintance with him I am satisfied that no candidate seeking the votes of the people of Chilton county for the office of Sheriff is more worthy than Mr. Moore. Having tried him for truth, honesty and faithfulness in the capacity of foreman for nine years, I can say that I never found him wanting.
A FRIEND.
Plantersville, Ala., Feb'y 26.

The twenty-six votes of Dallas County are conceded to Governor Jones by the only Kolb paper in that county, the Ala. Mirror, which says:

"Politics of the most practical kind prevail in Dallas, but the Kolb men are not in it."

The Marion Standard is now in charge of Mr. D. C. Culbreth, who established the Centreville Enterprise some years since. The Standard is kept full of good reading matter under its new management, and we shall expect to see it meet with more than usual success. The VIEW makes its best bow in appreciation of the following "blanket-stretching" compliment from the new editor of the Standard with whom it is not our good fortune to be acquainted, but from his paper we have put him down as genuine brick, surely:

The familiar face of the CHILTON VIEW reached our table last week for the first time since the present editor has had charge of the Standard. We hurried to examine our exchange list to see whether or not we had been exchanging with our friend, and found that we had not. The VIEW will get the Standard hereafter. While we do not know Bro. Lawrence personally, we remember him as one of the editors, who, two years ago, while we were on the Centreville Enterprise, would spit at us occasionally, but for all that he is one of the best newspaper men in Alabama. While his Bro. J. C. of the Northport Breeze, with whom we are personally acquainted, is one of the most successful.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

TWO CONVICTS SHOT

While Attempting to Escape from the Guards at the Penitentiary.

Wm. Gibson and Robt Marshall, two white convicts, were shot yesterday morning while trying to escape.

Arthur Jones, the guard, had a squad of convicts at work, cleaning up a pasture near the penitentiary, when he was attacked by these two convicts. They had thrown him to the ground and were trying to take his gun, when three other convicts, Geo. Murchison, Edom Cole and Sam Sidney, came to the rescue. They secured the gun and Gibson made a break to escape, but the guard, on regaining his feet, drew his pistol and shot Gibson down, killing him. Marshall again attacked the guard who turned and shot him down. Marshall will not recover.

In the scuffle that issued, Cole, who assisted the guard, was accidentally shot in the hand, but he with Murchison and Sidney, kept the guard from being overpowered and prevented the escape of two bad men.

Gibson has twice been convicted of burglary in Monroe county, and while confined in the jail of that county, made several attempts to escape.

Marshall will be remembered as the professional burglar that was recently sentenced from Chilton county for twenty years. He was a mean desperate man.

Both of these men have been ordered to the wall because unsuited to mine work.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Dallas county will vote solidly in convention for Jones for Governor and Robbins for Congress.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

La Grippe Again.

During the epidemic of La Grippe last season Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, proved to be the best remedy. Reports from the many who used it confirm this statement. They were not only quickly relieved, but the disease left no bad after results. We ask you to give this remedy a trial and we guarantee that you will be satisfied with results, or the purchase price will be refunded. It has no equal in La Grippe, or any Throat, Chest or Lung Trouble. Trial bottles free. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the System, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says: "I find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle. jun11

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks,
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills
and all kinds of Machinery and
Mill Supplies. Write for circulars
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS.
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting
Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
11 to 15 DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Olisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2018 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 3, 1892.

SCHEDULE S. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	8:05 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	4:05 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Lent began yesterday.

March came in like a lion.

Dr. M. J. Green and wife are visiting relatives in Clanton.

Mr. Lee Bivings, of Birmingham, spent Sunday here with his parents.

Miss Clara Gerald, of Montgomery, is visiting relatives in our city.

Mr. W. B. Nolen has been made county solicitor in place of Mr. O. P. Bentley.

Mrs. J. Forsyth and little daughter are visiting relatives in our city.

Mrs. J. B. Boykin, of Evergreen, has been visiting friends and relatives here recently.

Rev. B. E. Feagin preached a most excellent sermon to a large congregation Sunday.

Rev. I. F. Smith will hold services to-morrow night (Friday) at the Episcopal church.

Mr. Lancaster, of Montgomery, spent Sunday in Clanton, and was the guest of Miss Inez Collier.

Mrs. Davis, of Wetumpka, spent last Friday in Clanton and was the guest of Mrs. W. A. Collier.

Mr. H. C. Martin, our clever depot agent, expects to remain in Clanton and will shortly move his family here. We welcome them.

Wanted—As a household assistant a white woman over thirty-five years of age and without children. Apply to O. R. Bell, Clanton, Ala.

It is said a certain confectioner taught a parrot to say, "Pretty boy" to every lady who entered his store, which has greatly increased his patronage.—Exchange.

Two handsome young ladies arrived in our city on the 29th ult. One is at Sheriff Hayes', and the other is at Mr. O. A. Dukes'—a grand-daughter.

A negro was arrested and brought to Clanton last week on a charge of petit larceny at Stanton. When the party arrived here he jumped from the mule he was riding and took to his heels down the road. Several shots were fired, but the prisoner escaped.

"I firmly believe," said an observant citizen, "that this part of the country will be in good condition financially next fall. I fully realize that the times are hard now, but that very fact is the basis upon which I plant my faith for better times in the future. It is reasonable to suppose—yes, it is a matter of necessity—that everybody should economize rigidly for the next nine months, and the crops are going to be made with the least possible expense. There is a silver lining to the cloud which now hovers above us, and our friends should take courage and fight bravely on. Success will crown their efforts."—Greensboro Watchman.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

IT TOOK EACH ACRE
to get one, you obtain your seed, and give
Mr. B. a proper credit. Try or you can not profit by your work.
MONTHLY FARM HERALD.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Jemison.

La grippe has remained in Mr. Ira Campbell's family for two weeks and is still loth to leave.

On Sunday, Feb. 28th, ult., at the residence of Mr. K. Glasscock's, his daughter Miss Ada and J. A. Green were united by Rev. D. Martin. This splendid young couple were raised up in our midst. May sweet flowers of prosperity be thickly strewn along their pathway.

To-day, Feb. 29th we bid old winter adieu with its grim coldness.

Maplesville Dots.

Mr. Gullahorn's family have all been suffering with grip. Mrs. Gullahorn and Miss Mamie have been quit ill, but are now better.

Mr. Studedale's friends are glad to have him back.

Mr. and Mrs. Lassiter and Mrs. E. Todd of Stanton have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Crumpton. Mr. and Mrs. Crumpton are just recovering from a most distressing attack of grippe.

We sincerely hope Mrs. Bacebus, of Birmingham, will decide to get a home with us. She is now renting from Mrs. N. A. Goodwin.

Lily Dots.

Mr. J. J. Veazey, died at his home near this place, the 22nd ult. He left a loving wife and seven children to battle with the cares of this world. But their loss is Heaven's gain.

Messrs. Will DeShazo and David Coolley paid Coosa county a flying visit last week.

Mr. T. Blackmon and family and Mr. John McGrady all of Coosa county attended the burial of Mr. Veazey.

Little Viola Logan, daughter of J. Logan, of Kincheon, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Veazy.

Miss Emma Deshazo spent last week with Mrs. Douglas at Evergreen, Autauga county.

Miss Jane Conley and her mother who have been sick are now improving.

Mr. James Kincade is building him a new dwelling on his place near Green Leaf Academy.

Mr. L. Campbell is employed in repainting Dr. Johnson's dwelling.

Mr. Dan Blunt has rented Mr. B. H. Jones' place for this year.

Messrs. Walter Lenorr and Foldie Jones who have been attending school at Nixburg returned home last Saturday.

Verbena Views.

Mr. N. Marks and family, of Kentucky, are visiting the family of Mr. T. M. Burnett.

Dr. Matthews, of Clanton, was in Verbena this week.

Miss Anna Logan has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in north Alabama.

We have a real lively debating and literary society here.

Miss Bettie Mullins has returned from a delightful visit to relatives in Evergreen.

The farmers are busy preparing their land for the sowing of their grain, and I think they will plant less cotton than they have done for years in this section. Some are not going to plant any at all. Every farmer in the South should do the same that can afford to do it, and all should try, because we can't afford to raise it at five and six cents a pound.

Mr. J. W. E. Gulledge has moved near Clanton. We are sorry to lose him, but hope he will find a pleasant home.

One of our gallant young men has been making frequent visits to your beautiful little town. We guess there is some great attraction up there, and hope he will be successful.

Dr. Alva Claughton has returned from Atlanta, where he has been taking a medical course.

Miss Inez Northington is visiting relatives in Autauga.

Mr. J. E. Morris, of the Magic City, has been visiting Verbena.

Capt. W. L. Brown and Miss Mary Brown, of Autauga, have been visiting Verbena.

Mr. Will Wadsworth, of Wadsworth Station, visited Verbena this week.

Miss Lilla Gulledge, one of our most fascinating young ladies, is visiting relatives in Rockford.

Miss Mary Williamson, one of our popular young ladies, is visiting relatives in Georgia. Vox.

Confederate Soldiers.

In order that the wounded, disabled from disease, or old age, or the widows of deceased confederate soldiers may obtain the benefit of an act approved Feb. 13th, 1891, they must file in the office of Probate Judge their application each year for six years before the first day of June in each year.

H. J. CALLEN.
Judge of Probate.

Almost a Jail Delivery.

On Sunday last two prisoners in the county jail succeeded in getting out of their cells into the hall way by prizing the cage bars away with an iron railing taken from a bed. They heard the Sheriff coming and just had time to get back into the cell and hang a coat over the hole. A negro prisoner, Burrell Graham, handed the Sheriff a slip of paper when he came in, and the paper gave the Sheriff information of the attempted escape, and further stated that the escaping prisoners were on the point of entering the safe of the county treasury when the Sheriff's timely arrival prevented. The county treasurer's safe is kept in the jail as a place of security, and it seems that these prisoners had learned the combination of the safe from seeing the Treasurer frequently reading it from a paper. It was an interesting and close call for the Sheriff and Treasurer.

Serious Fire.

Sunday night near Clear Creek the stable and barn of Mr. Skipper was burned together with his mule, horse and about 250 bushels of corn.

Honor Roll.

At the Public School for two weeks.

2nd Grade—Jannie Goodgame, Mattie Sue Chandler and Hattie Bell Aldridge.

3rd Grade—Essie McCrary, Xyr Hunt and Mollie Vines.

4th Grade—Sammie Wells.

5th Grade—Mamie Nelson, Willie Dora Robinson, Tommie Kemp and Bartley Boyd.

Notice.

An assessment of $1.00 against each of the candidates for the various county offices having been made by the county executive committee to pay for printing the primary election tickets, notice is given that such assessment must be paid to the Secretary of the committee by April 1st. Failure to meet the assessment by that date will cause your name to be omitted from the tickets.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
Chairman.
W. E. STEWART, Sec'y.

Brother Kindness.

A London paper says that a young man had a younger sister by the name of Jessie, who was sent to a fashionable boarding-school. When she went away, he remarked that he hoped she wouldn't acquire any of the affectations so often learned in such places.

For almost a year he had no fault to find upon this score. Then came a letter signed "Jessica," instead of Jessie. He replied as follows:

"Dear Sister Jessica: Your welcomed letter received. Mamica and papaica are well. Aunt Maryica and uncle Georgica started for Glasgowica yesterday. I have bought a new horse. You ought to see it. It is a beauty. Its name is Maudica.

Your affectionate brother,
SAMICA."

The sister's next letter was signed Jessie.—Youth's Companion.

Lovage For Grip.

New York Times.

"That's a bad cold you've got," said a benevolent looking old gentleman to a young fellow he had met casually.

"Worst I ever had," answered the young man.

"Try a pinch of this," urged the other, fishing in his vest pocket for a little box. There was a fine powder in it, and he offered it invitingly. "It's no 'kill-or-cure' thing. See how it goes."

The young man snuffed a tiny pinch up his nose. In five minutes he felt relieved. "That's wonderful," he said. "If you've got a monopoly of that it's a fortune to you."

The old man smiled indulgently. "This is one of the commonest of herbs," said he. "It so cheap that it can be bought by the ton if you want that much. It cured me of the grip, and I believe it is the best thing going."

"What do you call it?"

"German lovage. All the druggists have it. For a dime you can get a box of it powdered, large enough to cure a whole family of the grip. It is so common that it's value has been overlooked. Yes try it and tell all you friends, German lovage is a sure cure for the grip."

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2018, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

A man who claimed to have seen Washington inaugurated president, and to have been a friend of Simon Kenton, was Alfred Cole, who died at Springfield, Ky., not long ago. He was alleged to have been one hundred and fifteen years old.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale contained therein, executed by J. W. Headley to R. Ehrman, which said mortgage is duly recorded in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton county, Alabama, in book 73, page 288; the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property, to-wit: The northeast (quarter (n e ¼) of of section thirty-three (33), township twenty-one (21), range sixteen (16), lying and being situated in the county of Chilton, and State of Alabama; also, One Chandler and Taylor engine, One Lane & Bodley Saw Mill, One Single Edger, One Circular Saw, Two Train Cars, One Top Saw, and all fixtures in the way of belting, piping and pulleys connected with said above mentioned machinery, and which said machinery and mill are now upon the lands above described. R. EHRMAN,

MONDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH, 1892,

By ROB'T H. KNOX, His Attorney.
March 3d, 1892-4t

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage executed to the undersigned by William Willis and Louisa Minerva Willis, and recorded in Mortgage Book 23, page 105 in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton county, we will proceed to sell on the

19TH DAY OF MARCH, 1892,

in front of the courthouse of Chilton county, in the city of Clanton, Ala., within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate and personal property, to-wit:

The south ½ of southwest ¼, and the northwest ¼ of the southwest ¼ and the southwest ¼ of the southeast ¼ section 29, township 24, range 15.

One bay mare named "Mollie" and colt.

One black mare mule named "Kit."

Three red cows, one dun cow, one white cow, one buggy, one wagon, and one hundred bushels of corn, more or less.

SELIGMAN & ABRAHAM,
feb25 Mortgagees.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2884, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 26, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2337 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 13 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: David Hightower, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Atchinson and Wiley Atchinson, all of Randolph, Ala.

feb18o3 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., February 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Madison Tyus, homestead 19023 for the w ½ of s e ¼ of sec 25, township 20 n, range 15 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Kato Price, James Cooper, Ed. Cooper, Lewis Price, all of Verbena, Ala.

feblio J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Avey Wilson, homestead 17622 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 26, township 21 north, range 14 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Alfred Hill, Holley Ray, John B. Kemp, John Bradley, all of Chilton, Ala.

feb11-o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Subscribe for this paper.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.

—18 COMMERCE STREET,—

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pape & Newberry, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
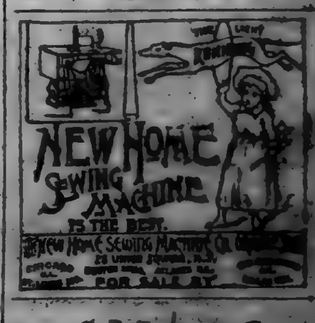
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama. [2-2]

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER,
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds
Work Done in the
BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. 5 mar26y

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 2, Dexter Avenue
H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited. [feb25 92]



SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY

Fall Term begins September 15.
Spring Term begins January 15.

Over 125 teachers, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., S. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough business course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men at the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the South. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Supplied by improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. A telephone in every room and transfer. Perhaps the finest reading room and gymnasium connected with any school in the South. Thoroughly located. Send for catalogue.

ALLIANCE TALKS.

NEWS OF THE ORDER AND ITS MEMBERS.

Interesting Comments on the Situation by the Reform Press.

Two hundred and fifty sub-treasury alliance democrats from all over the State of Texas met in the auditorium of the city hall at Dallas. The purpose of the assembly was to take steps towards the organization of Jeffersonian Democracy or a government of the people, for the people and by the people. The resolutions and platform adopted were in substance identical with the Ocala demands.

***

Says the Southern Alliance Farmer: "It is only a question of time when the people will elect their own United States Senators. This congress will not pass such a measure, but the people will put one there at the next election that will. The people are tired of a house of lords over which they have little or no control. The present discussion of this question will result in much good. The people will open their eyes to the fact that the senate has been a natural fraud since its organization, representing the interest of the money power and monopolies instead of the people."

***

The Truth (San Antonio, (Tex.) says: Each reader must always remember that it is not enough that he himself is convinced or thinks correctly, but it is absolutely necessary that a majority of the voters in every state should be also convinced and got to vote right or our reform cannot succeed. If our reform does not succeed our pocket will not benefit. If our pocket does not benefit ourselves and our families, they will go hungry. It is therefore highly important, nay, necessary that we be earnest in making converts. Talk reform in season and out of season at everybody at all times. From now on every Alliance man should constitute himself a reform propagandist.

***

The Alliance Tribune, (O'Neill, Neb.) says: Both the old parties are wasting great chunks of sympathy for the Alliance because the Alliance Congressmen refused to adopt any rule by which they should all be compelled to vote together upon any particular measure. Why, bless your dear souls, that one, man-power, caucus rule, was one of the things which the Alliance was organized to protest against. The caucus rule in Congress by which a few men in and out of Congress has been enabled to shape the legislation of the country for the past twenty-five years is the cause of the class laws and special privileges which have made millionaires and mortgages so plenty.

***

The People's Economist (Thomasville, Ga.) says: The Alliance has no war to make on any profession or class except such as take away the fruits of the labor of the people under the guise of law. It seeks to place farming and farmers on a higher plane, and when this is done the country will be more uniformly prosperous. The decadence of England begun when the farmers of the sea girt isle began to fall behind and to grow restive under the unjust burdens they were bearing. Experience ought to suggest that the best time to forestall such results is to take time by the forelock, and begin the work of reformation when the premonitory symptoms appear. This is what the Alliance has sought to do.

***

The Messenger (San Miguel, Cal.) says: Of all men the farmers are the most conservative; they are not visionaries nor revolutionists, excepting in so far as the revolution of political parties is concerned. The Alliance demands a reform that will bring back this government to the principles upon which it was founded. The constitution provides that government shall be administered in the interests of the people—the masses. But it has drifted into the hands of the politicians and capitalists, who run it in their own special interests. In order to again make this government a "government of the people" is why the farmers have organized in Alliances. It is their aim to wrest the government of this country from the grasp of professional politicians, corruptionists and monopolists.

***

The People's Aid and Alliance Review (Cincinnati, Ohio) says: Business men should stop long enough to study the demands of the farmers before they decide that the farmers are working against their interests. What benefits the farmer benefits the business man. When the farmer prospers the business man will share his prosperity. Reduce the farmer to a mere living and who would expect him to buy luxuries? The demands of the farmer are as necessary to the success of the merchant as they are to the farmer. If any merchant will stop and think he will find that the 15,000 failures of last year will teach him that bankruptcy is coming closer home every year, and that he has no time to lose, but should join the farmers in forcing their demands to adoption. We hope our readers will join us in promulgating this great project of "amity" between the farmer, the merchant and the business men in general. When fully consummated it will be a grand thing. Why not?

***

The Alliance Herald (Montgomery, Ala.) says: In the first efforts made for relief of the people by the Congressmen who are flooding Congress with bills, why do not these wiseacres study the problem and seek to remedy it? How will any measures offered be capable of redeeming 90 per cent of the homes of farmers in this county from mortgages? How will any of them stop the robbery of the people by trusts, combines and syndicates, which aggregate about two hundred and fifty millions per annum? How will any of them stop the robbery of the people by taxation imposed by railroads to pay dividends on watered stocks and bonds? None of them try to meet the demands of either of these factors in the problem. Sincere efforts to meet these demands are what the exigencies demand. No measure that is not based on a knowledge of the problem and made to conform to its demands will meet the requirement. Two-thirds of the bills introduced are tabs thrown to the whale—bamboozling humbuggery.

***

THE SUB-TREASURY

The sub-treasury plan is bound to be heard in congress. All efforts to kill it have been futile, and it stands to-day the most intelligent exponent of financial reform ever brought forward for adoption. It looks like it is bound to be heard in political organizations, too. Some weeks ago a Democratic convention in Texas declared that a man who believed in the Sub-Treasury should not be admitted to a Democratic convention. Another convention has just been held and the Sub-Treasury plan says it must be in their platform. They organized a new Democratic party called the "Jeffersonian Democratic party. Yes, the Sub-Treasury nonsense(?) is bound to be heard. It is one of the best things in world.—Ex.

***

IN THE SAME BOAT.

The hungry man in the city and the hungry man in the country have the same grievances, says the Cincinnati Herald. The city laborer working half time for a pittance is in the same boat with the farmer whose products don't pay the cost of production. The merchant fleeced by the real estate shark, the loan shark, the trust shark, the railroad shark, and through them is driven into bankruptcy, is a victim of the same evils that are transforming the mortgaged farmers into tenants. The man who lives by speculation; by collecting dividends on watered stock; by absorbing the products of honest toil without rendering an equivalent, are the enemies of all living in city or country who ask for nothing except what they can earn by honest effort. Stand together against your common foe.

***

WAKE UP!

The Farmers Advocate (Charlestown, W. Va.) says: When the farmers owned this country forty years ago, they controlled its legislation and rendered every class of business profitable. In 1892, when they own only 20 per cent. of the wealth of the country, and every branch of the government has passed out of their hands, paralysis of business of every character has followed, and it has become difficult for many to even obtain subsistence in a land of plenty. Farmers, remember that the reins of government have simply passed out of your hands, but not beyond your control, if you make up your minds to influence their management or regain control of them. Isn't your situation a sufficient commentary on the wrongs you have endured, ere you wake up. Verily, "a little more sleep; a little more slumber, and your poverty cometh as an armed man." Will you sleep on and lose your heritage?

***

PLANT LESS COTTON.

The Cotton Plant, organ of the South Carolina State Alliance, has this to say about the necessity for a reduction in the cotton acreage: "The convention of cotton growers which met by appointment last week in Augusta, recommended a reduction of 20 per cent. in the area planted. We trust that this recommendation will be adopted by every farmer. It is utter nonsense to talk or to think about the probability of your neighbors planting less while you plant as much or more than you did last year.

The only way to reach the end proposed is for each farmer to covenant with himself not to plant within 20 per cent. as many acres as he planted last year. Any plan that proceeds upon a different line is doomed to disappointment—disappointment of the individual farmer, disappointment and disaster to the country at large. Let each individual realize that there is no money but actual loss for him in any acre above 80 per cent of what he planted last year; and then act like an intelligent business man.

***

DON YOUR ARMOR AND FIGHT.

We sometimes hear it said that "Right will win." This not necessarily so by any means; almost every day we see wrong, tyranny and oppression trample right, truth and justice under foot. But there are conditions under which right will always win. What are they? When right is ably and as persistently championed and backed by as many supporters as wrong, it will always win. In fact, right will often win when backed by less ability and persistency and inferior numbers, but when the preponderance is too great, right goes down. A man's cause may be just and yet he may go down because he has not the manhood and the courage to stand and persistently fight for the right world without end. Yes, thrice armed is he whose cause is just, but if he fails to use the weapons and advantage which justice gives him, nine times out of ten he will go down in defeat. Now here is a lesson for the members of the Alliance and the other soldiers of reform. The Alliance is right, but it will not, cannot win unless we fight for the cause. Then let us, let every reformer, every lover of right and enemy of wrong, buckle on the armor of truth and fight without ceasing. Yes, fight as long as wrong exists, and let every delay and the appearance of every new wrong be a new inspiration to the soldiers of reform and perfect liberty.—The Caucasian.

COTTON CROP OF '92.

An Estimate of the Reduction to be Made in Acreage.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat prints a page of letters from correspondents throughout the cotton belt in reply to inquiries as to what the prospects for the acreage of 1892 is at present. The results of these inquiries show that the losses for 1891 have been heavy. The planters are practically all agreed that they must raise less cotton and more corn and bacon, and they say they are going to do this.

One important fact is that there has been a great decrease in the demand for fertilizers. Another indication is that many planters are now preparing lands for corn and other cereals, tobacco and vegetables, in which cotton was grown last year. This fact is noticed in all the cotton producing states. In the Memphis district, and in the Red river and Houston districts in Texas, correspondents state there will be no decrease. All the others predict a reduction ranging from 10 to 50 per cent.

The greatest reduction is apparently expected in North Carolina, where virtually an agricultural revolution is said to be under way. The average reduction in South Carolina is estimated at 20 per cent; in Georgia 15 to 20; Mississippi 15 to 25; Arkansas 15 to 25; Louisiana 10 to 20; Alabama 10 to 15. In Texas, the most important state of all, there is some difference of opinion as to decrease. In the Paris and Houston districts the correspondents report there will be no decrease. Four points make estimates of a reduction ranging from 15 to 30 per cent. Taking the cotton belt as a whole, it seems safe to say that there will be a decrease in acreage of at least 50 per cent.

DIAZ IS MASTER.

The Operations of Garza and His Followers at an End.

A dispatch of Monday from the city of Mexico says: A thorough investigation along the frontier shows that there is now no danger of any uprising in Mexico. The Garza bandits, who had been operating on United States territory appear to have disbanded with no likelihood of reassembling.

30 Years

Of Suffering from

Scrofula Humor

Two medical friends said a case of Scrofula of 30 years' duration would be very difficult to cure. And so it is, but Hood's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably cures in about every case it gives a

Fair, Thorough Trial

Mr. Clapp, an old resident of Batterdale, says:

"I am now 53 years of age and for the past 30 years have suffered with running sores on one of my legs. A few years ago I had two of my best companions, physicians, telling that I was suffering from gangrene and had but a

Short Time to Live

Eight months ago, at the recommendation of a neighbor I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have taken about a dozen bottles. When I began taking it nearly the whole lower part of my leg and foot was a running sore. Now the sore has almost completely healed and I can truthfully say that I am in better health than I have been for many years. I owe all my improvement to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It is better than gold." Gideon T. Clapp, Batterdale, Mass. Be sure to get Hood's.

HOOD'S PILLS Cure Biliousness.

Beauty often depends on plumpness; so does comfort; so does health. If you get thin, there is something wrong, though you may feel no sign of it.

Thinness itself is a sign; sometimes the first sign; sometimes not.

The way to get back plumpness is by CAREFUL LIVING, which sometimes includes the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Let us send you—free—a little book which throws much light on all these subjects.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1. 25

"August Flower"

My wife suffered with indigestion and dyspepsia for years. Life became a burden to her. Physicians failed to give relief. After reading one of your books, I purchased a bottle of August Flower. It worked like a charm. My wife received immediate relief after taking the first dose. She was completely cured—now weighs 165 pounds, and can eat anything she desires without any deleterious results as was formerly the case. C. H. Dear, Prop'r Washington House, Washington, Va.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

When applied into the nostrils will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores senses of taste and smell.

TRY THE CURE.

CATARRH

THE CURE FOR CATARRH COLD IN HEAD HAY FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE ELY'S CREAM BALM 50c

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the liver, stomach, bowels and purify the blood, are mild and effective. The best general family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom or disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over-eating are benefited by taking a TABULE after each meal. Price, by mail, (from 12) 1 bottle 15c. Address THE RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

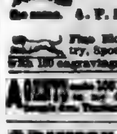
Tutt's Tiny Pills act as kindly on the child, the delicate female or infirm old age as upon the vigorous man.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

give tone and strength to the weak stomach, bowels, kidneys and bladder

EVERGREENS, 200 Varieties, Natives of Each Land. Lists Free.

EVER-GREEN NURSERIES, Evergreen, Wis



Every lover and breeder of Game Fowls should subscribe for "The Game Bird," monthly Journal of sixteen pages, $1.00 per year. If you have fowls for sale advertise in the same. A. P. HOUL, Publisher, York, Pa.

Fine Blooded Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, Poultry, Sporting Dogs for Sale. Catalogues, 25c. 100 engravings, free. H. P. Boyer, Centreville, Pa.

A GENTS make $50 PER DAY and upwards. Sure CASH Prizes to all. Costly Outfit, Boxes and Medicine Goods free. Packages, Oct. 31 Brighton, 6th Prize, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

SUCCESS IS ASSURED BY SOWING THE BEST SEEDS.

The first that we will name

CLOVER, GRASS, and FIELD SEEDS than any house in the Southern States, to meet convincing proof of our high grade Seeds and reasonable prices. Our are unsurpassed in quality, quantity and vitality or germ power. We DELIVER POSTPAID everywhere all Seeds at prices and packet sizes, and give $5 cts. worth extra packet Seeds for each $1.00 worth ordered. We also have special low rates on Seeds in bulk.

GARDEN SEEDS

OUR INSTRUCTIVE CATALOGUE, giving full information and directions for cultivating all Farm and Garden Crops, mailed free. Send for it. Address

T. W. WOOD & SONS

Seedsmen, RICHMOND, VA.

LOOKED LIKE A DUDE.

But He Knocked Out the Record as a Train Robber.

A dispatch of Sunday from Rochester, N. Y., gives a graphic account of the most daring attempt at train robbing on record.

Train No. 21, on the Central Hudson, is known as the American company's special, running between New York and Buffalo, and carries only goods and property shipped by that company. The train left New York at 9 o'clock Saturday evening, and was in Rochester at 7.05 o'clock in the morning. Nearly all the cars contain most valuable express matter. One car is known as the "money" car, and in it is sent specie from the United States treasury for western banks, as well as money in process of exchange between the banks of New York and the west. Daniel T. McInery was in charge of the "money" car on the trip Saturday night. Only one messenger was assigned to the money car, as the work of billing was light. The train left Syracuse at 5 o'clock Sunday morning in charge of Conductor Emil Lass.

THE AIR WHISTLE'S WARNING.

When the train was near Weedsport the conductor, who was in the coach, thought he heard the air whistle sound very faintly. It was enough to arouse him to the belief that something was wrong in the express car. Going out on the platform of the coach he climbed on the rail, and, looking through the hole where the bell cord comes through, he saw the upper part of man whose face below the eyes was concealed by a mask. The messenger he could not see. He went back, set the air brakes and called his two trainmen. The three stood leaning out from the platform, looking forward along the sides of the express car. Suddenly a man's form appeared at the side door of the express car, revolver bullets whistled past their ears and a voice was heard commanding them to signal the engineer to go ahead or take the consequences. The trainmen were unarmed. The conductor told one of his men to jump off, run back to Jordan, and telegraph along the line to Rochester that they had train robbers on board. This was done, and the conductor signalled the engineer to go ahead at full speed, thinking that the robber would not dare to jump and would be captured at the next stop. The train went to Port Byron, her brakes were set again and the conductor and trainmen went to the express car.

The car showed signs of a desperate struggle. Money packages and jewelry were lying scattered about. Everything in the car seemed stained with blood and Messenger McInery was lying bleeding from several wounds and almost unconscious. The robber was no where to be seen and was supposed to have jumped and made good his escape. The train then went on to Lyons, the next stop. The news had spread all along the line by this time and the station at Lyons was alive.

Among in others in the crowd was a well-dressed young man wearing gold eyeglasses and carrying a satchel slung by a strap over his shoulder. Now, it so happened that the trainmen had noticed this young man at the station at Syracuse before the train pulled out, and they had not seen him since, and the question of what he was doing at Lyons and how he got there at once suggested itself. An attempt was made to seize him, but he pulled out two revolvers, held the crowd back and backed across the yard until he reached a coal train, the engine of which had steamed up ready to pull out for the west.

A MAN WITH NERVE.

He pulled the pin holding the tender to the first car, and, climbing over the coal into the cab, drove the engineer and fireman out with his revolvers, and started the engine. Conductor Lass and one of the switchmen procured a shotgun and freed the engine of the express and, with the fireman and engineer, started in pursuit of the fugitive. The Central Hudson is a four-tracked road, and the two engines, though both going west, were not on the same track. The express engine soon overtook the robber, who suddenly reversed his engine and let his pursuers pass him, pouring a perfect hail of pistol bullets into the cab as his pursuers went by.

THE BATTLE ON THE ENGINES.

Then the pursuers stopped and the pursued went ahead. Another duel ensued, the shot-gun taking part this time. No one was hurt in either battle. About two miles beyond the robber found his engine was giving out, so he jumped out at a crossroad and started across the country, going south. The party on the express engine had returned to Lyons, where the sheriff had organized a posse, which started in pursuit. Meantime, the farmers along the robber's line of retreat had also turned out fully armed in pursuit. The runaway was so closely run that he surrendered and was taken back to Lyons and lodged in jail. He gave his name as Cross, but it developed later that the man was Perry Lyons, formerly a cowboy, and later worked as a railway brakeman.

THE STORY OF THE ROBBERY.

The story of the attempt at robbery, as far as it can be gathered, is this: The express messenger, be it understood, will not talk.

Lyons boarded the train when it pulled out of Syracuse and climbed on top the express car. He was provided with a hooked rope. Fastening the hook in the slight carniced roof on one side of the car, he let himself down on to the other, and resting his toes on the edge that runs along the car, he looked in the glass of the side door and saw the express messenger in front of one of the safes, which was open, making up his bills. He smashed the glass with his revolver, covered the messenger and shouted to him to hold up his hands. Instead of doing this McInery reached for the signal cord with one hand, and for a revolver with the other. A bullet smashed the hand on the cord, but not before it had given the signal that aroused the conductor. Then McInery fired on the robber and put a bullet through his coat. Then the robber shot the messenger twice, once in the right leg and once in the temple. He climbed into the car and a desperate struggle took place, which did not end until the train was stopped for the first time, near Weedsport. It is evident that the robber had climbed out on top of the cars and remained there through the stop at Port Byron until the train reached Lyons. So far as can be learned the robber secured absolutely nothing.

THAT AGGRAVATING SISTER.

His Sister—Had you heard that Lizzie Higg's pug has run away?

He—Well, what of it?

His Sister—Oh, nothing, only I thought that if you intended proposing, now is your time. A woman's heart is often caught in the rebound, you know.—Indianapolis Journal.

Liked the Plan.

Teacher—"Why haven't you a composition?"

Small Boy—"I couldn't think of anything to write."

Teacher—"I gave you a subject."

Small Boy—"Yes'm, but I couldn't think of anything to write about it."

Teacher—"Humph! I suppose if I should give you the subject and the ideas, too, you could write them, couldn't you?"

Small Boy (joyfully)—"Oh, yes, ma'am—if you'll tell me what words to use."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Chaining Him Down.

Old Gentleman—"If you are bound to marry that young scapegrace, I suppose I can't prevent it; but I'll fix him so he'll have to spend his evenings in good company."

Trustful Girl—"Oh, he will of course."

Old Gentleman—"Yes, indeed he will. All the money you get he'll have to win from me at poker."—Street & Smith's Good News.

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

A quarter of a yard of mosquito netting, folded down to the required size and tacked, makes a good dishcloth.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves, creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

The quickest and best way to freshen salt fish is said to be by soaking in sour milk.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

Mr John C. Ferman, Albion, Illinois, writes on Jan. 16, 1891. "My wife has been a great sufferer from headaches for over 20 years, and your Bradycrotine is the only medicine that has ever relieved her. I can get you all the recommendations you want from here. We take great pleasure in recommending it on all occasions."

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the throat.

The worst cases of female weakness readily yield to Dr. Swan's Pastiles. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

CHILD BIRTH MADE EASY!

"MOTHERS' FRIEND" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

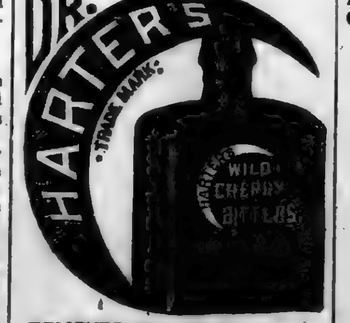
WILL DO all that is claimed for it AND MORE. It Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book to "MOTHERS" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sent by express on receipt of price $1.50 per bottle

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR. HARTER'S



RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain.
REVIVES FAILING ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

IF

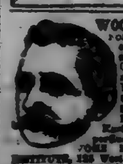
You don't want comfort. If you don't wish to look well dressed. If you don't want the best, then you don't want the Lace Back Suspender. Your dealer has it if he is alive. If he isn't the shoutest be your dealer. We will mail a pair on receipt of $1.00. None genuine without the stamp as above.

Lace Back Suspender Co., 49 Prince Street, N. Y.

M

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.



WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP, for the Skin, Scalp and Complexion. Result of 30 years' experience. For sale at Druggists or by mail, 50c. Sample Cake and 128 p. book on Dermatology and Beauty, (Illus.), on Skin, Scalp, Nerves and Blood diseases and their treatment, sent mailed for 10c. also mention this paper. Shop Worn Blemishes, Moles, Warts, Ugly Hair and Freckles Removed, Scars, Pittings, Marks of Small-pox permanently Rid. Book free. Consultation free. JOHN H. WOODBURY, DERMATOLOGIST, 125 West 42d Street, N. Y. City. Consultation at office or by letter. Agents Wanted in each place.

Kirk's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest.

CATARRH

Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Mrs. E. T. Hamilton, Warren, Pa.

GET WELL Health Helper Book, 64 pp. 25c. Send for it now. Address, M. B. DYER, Buffalo, N.Y. FREE

The Seven Golden Cities.

The "Seven Golden Cities," one of the most popular legends of the latter part of the Dark Ages, was said to be situated on an island west of the African coast. The island is represented as abounding in gold, with magnificent houses and temples, "the high towers of which shown at a great distance." The legend also relates that at the time of the conquest of Spain and Portugal by the Moors, when the inhabitants fled in every direction to escape slavery, seven bishops, followed by a great number of people, took to ships and put boldly out on the high seas. After tossing about for some time they landed on an unknown island, the famous spot which in after years became the seat of the "Seven Golden Cities."

"This island, Heylyn says, "was exactly in midocean." After all had landed safely the wise old bishops burned the ships to prevent their followers from deserting, and founded the cities which have become so famous in song and story. This mysterious island was often sought by the early navigators. Those who went in search of it and never returned were popularly believed to have been detained by its inhabitants.—St. Louis Republic.

No Bill of Fare.

Mamma (at dinner table)—"Why, Dick, what are you crying for?"

Little Dick—"Boo-hoo! I didn't know there was any pudding 'till I got all frough."—Street & Smith's Good News.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

Rub your lamp-chimneys after washing with dry salt, and you will be surprised at the new brilliance of your lights.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

For sick headache, dizziness or swimming in the head, pain in the back, body or rheumatism, take Beecham's Pills.

Arrested

—the progress of Consumption, in all its earlier stages, it can be cured. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood taint—and, as in every other form of scrofula, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. But it must be taken in time—and now is the time to take it.

It purifies the blood—that's the secret. Nothing else acts like it. It's the most potent strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, and all lingering Coughs, it's a remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure.

If it doesn't, the money is returned.

In other words, it's sold on trial.

No other medicine of its kind is. And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."

The dealer is thinking of his profit, not of yours, when he urges something else.

Bed WETTING CURED. No other Cure KNOWN. What we Send for $1. usually is enough. SEND $1.00 to us. IF IT HAS NEVER FAILED. Palen Chemical Works, Minneapolis, Minn.

Routs Rheumatism.

MR. CHARLES LAWRENCE, of Ashland, Neb., says that Swift's Specific cured him of SEVERE RHEUMATISM of which he had suffered for over six months, with vain efforts to get relief. He recommends it to all sufferers from Rheumatism.

After suffering untold agonies three years from Rheumatism, having had much treatment without relief, I decided to take Swift's Specific. Eight bottles and I wish other sufferers to know of the value of your great remedy for Rheumatism.—JOHN MCDONALD, McDonald's Mills, Ga.

—CURED ME ENTIRELY—

Send for free Treatise on the Blood and Skin.

SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM & MULLEIN CURES COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES

Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

W.L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN,

Is a fine Calf Shoe, made seamless, of the best leather produced in this country. There are no tacks or wax threads to hurt the feet, and is made as smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. It is as stylish, easy fitting and durable as custom-made shoes costing from $4.00 to $5.00.

This shoe has been on sale through out the United States over eight years, and has given excellent satisfaction, as the increasing sales show We are now selling more shoes of this grade than any other manufacturer in the world Try a pair—you cannot make a mistake. One trial will convince you that it is the Best Shoe in the World for the Price.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES.

W. L. DOUGLAS FINE CALF HAND-SEWED $4.00 and $5.00 SHOES for Gentlemen are very stylish and durable. Those who buy this grade get a bargain, as shoes of this quality are sold every day from $6.00 to $9.00.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE CALF SHOE is made with three heavy soles, Extension Edges; it gives excellent satisfaction to those who want to keep their feet dry and warm. If you want to walk with ease, buy this shoe. One pair will do for a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 and $2.25 SHOES are excellent shoes for every day Workingmen all wear them.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.00, $1.50 and $2.00 SHOES for Ladies are made of the best Dongola. They are very stylish, durable and splendid fitting. They meet the wants of all classes. Every lady who buys a pair of these shoes gets a bargain.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.00 and $1.75 SCHOOL SHOES are worn by the boys everywhere. They are made strong, stylish and durable.

CAUTION.

W. L. DOUGLAS' NAME AND THE PRICE is stamped on the bottom of each shoe. Look for it.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

It is a duty you owe to yourself and your family during these hard times to get the most value for your money You can economize in your foot-wear if you purchase W. L. Douglas Shoes, which, without question, represent a greater value for the money than any other make in the world, as thousands who have worn them will testify.

CHILTON COUNTY

...the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. Splendid industries are forming and new mills... Population 18,000. Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 33 miles south of Birmingham and 50 north of Montgomery. Several large new mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1898. NUMBER 19.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING

...Solicitors and Editors of Reports, and notes.

Obituaries, resolutions of respect, candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

Engaged.

The little bond that links your fate to mine
Seems slight and fragile; do you think 'twill hold,
And bear the changes of the coming time,
When life is dark and all is bleak and cold?
And do you think that, purified by pain,
We can take up our lives and love again?

Or when, like the inconstant skies of spring,
Our lives are clouded as her sunny air,
And we know pain that summer could not bring,
Will you not find it all too hard to bear?
And when these storms and weary hours have tried us,
Can we live on and let no power divide us?

Then if this little chain, so frail and weak
It trembles when our lives are fair and bright,
Could find a voice and each small link could speak,
Would it not say 'twas frightened of the night?
If it must break, and we must humbly bow,
In pity for my weakness, break it now.

But if you think it can bear the weight
Of fiery trials as they come and go,
We can take heart and boldly meet the fate
That gives impartially of joy and woe;
And be it summer fair or wintry weather,
We can be brave, and meet all, love, together.

—[Eva MacDonagh.

AN OPENED LETTER.

"I'll never see him again as long as I live, the despicable fellow!"

It was with these vehement words that pretty Rose Williamson crushed and tore into bits a letter she had just received at the hands of one of those nineteenth century leaden-footed Mercuries known as A. D. T. messenger boys. To emphasize her anger Miss Rose stamped on the unoffending bits of paper as if each one were the object of her wrath.

For Rose Williamson was angry—there could be no doubt of that. In truth, she was so out of temper that the hot, angry tears coursed down her fair cheeks like the brooklets down the mountain sides that the poets like to write about.

Not that she really meant the terrible things she said about her affianced—though undoubtedly she thought she did. Miss Rose was one of those impulsive, hasty creatures, who make many utterances for which they are soon afterwards very sorry. But just at that moment it would have been very hard to convince the young lady that her love for Mr. Henry Winterheath was not crushed, and crushed forever, by this missive she had just received.

And really it was very exasperating. She had been planning so long for it, this two days' yachting cruise around Lake Minnetonka. The Langleys had invited her and her affianced to become members of the party to celebrate the launching of their new yacht and the subsequent trip around the lake, that was to occupy forty-eight happy hours.

Rose had never enjoyed anything like this before and it was only after the most urgent, apparently unanswerable arguments that she was able to convince her parents that it was safe for her to make the excursion. But they had finally given their consent and Rose had made every preparation for the great event, even to the ordering of a new yachting costume, which had arrived only a few moments before the letter which had been so ignominiously treated.

So piece together the fragments scattered upon the floor and read their contents:

DEAR ROSE—I know you will be bitterly disappointed by what I have to say, but the truth is, I have just received a telegram to come up to Winnipeg on a matter connected with that Rawson lawsuit I told you of last night. It was a very sudden but urgent call and I do not see how I can neglect it, because, as I explained to you, I think if I win this suit it will prove the turning point in my career as a lawyer. The case comes up tomorrow and I shall have to leave at once, having barely time to catch my train. I know you will forgive me for the disappointment I have caused you. In haste, but affectionately. HARRY.

But Miss Rose did not forgive so easily, although in her calmer moments she would readily have seen the justice of Harry's course. But at this particular instant she was too completely out of temper to reason or to be reasoned with.

"I'll go anyway," thought this exasperated young woman. "I'll show Harry Winterheath that I am not dependent upon him for my entertainment, and that he cannot, by a few words scribbled on white paper, break an engagement he had made a month ago."

Rose Williamson was not fully convinced, as before intimated, that there dwelt at that moment in her soul a consuming, withering hate, which had destroyed the last vestige of her affection for Harry Winterheath. So strong was this feeling that this hasty, impulsive maiden sat down and wrote a letter to her lover in which she formally announced that "all was over" between them.

The trivial circumstance that she had no postage stamps at hand stayed the blighting course of the letter, and it was tossed upon her escritoire to await mailing on her return, and then Rose hastened over to the Langleys and with them went to the beach.

* * * * *

"Where is Harry, Rose?" asked Florence Bently, one of the party, after the splendid new yacht had been fairly launched and was dancing its way across the beautiful green waves.

"Mr. Winterheath was suddenly called to Winnipeg on important law business and could not come," said Rose, with dignity. She was very calm, but within a storm was raging. She marked the tone of half spite in Miss Bently's voice and the malicious twinkle in that young lady's eyes as the query was put, and she grew angrier then ever at the poor young lawyer.

She became more determined to make him suffer for having so cruelly disappointed her. Then she took to a desperate flirtation with young Mather who had been one of her most devoted admirers before she had accepted his rival, Winterheath, but who since that event had mournfully contemplated the happiness of the affianced pair at a respectful distance.

Mr. Mather was not a gentleman of acute perception, and it puzzled him, did this sudden bestowal of flattering attention upon him. He came to the conclusion that Miss Williamson had discovered in him some new charms and fascinations which she had before overlooked. And Mather was immensely pleased. It never occurred to him to connect with this sudden accession of attention the fact of Mr. Winterheath's absence. Not at all.

* * * * *

Every one—at least every fashionable frequenter of the Minnetonka resorts—remembers the terrible storm that swept the lake on that ever-memorable afternoon of August 7, 188—, when the placid water under the influence of a tempest of cyclone force and fury was lashed into billows almost mountain high, and when so many pleasure craft were swamped before they could reach the shore. It came up almost in an instant. No one had noticed the gathering of the black clouds that now all but covered the sky.

The breeze, too, had shifted into a hard northwester before any one had anticipated the change. Then the tempest set in; the yachting party, gay and light-hearted a few moments before, became panic-stricken. Snap! The mast was torn from its socket and the same cyclone force wrenched and disabled the rudder. The yacht pitched and tossed as helpless as a cockle-shell.

A moment later it capsized. Rose remembered little after her plunge in the angry, seething water. She was faintly conscious that Mather—poor, young fellow—was trying to hold her up. But presently she succumbed to the sensation of exhaustion, gave up the struggle and felt that she was dying.

* * * * *

It was a bright, sunny afternoon when Rose opened her eyes. It seemed to her that she had been through some terrible dream. As she saw the anxious faces of her father and mother bending over her she remembered.

"How did I come here? Who saved me?" she asked.

And then her gaze fell upon a stalwart form, which up to this had modestly kept in the dim background.

"You, Harry?" she murmured, guessing the truth. "Tell me."

"Not now, dear," he replied. "Some other time; you are not strong enough now. But here I find on your escritoire a letter addressed to me. May I open it?"

"Not now, my dear," Rose replied, in roguish mockery. "Some other time."

When she grew better, of course, Rose learned the whole story—how Harry, receiving a telegram notifying him that the legal battle in which he was to participate had been postponed, had hurried out to the beach just as the storm broke out. The Langley yacht was within 500 yards of the shore, and with the aid of a spy-glass its peril was easily discernible.

To press into service a steam launch, to man it with a few brave spirits who were within call, and to ride through the tossing waters to the sinking craft—all this was the work of a very short time. "It was a rather close call," said Harry, in closing his modest narrative, "but we saved you all. And perhaps it was just as well that I broke that engagement," he added, rather mischievously. "And now for your forgiveness and your permission to open that letter that was never delivered."

"I'll grant the first, but not the last," Rose replied, with a blush, "though some day I shall probably tell you all about it."

But it was some weeks after the wedding before Mr. Harry Winterheath knew what a narrow escape from figuring, for a few hours at least, as a rejected lover had been his.—[New York World.

Caves in Corsica.

Travelers and scientists are greatly interested in the recent discovery of wonderful caves on the Island of Corsica. A miner who undertook to explore them a few weeks ago found it impossible to do so. He discovered various small caves, close together, which led to a mammoth cave some distance from the original openings. The roof of the mammoth cave was between 60 and 70 feet high. After traveling underground for some time he came upon an immense lake, which made further progress impossible. According to his estimates, the lake is situated under the mountain chain La Revellata, near Calva, and gets its water from the ocean. In support of his theory a small grotto was discovered on Cape Revellata, on a level with the sea, which is believed to be connected with the caves. The length of the caves along the coast is estimated at 30 miles. A society of savants has been formed to explore the place thoroughly.—[New York Witness.

Over a Back Fence.

Neighbor Woman—Your dog was chasin' our chickens this mornin', an' I jest want you to understand that's got to stop right now.

Mrs. Mild—I did not see the dog out of our yard.

Neighbor Woman—He wasn't. The chickens was in your yard.—[Good News.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—In the house, Monday, Mr. Catchings, from the committee on rules, reported a resolution providing that on Tuesday, March 22d, immediately after the morning hour, the house shall proceed to the consideration of the silver bill, and should said bill be not sooner disposed of, the house shall continue consideration thereof during Wednesday, the 23d, and Thursday, the 24th. The resolution was ordered printed, and Mr. Catchings gave notice that he would ask the house to consider it on Monday next. Mr. McMillin, from the rules committee, reported a resolution providing that at 5 o'clock on Fridays the house shall take a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of bills granting private pensions, removing political disabilities and removing the charge of desertion. This amendment to the rules is brought in to overcome the difficulty encountered last Friday, when it was contended that should the house adjourn before 5 o'clock it would have to convene as a new day's session preceded by reading the journal and prayer by the chaplain at that hour. The resolution was adopted.

TUESDAY.—In the house, Tuesday, Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, of the committee on appropriations, reported the District of Columbia appropriation bill. Referred to the committee of the whole. The house then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill. The pending amendment to strike out the clause appropriating $1,000 for an annual allowance to Captain Pratt, of the Carlisle Indian school, was passed over for the present. This was done at the request of Beltzhoover, of Pennsylvania, who said that he was satisfied that Captain Pratt had never uttered the charges that were attributed to him.

WEDNESDAY.—In the house, Wednesday, Mr. O'Neill, of Missouri, from the committee on inter-state and foreign commerce, reported the senate bill fixing the compensation of keepers and crews of life-saving stations. Committee of the whole. The senate bill fixing the salary of keepers at $900 per annum, and crew at $65 per month. The house committee, on motion of Mr. O'Neill, has been amended so as to make keepers' salary $1,000 and that of crew $75 per month. The house then went into committee as a whole, Richardson, of Tennessee, in the chair. On the District of Columbia appropriation bill Dockery, of Missouri, in charge of the measure, made a brief explanation as to the reductions of the appropriations proposed.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The senate was entertained Monday by a bill introduced by Leland Stanford, to make 25.8 grains the uniform standard by which shall be determined the value of a dollar. Mr. Voorhees delivered a speech in favor of free coinage, after which the senate spent the day in consideration of the Idaho contested election case.

TUESDAY.—The senate finance committee Tuesday directed a favorable report to be made on the house bill for better control of and to promote the safety of national banks. The house committee on foreign and inter-state commerce ordered a favorable report to be made on the bill to increase the pay of the men of the life saving service. The senate bills introduced by Messrs. George, Harris and Vance to repeal the internal revenue tax on the circulation of state bank notes (and with like titles), were reported back adversely from the committee on finance and placed on the calendar. The amendment to the post-office appropriation bill appropriating $200,000 for the distribution of mails in the rural districts, reported from the postoffice committee and referred to the committee on appropriations. The senate then resumed consideration of the Idaho contested election case.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, the Idaho election case was taken up and Mr. George stated the reasons which would control his own action in seating his vote for the contestant. The question, he said, was a very interesting one, and its decision was of great moment, not only to the state of Idaho, but to the whole country. There was no room in the case for personal prejudices or for considerations of party advantages either now or in the future. The senator's solemn duty and its sworn obligation was to consider the question impartially, without being swayed by any considerations whatever, except a desire to do right. The action of this senate should be purely judicial. It was the business of the senate, on this question, not to make law, but to ascertain the law and facts, and to decide in accordance with them.

NOTES.

The state department, on Tuesday, received a list of the verified claims of sailors of the Baltimore, against the Chilian government for injuries alleged to have been received during the riots in Valparaiso, amounting to $2,065,000.

Telegrams of Sunday report that Senator Cameron is confined to his room with a severe cold. Representative Springer is also confined to his house, suffering from a severe attack of grip, aggravated by erysipelas and derangement of the nervous system.

TRADE NOTES.

Nominally Encouraging Though Considerable Dullness Prevails.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the week ended Feb. 27, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., number for United States, 286; Canada, 84; total, 270; against 299 previous week.

The state of domestic trade has not changed. The continuing dullness is perhaps more generally felt. At Philadelphia money is easy, though trade is much depressed by southern sales. Hardware is dull in the city. At New Orleans, general business is dull, although sugar is strong and active. Rice is in fair demand, but cotton is dull and low. At Savannah, also, the low price of cotton is depressing and money is in active demand.

Speculation in breadstuffs has been much less active since gold began to go abroad, and wheat has declined 4 cents during the past week, the Atlantic exports being small. The receipts at the west were over 2,000,000 bushels in three days. Corn has risen ¼ of a cent and oats ¼ cent, while scarcely any change appears in pork products. Oil is 1½ cents lower, and coffee ½ stronger, with small transactions in both; but cotton declined 1-16, with sales of 468,000 bales, and the receipts will exceed those of the same week last year, while the exports have fallen off during the past week. The only great branch of manufacture which makes discouraging reports at present is the iron and steel industry, and the difficulty is, there is no shrinkage in the consumption, but an enormous increase in the production.

In cotton there is a larger consumption than has ever been known. This is sustained by the demand being so active that advances in some qualities are occasionally reported in spite of the cheapness of the material.

Money continues in abundant supply at 1½ per cent on call at New York, with no pressure at any interior market, but the large shipments of gold, said to be for Russia, led to the belief that money must be dearer soon.

LUMBERMEN IN SESSION.

They Protest Against the Removal of Duty on Lumber.

The lumbermen's convention held in Washington Wednesday, by unanimous vote, adopted the report of the committee on resolutions. It is addressed to the house of representatives, and after showing that the convention represents the interests of the lumber manufacturers and wholesale lumber dealers of the United States, states that the convention was called to consider the bill introduced by Mr. Bynum, of Nebraska, placing lumber on the free list.

The following resolution was adopted: "That we respectfully and earnestly protest against the removal of the present duty on lumber."

A committee to formulate a plan of organization was finally appointed with instructions to report to a subsequent meeting.

The following officers were elected: President, O. W. Goodyear, of New York; vice presidents, H. M. Loud, of Michigan; W. B. Dickerson, Alabama; H. G. Fitzgerald, Vermont; George W. Lisson, New York; F. Weerhauser, Illinois; J. B. White, Missouri; A. J. Niemyer, Arkansas; C. C. Mengel, Jr., Kentucky; Henry Lutcher, Tennessee; P. D. Norton, Washington; M. F. Amoroux, Georgia, and B. F. Nelson, Minnesota.

A MONETARY CONFERENCE

Will Likely Be Arranged Between United States, England and Germany.

A New York dispatch of Friday says: It is understood that Great Britain will positively join the United States, Germany and France in calling an international bi-metallic conference on the condition that British representatives will not pledge their government in advance to abide by decision of the conference. The fact that England has expressed her willingness to join in the conference removed the suspicion of silver or anything even with a semblance of double standard in it, and now expected to formulate plans of grand importance.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

A dispatch of Saturday says: Fourteen persons lost their lives by the sinking of the steamer, Forest Queen, run down by the steamer, Loughbrow, off Flamborough, England.

A dispatch of Monday says: Thirteen new cases of typhus fever have developed in New York City within the last twenty-four hours. All the patients will be removed to the Riverside hospital.

Information was received at Chicago Tuesday to the effect that Geo. J. Gibson, ex-secretary of the whisky trust, was arrested at Peoria under an indictment found against the officers of the trust at Boston.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Cincinnati says: Orders have been received from the east to the United States Express company's office in Chicago to open a fight on the brotherhood by discharging several messengers.

A cable dispatch of Saturday to the New York Herald from Rio Janeiro says there is the greatest uneasiness throughout the republic. It is reported not less than 2,500 men are under arms who are opposed to the government.

A Washington dispatch of Sunday says: Proceedings in congress during the present week promise to be of more than usual interest, for it is expected that two leading issues of the day, silver and the tariff, will figure in one or both houses.

A destructive conflagration visited Hot Springs, Monday. Fifteen business houses in the southern part of the city, including the new syndicate's stone block, in which the postoffice was located, burned. Total loss, $75,000; insurance, $30,000.

A dispatch from Albany, N. Y., says: Fire broke out among some oil barrels in the storehouse of Mather Bros., wholesale grocers on Broadway and Dean streets, about 9.30 o'clock Monday night, and by midnight destroyed about a quarter of a million dollars' worth of property.

One of the most violent windstorms, accompanied by rain, snow and hail, for several years, passed over Reading, Pa., Monday night, lasting two hours. The wind blew a perfect hurricane and damage was done all over the city and surrounding country.

A cablegram of Wednesday says: It is stated in insurance circles at London that Mr. Ross, claim settler of the National Marine Insurance Company, has been appointed British arbiter in the dispute between Great Britain and the United States regarding Behring sea.

A St. Louis dispatch of Saturday says: The executive committee of the national committee of the people's party, composed of seven members, will meet at Omaha on May 11th for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the holding of a national convention of that party on July 4th.

A cablegram of Monday states that Minister Reid and M. Roche, the French minister of commerce have concluded an agreement for a commercial treaty between the United States and France, and M. Roche will introduce a bill in the chambers of deputies to ratify the agreement.

A Washington dispatch says: In the case of the Church of the Holy Trinity of New York to the question of its right to import a rector, Rev. Mr. Warren, the United States supreme court on Monday reversed the action of the lower court, and decided in favor of the church and Mr. Warren.

A dispatch from Little Rock says: Ex-Governor Conway was accidentally burned to death in his own residence Sunday morning. It is supposed he was asleep at the time. He was very old and feeble. He was quite eccentric and lived alone, not allowing any one else to sleep on the premises.

A New York dispatch of Saturday says: The total visible supply of cotton for the whole world is 4,730,673 bales, of which 648,673 are American, against 2,813,317 and 2,673,234 respectively last year. Receipts of all interior towns 68,893, receipts from plantations 116,652; crop in sight 7,853,238.

The Manufacturers' Record published at Baltimore, was sold Monday by R. H. and William E. Edmonds to Walter H. Page, editor of The Forum magazine, of New York; H. H. Sharpless, of Philadelphia, and Thomas Gresty, who has been for three years chief engineer and superintendent of The Manufacturers' Record.

BLAINE ANSWERED.

His Grandchild's Mother Has Her Say in the Divorce Matter.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Sioux Falls, S. D., says: Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., has furnished the Associated Press an open letter in reply to the "Personal Statement" made by James G. Blaine, Sr., through the same channel last Sunday, regarding the relations between Blaine, Jr., and his wife, who was recently granted a divorce. The letter by Mrs. Blaine, Jr., among other things contains the following:

"You have furnished the public with a remarkable production under the caption of "A Personal Statement." I consider it my duty at this time to address you with that degree of dignity which your position as a public man entitles you to. I acknowledge your well earned, richly deserved fame as a diplomat and appreciate fully the weight which your utterances possess as fully as I appreciate my own weakness and my total inability to cope with you in a personal encounter, but I shall expect from you that consideration and honorable treatment which I am sure your keen sense of equity and fairness will dictate.

A powerful man of a great nation will surely accord to a weak, defenseless woman her full meed of justice. You surely can ill afford to withhold it. I wish it distinctly understood by you that I am not asking sympathy. I respectfully demand justice. It is in your power to grant this simple request. It is to be seen if you will do it. I will aid you by suggestion:

Have the kindness to publish, in connection with your statement, the full text of the letters you have quoted from, and do not, like a shrewd and unprincipled person, select only such pages as may be needed to make out a case, but give the entire contents to the public, that they may be judged rightly. * * * You know full well that your charges against me regarding the marriage are unfounded. I give you ample opportunity to retract. You have two alternatives—the one suggested or silence. * * * I take it that your sentiment was prompted chiefly by the remarks of Judge Thomas in rendering his decision which gave me my freedom. I have no defense to offer in his behalf, I simply desire, now that you have arraigned me by the use of fragmentary quotations from my love letters to your son, that you be fair enough to publish the originals in full. I will then prove to the world that your son was far from a weakling, and that you, his proud father, well knew it long before he married me."

A LIBERAL GIFT

For Colored Education in the South by Mr. John D. Rockefeller.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil president, has made another princely gift in the interests of colored education in the south. This time it is for a school for practical training, and the amount donated for that purpose is $40,000. The building is to be located in Atlanta, and will be begun this spring. Six years ago Mr. Rockefeller was in Atlanta. While there he devoted considerable time at Spelman seminary, which was erected partly through the financial aid he lent those at the head of the institution. The large open campus on which that school is situated affords a splendid location, and ample territory for any additional buildings of the kind. Mr. Rockefeller has of late been desirous of seeing another seminary there, and with his accustomed modesty quietly expressed his wishes to the trustees of Spelman some time ago, and stated his willingness to furnish the means.

WORKS TO CLOSE

If the Miners of England Go Out on a Strike.

A London cablegram of Wednesday says: The threatened extensive strike of coal miners is having a powerful effect thus far in advance of the event. The price of coal in the Sheffield district has risen three shillings per ton, and in Dublin the increase is four shillings per ton.

At Sheffield the rolling mills and forgers' and cutlers' associations announce that the works will be closed during the miners' strike. This decision affects thousands of cutlers, grinders and forgers. All employes of engineering works, iron founders and wagon building works connected with Lord Durham's and Lord Londerry's collieries have given notice that these works will also be closed. Seven thousand railway employes connected with coal mines will also be thrown out of work.

CHRISTIANIZED CHINAMEN.

Five Followers of Confucius Baptized in Southern ... City.

Five Chinamen ... Sunday ... Church ... Tuesday ...

CHILTON VIEW.

Published Every Thursday Morning.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 10, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months . . . 75
One copy four months . . . 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

R. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. G. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILL H. SARTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. Very respectfully,

G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

B. M. GENTRY.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.

E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce G. A. NORTHINGTON, as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election. J. W. MOORE.

Elmore county voted in favor of the primary election plan of nominating candidates. It is said that this plan will insure the selection of a Kolb delegation to the State Convention from that county.

Capt. Jno. Burns claims that the Dallas county delegation to the Congressional convention are his personal friends with the exception of two. The prorate will give him a large part of the delegation.

Mr. Kolb made a very novel point during the Tuskaloosa campaign. He said "the people were for him but the people were in the minority." Possibly in his opinion the majority are but quadrupeds, and possibly if the noble bipeds had more legs their race might be stronger.

Will Mr. Kolb be one of the speakers at the appointments published in another column? If so, the Verbena Jones club had better hustle in the matter of making appointments for the Governor. Mr. Kolb's speeches may be all twaddle, but if so, it is of a dangerous vote-making variety.

Gov. Jones will sue the Alliance Herald for damages. One would judge from the Herald's pleas to delinquent subscribers that the paper is in a bad fix financially; and defending a damage suit will make a big drain upon the barrel of money which has been contributed by the poor farmers of Alabama to the support of the Herald.

The Age-Herald thinks Judge J. R. Dowdell, of the Fifth Circuit, will take off the Supreme Court pluro. We do not know upon what our contemporary bases its prediction, but there is little doubt that the selection would be a good one and give general satisfaction throughout the State. We have never heard of intimation from the Governor as to his purpose in the matter.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Hon. H. J. Gillam.

THE VIEW takes pleasure in presenting the name of this gentleman to the people of this portion of the Northeastern Chancery Division for the position of Chancellor.

Mr. Gillam is a native of Tallapoosa county, and is just forty years of age. He concluded his education at the University of Alabama, where he attained the position of senior captain of the cadet corps. He is an earnest member of the Methodist Church, and one who cherishes a hearty fellowship with all Christian people. Major Gillam has been engaged in the practice of law for about fifteen years, and he has all the business that he can attend to, and it is of the best class afforded in his locality. In fact, he has conducted the most important litigation in the courts of his county for the past five years, during which time he has also filled the office of Mayor of Dadeville, having been elected to that position six terms in succession, and which position he still holds.

Major Gillam has resided in the counties of Lee, Chambers, Coosa, Elmore and Tallapoosa. From these and other counties he has much encouragement from prominent friends in his aspirations.

He is in every way fit and capable and deserving of the promotion, and his friends are actively and successfully pressing him to the front. They ask for a consideration of his claims by the voters of Chilton, a neighboring county.

Dallas Will Prorate.

The Selma Journal, a Jones paper, has this to say concerning the delegation to the State convention from Dallas county:

How many times will the Journal have to state that Mr. Kolb will get his prorate share of the votes in the State convention from Dallas county as indicated by the direct vote on last Tuesday, before the papers over the State will cease harping that he will not.

Elsewhere will be found a clipping from the Montgomery Journal which insinuates that it depends on policy whether he will get his share of the vote. From the Age-Herald will be found a special from Montgomery of an interview with a Dallas county politician, who said that if Jones needed all twenty-six, Kolb wouldn't get any.

Now this sort of talk is vilest nonsense. Kolb will get every vote he is entitled to, policy or no policy, needs or no needs. The majority voted for the solid Jones delegation, so that Jones would have twenty-six votes from Dallas in the organization of the convention.

Kolb will get his share undoubtedly.

The prorate the Journal says will also extend to the Congressional candidates.

David B. Hill.

Since this so called statesman is looming up as a presidential possibility it is quite proper to consider what sort of a man and statesman he is that would justify such an exalted ambition on his part or the advocacy by responsible newspapers of his aspirations. We clip from the New York Evening Post of the 6th inst., the following:

"Two responsible citizens of Elmira have stated to a representative of the Evening Post that they have seen Hill hand money to voters. The statement of one of these men, a merchant who has lived in the Third Ward for thirty years was as follows:

"I personally saw Hill hand an envelop to an old man who had the palsy. The man was unable to open it and handed it to one of my clerks. I saw the clerk open it and take out a two dollar bill and hand it to the old man."

Both of these old men are willing to attest to the facts should Hill ever deny he has personally purchased votes. For years Hill openly and boldly bought votes, and scores of lawyers and business men in Elmira will attest to the fact."

Dallas county will send a solid delegation (26 votes) to the Congressional Convention of this district for Gaston A. Robbins. If she gets the five votes of our county to help her candidate Mr. Robbins will go into the convention with 31 delegates—which will a be majority of four over the combined vote of all the other counties in the district. The other counties of the district have the following vote: Calhoun 8, Talladega 8, Cleburne 3, and Shelby 7, making a total of twenty-six. So that three votes of Chilton would secure the nomination to Mr. Robbins under the majority rule. It is not improbable that Chilton will help her big neighbor to nominate Mr. Robbins. Co-operation with Dallas may be worth a good deal to Chilton in the future, and besides of the district sends such a man as Mr. Robbins to Congress, we will be represented fitly and prominently and well.

APPEALS TO THE LAW.

Governor Jones Sues the Alliance Herald for Libel.

Three Causes of Action Cited.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., March 4.—Yesterday Governor Jones, by his attorneys, Messrs. Brickell, Semple and Gunter and J. M. Falkner, commenced three actions for libel, claiming damages in each against Frank Batzell, editor of the Alliance Herald and his paper.

All these suits grew out of publications in the Alliance Herald, in its issue of March the 3rd, which repeats some former statements made in its issue of February 27th.

The first suit is based on the statement that the Governor made a recommendation regarding some bonds of the S. & N. A. railroad, which were invalid, and if his recommendation had been followed, it would have cost the State $300,000 and the insinuation in the article that his recommendation was made in the interest of a former client.

The second suit is based on the statements of The Alliance Herald as to the facts, and the motive it imputed to the Governor, in pardoning Nathan Young. It was charged in the publication that the real motive was to accommodate an influential citizen who needed Nathan to work on his farm, and that the Judge and Solicitor refused to recommend the pardon, etc., and that it was an outrage on justice.

The third suit grew out of the statement relative to Wiley Webb, and the statements of the Alliance Herald that the Governor had "shielded" the criminal in the measures he had taken to prevent an attack upon the jail during the late excitement, and had engaged in denunciation of honest mechanics, etc.

It is alleged in each case that the publications are false and defamatory, intended to injure the plaintiff, and create false impressions in the minds of the people that in the discharge of the duties of the office of Governor, he has acted negligently or from improper motives, and against the interest of the people, etc.

The suits are for $10,000 each.

Governor Jones' card to be printed to-morrow, is as follows:

MONTGOMERY, ALA., March 3.—Editor Alliance-Herald: There is no earthly excuse for your statements or comments upon my motives regarding the pardon of Nathan Young, who has been convicted in Elmore county of the larceny of two shoats. His guilt or innocence turned upon the identity of the shoats, about which truthful and unimpeachable witnesses differed and there were grave doubts whether he intended any wrong. You say it is understood that the judge and solicitor refused to recommend the pardon. This is an easy way to avoid authorship and at the same time give currency to an untruth. If you had desired to do me no injustice, a letter or inquiry at my office would have given you the truth. The negro was pardoned on the recommendation of Hon. J. R. Dowdell, the presiding judge, a copy of whose letter is enclosed. The solicitor not only did not refuse to recommend the pardon but stated personally that he thought the case a proper one for executive clemency. There were other recommendations of like effect from estimable citizens of the county, but the above suffices to show how reckless you are in making statements concerning me. "THOMAS G. JONES."

LAFAYETTE, ALA., Jan. 1, 1892.—Governor Thomas G. Jones, Montgomery, Ala: My dear Governor—Major Semple writes me that he will make application for the pardon of one, Nathan Young, convicted of grand larceny at the last Elmore court, and desires me to write you. I think it is a proper case for executive clemency. There was so much ground for reasonable doubt that I fully expected the jury to acquit. The negro may be guilty, but there is so much doubt in my mind that I would like to see him pardoned. Yours truly,

"J. R. DOWDELL."

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 4.—In the libel suits claiming $10,000 in each, instituted in the Circuit Court here yesterday by Gov. Thos. G. Jones, of this State, against Frank Baltzell, editor of the Alliance Herald, published here, the farmers Alliance Exchange of Alabama, a corporation created by an act of the State Legislature in 1889, was made party defendant to-day. The exchange was incorporated with a capital of $100,000. The institution of the suits has created a genuine sensation all over the State.

Democrats, stop your nonsense (as Sam Jones says) and get down to honest faithful work for the true principles of our party, and help keep the organization pure and intact.

How to Word an Advertisement.

A man was denouncing newspaper advertising to a crowd of listeners.

"Last week," said he, "I had an umbrella stolen from the vestibule of the church. It was a gift, and valuing it highly I spent double its worth in advertising, but I did not recover it."

"How did you word the advertisement?" asked a merchant.

"Here it is," said the man, producing a slip cut from a newspaper.

The merchant took it and read:

"Lost, from the vestibule of the ——church, last Sunday evening, a black umbrella. The gentleman who took it will be handsomely rewarded by leaving it at No. — High street."

"Now," said the merchant, "I am a liberal advertiser and have always found it paid me well. A great deal depends in the manner in which the advertisement is put. Let us try your umbrella again, and if you do not acknowledge that advertising pays I will purchase you a new one."

The merchant took a slip of paper from his pocket and wrote:

"If the man who was seen to take the umbrella from the vestibule of the —— church last Sunday does not wish to get into trouble and have a stain cast upon the Christian character which he values so highly, he will return it at once to No. — High street."

This duly appeared in the paper, and the following morning the man was astonished when he opened the front door of his residence. On the porch lay at least a dozen umbrellas of all shades and sizes that had been thrown in, while the front yard was literally paved with umbrellas. Many of them had notes attatched to them saying that they had been taken by mistake and begging the loser to keep the little affair quiet.—Parksburg (Pa.) Times.

Hon. Harry J. Gillam.

Tallapoosa Voice.

Some time ago, believing that Hon. H. J. Gillam of our county, to be eminently qualified for judicial honors, we took occasion upon our own responsibility to commend him as available material for Circuit Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, but it seems that he has consented to stand for chancellor of this the North Eastern Division. He has been a citizen of this place for a number of years, in fact is a native Tallapoosian, and being a sound democrat, standing as he does among the foremost young lawyers of the State, and being well equipped for this honorable position, it occurs to our mind that our county would honor herself by honoring him. Hence we we are for him. Tallapoosa has a large democratic vote and this vote should be cast solidly for him, as our county candidate. There is no excuse for dividing our strength with outside candidates. Let us cast our vote solidly for him, and his election is almost assured. We insist that Tallapoosa stand square toed to her interest and send up a solid delegation for him and all will be well.

Alas, the Wickedness!

A young married lady of North Main street saw a book with the suspicious title "Unveiled" lying on a news stand, and on the assurance of a friend that it was an improper book she promptly bought it. Imagine her disappointed surprise when she reached home, cut the leaves, and settled herself in an easy chair for a real feast, to find that it was a treatise by some New York doctor on the proper treatment of bronchitis and whooping cough.—Springfield Homestead.

The following advertisement appeared in the "New York Gazette" of Sept. 4, 1782:

"Just arrived from Great Britain, and are to be Sold on board the Ship and Elizabeth, Capt. Paine Commander, several likely Welch and English Servant Men, most of them tradesmen. Whoever inclines to purchase them may agree with said Commander, or Mr. Thomas Noble, Merchant, at Hazard's in New York: where also may be sold several Negro Girles and a Negro Boy, and likewise good Cheshire cheese."

Eli Perkins is reported to be the greatest prevaricator in the country but he has a sound idea once in a while. This is the solution of the cotton problem he gives the Age-Herald, while enroute to Tuskaloosa "Why my boy," said Eli, "with wheat dropping down into Tennessee, Northern Alabama, North Carolina, and all Northern Texas, and rice and sugar creeping up from the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, you will reduce your cotton crop to seven million bales and your farmer will be on top like our farmer.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

LADIES

Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

How Try This.

It will cost you nothing, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

JOEL WHITE,

BOOKS AND STATIONERY,

DEXTER AVENUE,

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH

The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,

Montgomery, Alabama.

Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.

Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.

W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT

FOR MAN OR BEAST

SAFE SURE

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks

Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed

C. L. RUTH,

(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,

——MONTGOMERY, ALA.——

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circular.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.

DRY GOODS

—AND—

CARPETS.

NEWEST THINGS IN

DRESS GOODS

ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.

LARGEST

CARPET DEPARTMENT

In the City. All Grades of

CARPETS.

Mattings, Office Mattings,

Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,

9 DEXTER AVE.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

GO TO BLANK BROS, LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 10, 1892.

SOUTHERN R. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	3:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:05 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:24 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	4:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

County court convened here Monday.

A bear in town Saturday afforded the boys great amusement.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson visited relatives at Verbena the past week.

Dr. H. W. Caffey, of Verbena, visited Clanton professionally Tuesday.

A nice lot of new job printing stationery just received at this office.

Mr. H. A. Logan had two negro women arrested Saturday for petit larceny.

Several small cottages are being built in the western suburbs of Clanton.

A fourteen months old child of Mr. John Cook died near Duke's mill recently.

Mrs. Dr. Patton returned to Montgomery Saturday accompanied by Mrs. Zella Givhan.

Mr. Frank Bandy, grandson of Mr. J. P. Allen, was in town last week on business.

Miss Annie Stamp, of Elmore county, is visiting Mrs. Mamie Hall near Clanton.

Miss Clara Gerald who has been visiting relatives here returned home last Thursday.

Mr. H. A. Logan and wife left for Goodwater where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Evans has returned home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Randolph and Anniston.

Mr. [illegible] Abbott has just completed new bridges for the [illegible] creeks near town.

Mrs. Hartwell was called to her home in Lowndesboro last Thursday by the illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Smith, of Prattville, are the guest of Mr. W. H. Merritt and family this week.

Rev. W. J. Elliott, of Montgomery, will preach at the Clanton Baptist Church the third Sunday in this month.

Miss Bertha Smith, of Prattville, arrived here Saturday morning, and is stopping with her cousin, Mrs. T. B. Holly, at Mrs. W. H. Phillips.

News of the death of Mrs. Hartwell's mother at Lowndesboro, reached us Monday. Mrs. Hartwell's friends regret very much to give her up. The death of her mother will cause her removal to Lowndesboro.

Verbena has organized a Jones club of sixty members. If the club will appoint a committee to make and publish appointments for the Governor to address the voters of Chilton county, and induce him to come here and make a canvass, it will be doing the best political work ever undertaken in the county. And there is a fighting chance besides.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

[illegible] a good appetite.
[illegible] your Liver, and Give [illegible] you all run, health good for Sold by druggists. TRY
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
IF YOUR BACK ACHES,

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 50 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

A list of appointments for public speaking in this county appears in this issue. We are not informed as to who the speakers will be.

G. C. Hanks.

Our announcement column contains a card from Mr. G. C. Hanks making known his candidacy for the office of circuit clerk. Mr. H. has done much work of a clerical character and always in a neat and pains-taking manner. He could make a good clerk.

E. G. Rollins.

Mr. Rollins is announced in our columns for re-election to the offices of tax-assessor, a position which he has filled very creditably for one term. He is considered by his friends as a man of unusual excellence in morals, temper and good sense. No opposition to his re-election has yet developed.

Confederate Soldiers.

In order that the wounded, disabled from disease, or old age, or the widows of deceased confederate soldiers may obtain the benefit of an act approved Feb. 13th, 1891, they must file in the office of Probate Judge their application each year for six years before the first day of June in each year.

H. J. CALLEN.
Judge of Probate.

Notice.

An assessment of $1.00 against each of the candidates for the various county offices having been made by the county executive committee to pay for printing the primary election tickets, notice is given that such assessment must be paid to the Secretary of the committee by April 1st. Failure to meet the assessment by that date will cause your name to be omitted from the tickets.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
Chairman.
W. E. STEWART, Sec'y.

[Advertisement.]

J. P. Vanderveer.

MR. EDITOR:—Among the announcements in the VIEW, I notice Mr. J. P. Vanderveer, of Jemison, is a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk. Mr. Vanderveer possesses every qualification to discharge the duties of that position, and is a gentleman of unimpeachable integrity. The writer having known Mr. Vanderveer's family for a number of years can testify as to his having a well trained mind, heart and hand. A better and more business like man could not be elected.

DEMOCRAT.

March 7, 1892.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

ED. VIEW:—Please announce in your paper that there will be public speaking at the following places and dates named:

Macedonia,	March	15th.
Maplesville,	"	16th,
Oakmulgee,	"	17th,
Valley Creek,	"	18th,
Pilgrim's Rest,	"	19th,
Friendship,	"	22nd,
Reform South,	"	23rd,
Evergreen,	"	24th,
Providence,	"	25th,
Cane Creek,	"	26th,
Union,	"	29th,
Mount Zion,	"	30th,
Clanton Alliance,	"	31st,
Providence, beat 2,	April	1st,

By publishing the above you will confer a favor and oblige.

Yours Respectfully,
L. H. Reynolds.
Jemison, Ala., March 5th, '92.

Verbena Views.

Miss Lilla Gulledge has returned from a pleasant visit to friends at Rockford.

Mr. McD. Cain and daughter, of Wetumpka, are visiting the family of Capt. A. J. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Culledge, gave Master Will Gulledge a birthday party on the evening of the 4th. All who attended it had a most enjoyable time.

Dr. B. J. Baldwin, of Montgomery, has been visiting his father, Col. B. J. Baldwin.

Mrs. G. W. Pain, of Anniston, has been visiting her old home here, much to the delight of her many friends.

Farmers, plant less cotton and more corn, don't think other people are going to plant less, and there will be a better price and you will plant more. If we make but a small crop of cotton we will not get much for it because there is so much cotton in the country now from last year's crop. Raise more hogs, and have your smoke houses and corn cribs at home instead of in the far west.

Miss Mamie Green is visiting friends at Fort Deposit.

Miss Mamie Read has returned from a pleasant visit to friends at Evergreen.

A Jones club has been organized here.

There is a woman in Chilton county who has never been in but one store in her life, and has never seen but one railroad train, and she has grown children.

What an Alabama Man Saw at Chicago—The South's Poverty.

"A day or two ago I saw on the bulletin board of the Chicago board of trade that 84,000,000 pounds of meat had been shipped to the south during the previous sixty days."

The speaker was a leading business man of Montgomery, who passed through Birmingham yesterday. For many years he was a large cotton dealer at the state capital, but went out of the business several months ago because cotton was no longer profitable to dealers. It ceased long ago to be profitable to producers.

"Eighty-four million pounds of meat represent an outlay of more than $5,000,000, and this at a time when there is less need for western produce than at any other period of the year, and at a time when there is less money in the south than at any other period for nearly thirty years.

"The farmers complain of the hard times, and the situation for them is unquestionably very grave. They have little of food supplies, and less money; but they have none but themselves to blame. As long as they grow nothing but cotton, and refuse to raise meat and corn, drifting along with a blindness and stubbornness amounting almost to the spirit of fatalism that pervades the ignorant races of the far east, they cannot expect to better their condition. They have the remedy in their own hands; and it is not the sub-treasury scheme, nor any other scheme of politicians and place-seekers. They might as well attempt to force their half-tilled, slip-shod worked fields to grow gold dollars as to look for acts of parliament to relieve them.

"The plea of the farmers is that they can't grow meat, because the negroes steal hogs and cattle. Stuff and nonsense! Suppose the negroes steal a hog now an then, or run off a cow—suppose they take one hog out of five—still the farmers would have something left. Better one hog than no hog at all.

"Take the small farmers in the little valleys between Birmingham and Montgomery for example, and probably there are not three out of a hundred who to-day have on their farms one hog or a bushel of potatoes each. Yet they grumble about hard times and talk about the sub-treasury.

"The world needs about 7,000,000 bales of cotton a year, yet our southern farmers are producing a million bales more than that amount.—Age-Herald.

Stanton Notes.

Politics have been very dull in this part of the county, but are picking up a little. Candidates are beginning to circulate among the people.

Miss Lucy Long was wedded to Mr. J. B. Zimmerman, of Autauga county, this week here. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Ruddick. It was a very quiet affair and took place at the residence of Mrs. H. E. Macon who is a sister of the bride.

Bill Shelton performed a bold train robbery between this station and Maplesville Sunday. While the train was in motion he was seen to jump from a box car with packages of goods. Conductor Findley saw him and stopped the train and followed him, and doubtless would have caught the negro, but for his reaching a thick swamp where he soon got out of sight. Mr. Findley fired at him four times but unfortunately his shots did not take effect. Bill Shelton is the same negro who was arrested here last week and carried to Clanton where he escaped from his captors before being lodged in the county jail.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "cheapest, best and highest honored College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, 89 from Alabama attending last year; 13 efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It is endorsed by award of Highest Honor at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including scores from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Type-writing, Telegraphy, &c. taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business Scholarship in this famous College, which will be disposed of, on reasonable terms, to a deserving young lady or gentleman.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Montgomery is erecting an electric car line and will enter the base ball league with a team and locate a base ball park, all of which will do away with the usual summer dullness in the capital city.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale contained therein, executed by J. W. Headley to R. Ehrman, which said mortgage is duly recorded in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton county, Alabama, in book 73, page 288, the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property, to-wit: The northeast quarter (n e ¼) of of section thirty-three (33), township twenty-one (21), range sixteen (16), lying and being situated in the county of Chilton, and State of Alabama; also, One Chandler and Taylor engine, One Lane & Bodley Saw Mill, One Single Edger, One Circular Saw, Two Tram Cars, One Top Saw, and all fixtures in the way of belting, piping and pulleys connected with said above mentioned machinery, and which said machinery and mill are now upon the lands above described. R. EHRMAN,

MONDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH, 1892,

By ROB'T H. KNOX, His Attorney.
March 3d, 1892-4t

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage executed to the undersigned by William Willis and Louisa Minerva Willis, and recorded in Mortgage Book 23, page 105 in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton county, we will proceed to sell on the

19TH DAY OF MARCH, 1892,

in front of the courthouse of Chilton county, in the city of Clanton, Ala., within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate and personal property, to-wit:

The south ½ of southwest ¼, and the northwest ¼ of the southwest ¼ and the southwest ¼ of the southeast ¼ section 29, township 24, range 15.

One bay mare named "Mollie" and colt.

One black mare mule named "Kit."

Three red cows, one dun cow, one white cow, one buggy, one wagon, and one hundred bushels of corn, more or less.

SELIGMAN & ABRAHAM,
feb25 Mortgagees.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2684, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 28, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2837 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: David Hightower, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Atchison and Wiley Atchinson, all of Randolph, Ala.

feb18o3 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., February 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Madison Tyus, homestead 19023 for the w ½ of s e ¼ of sec 25, township 20 n, range 15 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Kate Price, James Cooper, Ed. Cooper, Lewis Price, all of Verbena, Ala.

feb18o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 9, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Avey Wilson, homestead 17822 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 28, township 22 north, range 14 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Alfred Hill, Holley Ray, John R. Kemp, John Bentley, all of Clanton, Ala.

feb18o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Now is the time to subscribe for your county paper

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—:MONTGOMERY, ALA.:—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

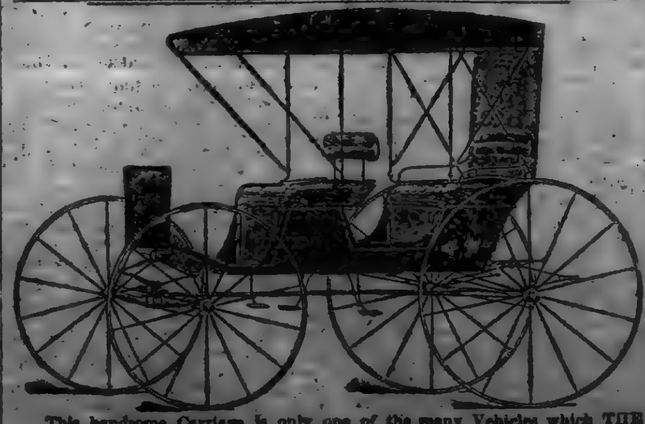
Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.

—18 COMMERCE STREET,—

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.



This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. Prompt execution work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST,
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
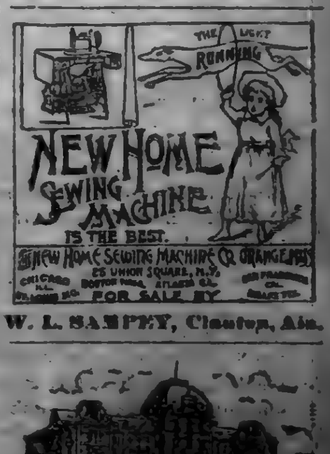
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[2-8] (mentions advertisement)

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds
Work Done in the
BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your pictures taken. [mar24-y

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25-92]



THE LIGHT RUNNING
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE
IS THE BEST.
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO. ORANGE, MASS.
25 UNION SQUARE, N.Y.
CHICAGO ILL. BOSTON MASS. ATLANTA GA. SAN FRANCISCO CAL.
FOR SALE BY

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.

SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY

Fall Term begin s September 15.
Spring Term b gins January 21.

Over 125 boarders, 10 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three of which lead to the degrees M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough literary course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such facilities for obtaining a liberal education as are enjoyed by young men of the best Universities. Handsomest and most complete school edifice in the South. All the rooms, halls and stairways carpeted. Accommodations for 400 boarders. Recently improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity. Hot and cold water throughout. Abundance of pure soft water. Bathing rooms and gymnasium. Beautiful lawns and grounds. Unsurpassed for health. Climate unsurpassed. Write for catalogue, which contains full information. Address

BUDGET OF FUN.

HUMOROUS SKETCHES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

He Knew Her Fresh Things—The Nebulous Future—A Tasteful Word—The Worm Turns, Etc.

"O maiden fair! bestow thy grace,
Grant me a lover's part;
I only ask a little place
Within thy icy heart."

"Though ice the heart which you demand,"
Replied the sassy prater,
"I still would have you understand
It's no refrigerator!"

—New York World.

A TRIFLE WORD.

"What is the shortest word in the language?" asked Billins.

"'Broke,'" replied his impecunious friend.

THE WORM TURNS.

Editor—"There are not enough feet in this line, sir."

Poet—"Feet, sir! Feet! I don't sell it by the foot. It's a poem—not a cord of wood."—Life.

COULDN'T HANG ON MUCH GOLD.

Miranda—"I wouldn't marry that man if every hair were strung with gold."

Maud—"Why not?"

Miranda—"He is bald-headed."—Puck.

THE NEBULOUS FUTURE.

Perdita—"Papa says I shall marry the man I wish to."

Mary (who has had experience)—"What will he do?—hypnotise the man?"—Life.

HOW HE KNEW.

"This must be a female turkey," observed Hunker, at the dinner-table.

"What makes you think that?" asked Mrs. Small.

"It has such a rich dressing."—Judge.

A SENSIBLE DOG.

First Boy (defiantly)—"My dog kin lick your dog."

Second Boy (valiantly)—"If your dog licks my dog, I'll lick you."

First Boy (backing off)—"My dog don't wanter fight."—Good News.

ANOTHER VIEW OF IT.

Hunker—"I wish I had courage enough to propose to Sue and end my misery."

Spatts—"That might not end it."

Hunker—"How's that?"

Spatts—"She might accept you."—Judge.

WHY HE FAILED.

Tom—"How did Tomson get on in business?"

—"He failed."

he didn't succeed, poor

—OE—"Oh, yes, he did. That's why he failed."—Yankee Blade.

A WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT.

Mr. Emerson Bean—"Oh, yes, I've written poetry, of course; but I never tried to have any of it published."

Miss Waldouia Hubb—"Now, why don't you send it to some of the magazines. I've seen some frightful stuff in them lately."—The Wave.

A PROVISO.

He—"Darling, I calculate that in the course of six months our engagement can be announced."

She (anxiously)—"And will you give me the ring, then?"

He—"I will if the girl that has it now will only get engaged to some one else."—Truth.

A HIRED TREASURE.

Mrs. Godd—"How is your girl, Mrs. Gabb?"

Mrs. Gabb—"Well, she's abominably dirty. She spoils everything she cooks, and she's lazy and impudent; but she has one good quality rarely met with."

"Indeed! What is that?"

"She stays."—Life.

A MYSTERY.

Mr. Younghusband (coming home finds his wife at the stove)—"So you are doing your own cooking? Tell me, now, what is it that you are cooking at that stove, Molly?"

Molly—"You mustn't have so much curiosity. I don't know myself yet what it is going to be."—Texas Siftings.

A MYTHICAL PARTING.

"All the world's a stage, you know," said the actor who was having his hair trimmed.

"Yes," replied the barber, "although I don't realise it except when I have a bald-headed man in the chair."

"And why then?"

"Because I have to act a part."

AN ACCESSORY.

Mrs. Quadran—"Mr. Renuet (coyly)—George, I have carefully considered your proposal of yesterday, and while I cannot give you the first love that your true worth demands, if you will accept my good will instead, I am yours."

Little Deckie (who has come in unannounced)—"Say, mamma, do I go with the good will of the business."—Judge.

TO THE OLD MAN.

He was profoundly interested in writing a letter.

"Weren't you up to see your girl last night?" asked the man next to him.

"Yes. I'm writing to her father now."

"That so! Asking him for her?"

"No. Asking him for my overcoat and hat he didn't give me time to get as I went out."—Detroit Free Press.

BELIEVED HIM.

Mrs. O'Queer—"And did Mr. Mann believe ye when ye said ye had run a mile in a minute and a half?"

Mr. O'Queer—"Faith, he did that. He said: 'You ran a mile in a minute and a half, did ye, Michael? Well, I'd as soon believe ye if ye said ye had run it in half a minute.' So ye see what faith he has in me veracity."—Yankee Blade.

VALUABLE TIME WASTED.

Tomson—"Bilson is a man who never keeps his word."

Johnson—"Indeed."

Tomson—"Yes, condemned him. I owe him a trifle, and he said he intended to call around after it. I waited one of the hours on three occasions when I expected a visit from him, and he didn't come. You can't depend upon him."—Yankee Blade.

ONLY A FLY.

He rushed out before the irate magistrate could fine him for contempt.

"Do you know what the difficulty with Regensberger was to-day?" asked one of his friends of the judge after court had adjourned.

"No. Must be mad, or ill, or in love," returned the judge.

"No. Tell me, you did not wear your cap to-day?"

"Forgot it, and the flies kept worrying me all day."

"Well," said the friend, "that was what 'broke up' Regensburger. Whenever you shook your head to dislodge a fly he imagined you were denying his objections."—The Weekly.

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.

The following story, even if it possesses no other merit, has that of being true. One evening a short while ago an old domestic came to see her former mistress after an interval of over twenty years. The latter, a very religious person, presently interrupted the interview, saying, "Now, Mrs. ——, we are going to have prayers. Will you come, too?"

"Dear me, my lady," said the old servant. "Do you still keep up the old custom?"

Mistress (severely)—"Certainly. I have had prayers every morning and evening of my life ever since I saw you last."

Old Servant (admiringly)—"Well, to be sure, you are a persevering lady."—London Truth.

FORCE OF HABIT.

"Force of habit is a peculiar trait," casually remarked the agent of an Alabama railroad, as we were waiting for the train.

"In what respect?" I asked.

"Since I have been here," he began, "our trains have killed a great many cows, and when claims are entered they are invariably of Jersey stock."

"Well?" I interrupted.

"A few days ago," he continued, "we ran over an old farmer's mule, and I have just received a claim for damages."

A light broke over me, as he smilingly concluded:

"And the old man wants us to pay the value of a full-blooded Jersey mule."

Verily, force of habit is a wonderful thing.—Atlanta Constitution.

REAL SYMPATHY.

The well dressed man was standing in front of the hotel, appearing at peace with himself and all the world, when the hungry man approached him.

"Say, I haven't had nothing to eat for t'ree days," said the hungry one.

"I know how to sympathize with you," answered the other one as he ran his hand into his pocket and jingled some coins. "I've been in just such a fix myself."

The hungry man's eyes glistened.

"Yes, as I was saying, I've been there myself. And I know from experience that five days is about as long as a man can safely go without eating. So, if you come around here day after to-morrow, I'll see that you are fed. I'm not the man to see a fellow creature starve to death. No, indeed! Now, along in 1878 I—"

But the starving man had moved on, swearing softly but earnestly.—Indianapolis Journal.

Cleaning Rubber Blankets.

The use of turpentine for cleaning ink, fat, oil, and colors from the rubber blankets has spread of late to such an extent that a few remarks on the subject may not be amiss. As little turpentine as possible should be employed when its use seems advisable, and it is necessary to be careful that the cleaned blankets are thoroughly dry before they are used again. This is a very important point, as otherwise the surface of the rubber would be softened and the impression of the cylinder would spoil the blanket by cracking or corrugating the surface. The best way is to clean the blankets in the evening, after the day's work is over; this will allow plenty of time for the drying of the turpentine and the return of the blankets to their natural condition, which would not be the case if the cleaning were done during the day, when the blankets may be required any moment.

As a very effective substitute for turpentine, spirits of hartshorn is highly recommended. It cleans more quickly and thoroughly, and offers less danger of spoiling the blankets. The spirits of hartshorn should be diluted until it has a strength of about six or nine degrees; it can easily be obtained of a strength of eighteen degrees, and be diluted by adding one to two equal parts of water. After cleaning the blankets they should be dried with the use of pulverized magnesia or chalk. If treated in this way, the spirits of hartshorn dries very quickly—much quicker than turpentine—and nothing prevents its use without the slightest danger of deterioration.—Lithographic Art Journal.

The Date Palms.

The Arabs believe that the date palm brings happiness and contentment to the country in which it grows. According to this idea the "happy" places of the earth are situated in the North of Africa, Southwest of Asia, South of Europe and some parts of India. Some of this "happiness" might well be brought into our own country; it is believed the date tree could be cultivated in the southern part of the United States with good results. It is a beautiful tree, tall and straight, sometimes reaching a height of sixty feet. The leaves are from eight to ten feet long, and the spadices, or fruit bearing branches, grow from 180 to 200 dates each; a bunch of dates weighs from twenty to twenty-five pounds.—Vick's Magazine.

Leather for Baseballs.

There are two factories in Philadelphia that use up in the season 100 horse hides a week each to cover baseballs. They are alum-tanned. One hide will furnish covers for ten dozen No. 1 balls, and five to eight dozen inferior ones. Horse hides for this purpose sell from $3.50 to $4 each, as to size. Kips are also used. They sell at fourteen cents a foot and sheepskins $3.50 to $6 a dozen. The best regulation balls sell at $1.25 to $1.50 each. A piece of rubber forms the centre, around which yarn is wound by hand. Then they are covered. They are "dead balls and won't bounce."—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY, WITHIN MIXT BOUNDS.

Information was received Tuesday of a fire at Hillsville, the county seat of Carroll county, Va., which is said to have destroyed half the town. No particulars.

A telegram of Saturday from Memphis, Tenn., says: Miss Lillie Johnson, charged with being accessory in the murder of Miss Freda Werde, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

Sales of leaf tobacco at Danville, Va., in February, were 2,000,000 pounds. Sales for the first five months of the tobacco year were 14,715,426 pounds, a decrease of 1,200,000 pounds as compared with the same period of last year.

The Mississippi house of representatives, on Wednesday, passed on first reading, by a vote of 70 to 33, a joint resolution seeking to amend the constitution, so as to make judges and chancellors elective by the people, instead of being appointed by the governor.

A telegram from Pensacola states that Dr. L. N. McIntosh, head of the McIntosh Optical Company, of Chicago, announced to lecture at the Florida chautauqua, died at DeFuniak Springs of heart failure Tuesday night. Mrs. McIntosh will take the remains to Chicago.

A frightful explosion occurred at 6:15 o'clock Monday morning at Savannah. The stationary engine in the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad shops exploded, wrecking its own house and adjacent buildings and killing the engineer and his fireman and mortally wounding the porter, the only persons who were in the vicinity of the disaster. Had it occurred a half hour later, with all the employes in the building, the loss of life would have been fearful.

The North Carolina democratic state executive committee met at Raleigh Wednesday, and called the state committee at Raleigh, May 18th. This will choose delegates to the national convention and will nominate candidates for state officers. The political outlook was discussed, and it was agreed that there is danger ahead unless the party placed itself upon record as determined to give relief to the people and present candidates who enjoy the confidence of all.

The executive committee of the North Carolina State Colored Agricultural and Mechanical College met at Raleigh, Tuesday, and received a committee from Greensboro. It had been agreed last autumn that Greensboro would give $15,000 and twenty-five acres of land to secure the location. But the committee appeared with $8,000 and asked that the remaining $7,000 be reduced $2,000. This was not accepted, and a call for a meeting of the full board March 23d was issued.

The executive committee of the Texas Bankers' association have issued an address to the farmers and business men, urging a reduction of the cotton acreage 15 per cent, giving as their opinion that the effect will be to raise the prices 30 per cent. They cite the increase in prices of 10 per cent in 1871 by decreased acreage of 15 per cent, and refer to the example of Brazilian coffee planters raising the price of coffee from 7 to 24 per cent in 1880, and up to 1886, by reduced acreage.

Messrs. Mitchell & McIntyre, and S. A. Roddenbery will plant this year on their farms near Boston, Ga., 200 acres each in tobacco. They have a large force of hands making ready for the crop, and have several acres planted in beds for transplanting. Lumber is on the ground for the erection of a large number of farm and tenant houses. Verily, this is the coming industry of south Georgia. These gentlemen have abundant means to back them and will doubtless make of tobacco raising a complete success.

HIS PA TO THE RESCUE.

Mr. Blaine Defends His Son in a Lengthy Personal Statement.

A Washington dispatch of Sunday says: Mr. Blaine has furnished the Associated Press for publication, under the heading of "A Personal Statement," a lengthy article in defense of his son from what he claims as slanderous attacks of the press in regard to the Blaine-Nevins divorce proceedings: As a prelude he says: "Since the separation of my son and his wife, three and a half year ago, my family has silently borne every misrepresentation, every slanderous attack, every newspaper interview, which it has pleased the now divorced wife to inspire. One person aimed at has been Mrs. Blaine, and we have perhaps been at fault in allowing the horror of public discussion of private matters, combined with regard for the future of my grandson, to permit so much calumny to go unanswered, the last outrage of the kind, embodied in the decision of a judge at Deadwood, Dak., assumes an official character which makes it impossible to remain longer silent. To remain silent would be to accept and perpetuate a great wrong to my wife, a greater wrong to my grandson than even the publication of the truth can inflict upon him. It is necessary in speaking that I should give a summary, as brief as possible, of the marriage and incidents which followed it and led to the separation." Here Mr. Blaine recapitulates the story in minute details. He closes as follows:

"Far be it from me to hold my son blameless; though when his youth; his uncompleted education; his separation from the influence of his home; the exchange of a life full of hopes and anticipations for premature cares and unecongenial companionship are considered, I hold him more sinned against than sinning. But his mother, at no time in thought, or word of deed, attempted to separate this man and his wife. On the contrary, she did not fail, by liberality, by consideration and by extenuation, to foster, in every practical way, their happiness, if happiness to them had been possible."

THE WORK OF ANARCHISTS.

It is Claimed that They Planned the Berlin Riot.

A cablegram of Saturday says that the authorities of Berlin, Germany, claim to be in possession of information to the effect that the demonstration Tuesday before the emperor's castle was not, as at first supposed, a spontaneous and unpremeditated movement. They claim it was a carefully planned outbreak, and would have assumed very much more hopeless proportions had it not been for the fact that the people did not rise to any degree in support of the anarchists and socialists who instigated the riot.

Mr. George W. Hammond of Root Post, G. A. R., of Syracuse, N. Y., Terribly Wounded at Gettysburg

And an Intense Sufferer until

Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I was in the Army of the Potomac, and at Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 6 years

My Wound Broke Open

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years HOW I SUFFERED! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I SHOULD GO CRAZY. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my

Blood Became Poisoned

and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of Hood's Sarsaparilla, bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any signs of reappearing." GEO. M. HAMMOND, 819 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Col. C. A. Weaver

Commander of Root Post, G. A. R., himself a one-armed veteran, fully confirms Mr. Hammond's statement, and J. L. Bolden, the pharmacist, also endorses it as perfectly true.

Hood's Pills cure Sick Headache.

CHILD BIRTH . . . MADE EASY!

"MOTHERS' FRIEND" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

WILL DO all that is claimed for it AND MORE. It Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book to "MOTHERS" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sent by express on receipt of price $1.50 per bottle
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Kennedy's Medical Discovery

Takes hold in this order:

Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Driving everything before it that ought to be out.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by
DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

"German Syrup"

Mr. Albert Hartley of Hudson, N. C., was taken with Pneumonia. His brother had just died from it. When he found his doctor could not rally him he took one bottle of German Syrup and came out sound and well. Mr. S. B. Gardiner, Clerk with Druggist J. R. Barr, Aurora, Texas, prevented a bad attack of pneumonia by taking German Syrup in time. He was in the business and knew the danger. He used the great remedy—Boschee's German Syrup—for lung diseases.

Ely's Cream Balm
WILL CURE
CHILDREN
OF CATARRH.
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

KING COTTON
Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES'
$60 5-Ton Cotton Scale.
BEST CHEAPEST BUT BEST.
For terms address
JONES OF BINGHAMTON,
BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

Tutt's Hair Dye

Gray Hair or whiskers changed to a glossy black by a single application of this Dye. It imparts a natural color, acts instantaneously and contains nothing injurious to the hair. Sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price, $1.00. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

KEYSTONE HAY LOADER

Loads a ton in 4 minutes. Saves time, work, men, hay, horses, durable, light draft. Send for descriptive circ. KEYSTONE MFG CO. Sparta, Ill.

$65

TO CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

General Orders No. 22 Issued from Headquarters at New Orleans.

Gen. Gordon has issued general orders No. 22 from Headquarters of United Confederate Veterans at New Orleans, which are of interest to veterans. We give a brief synopsis of the order:

The general commanding announces that the third annual meeting and reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be held, in obedience to the resolution passed by the delegates at the last reunion at the city of New Orleans, La., on the 8th and 9th days of April next. All confederate organizations and confederate soldiers and sailors, of all arms, grades, and departments are cordially invited to attend this third general reunion of their comrades.

Ex-confederate soldiers and sailors everywhere are urged to form themselves into local associations, where this has not already been done; and all associations, bivouacs, encampments, and other bodies, are earnestly requested to send in applications to these headquarters, without delay.

Business of the greatest importance will demand careful consideration during the third annual convention—such as the best methods of securing impartial history, and to enlist each state in the compilation and preservation of the history of her citizen soldiery; the benevolent care through state aid and otherwise of disabled, destitute or aged veterans and the widows and orphans of our fallen brothers-in-arms; the care of the graves of our known and unknown buried at Gettysburg, Fort Warren, Camps Morton, Chase, Douglas, Oakwood cemetery at Chicago, Johnson's Island, Cairo and at all other points, to see that they are annually decorated, the headstones preserved and protected, and complete lists of the names of our dead heroes with the location of their last resting places furnished to their friends and relatives through the medium of our camps.

Each camp now admitted into the United Confederate Veteran organization and those admitted before the reunion, are urged at once to elect accredited delegates to attend the reunion, as only accredited delegates will participate in the business part of the reunion. The representation of delegates at the reunion will be as fixed in article 8 of the constitution and amendment to the same—one delegate for every twenty members, and one for any fraction over twenty, provided every camp shall be entitled to at least two delegates.

Attention of camps is called to the resolution in amendment to article 5 of the constitution, "that no camp shall be allowed representation in any meeting of the United Confederate Veterans unless the camp shall have, on or before the first day of April preceding the meeting, paid all amounts due as initiation fee, $2.00, and also the amount due per capita." A program to be observed at the re-union and all the details will be furnished to the camps and to all veterans by the committee of arrangements in due time.

The general commanding respectfully requests the press, both daily and weekly, of the whole country, to aid the patriotic and benevolent objects of the United Confederate Veterans by publication of these general orders, with editorial notices of the organization.

The general commanding respectfully requests and trusts that railroad officials will also aid the old veterans by giving such reduced rates of transportation as will enable them to attend.

Officers of the general staff are directed to assist division commanders and others in organising their respective states, and generally to assist in the complete federation of the Confederate survivors in one organization under the constitution of the United Confederate Veterans.

A MAYOR IN PERIL.

An Attempt to Assassinate the Head of Savannah's City Government.

A Savannah, Ga., telegram of Friday says: Rumors have been floating about during the last few days of the attempted assassination of Mayor McDonough. Investigation developed the fact that these rumors were well-founded.

HOW THE STORY STARTED.

Last Wednesday night two negroes, after midnight, went to the residence of the executive and knocked loudly at the street door. Being answered by the mayor, they told him that he was wanted at the police barracks right away on business of importance.

The mayor was suspicious; if he had been needed at police headquarters he would have been telephoned from that point, as usual, or police officers would have been sent for him. He ordered the negroes away and retired again. This is Mayor McDonough's own statement of the affair.

On Friday a negro went to the mayor and telling him that he had an important communication to make to his honor said he had been offered $50 to get the mayor out of his house and had been told that he would be paid so soon as Mr. McDonough made his appearance and was outside of the door.

This negro says he refused the offer. It is now taken for granted that the parties secured other negroes to do the work. The negro who gave the information gave a full description of the men who had made him the offer. The mayor acknowledged the accuracy of these statements, but is reticent.

HAND ON THE TOUCH.

The name of the negro informant is withheld for the present. Mayor McDonough has been severe on the tough element since he has held office. They are very spiteful against him. During a meeting of the council, one night recently, the harness was cut from his horse, which was attached to a buggy outside the council chamber. Of course there was no business that demanded the presence of the mayor at the barracks on the night alluded to.

It is currently believed that the toughs whom the mayor has so severely punished were intent on offering him bodily harm, if not on assassinating him. This matter has caused a great deal of excitement in Savannah.

HALF A MILLION MINERS

Threaten to Quit Work if Their Wages are Cut Down.

A London cablegram of Monday says: It is now estimated that 400,000 miners will cease work in a fortnight in their efforts to prevent the masters from putting into effect a scheme to reduce wages. Should the threatened strike actually occur, it is estimated that close to one million men will feel the effects of the miners' struggle. The agitation is due to the action of mine owners in Wales and Cumberland, who gave an intimation of their intention to reduce wages on a "sliding scale," principally owing to the decline in the price in coal. The men refused to accept the reduction, and declared that more drastic steps must be taken to oppose it.

Pain Preventive, Liniment, and Household Remedy, use Brown's Iron Bitters. It tones the stomach, purifies the blood, cures malaria and dyspepsia. The best general family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom or disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over-eating are benefited by taking a TABLE after each meal. Price, by mail, prepaid, 1 bottle 50c. 2 bottles $1. Address THE RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.
Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

PENSIONS—Due all SOLDIERS! 1 disabled. $2 PER for increase. 15 years experience. WRITE FOR LAWS. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, WASHINGTON, D. C. & CINCINNATI, O.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

BENCHAM'S PILLS have been in popular use in Europe for 50 years and are a safe, sure and gentle remedy. 25 cents a box.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM & MULLEIN
CURES
COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES

Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

If you want any Piano the first step is to send your address for our Catalogue. A safe step and cost but a cent.

WE TELL YOU what dealer can supply you, or we ship piano on approval ourselves, no risk to you.

OUR BARGAINS AND SECOND-HANDS offer facilities interesting to many. Drop us a line.

Ivers & Pond Piano Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Reasons why YOU SHOULD ORDER YOUR SEEDS FROM T. W. WOOD & SONS RICHMOND, VA.

GARDEN SEEDS.

At 1,000 miles distance we make it just as easy for you to obtain the best and most improved varieties and the best novelties, as we DELIVER POSTPAID anywhere all Garden Seeds at packet and ounce rates, and give 25 cts. worth extra pkt. Seeds for each $1.00 worth ordered. We also have special low rates on Seeds in bulk.

Our GRASS, CLOVER,

and Field Seed trade in the Region of the Southern States—great experience proof of our high-grade Seeds and reasonable prices.

NO RISK

IN PLANTING MONEY through us or our agents, and we guarantee the safe arrival of all orders sent by us.

We issue the most elaborate and complete Catalogue of Vegetable and Flower Seeds ever published, and it will be sent to any one who writes for it. Those intending to plant Seeds should send for it. It is free.

T. W. WOOD & SONS
RICHMOND, VA.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Liquids, and Paints which scale the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

GET WELL

OPTION

PATENTS

CHILTON COUNTY

In the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the S. F. V. & G. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads all pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The best industries are farming and saw mill. Pop. Population 10,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 29 miles south of Birmingham and 29 miles north of Montgomery. Several saw mills are now running in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Proprietor. WEEKLY, JUDICIAL, AGRICULTURAL. TERMS: $1.50 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1892. NUMBER 20.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices twenty cents per line for first insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Benefit, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be handed in as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Legal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—Before the reading of the journal on Monday Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, called up the resolution for the consideration of the silver bill, and the clerk proceeded to read, and upon its adoption Mr. Catchings demanded the previous question. Mr. Tracy, of New York, called attention to the fact that the journal had not been read. The speaker decided that is was in order for the gentleman from Mississippi to call up the resolution. The reading of the resolution was concluded. Mr. Tracy appealed from the decission of the chair. The debate which followed was animated. Mr. Catching closed the debate on the behalf of the committee on rules, concluding by moving to lay the appeal of the gentleman from New York (Tracy) upon the table. Mr. Tracy demanded the yeas and nays, and his demand was supported by 55 others. The roll was then called and resulted, yeas, 194; nays, 73. So Mr. Tracy's appeal was tabled. Mr. Tracy then raised the question of consideration. The chair decided that under the rules he could not entertain a question of consideration. Mr. Tracy again appealed and was again defeated by a motion to table his appeal, which was carried, 176 to 81. Mr. Tracy thereupon moved to recommit the resolution with instructions to the committee on rules to report it back with an amendment, changing the date for consideration of the silver bill from March 22d to December 12th. The motion was defeated—yeas, 70; nays, 202. The previous question was then ordered upon the resolution without further objections being made. Brief debates followed, in which the resolution was advocated by Messrs. McKeighan of Nebraska, Townsend of Colorado, Pierce of Tennessee and Bland, and opposed by Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts; while sarcastic speeches, directed against the spectacle afforded by the controversy among democrats were interjected by Messrs. Reed and Boutelle. The yeas and nays were ordered and resulted in the adoption of the resolution—yeas, 190; nays, 84. The speaker announced the result and immediately added, "The clerk will read the journal of yesterday's proceedings." [Laughter.]

TUESDAY.—In his prayer Tuesday morning the chaplain of the house feelingly referred to the death of Representative Kendall, of Kentucky. After Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, had given notice that he would on Wednesday call up for consideration the free wool bill. Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, announced to the house the death of his colleague, Mr. Kendall, and as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the house adjourned. The speaker appointed the following committee to take order respecting the funeral ceremonies: Paynter, Manson, Amerman, Bailey, Owens, Wilson, (Ky.) and Belknap.

WEDNESDAY.—In past years the day for opening the debate upon the tariff bill in the house has been red letter day, and almost all the members have been in attendance, and the galleries have been filled with spectators. But the rule met with its exception Wednesday morning. When the speaker called the house to order at noon there were not more than one hundred and fifty members present, and the galleries did not contain more than the usual audience. On motion Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, the house went into a committee of the whole upon the revenue bills, Blount, of Georgia, being designated as the presiding officer. Mr. McMillan addressed the house. He was followed on the republican side by Mr. Dingley, of Maine.

THURSDAY.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds authorized a favorable report on the following public building bills: Brunswick, Ga., $75,000; Newport News, Va., $75,000; Anniston, Ala., $40,000. Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, reported the naval appropriation bill. Referred to a committee of the whole.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The pure food bill was the main topic before the senate Monday. A vote on the motion to strike out section 7 and 8 disclosed the absence of a quorum, and the senate adjourned.

TUESDAY.—In the senate, Tuesday, Mr. Squire presented a petition from the chamber of commerce of Port Townsend, Washington, praying that the Behring sea fisheries be thrown open. The petition was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate Mr. Hale, from the committee on appropriations, reported back without comment the agricultural deficiency bill, and said he would call it up Thursday. He also reported back the bill introduced by him on the 25th of January to further increase the naval department. It was, he said, for the construction of battle-ships, coast defenses, gun-boats and eight first-class torpedo boats. He reported it back with an amendment appropriating $500,000 for experiments in the development of torpedoes and in the procurement of standard torpedoes. It was placed on the calendar. The senate committee on foreign relations spent an hour in consideration of the Behring sea arbitration treaty. While it was practically decided that the treaty should be reported to the senate with the recommendation that it be approved, no formal action of that nature was taken. As the committee believed that the prudent course would be to wait the reception from the president of Lord Salisbury's reply to his last proposition looking to a renewal of the modus vivendi, it is learned that many senators, without regard to party lines, have determined that some provision must be made for a renewal of the modus vivendi, as a condition precedent to the consummation of the treaty. The action of the senate upon the treaty will be, of course, subject to construction given to correspondence by individual senators, and in view of the intense interest in the subject manifested by the public, an effort will probably be made to have the proceedings of the senate in executive session, considering the treaty given to the public.

THURSDAY.—In the senate, Thursday, Mr. Morgan offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the president for copies of the correspondence in regard to the Venezuela awards since June, 1890.

NOTES.

The president Tuesday afternoon sent to the senate the Behring sea arbitration treaty.

The President, on Wednesday, sent to the senate the correspondence in regard to the Behring sea question covering a period from April 20, 1891, to the date of the recent correspondence.

On Thursday, Representative Oates, of Alabama, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably the bill intended to suspend the operations of the sections of the revised statutes relative to persons in the seceding states who were dropped from the pension rolls on account of their supposed disloyalty to the government.

The third party members of the house have shown themselves in favor of increasing the pensions, notwithstanding the heavy burden of taxes upon the people now. For this purpose all of the third party men, except Mr. Clover and Mr. Watson, voted on Tuesday to increase the pension bill about twelve million dollars.

Senator Stanford, of California, has put an end to the talk of his being the third party nominee for the presidency. A Washington dispatch of Saturday quotes him as saying, in response to an inquiry regarding the matter: "I am a republican. I would not decline a nomination from the republican party, but I would not affiliate with any other.

There has been a great deal of objection raised in recent years by coastwise vessel owners to paying compulsory pilotage to state pilots whenever their vessels enter or leave any of the ports along the Atlantic coast, for the reason that in almost every instance the vessel's pilot is thoroughly capable of piloting his own ship. To remedy this and make the law general a bill has been introduced in congress to abolish compulsory pilotage fees.

A cabinet meeting was held Tuesday which was devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the Behring sea question, with a view to deciding on a plan of action in case Great Britain adhere to its refusal to renew the present season the pending arbitration modus vivendi of last year. There was a smaller attendance than usual, owing to the illness of Secretary Blaine and the absence from the city of Secretaries Foster and Noble. While the matter was thoroughly discussed it is understood that no definite plan of action was determined upon.

The tariff debate began in the house Wednesday, and will continue until the 31st, when a vote will be taken upon the free wool bill. On account of the illness of Mr. Springer the debate was opened by Mr. McMillin, who delivered a very strong speech. The debate upon the republican side was opened by Mr. Dingley, of Maine. These two speeches consumed the entire day. The next two weeks in the house will be devoted almost exclusively to speechmaking. Nearly two hundred members have already spoken for the time to make speeches, and perhaps there will be night sessions.

The preamble to the arbitration treaty submitted to the senate by the president Wednesday recites the desire of the governments of the United States and Great Britain for an amicable settlement of questions arising between them concerning the jurisdictional rights of the United States in Behring sea, and also concerning the preservation of fur seal in the sea, and the rights of the citizens or subjects of either country as regards the taking of seals in these waters. Therefore they have resolved to submit the questions to arbitration and plenipotentiaries. Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote have agreed to the treaty.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch says: The Cherokee land company went into the hands of a receiver Tuesday with assets of $600,000 and liabilities less than forty thousand. The company owns 600 acres of land immediately across the Tennessee river from Knoxville.

The news of Hon. Judson C. Clements' appointment as interstate commerce commissioners was heralded with great delight in Rome, Ga. Mr. Clements is universally popular in that city, and his appointment was a subject of great interest to his many friends in Rome.

Fire Tuesday morning at Birmingham, Ala., in Turner Bros. trunk factory caused a loss of about eight thousand dollars on the stock, which was insured for $5,000. The Levy Commission Company, in the same building, lost $2,000 on stock, insurance, $1 500. The loss on the building was $5,000, covered by insurance.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch says: The first friction growing out of the 10 per cent cut in furnace wages occurred Tuesday when the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company put the cut into effect. Their employes struck, but their places were soon supplied, the number of laborers wanting work being unprecedented.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch of Thursday says: Another fire brand has been thrown into the Alabama campaign. In Bibb county the convention went solidly for Kolb. The Jones men claim that it was irregular and an alliance instead of a democratic convention, and have called a mass meeting for April 16th to select a contesting delegation.

At Atlanta Thursday, the Southern Bell Telephone Company filed with Mayor Hemphill a bond for $10,000. It was filed with the mayor for his approval, and is the bond required of the company before it can begin to lay its wires under ground. The object is to secure the city against any damage that might be caused to the sewer pipes, or water mains by the laying of the wires under ground.

After a session of nearly three weeks, and the examination of nearly seventy-five witnesses, the Volusia county, Fla., grand jury adjourned at DeLand Thursday without having returned a true bill in the Packwood murder case. The negro Jenkins, charged with quadruple murder, and in custody since December was discharged, as no evidence was produced against him. Vigorous efforts were made to indict the alleged lover of one of the murdered women, but failed. The crime is still a mystery.

A telegram of Wednesday from Savannah, Ga., states that the new law firm of Harden, West & McLaws, has secured instructions from a number of minority stockholders owning several thousand shares of Central stock to represent them at Macon on March 14th in a protest against the appointment of a permanent receiver. Lawyers have estimated that the expense of the litigation to the railroad before the end is reached may pass considerable beyond a hundred thousand dollars.

HE PLAYED POLICY.

Also Bought Lottery Tickets, Using His Employer's Cash.

A New York dispatch says: William A. Barry, of 536 Monroe street, Brooklyn, who has been for eleven years the confidential bookkeeper for Mattison Bros. & Co.'s paper warehouse, at 10 Bergman street, was arrested Thursday and locked up at police headquarters, charged with embezzlement. His speculations have extended over a period of about two years past, and in addition he had taken over one thousand dollars of the firm's money. This sum he invested in different policy shops in the city. In the mean time, he got very fond of playing policy, $35 each week to "beat" again in policy, making his total amount to over eighteen thousand dollars. Seven of the policy holders with whom he did trade at one time or another struck, and held $2,000 each.

ALABAMA COLUMN

Of News Notes and Items Gathered at Random from Over the State.

Mrs. Annie E. Semmes, widow of the late Admiral Raphael Semmes, commander of the confederate cruiser Alabama, died at her home in Mobile last Monday.

* * *

The school teachers of Russell county met at Seale to attend the county institute called by State Superintendent of Education Harris. The proceedings were interesting, the object of the institute being the co-operation of teachers, pupils and patrons in the cause of education, the interchange of ideas between teachers, etc. The next meeting will be held at Phenix City. Some interesting papers will be read on that occasion.

* * *

A valuable bulletin is being sent out from the agricultural experiment station at Auburn on the history and effects of glanders, with a description of the symptoms and differences of nasal, farcy and pulmonary glanders. The means of distinguishing glanders from other diseases and the best methods of disinfecting stables, yards, etc., when glanders has appeared, are carefully explained. The bulletin also shows the fatal character of the disease to animals and man, and the very great care a farmer must use in handling an affected horse. The bulletin is prepared by the veterinarian of the experiment station. Any farmer in the state can obtain a copy by addressing the experiment station, Auburn.

* * *

In their review of trade for past week Dun & Co., of New York, has this to say regarding the state of the iron and coal market: The only possible remedy for the trouble in the iron trade is to be applied, according to dispatches, by closing some of the furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango valley and in the Chicago district. Current prices are called about the lowest on record, southern iron being offered at $15.75 to $17. for No. 1, against $16.50 to $17.50 for northen. The coal market continues uncertain, as the combination is not ready to act, but the agents recommend an output of only 2,500,000 tons in March. All kinds of iron and steel are weakening at Pittsburg, manufactured and structural being lower with dull trade, and some puddling mills have closed.

* * *

According to the Chattanooga Times, the Chattanooga Southern road is not likely to be extended to Birmingham. It was the intention of C. E. James to build the road to that city, but the Times says that since General Burke has taken charge of the road, he has expressed a preference to have the road built in another direction. He stated to a Times reporter a week ago that it was more than likely that the road would be built to Montgomery, instead of Birmingham. He said the proposed route lay through a section of country almost without equal in point of richness of soil and wealth of ores and coal. It is not touched by any road, and would prove a splendid investment. General Burke said the road would be certainly extended in the near future or just as soon as all matters pertaining to the road were in a satisfactory condition.

* * *

It Will Help Alabama.

It was announced a few days ago on Wall street, New York, that the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company would probably absorb the Sloss Iron and Steel company and the DeBardeleben Coal and Iron company of Alabama. The announcement caused a sharp advance in the stock of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. The details of the consolidation of the three big companies have not all been arranged, but the name of the consolidated company will probably be the Tennessee and Alabama Coal and Iron company, and the capital stock will be not less than $35,000,000. The three companies own a majority of the coke furnaces in Alabama and Tennessee and the best and largest of the coal and iron mines. Regarding this the Age-Herald says: It will be a gigantic enterprise, and promises to immeasurably strengthen Birmingham's position in the iron trade.

* * *

Col. Oates' Dates.

The following comes from Opelika that Colonel Oates' appointments to address his fellow citizens in political questions have been announced and are as follows:

Lee county—Loachapoka, Wednesday, March 23; Auburn, Thursday, 24; Cold Hill Friday, 25; Chamber Bridge eight, [illegible]; Opelika, 28; Phenix City, [illegible]; Seale, 30; Russell county, 31; Dale county—Skipperville, Tuesday, March 29th; Clopton, Wednesday, 30th.

Henry county—Lawrenceville, Friday, April 1st; Mount Enon church, Saturday, 2d.

Col. Oates says there will be other speakers with him at many of the above appointments, and that the ladies are especially invited. He will divide time with any other candidate for congress who may desire to meet him.

* * *

Alabama Coal Boom.

According to the Mobile Register the announcement is made by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad company that all contracts are signed, sealed and delivered for the export of more than 300,000 tons of coal from the port of Mobile. The arrangement contemplates the delivery by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia at its Mobile wharves of 1,000 tons a day for a year. The points of shipment include Texas, Mexican and Cuban ports, one of the contractors being so large a consumer as the Mexican Central railroad. The coal will be loaded at the mines direct into the cars, switched on to the railroad's own tracks and unloaded into the vessels of the Mobile Transportation Company. The cost will thus be minimized, and the outlook is that Alabama coal will soon be filling the markets from Mobile around the entire coast. For a long time it has been apparent that we must develop a market to the southward. The Louisville and Nashville has been at work on the export of coal through Pensacola. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia links its fortunes to Mobile. Great are the coal fields of Alabama, and they are growing greater.

* * *

The State Fair.

With the prestige of a splendid success, a broader field to draw from, with no conflict with other fairs, and with greater efforts to be put forth than on any former occasion, Birmingham may with confident assurance predict that the great state fair for 1892 will eclipse all former efforts in the splendor and magnificence of its achievements. President Hawkins has about perfected arrangements placing the State fair in the Western-Southern circuit, which starts in the northwest and comes through Indiana, St. Louis and Nashville and Birmingham. This secures for the State fair such an array of fine horses as have never before been on any track in Alabama. The premium list will be out in May. In the meantime all are urged to prepare exhibits in the various departments—stock, field and dairy products. Most liberal premiums will be offered for cattle, especially the Holsteins and Jerseys. Special inducements will also be offered to the six county alliance or grange or club organizations making first entries. The first six to enter for premium, and making creditable display and failing to take a higher prize, will be awarded $50 each as a premium for being among the first to enter in the competition. This is done to encourage enterprise and energy and give assurance of some pay and compensation.—Age-Herald.

* * *

Governor Jones Sues The Alliance Herald for Slander.

Governor Jones has sued the editor of the Alliance Herald for damages in three cases, as shown by the following from the Montgomery Advertiser:

"Governor Jones, by his attorneys, Messrs. Brickell, Semple & Gunter and J. M. Falkner, has commenced three actions of libel, claiming $10,000 damages in each, against Frank Baltzell, editor of the Alliance Herald. All of these suits grew out of publications in the Alliance Herald, in its issue of March, 3, which repeats some former statements made in its issue of February 28.

The first suit is based on the statement that the governor made a recommendation regarding some bonds of the South and North Alabama railroad, which were invalid, and if his recommendation had been followed it would have cost the state $300,000, and the insinuation in the article that his recommendation was made in the interest of a former client. Readers of the Advertiser who have perused the governor's two very vigorous cards on the subject are familiar with the grounds of his complaint on this score.

The second suit is based on the statement of the Alliance Herald as to the facts, and the motive imputed to the governor in pardoning Nathan Young. It was charged in the publication that the real motive was to accommodate an influential citizen who wanted Nathan to work on his farm, and that the judge and solicitor were led to recommend the pardon, too, and that it was an outrage on justice.

The three suits grew out of the statements made in the garden of Riley Webb and conversations of the Alliance Herald from the governor had declined to pardon the man upon [illegible] to pardon the man upon [illegible]

It is alleged in each case that the publications are false and defamatory, intervened to injure the plaintiff and create false impressions in the minds of the people that in the discharge of the duties of the office of governor, he had acted negligently or from improper motives, and against the interest of the people, etc."

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

Manager Todd and the Capital City oil works, of Jackson, Miss., denied the report that the cotton seed oil mills of Mississippi have combined.

An Indianapolis dispatch of Thursday says: President Frenzel has submitted his reply to the demands of the street car men, and his reply, while pacific, refuses every demand.

A cablegram of Tuesday says: The police of Vienna have issued orders forbidding the further distribution of free bread to persons who are out of employment and are in needy circumstances.

The Antwerp Handelsbad (newspaper) says that the United States recently made an offer to the king of Belgium to purchase Congo Free State, and to defray all expenses incurred by Belgium in connection with that country.

The steamship Rosal, which arrived at New York Tuesday morning from Santos, Brazil, was detained at quarantine. Yellow fever broke out among the crew while at Santos, and the first mate, engineer and one seaman died.

According to a cable dispatch all of the anarchists charged with participating in the recent attack upon the town of Xeres, who were tried by court martial that convened in Cadiz Wednesday, were acquitted. This decision was somewhat of a surprise.

A dispatch of Thursday from Terre Haute, Ind., says: Robert Musgrave, the life insurance swindler, was taken from jail into the circuit court, where Judge Taylor overruled his motion for a new trial and sentenced him to the state prison for ten years.

A cablegram from Berlin says: Emperor William is confined to his bed. His physicians say he is suffering from a slight cold. Some alarm, however, is felt concerning his condition, for it is known that on Thursday he had not received reports on the state business, which it is customary for the heads of different departments to make to him daily.

A six-story building at 195 and 197 Michigan street, Chicago, was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, causing a loss of $125,000. Among the principal firms occupying the building were the Chicago Paste company, the American Fruit company, the Castello company, chocolate manufacturers, and George Oberne, dealer in hides and wool.

A dispatch of Thursday says: The strike of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's shops at Indianapolis, which began three weeks ago, is likely to affect the entire system. Several car loads of men who were brought from the east since the beginning of the strike were persuaded not to go to work until Wednesday. Probably a strike will be ordered on the entire system against piece work.

A St. Louis dispatch of Thursday says: The Catholic Knights of America, through the officers of the various state jurisdictions, have instructed the supreme president, J. D. Coleman, to begin legal action against the bondsmen of the late supreme treasurer, W. J. O'Brien, who took funds of the order to the extent of $75,000 sometime ago, and it is supposed suits will be instituted without delay.

A dispatch from Helena, Ark., says: The exodus of colored people from this part of the state to Oklahoma still continues. Already the negro population of this country has been visibly decreased by emigration. Thirty families left Wednesday for the "land of promise," while others will follow as soon as they get money to defray expenses. Poor crops and hard times are the causes for the move. Oklahoma seems to be the destination of the emigrants.

A Washington dispatch says: Senator Calvin S. Brice returned from New York Wednesday. He has been there consulting with the other directors of the Richmond Terminal about the Central railroad. Mr. Brice would express no opinion as to what the Terminal intended doing, but said that he did not believe the votes of Central stock would be disposed of by the present directors. He intends the action taken to place the road in the hands of a receiver was done by attorneys who cared more to bring themselves into notoriety than for anything else.

A very important decision was rendered in the circuit court at Bloomington, Ill., Thursday, which has a bearing upon the business of all insurance associations. It was rendered in the case of Mrs. Maggie Belcham, widow of Thomas Belcham, of Bloomington, versus the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Mrs. Belcham's husband carried a life policy for $2,000 in this order for twelve years, but was expelled from the order a few months before his death for drunkenness. A claim was made by Mrs. Belcham that when he was expelled her husband was insane. The verdict rendered gives Mrs. Belcham judgment for $2,115.

GRAIN STATISTICS.

Their Distribution as Reported by the Agricultural Department.

The March report of the distribution of wheat and corn by the statistican of the department of agriculture at Washington makes the stock of wheat in the growers' hands 171,000,000 bushels, or 28 per cent of the crop, 68,000,000 of spring wheat and 108,000,000 of winter wheat, much of the latter in states which have practically no commercial distribution, but entering into local consumption for bread and seed. This is the largest reserve ever reported, that of the largest previous crop of 1884 being 169,000,000 bushels.

Exports from July 1st to March 1st were 164,000,000 bushels, the fall seed 36 000,000 bushels, consumption approximately 300,000,000, but the larger proportion is taken for consumption in proportionately greater than in spring and summer. The assumed consumption from March 1, 1891, is 300,000,000 bushels for a population of 64,300,000.

The estimated quantity of corn in farmers' hands is 860,000,000 bushels, or 41.8 per cent. of the crop. This is the largest proportion ever reported, that of 1889 excepted, which was 45.9 per cent., or 970,000,000 bushels. The seven principal states have a surplus of 146,000,000 bushels, or 41 per cent. of their product, against 667,000,000 from the great crop of 1889. The proportion merchantable is the largest ever reported—88.5 per cent., against 85 7 two years ago.

L. L. POLK TALKS.

He Explains His Status in Regard to the Third Party.

A Raleigh, N. C., dispatch of Tuesday says: At last L. L. Polk has defined his status. It can be now positively stated that he is an enthusiastic advocate of the third party. He declares that he believes it will sweep the west, and will have a very large following in the south. He says he does not propose to have state tickets, but that a national ticket will be voted for. In Tuesday's issue of the Progressive Farmer, Col. Polk's paper and the organ of the state alliance, is an address signed by the North Carolina delegates who attended the St. Louis convention, in which they declare themselves in favor of the third party, unconditionally endorse the platform adopted there, and call upon the people to elect only men who will carry out the third party principles set forth. Among the names to the address are those of Marion Butler, president of the state alliance, and E. C. Bedding, late state secretary, and now member of the railroad commission.

MISSISSIPPI'S COTTON CROP.

Preliminary Statistics of the State's Production Issued from Washington.

The census office has issued the preliminary statistics of cotton production in Mississippi. The acreage of cotton in that state in the years 1889-90 was 2,888,499, the number of bales produced 1,154,406, not including linters; average yield per acre, four-tenths of a bale and total value of the crop to producers $30,464,053. The figures reported at the tenth census for the years 1879-80 were as follows: Acreage, 2,196 215; number of bales, 963,111, and yield per acre, forty-six-hundredths of a bale. No attempt was made at the tenth census to ascertain the value of the cotton crop which it reported, but it was estimated by the department of agriculture at $38,213,000. The figures now issued are subject to slight modification in the final report, which will also include cotton seed and other branches of cotton investigation which the census office is engaged in.

CONGRESSMAN KENDALL DEAD.

Stricken with Apoplexy at [illegible] Suddenly Dies.

A Washington dispatch says: [illegible] a stroke of [illegible] W. Kendall, of Kentucky, was [illegible] Monday morning about [illegible] Speaker Crisp [illegible]

CHILTON COUNTY

The principal center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the S. F. V. & the Ala. Mid. Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Birmingham Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The finest cotton lands are found here. Population 18,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 60 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several cotton mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAUDERDALE, Editor and Proprietor. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50, Free Advice.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1892. NUMBER 20.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per Second Insertion.

Obituaries and Notices of Respect, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for offices will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Local contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—Before the reading of the journal on Monday Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, called up the resolution for the consideration of the silver bill, and the clerk proceeded to read, and upon its adoption Mr. Catchings demanded the previous question. Mr. Tracy, of New York, called attention to the fact that the journal had not been read. The speaker decided that it was in order for the gentleman from Mississippi to call up the resolution. The reading of the resolution was concluded. Mr. Tracy appealed from the decission of the chair. The debate which followed was animated. Mr. Catching closed the debate on the behalf of the committee on rules, concluding by moving to lay the appeal of the gentleman from New York (Tracy) upon the table. Mr. Tracy demanded the yeas and nays, and his demand was supported by 55 others. The roll was then called and resulted, yeas, 194; nays, 78. So Mr. Tracy's appeal was tabled. Mr. Tracy then raised the question of consideration. The chair decided that under the rules he could not entertain a question of consideration. Mr. Tracy again appealed and was again defeated by a motion to table his appeal, which was carried, 176 to 81. Mr. Tracy thereupon moved to recommit the resolution with instructions to the committee on rules to report it back with an amendment, changing the date for consideration of the silver bill from March 22d to December 12th. The motion was defeated—yeas, 70; nays, 302. The previous question was then ordered upon the resolution without further objections being made. Brief debates followed, in which the resolution was advocated by Messrs. McKeighan of Nebraska, Townsend of Colorado, Pierce of Tennessee and Bland, and opposed by Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts; while sarcastic speeches, directed against the spectacle afforded by the controversy among democrats were interjected by Messrs. Reed and Boutelle. The yeas and nays were ordered and resulted in the adoption of the resolution—yeas, 190; nays, 84. The speaker announced the result and immediately added, "The clerk will read the journal of yesterday's proceedings." [Laughter.]

TUESDAY.—In his prayer Tuesday morning the chaplain of the house feelingly referred to the death of Representative Kendall, of Kentucky. After Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, had given notice that he would on Wednesday call up for consideration the free wool bill. Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, announced to the house the death of his colleague, Mr. Kendall, and as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the house adjourned. The speaker appointed the following committee to take order respecting the funeral ceremonies: Paynter, Manson, Amerman, Bailey, Owens, Wilson, (Ky.) and Belknap.

WEDNESDAY.—In past years the day for opening the debate upon the tariff bill in the house has been red letter day, and almost all the members have been in attendance, and the galleries have been filled with spectators. But the rule met with its exception Wednesday morning. When the speaker called the house to order at noon there were not more than one hundred and fifty members present, and the galleries did not contain more than the usual audience. On motion Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, the house went into a committee of the whole upon the revenue bills, Blount, of Georgia, being designated as the presiding officer. Mr. McMillan addressed the house. He was followed on the republican side by Mr. Dingley, of Maine.

THURSDAY.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds authorized a favorable report on the following public building bills: Brunswick, Ga., $75,000; Newport News, Va., $75,000; Anniston, Ala., $40,000. Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, reported the naval appropriation bill. Referred to a committee of the whole.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The pure food bill was the main topic before the senate Monday. A vote on the motion to strike out section 7 and 8 disclosed the absence of a quorum, and the senate adjourned.

TUESDAY.—In the senate, Tuesday, Mr. Squire presented a petition from the chamber of commerce of Port Townsend, Washington, praying that the Behring sea fisheries be thrown open. The petition was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate Mr. Hale, from the committee on appropriations, reported back without comment the agricultural deficiency bill, and said he would call it up Thursday. He also reported back the bill introduced by him on the 25th of January to further increase the naval department. It was, he said, for the construction of battle-ships, coast defenses, gun-boats and eight first-class torpedo boats. He reported it back with an amendment appropriating $500,000 for experiments in the development of torpedoes and in the procurement of standard torpedoes. It was placed on the calendar. The senate committee on foreign relations spent an hour in consideration of the Behring sea arbitration treaty. While it was practically decided that the treaty should be reported to the senate with the recommendation that it be approved, no formal action of that nature was taken. As the committee believed that the prudent course would be to wait the reception from the president of Lord Salisbury's reply to his last proposition looking to a renewal of the modus vivendi, it is learned that many senators, without regard to party lines, have determined that some provision must be made for a renewal of the modus vivendi, as a condition precedent to the consummation of the treaty. The action of the senate upon the treaty will be, of course, subject to construction given to correspondence by individual senators, and in view of the intense interest in the subject manifested by the public, an effort will probably be made to have the proceedings of the senate in executive session, considering the treaty given to the public.

THURSDAY.—In the senate, Thursday, Mr. Morgan offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the president for copies of the correspondence in regard to the Venezuela awards since June, 1890.

NOTES.

The president Tuesday afternoon sent to the senate the Behring sea arbitration treaty.

The President, on Wednesday, sent to the senate the correspondence in regard to the Behring sea question covering a period from April 20, 1891, to the date of the recent correspondence.

On Thursday, Representative Oates, of Alabama, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably the bill intended to suspend the operations of the sections of the revised statutes relative to persons in the seceding states who were dropped from the pension rolls on account of their supposed disloyalty to the government.

The third party members of the house have shown themselves in favor of increasing the pensions, notwithstanding the heavy burden of taxes upon the people now. For this purpose all of the third party men, except Mr. Clover and Mr. Watson, voted on Tuesday to increase the pension bill about twelve million dollars.

Senator Stanford, of California, has put an end to the talk of his being the third party nominee for the presidency. A Washington dispatch of Saturday quotes him as saying, in response to an inquiry regarding the matter: "I am a republican. I would not decline a nomination from the republican party, but I would not affiliate with any other.

There has been a great deal of objection raised in recent years by coastwise vessel owners to paying compulsory pilotage to state pilots whenever their vessels enter or leave any of the ports along the Atlantic coast, for the reason that in almost every instance the vessel's pilot is thoroughly capable of piloting his own ship. To remedy this and make the law general a bill has been introduced in congress to abolish compulsory pilotage fees.

A cabinet meeting was held Tuesday which was devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the Behring sea question, with a view to deciding on a plan of action in case Great Britain adhere to its refusal to renew the present season the pending arbitration modus vivendi of last year. There was a smaller attendance than usual, owing to the illness of Secretary Blaine and the absence from the city of Secretaries Foster and Noble. While the matter was thoroughly discussed it is understood that no definite plan of action was determined upon.

The tariff debate began in the house Wednesday, and will continue until the 31st, when a vote will be taken upon the free wool bill. On account of the illness of Mr. Springer the debate was opened by Mr. McMillin, who delivered a very strong speech. The debate upon the republican side was opened by Mr. Dingley, of Maine. These two speeches consumed the entire day. The next two weeks in the house will be devoted almost exclusively to speechmaking. Nearly two hundred members have already spoken for the time to make speeches, and perhaps there will be night sessions.

The preamble to the arbitration treaty submitted to the senate by the president Wednesday recites the desire of the governments of the United States and Great Britain for an amicable settlement of questions arising between them concerning the jurisdictional rights of the United States in Behring sea, and also concerning the preservation of fur seal in the sea, and the rights of the citizens or subjects of either country as regards the taking of seals in these waters. Therefore they have resolved to submit the questions to arbitration and plenipotentiaries. Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote have agreed to the treaty.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch says: The Cherokee land company went into the hands of a receiver Tuesday with assets of $600,000 and liabilities less than forty thousand. The company owns 600 acres of land immediately across the Tennessee river from Knoxville.

The news of Hon. Judson C. Clements' appointment as interstate commerce commissioners was heralded with great delight in Rome, Ga. Mr. Clements is universally popular in that city, and his appointment was a subject of great interest to his many friends in Rome.

Fire Tuesday morning at Birmingham, Ala., in Turner Bros. trunk factory caused a loss of about eight thousand dollars on the stock, which was insured for $5,000. The Levy Commission Company, in the same building, lost $2,000 on stock, insurance, $1 500. The loss on the building was $5,000, covered by insurance.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch says: The first friction growing out of the 10 per cent cut in furnace wages occurred Tuesday when the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company put the cut into effect. Their employes struck, but their places were soon supplied, the number of laborers wanting work being unprecedented.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch of Thursday says: Another fire brand has been thrown into the Alabama campaign. In Bibb county the convention went solidly for Kolb. The Jones men claim that it was irregular and an alliance instead of a democratic convention, and have called a mass meeting for April 16th to select a contesting delegation.

At Atlanta Thursday, the Southern Bell Telephone Company filed with Mayor Hemphill a bond for $10,000. It was filed with the mayor for his approval, and is the bond required of the company before it can begin to lay its wires under ground. The object is to secure the city against any damage that might be caused to the sewer pipes, or water mains by the laying of the wires under ground.

After a session of nearly three weeks, and the examination of nearly seventy-five witnesses, the Volusia county, Fla., grand jury adjourned at DeLand Thursday without having returned a true bill in the Packwood murder case. The negro Jenkins, charged with quadruple murder, and in custody since December was discharged, as no evidence was produced against him. Vigorous efforts were made to indict the alleged lover of one of the murdered women, but failed. The crime is still a mystery.

A telegram of Wednesday from Savannah, Ga., states that the new law firm of Harden, West & McLaws has secured instructions from a number of minority stockholders owning several thousand shares of Central stock to represent them at Macon on March 14th in a protest against the appointment of a permanent receiver. Lawyers have estimated that the expense of the litigation to the railroad before the end is reached may pass considerable beyond a hundred thousand dollars.

HE PLAYED POLLY.

Also Bought Lottery Tickets, Using His Employer's Cash.

A New York dispatch says: William A. Barry, of 526 Monroe street, Brooklyn, who has been for eleven years the confidential bookkeeper for Mattison Bros & Co.'s paper warehouse, at 16 Beekman street, was arrested Thursday and locked up at police headquarters, charged with embezzlement. His operations have extended over a period of about two years past, and in addition he had taken over one case thousand dollars of the firm's money. This was invented in different policy shops in the city. In the same time, he had won, in playing policy, $31,000, which he "played again in policy, making his total amount to over sixty-four thousand dollars. Eleven of the policy holders with whom he did business are now out under arrest, and hold the evidence.

ALABAMA COLUMN

Of News Notes and Items Gathered at Random from Over the State.

Mrs. Annie E. Semmes, widow of the late Admiral Raphael Semmes, commander of the confederate cruiser Alabama, died at her home in Mobile last Monday.

* * *

The school teachers of Russell county met at Seale to attend the county institute called by State Superintendent of Education Harris. The proceedings were interesting, the object of the institute being the co-operation of teachers, pupils and patrons in the cause of education, the interchange of ideas between teachers, etc. The next meeting will be held at Phenix City. Some interesting papers will be read on that occasion.

* * *

A valuable bulletin is being sent out from the agricultural experiment station at Auburn on the history and effects of glanders, with a description of the symptoms and differences of nasal, farcy and pulmonary glanders. The means of distinguishing glanders from other diseases and the best methods of disinfecting stables, yards, etc., when glanders has appeared, are carefully explained. The bulletin also shows the fatal character of the disease to animals and man, and the very great care a farmer must use in handling an affected horse. The bulletin is prepared by the veterinarian of the experiment station. Any farmer in the state can obtain a copy by addressing the experiment station, Auburn.

* * *

In their review of trade for past week Dun & Co., of New York, has this to say regarding the state of the iron and coal market: The only possible remedy for the trouble in the iron trade is to be applied, according to dispatches, by closing some of the furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys and in the Chicago district. Current prices are called about the lowest on record, southern iron being offered at $15.75 to $17. for No. 1, against $16.50 to $17.50 for northen. The coal market continues uncertain, as the combination is not ready to act, but the agents recommend an output of only 3,500,000 tons in March. All kinds of iron and steel are weakening at Pittsburg, manufactured and structural being lower with dull trade, and some puddling mills have closed.

* * *

According to the Chattanooga Times, the Chattanooga Southern road is not likely to be extended to Birmingham. It was the intention of C. E. James to build the road in that city, but the Times says that since General Burke has taken charge of the road, he has expressed a preference to have the road built in another direction. He stated to a Times reporter a week ago that it was more than likely that the road would be built to Montgomery, instead of Birmingham. He said the proposed route lay through a section of country almost without equal in point of richness of soil and wealth of ores and coal. It is not touched by any road, and would prove a splendid investment. General Burke said the road would be certainly extended in the near future or just as soon as all matters pertaining to the road were in a satisfactory condition.

* * *

It Will Help Alabama.

It was announced a few days ago on Wall street, New York, that the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company would probably absorb the Sloss Iron and Steel company and the DeBardeleben Coal and Iron company of Alabama. The announcement caused a sharp advance in the stock of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. The details of the consolidation of the three big companies have not all been arranged, but the name of the consolidated company will probably be the Tennessee and Alabama Coal and Iron company, and the capital stock will be not less than $25,000,000. The three companies own a majority of the coke furnaces in Alabama and Tennessee and the best and largest of the coal and iron mines. Regarding this the Age-Herald says: It will be a gigantic enterprise, and promises to unmeasurably strengthen Birmingham's position in the iron trade.

* * *

Col. Oates Soars.

The press gangs from Opelika that Colonel Oates' appointments to address his fellow citizens on political questions have been arranged and are as follows:

Lee county—Loachapoka, Wednesday, March 16; Beauregard, Thursday, 17; Golden Hill, Friday, 18; Opelika, Friday night, 18; Salem, Saturday, 19; Phenix City, Saturday night, 19; Seale, Monday, 21; Waverley, Tuesday, 22; Shawmut, Wednesday, 23; Fredonia, Thursday, 24; Spurgeon, Friday, 25; Mount Hebron, Saturday, 26; Loachapoka, Monday night, 28; Chambers county—Lafayette, Tuesday, 29; Valley Grove, Wednesday, 30; Fredonia, Thursday, April 1st; Mount Enon church, Saturday, 2d.

Col. Oates says there will be other speakers with him at many of the above appointments, and that the ladies are especially invited. He will divide time with any other candidate for congress who may desire to meet him.

* * *

Alabama Coal Boom.

According to the Mobile Register the announcement is made by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad company that all contracts are signed, sealed and delivered for the export of more than 300,000 tons of coal from the port of Mobile. The arrangement contemplates the delivery by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia at its Mobile wharves of 1,000 tons a day for a year. The points of shipment include Texas, Mexican and Cuban ports, one of the contractors being so large a consumer as the Mexican Central railroad. The coal will be loaded at the mines direct into the cars, switched on to the railroad's own tracks and unloaded into the vessels of the Mobile Transportation Company. The cost will thus be minimized, and the outlook is that Alabama coal will soon be filling the markets from Mobile around the entire coast. For a long time it has been apparent that we must develop a market to the southward. The Louisville and Nashville has been at work on the export of coal through Pensacola. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia links its fortunes to Mobile. Great are the coal fields of Alabama, and they are growing greater.

* * *

The State Fair.

With the prestige of a splendid success, a broader field to draw from, with no conflict with other fairs, and with greater efforts to be put forth than on any former occasion, Birmingham may with confident assurance predict that the great state fair for 1892 will eclipse all former efforts in the splendor and magnificence of its achievements. President Hawkins has about perfected arrangements placing the State fair in the Western-Southern circuit, which starts in the northwest and comes through Indiana, St. Louis and Nashville and Birmingham. This secures for the State fair such an array of fine horses as have never before been on any track in Alabama. The premium list will be out in May. In the meantime all are urged to prepare exhibits in the various departments—stock, field and dairy products. Most liberal premiums will be offered for cattle, especially the Holsteins and Jerseys. Special inducements will also be offered to the six county alliance or grange or club organizations making first entries. The first six to enter for premium, and making creditable display and failing to take a higher prize, will be awarded $50 each as a premium for being among the first to enter in the competition. This is done to encourage enterprise and energy and give assurance of some pay and compensation.—Age-Herald.

* * *

Governor Jones Sues The Alliance Herald for Slander.

Governor Jones has sued the editor of the Alliance Herald for damages in three cases, as shown by the following from the Montgomery Advertiser:

"Governor Jones, by his attorneys, Messrs. Brickell, Semple & Gunter and J. M. Falkner, has commenced three actions of libel, claiming $10,000 damages in each, against Frank Baltzell, editor of the Alliance Herald. All of these suits grew out of publications in the Alliance Herald, in its issue of March, 3, which repeats some former statements made in its issue of February 28.

The first suit is based on the statement that the governor made a recommendation regarding some bonds of the South and North Alabama railroad, which were invalid, and if his recommendation had been followed it would have cost the state $300,000, and the insinuation in the article that his recommendation was made in the interest of a former client. Hendon of the Advertiser who have perused the governor's two very vigorous cards on the subject are familiar with the grounds of his complaint or this score.

The second suit is based on the statement of the Alliance Herald as to the facts, and the motive imputed to the governor in pardoning Nathan Young. It was charged in the publication that the real motive was to accommodate an influential citizen who wanded Nathan to work on his farm, and that the judge and solicitor were all to recommend the pardon, etc., and that it was an outrage on justice.

The third suit grows out of the statement published in the Herald that the governor had promised that the governor had [illegible] to the two cases [illegible] and had [illegible] during the [illegible]

It is alleged in each case that the publications are false and defamatory, intervened to injure the plaintiff and create false impressions in the minds of the people that in the discharge of the duties of the office of governor, he had acted negligently or from improper motives, and against the interest of the people, etc."

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

Manager Todd and the Capital City oil works, of Jackson, Miss., denied the report that the cotton seed oil mills of Mississippi have combined.

An Indianapolis dispatch of Thursday says: President Frenzel has submitted his reply to the demands of the street car men, and his reply, while pacific, refuses every demand.

A cablegram of Tuesday says: The police of Vienna have issued orders forbidding the further distribution of free bread to persons who are out of employment and are in needy circumstances.

The Antwerp Handelsbad (newspaper) says that the United States recently made an offer to the king of Belgium to purchase Congo Free State, and to defray all expenses incurred by Belgium in connection with that country.

The steamship Rosa, which arrived at New York Tuesday morning from Santos, Brazil, was detained at quarantine. Yellow fever broke out among the crew while at Santos, and the first mate, engineer and one seaman died.

According to a cable dispatch all of the anarchists charged with participating in the recent attack upon the town of Xeres, who were tried by court martial that convened in Cadiz Wednesday, were acquitted. This decision was somewhat of a surprise.

A dispatch of Thursday from Terre Haute, Ind., says: Robert Musgrave, the life insurance swindler, was taken from jail into the circuit court, where Judge Taylor overruled his motion for a new trial and sentenced him to the state prison for ten years.

A cablegram from Berlin says: Emperor William is confined to his bed. His physicians say he is suffering from a slight cold. Some alarm, however, is felt concerning his condition, for it is known that on Thursday he had not received reports on the state business, which it is customary for the heads of different departments to make to him daily.

A six-story building at 195 and 197 Michigan street, Chicago, was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, causing a loss of $135,000. Among the principal firms occupying the building were the Chicago Paste company, the American Fruit company, the Costello company, chocolate manufacturers, and George Oborne, dealer in hides and wool.

A dispatch of Thursday says: The strike of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's shops at Indianapolis, which began three weeks ago, is likely to affect the entire system. Several car loads of men who were brought from the east since the beginning of the strike were persuaded not to go to work until Wednesday. Probably a strike will be ordered on the entire system against piece work.

A St. Louis dispatch of Thursday says: The Catholic Knights of America, through the officers of the various state jurisdictions, have instructed the supreme president, J. D. Coleman, to begin legal action against the bondsmen of the late supreme treasurer, W. J. O'Brien, who took funds of the order to the extent of $76,000 sometime ago, and it is supposed suits will be instituted without delay.

A dispatch from Helena, Ark., says: The exodus of colored people from this part of the state to Oklahoma still continues. Already the negro population of this country has been visibly decreased by emigration. Thirty families left Wednesday for the "land of promise," while others will follow as soon as they get money to defray expenses. Poor crops and hard times are the causes for the move. Oklahoma seems to be the destination of the emigrants.

A Washington dispatch says: Senator Calvin S. Brice returned from New York Wednesday. He has been there consulting with the other directors of the Richmond Terminal about the Central railroad. Mr. Brice would express no opinion as to what the Terminal intended doing, but said that he did not believe the value of Central stock would be depreciated by the present situation. He thinks the action taken to place the road in the hands of a receiver was done by attorneys who cared more to bring themselves into notoriety than for anything else.

A very important decision was rendered in the circuit court at Bloomington, Ill., Thursday, which has a bearing upon the business of all insurance associations. It was rendered in the case of Mrs. Maggie Belcham, widow of Thomas Belcham, of Bloomington, versus the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Mrs. Belcham's husband carried a life policy for $2,000 in this order for twelve years, but was expelled from the order a few months before his death for drunkenness. A claim was made by Mrs. Belcham that when he was expelled her husband was insane. The verdict rendered gives Mrs. Belcham judgment for $2,115.

GRAIN STATISTICS.

Their Distribution as Reported by the Agricultural Department.

The March report of the distribution of wheat and corn by the statistician of the department of agriculture at Washington makes the stock of wheat in the growers' hands 171,000,000 bushels, or 28 per cent of the crop, 83,000,000 of spring wheat and 108,000,000 of winter wheat, much of the latter in states which have practically no commercial distribution, but entering into local consumption for bread and seed. This is the largest reserve ever reported, that of the largest previous crop of 1884 being 169,000,000 bushels.

Exports from July 1st to March 1st were 164,000,000 bushels, the fall seed 36,000,000 bushels, consumption apparently 200,000,000, but the larger proportion is taken for consumption is proportionately greater than in spring and summer. The assumed consumption from March 1, 1891, is 300,000,000 bushels for a population of 64,300,000.

The estimated quantity of corn in farmers' hands is 860,000,000 bushels, or 41.8 per cent. of the crop. This is the largest proportion ever reported, that of 1889 exceeded, which was 45.9 per cent., or 970,000,000 bushels. The seven principal states have a surplus on 140,000,000 bushels, or 41 per cent. of their product, against 667,000,000 from the great crop of 1889. The proportion merchantable is the largest ever reported—88.5 per cent., against 85.7 two years ago.

L. L. POLK TALKS.

He Explains His Status in Regard to the Third Party.

A Raleigh, N. C., dispatch of Tuesday says: At last L. L. Polk has defined his status. It can be now positively stated that he is an enthusiastic advocate of the third party. He declares that he believes it will sweep the west, and will have a very large following in the south. He says he does not propose to have state tickets, but that a national ticket will be voted for. In Tuesday's issue of the Progressive Farmer, Col. Polk's paper and the organ of the state alliance, is an address signed by the North Carolina delegates who attended the St. Louis convention, in which they declare themselves in favor of the third party, unconditionally endorse the platform adopted there, and call upon the people to elect only men who will carry out the third party principles set forth. Among the names to the address are those of Marion Butler, president of the state alliance, and E. C. Bedding, late state secretary, and now member of the railroad commission.

MISSISSIPPI'S COTTON CROP.

Preliminary Statistics of the State's Production Issued from Washington.

The census office has issued the preliminary statistics of cotton production in Mississippi. The acreage of cotton in that state in the years 1889-90 was 2,882,490, the number of bales produced 1,154,406, not including linters; average yield per acre, four-tenths of a bale and total value of the crop to producers $50,484,053. The figures reported at the tenth census for the years 1879-80 were as follows: Acreage, 2,106 916; number of bales, 963,111, and yield per acre, forty-six-hundredths of a bale. No attempt was made at the tenth census to ascertain the value of the cotton crop which it reported, but it was estimated by the department of agriculture at $38,923,600. The figures now issued are subject to slight modification in the final report, which will also include cotton seed and other branches of cotton investigation which the census office is engaged in.

CONGRESSMAN KENDALL DEAD.

Stricken With Apoplexy and Death Quickly Comes.

A Washington dispatch says: Representative J. W. Kendall of Kentucky died suddenly at his residence in this city Sunday morning, and all of the [illegible] were without having [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 17, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year . . . $1.00
One copy six months . . . 75
One copy four months . . . 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

R. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. O. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILL H. SARTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. I am subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

Very respectfully,
G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

B. M. GENTRY.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce D. A. WHITE as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.

E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR TREASURER.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce SEABORN JONES as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce G. A. NORTHINGTON, as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

J. W. MOORE.

Gov. Jones, while holding a reception last week, was complimented by the singing of a song parodied in his honor. The first two verses were complimentary of himself and enjoyed, but the third verse commencing with a slur on Kolb, he suppressed the whole thing at once.—Ala. Mirror.

The foregoing is evidence that Gov. Jones has a thorough comprehension of conventionalities and proprieties, even though a political opponent is the one to be considered.

Hon. Frank L. Pettus of Dallas received the largest vote cast in the primary election of his county last week for representative. This is the fourth time Mr. Pettus has been thus honored. It is understood that he will be a candidate for Speaker of the House. His ability, experience and high sense of honor, give him the necessary qualification for the position and the Standard votes "aye" for his election.—Marion Standard.

The Cincinati Enquirer, which claims to be a Democratic newspaper, but generally manages to knife the party nominees, and which is now booming Senator Hill for the presidency, recently undertook to poll all the Democratic papers in Ohio as to their presidential preferences. One hundred and twenty Democratic editors responded, and of the number, one hundred and one were emphatically in favor of Grover Cleveland. The other nineteen were scattering, only eleven declaring for David B. Hill. This was pretty bitter medicine, but the Enquirer had the fairness to publish the poll.

While congress is in session, Senator Hill, of New York, is parading over the country in an effort to boom himself for the Democratic presidential nomination. The party in New York, finding it impossible to teach an old dog any of its new tricks, has dropped Cleveland, and sends out the chief trick-mule in the circus, in the person of Senator Hill, to visit this portion of the Democratic vineyard, where the Atlanta Constitution and its second fiddle, the Birmingham Age-Herald, have endeavored to work up a sentiment in favor of Hill's patent back-action double-spring bottomed India rubber convention-choking methods. In spite of the Age Herald's side show to the Constitution's Hillism and namby-pambyism, the Democratic party in Alabama is almost certain to hold to the original ten commandments in voting for a national standard bearer. Over in Georgia, where the devil broke loose many years ago and became so popular that he has ever since been allowed to roam unshackled, politics may be different. Alabama will worry along without any of the New York or Georgia article. It might not be wise for the Democratic party to nominate Cleveland since his friends at home have been throttled and he cannot carry his own State in the convention, but it would not be the least bit wiser to nominate Hill who will likely not carry any State but his own. The unlimited escape of political gall and gas from the Hill organs mentioned will serve to prevent an explosion which might otherwise blow the circus and its chief trick mule into kingdom come before the exhibiton closed.

Representative Moses on the Alliance.

"It was a convention of cranks," said Representative Moses, of Georgia, to the National Democrat. "On the surface everything looked fair enough, but the whole programme was mapped out and understood by the leaders. It was a third party affair from beginning to end. Not a single opportunity was lost to emphasize this fact. The Southern Alliance, who were pronounced in their opposition to any political action whatever, were gagged and suppressed, and nothing but fear of an Alliance rebellion prevented the formation of a third party. The alleged conference committee is a mere sham. The ticket which will be named at Omaha is already fixed, but I am just from Georgia, and so far as that State is concerned, the movement is a complete fiasco. It has some strength but is growing weaker every day. Not more than six counties in the State are effected by it to any great extent. Possibly it may control 20 per cent. of the Alliance vote, and its only hope is in fusing and coalition with the Republican party. Whilst this would make the movement, it would necessarily be disastrous to the Democratic ticket. A great deal, I may say all, depends upon what action this congress takes on the tariff and free silver bills. The farmers demand this legislation, and the Democratic majority in the House must respond promptly to their demands in order to prevent the stampede and revolt that the third party people predict and expect." Speaking of Col. Polk, the president of the National Alliance, Mr. Moses said: "Polk is a candidate for a place on the national ticket. Disguise it as he may, it is a fact, and he is ready to sink his state (North Carolina) for the empty honor."

"We issued our six thousandth license last night," said Deputy Collector Barrett, recently, at City Hall. "That is high water mark in the history of the office—that is, if you speak of water in connection with saloon licenses." Six thousand saloons in Chicago! Three million dollars revenue every year! What a splendid exhibit! On the other hand, six thousand saloons, or one for every two hundred people; one for every forty families; one for every thirty voters. That means ten saloons to every school; fifteen saloons to every church. It means six thousand saloons with an average of three votes assured—counting proprietor, bartender and roustabout. Is it not reasonable to suppose that each saloon controls seven votes more, making ten in all, or a total of sixty thousand saloon votes in Chicago, where there are but 172,352 in total?—Ex.

There are a few candidates out in the bushes yet, who should put their names before the people.

Hon. John Purifoy.

Hon. John Purifoy, of Wilcox county, is a candidate for state auditor before the next Democratic Convention. Mr. Purifoy was the first Democrat in Wilcox county elected to the probate judgeship after the reconstruction era. He served in that office to the entire satisfaction of his people. He was a member of the last state legislature, representing Wilcox county in the house.

Judge Purifoy is an able, pure upright citizen. He has numerous warm personal friends all over Alabama. He is well fitted for the position of Auditor. He has been in public life in some capacity for twenty years, his popularity and merit induced his home people to thus honor him. The trust could not be confided in a better man.

Gives Up Dallas.

The Birmingham Age-Herald, in its effort to be fair, acts upon the suggestion of the Executive Committee of Dallas, and puts 9 out of the 26 votes of that county in the Kolb column. The Age-Herald and all others, in estimating the struggle of the candidates for Governor, should give the 26 votes of Dallas to Gov. Jones. To do otherwise in misleading, and an injustice to all concerned. Dallas will never give a vote or fraction of a vote to Capt. Kolb. That may be depended on, and all estimates of the strength of the respective candidates for Governor, based on any other calculation than this is erroneous and misleading.—Mont. Journal.

Criticism, Not Abuse.

The Hill people complain at what they call the abusive newspapers. These gentleman only assume these virtues forgetting that Mr. Hill's only organ in New York city has been abusing Mr. Cleveland like a pickpocket for six years. It absolutely lives on the abuse of this great democrat.

But we quite agree that abuse of Mr. Hill is wrong. It should not be indulged in by good party men. Of course we don't mean to say that the lack of virtues and strength had not best be pointed out before rather than after his nomination.

Anything that may be said afterwards, the existence of which will cost the nominee a vote, should be known and discussed and discounted now. This is highest party duty.

We want to win and in order to do it we don't want to risk a candidate who doesn't combine in himself some winning qualities; and you can only find that out by discussion and only avoid the danger by public criticism.

If Mr. Hill is vulnerable we should know it now.—Eufaula Times.

Several of the Journal's exchanges are spreading themselves on the subject of passing the bottle around. The idea is to let another pair of lips fondly encircle its mouth and another throat make the satisfied gurgle, and the inference is that this should be done just to keep the bottle circulating. Now all of this is an attack, covert and stealthy, upon the candidacy of Hon. Jno. L. Cobbs, who is a candidate for the office of State treasurer, and as the Journal has stated before it is not the plan of campaign which would win. If Mr. Cobbs has been unfaithful in the discharge of his duties, or incompetent to properly discharge them, an open fight should be made all along the line, and he should be defeated. If there is no issue between the present state treasurer and his gallant young opponent on the score of fitness of either, then their candidacy is merely a test of personal popularity, and the shibboleth of this campaign is not, and should not be: "Pass the demijohn 'round."—Montgomery Journal.

A critic, drawing a comparison between Henry Ward Beecher and Charles H. Spurgeon, says: "Their agreement and disagreement in theology may be thus expressed: Both labored with zeal and sincerity for mankind; but Charles H. Spurgeon believed that in the next world impenitent sinners are in hell; Henry Ward Beecher believed that in either world hell is in impenitent manners."

Congressman Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, says: "Both the sub-treasury scheme and free coinage are losing strength among the farmers. In my opinion the former will be adopted while the latter must give way to the tariff."

Judge P. O. Randolph, of Montgomery, was charged by the Alliance Herald with visiting Washington in order to induce Congressman Herbert to enter the race for re-election. Judge Randolph denied the charge as a libel, and in his usual terse and pat style described the authors as "two adventurers from Pike." This fit Baltzell and Wiley close enough to pinch, and they replied to the description in different ways, Baltzell by a personal assault. The Herald started the personalities.

An "Alliance Democrat," writing to the Age-Herald, of some of its editorials, has this to say of the gubernatorial race:

The Democratic party is menaced by more divisions than ever known before, and an effort to force upon the party, by unfair means, any man or set of measures, will bring ruin either to the originators, or the party. We are an Alliance-man, and on this truth we assert that Kolbism, McCunelism and the sub-treasury will be defeated through the intelligent portion of the Alliance, and through the same means the Third party movement will cut no figure in the South.

They are making bricks of sawdust now in the great lumber towns, at once offering a means of disposing of the great nuisance, sawdust, and giving a new industry. The new brick is said to be as good as the common clay article for building, and for wear it is said to be superior to clay brick.

The friends of Hon. John F. Burns are confident that he is an available man for Congress and they are asking all classes to help them elect him. He is one of the people, and his record is known. He is known well over the State and out of the State.

The Kansas City Star perpetrates a few pounds of sense, thus: There is a good deal of "poor" talk in this country, and one set of politicians indulge in so much of it that they have come to be called leaders of the "calamity party." But look at Russia, which the United States is now called on to help feed; look at the capital of Germany, vocal with the cries of riotous and starving men, look at Austria, with the government giving out 12,000 loaves of bread every day, and thousands going away hungry. Who ever saw or who ever expects to see, anything like that in the United States? England is more favored than most of the continental countries, but in London there are more paupers, more people unable to get a living, than there are indigent people in all the United States.

Baltzell, the editor of the Alliance Herald was arrested for criminal libel on Friday last. He was placed under bond to have a hearing to-day.

Montgomery county went almost solidly for Jones. Pike was won by Kolb. Montgomery has 19 votes in the State convention and Pike 6.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Barren Chimney View:—In the issue of a Union paper of March 3d, I find a communication signed by P. M. Moore, of Dixie, highly endorsing and recommending for Senator from this district, Mr. L. H. Reynolds, of our county. I have considerable county pride, and particularly in those who are to make laws for the development of our county. I am desirous that our Senatorial district should be represented by an able, pure and sound Democrat. Now I do not think Mr. Reynolds fills this measure. As to his voting the Democratic ticket perhaps none will deny, but in his lecturing tour for the Alliance he advocated and endorsed the Ocala platform in its entirety; and every true Democrat knows that portions of that platform cannot be rammed down the throats of those who do not run after fads ideas and new theories gotten up to disrupt and destroy the party which has always been the bulwark of personal and religious liberty. Surely, Mr. Editor, from the counties of Chilton, Elmore and Shelby we can get a man qualified who walks in the footsteps of men like Jefferson, Jackson and others of our own State, who have never failed to cry aloud and warn the people when such dangerous doctrines as the Ocala platform, are attempted to be thrust upon the people of this country. K. WELLS.

March 13, 1892.

Mr. Kolb denied the Guice cotton transaction and has published a statement which Mr. Guice says is not the truth.

[Advertisement.]

MR. EDITOR:—Having seen in the columns of the VIEW kind expressions about the patriotic candidates who are willing to serve their country, I offer through the columns of our county paper, a few remarks about W. H. Sartor, now a candidate for circuit clerk. Mr. Sartor has been known to the writer of this from his boyhood. He comes before the public without a stain upon his character. He is a good Democrat, has been in business from his early boyhood, was born in Chilton, and is in fact a Chilton county man. He certainly deserves a liberal support from the people among whom he has always lived. A FRIEND.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria has well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion.
Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRA... WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great ca... from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and Americ... CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Confirmation Spect... Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure... possible. Clocks, Watches, and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repair... All work guaranteed.
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills
and all kinds of Machinery and
Mill Supplies. Write for circulars
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specialty Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting
Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 17, 1892.

SOUTHERN R. R. ALA. BRANCH.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING NORTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop 5:00 a. m.
No. 3 Mail 5:55 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation 8:05 a. m.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 2 Fast 9:22 a. m.
No. 4 Express 2:35 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation 6:05 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 4 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Man Who Announces.

The New Decatur Advertiser gives this timely warning from "one of the brotherhood":

The man who runs for office,
And announces not his name,
Will never reach the pinnacle
Of fortune and of fame.

But he who joins the race,
And announces as he goes,
Will surely reach the place
Where silver money grows.

So now dear candidates,
Consider not so long,
Turn loose your little bundle
And join the merry throng.

Capt. W. A. Smith, of Dixie, was in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. T. B. Holly visited Atlanta on business last week.

Mr. Kin. Wells, of Verbena, visited Clanton Monday.

Mr. Glaucus Evans, of Anniston, visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. Zella Givhan has returned from a visit to relatives in Montgomery.

Miss Mary Hester, of this place, is visiting relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. G. C. Hanks has closed his school in the Lowe neighborhood for the session.

Mr. E. M. Barrett, of Clanton, visited his Verbena friend Saturday and Sunday.

Miss French Evans has returned home after a visit to relatives in Randolph and Anniston.

Mr. Bill Boyd is walking with a crutch this week. He jumped from a train and hurt his hip and back.

There was a sociable given to the young people of Clanton last week at the residence of Mr. J. P. Palmer.

Persons having business with the the publisher can nearly always find him at his residence when not in the office.

Mr. John Hester, our former operator, has secured a position at Day's Gap, on the Georgia Pacific railroad as operator.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Smith and daughter, of Prattville, returned home Wednesday after a pleasant visit to friends and relatives here for the past week.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins visited our city on Friday last, and the VIEW had the pleasure of a visit from him. He counts upon the Dallas delegation voting as a unit for him in the congressional convention.

A brother editor congratulates his community upon the fact that there is so much good will among its people. That is something upon which a community is to be congratulated. Life in such a community is more pleasant and agreeable to all than it is in one where envy and jealousy causes unreasonable ill will to predominate. Good will between town and country is also desirable. Why not take this matter home with you?

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 50 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

Mr. T. B. Holly will soon go into the Life Insurance business with headquarters at Troy, Ala.

Thos. Foshee, of Maplesville, was in town Tuesday and brought along a portion of his new gustee.

Two men met and adjourned to a neighboring saloon to talk over old acquaintances. In answer to inquiries as to the different members of his family, one man said: "My eldest girl thumps the piano." "And her sister?" "Oh she thumps the washboard." "But your wife?" "She thumps me."

A tramp printer comes into this office every now and then. These journeymen printers hail from every country where civilization has taken a foothold. The last one who came in was a native of Germany. There is generally a mite at this office for each one, though some of them are quick to observe that the town has been overcrowded with printers ever since the VIEW was established.

O. H. P. Wright.

Mr. Wright's friends announce him as a candidate for Probate Judge. Mr. Wright is the popular book-keeper of the Gregory & Coe Lumber Co. at Stanton. He is a gentleman of culture, and is thoroughly fit and capable.

Seaborn Jones.

Mr. Jones is announced as a candidate for county treasurer. Besides being a most deserving Democrat, Mr. Jones has the backing of a numerous and influential family connection. The office will be well filled if he is elected.

D. A. White.

The VIEW announces Mr. D. A. White for the office of Tax Collector. Mr. White filled the office of tax collector for two years in our county by appointment of the Governor, and gave satisfaction. He will make a good race.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending March 4th, 1892.

Misses Lonnie May Lane, Jessie Gilchrist, Pallie Chandler and Annie Lane.

Master R. Q. Lane.

Honor Roll.

At the Public School for two weeks.

2nd Grade—Annie Lake Phillips, Hattie Bell Aldridge, Mattie Sue Chandler and Clifford Gulliahorn.

3rd Grade—Lula Dudley, Rufus Gartman and Willie Marsh.

5th Grade—Mamie Nelson, Willie Dora Robinson, Bell Athey and Bartley Boyd.

Notice to Confederate Soldiers.

The funds raised to pay the applications made last year by maimed soldiers and the widows of deceased soldiers will not be ready for distribution before about the first of next October and the same time for each year. I will give notice in the VIEW when the funds are received. Yours truly,

H. J. CALLEN,
Judge of Probate.

We Have Seen

A young man sell a good farm, turn merchant, break and die insolvent.

A farmer spend so much time in town that there was nothing at home worth looking after.

A worthy farmer's son idle away the prime of life in dissipation and end his career in poverty.

A farmer too self-conceited to mend his way and too obstinate to mend his footsteps.

A poor boy grow rich by industry and good management, and a rich boy grow poor by idleness and dissipation.

A man spend more money in folly than would support his family in comfort and independence.

A farmer deliver a fine oration at the agricultural fair with his fence all down, fields overgrown with weeds, stock foraging on a neighbor's field and his tax unpaid.—Indiana Farmer.

He Spoke His Piece.

An amusing incident occurred in the circuit court Monday. A negro boy being tried for stealing two pairs of trousers and having no lawyer, Judge Campbell asked him if he desired to speak. He promptly replied in the affirmative and fired, "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck" at the judge and jury.—West Point (Miss.) Forum.

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Stanton Notes.

Mr. John Coleman and Miss Jennie Fox were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's father near this place Sunday morning, March 13th. Rev. Mr. Baird performed the marriage ceremony.

Verbena Views.

A negro by the name of Tom Jackson was riding on Pratt Saw Mill log train, something broke about the engine, he got frightened and jumped off. He fell under the train, which ran over his legs and mashed them badly. Doctors amputated them, and he died soon after.

Mr. Eugene Barrett, of Clanton, spent Sunday in our city.

Miss Fannie Nix, has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in the capital city.

Mr. G. A. Robbins, candidate for congress spent Saturday in our city.

Dr. Alex Claughton, has gone to the Magic City to live.

Miss Lee Collins, of Gadsden, and Miss Kate Mughat, of Hayneville, two charming young ladies, are visiting friends in Verbena.

Miss Lucas Brooks, one of our most lovely young ladies, gave her young friends an entertainment on the evening of the 11th. It was a most enjoyable occasion. All who attended had a delightful time.

Miss Inez Northington has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Autauga.

Mr. Frank Baldwin has been taking in Montgomery and the Magic City. We guess he will make that plow and horse get up now.

Jones' Club Organized at Verbena.

After short notice the people of Verbena and surrounding country met at the Academy on 26th of Feb. for the purpose of organizing a Jones, Club.

Col. B. J. Baldwin was elected chairman and B. S. Williams, secretary.

Pursuant to resolutions passed at that meeting there was a meeting of said club at the academy Tuesday, March 1st, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of permanently organizing and getting to work.

The club was temporarily organized with 38 members. Had a membership at second meeting of 68, and has at present 101 members.

The following officers were elected: Dr. H. W. Caffey, President; P. C. Dennis, Vice President; B. S. Williams, Secretary; L. Beard, Assistant Secretary; G. H. Green, Treasurer.

Dr. Caffey was elected permanent chairman with power to appoint four others, of a working committee. He appointed Col. B. J. Baldwin, F. A. Gulledge, A. J. Brooks and J. A. Mitchell.

The Secretary was instructed to post notices inviting all white voters to attend our meetings and also send synopsis of the meeting to the CHILTON VIEW with a request to publish it.

The club will meet at the academy every Saturday night at 9:30. All white voters are cordially invited.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Capt. J. M. Falkner will address the citizens of Chilton county at Verbena on Saturday, March 19th, 1892, in the interest of Governor Jones.

Hon. R. F. Kolb has been invited to meet Capt. Falkner and discuss the issues involved in the campaign, and in case he cannot come, send such representative as he may select. Time will be divided fairly. Everybody invited to come and hear for themselves. Speaking at 2 p. m.

COMMITTEE.

March 10, 1892.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

ED. VIEW:—Please announce in your paper that there will be public speaking at the following places and dates named:

Valley Creek,	March	18th,
Prilgrim's Rest,	"	19th,
Friendship,	"	22nd,
Reform South,	"	23rd,
Evergreen,	"	24th,
Providence,	"	25th,
Cane Creek,	"	26th,
Union,	"	29th,
Mount Zion,	"	30th,
Clanton Alliance,	"	31st,
Providence, beat 2, April		1st,

By publishing the above you will confer a favor and oblige.

Yours Respectfully,

L. H. Reynolds.

Jemison, Ala., March 5th, '92.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

ALMOST A FAILURE OF COTTON.

The Lowest Prices on Record Reached and Brokers Are at Their Wits' End.

LIVERPOOL, March 8.—Cotton men are at their wits' end. Cotton has reached the lowest price on record, and in the last three weeks the members of the Liverpool Cotton Exchange were compelled to find a million and a half pounds to settle the difference on the wrong side.

The cotton trade has been completely demoralized by the heavy fall in prices of raw material. Many large Lancashire mills have incurred serious losses as the result of their operations during the past three months. In the case of the Star Mill, 101,398 spindles, the deficit was £4,096, while that of the Woodstock, 73,308 spindles, was £698.

A considerable percentage of these losses may be set down as due to speculation in futures by the directors who did not foresee the downward movement, which has resulted in a fall to the level of prices in 1855, when middling New Orleans was quoted at 3 3-4 d., and the stock in Europe reached 1,219,000 bales, or 207 weeks consumption.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "cheapest, best and highest honored College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, 80 from Alabama attending last year, 15 efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It is endorsed by award of Highest Honor at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including scores from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Type-writing, Telegraphy, &c. taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business Scholarship in this famous College, which will be disposed of on reasonable terms, to a deserving young lady or gentleman.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2684, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 23 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 26, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2637 for the e w ¼ of n e ¼ and n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Burdine Hightower, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Atchinson and Wiley Atchinson, all of Randolph, Ala.

feb18o8 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., February 6, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Madison Tyus, homestead 19023 for the w ½ of s e ¼ of sec 25, township 20 n, range 15 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Kate Price, James Cooper, Ed. Cooper, Lewis Price, all of Verbena, Ala.

feb11o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 8, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 19, 1892, viz: Avery Wilson, homestead 17833 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 28, township 21 north, range 14 east. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Alfred Hill, Walter Hay, John R. Watson, John Bentley, all of Clanton, Ala.

feb18o8 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.

—18 COMMERCE STREET,—

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Ruffner Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CIRCULARS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. Their prices will be found as low as any house.

Ware, Pope & Dockery, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[2-2]

J. H. SHEPHERD
THE LEADING
PHOTOGRAPHER.
—OF—
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
NORTH SIDE SECOND AVENUE
(Between 19th and 20th Sts.)
Photographs of All Kinds Work Done in the BEST STYLE.
Call on him and have your picture taken. [mar24-y

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue
H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25 9z]

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale contained therein, executed by J. W. Heidley to H. Ehrman, which said mortgage is duly recorded in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton county, Alabama, in book 72, page 208, the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property, to-wit: The northeast quarter (n e ¼) of of section thirty-three (33), township twenty-one (21), range sixteen (16), lying and being situated in the county of Chilton, and State of Alabama; and One Cheadle and Taylor engine, One Lane & Bodley saw Mill, One Shingle Edger, One Circular Saw, Two Trust Cars, One Top Saw, and all fixtures in the way of belting, piping and pulleys connected with said above mentioned machinery, and which said machinery and mill are now upon the lands above described.

MONDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH, 1892,

H. EHRMAN,
By HENRY H. EHRMAN, His Attorney.
March 9, 1892-4t

A HELPFUL VIRGINIA GIRL.

In the family of George Munday, living between Waterford and Wheatland, the father, mother, a son, and daughter were all down with the grip, leaving only the youngest daughter, Florence, about eighteen years of age, to aid the rest. She attended to the household duties and the sick, and for two or three days fed and curried six horses, fed and milked six cows, and also walked through the snow about a quarter of a mile carrying corn, and when she reached them, feeding it with straw and fodder to thirty head of cattle. Having to go to a neighbor to send for a doctor for one of her sick, their condition was discovered, and of course there was plenty of help afterward.—Richmond Dispatch.

TREND OF FEMALE THOUGHTS.

The latest index of the British Museum furnishes some interesting data as showing that while woman, as a subject of interest, as a problem to be solved, as a possible outcome, was never of more importance than during the past ten years, the aspect of her case changed materially in that time. These indexes are issued every five years and include the subjects of all books published in every civilized country during the previous five years. A comparison of the two indexes issued during the past decade shows that works on the social position of women increased in the last half of the decade, as compared with the first, from fifty-four to seventy-two; on education of woman, from eighteen to twenty-five; on employments of women, from nineteen to twenty-seven; on women's clubs, from three to ten. Dress reform, on the contrary, decreased from seventeen to four, and works on dress, dressmaking, needlework and embroidery, seventy-eight to sixty-four. These figures are more significant from the fact that books on tailoring in its higher aspects, as indicated by such a title as "Philosophical Work of F. Pickle on Cutting Gentlemen's Dress," increased from twelve to twenty-three. Perhaps the most significant decrease is that from 116 to seventy in works on marriage. From this it may be argued that women of to-day are much more interested in questions of education and employment and of making for themselves a place in the world than they are in dress, fashion or any feminine vanities, and that marriage alas! difficult as it is to believe, is having less place in their thoughts than of yore.

ANGLO-SAXON GIRLS.

Few things are more noticeable at assemblies in these islands "of fair women and brave men," as the poet says, than the improving physique of the Anglo-Saxon girls. Whatever class may be the subject of observation in this regard, the same feature seems to prevail throughout. If Lord's cricket ground, for example, be visited at the time of a great gathering of the aristocracy, as on the Oxford and Cambridge cricket match, or the Eton and Harrow match, the one thing which cannot fail to attract attention is the remarkable predominance of tall and divinely fair girls who are to be seen gracefully strolling over the grounds during the intervals between the innings. Then if the scene be changed and the observer makes his way into the parlor of middle-class persons, the same prevailing "tallness" of the fair attendants will again meet his gaze. Thus abundant evidence is forthcoming that this is by no means an isolated feature of the maidens of the United Kingdom, but that it prevails, on the contrary, throughout all classes. Judging, however, from the prominence, which it has gained during the past three years, there is quite the possibility that it will develop in time into a racial characteristic. The women of ancient Lacedæmon, we are told, were specially instructed to "put on" as much muscle and as little clothing as possible. Each of these instructions, however, was given, so to speak, as a matter of business, in view of the warlike virtues which were required to be fostered by the race. But England is not Sparta, and the tallness and good physique of the girls in this country are features which are not wooed as the result of commands, from the Secretary of State for the War Department, but merely as the outcome of healthy exercise, indulged in for the sake of amusement. Thus lawn tennis and other outdoor games in this country are producing an effect upon our race which could scarcely have been anticipated.—British Medical Press and Circular.

FASHION NOTES.

Sleeves and collar of Persian lamb are seen with dresses of black cloth.

The fashionable muff is very small; indeed, no larger than is absolutely necessary.

Some very handsome sleeves and collars of sealskin are made for tailor costumes.

A white enamel apple blossom, with the edge of the petals overlapped with frosted gold and a jeweled centre, is a new and pretty brooch.

Pretty dresses of gray stuff are trimmed with shoulder frills, cuffs and collar of red chiffon. Chiffon is still the favorite material for bodice vests.

The striped moires are still in demand, but for rich visiting and reception toilets uncut velvet is being depended upon more than for years back.

A caprice of the mode is a walking dress, half-cloth, half velvet, which, if the materials are both in the same shade, or in rare harmony, may pass with taste.

Yellow velvet pastiles and Van Dyke panels are on white tulle. This design is duplicated in black and in scarlet. Sapphires and pearls are diamonded over a white net.

It is seldom, indeed, that there is offered so pretty a fabric for so little money as the Yeddo crepe shown this season. The colors are varied and are all well produced. Even the black is not bad, and the white is prettier than any other white goods of like grade. The pale pink and blue are each excellent. This material makes pretty evening gowns for house wear, and will be a dainty addition to the list of simple summer dresses.

CURIOUS FACTS.

Monkeys are worshiped in some parts of Africa.

Hares turn white in the Arctic Circle in winter.

Ten days per annum is the average amount of sickness in human life.

Philadelphia, Penn., is to try the pneumatic tube system for her mails soon.

The Chinese cultivated wheat 2700 years before the beginning of the Christian Era.

Recently, at Amador, Cal., a block of marble weighing 100 tons was quarried and cut up into columns for a new public building.

A recent issue of the London (England) Times contains 157 death notices, and the average age of the descendents was over sixty.

The musk antelope can send forth such such a powerful odor of musk that even at the distance of 100 yards he can smother his enemy to death.

Lancaster County, in Pennsylvania, grows more tobacco than any other county in the United States. The crop grown there in 1889 amounted to 19,217,800 pounds.

An experienced dealer in watches says he has known many men who have tried to wind their watches every morning instead of at night, but he has never known one to succeed.

Incitatus, the famous horse of the Roman Emperor, Caligula, was actually consecrated as a priest, had a manger of pure ivory, and was never given a drink from anything but a gold pail.

The Algerians know what a real plague of grasshoppers is. In one district of that country alone over 50,000 gallons of the eggs of the pest were gathered and burned last year.

Lobsters often travel in regiments, seeking new feeding grounds. Their migrating armies are always led by the biggest and strongest ones, while the maimed and weakly struggle along behind.

Disraeli is said to have remarked: "When I meet a man whose name I cannot remember, I give myself two minutes; then, if it be a hopeless case, I always say: 'And how is the old complaint?'"

Weaving appears to have been practiced in China more than 1000 years before it was known in Europe or Asia. The Egyptians ascribed the art to Isis, the Greeks to Minerva and the Peruvians to the wife of Manco Capac.

Western Washington loggers tell of an immense log recently floated down the Snoqualmine River which five oxen had difficulty in hauling. It was a fir log thirty-two feet in length and eighty-nine inches in diameter at the largest end.

To protect itself from the rain the orang-outang crooks its arms over its head. The hair on the orang's upper arm points downward, while on the lower arm it points upward, the apparent purpose being to shed the rain like a thatch.

The old "Parliamentary oak" tree in Clipstone Park, London, England, is believed to be 1500 years old. The famous "Cowthorpic" oak is seventy-eight feet in circumference at the ground, and at one time its branches covered more than an acre of space.

As a memento of the French Exhibition at Moscow, the Empress of Russia has been presented with a large egg of enameled silver. Inside the egg there is a bouquet of violets composed of diamonds, held together by a ribbon of the same stones. The egg is suspended from an artistically arranged ribbon of pink enamel.

The fact that the oil of eucalyptus was used at Sandringham as a disinfectant during the Duke of Clarence's illness, has given London a new fad. The druggists have trebled the price of eucalyptus oil on account of the sudden demand, and the railroad cars and stations, omnibuses and even the streets are said to smell like a paint shop.

Judge Gilmore, of Columbus, Ohio, has a very fine watch. It is known as the Eclectic, and is the only watch of that name ever made. Everything about the watch is hand made and full jeweled. The timepiece was made in Switzerland by special order and cost $600. The Judge has carried it twenty-five years and it never varies.

Sunlight as a Disinfectant.

A well known physician told me recently that sunlight is the greatest disinfectant known to medical science. Two hours of strong sunlight on the clothing or bedding of a scarlet fever or diphtheria patient will kill the germs more effectively than any chemical disinfectant. He asserted that disease among children would be lessened fully one-half if all the little ones could sleep in bright, cheery rooms, where the light of the sun is admitted during the day in unstinted quantity. It is, however, customary, especially with people who live in flats, to put the children to bed at night in a dark inside room, where no sunlight can ever possible penetrate. In many more homes the blinds are kept down in midday for fear the sunlight may fade a carpet, a rug or some prided drapery. What matter if the children do fall ill, so long as the colors remain fast in the carpets. But the people who board don't care for the colors in the carpet, and the carpets in most boarding houses are not afflicted with colors which the sun can affect.—New York Advertiser.

Successful Skin Grafting.

General John B. Hamilton, surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital Service, has successfully accomplished a skin grafting operation on a woman patient, aged forty, at the Presbyterian Hospital, Chicago, Ill. She was horribly burned with kerosene, her entire left side, left shoulder and arm having been laid bare. Dr. Hamilton decided that a skin-grafting operation could be made a success.

He called for volunteers among the lady's relatives, and her daughter and husband agreed to surrender a portion of their cuticle. At that time Surgeon Hamilton secured enough skin to cover a large portion of the burned surface. The skin adhered well and grew. The other day the operation was completed, several friends of the woman offering to surrendered what skin was needed. The transfer of cuticle was successful, the burned surface being well covered with the transferred skin.—New York News.

The six woolen mills of Lawrence, Mass., used 6,950,000 pounds of wool in 1870, and during the year just passed 31,126,000 pounds.

A Sympathetic Boy.

Young Hopeful—"Papa, it worries me awful to think how much trouble I give mamma."

Papa—"She hasn't complained."

"No, she's real patient. But she often sends me to the stores for things, and the stores is a good ways off sometimes, and I know she gets most sick waitin' when she's in a hurry."

"Not often, I guess."

"Oh, she's most always in a hurry. She gets everything already for bread, and finds at the last minute she hasn't any yeast; or she gets a pudding all fixed, and finds she hasn't any nutmeg or something; an' then she's in an awful stew cause the oven is all ready, and maybe company comin'; and I can't run a very long distance, you know, and I feel awful sorry for poor mamma."

"Humph! Well, what can we do about it?"

"I was thinkin' you might get me a bicycle."—Street & Smith's Good News.

A Monotonous Diet.

De Buyer—"If your Florida orange grove is as profitable as you say, why do you want to sell out for a mere song?"

De Seller—"Well, the fact is, I am a little tired of oranges."

"Tired of them?"

"Yes, I want to live where I can change off on beefsteak and potatoes once in a while."

Friend—"I see you are still giving vast sums to charity. If you keep on much longer you will have nothing to leave your relatives."

Rich Man (who is weary of reading about will contests)—"They can apply to the charities, you know."—New York Weekly.

Best of All

To cleanse the system in a gentle and truly beneficial manner, when the Springtime comes, use the true and perfect remedy, Syrup of Figs. One bottle will answer for all the family and costs only 50 cents; the large size $1. Try it and be pleased. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Only persons who can read and write are permitted to vote in Bolivia.

BROWN'S Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates an appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

The largest telescope in the world is the one on Mt. Hamilton, San Jose, Cal.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

"I HAVE BEEN AFFLICTED with an affection of the Throat from childhood, caused by diptheria, and have used various remedies, but have never found anything equal to Brown's Bronchial Troches."—Rev. G. M. F. Hampton, Piketon, Ky. Sold only in boxes.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

BEECHAM'S PILLS will cure wind and pain in the stomach, giddiness, fullness, dizziness, drowsiness, chills and loss of appetite.

At all times, in all places, on all occasions, under all circumstances, for all headaches use Bradycrotine only. Fifty cents.

Mrs. W. R. Francis

is the wife of one of the best known pharmacists in New Haven, doing business at 141 Dixwell Avenue, and ex-President of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical Association. He says: "My wife was for several years in bad health, due to a complication of disorders. Friends persuaded her to take Hood's Sarsaparilla; she is certainly a good deal better since every way."

For Ladies,

Hood's Sarsaparilla is especially adapted, and will cure difficulties peculiar to the sex. Read this: "For over 2 years I suffered with a till I was a confirmed invalid, blood poor, appetite gone, bowels out of order, and miserable in mind and body. I read of such wonderful cures performed by Hood's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would try a bottle, as, if it didn't make me better, it could not make me worse.

Complication of Diseases

It Did Make Me Better

and on my third bottle I found myself almost a new woman. I will gladly convince any lady, as I have proved myself, that purifying and enriching the blood, which does to perfection, is the best Constitutional Treatment, and in many cases does away with all Local Treatment in the many diseases with which women are afflicted." MRS. MARTHA BEED, 1026 Ramsay Street, Baltimore, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Habitual Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

"August Flower"

"I am ready to testify under oath that if it had not been for August Flower I should have died before this. Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I employed three of our best doctors and received no benefit. They told me that I had heart, kidney, and liver trouble. Everything I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. August Flower cured me. There is no medicine equal to it." LORENZO F. SAWYER, Appleton, Maine.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.

TO PRESERVE SCRUBBING-BRUSHES.

Scrubbing-brushes should be kept with the bristles down and they will last twice as long. Common sense will tell you if you stand them the other way the water will run down and soak into the back, loosening the bristles, whether they be glued or wired.—New York Journal.

COPPER STEWPANS.

The reason why copper stewpans are considered desirable is that in the first place they are more durable, far outlasting any other; and secondly, being thicker, they cause the heat to be more uniform, hence they are preferred by our "cordons bleus." On the other hand, they require to be frequently retinned, and become a source of danger unless kept perfectly clean and bright inside. For this reason, doubtless, they are much less used than formerly, which is very detrimental to the look of the kitchen dresser, as "bright coppers" give an air of cheeriness and well being to a kitchen that is very attractive.—New York Tribune.

TO CLEAN WHITE FURS.

Very few people know how to clean white furs, and it may, therefore, be of interest to learn the method recommended to a Bazar writer by the famous St. Petersburg (Russia) furrier, Cubanis. The furs must first be washed with tallow soap and lukewarm water, and then rinsed with a weak solution of crystals of soda, all the soapsuds being removed from the fur with a hard brush. Should there be dark stains, such as are made by carriage grease or other fat substances, on the fur, it will be necessary to rub them with benzine a few hours before washing it. It sometimes happens that in spite of this treatment the furs retain a yellowish hue; this can, however, be removed by bleaching them in the following manner: While still damp the articles must be immersed in very cold water, in which four pounds of sulphuric acid of natron have been diluted. After an hour's soaking, four pounds of salic acid are added to the mixture, which must be well stirred. Whilst the furs are in the fluid the vessel containing them should be tightly covered, so as to exclude the action of the air on the acids. Lastly, the furs must be rinsed several times with pure cold water.—Boston Transcript.

THE SCIENCE OF DUSTING.

It is a science, since the doctors have discovered for us that the furnishings of our houses are the camping ground of lively unknowables called bacteria, writes Helen Watterson. The removal of dust is, therefore, not only a performance of esthetic necessity, but of the greatest sanitary importance as well. It is not going too far to say that there is just as much need of classes in the hygienes of cleaning and dusting as there is of cooking classes.

The simple displacement of dust isn't dusting, and the whisking of the feather duster is no more evidence of cleanliness than the possession of many books nowadays is an evidence of learning. A room is dusted only when the dust is taken out of the room and that is done only when it has been carried out of the room. This is done by using a soft, slightly dampened cloth to dust with and by wiping the surface of each article slowly and with care not to throw the particles of dust up in the air, whence they will settle again instantly somewhere else.

The utility of the feather-duster except for walls is to be doubted, and even for walls a soft cloth is better. A thin silk cloth or a piece of cheese-cloth makes a good duster. So does a soft, firm woolen cloth, but linen and cotton flannel leave lint behind them. One woman uses all of her worn-out silk stockings for dusting and still another makes loose mittens out of old woolen which she puts on as dusters. A turkey's wing is admirable to get the dust out of chinks and between rails and chamois gives a last polish better than anything else. The best polish in all the world to keep furniture from looking dingy is the following: Two tablespoonfuls cotton-seed oil, one tablespoonful turpentine. Instead of cotton-seed oil grout oil and good vegetable oil may be used. This should be well rubbed into the wood and then a last polishing given with chamois. This is the recipe of a famous furniture dealer in New York.—Chicago News.

RECIPES.

Squash or Pumpkin Pies—Pare, boil and salt the vegetable; to one quart of it take two quarts of scalded milk, two cups of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and ginger, some grated nutmeg and six eggs. This will make six pies.

Graham Muffins—Sift one and one-half cups of wheat flour, two teaspoonfuls of cream tartar and one of soda, a teaspoonful of salt and three teaspoonfuls of sugar on a cup and a half of graham flour. Stir into the dry ingredients a cup of milk and two eggs. Beat well and bake in muffin pans. Rye meal is delicious made by this rule.

Golden Cream Cake—Cream three-fourths of a cup of butter, add slowly two cups of sugar, add four eggs, one at a time, without first beating them. Beat well. Mix two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with three cups of flour, and add this alternately with one cup of milk. Bake in layers. This makes a yellow cake, which is more attractive with cocoanut filling.

A Game Soup—Break up the carcasses of the birds, seasoning them with white pepper, parsley, a bay leaf, a bit of lean ham, adding water or weak stock. After boiling well strain the liquor obtained from this, and mix is carefully with a brown roux (i. e., equal parts of butter and flour, cooked together till perfectly smooth and a deep brown), add the juice of several oranges, with some of the rind carefully peeled, a glass of red jelly and two or three peppercorns. Give this another heating and serve.

Baked Indian Pudding—Scald one quart of milk in double kettle, add three tablespoonfuls of sifted Indian meal, letting it run through your fingers slowly and stirring with the other hand. Let it cook ten minutes, then add two spoonfuls of butter and take out of kettle. Grease a two-quart basin or pudding-dish and pour it in. When cool enough add three eggs, beaten with four tablespoonfuls of sugar, a quarter of a teaspoonful of ginger and a little salt. Stir all well and bake one and a quarter hours.

Salaries and Duties.

He—"I think we need not worry about the future. I am now getting $2,000 a year as second assistant sub-editor of the Daily Bower."

She—"Yes, but you are killing yourself doing two men's work."

He—"I know; but before long I may be promoted, and then I'll get $3,000 for doing one man's work; and, if I have patience, I will eventually reach a position where I will get $5,000 for doing nothing at all."—New York Weekly.

Made an Impression.

Mr. Saphead (sighing)—"I wish you could find something about me to like."

Miss Beauti (kindly)—"Well, Mr. Saphead, there is one thing about you I like very much."

"I am glad to hear you say so. What is it?"

"You make short calls."

If your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

In New York city last year, 128 persons were arrested for attempt at suicide.

The worst cases of female weakness readily yield to Dr. Swan's Pastiles. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

COPYRIGHT 1891

There's nothing left of Catarrh, when you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. With the poisonous, irritating snuffs and strong, caustic solutions, a good deal is left. They may, perhaps, stop it for a time, but there's danger of driving it to the lungs. They work on false principles.

But Dr. Sage's Remedy cures it, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. Not only Catarrh itself, but Catarrhal Headache, Cold in the Head—everything catarrhal in its nature. The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. So will yours. You may not believe it, but the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy do.

And to prove it they make you this offer:

If they can't cure you, they'll pay you $500 in cash. It's a business proposition from a responsible house.

But do you think they'd make it if they, and you, couldn't depend upon their medicine?

ADVICE TO WOMEN

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

CARTERSVILLE, April 26, 1888.

This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect is truly wonderful. J. W. STRAHAN.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed FREE, which contains valuable information on all female diseases.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Before the cause of consumption was known (that was only a few years ago) we did not know how Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil did so much good in consumption and in the conditions that lead to consumption.

The explanation is interesting. We send it free in a book on CAREFUL LIVING.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

If you have Malaria, Piles, Sick Headache, Costive Bowels, Dumb Ague or if your food does not assimilate, will cure these troubles. Sugar coated. Price, 25c. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP, for the Skin, Scalp and Complexion. Sold by all druggists. Sent by mail, 25c. Send for Dermatology and Beauty, illust'd; on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and Blood diseases and their treatment, sent sealed for 10c.; also SHAVING SAMPLE for 2c. stamp. Facial Blemishes, Moles, Warts, Superfluous Hair, etc., removed. Address JOHN H. WOODBURY, DERMATOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, 125 West 42nd Street, N. Y. City. Consultation free, at office or by letter. Advice relating to each person.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest.

CATARRH

Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

KANSAS FARMS and Mortgages and all rights and others. Write for sale. List free. OMAR E. WOOLEY, Osborne, Kan.

THE KISS IN THE DARK, by JOHN CHURTON COLLINS. Cloth, gilt top. Price $1.00. Sold by all booksellers, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price by the publishers, THE CASSELL PUBLISHING CO., 104 & 106 Fourth Ave., New York.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. Advice free. Terms low. Highest references. Best results.

CURE FITS! When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

A. N. U. [illegible]

The Best Blood Remedy

IS SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, because it never fails to force out the poison; it builds up the system with new rich blood, and it is harmless, because entirely vegetable.

Mrs. E. J. ROWELL, No. 21 Quincy Street, Medford, Mass., says that her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S. S. S., after having had much other treatment and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she would not live.

"Having suffered much from contagious Blood Poison, after using half a dozen bottles of Swift's Specific I was restored to perfect health, and all eruptive sores disappeared.—J. CROSBY BROWN, 208 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa."

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.

SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

KLY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

Given Relief at once for Cold in Head. Apply into the Nostrils. It is Quickly Absorbed. 50c. Druggists or by mail. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Liquids, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

DR. HARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

TRADE MARK

DO NOT GRIPE NOR SICKEN. Sure cure for SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid glands. They restore vital organs; remove nausea, dizziness. Magical effect on Kidneys and bladder. Cheaper than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent." Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with sample. DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

ACTUAL SIZE.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, purify the blood, are safe and effectual. The best general family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom or disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over-eating are benefited by taking a TABULE after each meal. Price, by mail, 5 cents for 12 bottles, 60c. Address THE RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

AGENTS 100 PER CENT and all the STAPLE Prizes on my Combs, Belts, Brushes and Medicines. Sample free. Territory, etc. Bridgman, 218 Bway, N.Y.

Cheaper than Barb Wire.

HUMANE, STRONG, VISIBLE, ORNAMENTAL.

HARTMAN WIRE PANEL FENCE.

Double the Strength of any other fence; will not stretch, sag or get out of shape. Harmless to Stock; a Perfect Farm Fence, yet Handsome enough to Ornament a Lawn. Write for prices, Descriptive Circular and Testimonials, also Catalogue of Hartman Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Tree and Flower Guards, Flexible Wire Mats, &c.

HARTMAN MFG. CO., Beaver Falls, Pa.

SOUTHERN SALES AGENCY, 51 and 53 S. Forsyth Street, Atlanta, Ga.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM & MULLEIN CURES COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES

Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN,

Is a fine Calf Shoe, made seamless, of the best leather produced in this country. There are no tacks or wax threads to hurt the feet, and is made as smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. It is as stylish, easy fitting and durable as custom-made shoes costing from $4.00 to $5.00.

This shoe has been on sale throughout the United States over eight years, and has given excellent satisfaction, as the increasing sales show. We are now selling more shoes of this grade than any other manufacturer in the world. Try a pair—you cannot make a mistake. One trial will convince you that it is the Best Shoe in the World for the Price.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES.

W. L. DOUGLAS FINE CALF HAND-SEWED $4.00 and $5.00 SHOES for Gentlemen are very stylish and durable. Those who buy this grade get a bargain, as shoes of this quality are sold every day from $6.00 to $9.00.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE CALF SHOE is made with three heavy soles, Extension Edge; it gives excellent satisfaction to those who want a heavy shoe for cold, wet weather. If you want to keep your feet dry and warm, buy this shoe. One pair will last a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 and $2.25 SCHOOL SHOES are worn by the boys everywhere. They are made strong, stylish and durable.

CAUTION. W. L. DOUGLAS' NAME AND THE PRICE is stamped on the bottom of each shoe. Look for it. Take no substitute. If your dealer cannot supply you, send direct to factory, enclosing advertised price, or order of nearest agent. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

It is a duty you owe to yourself and your family during these hard times to get the most value for your money. You can economize in your foot-wear if you purchase W. L. Douglas Shoes, which, without question, represent a greater value for the money than any other make in the world, as thousands who have worn them will testify.

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the S. F. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw milling. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 50 miles south of Birmingham and 42 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1892. NUMBER 21.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, 10 cents per line.

Obituaries and resolutions of societies, candidates for office will be handled as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

A Winter Song.

The soft snow whirls like a ring-dove's feather
That is tossed and blown by the breath of May,
An icy hand holds the brook in tether,
The sad wind dirges the passing day;
But you, love, and I, love, happy together,
Laugh though the skies be gray.

Mirth and joy are the draughts we mingle,
And pledge King Winter a lusty reign;
We pile the logs on the roaring ingle,
And tune the lute to a lover's strain,
And marry song to the strings that tingle
With never a note of pain.

They say that May is the month for mating,—
When the leaves break bud and the songsters woo;
We wish all well in their weary waiting
For the pied-green meads and the arching blue,
But there's life and love in these airs elating,
And this is the time for two!

—[Clinton Scollard, in Frank Leslie's.

A TRAMP'S STORY.

"Yes, boss, I've been trampin' many a year now. I ain't been able to stay quiet more'n a day at a time. Mebbe you won't believe it, but I'd give up a fortune rather'n leave the road and wear good clo's an' go to church and be a respectable citizen."

The speaker was a picturesque old chap, with an intelligent face, white, tousled hair, bright, searching eyes, a slouching gait and a general air of devil-may-care contentment that went a long way to prove a famous philosopher's assertion that the vagabond's life is the happiest. I had met him on a lonely road in Westchester County and, struck by his appearance, had given him some small change and asked a few questions about his mode of life.

"You see, sir, it was in this way," he continued, noticing my look of interest and seating himself on a stone wall by the roadside. "I'd been comin' East from Ohio with an old pard of mine, stealin' rides on bumpers and workin' the cooks for grub. It was summer, and we'd had a pretty easy kind o' time till we struck this part o' the country. They don't seem to like our kind o' cattle here, and things went hard with us.

"One day 'bout sunset my pard and I was lyin' under a tree playin' cards. We hadn't had nothin' to eat all day and was tryin' to keep our minds off our stomicks. Pretty soon Foxy—what all us tramps called my pard—threw down his cards and said:

"'Look here, Nosey—a pet name he had given me—'I ain't goin' to stand this no longer. See? Money's too tight. I'm going to do the crooked. See?'

"'What do you mean?' says I.

"'I'm goin' to tap a fat crib tonight and you are goin' to help me.'

"'I can't,' says I, 'because beyond bein' a beggar and a tramp, I ain't no lawbreaker.'

"'Yes, you are,' says my pard, lookin' at me ugly like. 'There's a rich old duffer over yondor who ain't got nobody in his house but a cook and his little girl. See? I went to the kitchen this mornin', but the old man was there, so I didn't get nothin', but I see how easy it was to get into the house at night. There's a big dog on the place, but we can fix him easy enough. Now, I bet you, pard, there's a pile o' swag in that house, and you and me's goin' to have some of it. See?'

"I didn't like the job, but I was hungry and desprit, and Foxy always had a stronger will'n mine. And so I give in and agreed to do the trick.

"We waited till long towards midnight and then crep' towards the house. It was dark and silent as a dead man. Suddenly the dog began to bark. We waited awhile till the brute got quiet. Then Foxy, who always carries a piece of poisoned meat with him—he won't my dog [illegible] threw the stuff to the purp. It was easy sailin' after that. Foxy had a long knife with him and had no trouble in pryin' open the kitchen door.

"The first thing we did was to make for the closet—Foxy knew where it was—and eat what we could. There was cheese and crackers and bread, and I began to feel glad I'd followed Foxy's lead. Then we opened the door into the dinin'-room. We hadn't no lantern and ran again' a chair and made an orful racket.

"'Stop that, you fool!' whispered Foxy. 'Stand still.'

"We waited full twenty minutes, but there was no stirrin' overhead. While we were standin' the moon had come up, and by its light we could look about us. There wasn't much worth takin' in the room 'ceptin' the furniture, and we didn't have no van.

"'He's an old miser,' whispered Foxy. 'He's got all the swag upstairs.'

"We stole into the hall and began to climb up to the second story. The stairs creaked and every instant I feared we'd get a ball from the old man's gun. But Foxy went ahead without turnin' a hair, and I followed with my heart and a lump o' the cheese in my throat.

"When we reached the landin' we didn't know where to turn. All the doors leadin' into the upper hall were shut, and we were in the dark. Gropin' around, Foxy finally found a knob. Softly turnin' it, he entered a bedchamber. The moonlight poured in through an open window, and there, sittin' upright in bed, with a look of fear on her pretty face, was a little girl.

"'She'll yell if I don't stop her blab,' whispered Foxy, stepping quickly towards the child. I could see his knife gleam in the moonbeams.

"Springin' forward, I placed one hand around his wrist and another on his throat. Trippin' him backward, I threw him to the floor. On the instant the little girl found her voice and screamed out for help. Her father rushed in and found me on top o' my pard and the child in a dead faint on the bed.

"'What's all this?' he asked, as calm as a hay-rick.

"'This man's a burglar,' I said, 'and he tried to knife the child.'

"'You lie,' cried Foxy; 'I ain't no burglar, and I wouldn't kill a fly.'

"By this time the cook had brought a lamp, and the youngster had regained her senses.

"'Take his knife away and let him up,' said the farmer.

"I did as he directed, and Foxy stood up, the toughest lookin' burglar you ever see.

"'I'll kill you,' he said to me, and I knew the varmint meant it.

"'Well, my story's gettin' too long. The old man shook my hand, and the little 'un, lookin' like a picture in her night dress, run up to me and asked for a kiss. But I didn't kiss her. I felt too mean.

"They put up Foxy in the crib for three years, but the old man wouldn't enter a charge agin me. Far from it. He begged me to stay and do chores around the house, and little Maggie said I mustn't go away or she'd cry. And so I stayed on for a while till the old man, who'd been awful shocked by Foxy's attempt, took sick and began to go down fast.

"Callin' me to him one night, he said: 'Lood shere, you saved Maggie's life. Now I'm a-goin' to quit, and I want you to look arter her. I'm worth more money'n anybody knows, and I'll give you a good round sum to become the decent citizen you had oughter be, and stick by Maggie when I'm gone. This ain't no bluff. I'll put a scrollk—or some such thing—in my will and give you $10,000. Are you with me or agin me?'

"I didn't know what to say at first, but after thinkin' the matter over for a while, I said:

"'No, I'm a tramp, and that's all there is in it. I don't like workin' and don't want no money. I like Maggie, but she'll be a long sight better off without me than with me. I'm sorry you're goin' to die, but leave all you swag to the kid and let me go my way.'

"Then I said good-by to the old man, took a last look at Maggie and started again' on the road. Oh, I tell you, boss, if you have once been a tramp there ain't nothin' in Jay Gould's safe as could tempt you. Good-day, sir, and may heaven bless you for what you've done for me."

Then the old fellow shouldered his bundle, took up his staff and trudged on towards Pelham.—[Albany (N. Y.) Press.

The Brown Shark of Florida.

The common brown shark, which attains a length of nine or ten feet, is one of the most abundant species off Florida, except the dog-fish, or sea-hound, which seems to be omnipresent in all brackish water in the state during the summer. The dog-fish must live on the pigmies of the finny race, judging from the familiarity with which it is treated by mangrove snappers and mullet, for I have yet to see these species flee from it or display the least sign of fear. I have, in fact, seen shoals of mullet playing around a group of dog-fish as unconcernedly as if they were so many chubs, and small sheephead nibble at their tails. These incidents occurred in a river not a mile from the Gulf of Mexico. The brown shark is, on the contrary, a terror to the smaller fish, and the presence of one is sufficient to send every mullet and trout rushing precipitately to distant and safer quarters. The brown shark moves in large shoals during the spawning season, and devours enormous quantities of fish, its appetite seeming insatiable. It is also more quarrelsome than usual then, and ready to resent any objection to its tearing open the seines of fishermen and liberating all of the catch it cannot devour. It may be seen in company of the shovel-nose and hammerhead sharks, crowding all the inlets that connect the Indian River with the Atlantic Ocean during the ebb and flow of the tide in summer, and feasting on the fish that throng these narrow passages at such times. I think that more sharks can be seen at a glance in Jupiter Inlet and its neighborhood at half flood any time during the summer than in any other place on this continent, and of this number I should estimate half to be the brown shark, the others including nearly every species in the sea.—[New York Post.

Wearing Out Shoe Leather.

"I have but one maxim for you," said a successful and wealthy merchant to a young man who went out of his employ to enter upon the study of a profession, "and that is never to try to save your shoe leather, but always to be economical of the cloth that forms the seat of your trousers."

The young man pondered this bit of advice a long time, but he thinks that he never fully understood it until he had been at work in his profession for several years.

He found, indeed, that "worn out shoe leather" was a good investment. It meant, for one thing, keeping up with the time by gaining information at first hand. If he needed any fresh bearing upon his profession, he said to himself: "I can buy them with a little shoe leather," and he went out and saw the man who had the facts to give him.

If he had waited for them to come to him probably they would never have come. He could not pay the car-[illegible]

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—After unimportant routine proceedings in the house Monday, the floor was awarded to the committee on the District of Columbia. Measures relating to the administration of the local government occupied the greater part of the day's session. The house then went into committee of the whole on the army appropriation bill. There was little opposition made to the measure, and Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, who had charge of it, steered it cleverly through the legislative breakers, but as the hour was growing late, the committee arose without disposing of the bill, and the house adjourned to Tuesday.

TUESDAY.—In the house, on Tuesday, Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, from the committee on postoffices and post roads, reported a bill to repeal the mail subsidy act. It was placed upon the calendar, and the minority was granted leave to file a minority report. Mr. Sayers, of Texas, presented a conference report on the urgent deficiency bill, and it was agreed to. As finally passed, the bill appropriates $469,041, being $41,227 more than was carried by the bill as it passed the house, and $38,244 less than it carried as passed by the senate. The house then went the committee of the whole—Blount, of Georgia, in the chair—on the free wool bill.

WEDNESDAY.—When the tariff debate was taken up in the house Wednesday Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, took the floor, and delivered a speech that will make him famous. He spoke for nearly three hours being requested, after his limit of one hour, to go on by members of both sides. There was not a dull sentence nor a dull word in the entire speech. Not a man left his seat the whole time. It was a magnificent effort, perfect in every way. Nothing like it has been heard on the floor of the house for twenty years. Men who have served in congress from ten to eighteen years say they have never heard a tariff speech to equal it. No effort of Carlisle, Morrison, Mills, or any of the recognized tariff orators, has ever touched it. His argument was simply unanswerable in every particular. At the opening of congress Speaker Crisp appointed Mr. Bryan, who is only thirty-one years of age, as one of the new men on the ways and means committee. Mr. Bryan wanted it, and when the speaker talked with him a few moments he discovered that he would make no mistake to so recognize the young man. To the average member, however, the appointment was a surprise, but now, since he has demonstrated his fitness for the place, his appointment is hailed with delight by democrats.

THURSDAY.—In the house, Thursday, on motion of Mr. Cox, of Tennessee, a bill was passed, authorizing the St. Louis and Birmingham Railroad Company to construct a bridge across the Tennessee river at Chilton, Tenn. The house then went into committee of the whole (Mr. Blount, of Georgia, in the chair) on the free wool bill. Mr. Payne, of New York, entered into a defense of the McKinley tariff act. Mr. Ellis, of Kentucky, spoke in advocacy of the pending measure. The basis of the entire tariff, he said, was the woolen schedule, and it was the duty of the democratic house to break through this schedule and thus cause the entire structure to totter. At the conclusion of Mr. Ellis's speech the committee rose and the house adjourned.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—In the senate, Monday, a conference was ordered on the urgent deficiency bills, and Senators Hale, Allison and Cockrell were appointed conferees on the part of the senate. The senate at 2 o'clock went into executive session. When the doors were reopened, after being closed for half an hour, the senate resumed consideration of the postoffice building bill. At 4 o'clock the senate again went into executive session, on motion of Mr. Sherman, and at 5:35 o'clock adjourned until Tuesday. Among the papers presented at the opening of the day's session was a protest by the missionary conference of the Methodist Episcopal church against the enactment of further oppressive legislation against the Chinese people, as tending to cripple the missionary work in China through retaliatory measures. There were also hundreds of petitions presented from [illegible] praying for legislation against [illegible] Sunday, and various [illegible] against [illegible]

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, Mr. Hale, from the committee on naval affairs, reported a bill for the construction (by contract) of three battle ships of from 7,500 to 10,000 tons displacement, two armored coast defense vessels, five gunboats of 800 to 1,200 tons displacement, and eight first-class torpedo boats. Three million dollars is appropriated for their construction and $1,000,000 for their armament, and $500,000 may be expended in torpedo experiments. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations. The calendar was taken up and the bills disposed of as follows: To extend to the port of St. Augustine, Fla., the privileges of the first and seventh sections of the act for the immediate transportation of dutiable goods. Passed. For the investigation of the claim for fuel used by the army for property in Chattanooga known as "Cameron Hill." Laid aside without action.

THURSDAY.—The day in the senate was taken up with the calendar, and only routine business was considered.

NOTES.

The publication of Mr. Cleveland's letter to General Bragg, of Wisconsin, Tuesday morning created much gossip about the capitol.

Mr. Oates of Alabama, by request, has introduced a bill in the house to issue $1,000,000 to each of the congressional districts of the country for the purpose of enlarging the national banking system.

Colonel Moses, of Georgia, made an argument before the committee on pensions Monday in favor of a general bill, placing all the survivors of the Indian wars upon the pension list at from eight to twelve dollars a month. The committee agreed to it and instructed him to draw up the bill. It will be reported to the house next Monday. Colonel Moses says there are about four thousand soldiers and six thousand widows.

The senate, on Wednesday, confirmed the nomination of Mr. Clements, of Georgia, as interstate commerce commissioner. He will be officially notified and sworn in within a few days. His first active duties will, perhaps, be in Atlanta, where the commission goes next Thursday. Mr. Clements has many friends in Washington and from them he has received hearty congratulations. As his position is practically a life one, he will, perhaps, purchase a home at the capital.

Mr. Oates, of Alabama, on Tuesday submitted to the house the report of the judiciary committee, to accompany a bill to change the naturalization laws in many particulars and to make naturalization a matter purely judicial in its nature to be tried by a suit in court. The report says in part: "The loose manner in which aliens have been naturalized in many places of late years has been most shameful and in utter disregard of the requirements of our laws, as they are entirely too liberal and inefficient in their provisions. The naturalization of aliens recently arrived from abroad, and knowing nothing of our institutions and government just before election, with a view to making votes, has been resorted to in several localities. It states where only a declaration of intentions to become a citizen is the essential qualification of the alien to make him a voter, the greatest and most unblushing violations of the spirit of the law have been perpetuated.

HE PLAYED POILCY.

Also Bought Lottery Tickets, Using His Employer's Cash.

A New York dispatch says: William A. Barry, of 526 Monroe street, Brooklyn, who has been for eleven years the confidential bookkeeper for Mallison Bros. & Co.'s paper warehouse, at 18 Beerman street, was arrested Thursday and locked up at police headquarters, charged with embezzlement. His speculations have extended over a period of about two years past, and in that time he had taken over over one thousand dollars of the firm's money. This man he invested in different policy shops in the city. In the same time, he had won, in playing policy, $26,000, which he spent again in policy, making his total loss amount to over sixty-four thousand dollars. Seven of the policy holders with whom he did business were also put under arrest, and held for examination.

THE PLAN ABANDONED.

The Richmond Terminal Could Not Raise the $500,000,000.

A New York dispatch says: The directors of the Richmond Terminal company stated Friday that the five hundred million reorganization plan had been abandoned, but that another plan was being arranged, in which the Georgia Central system will hold its present [illegible] Gould system will hold its [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 24, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year . . . $1.00
One copy six months . . 75
One copy four months . . 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
R. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. G. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILLSARTOR, JR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. I am subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

Very respectfully,
G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.
P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
B. M. GENTRY.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce D. A. WHITE as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

To the Democratic Voters of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for Tax Collector subject to the action of the Democratic party and most respectfully ask your support. If honored with the nomination, I promise to devote my time and ability in faithfully performing all duties devolving upon me.
E. L. McKEE.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.
E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR TREASURER.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce SEABORN JONES as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce J. M. PARRISH as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
J. W. MOORE.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The friends of F. B. BALDWIN announce him as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature subject to the Democratic primary.

NOTICE.

The County Democratic Executive Committee will meet at Clanton on Tuesday, March 29th, 1892. As business of importance will come before the committee a full attendance is desired.

J. H. BOSTWICK,
Chairman.

It seems now that Democratic candidates all over the county will submit their candidacy to the primary election. They could not afford to set any other example.

The Memphis Commercial is the now-a-days the strongest and best paper editorially that reaches this office, not even excepting the New York dailies.

In these times of discord the people need leaders who are not strong-headed, but stout-hearted. The record of Thos. G. Jones has proven him to be such a man.

It is generally conceded that whether Governor Jones appoints Hon. J. R. Dowdell to the vacancy on the Supreme bench or not, that distinguished gentleman will be one of the Supreme Judges of Alabama for the incoming term. He stands out before the people of the State as the man for the position.—Exchange.

HILL IS DEAD.

Though in a Political Sense Only, According to Henry Watterson.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Henry Watterson called upon Grover Cleveland to withdraw from the struggle for the presidential nomination. The editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal thinks the Democratic party would commit political suicide if it placed Cleveland at the head of the ticket.

Mr. Watterson left Chicago for his home to-night. Before taking the train for Louisville he looked over the written report of the interview previously had with him and pronounced it to be a correct exposition of his views.

"I have never indulged myself in much hero worship," said he. "Any good democrat whom the National convention may see fit to nominate may suit me. If I had to put a man in the White House it would be Mr. Carlisle. I regard him as the best equipped Democrat in public life. He is able and honest. He is sound to the core, and has the courage of his convictions. He was in the leading Democratic tariff battles when Mr. Cleveland was mayor of Buffalo. He would make an eminent president. Turning him aside anybody would suit me if he does not come from New York. The factions there have made the nomination of any New Yorker impossible. Gov. Hill has killed Mr. Cleveland, and in doing so, has killed himself.

"The nomination must come West or go to Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or Maryland."

Tuskaloosa County on the Governorship.

Our neighboring county gives its seven votes to Kolb. The striking feature of the primary there is that the most ignorant, unenlightened portions of the county went for Kolb, while the towns and sections where intelligence and education and refinement prevailed voted for Governor Jones. This was noticably the fact with the city of Tuskaloosa. It is a place of great educational institutions, one of the noted centers of education in the South. Her citizens are unusually refined, intelligent and educated. She voted nearly five to one for Governor Jones.

If Kolb's pachydermatous pride was in any sense vulnerable he would not show himself in an intelligent community. He never opens his mouth in such a community without putting his foot in it. His presence, his language, his ignorance, his egregious assumption of importance repel intelligent people. It is one of the anomalies of this country that such men have the cheek to aspire to high office. In most communities the candidacy of such a man for such an office would be looked upon as a joke.

We believe this campaign will sound the knell of Kolbism, and that Alabama will never again be disgraced by its inhabitants giving a following to the aspirations of a man like Kolb.—The Bessemer.

An Unmixed Fraud.

We notice that some of our secular contemporaries are playing the old game of offering a special prize to that one of their subscribers who will be the first to tell them where such and such a word occurs in the Bible. It is our duty to say plainly that this is an unmixed fraud, and no paper that has the least regard for its reputation will be guilty of practicing it. Any child of ten years can take a good concordance and find any word in the Bible in two minutes. We were amazed a year or so ago when the originator of this scheme not only wanted us to publish it in the Advocate, but tried to make us believe that it was designed to promote the study of the word of God. If he had called another time, we should have invited him to leave our office. Nothing but the lamentable ignorance of the general public makes it possible that so shallow a piece of humbuggery should be perpetrated. We warn our readers to beware of it, and notify them that it contains an element of dishonesty.—Nashville Christain Advocate.

More: that man who is compelled to read the Bible through mercenary motives will not have his moral understanding strengthened. The Bible is a book to be read studiously and thoughtfully, and its superficial reading is often the cause of infidelity and skepticism. For these reasons this paper has refused to lend aid in disseminating the newspaper Biblical lottery literature.

The Texas senatorial question is yet undecided. Mr. Mills' prospects for election appear to be good though it is thought Gov. Hogg may enter the race, if for no other purpose than to defeat Mr. Mills.

THE STATE COMMITTEE.

No Powers Were Assumed, But Simply Carried out Instructions.

Col. H. C. Tompkins, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, is out in a card in the Evening Journal as follows:

As you said a few days since in an editorial that the State Executive Committee had assumed the power of passing upon the rights of delegates, in case of contests, to seats upon the floor of the Convention, will you please, in justice to myself and other members of that Committee, publish this card.

At the last State Convention preambles and resolutions were introduced and referred to a Committee, of which Hon. E. T. Taliaferro, of Birmingham, was chairman, unanimously reported, recommending the adoption of the preamble and resolutions, and they were adopted by the Committee. The preamble and resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, heretofore, both in State and County Conventions, disputes have arisen and contesting delegations have presented themselves, each claiming the right to represent the constituency and have disturbed the harmony of the Convention, which tended to produce dissatisfaction and disorganization of the party; now to prevent the recurrence thereof, be it

Resolved First, That hereafter when from any county there appears in any State Convention two or more delegations contesting each the right to represent such county, each of said delegations shall in writing submit to the State Executive Committee at least three days before the assemblage of the State Convention its credentials accompained by written evidence of the legality of its claims to represent the county therein, and the State Executive Committee shall have the right and it shall be its duty to decide upon the face of such papers which of said contesting delegations is prima face entitled to represent such counties in said convention; and the delegation as selected shall be enrolled and seated as the delegation from said county and participate in the organization of the convention after a report of its committee on credentials shall otherwise decide the issue.

Be it further resolved, That whenever in a county convention called by authority there shall be two or more delegations from any beat or beats, each claiming the right to represent such beat therein, each of said contesting delegations shall, in writing present its credentials together with a statement of the evidence sustaining it, to the Executive Committee of the county at least a day before the county convention is to assemble and the county executive committee shall have the right and it shall be its duty to decide on its face which of said contesting delegations is prima facie entitled to represent such beat in such county convention and the delegates so selected shall be enrolled and seated as the delegation from that beat, and entitled to participate in the organization of the convention and in all of its proceedings until the convention after report of its Committee on credentials shall otherwise decide the issue.

From the above it will be seen that the State Committee has assumed nothing in the matter. It simply discharged a duty imposed upon it by a State Convention, which was represented by the sovereignty of the Democratic party.

H. C. TOMPKINS.

"I am sorry to see the degrading influence the office of the presidency is having. The person to whom this club is asked to extend an invitation is about to desert his post of duty in the senate and engage in a common canvass for the highest office in the land. Although his service is needed in the Senate and he is receiving pay for the performance of them, yet, since his election, he has not yet performed one full day's work. By reason of holding on to the governorship of New York while elected to another office he was enabled to inaugurate what is known as the Hill movement, and I am opposed to this club aiding that movement any way."

This is what a member of the Watterson Club of Louisville said when the question of inviting Mr. Hill to that city was sprung. Will some friend of Mr. Hill telegraph these words to him? Will the friends of Mr. Hill paste the words in their hats for future reference? It is a severe arraignment, but a just one.

Anniston News: To use a homely expression they "got there" down in Barbour, despite any and all obstacles. The other day J. E. Sparrow carried a crazy colored citizen into Eufaula. Upon inquiry he found he had, so to speak, an African contingent on his hands, there being no authority in town applicable to the case. Did this American sparrow destair? Not if Barbour knows herself. He just swore out a warrant against the negro for trespass and landed him in jail.

Mass Openness.

Age-Herald.

Colonel Oates continues to devote his great energies and ability to the problem of increasing the circulating medium of the country. That problem from the earliest times has engaged the labors of our ablest men, and from time to time of all parties. It was the justification as well as the result of the National bank system, and so long as the conditions permitted those institutions to perform their intended function of increasing the currency with the demand, they were not only upheld by sound financiers everywhere, but were popular with the people. Having been driven by force from this most important duty of expansion, what shall we substitute as a means of enlarging the currency volume? At the bottom, that is the whole business of the Alliance in politics, the cause of the political disturbance of these few years. The Alliance did not and will not find the best way to the end desired. But it set the best men to thinking and studying trying to do something, and we shall yet see them find a safe way to more money.

Along this line it is interesting to note the progress of an Alabama plan toward consideration by congress. Col. Milner's idea is to both enlarge and localize the national bank system, and as the following letter from Colonel Oates shows, a bill embodying the Milner plan will soon be introduced:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D. C., Feb. 22, '92.

Col. John T. Milner, Newcastle, Ala.

MY DEAR COLONEL:—Your letters of the 9th and 17th inst., were received and read with interest.

I thank you for the publication of my letter as an offset to that of Lee. I had a talk with Bacon, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, the other day, and he says he does not think that his committee will report any bill to repeal the 10 per cent. tax; but that they will consider both of my bills; but he cannot give me any assurance that they will be favorably reported. Formulate your bill and send it to me and I will take pleasure in introducing it, and will urge its consideration. I am in favor of any scheme which is constitutional and will increase the volume of sound money to the relief of our people, and if I don't get something reported by the committee at an early date, I will tack on some amendment to the first bill under consideration where the subject matter is germane and force a vote of the house.

Yours truly,
WM. C. OATES.

When Artemus Ward was asked what his principles were, he said, "Principles? I ain't got no principles; I am in the show business." Senator Hill has adopted Artemus Ward's maxim, judging from the loose, flabby, dull and long-winded speeches made on his present trip: he has no principles, but he is simply in the show business.—Exchange.

Subscribe for this paper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Birmingham Hill Incident.

That was a touching incident in Birmingham when a Montgomery namesake was presented to Senator Hill.

The Senator with the perfect good taste that has characterized his whole career in the spirit of getting the delegates, pulled a 50-cent piece from his pocket when he was introduced and gave it to the boy.

This was such a beautiful illustration of the Senator's character that there was not a dry eye among the Hill men who witnessed it.

Another man might have expressed the pleasure in the compliment that had been paid in having a child named for him, and might have let fall the golden words that the child could treasure: the Senator planked down his coin.—Advertiser.

The Huntsville Mercury drops into line favoring ballot reform and suggests the adoption of the Australian system. A strong effort was made a few years ago to have the Legislature to adopt the Lawson plan, containing many of the safe guards of the Australian system, but the bill died in the committee on privileges and elections without report ever being made, the reason assigned to the friends of the measure being that to pass it would require an amendment to the constitution. Every thoughtful Alabamian agrees that ballot reform is a necessity, and the subject will probably receive a great deal of discussion by the State press between this time and meeting of the next session of the legislature. While the State press is discussing ballot reform it also would be well to discuss the regulation of primary elections by law?—Montgomery Journal.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, also digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

How Try This.

It will cost you nothing, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

"Castoria has well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills
and all kinds of Machinery and
Mill Supplies. Write for circulars
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting
Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 24, 1892.

BIRMINGHAM & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	6:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Attention Jones Men.

All voters in favor of Hon. Thos. G. Jones for Governor of Alabama are requested to meet at the Courthouse at Clanton on next Saturday, March 26th, at 7:30 p. m.

Snow flakes fell rapidly Friday last.

The cold snap played havoc with the fruit crop.

Mr. B. H. Chesnutt is having his house renovated.

Mrs. W. L. Sampey spent one day last week in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holley took a trip to Jasper, Ala., the past week.

The friends of Gov. Jones will meet at the courthouse Saturday night.

Mr. W. A. Collier is having his handsome new residence papered and painted.

Mrs. C. M. Reid, of Fort Worth, Texas, spent last Wednesday with relatives here.

The county Democratic Executive Committee is called to meet at Clanton next Tuesday.

Mr. W. H. Phillips was paid $30 for his cow that was killed by the train a short while since.

Miss Mamie Gilliam, of Alco, Ala., has been visiting Mr. B. H. Chesnutt's family for a week or so.

Rev. W. J. Elliott, of Montgomery preached to a large congregation at the Baptist Church Sunday.

Mrs. Lamar and Mrs. R. H. Croswell visited the family of Mr. O. A. Duke, of our city, last Wednesday.

Judge H. J. Callen, Mr. W. H. Foshee and others went up to Birmingham to hear Hill last Wednesday.

Mrs. Callen, of Selma, mother of Judge H. J. Callen, and Mrs. Armstrong, of Arkansas, has been visiting here recently.

Our handsome young friend, Evans Pinkard, will leave next week for Louisville to take a course in the Bryant and Stratton Business College.

Our job office has just received some new faces of script type for printing letter heads, circular letters, &c., and we can please you in this line of work.

Hon. Jno. F. Burns, another of Dallas county's candidates for Congress was in Clanton Thursday. He is making an active personal canvass of the district and is confident of ultimate success.

To Cut Glass with Shears.

A sheet of glass—a window pane for instance—can be cut as easily as a sheet of cardboard. The secret consists in keeping the glass, the shears and the hands under water during the operation.

The glass can be cut in straight or curve lines without a break or a crack. This is because the water deadens the vibration of the shears and the glass. If the least part of the shears come out of the water, the vibration will be sufficient to mar the success of the experiment.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending March 18th, 1892.

Misses Mary Duke, Minnie and Jessie Gilchrist, Lonnie May and Annie Lane.

Master R. Q. Lane.

Withdrawn.

Hon. G. A. Northington has requested the VIEW to withdraw his name from the race for representative in the Legislature and make public announcement of the same.

J. M. Parrish.

Mr. Parrish is announced in this issue as a candidate for the office of county treasurer. Mr. Parrish has filled the office acceptably for a number of terms and he is a man whom it will not be easy to beat.

E. L. McKee.

Mr. McKee is announced in the VIEW as a candidate for Tax Collector. Mr. McKee belongs to the Alliance organization, but desires to have it known that he is "a true and tried Democrat and nothing else."

F. B. Baldwin.

The VIEW announces Frank B. Baldwin, Esq., as a candidate for representative in the Legislature from Chilton. Mr. Baldwin's aspirations are commendable, and as he is well qualified he deserves recognition at the hands of our Democratic voters.

Notice to Confederate Soldiers.

The funds raised to pay the applications made last year by maimed soldiers and the widows of deceased soldiers will not be ready for distribution before about the first of next October and the same time for each year. I will give notice in the VIEW when the funds are received. Yours truly,

H. J. CALLEN,
Judge of Probate.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

ED. VIEW:—Please announce in your paper that there will be public speaking at the following places and dates named:

Providence,	March	25th,
Cane Creek,	"	26th,
Union,	"	29th,
Mount Zion,	"	30th,
Clanton Alliance,	"	31st,
Providence, beat 2,	April	1st,

By publishing the above you will confer a favor and oblige.

Yours Respectfully,
L. H. Reynolds.

Jemison, Ala., March 5th, '92.

An Object Lesson.

Chattanooga Tradesman.

Colonel James M. Smith, Oglethorpe county, Georgia, gives this laconic advice to his fellow-farmers: "Raise everything at home for man and beast." Colonel Smith began after the civil war on a red hill farm near Athens, Ga., without a dollar capital. He is now out of debt and runs a farm of fifteen hundred acres, splendidly equipped, with a broad-gauge railroad running all over it, and the rest on the same scale. His smokehouses are full of good meat, his larder almost wholly supplied from his farm. Last year he raised five thousand bushels of rust proof oats and sold his crop at the farm for seed at $1 a bushel, less enough for his own and tenant's use. He grew five thousand bushels of wheat and sold the surplus at $1.25 a bushel. He keeps a herd of registered Holsteins, is fattening sixty steers selected for the purpose, and milks seventy-five cows. Every straw and ounce of bran are utilized for feed. He plants 750 acres in cotton and rotates his crops; upon careful observation of the soil of his fields depends what he will plant them with. His cotton and his cotton seed he sells for cash. On this plan Colonel Smith has made himself one of the wealthiest and most considerable citizens of his county and district. Of course every farmer is not Colonel Smith, but his rule, "raise every thing for man and beast at home," applied in the smallest way, will be found profitable.

A gentleman from the Sawyerville neighborhood sold a four hundred pound bale of cotton in Greensboro last Thursday for $21.00. He tells us it cost him $27.00. That's the way the farmers are getting rich in this country raising cotton.—Greensboro Watchman.

Now is the time to subscribe for your county paper

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Stanton Notes.

Another wedding is booked for next Sunday but we can't give it away just yet as it might burst. Girls are going to be mighty scarce in these diggings if they don't stop so much of this Sunday marrying business. Every Sunday for the past three weeks some of them get married. At this rate in fourteen more Sundays they will all be gone. Boys those of you who are not heeled, had better get a move on. We old maids are going to have a good time all the same and don't care if weddings increase to three a Sunday.

Bill Broadhead's old cow got down in the branch during the cold spell last week. He pulled her out on dry land and to warm the old soul up built a fire around her and left her. On returning next morning he found that the old cow had kicked and scuffled around until she had got her head in the fire, burning off one horn and half of her head. The old cow is still kicking but those who have seen her think her chances for recovery very doubtful.

Verbena Views.

Mr. Will Pitts, of the Capital City spent Sunday in our city.

Miss Lee Collins has returned to her home in the Magic City, after a visit to friends here.

Mr. Claud Boykin, of the Magic City has been visiting his best girl here.

Miss Lizzie King, of Selma, is visiting Miss Nora Claughton.

Capt. J. M. Falkner spoke in Verbena on the 19th. A good many Clantonians came down to hear him.

Capt. R. F. Kolb and Capt. John Burns, of Dallas, will speak at Evergreen schoolhouse on March 26th. All are invited to attend, especially the ladies.

Mr. W. B. Strock has been quite sick, but we are glad to hear that he is convalescent.

Mr. Walter Lipscomb has gone to Jasper.

Mr. John Bateman visited our city recently.

We should see that the man we send to the Legislature will pledge himself to vote to stop the trains from running on Sunday.

Lily Dots.

Mr. Wm. DeShazo is on the sick list.

Farmers have begun planting their crops.

Mr. Will Garner who has been at work near Birmingham has returned home and is now at work on the farm with his father.

Mr. S. L. Hayes, of Mulberry, is attending school at Poplar Springs, Miss.

One of our farmers has planted four barrels of Irish potatoes. They will beat six cent cotton, I am satisfied.

Madame Rumor hath it that Mr. L. will soon enter the blissful state of matrimony. Success to him.

Mr. J. N. Fox will soon begin peddling again.

Miss Eulah Rasberyy, who is attending the Jemison High School was at home last Sunday on a visit.

Sabbath school was organized at Isabella the 2nd Sunday in this month, also a singing society.

The Herald of Health has an interesting article from R. B. Gleason, M. D., on the subject of "Health and Happy Homes." Calling to see the invalid wife of a wealthy man, the following candid opinion is given to the Husband after the consultation: Your wife is deluded with the idea that she is diseased. She needs something to do to employ her executive ability. You are occupied with your store, farm and your mill, which satisfies your business ability, and as to your social nature you are generous and kind, but not demonstrative. That beautiful wife of yours has nothing to do but to think of her house, think of her dress, and think of you. The result is she has all kinds of longing when you are out of sight, and no real rest when you return, for with your head and hands full of business you have not much time for petting and caressing her when your are at home. Hence, when you are gone, she fears she does not please you and gets the heartache which, when it is chronic, begets all manner of aches from top to toe, and especially stimulates and often induces that class of infirmities which bear the very disagreeable cognomen of 'Female Diseases.' There is a world of truth in the above.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016, 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gents furnishing goods.

The Selma Mirror has made a choice for the VIEW from among the candidates for Congress from this district. Of course the VIEW must bow to the wishes of the autocrat who runs the Mirror, but will the delegates from Chilton? That's the question?

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "cheapest, best and highest penmen College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, 80 from Alabama attending last year, 15 efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It is endorsed by award of Highest Honor at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including scores from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Type-writing, Telegraphy, &c. taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business Scholarship in this famous College, which will be disposed of, on reasonable terms, to a deserving young lady or gentleman.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, executed by O. A. Duke and wife, Julieta T. Duke, to J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings, and by said J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings duly transferred and assigned to the Alabama National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, and by said Alabama National Bank duly transferred and assigned to Albert Adler, J R P Durham, S M Adler and J E Morriss, composing the firm of Adler, Durham & Co., the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on TUESDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1892.

the following described property to-wit: N half and sw quarter of ne quarter sw quarter of the ne quarter, and s e quarter of s e quarter section 1. All, except n half of sw quarter of sec 9. All of sections 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 27 and 35. All, except s e quarter of s e quarter section 19, sw quarter of n w quarter and nw quarter of ne quarter, and s half of n e quarter and n half of se quarter section 24, e half of section 25, e half of sw quarter and se quarter of nw quarter section 25, all, except sw quarter of nw quarter and se quarter of sw quarter, of section 29, all, except e half of se quarter and se ¼ of ne ¼ of section 31, ne ¼ of se ¼, section 32, all, except ne ¼ of ne ¼ of section 33, all in township 21, range 14, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama, and also w half of sw ¼ section 19, township 21, range 15, in Chilton county, Alabama.

ADLER, DURHAM & CO.,
By Wm. A. Collier, Their Attorney.
Clanton, Ala., March 24th, 1892.

Executor's Sale.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at Clear Creek, in said county, between the legal hours of sale, on the 30th day of April, 1892, the personal property belonging to the estate of M. E. Vanderveer, deceased. Said property to be sold for division of the same. J. P. VANDERVEER, mar24 Executor.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2084, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 23 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Marbleville, Ala.

fe25to J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 26, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2237 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 23 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: David Hightower, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Atchinson and Wiley Atchinson, all of Randolph, Ala. feb18o2 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. Land Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 20366 for the n w ¼ of s w ¼ township 23 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Bennett, Tandy Robinson, and Burgus Hopkins, all of Stanleyton, Ala.

mar24-3 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.
Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.
THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.
ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.
In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. Your patronage earnestly and respectfully given by any business man.

Ware, Pope & Dunstery, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

County Commissioners—Regular term, second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, often. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
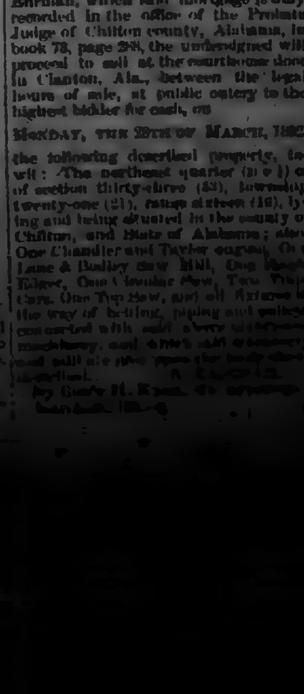
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[2-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue
H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited. [feb25-92]

THE LIGHT RUNNING
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE
IS THE BEST.
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO. ORANGE, MASS.
CHICAGO, ILL. BOSTON, MASS. ATLANTA, GA.
FOR SALE BY

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.



Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale contained therein, executed by J. W. Headley to E. Ehrman, which said mortgage is duly recorded in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton county, Alabama, in book 73, page 238, the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Ala., between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property, to-wit: The northeast quarter (ne ¼) of of section thirty-three (33), township twenty-one (21), range sixteen (16), lying and being situated in the county of Chilton, and State of Alabama; also, One Chandler and Taylor engine, One Lane & Bodley saw mill, One Steele Edger, One Circular Saw, Two Planers. One Top Saw, and all fixtures in the way of belting, piping and pulleys connected with said above described machinery, and which said machinery and said saw mill are now upon the lands above described.

MONDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH, 1892,

E. EHRMAN.
By Geo. H. Ryan, Jr., Agent.
Clanton, Ala.

BUDGET OF FUN.

HUMOROUS SKETCHES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

A Peculiar Rainbow—Lazy—Professional Faith—Ma and Pa—Money Talks—Proof Positive—Conjugal Amenities, Etc., Etc.

He called to see her rainy nights,
When streets are wet, deserted and still;
As rain dissolved the pretty sights,
He liked to gaze upon at will.

She called him sweet, endearing names
Until she found him mean and low
To visit only when it rains
And now she calls him her rain-bow.

LAZY.

"What is your idea of happiness?"

"Nothing to do and lots of time to do it in."—Judge.

MA AND PA.

First Small Boy—"What does your ma do when you lie to her?"

Second Small Boy—"She tells pop I take after him."—Good News.

PROOF POSITIVE.

Melinda—"Pa, that young man, Mr. Charity, is awful fond of kissing."

Papa—"How did you find that out, you naughty girl?"

Melinda—"I had it from his own lips, pa."—Comic.

ENCOURAGEMENT.

Cleverton—"You know, it's a funny thing, but every time I've called on Miss Pinkerly lately, she has been out."

Dashaway (brightly)—"Well, never mind, old man. Come around with me some time."—Life.

WILL NOT LEND WASH TUBS.

Mrs. Black—"What do you think of our near neighbor?"

Mrs. Brown—"That's just what I think of her."

Mrs. Black—"What?"

Mrs. Brown—"That she's "near."—Yankee Blade.

CONJUGAL AMENITIES.

Mrs. Robinson—"I have been sitting for a photograph, you know. Here are the proofs. Are they good likenesses, do you think?"

Mr. R.—"How can I tell, my dear? You know I never saw your face in repose."—Boston Transcript.

PROFESSIONAL FAITH.

Mrs. Nervous—"I see so little improvement in my husband that I have concluded to call in another physician. I trust you will not feel offended!"

Doctor—"Not at all. He's a very sick man, and I doubt if any doctor can make him worse."—Once-A-Week.

MONEY TALKS.

"You look worn," said the Five Dollar Bill to the Silver Dollar.

"You are changed, yourself," replied the Silver Dollar.

And then the Englishman who held both of them in his hand burst into an uncontrollable fit of laughter.—Truth.

THE ECONOMY OF DELAY.

Husband—"Have you done your best to economize this month, Mary, as I requested?"

Wife (brightly)—"Oh, yes; I spoke to the grocer, the butcher and the landlord, and got them to put off presenting their bills till next month."—New York Press.

A TRUTHFUL GIRL.

Cora—"What! you going to marry Fred Hipple?"

Madge—"Yes."

Cora—"Why, not long ago you said you would not marry him if he were the last man in the world."

Madge—"Well, I've kept my word. He isn't."—Judge.

SUSPICIOUS.

Young Wife—"Why, George, aren't you going to eat your pudding?"

Young Husband—"Is this made from Mrs. Tombstone's recipe?"

Young Wife—"Yes, dear George."

Young Husband—"Then, my dear, I cannot touch it! Mrs. Tombstone has already buried four husbands."—Judge.

HASTILY AMUSED.

Young Man—"I have been—er—very attentive to your daughter for some time, and she—er—has listened favorably to my suit. If you will give your consent, I will do my best to make her happy."

Mr. Olddad—"Oh, that's easy enough, my dear young friend, easy enough. Just give her a blank check book to fill out as she pleases."—New York Weekly.

NOT FLATTERING.

Old Goldbags—"So you want to marry my daughter!"

Dedbroke—"That's what I said."

Old Goldbags—"Well, of all the impudence! She is rich, and you are poor; she is young and handsome, and you are neither."

Deadbroke—"I admit that in money and age and looks she has the advantage of me; but just think what her people are!"—Boston Jester.

WORTH KEEPING.

Father of Family—"Madam, what does this mean? Our daughter is alone in the parlor with a young man, and it's after eleven o'clock! I shall go right down and kick the fellow out."

Mother—(quietly)—"She came up about half an hour ago and asked for two pair of scissors."

"Huh! What in creation did she want them for?"

"She said she was going to help him clip coupons."

"Whew! I'll go right down and lock the doors so he can't get away."—Good News.

SPARE RIBS VS. POETRY.

"Hepsibah Mehitable," he said, looking down on the fair young girl who stood by his side, and in whose beauteous cheeks the flush born of a modest and refined nature was faintly showing like the warm tinge that spreads itself over the petals of a rose that opens in the genial sunshine of a June morning. "Hepsibah Mehitable, will you marry me?"

"I'm so—"

"Pause, sweet one, and consider before you reply. Think how admirably our natures are suited to each other. You are all soul. So am I. We mingle and lo we create for you an earthly paradise, where you will dwell secure from all the cares that fret and worry the lives of those who know not love's gentle ministrations. Existence is not fairer in the Gardens of the Hesperides than yours will be. Associating with a mind forever quivering under and responding to the highest poetic impulses your own nature will expand and blossom and bloom with a new beauty."

"I'm sorry, but I've promised to marry the butcher."—New York Press.

The Cure of Corns and Bunions.

If a portion of the skin either on the toes or soles of the feet become greatly thickened and then penetrates into the true skin beneath, causing great pain and annoyance on walking, explains Dr. Manley Tempest, it is called a corn. Corns are commonly known and spoken of as hard and soft; hard corns are those situated on the most exposed surface of the foot, where the skin is apt to get dry and hard. The soft corns come where the skin is always in a moistened condition—generally between the toes. These annoying growths are brought on by wearing badly fitting shoes. Stockings and socks when too large will wrinkle after the shoe is on, causing pressure upon the skin, the result of which in a few days may be a corn. What are the best remedies for their relief?

First: The shoes must be made upon a proper last to fit the foot, and of soft leather. The feet should be washed daily, pouring into the basin a tablespoonful of ammonia. Pure acetic acid applied to the surfaces frequently will generally be found to disperse them. The parts around the corn should be covered with oil or soap when the acid is applied to prevent injury of the surrounding skin from cauterization. When the use a knife is brought into play for the removal of much thickened skin or corns let me here warn you: Never use the knife before it has been placed in a dish of boiling water for five minutes, in order thoroughly to disinfect it from any poisonous substance there may be on it from previous use. Another point: Never cut the corns unless the feet previously have been thoroughly washed with soap and hot water. Many a man has lost his life from blood poisoning, due to the neglect of these important rules.

Next to a corn I believe there is nothing that gives more trouble to the feet of men than bunions. This affection consists in a swelling under the skin of the inner side of the ball of the great toe. In its earlier stage it is a thin-walled sac filled with clear fluid, and then causes very little uneasiness, but subsequently, in consequence of constant pressure and friction from badly fitting boots and stockings, becomes hard and tender. Sometimes, particularly after active exercise, the swelling becomes very painful and inflamed and forms an abcess. The beginning and growth of a bunion are caused in most instances by a distortion of the great toe, and is much accelerated by the use of tight boots and by much walking.

When the bunion is young, firm pressure with the fingers or a sharp tap with a heavy object may cause it to burst and bring about a cure. In cases where the swelling has existed for some time and becomes hard and painful very little can be done except to recommend boots made large and roomy over the toes and with the sole thicker at the outer than at the inner edge, so that the foot in walking may be thrown more upon the outer side. When the bunion becomes very tender and the skin covering it red and inflamed the treatment should be immediate and consists in rest and the application of one or two leeches and warm flaxseed poultice.—Chicago News.

Bodies in a Natural State.

A most singular fact in relation to the remarkable preservation of human bodies interred at Glenwood Springs, Col., presumably by the chemical properties of the overlying lime strata, has just come to light. On account of the growth of the town it was decided to remove the remains of the pioneers from the old to the new cemetery. Little general attention was given the matter beyond that shown by the local authorities in seeing that the work of disinterment was properly carried out, which was left in charge of the sexton.

There were about thirty bodies to remove, and they were all in time interred in the new cemetery. The work was done slowly and scarcely anybody but the sexton and his assistants were present when a grave was opened, and when the remains were taken out they were not disturbed, but left inclosed in the coffins, which were found in a remarkable state of preservation, considering the fact that they had been buried, in many cases, from five to seven years. This finally led to an inspection by the sexton, out of mere curiosity, of one of the bodies, and what was his surprise to find the remains in the condition of those that have been interred only a short time—that is, before decomposition has set in.

The body was not shrunken or in any way changed apparently from what it was when first buried; but on the contrary the flesh was soft, the limbs pliable and the features as natural as life. Many of the other bodies, in fact all of those that were exhumed after the condition of the one mentioned was discovered, were found to be in the same extraordinary state of preservation.—Chicago Herald.

Children and Cold Feet.

Children should never be allowed to go to bed with cold feet. A nurse should have instructions always to feel the feet of the little ones before they are put to bed. Cold feet may mean nothing, and then again they may be the precursor of some serious illness. Another source of danger to the feeble system is the cold sheets, which strike a chill through the body and cause great discomfort, if there are not more serious consequences. In olden times warming the beds was a regular part of the housemaid's duty, and most of us have seen the covered copper pans, with long handles, which were filled with hot coals and passed between the sheets. A woman of experience tells us that she keeps all the thick, flat bottles in which household ammonia comes prepared for hot-water bottles. "These filled with boiling water, well corked and passed between the sheets, warm them as well as a warming-pan," she says, "and if the children have cold feet quickly induce warmth if left in the bed. The glass is so thick that there is no danger of breakage, and in case of pain I have really found them valuable."—New York Tribune.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

A Nashville dispatch of Thursday says: Snow has fallen steadily since 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, and there is twenty-two inches upon the ground.

A Memphis, Tenn., dispatch says: Wednesday night's storm was the heaviest ever known in this part of the country. The snow now lies eighteen inches on the level.

On last Monday night the town of Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., was visited by the most destructive fire in the history of that town. The principal business part of the place was burned. Loss $80,000; insurance unknown.

A conference of the southern passenger men will soon be held to make rates for the Grand Army of the Republic encampment. A mass meeting of passenger men will also soon be held to discuss world's fair rates.

In the federal court at Chattanooga, Tenn., Thursday, the Catholic Knights of America entered suit against J. H. Light, M. H. Cleft, John Cummings, C. C. Howard and J. T. Williams and the Fidelity and Casualty company, of New York, sureties on W. J. O'Brien's bond as supreme treasurer of the order.

A mysterious poisoning case occurred in West Nashville Thursday night. Just after supper Mrs. Robert Melrose's entire family were taken violently ill, and a physician being called in, discovered that all were suffering from arsenical poisoning. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the crime. Arsenic had been placed in some of the food.

A meeting of the women, held at Charleston S. C., Tuesday, in the interest of the World's fair, was rather stormy. They began proceedings by requesting several northern women, who were present, to withdraw, and after a very hot discussion, ended by appointing a committee to endeavor to secure the removal of Mrs. J. S. R Thompson, lady manager of the state at large.

According to dispatches of Wednesday there is agitation in political circles in Charleston, S. C., by rumors that Mayor Ficken will resign his office, it is alleged, on account of complications and difficulties in the way of his attempted enforcement of the Sunday law. The enforcement of the Sunday law has raised quite a storm against the new administration, especially among the Germans, many of whom were the mayor's staunchest supporters in the recent fight in the democratic party.

The alliance of Georgia seems to have taken up the interest that the people generally share in the movement to send a Georgia exhibit to Chicago, and the Rome alliance has passed resolutions endorsing the work most heartily and pledging the assistance of each member in it. This means that the farmers of Georgia are alive to the fact that their lands and agricultural resources must be put on advertisement at the great Worlds' fair, and it means that they are going to do just that very thing.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch says: A call was issued Thursday by the executive committee of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association for a meeting of the southern grocers to be held at Memphis, Tenn., March 25th and 26th. Every jobbing point of note in the eleven southern states will be represented at this meeting, and it is estimated that the delegates to the same will represent in the aggregate more capital and a larger volume of business annually than any similar gathering of business men ever brought together in the south.

A dispatch from Newport, Tenn., says: In the later part of November Esquire David Boyer disappeared and was not seen again until last Tuesday, when his horribly decomposed remains were found in a well on his farm with three bullet holes in his clothing. Mr. Boyer's twenty-five year old son, Wash, who is county superintendent of schools, fled as soon as the body was found and hid in the cave. His brother offered $500 reward for him, dead or alive, and late Tuesday night he was captured. He is now in jail, and there is strong talk of lynching.

Dispatches of Tuesday from Austin, Texas, report that the senatorial situation is taking more definite shape every hour. The Mills men express themselves sure of victory. A prominent member of the house told a reporter that Mr. Mills was going through; that the members had already made up their minds, and he would be elected on the first ballot. The Mills party claim 75 out of 106 in the house, and they have such strength that Governor Hogg and the administrationists who are supporting Mr. Chilton have become alarmed.

NO POSTPONEMENT.

The Georgia Railroad Commission Will Hear Cases at Dates Assigned.

The Georgia railroad commission declines to consent to the postponement of the cases brought before the interstate commission under the long and short haul clause. A telegram of Tuesday from Washington to Hon. L. N. Trammell says: "Application has been made by railroads to postpone hearings at Atlanta. Commission must hear cases at dates assigned, or they must be postponed indefinitely."

The matter was considered by the commission and the three members were unanimous in objecting to an indefinite postponement of what they consider the most important case ever brought before the interstate commission. The following telegram was sent in reply to the one above:

The reasons urged by the railroad company for a continuation do not seem to us to be sufficient, and we must respectfully insist on a hearing on the 24th, especially in view of indefinite postponement if continued.

FIELD IN THE ASYLUM

Although the Judge is Not Fully Satisfied in the Case.

At New York, Wednesday, Judge Van Brunt handed down his decision in the case of Financier Edward M. Field. He says he is not fully satisfied as to the sanity or otherwise of Mr. Field. He thinks, however, that Field is not in condition, mentally speaking, to plead in any case, and that he should be confined in the state asylum. This was ordered, with the injunction that Field be kept in such a place until the question of his sanity or insanity is fully determined.

Several thousand dozen pineapples from the famous cayenne districts of Florida have been ripened in St. Petersburg and have been pronounced an unusually delicious fruit.

Many persons are thinking during these stormy days of bone-shield corsets. Brown's Iron Bitters relieve the pains, aids digestion, tones stomach, and cures malaria. A splendid tonic for women and children.

Prosperity is no just scale; adversity is the only balance to weigh friends.

"I have in my employ a man who has been a victim of periodic headaches for years, and tried all kinds of treatment, and I have tried various remedies on him. Your Brad'ycrotine helps him more than anything ever did." O. D. Kingsley, M.D., White Plains, N. Y. 50 cts

For Throat Diseases, Coughs, Colds, etc., effectual relief is found in the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Price 25 cts. Sold only in boxes.

Ripans Tabules cure sick headache, disordered liver and act like magic on the vital organs. For sale by all druggists.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

Officer A. H. Braley
of the Fall River Police,
Is highly gratified with Hood's Sarsaparilla. He was badly run down, had no appetite, what he did eat caused distress and he felt

Tired all the Time

A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a marvelous change. The distress in the stomach is entirely gone, he feels like a new man and can eat anything with old-time relish. For all of which he thanks and cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is very important that in the months of

March April May

The blood should be thoroughly purified and the system be given strength to withstand the debilitating effect of the changing season. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar medicinal powers and it is the Best Spring Medicine

The following, just received, demonstrates its wonderful blood-purifying powers:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Gentlemen: I have had salt rheum for a number of years, and for the past year one of my legs, from the knee down, has been broken out very badly. I took blood medicine for a long time with no good results, and was at one time obliged to

Walk With Crutches

I finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken one bottle the improvement was so marked that I continued until I had taken three bottles, and am now better than I have been in years. The inflammation has all left my leg, and it is entirely healed. I have had much benefit from that I concluded to write this voluntary statement."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

F. J. Temple, Ridgeway, Mich.

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills.

Advice to Women

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

Carterville, April 28, 1892.

This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect is truly wonderful. J. W. Strange.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed FREE, which contains valuable information on all female diseases.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Kennedy's Medical Discovery

Takes hold in this order:

Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Driving everything before it that ought to be out.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by
DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

"German Syrup"

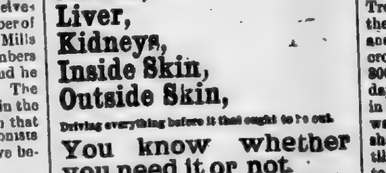
Justice of the Peace, George Wilkinson, of Lowville, Murray Co., Minn., makes a deposition concerning a severe cold. Listen to it. "In the Spring of 1888, through exposure I contracted a very severe cold that settled on my lungs. This was accompanied by excessive night sweats. One bottle of Boschee's German Syrup broke up the cold, night sweats, and all and left me in a good, healthy condition. I can give German Syrup my most earnest commendation."

A torpid liver is the source of dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, piles, bilious fever, chills and jaundice.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

have a specific effect on the liver, restoring it to healthy action. 25cts.

Ely's Cream Balm
Quickly Cures
COLD in HEAD
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.



CLEVELAND'S LETTER

Wherein He Gives His Views in Regard to the Presidential Nomination.

A dispatch from Milwaukee, Wis., says: Gen. Edwards S. Bragg, author of the famous phrase, "We love him for the enemies he has made," has been urging Ex-President Cleveland to make public an avowal of his position in connection with the approaching democratic presidential convention. He wrote a letter to Mr. Cleveland from Fon Du Lac, containing the following paragraph:

"The danger to the public interests, which a failure of the democratic party would involve, seems to me now to require an open avowal of your willingness to submit to any service to which your party may assign you. Many entertain fears that you may decline further public duty, which none but you can effectually remove, and your voice will be ever heard with benefit and effect. I believe your usefulness to the nation may be greater now than ever in the past to carry to victory the cause of tariff reform and restore the blessings of good government to our people, and as your fellow-democrat and fellow-citizen, I ask you to say to your party and people that your name will be presented to the national democratic convention as a candidate for its nomination to the presidency, and that you will accept the nomination if the convention shall make it, and again undertake the duties of president, if our party shall, as I believe it will, choose you for the office."

In reply the ex-president writes as follows:

To Hon. Edward S. Bragg:

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 5th instant is received. I have thought until now that I might continue silent on the subject, which, under the high sanction of your position as my "fellow-Democrat and fellow-citizen," and in your relation as a true and trusted friend, you present to me. If in answering your questions I might only consider my personal desires and my individual ease and comfort, my response would be promptly made, and without the least reservation or difficulty. But if you are right in supposing that the object is related to the duty I owe to the country and to my party, a condition exists which makes such private and personal considerations entirely irrelevant. I cannot, however, refrain from declaring to you that my experience in the great office of president of the United States has so impressed me with the solemnity of the trust and its awful responsibilities that I cannot bring myself to regard the candidacy for the place as something to be won by personal strife and active self-assertion. I have also an idea that the presidency is pre-eminently the people's office, and I have been sincere in my constant advocacy of an effective participation in the political affairs on the part of all our citizens. Consequently, I believe our people should be heard in the choice of their party candidates, and that they themselves should make the nominations as directly as is consistent with an open, fair and full party organization and methods. I speak of these things solely for the purpose of advising that my conception of the nature of the presidential office, and my conviction that the voters of our party should be free in the selection of their candidates, preclude the possibility of my leading a pushing, and self-seeking canvass for the presidential nomination, even if I had a desire to be again the candidate. Believing that the complete supremacy of the democratic principles means increased national prosperity, and increased happiness of our people, I am earnestly anxious for the success of the party. I am confident that success is still within our reach, but I believe this is a time for democratic thoughtfulness and deliberation, not only as to candidates, but concerning the party upon questions of immense interest to the patriotic and intelligent voters of the land, who watch for the assurance of safety as the price of their confidence and support.

Yours very truly,
Grover Cleveland.

A COAL MINE HORROR.

A Fearful Explosion in Which Two Hundred Miners Lose Their Lives.

A cablegram from Brussels, Belgium, brings news of a terrible accident which occurred Friday morning in the Anderlus colliery near Charleroi, which it is feared will result in great loss of life. Three hundred miners were employed in the coalpit, when there was a terrific explosion of fire damp. Efforts were at once made to rescue any of the men who may have survived the explosion. Tremendous excitement prevailed in the vicinity of the pit. Men, women and children assembled in enormous crowds, and were wild with fear. Of 800 men at work; only three, up to Friday night, arrived at the mouth of the pit in safety. The effect of the explosion was terific. The cage and ventilator were shattered. The destruction of the ventilator added an element of great danger to the situation.

Saturday's dispatches report that there has been little if any abatement in the excitement in and about Charleroi, near which place the appalling explosion occurred Friday morning. All night long hundreds of men, women and children kept their dreary watch at the pit mouth hoping for the best, but almost knowing their hopes were without reason. Many pitiful scenes have been witnessed as the wives and children have recognized among the bodies recovered the features of some dear one distorted and blackened by the sheet of scorching flame that had enveloped them.

It has been ascertained that 270 persons were working in the mine at the time of the explosion. Most of them were at work in the two galleries where the greatest damage was done. One of these galleries is 450 and another 500 yards below the surface. As soon as the dissipation of the gas fumes would permit hundreds of volunteers descended and began the work of rescue. The work of hoisting was quickly begun, and between thirty and forty helpless men were brought to the surface.

All the victims were either dead or badly injured, and the face of each was fearfully disfigured, and the hair, beard and eyelashes of all were burned off. Of the men thus far brought out of the mine above only a few are likely to recover. In every instance the unfortunate men were bruised, torn and burned in a dreadful manner, and were also prostrated by inhaling the deadly chokedamp, which still fills the mine. From the condition of the mine, as reported by the life-savers, hardly a shadow of hope is entertained that any of the miners who are still entombed in their dreadful prison can survive.

THE LATEST.

The latest official estimate places the number of dead at 276. The ministers of humanity and public works are at the scene of the disaster, and are personally directing the operations of the rescuers.

"Everybody's" Idea.

First Boy—"Why does everybody look so glum?"

Second Boy—"'Cause there ain't goin' to be no war."

First Boy—"Did everybody want to go to war?"

Second Boy—"No; everybody wanted to stay at home an' make money while the war was goin' on."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Didn't Work Right.

De Smoker—"Do you know, my dear, an eminent scientist has discovered that tobacco arrests the development of bacteria."

Wife—"Does it, really? You wouldn't want your little wife to be eaten up by those horrid bacteria, would you, my dear? Where's your other pipe?"—New York Weekly.

$100 Reward. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a $ inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

Books are the best things, well read; abused among the worst.

Ladies needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints, makes the Blood rich and pure.

Most people would succeed in small things, if they were not troubled with great ambitions.

FITS stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Syrup of Figs

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

California Fig Syrup Co.
San Francisco, Cal.
Louisville, Ky. New York, N.Y.

Nipans Tabules regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, purify the blood, are mild and effectual. The best family medicine known. For Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom or disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure in the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over-eating are benefited by taking a Tabule after each meal. Price, by mail, 1 vial (6) 1 bottle 10c. Address THE NIPAN CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.
CONSUMPTION

Fall in Prices
(Established 1858.)
JUST OUT New Catalogue of Watches, Jewelry and Novelties Sent Free. Low prices. Very large assortment. Chas. Loebrich, 26 Park St., New York.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

COPYRIGHT 1891

Wound up—the man or woman who's "run-down." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery sets the wheels going. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs, and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength.

For all scrofulous humors and blood-taints, and even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula), if taken in time, it's a positive remedy.

Unlike the sarsaparillas, which claim to be good for the blood in March, April, and May, "Golden Medical Discovery" works equally well at all seasons.

Unlike other blood-purifiers, too, it's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or your money is returned.

On these terms, it's the cheapest. You pay only for the good you get. But it's the best—or it couldn't be sold so.

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain.
REVIVES Failing Energy.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.
W. BAKER & CO.'S
Breakfast Cocoa
from which the excess of oil has been removed,
Is absolutely pure and it is soluble.
No Chemicals
are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.
Sold by Grocers everywhere.
W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Which Piano?
Decide that after trying the IVERS & POND. You can try them; we'll tell you what dealer can show them to you, or we'll send on approval at our own expense. Write for information.
Ivers & Pond Piano Company, Boston.

Rising Sun Stove Polish
DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.
The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tins or glass package with every purchase.

KING COTTON
Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES'
$60 5-Ton Cotton Scale
NOT CHEAPEST BUT BEST.
For terms address
JONES OF BINGHAMTON
BINGHAMTON, N. Y.
$65 A MONTH for 3 Bright Young Men or Ladies in each county. Address F. ZIEGLER & CO., Phila., Pa.

Taylor's Cherokee Remedy
Of Sweet Gum & Mullein
Coughs Colds Consumption
And All Lung Troubles
Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitutes.

THE COST IS THE SAME

The Hartman Steel Picket Fence

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 30 miles south of Birmingham and 60 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WEEKLY, JUDICIAL, ADMINISTRATIVE. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1892. NUMBER 22.

SPECIAL NOTICE ITEMS.

Business Notices 10 cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, 10 cents per line.

Obituaries, communications, candidates for office will be headed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: {Silver Steel, Including Handles, $2.00 per Foot. Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per Foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CONCAVE TOOTH DEXTER Saw has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Memphis, Tenn. Minneapolis, Minn. Shreveport, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

TUESDAY—Interest in the question of the free coinage of silver was manifested in the house Tuesday morning by the increase attendance of members, by the unusual activity of the corps of newspaper correspondents, and by the crowd that thronged the galleries. The diplomatic gallery, which, as a general thing, presents an array of empty benches, added its quota of spectators. On the floor members clustered together in little groups and discussed the situation, the anti-silver men being apparently more active in their missionary work than the men in favor of free coinage. After the introduction of several bills, Bland, who had entered the hall, called up the special order—being the bill for the free coinage of gold and silver and for the issue of coin and notes. The bill having been read in full Beard took the floor, but was immediately taken from there by Tracey, of New York, with the point of order that the bill must receive its first consideration in the committee of whole as it involved a charge upon the treasury. Dingley supported this point, which was antagonized by Bland and was overruled by the chair, who stated that the matter had been determined at the time of the report of the bill from the committee. On motion of Bland the resolution was adopted providing for evening sessions Monday and Tuesday night for a general debate on the silver bill. Watson, of Georgia, wanted some time granted in the discussion to members of the third party. "We stand here," said he, "as an independent party." "We are all independent on this question," retorted Bland, amid applause and laughter. Bland was then permitted to proceed with his speech.

WEDNESDAY.—The silver debate in the house Wednesday showed the intensity of public interest in that great question which now faces the fifty-second congress for solution, and threatens to become a political issue in the presidential campaign of the autumn. The galleries were crowded when the speaker's gavel rapped the house to order at noon and there was no abatement from the great interest manifested at the opening hours of the debate of Tuesday. The floor and the lobbies of the house, too, were well crowded with ex members and senators. In the gallaries were seated many bankers and financial experts from all over the country, and the Western Union wires on the outside were busy bearing hasty messages that flashed to the country the progress of the discussion, and conveyed to the great financial centres every indication that appeared in the political atmosphere. After some unimportant routine proceedings, the silver bill was taken up. "I desire to give notice," said Chairman Bland at the opening of the debate, "that at 2 o'clock Thursday I shall demand the previous question on the silver bill and pending amendments." This meant merely that the general debate would close at 2 o'clock, and that a final vote would then be taken on the bill and amendments unless its opponents inaugurate a series of filibustering tactics. The first speaker of the day was Representative Pierce, of Tennessee, the able young lieutenant of Chairman Bland on the coinage committee who made a fine argument in favor of the bill. He was followed by Mr. Stone, of Philadelphia, who denounced the pending bill as being not a bill for the free coinage of silver, but a bill for the unlimited issue of paper money. At the conclusion of Mr. Stone's remarks Mr. Bland asked consent that debate on the free silver bill, which would expire Thursday night, be extended until Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, but Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, objected on account of the failure of the friends of the bill to make any allotment of time to the representatives of the people's party. Mr. Browley, of South Carolina, opposed the bill, contending that its passage would prove detrimental to the business interests of the country. Mr. Hall, of Minnesota, in opposition to the bill said that it should have emanated from the republican side of the house. It was a plant of such a delicate fiber that only the rich soil of republicanism could be expected to bring it to fruition. The bill was not for free coinage. It was honey-combed and saturated with McKinleyism. Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin, opposed the measure, declaring that its chief aim was to create something out of nothing; its chief purpose of making seventy cents worth one hundred cents. Mr. Stout, of Michigan, also raised his voice in opposition, and argued in favor of an honest dollar, which would be worth 100 cents. Mason, Fitch, of New York; Lodge, of Massachusetts; Belizhoover, of Pennsylvania, and Perkins, of Iowa, opposed the bill. Mr. McKeighan, of Nebraska, an independent, spoke in favor of it, and Mr. Bushnell, of Wisconsin, spoke in favor of the proposed amendment, providing that hereafter the silver dollar shall contain one ounce Troy of pure silver.

THURSDAY.—The debate on the free coinage bill was kept up all day Thursday. At times it was heated, for the house has never labored under such intense excitement as existed from the moment it met at the morning hour. Members on both sides of the question were working for votes like bees in a hive. Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, made the most sensational speech of the day. He denounced the young (Massachusetts) mugwumps, who have called themselves democrats, stating that he would even prefer such statesmen as the barefooted Kansan to Mr. Williams. Many other sensational speeches were made during the day, but the genuine fight did not commence until 5 o'clock, when Mr. Bland called the previous question on the passage of the bill. At that time nearly every member was upon the floor. There was not a vacant seat in any of the gallaries. Even the doors were crowded with men and women as eager to get in as they would be to crowd in a circus. When Mr. Bland called the previous question, Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, moved as a substitute to lay the bill and all its amendments upon the table. This motion, if carried, would have defeated the bill. During the roll call, the leaders on the two sides ran about the hall like wild men. The free coinage men were angered. They began to realize that the immense lobby present and the heavy pressure brought to bear by the goldbugs in favor of postponing the question, was having its effect. Many free coinage democrats were exhibiting weakness. Many who had announced for free coinage had dropped over into the ranks of those who wanted to postpone the issue. When the roll call had concluded, the result was startling to the free coinage men and a surprise to the goldbugs. It was 148 to table, against 147 against tabling. This meant the defeat of the Bland bill, but the speaker had not voted. As soon as he saw it he demanded of the clerk to call his name. It was done. He voted "no." As he did so the very ceiling vibrated at the applause given him. Then he announced the vote 148 to 148, a tie vote, which meant that the house refused to table the bill. It was amazing. No one expected it, and nobody can account for it, except on the ground that the backbones of many Democrats had weakened under the great pressure from the East. Only nine Republicans had voted with the mass of Democrats against tabling; eighty-one Democrats had voted to table. These included all the New York men except Mr. Rockwell, who represents Senator Hill's district, and whose seat is contested, all the New England Democrats, all from Pennsylvania, and a majority from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Maryland. The South was almost unanimous against tabling, but a few Southern men went down under pressure or conviction. Among them was Colonel Herbert, of the Montgomery, Alabama, district, an ardent Cleveland man; Colonel Elliott and Mr. Brawley, of South Carolina; Mr. Logan, of Louisiana; Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, and Mr. Raynor, of Maryland. Then there was Geary, of California, Castle, of Minnesota, and several score of others who would vote for free coinage on the direct issue, but who are trying to shelve it. Then the anti-free coinage men commenced filibustering. They moved to adjourn, but were turned down on that by a vote of 120 to 146. Mr. Johnson, of Ohio, came forward as an anti-free coinage bill leader, and move to reconsider the vote by which the vote to table the bill had been lost. Mr. Bland thereupon moved to table that motion. On this latter motion the vote was again announced to tie—148 to 148. Immediately there was intense excitement. The opposition leaders rushed down the aisle, yelling that the vote had not been recapitulated. The speaker replied that no one had called for it. At this the gold men yelled vociferously for a recapitulation, and, when the names were called over, two more "no" votes were added, and Mr. Bland's motion to table the motion to reconsider was lost. This looked serious to the free coinage men. It looked like they were defeated. Both sides were wild with excitement. The scenes on the floor were of the wildest confusion. Pages and runners were sent everywhere for absent members. The roll was being called again on the original motion to table the bill. The defeat of Bland's motion had brought up the original motion again. During the calling of the names, every man in the house was laboring under a strain of excitement. Such close votes were never before known on the floor of the house. The change of a single vote, the arrival of any one absent member, the refusal of any one present member to vote, would change the result. Those who seemed to waver were pleaded with, threatened and everything possible done to change them. But none changed. When the vote was being recapitulated, the most exciting incident of the day occurred. Mr. Donovan, of Ohio, was recorded as voting no. Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, declared that Mr. Donovan had not been in the house during the roll call. Here half of the house yelled to have Mr. Donovan's name stricken off, and the other half protested. Mr. Donovan himself was not present. Then the confusion and excitement were intense. Congressmen shook their fists at one another, turned red in the face and yelled themselves hoarse. It looked like bedlam had broken loose. The noise of the speaker's gavel was drowned in the confusion, and the sergeant-at-arms, with his mace, a great silver eagle with outstretched wings perched on a marble rod, had to be called, and sent through the aisles to force the members into their seats. This quieted the house for a few moments. Then Mr. Lockwood, of New York, declared that his name had not been recorded, and voted "aye" to table the bill, but Mr. Lawson, of Virginia, who had not been recorded, offset this by voting "no." This made the vote 146 to 147, a majority of one against tabling the bill. Mr. Johnson, of Ohio, changed his vote to move another consideration, leaving the final vote 145 to 148. The announcement was greeted with great and long continued applause. The free coinage men were growing hopeful. Mr. Johnson found that he could not move to reconsider without other business intervening, Mr. Fitch, of New York, therefore began filibustering by moving to adjourn, and calling the yeas and nays. It takes half an hour on each roll-call, and it was after 9 o'clock at night when the vote was announced. The house by a large majority, 102 to 80, refused to adjourn. The anti-free coinage men at this stage commenced resorting to all manner of dilatory tactics. One man would move to take a recess for an hour, another would amend it by adding two hours, and a third would move to adjourn. On each motion the yeas and nays were called. At 11 o'clock Mr. Bland moved to take a recess until 11 o'clock Friday. But a recess Friday would have been a continuation of the legislative day of Thursday. But the goldbugs were determined to have nothing less than an adjournment, which would defeat the bill for the present, at least. Therefore they began a new order of filibustering, by moving that when the house adjourned, it be to meet on Saturday, and another goldbug amended by inserting Monday. The goldbug members endeavored in every way to lead the free coinage men astray, but without success. At 2:30 o'clock in the morning upon Mr. Bland's motion, the house adjourned. This means that the silver men thought it useless to continue the fight through the night, when it would be necessary to get a special order from the committee on rules to reach a vote. Such an order cannot be gotten until General Catchings returns. But he will be on hand Monday, and then the committee on rules will meet and bring in the report. Thus the fight is postponed until Monday or Tuesday.

THE SENATE.

WEDNESDAY.—Immediately after the assembling of the senate Wednesday Assistant Secretary Pruden was announced with an executive message. It was the president's reply to the last note of Lord Salisbury regarding the Behring sea matter. The correspondence consists, it is understood, of two notes, the first being Lord Salisbury's cabled note of the 19th, and the reply from the president, dated Tuesday. Neither of the notes is of great length. The concluding paragraph of the president's note is very war-like in tone and contains in substance an ultimatum to the British government that unless Great Britain agreed to some arrangement, pending arbitration, by which the interests of the United States in Behring sea could be protected, the United States government would take measures to protect them, even if it were necessary to call the military forces into requisition to do so. At one o'clock, on a motion of Mr. Sherman, the senate went into executive session on the Behring sea matter.

THURSDAY—At the conclusion of the executive session of the senate, which lasted four hours, the correspondence received Wednesday from the president relative to Behring sea was made public. It covers the points as heretofore indicated.

NOTES.

The announcement in the house that Mr. Mills had been unanimously elected senator from Texas was received with loud, long and almost thunderous applause.

Ex-Congressman Benjamin J. Harris, of Maryland, who sat in the house before the war, presented in the senate Wednesday, through the vice-president, a petition for compensation for his claim

After examining a dozen bills for pensioning soldiers in Indian wars the pension committees have decided to report without change that of Representative Moses, of Georgia. This bill allows $8 a month for all soldiers or widows of soldiers who served thirty days or more in any of the Indian wars between 1832 and '42.

Representative Andrew, of Boston, has completed the report upon his bill "to exclude political influence in the employment of laborers under the authority of the United States," and will submit it to the house at once. The bill, according to the reports he has received, will affect some 21,000 employes, and will require that henceforth they shall be appointed or employed without regard to political considerations.

Senator George has a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the amount of internal tax collected upon cotton produced in each of the states, and upon demand to pay the amounts so ascertained to the governors of the respective states to be held in trust for the benefit of the producers of cotton so taxed. The secretary of the treasury is authorized to issue enough treasury notes, bearing no interest, to carry out the purposes of the bill.

Representative Johnstone, of South Carolina, has introduced an important bill, which has the double purpose of decreasing taxation and increasing the circulating medium. It directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase the outstanding bonds due by the government, and to replace the amount of this purchase by issuing treasury notes. It provides that the gold and silver bullion of the government shall be coined and held for the redemption of these treasury notes.

POSTMASTERS IN CONFERENCE.

Some Important Postal Legislation Suggested by Them.

A Washington dispatch of Monday says: The conference of postmasters of the country with the postmaster general here during the last few days will result in much improvement to the postal service of the country. The conference appointed a committee to draw up several bills to be presented to the committees of the two houses for action. Among the new plans they have formulated and presented to congress are the following:

To establish postal savings depositories, providing that savings may be deposited in all postoffices designated by the postmaster general in sums of 5 cents or more by the use of savings stamps, and the subsequent conversion of said small sums into certificates of deposit of from $5 to $100. The bill will further provide for the investment of such savings funds in government, state, county, school district and municipal bonds in the sections where the money has been collected. The depositors are to participate in the earnings from the investments for all sums left on deposit for six months or more.

Another very important bill drawn up by this conference is to provide for the issuance of postal notes at all postoffices in the country for sums of less than one dollar free of cost. The notes are to be redeemable at any office within three months from the date of issue. This three months' limitation is placed upon them to prevent them becoming a circulating medium.

The conference also drew up a bill providing for experimenting with the postal telegraph. Also for the experimental use of the telephone. They also appointed a committee to examine into the expense and advisability of using pneumatic tubes in the larger cities. Also a bill to prohibit purely advertising sheets from transmission through the mails as second-class matter. Also to consolidate third and fourth-class mail matter.

Another bill, and one of the most important of all, is the one providing for the free delivery of mails in all towns of exceeding five thousand inhabitants, or where the postal receipts exceed five thousand dollars.

ILLEGAL APPORTIONMENT.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin Declares the Bill Unconstitutional.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Madison, Wis., says: The supreme court has decided the apportionment and redistricting bill passed by the last legislature as unconstitutional. The decision of the court was unanimous. It held that the constitution ordains that an assembly district shall be bounded by county, precinct, town or ward lines. Since no assembly district can lawfully be formed which includes territory in two or more counties, unless the whole of such counties are included therein, to that the district is bounded entirely by county lines a constitutional assembly district cannot be formed which includes within its limits fractions of two or more counties, or one county and a fraction of another county, for in either case the integrity of county lines would be violated; it is argued by the court.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

A heavy sleet and snow storm prevailed at Rockford, Ill., Tuesday. Street railway traffic was at a standstill.

A New York dispatch of Wednesday says: It has been decided to send Edward M. Field to the Buffalo state hospital.

The state central committee of the people's party of Arkansas, has designated June 21st as the date for the state convention.

The Wisconsin supreme court has declared the assembly senatorial and congressional appointment made by the last legislature unconstitutional.

Dispatches of Tuesday state that the Canadian Pacific railroad strike has now extended to the eastern division from Fort Williams to Chalk river, 4,000 more miles being locked up.

A Philadelphia dispatch of Thursday says: The Harrison-Frazier sugar refinery has been formally transferred to the sugar trust for ten million dollars, one million cash.

The democratic state central committee of Colorado has named Denver as the place and May 25th the day for the meeting of the convention to select delegates for the national convention at Chicago.

A San Salvador telegram states that by the derailment of a train at Sonsonate Wednesday thirteen persons were killed and thirty-one injured. The wreck is the most appalling has ever occurred in Central America.

A Berlin special of Wednesday says: The illness of Bismarck is more serious than was at first reported. He had several fainting fits at one time, and came near a collapse. He is better now, but very weak.

A dispatch of Thursday from Utica, N. Y., says: The jury in the case of Gould, the Albany banker accused of misappropriating the funds of the National bank, of which he was an officer, rendered a verdict of guilty.

A Cablegram from Paris says: At a meeting of the cabinet held Tuesday M. Ribot, the minister of foreign affairs, and M. Ricard, the minister of justice, submitted the text of the extradition treaty with the United States.

A New York special of Wednesday says: The Standard Oil company has filed a certificate with the county clerk of Hudson county, New Jersey, increasing the capital of its New Jersey corporation from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000.

A Washington dispatch of Thursday says: The comptroller of the currency has declared a ninth dividend, 5 per cent, in favor of the creditors of the Exchange National bank of Norfolk, Va., making in all 68 per cent on claims proved amounting to $2,886,667.

A dispatch of Wednesday says: For the first time in the history of the city of Hiawatha, Kansas, and possibly for the first time in Kansas, colored men have been appointed judges of election. Mayor Brewster has selected four colored men, one from each ward, to serve on election boards.

Telegrams of Wednesday from Detroit, Mich., state that the Grand Trunk R. R. of Canada and its Michigan branches, the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee, Chicago Grand Trunk and other laterals and main line, and all the branches of the Canadian Pacific are tottering on the edge of a strike, which if it takes place will effectively tie up these arteries of commerce and make havoc among many lines of trade.

A Berlin cablegram of Wednesday says: The Tageblatt reports that Emperor William is suffering from some emphysema of the lungs. This malady, says The Tageblatt, was contracted on his recent excursion to Grunewald, and produced slight asthmatic attacks and his doctors at once advised him to go to the thinner atmosphere at Hubertustock, in order to insure prompt recovery. No other paper in discussing the emperor's case, mentions emphysema and nothing is known in well-informed quarters confirmatory to The Tageblatt's report.

TOBACCO SMOKE.

A Big Factory in St. Louis Completely Destroyed by the Flames.

The extensive tobacco factory of [illegible] in the city of St. Louis, Mo., [illegible] ment." Volney [illegible] almost the entire [illegible] ing was in full [illegible] pen, some [illegible] ing [illegible] by [illegible]

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham,

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: { Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. / Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CONCAVE TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led competitors to make inferior saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship and without the patent concave teeth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Memphis, Tenn. Minneapolis, Minn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

TUESDAY—Interest in the question of the free coinage of silver was manifested in the house Tuesday morning by the increase attendance of members, by the unusual activity of the corps of newspaper correspondents, and by the crowd that thronged the galleries. The diplomatic gallery, which, as a general thing, presents an array of empty benches, added its quota of spectators. On the floor members clustered together in little groups and discussed the situation, the anti-silver men being apparently more active in their missionary work than the men in favor of free coinage. After the introduction of several bills, Bland, who had entered the hall, called up the special order—being the bill for the free coinage of gold and silver and for the issue of coin and notes. The bill having been read in full Beard took the floor, but was immediately taken from there by Tracey, of New York, with the point of order that the bill must receive its first consideration in the committee of whole as it involved a charge upon the treasury. Dingley supported this point, which was antagonized by Bland and was overruled by the chair, who stated that the matter had been determined at the time of the report of the bill from the committee. On motion of Bland the resolution was adopted providing for evening sessions Monday and Tuesday night for a general debate on the silver bill. Watson, of Georgia, wanted some time granted in the discuss on to members of the third party. "We stand here," said he, "as an independent party." "We are all independent on this question," retorted Bland, amid applause and laughter. Bland was then permitted to proceed with his speech.

WEDNESDAY.—The silver debate in the house Wednesday showed the intensity of public interest in that great question which now faces the fifty-second congress for solution, and threatens to become a political issue in the presidential campaign of the autumn. The galleries were crowded when the speaker's gavel rapped the house to order at noon and there was no abatement from the great interest manifested at the opening hours of the debate of Tuesday. The floor and the lobbies of the house, too, were well crowded with ex members and senators. In the gallaries were seated many bankers and financial experts from all over the country, and the Western Union wires on the outside were busy bearing hasty messages that flashed to the country the progress of the discussion, and conveyed to the great financial centres every indication that appeared in the political atmosphere. After some unimportant routine proceedings, the silver bill was taken up. "I desire to give notice," said Chairman Bland at the opening of the debate, "that at 2 o'clock Thursday I shall demand the previous question on the silver bill and pending amendments." This meant merely that the general debate would close at 2 o'clock, and that a final vote would then be taken on the bill and amendments unless its opponents inaugurate a series of filibustering tactics. The first speaker of the day was Representative Pierce, of Tennessee, the able young lieutenant of Chairman Bland on the coinage committee who made a fine argument in favor of the bill. He was followed by Mr. Stone, of Philadelphia, who denounced the pending bill as being not a bill for the free coinage of silver, but a bill for the unlimited issue of paper money. At the conclusion of Mr. Stone's remarks Mr. Bland asked consent that debate on the free silver bill, which would expire Thursday night, be extended until Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, but Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, objected on account of the failure of the friends of the bill to make any allotment of time to the representatives of the people's party. Mr. Browley, of South Carolina, opposed the bill, contending that its passage would prove detrimental to the business interests of the country. Mr. Halt, of Minnesota, in opposition to the bill said that it should have emanated from the republican side of the house. It was a plant of such a delicate fiber that only the rich soil of republicanism could be expected to bring it to fruition. The bill was not for free coinage. It was honey-combed and saturated with McKinleyism. Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin, opposed the measure, declaring that its chief aim was to "make something out of nothing; its chief purpose of making seventy cents worth one hundred cents. Mr. Strut, of Michigan, also raised his voice in opposition, and argued in favor of an honest dollar, which would be worth 100 cents. Mean-

Fitch, of New York; Lodge, of Massachusetts; Beltzhoover, of Pennsylvania, and Perkins, of Iowa, opposed the bill. Mr. McKeighan, of Nebraska, an independent, spoke in favor of it, and Mr. Bushnell, of Wisconsin, spoke in favor of the proposed amendment, providing that hereafter the silver dollar shall contain one ounce Troy of pure silver.

THURSDAY.—The debate on the free coinage bill was kept up all day Thursday. At times it was heated, for the house has never labored under such intense excitement as existed from the moment it met at the morning hour. Members on both sides of the question were working for votes like bees in a hive. Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, made the most sensational speech of the day. He denounced the young (Massachusetts) mugwumps, who have called themselves democrats, stating that he would even prefer such statesmen as the barefooted Kansan to Mr. Williams. Many other sensational speeches were made during the day, but the genuine fight did not commence until 5 o'clock, when Mr. Bland called the previous question on the passage of the bill. At that time nearly every member was upon the floor. There was not a vacant seat in any of the gallaries. Even the doors were crowded with men and women as eager to get in as they would be to crowd in a circus. When Mr. Bland called the previous question, Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, moved as a substitute to lay the bill and all its amendments upon the table. This motion, if carried, would have defeated the bill. During the roll call, the leaders on the two sides ran about the hall like wild men. The free coinage men were angered. They began to realize that the immense lobby present and the heavy pressure brought to bear by the goldbugs in favor of postponing the question, was having its effect. Many free coinage democrats were exhibiting weakness. Many who had announced for free coinage had dropped over into the ranks of those who wanted to postpone the issue. When the roll call had concluded, the result was startling to the free coinage men and a surprise to the goldbugs. It was 148 to table, against 147 against tabling. This meant the defeat of the Bland bill, but the speaker had not voted. As soon as he saw it he demanded of the clerk to call his name. It was done. He voted "no." As he did so the very ceiling vibrated at the applause given him. Then he announced the vote 148 to 148, a tie vote, which meant that the house refused to table the bill. It was amazing. No one expected it, and nobody can account for it, except on the ground that the backbones of many Democrats had weakened under the great pressure from the East. Only nine Republicans had voted with the mass of Democrats against tabling; eighty-one Democrats had voted to table. These included all the New York men except Mr. Rockwell, who represents Senator Hill's district, and whose seat is contested, all the New England Democrats, all from Pennsylvania, and a majority from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Maryland. The South was almost unanimous against tabling, but a few Southern men went down under pressure or conviction. Among them was Colonel Herbert, of the Montgomery, Alabama, district, an ardent Cleveland man; Colonel Elliott and Mr. Brawley, of South Carolina; Mr. Logan, of Louisiana; Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, and Mr. Raynor, of Maryland. Then there was Geary, of California, Castle, of Minnesota, and several score of others who would vote for free coinage on the direct issue, but who are trying to shelve it. Then the anti-free coinage men commenced filibustering. They moved to adjourn, but were turned down on that by a vote of 130 to 146. Mr. Johnson, of Ohio, came forward as an anti-free coinage bill leader, and move to reconsider the vote by which the vote to table the bill had been lost. Mr. Bland thereupon moved to table that motion. On this latter motion the vote was again announced to tie—148 to 148. Immediately there was intense excitement. The opposition leaders rushed down the aisle, yelling that the vote had not been recapitulated. The speaker replied that no one had called for it. At this the gold men yelled vociferously for a recapitulation, and, when the names were called over, two more "no" votes were added, and Mr. Bland's motion to table the motion to reconsider was lost. This looked serious to the free coinage men. It looked like they were defeated. Both sides were wild with excitement. The scenes on the floor were of the wildest confusion. Pages and runners were sent everywhere for absent members. The roll was being called again on the original motion to table the bill. The defeat of Bland's motion had brought up the original motion again. During the calling of the names, every man in the house was laboring under a strain of excitement. Each observation were given to [illegible] the floor of the house. The [illegible]

Those who seemed to waver were pleaded with, threatened and everything possible done to change them. But none changed. When the vote was being recapitulated, the most exciting incident of the day occurred. Mr. Donovan, of Ohio, was recorded as voting no. Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, declared that Mr. Donovan had not been in the house during the roll call. Here half of the house yelled to have Mr. Donovan's name stricken off, and the other half protested. Mr. Donovan himself was not present. Then the confusion and excitement were intense. Congressmen shook their fists at one another, turned red in the face and yelled themselves hoarse. It looked like bedlam had broken loose. The noise of the speaker's gavel was drowned in the confusion, and the sergeant-at-arms, with his mace, a great silver eagle with outstretched wings perched on a marble rod, had to be called, and sent through the aisles to force the members into their seats. This quieted the house for a few moments. Then Mr. Lockwood, of New York, declared that his name had not been recorded, and voted "aye" to table the bill, but Mr. Lawson, of Virginia, who had not been recorded, offset this by voting "no." This made the vote 146 to 147, a majority of one against tabling the bill. Mr. Johnson, of Ohio, changed his vote to move another consideration, leaving the final vote 145 to 148. The announcement was greeted with great and long continued applause. The free coinage men were growing hopeful. Mr. Johnson found that he could not move to reconsider without other business intervening, Mr. Fitch, of New York, therefore began filibustering by moving to adjourn, and calling the yeas and nays. It takes half an hour on each roll-call, and it was after 9 o'clock at night when the vote was announced. The house by a large majority, 102 to 80, refused to adjourn. The anti-free coinage men at this stage commenced resorting to all manner of dilatory tactics. One man would move to take a recess for an hour, another would amend it by adding two hours, and a third would move to adjourn. On each motion the yeas and nays were called. At 11 o'clock Mr. Bland moved to take a recess until 11 o'clock Friday. But a recess Friday would have been a continuation of the legislative day of Thursday. But the goldbugs were determined to have nothing less than an adjournment, which would defeat the bill for the present, at least. Therefore they began a new order of filibustering, by moving that when the house adjourned, it be to meet on Saturday, and another goldbug amended by inserting Monday. The goldbug members endeavored in every way to lead the free coinage men astray, but without success. At 2:30 o'clock in the morning upon Mr. Bland's motion, the house adjourned. This means that the silver men thought it useless to continue the fight through the night, when it would be necessary to get a special order from the committee on rules to reach a vote. Such an order cannot be gotten until General Catchings returns. But he will be on hand Monday, and then the committee on rules will meet and bring in the report. Thus the fight is postponed until Monday or Tuesday.

THE SENATE.

WEDNESDAY.—Immediately after the assembling of the senate Wednesday Assistant Secretary Pruden was announced with an executive message. It was the president's reply to the last note of Lord Salisbury regarding the Behring sea matter. The correspondence consists, it is understood, of two notes, the first being Lord Salisbury's cabled note of the 19th, and the reply from the president, dated Tuesday. Neither of the notes is of great length. The concluding paragraph of the president's note is very war-like in tone and contains in substance an ultimatum to the British government that unless Great Britain agreed to some arrangement, pending arbitration, by which the interests of the United States in Behring sea could be protected, the United States government would take measures to protect them, even if it were necessary to call the military forces into requisition to do so. At 4:30 o'clock, on a motion of Mr. Sherman, the senate went into executive session on the Behring sea matter.

THURSDAY—At the conclusion of the executive session of the senate, which lasted four hours, the correspondence received Wednesday from the president relative to Behring sea was made public. It covers the points as heretofore indicated.

NOTES.

The announcement in the house that Mr. Mills had been unanimously elected senator from Texas was recieved with loud, long and almost thunderous applause.

Representative Benjamin J. Hayes, of Maryland, who sat in the house before the war, presented to the senate Wednesday [illegible]

After examining a dozen bills for pensioning soldiers in Indian wars the pension committees have decided to report without change that of Representative Moses, of Georgia. This bill allows $8 a month for all soldiers or widows of soldiers who served thirty days or more in any of the Indian wars between 1832 and '42.

Representative Andrew, of Boston, has completed the report upon his bill "to exclude political influence in the employment of laborers under the authority of the United States," and will submit it to the house at once. The bill, according to the reports he has received, will affect some 21,000 employes, and will require that henceforth they shall be appointed or employed without regard to political considerations.

Senator George has a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the amount of internal tax collected upon cotton produced in each of the states, and upon demand to pay the amounts so ascertained to the governors of the respective states to be held in trust for the benefit of the producers of cotton so taxed. The secretary of the treasury is authorized to issue enough treasury notes, bearing no interest, to carry out the purposes of the bill.

Representative Johnstone, of South Carolina, has introduced an important bill, which has the double purpose of decreasing taxation and increasing the circulating medium. It directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase the outstanding bonds due by the government, and to replace the amount of this purchase by issuing treasury notes. It provides that the gold and silver bullion of the government shall be coined and held for the redemption of these treasury notes.

POSTMASTERS IN CONFERENCE.

Some Important Postal Legislation Suggested by Them.

A Washington dispatch of Monday says: The conference of postmasters of the country with the postmaster general here during the last few days will result in much improvement to the postal service of the country. The conference appointed a committee to draw up several bills to be presented to the committees of the two houses for action. Among the new plans they have formulated and presented to congress are the following:

To establish postal savings depositories, providing that savings may be deposited in all postoffices designated by the postmaster general in sums of 5 cents or more by the use of savings stamps, and the subsequent conversion of said small sums into certificates of deposit of from $5 to $100. The bill will further provide for the investment of such savings funds in government, state, county, school district and municipal bonds in the sections where the money has been collected. The depositors are to participate in the earnings from the investments for all sums left on deposit for six months or more.

Another very important bill drawn up by this conference is to provide for the issuance of postal notes at all postoffices in the country for sums of less than one dollar free of cost. The notes are to be redeemable at any office within three months from the date of issue. This three months' limitation is placed upon them to prevent them becoming a circulating medium.

The conference also drew up a bill providing for experimenting with the postal telegraph. Also for the experimental use of the telephone. They also appointed a committee to examine into the expense and advisability of using pneumatic tubes in the larger cities. Also a bill to prohibit purely advertising sheets from transmission through the mails as second-class matter. Also to consolidate third and fourth-class mail matter.

Another bill, and one of the most important of all, is the one providing for the free delivery of mails in all towns of exceeding five thousand inhabitants, or where the postal receipts exceed five thousand dollars.

ILLEGAL APPORTIONMENT.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin Declares the Bill Unconstitutional.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Madison, Wis., says: The supreme court has decided the apportionment and redistricting bill passed by the last legislature as unconstitutional. The decision of the court was unanimous. It held that the constitution ordains that an assembly district shall be bounded by county, precinct, town or ward lines. Since no assembly district can lawfully be formed which includes territory in two or more counties, unless the whole of such counties are included therein, so that the district is bounded entirely by county lines a constitutional assembly district cannot be formed which includes within its limits fractions of two or more counties, or one county and a fraction of another county, for whether even the majority of county should be declared [illegible]

NEWS IN GENERAL

Happenings of the Day Collected from Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

A heavy sleet and snow storm at Rockford, Ill., Tuesday. All railway traffic was at a standstill.

A New York dispatch of Monday says: It has been decided to award M. Field to the Buffalo capital.

The state central committee of the people's party of Arkansas, has fixed June 21st as the date for the convention.

The Wisconsin supreme court declared the assembly senatorial and congressional appointment made by the legislature unconstitutional.

Dispatches of Tuesday say: The Canadian Pacific railroad will be extended to the eastern division of Williams to Chalk river, 4,000 men being locked up.

A Philadelphia dispatch of Monday says: The Harrison-Frazier syndicate has been formally transferred the sugar trust for ten million dollars to ten million cash.

The democratic state committee of Colorado has named the time, place and May 26th the day for holding of the convention to select delegates for the national convention.

A San Salvador telegram says that by the derailment of a train on Wednesday thirteen persons were killed and thirty-one injured. This is the most appalling has ever occurred in Central America.

A Berlin special of Wednesday says: The illness of Bismarck is more serious than was at first reported. He has had several fainting fits at one time and is now near a collapse. He is believed to be very weak.

A dispatch of Thursday from N. Y., says: The jury in the case against the Albany banker accused of misappropriating the funds of the bank, of which he was an officer, rendered a verdict of guilty.

A Cablegram from Paris says: At a meeting of the cabinet before the departure of Ribot, the minister of foreign affairs, and M. Ricard, the minister of justice, submitted the text of the proposed treaty with the United States.

A New York special of Wednesday says: The Standard Oil company has filed a certificate with the secretary of state of Hudson county, New Jersey, increasing the capital of its New Jersey corporation from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000.

A Washington dispatch of Wednesday says: The comptroller of the currency has declared a ninth dividend of 10 per cent, in favor of the creditors of the First National Exchange National bank of New York, thus making in all 90 per cent. The dividend just declared amounting to $2,000,000.

A dispatch of Wednesday says: For the first time in the history of Hiawatha, Kansas, a negro has been appointed jury commissioner. Mayor Brewster has selected two colored men, one from each ward, to serve on the election boards.

Telegrams of Wednesday from Grand Rapids, Mich., state that the Grand Trunk railway of Canada and its Michigan line, the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee, the Chicago Grand Trunk and the Detroit and Milwaukee main line, and all of the Canadian Pacific are tied up by the knowledge of a strike, which it is feared will effectively tie up the commerce and make havoc with the lines of trade.

A Berlin cablegram of Wednesday says: The Tageblatt reports that Prince William is suffering from inflammation of the lungs. The Tageblatt, was compelled to [illegible] cent excursion to Gravesend produced slight asthmatic symptoms. The doctors at once advised the prince to seek a thinner atmosphere in order to insure prompt recovery. The other paper in discussing the case, mentions emphysema. It is known in well-informed circles, says the dispatch, that the attack is more serious than was at first reported. The Tageblatt, was compelled to [illegible]

TOBACCO [illegible]

A Big Factory in Chicago Destroyed by Fire.

The extensive tobacco plant of Mayer & Myer, at 64-74 [illegible] in the south division, Friday [illegible] owners, the total [illegible] insurance, $400,000. The [illegible] long was in the [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 31, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year . . . $1.00
One copy six months . . . 75
One copy four months . . . 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
R. M. HONEYCUTT.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce ALEX. G. DAKE, as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic party.
W. H. FOSHEE.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILLSARTOR, Jr.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. I am subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

Very respectfully,
G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.
P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.
B. M. GENTRY.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce D. A. WHITE as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

To the Democratic Voters of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for Tax Collector subject to the action of the Democratic party and most respectfully ask your support. If honored with the nomination, I promise to devote my time and ability in faithfully performing all duties devolving upon me.
E. L. McKEE.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.
E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR TREASURER.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce SEABORN JONES as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce J. M. PARRISH as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election. J. W. MOORE.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The friends of F. B. BALDWIN announce him as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature subject to the Democratic primary.

At the solicitation of many friends, I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.
O. M. MASTIN.

To-morrow is All Fool's Day. Fortunately, experience has caused our Alabama April-fool expert, the Age-Herald, to drop entirely out of the ring.

According to all estimates except those of the Alliance Herald, Gov. Jones keeps well ahead of Capt. Kolb in the gubernatorial race. Counties are noting every day.

The Age-Herald made a thrust at the weekly papers in the state, in saying: "Among the weekly papers, Hill fairly divided the support with Cleveland, notwithstanding the editors' long habit of training with the Montgomery Advertiser."

This comic writer on the A.-H. very often excites the risibilities. Just now he is "cussing" mad because none of the papers of the State have ever fallen into the habit of "training" on the milk and water editorials of the Age-Herald.

Nigger in the Wood Pile.

Correspondent Union Springs Herald.

Though the followers of Macune, Peik and Turrell are saying little about the proceedings of the Industrial Union Conference, recently held in St. Louis, it may be well for the people to know something about the completion of that organization. The delegates present were as follows: "The report of credentials committee showed that there were 240 delegates from the Farmers' Alliance Mutual Benefit Association; 92 from the Knights of Labor; 97 from the National Colored Alliance; 27 from the National Citizens' Alliance; 75 from the Patrons of Industry; and 25 from the Patrons of Husbandry."

UP BOBS THE NEGRO SECRETLY.

"Warwick, of Virginia, a very black man (to speak plainly, a negro) was nominated as assistant secretary of the conference.

Mr. Gilmore, Asistant State Lecturer Georgia Farmers Alliance arose and called: "Mr. President, I move to make the brother's (negro's) election unanimous. We can stand him down in Georgia."

ALABAMA PROTESTS IN VAIN.

In answer to Gilmore's motion, Mr. S. M. Adams, of Alabama, shouted: "Alabama won't consent to its being made unanimous," at which cries of "sit down," "shame," and hisses of derision filled the hall. The motion was put, and Warwick, the negro was elected, the Alabamian's loud "no" being the only one heard in the meeting."

Party First.

T. E. Knight, a candidate for representative from Hale county, replies to questions propounded through the Watchman to a candidate of that county. The response is mainly honest, and should secure the support of the honest voters of Hale, regardless of party or faction. Such men can be trusted, and are always to be preferred to the time serving aspirant, who will subscribe to any and everything, so he can secure an office.

"I think the people to be represented have a right to know the views of those who desire to represent them. I shall, therefore, answer the questions propounded in the last issue of your paper by 'Democrat and Farmer.' Am I a supporter of R. F. Kolb for governor? I am not. Do I favor the Land Loan bill? I do not. Do I favor the government ownership of railroads. I do not. Should it become necessary to elect a successor to Pugh or Morgan, would I vote for a man who does favor the above measures? I would not. In conclusion I will say that I have planted my feet on the eternal principles of Democracy, to stand or fall with those principles, and under no circumstances will I recede from them in order to gain a seat in the legislature. If my answers to the above questions are opposed to the wishes of a majority of the people of the county, I should not be elected. I am for Democracy first, and myself second.—Montgomery Advertiser.

A Short Sermon.

The Chronicle likes to preach a little sermon now and then, and when we think of some young men and then other young men, the inclination is strengthened into an earnest attempt. Last week a great many of our young men had to work the road or hire some one to work it for them. We notice that generally the latter mode prevailed. But we noticed that it did not prevail with all of them. A few of the boys who know the difference between a little work and a little money and appreciated the knowledge, went ahead and worked hard with pick and shovel, and saved the money. That is what we like to see. We know of several young men who were idle at the time—not engaged in any business that would have prevented their doing active duty on the roads—who felt to do so would place a sort of brand upon them that would be a constant reproach, and they could never hold up their heads again. Well it does brand a man—as a man, and shows who will fill the honored places of our fathers in the responsibility of life—and fill them with the same proud honor. It brands him as a courageous and determined man, one who will battle with life like a man, and win the fight, too. We want to raise our hats to the young men who worked the road.—Shelby Chronicle.

We guarantee our low prices. Any goods purchased of us and not satisfactory as to price or quality can be returned and money will be refunded. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Information for the Guidance of Delegates.

For the benefit of delegates to the State Sunday School Convention (inter-denominational) to be held at Huntsville April 19, 20, 21, the following information is published and papers of the State will confer a favor by giving it space for information of other readers who may be interested.

The number of delegates is not prescribed; any Sunday School can send one or more.

Friends at Huntsville will entertain all delegates, and bid them welcome.

Reduced rates on different railroads of the State can be had by complying fully with the following instructions issued by the Southern Passenger Association rates of one full fare going and one-third of the highest limited fare returning is authorized on the certificate plan to wit: Delegates are requested to purchase a first class ticket to Huntsville, when the agent selling the same, will issue a certificate and deliver the ticket to said purchaser. This certificate when properly signed by the Convention Secretary will enable any delegate to purchase a return ticket at one-third fare.

No refund of fare will be made on any account whatever, because of failure of the parties to obtain certificates. Persons intending to go to the Convention should cut this out and use it for their guidance.

Iowa is about to adopt the Australian ballot system, and will be the thirty-fourth State to keep forward on that line of advancement. Alabama, which needs it worse than any of them, will probably be the last to adopt it. Alabama is sorely in need of leaders who think of something else than their own advancement and who believe in the "let well enough alone" policy.—Ex.

Semi-weekly political convulsions and lurid literary eruptions on a par with those of the Alliance Herald continue to keep politics in Shelby in a "touchy" state. It is said that none of the candidates or political workers up there will venture to strike a match on his breeches for fear of an explosion. The fact is impressed that the dogmatism of the Alliance Herald is not a style to be emulated by Democratic journalists on any side of a question. Its product is dissension that may require a generation of time to overcome.

Judge Peter Turney, Chief Justice of Tennessee, epitomized the tenets and mission of Democracy with brevity and wisdom when he said recently:

Democracy has no secrets. Oaths are not necessary to its existence. It is bold, open and candid; not afraid of light and publicity. Its principles are embodied in the Constitution and Bill of Rights. It demands that every member of its family shall publicly subscribe to its faith and not be ashamed to confess it. It can and will make no concession to unconstitutional tenets. It is the party of the people—the people's friend.

Anniston News: Over in Gadsden somebody started the report that W. G. Hatchett was a republican. Mr. H. is publisher of the Leader, a candidate for justice of the peace, and accidentally an applicant for a camp meeting deaconship. The report made Col. Hatchett furious and he gathered himself up and beheaded both the allegation and the allegator in a card that is as full of force as the business end of a hairless headed hornet. It is well, as Washington used to say, that Col. Hatchett got a chance to go into blast and then cool down before hot weather.

Si Hassi Ben-Ali, the moorish chief, who left New York last summer to collect rare exhibits from the African wild's for the World's Fair, has communicated with the imigration bureau. The explorer states that he has arrived at Fez, where, at the court of Muley Hassan, the Sultan, he succeeded in creating a most profound impression and enlisting the sympathies and aid of the Sultan mainly by the means of an Edison phonograph, which he caused to play "Yankee Doodle," and down on the Suwanee River," and to deliver a fourth of July spread eagle oration. The Sultan and court believed that he controlled spirits and furnished him with a packed escort for his expedition.—New Orleans Times Democrat.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

In Boston I never give up my seat on any account. There is nothing about a Boston woman—I say it in no spirit of disparagement—to suggest such a course. She likes that sort of aggressive femininity which makes a man uncomfortable when he ventures further South, to sit still while a woman is standing. In New York I give up my seat to elderly women or women with children to care for, or their arms full of packages. In Philadelphia I vacate in favor of women old enough to wear a bonnet; in Washington my place is at the disposal of the veriest bud, and further South than that I never ride on a street car at all, as I feel that I must give up for every school girl, whether she has entered upon her teens or not. This is not a mere formal attempt to strike the average of usage in the several cities; my action is based on an intuitive feeling of what is necessary and proper, imbibed probably with the local atmosphere.—Kate Fields' Washington.

The "Southern chivalry" towards women has probably been the subject of more sarcasm than any phase of the national character, but there is a very genuine germ of good truth in it after all. Seats in the street cars are only a sample. The first woman physician belonging to the Southern Medical Association is treated with all courtesy and respect. The first women to vote in the South at Harriman, Tenn., about a year ago, were met at the polls with cheers and hats off, and Mother Wallace preached in Atlanta to the crowded houses who listened with every evidence of attention and respect. Southern chivalry will win yet for the woman questioned in the South when the real men and women get their eyes free from the glamor which politicians of every kind, color and description cast over them.—New Decatur Advertiser.

No Excuse for a Split.

Huntsville Mercury.

There is now not the faintest possible excuse for a split in the Democratic Party and we are happy over it. In other words we are delighted that the action of the State Executive Committee was authorized by the convention. We will have to fight to a finish under requirements of the committee. It was purely a question of party law and it seems that while the committee were innocent of doing right, still they stumbled on the law.

Capt. Kolb has admitted that the charge that he raised the weights on 125 bales of cotton is true, but says it was only a trap to catch a thief. This being the case it was bad policy to deny the charge as a "malicious lie" when it was first made. Raising the weights on 10 or 15 bales ought to have been enough to catch the thief and would not have proved such a boomrang on the man who set the trap.

If Alabama had fine public schools and roads, Alabamians would be the best fixed people in the world. The lack of wise legislation on these two important matters has cost our state millions of dollars which we should have had.—Huntsville Mercury.

O. H. P. Wright.

In placing Mr. O. H. P. Wright's name before the citizens of Chilton county as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge, we would like to say to the people of the county that Mr. Wright is a simon-pure democrat and has ever been. This is in answer to some of the inquiries regarding his political standing. Mr. Wright is a candidate placed in the field by the people of his beat, who desire the support of all the good people of the county. Mr. Wright is not soliciting the office but has placed his name before the people at the earnest solicitation of his friends, yet he is willing and ready to serve his county to the best of his ability. Mr. Wright will not be able to make a thorough canvass of the county, owing to his connection with the G. & C. Lumber Co. However, we hope to have the support of the county for him as he is properly vouched for by BEAT 8.

L. W. Grant passed through the city last night on the way to the lower part of the district. If what the Hot Blast hears is so, Mr. Grant's fences are in pretty good shape and don't need a great deal of patching.—Hot Blast.

The directors of the Southern Exposition held at Montgomery have decided not to hold a fair next fall, and resolutions were passed to that effect at the last meeting.

A Card.

Being acquainted with some of Mr. D. A. White's official acts during the time he served as collector under appointment, I wish to say that he was prompt in his duties and very successful in collecting the poll tax. He is a good man and deserves the endorsement of the voters of Chilton county by electing him to the office of tax collector. A FRIEND.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST
SAFE SURE

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clock
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TR WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watch other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneide Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and Amer CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Sp cles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest p possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repa All work guaranteed.
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILL
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mill
and all kinds of Machinery an
Mill Supplies. Write for circular
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALT
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting
Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 1018 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., MAR. 31, 1892.

SCHEDULE M. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1	Express Don't stop	6:40 a. m.
No. 3	Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9	Accommodation	5:56 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2	Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4	Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10	Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Homer Lowe has moved to Lomax.

Mrs. W. H. Merritt spent last Friday in Montgomery.

Mr. G. W. Marcus has rented Mr. W. M. Burton's place.

Rev. B. E. Feagin preached at the Methodist Church Sunday.

Dr. A. M. Rambo, of Verbena, was in in Clanton Monday on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Burton have moved to Montgomery, where they expect to make their home.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips has been visiting Dr. Green's family in Montgomery for the past week.

Frank Baldwin is making an active personal canvass of the county for Representative.

Shirt waists, Knee pants, Hats and everything worn by children can be had at Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holly returned to Clanton last Thursday after a pleasant visit to North Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Waterworth, of Maplesville, were in town this week and were the guests of Judge H. J. Callen.

Mr. O. L. Thomas, and family of Florida, have moved to Clanton and occupy one of Mr. T. Gullahorn's houses.

12½ cents will buy a pair of fine French Balbriggan men's socks, brown, black or double, at Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Prof. E. O. Dawson, a former citizen of Jemison, now of Shelby county, was in Clanton visiting his brother, G. W. Dawson, last week.

Conference was held at the Baptist Church Sunday for the purpose of calling Rev. W. J. Elliott, of Montgomery, as pastor of this church.

Ladies!—We make boys goods (from 2 years up) a specialty. We have everything worn by the little and big boys. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Mr. L. H. Reynolds, county lecturer of the county Alliance, was in town Thursday. He delivers a lecture before the local Alliance at Clanton to-day.

Thursday and Friday last were miserable days, but the mean weather did not disturb all the candidates as some of them were to be met on their rounds.

In this issue will be found the spring advertisement of Alex Rice, the popular clothier of Montgomery. When in Montgomery call at his store.

Henry Williams, the negro charged with "raising Cain" in his own household and who disappeared shortly afterwards, has returned and after a preliminary examination is again in durance vile to await the action of the grand jury. Williams had a taste of the coal mines a year or more ago, and on returning expressed himself as well pleased with that vocation.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

People from all over the county were here Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee.

Mr. T. B. Holly and wife left for Troy Monday where Mr. Holly will make his headquarters in the Life Insurance business.

Any alteration in a suit that may be necessary for a perfect fit we cheerfully do without charge. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

There were interesting times in Congress last Thursday. You will find the proceedings in full on the first page of the VIEW.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, candidate for congress, will address the people of Chilton county, at Verbena, Ala., on Saturday, April, 2nd, 2 p. m.

W. H. Foshee.

Mr. W. H. Foshee is announced in this issue for the office of Probate Judge. Mr. Foshee has a strong following in the county, and he comes before the people on his record, his experience and his merits, and will let them be the judges.

A serious cutting affray between J. W. Headley and Jim Connell created some excitement on the streets Thursday afternoon. Connell received a slight wound in the head, and Headly was much more seriously hurt, receiving several stabs on his body and one on his head. Connell claims that he acted in self-defence. Whiskey was at the bottom of the trouble.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Democratic Executive Committee met in Clanton on the 29th inst., and amended their call so as to read as follows, to-wit: "That the person receiving the highest number of votes for any particular office in the primary election on 12th of April shall be declared the Democratic nominee for such office. None but white Democrats shall be allowed to vote in the primary election." No other business of importance was transacted.

For Sheriff.

To the People:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. If justice is given, as was not the case before, I can stay at home and tend my roastnear patch and beat Moore and Jno. Garner.

Your humble servant,
WILY VINES, Candidate.

Honor Roll.

At the Public School for two weeks.

2nd Grade—Annie Lake Phillips, Janie Goodgame, Mattie Sue Chandler nad Clifford Gullahorn.

3rd Grade—Mollie Vines, Lula Dudley, Pattie Robinson and Willie Marsh.

5th Grade—Mamie Nelson, Willie Dora Robinson, Barthy Boyd, Tommie Chandler and Olver Bedsole.

Sugie Chandler and Florence Gullahorn.

Jones Club Organized.

ED. CHILTON VIEW:—In pursuance to a call made through your excellent paper last week quite a number of Democrats met at the courthouse last Saturday night and organized a Democratic club, known as the Clanton Jones' Club. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather forty-eight members were enrolled, and then adjourned to meet again Friday night, the first of April, when officers will be elected. All Democrats are earnestly requested to come.

R. C. DUKE,
Temporary Secretary.

CLANTON, ALA., March 18, 92.

ED. VIEW: Dear sir.—I have been questioned by many citizens of this community concerning a report that I understand has general circulation throughout the county, that O. M. Mastin, while a citizen of Elmore county, ran for office on a Republican ticket with a negro and I have been referred to, to substantiate the above report. I wish to state to the public through your paper the facts in the case, in justice to myself as well as to Mastin. O. M. Mastin did run on what was called an Independent ticket, but as to there being a negro on that ticket, it is false. J. G. GAY.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Lily Dots.

March kept up its reputation for blustor.

We are not likely to have much fruit in this section this year.

Mr. John Letcher and Miss Sue Sanford were united in marriage at the residence of Mr. B. F. Hammond near this place Sunday morning, March 20th.

Miss Ora Johnson has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in Rome, Ga.

Mr. Jeff Fox visited Randolph on on business last week.

Mr. Rollins was kept quite busy at Benson on the 22nd of March, as most of the people waited until the last round to assess their tax.

Maplesville Dots.

We are glad to say our town is improving.

Mr. B. C. Crawford, of Bessemer, has moved into the old residence of Mrs. A. Foshee and opened a grocery store in the old postoffice.

Mrs. Dr. Paisley, of Brierfield, visited Mr. T. U. Crumpton last week.

Mr. Walter Lawrence, of Selma, spent Sunday with his mother.

Our town received a visit from Messrs. Traywick and Baldwin recently. We find them intelligent gentlemen.

Mr. Robt. Martin visited the Magic City Sunday.

Miss Bobbie Glover has just returned from a visit to Birmingham.

The young people drove out to Sand Mountain Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Doss Williams has been quite sick.

Mr. T. U. Crumpton and wife paid a visit to his parents at Pleasant Hill last week.

Programe of Teachers' Institute.

A Teacher' Institute will be held at Verbena on the 29th and 30th of April, 1892.

PROGRAME FOR FRIDAY.

10 a. m.—Welcome Address and Miscellaneous Business.

10:45, a. m.—Uniformity of Textbooks. J. W. Moore.

11:15, a. m.—The Primary Teacher. Miss E. B. Bonham.

11:45, a. m.—Music.

RECESS.

2, p. m.—A Recitation by Miss Minnie Phillips.

2:20, p. m.—How Many Hours Each Day Should School be Kept Open? E. E. Todd.

3, p. m.—History. G. L. Speer.

3:30, p. m.—Elocution. T. J. Griffin.

4, p. m.—Miscellany.

SATURDAY.

10 a. m.—Music.

10:20 a. m.—Female Education. Mrs. M. A. Bowdoin.

10:40 a. m.—Geography. W. N. Johns.

11:20 a. m.—Applied Physiology. Tipton Mullins.

11:40 a. m.—Miscellany.

RECESS.

2 p. m.—The Relation of the Teacher to his Profession. J. W. Moore.

2:30 p. m.—The Relation of the Parent to the Teacher. G. C. Hanks.

3 p. m.—A Plan for Better School Houses. Prof. Lovett.

3:30 p. m.—Miscellany.

To relive the monotony of the Institute, short recitations by pupils will be admissible.

All teachers are expected to attend. R. E. R. HICKS,
County Supt. Ed.

A Mistake In Print.

An item appeared in an Eastern paper not long ago which should have read as follows: "Mrs. H. has the largest and nicest plants in town." In making up the form the "l" dropped out in the word plants, and the mistake was not noticed until the paper was printed. The whole town was in an uproar and when the lady's husband read the item he armed himself with a shot gun and started for the printing office, but the editor saw him coming and escaped through the back window.

Jerry Simpson used in his earlier days be an expert at sawing logs and a story told in Washington of the sockless statesman relates that while he was dozing in a chair at the Riggs House the passing of an electric car, with its din and buzzing, recalled to his somnolent senses his old time trade, whereupon he jumped up shouting: "Back her, she's struck a knot." The story is a little apocryphal, perhaps, but it goes as everything does about Jerry.—Ex.

We make wedding outfits, a specialty. We can fix you up with everything except the girl, and save money on your outfit. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Didn't Work Right.

De Smoker—"Do you know, my dear, an eminent scientist has discovered that tobacco arrests the development of bacteria."

Wife—"Does it really? You wouldn't want your little wife eaten up by those horrid bacteria, would you, my dear? Where's your other pipe?"—New York Weekly.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

SHERIFF'S SALE.

J. R. Hockstader vs. Jacob Lavinskey in the Circuit Court of Chilton County.

Under and by virtue of an Execution in the above entitled cause made at the Fall Term, 1891 of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, I will proceed to sell for cash to the highest and best bidder, at Coopers' Station, Chilton County, Ala., on Monday, the 11th day of April, 1892, the following described property, to-wit:

One Engine and Boiler, about fifteen horse power, one large circular saw, one small circular saw as the property of Jacob Lavinskey. LEE HAYES,
Sheriff Chilton Co.

Clanton, March 29th, 1892.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, executed by O. A. Duke and wife, Julieta T. Duke, to J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings, and by said J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings duly transferred and assigned to the Alabama National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, and by said Alabama National Bank duly transferred and assigned to Albert Adler, J R P Durham, S M Adler and J E Morriss, composing the firm of Adler, Durham & Co., the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcery to the highest bidder for cash, on the following described property to-wit: N half and sw quarter of ne quarter sw quarter of the no quarter, and s e quarter of s e quarter section 1. All, except n half of sw quarter of sec 9 All of sections 15, 16, 17, 21, 28, 27 and 35. All, except s e quarter of s e quarter section 19, sw quarter of n w quarter and nw quarter of ne quarter, and s half of n e quarter and n half of se quarter section 24, s half of section 25, e half of sw quarter and se quarter of nw quarter section 25, all, except sw quarter of nw quarter and se quarter of sw quarter, of section 29, all, except e half of se quarter and se ¼ of ne ¼ of section 31, ne ¼ of se ¼, section 32, all, except ne ¼ of ne ¼ of section 33, all in township 21, range 14, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama, and also w half of s w ¼ section 16, township 21, range 15, in Chilton county, Alabama.

TUESDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1892.

ADLER, DURHAM & CO.,
By Wm. A. Collier, Their Attorney.
Clanton, Ala., March 24th, 1892.

Executor's Sale.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at Clear Creek, in said county, between the legal hours of sale, on the 30th day of April, 1892, the personal property belonging to the estate of M. E. Vanderveer, deceased. Said property to be sold for division of the same. J. P. VANDERVEER, mar24 Executor.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on Apr. 2d, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2684, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

fe25-5 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. Land Office, Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 18, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on March 26, 1892, viz: Warren Nix, homestead 2837 for the s w ¼ of n e ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 2, township 22 n, range 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: David Hightower, Curtis Gentry, Stephen Atchinson and Wiley Atchinson, all of Randolph, Ala.

fe18-5 J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 2769 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10 township 22 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Burnett, Tandy Bankman, and Warren Maddox, all of Stanleyton, Ala.

[illegible] J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—:MONTGOMERY, ALA.:—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blnds,

Wall Paper, Artists' Materials

And Builders' Hardware.

—18 COMMERCE STREET,—

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE,

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL [illegible], and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and the prices given by any house

Hare, Pope & Dockery, Montgomery, Ala.

CIRCUIT COURTS.

Chancery—First Tuesday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular terms second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
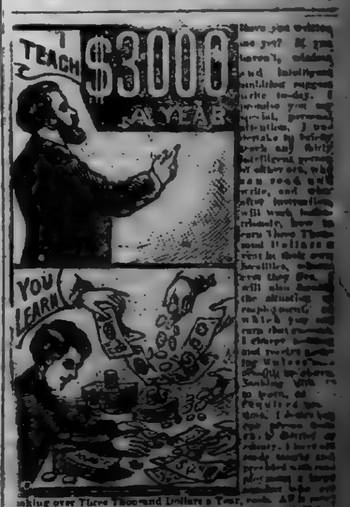
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[2-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25-9t]

THE LIGHT RUNNING
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE
IS THE BEST.
THE NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO. ORANGE, MASS.
28 UNION SQUARE, N.Y.
FOR SALE BY

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.



making over Three Thousand Dollars a Year, reads All I did, says. Full particulars free. After you know all, if you conclude to go no further, why, no harm is done. Address

J. C. ALLEN, Box 488, Augusta, Maine.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned [illegible] and best and highest [illegible] College in the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. H. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of [illegible] from Alabama attending last year. Its efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It is endorsed by [illegible] Highest Honors at World's Exposition by 10,000 graduates, including [illegible] from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Typewriting, Telegraphy, &c. taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business course in this famous College and will be disposed of, on [illegible] terms, to a deserving young [illegible] of this county.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 1018 2nd Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you want in the way of clothing and gents furnishings.

Give us a call.

BUSH LIFE IN AUSTRALIA.

STRANGE TYPES OF MEN THAT ARE DEVELOPED.

Sharp Shearers and Their Improvidence—"Rousebouts" and "Sundowners"—Small Bush Farmers.

THE characteristic life of Australia is to be seen only in the "bush." In this indefinite locality, whose name suggests to the uninitiated an expanse of dense and tangled forest, the native Australian recognizes practically everything that lies outside the cities. The "cockatoo" farmer, who has cleared a modest plantation in the midst of the woods of eucalyptus and wattle, and surrounded his demesne with a "cockatoo" fence of logs, (I have sought in vain to discover the pertinence of the name that is attached both to the man and his work;) the woodman, who hews the iron-like wood of the blue gum into timber for house frames, harbor piles and railway ties; the gold miner, who rocks his cradle in the hollows of sun-smitten creeks; the squatter, who grazes sheep, like the sands of the seashore for multitude, over vast plains where for miles not a tree is to be seen—all these are brought together in the broad classification of dwellers in the "bush."

Old residents rarely speak of the country, but always of the "bush;" to the districts more remote from the cities the term "back blocks" is applied, the word "block" referring to the holdings which have been purchased from the Government, and are generally laid out in rectangular form. Australians have a strange nomenclature of their own, which much confuses the "new chum" (synonymous with the "tenderfoot" of the American Northwest). In certain districts the jargon of shepherds, woodmen, and shearers is as incomprehensible to those unlearned in strange tongues as Choctaw.

The shearers represent one of the most characteristic communities to be found in the bush. They are a nomadic race, following the course of the seasons as unerringly as the birds. Beginning their operations in the North, where the spring comes on earliest, they follow the sun southward from station to station, until the closing season finds them completing work in the stations nearest the sea. Work for three months is brisk, and thousands of men find ready and lucrative employment. Some stations carry over 300,000 sheep, and employ hundreds of men, who, in the brief period of their engagement, acquire money enough to carry them through the rest of the year in a condition of elegant leisure. Comparatively few of the shearers, however, make a frugal or commendable use of their money. After the arduous labor of the shearing sheds, the mind of man naturally turns to means of recreation. In the bush these means are practically restricted to the "pubs," as the hotels or public houses are invariably called in Australia. These institutions usually consist of a bar exclusively, it evidently being considered that the wants of the traveling public are sufficiently met by plentiful supply of whisky and gin. The regular course of procedure with old and seasoned shearers is to resort to the nearest of these establishments, hand over their checks—often amounting to more than £100—and take up their quarters until the money is exhausted. This, with the landlords to fix the prices of lodging and spirituous refreshment, is soon accomplished, and the muddled victim of "shepherd's delight" is turned adrift to shift as best he may until the next shearing season begins.

Throughout the year these dissolute characters may be seen wandering about the country, rough of clothing and manner, uncouth of speech, shambling along with hat slouched over their eyes and short black pipe in mouth, their "swag," composed of a blanket rolled up with such scraps of food as they may possess, tied over their back with a string, and the inevitable "billy," or tin pail in which to make tea, carried in their hand. Occasionally one comes across a couple or trio of them squatting about a fire, over which mutton is roasting and tea boiling, while the "damper" of flour mixed with water lies baking upon the coals. They are civil enough, though rough in manner, and for the stranger whom they accost to refuse to alight from his horse and take a pannikin of tea with them is a breach of good breeding which is likely to be commented upon by the gang in language which includes his eyes, liver, and other useful organs in general and eternal condemnation. Not a few of them are men who have enjoyed a good education and early social privileges in the "old country," and who, having been disappointed in obtaining in this new and practical land the positions for which they were fitted, have gradually passed slowly down the scale of employment, and found bottom at last in the great army of shearer-tramps, "rousebouts," and "sundowners."

The names above furnish us with some additional gems from the inexhaustible mine of the Australian bush vernacular. "Rousebouts" are those who collect, dip and wash the sheep at shearing time, and generally carry on the miscellaneous work of the station at this important juncture. "Sundowner" is but another name for tramp, and is applied to the wandering shearer out of work from the cleverness with which he times his movements so as to arrive at a station at or about sunset. Thus arriving, he claims hospitality and receives it ungrudgingly in the shape of supper and breakfast and a bunk in the station outhouse over night, the owners well knowing that refusal would probably be followed by the firing of their barns or the slaughter of the fattest sheep in some distant "paddock," this word being applied in Australia to any field, whatever its dimensions, instead of signifying a restricted enclosure, as in England.

There is no more careless, irresponsible, jovial chap than your shearer in Australia, and through his system of modest blackmail upon sheep owners manages, in spite of chronic impecuniosity, to pass a comfortable time between seasons, and to come up fat and smiling for employment the moment the sheds are opened for work. He forms something of a burden upon station owners, however, one of whom has informed me that he has to entertain some six hundred of his kind annually.

In striking contrast with the life of the free and independent vagabond shearer is that of the small bush farmer. Few states of existence could be harder or less desirable—what with struggle to subdue the iron-like forests; to erect buildings with unskilled hands from materials which he himself may have hewed out of stubborn logs or dragged with slow teams from a railroad a hundred miles away; to gather his crops with the costly and unsatisfactory labor which is afforded by wandering "swagmen," a class of tramps who are to the shearers what ennuille are in aristocracy, and who are fully impressed with the principle which seems to animate all classes of laboring men in the colonies, viz., to make a bargain, and then, when the work is half done and likely to be ruined if neglected, to raise their price and quit work unless their demands are acceded to. The life of our western pioneers is idyllic when compared with that of the Australian bush farmers; happy are they who have a large family of stout boys and girls to assist them in their struggles. Those who are thus independent of irresponsible tramp labor usually make success out of their unfavorable surroundings, while others lead a precarious existence or fail altogether.

WISE WORDS.

There is never any music in a gloomy heart.

Rogues always feel most at home in the dark.

Look straight up and you will always see sunshine.

People who have to live alone never find out who they are.

The world is slow to believe that a sin is black as long as it pays well.

There is no greater fool than the man who is too foolish to find out that he is a fool.

People who can talk much about themselves to the satisfaction of others are scarce.

How much easier it is to tell others how they ought to walk, than it is to step right ourselves.

There are spots on the sun, and yet there are people who expect a ten-year-old boy to be perfect.

People who have the least to eat at home very often find the most fault with the fare when they travel.

No matter what you may say or think; if you know that your scales or measures are wrong, your heart is not right.

A woman will eat anything without complaining, while a man will begin to backslid whenever the cooking goes wrong; but when it comes to the fit of a garment that doesn't suit her, she has opinions that can no more be held in check than you can put mittens on a landslide.—Indianapolis (Ind.) Ram's Horn.

Testing a Government Clerk.

"Farmer" Edmunds is an indefatigable worker in behalf of his constituents. Last Saturday he called upon Secretary Rusk, of the Agricultural Department, and asked as a special favor that the Secretary make an appointment for him. Mr. Edmunds had a worthy constituent whom he was desirous of placing in the Government service. Secretary Rusk said, "All right," that he would find a place for a constituent, particularly if he were as good looking as "Farmer" Edmunds himself. The farmer telegraphed to Halifax County, requesting Mr. James Watlington to hie himself to the National Capital without loss of time. Mr. Watlington arrived in due time, and this morning Mr. Edmunds accompanied him to the Agricultural Department. Admitted to the Secretary's presence, Mr. Edmunds said: "Mr. Secretary, permit me to introduce Mr. James Watlington, the constituent of mine for whom I asked a place. He is capable and honest, and you may see for yourself that he is good looking."

Secretary Rusk scanned Mr. Watlington from head to foot, and addressing him as if very serious, said: "Young man if I should tell you to catch a mule by the ears and pull his hide off, would you do it?"

The young Virginian, just as seriously: "Well, Mr. Secretary, I can't promise that I would pull his hide off, but either the ears would give way or something else would snap."

"You'll do, laughed the Secretary, and tinkling his little bell he directed the messenger who reported to show Mr. Watlington to the chief clerk, with orders to put him on the roll at once.

"That young man will make his way," remarked the Secretary to "Farmer" Edmunds.—Richmond (Va.) Times.

The Picture of a Sound.

M. Leon Esquine, a Mexicanized Frenchman, is said to have perfected a marvelous invention which combines electricity and photography in a most unique manner. By speaking into a photophone transmitter, which consists in a highly polished diaphragm reflecting a ray of light, the ray of light itself is set into rapid vibrations and a photograph is made of the sound of the voice as it travels along a band of sensitized paper. Now comes the most wonderful part of the whole story. If the image of the photographic tracing is projected by means of an electric arc or oxyhydrogen light upon a selenium receiver, the original speech is instantly emitted from the tube of the receiver and may be heard as plainly as if uttered by a human being in an ordinary tone of voice. If true, this is a most wonderful discovery, as it is evident that there is no limit to the development of this peculiar combination of methods.—St. Louis Republic.

Wool With a Mirror Polish.

In Germany, wood with a mirror polish is coming into use for ornamental purposes in place of metal. The wood is first submitted to a bath of caustic alkali for two or three days at a temperature of about 175 degrees Fah., then dipped into hydrosulphate of calcium for twenty-four to twenty-nine hours, after which a concentrated solution of sulphur is added. After another dip in an acetate of lead solution, at about ten degrees, a shining metallic surface is given by polishing, when dry, with lead, tin or zinc.

The Kite Track.

D. H. Davison, of Minonk, held the attention of the Illinois Society of Engineers and Surveyors at its meeting at the Grand Pacific, by explaining the most practical method of laying out the celebrated kite-shaped race track. This track is shaped like a two-stick kite, the wider and upper portion being rounded off, while at the starting point or bottom of the kite the tracks run to a point. This allows the horse almost a straight run, but one turn being necessary. Mr. Davison claimed the kite-shaped track was from two to four seconds faster than the ordinary race course.—Chicago Post.

Salaries of Rulers.

The President of the United States receives $50,000 per annum, or a monthly salary of $4,166.66. The Shah of Persia, who has no other employment than the supervision of several hundred wives, is in the enjoyment of $30,000,000 income a year. The Czar of Russia is paid something like $10,000,000 annually. The dignified King of Siam lives on a similar sum. The regal family of Spain receives $8,000,000 every year, and Italians make up a purse of $3,000,000 and more, for their royalties. Such figures as these console the British people slightly, for their annual outlay, under the specific laws, of $3,915,000, on Victoria and her numerous progeny. That reform pirate of the seas, the Sultan of Morocco, has an annual allowance of $2,500,000, and the Mikado of Japan, whom we have all seen across the footlights, receives $2,300,000. The impotent royalty of Egypt draws $1,575,000 from the substance of that tax-ridden land; while the Hohenzollern content themselves with a yearly tribute of $1,125,000 from the Prussian empire. Even the Sultan of cotton-clouted Zanzibar pockets a million a year; and $700,000 are wrung from the Saxons of Saxony. Portugal and Sweden each spend $600,000 on their kings; and the petty princelings of Schwarzburg Sondershausen are paid $150,000. France allows her chief magistrate only $200,000; but naked little Hayti gives her presidential crowd $240,000 annually. Switzerland's president has a salary of only $8,000 a year. The governor generals of both Canada and Victoria receive $10,000 yearly, while the like functionary in India has $200,000.

How Glaciers Are Formed.

The joint cause of glaciers is precipitation and cold. A low temperature alone can do nothing without moisture, and this fact quickly disposes of the popular notion that glaciers invariably exist in cold countries. Thibet, for instance, and some parts of North America, are destitute of ice springs, though eternal cold may be said to reign supreme in these parts. Imagine for a moment the higher mountains clear of snow and ice, and then watch for the formation of glaciers.

Snow falls and fills up all the valleys and gullies, avalanches descend from the higher parts and a great accumulation gathers in all hollows. By constant repetition of snowfalls (always provided a greater quantity is deposited than can be melted by the sun's rays and by the natural warmth of the earth's crust) great pressure is put upon the lower portions by the superincumbent accumulation, and aided by the infiltration of water and refreezing a large body of ice is formed which at once begins to move down the valleys containing it.—Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

Questions Often Asked.

Q. What is Alabastine?

A. Alabastine is a durable coating for walls and ceilings.

Q. Is it the same as kalsomines?

A. It is entirely different from all other preparations on the market.

Q. Wherein does it differ from these kalsomines on the market?

A. It is made from a cement that goes through a process of setting on the wall, and grows harder with age.

Q. What are kalsomines made from?

A. From whitings, chalks, clays or other inert powders for a base, and are entirely dependent upon glue to hold them on the wall.

Q. Why do kalsomines rub and scale?

A. Because the glue, being animal matter, decays in a short time by exposure to air and moisture, and the binding qualities of the material are thus gone.

Q. Does the Alabastine contain any injurious substance?

A. Alabastine has been most carefully tested, and is recommended by leading sanitarians throughout the country, on account of its sanitary nature.

Q. What has the same investigation shown regarding wall paper?

A. Sanitarians condemn in strong terms the use of wall paper for walls of living rooms on account of the poison used in its manufacture.

Q. Can anything but plain work be done with Alabastine?

A. Any kind of work, from plain tinting to the most elaborate decorating can be done.

Q. How can I learn to do this work and decorate my house?

A. By writing the Alabastine Company, Grand Rapids, Mich., for book of instructions and suggestions, and illustration of stencils; also showing six sets of tinted wall designs. Sent free.

Mother—"You haven't cleaned your teeth this morning."

Small Boy—"Doctor Pullem says the time to clean teeth is at night."

Mother—"But you never clean them at night!"

Small Boy—"No'm. Doctor Fillem says the bes' time is in the morning."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

We give advice, but we cannot give the wisdom to profit by it.

Rev. James P. Stone of Lower Cabot, Vt., formerly of Dalton, N. H.

A Faithful Pastor

Is held in high esteem by his people, and his opinion upon temporal as well as spiritual matters is valued greatly. The following is from a clergyman long influential in New England, now spending well earned rest in the beautiful town of Cabot, Vt.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family for many years past, with great benefit. We have, with confidence, recommended it to others for their various ailments, almost all of whom have certified to the great benefit it has done. We can recommend it as the best blood purifier we have ever tried. We have used others, but none with the beneficial effects of Hood's. Also, we deem Hood's Pills and Olive Ointment invaluable. Mrs. Stone cannot do without them." Rev. J. P. Stone.

Honestly and Cheerfully

Better than Gold

Mr. Geo. T. Clapp, of Hardwicke, Mass., says: "I am 55 years of age and for 30 years have suffered with running sores on one of my legs. A few years ago I had two toes amputated, physicians saying I was suffering from gangrene and had but

A Short Time to Live

Eight months ago at the recommendation of a neighbor who had used it with benefit, I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. The whole lower part of my leg and foot was a running sore, but it has almost completely healed and I can truthfully say that I am in better health than I have been for many years. I have taken no other medicine and consider that I owe all my improvement to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not gripe. Every bottle guaranteed and sold by all druggists.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of the Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

The Kentucky democratic state committee has fixed May 26th in Louisville for the convention to name delegates to the national convention in Chicago, June 21st, to nominate a candidate for president.

The interstate commerce commission meets at Chattanooga, Monday, and the local board of trade is bustling up evidence against the railroads, whose officials are charged with discriminating against Chattanooga.

E. C. Buchanan & Co., grain dealers, of Memphis, on Wednesday, filed a deed of trust to John K. Speed and Lewis Erbe. The liabilities are $106,368; assets, consisting mainly of wheat, corn, oats and hay, amount to $56,280.

The Tennessee state prohibition executive committee met at Nashville Wednesday and called a mass convention to meet in Nashville June 2d. They decided to contest all state offices and have a full congressional, legislative and county ticket in the field.

A meeting was held in Memphis Wednesday night by about two thousand negroes, who passed resolutions condemning the lynching of Moss, Stewart and McDonald, on the 9th instant, as foul and unjustifiable murder, and an outrage. Negroes are leaving the locality in large numbers, for Oklahoma and other points, and a general exodus is apprehended.

A telegram of Wednesday from New Orleans says: Returns from Tuesday's primaries are coming in very slow from the country, but reports received thus far are ample to indicate the election of S. B. McEnery, by between 7,000 and 8,000 majority, in the state. The city of New Orleans gave McEnery a majority of 11,500 (round numbers), about the same as at the previous election.

An Austin, Texas, dispatch says: At 12 o'clock Wednesday the two houses of the legislature met in joint session in the hall of the lower house to canvass the vote for United States senator. The record of the house vote in detail was read, and then that of the senate. Speaker Milner then announced the vote as follows: Mills, 128; Bailey, 4; Chilton, 4; Gibbs, 2; Culberson, 1; Sayers, 1.

At an auction sale of unclaimed property at Denver, Col., were seven boxes and one trunk that had lain in the storage rooms of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad for nine years. They were sold for $40. On being opened they were found to contain deeds, etc., which would seem to mean a fortune for the heirs of Col. Henry Altman, who came to Colorado in 1857 and amassed considerable property.

Monday the Chattanooga Union Railway company raised the fare on all their lines to 10 cents, unless passengers purchased tickets at the town office. Dick Henderson, a well known citizen, refused to pay the advance, claiming that he had given the road a right of way through his place, and that they had no right to charge him double fare under an agreement between himself and the railroad. The conductor called in the fireman and engineer, and forcibly ejected him from the car, and he now threatens to sue the company. Much interest is attached to his case.

OYSTERMEN AT WAR.

A Conflict in Which Several Men are Killed and Wounded.

Telegrams of Thursday from Tasley, Va., state that a furious battle occurred Tuesday between the oyster men in Chesapeake bay. Several years ago some persons residing in Accomack county took up a large tract of oyster ground in the Pokomoke sound. The oyster men in the neighborhood of Tangier claimed that the planters had violated the law by taking up a natural oyster lock.

The courts decided against the planters who, under an act passed by the Virginia legislature, proceeded to take up the oysters from their reservation. This greatly enraged the islanders, who determined to prevent it at all hazards.

THEY MAN THEIR VESSELS.

Early Tuesday morning they manned two sloops with a force numbering 75 men and proceeded to where the dredgers were operating. They found twelve schooners at work, and close by was one of the Virginia oyster police boats to protect the dredgers. The commanders of the state police boat ordered the islanders to keep off, and when they disregarded his orders, he opened fire on them with his cannon. The islanders were armed with rifles, and soon the firing became general. The dredgers came on deck and fired volley after volley into the islanders, who finally withdrew from the unequal contest.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

In the engagement Captain Thomas Dies, of Pungateague, Va., was killed, and several islanders received slight wounds. The fight took place in full view of Fangier island, and while it was going on the entire population of the island watched its progress.

Great excitement prevailed on the island all Tuesday night, and scarcely any of the inhabitants went to bed. The dredgers and islanders are both greatly incensed against each other, and it is feared that hostilities will break out afresh.

IT IS NOW SENATOR MILLS

The Texas Legislature Unanimously Elected Him to That Position.

A dispatch from Austin, Texas, says: Horace Chilton has addressed a letter to a caucus of his friends, announcing his withdrawal from the race for United States senator, thus leaving the field clear for R. Q. Mills to pass from lower to upper branch of congress. Senator Chilton assigns as his only reason for withdrawing that he finds the total vote of his friends in the legislature will not be sufficient to elect him, and he does not want to embarrass those who would stand by him.

There was joint balloting in both houses at noon Tuesday.

As there was no opposition to Mills, the balloting consumed no time. Every reference to Mills and the calling of his name was the signal for the wildest applause. At 3 o'clock he was nominated for senator unanimously, and his election ensued. Mills was escorted into the hall of representatives by a committee. The boom went wild when he appeared. All during his speech he was wildly cheered, and was fervently cheered. He is now definitely senator from Texas.

All Danger Avoided.

Old Gentleman—"What do you hope to be when you grow up?"

Small Boy—"I want to be a circus actor."

"Well, I declare! Why do you want to be a circus actor?"

"So I won't have to crawl under the tent."—Street & Smith's Good News.

The Indolent Gardener.

Mrs. Suburb—"No more milk? What's the matter?"

Gardener—"The cow has stopped givin' milk, mum."

"Goodness me! Why?"

"Because she's dry, mum."

"Then why in the world don't you give her a drink?"—New York Weekly.

Not So Bad.

Mrs. De Fashion—"Where is your mamma?"

Little Miss De Style—"She's in the library, sweeping the floor."

Mrs. De Fashion—"Horrors! With a vulgar broom?"

Little Miss De Style—"No'm; with pa."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Best of All

To cleanse the system in a gentle and truly beneficial manner, when the Spring-time comes, use the true and perfect remedy, Syrup of Figs. One bottle will answer for all the family and costs only 50 cents; the large size $1. Try it and be pleased. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

We must tramp on our feelings when principle is at stake.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

Prosperity is no just scale; adversity is the only balance to weigh friends.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

The Famous Hot Springs of Arkansas,

"The Carlsbad of America." Solid through trains from St. Louis. Elegant Hotels, Sublime Mountain Scenery. An all year round Health and Pleasure Resort. W. E. Hoyt, G. E. P. Agent, 391 Broadway, New York.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

TESTED BY TIME. For Bronchial affections, Coughs, etc., Brown's Bronchial Troches have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. Price 25 cents.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers.

Makes Child Birth Easy.
Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,
Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.
Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

There is ease for those far gone in consumption—not recovery—ease.

There is cure for those not far gone.

There is prevention—better than cure—for those who are threatened.

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING and Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, even if you are only a little thin.

Free.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.
Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. 51.

"August Flower"

I have been troubled with dyspepsia, but after a fair trial of August Flower, am freed from the vexatious trouble—J. B. Young, Daughters College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I had headache one year steady. One bottle of August Flower cured me. It was positively worth one hundred dollars to me—J. W. Smith, P.M. and Gen. Merchant, Townsend, Ont. I have used it myself for constipation and dyspepsia and it cured me, It is the best seller I ever handled—C. Rugh, Druggist, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, purify the blood, are safe and effectual. The best general family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom or disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Personal given to over-eating are benefited by taking a TABULE after each meal. Price, in vials, 72 bottle, 60. Address THE RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y. Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

YOU WILL HAVE MONEY, Time, Pain, Trouble and will CURE CATARRH by using Ely's Cream Balm. Apply balm into each nostril. ELY BROS., 35 Warren St., N. Y.

YOU NEED NOT FEAR that people will know your hair is dyed if you use that perfect imitation of nature,

Tutt's Hair Dye

COPYRIGHT 1891

A needy woman—the one who's overworked, nervous, and debilitated. What she needs is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's made exactly to fit her case—an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nervine, giving tone and vigor to the whole system. But it isn't a mere stimulant. It's a legitimate medicine, that an experienced physician has carefully prepared, for woman's ailments. All the functional derangements, chronic weaknesses, and painful disorders peculiar to the sex, are corrected and cured by it.

And because it's a certain remedy, it can be made a guaranteed one. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, you have your money back.

The best pill costs less than any other. Costs less, but does more. They're smaller, too, and easier to take. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best pills. They regulate perfectly the liver, stomach, and bowels.

Unconditional Surrender.

Agent—"I am agent for the Society for the Insurance of—"

Business Man (in tones of suppressed triumph)—"Too late. My life is insured."

Agent—"The Society for the Insurance—"

Business Man—"All my property is insured for its full value."

Agent—"Yes, sir; so I've heard. I am agent for the Society for the Insurance of Insurance, and it won't take me many interviews, sir, to convince you of the vital necessity of reinsuring your policies of insurance in the Society for the Insurance of Insurance."

Business Man (weakly)—"Here's my pocket-book. Help yourself.

Agent—"Thank you. Your insurance shall be insured. Good-day, sir. To-morrow I will send around my brother, who is agent for the Society for the Insurance of Insurance of Insurance.—New York Weekly.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. J. H. Estill, President Morning News Co., Savannah, Ga., says: "A member of my family who has been a martyr to neuralgic headaches for twenty years, has found in Bradycrotine an infallible remedy for headaches."

The worst cases of female weakness readily yield to Dr. Swan's Pastilles. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

BEECHAM'S PILLS take the place of an entire medicine chest, and should be kept for use in every family. 25 cents a box.

Boils! Pimples! Blotches,

AND ERUPTIONS ON THE BODY, are indications of Poison in the Blood, and show that nature is making efforts to throw it out. S. S. S. will assist in this good work. It changes the character of the blood, so that the poison bearing germs speedily leave through the pores of the skin, and the poison is also forced out.

C. W. HOSKINS, Postmaster at East Lamoine, Me., writes that Mrs. Kelly's son, who had been confined to bed fourteen months with an Abscess, has been cured sound and well by Swift's Specific. The boy is fourteen years old, lives next door to me, and I know the statement to be true.

S. S. S. has a wonderful effect on Children, and should be given to every weak and debilitated child. Send for our Book on the Blood and Skin.

SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOE

For gentlemen is a fine Calf Shoe, made seamless, of the best leather produced in this country. There are no tacks or wax threads to hurt the feet, and is made as smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. It is as stylish, easy fitting and durable as custom-made shoes costing from $4.00 to $6.00, and acknowledged to be the Best in the World for the price.

For GENTLEMEN.
$5.00 Genuine Hand-Sewed.
$4.00 Hand-Sewed Welt Shoe.
$3.50 Police and Farmer.
$2.50 Extra Value Calf Shoe.
$2.25 Workingman's Shoe.
$2.00 Good wear Shoe.

For LADIES.
$3.00 Hand-Sewed.
$2.50 Best Dongola.
$2.00 Calf and Dongola.
$1.75 For MISSES.
For BOYS & YOUTHS.
$2 & $1.75 SCHOOL SHOES.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES.

IT IS A DUTY you owe to yourself and your family, during these hard times, to get the most value for your money. You can economize in your footwear if you purchase W. L. Douglas' Shoes, which, without question, represent a greater value for the money than any other makes.

CAUTION. W. L. DOUGLAS' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe, which protects the consumer against high prices and inferior shoes. Beware of dealers who acknowledge the superiority of W. L. Douglas' Shoes by attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent, and subject to prosecution by law, for obtaining money under false pretences. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. AGENTS WANTED. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers where I have no agent and advertise them free in local paper.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY

SWEET GUM & MULLEIN
CURES
COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION
AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES

Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

Cheaper than Barb Wire.

HUMANE, STRONG, VISIBLE, ORNAMENTAL.

HARTMAN WIRE PANEL FENCE.

Double the Strength of any other fence; will not stretch, sag or get out of shape. Harmless to Stock; a Perfect Farm Fence, yet Handsome enough to Ornament a Lawn. Write for prices, Descriptive Circular and Testimonials, also Catalogue of Hartman Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Tree and Flower Guards, Barbless Wire Mats, &c.
HARTMAN MFG. CO., Beaver Falls, Pa.
SOUTHERN SALES AGENCY, 51 and 53 S. Forsyth Street, Atlanta, Ga.

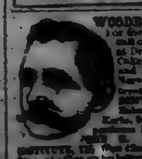
DR. HARTER'S TRADE MARK
THE ONLY TRUE
IRON TONIC
WILL purify BLOOD, regulate KIDNEYS, remove LIVER disorder, build strength, renew appetite, restore health and vigor of youth. Dyspepsia, indigestion, that tired feeling absolutely eradicated. Mind brightened, brain power increased. Nerves, muscles, nerves, muscles, receive new force. Pale cheeks blossom with healthful color to cheeks, beautiful complexion. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent." Send no postal stamp for 32-page pamphlet.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

LADIES suffering from complaints peculiar to their sex, find it and a safe, speedy cure. Returns soon as directed. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00 per bottle.

JUST OUT! NEW CATALOGUE of Seeds, Plants, Bulbs, Roses, Small Fruits, Vines, Trees, Shrubs, Evergreens, Hedge Plants, Ornamental Trees, Flowering Shrubs, Bedding Plants, Greenhouse Plants, Garden Implements, Insecticides, Fertilizers, Etc. Sent Free.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.



WOODBURY'S FACIAL SOAP

Is for the Skin, Scalp and Complexion, and of 60 years' experience. For sale by Druggists or by mail, 50c. each. Cake and Book, Beautiful Hands and Beauty, (Illust.), on Skin, Scalp, Hair and Blemishes and their treatment, sent sealed for 50c. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORP'N, Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

PIMPLES, Black Heads, Red, Rough, Oily Skin, Scaly Humors, Itching Palms, Shapeless Nails, Dull Eyes, Thin Hair, Dandruff, Baby Blemishes, Shaving Rash, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rheumatic Pains, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Female Ailments, Hereditary Diseases, Contagious Blood Poisons, Scrofula, Catarrh, Consumption, and all diseases of the Blood, Skin, Scalp, Hair, Nerves, Bones, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Rectum, Womb, Heart, Lungs, Throat, Nose, Eyes, Ears, Brain, Nerves, Muscles, Joints, Bones, Nails, Hair, Scalp, Complexion, Feet, Hands, Breath, Weight, Height, Age, Sex, Color, Nationality, Occupation, Habits, Marriage, Children, Descent, Life, Death, Mind, Memory, Soul, Spirit, Body, Health, Disease, Cure, Prevention, Medicine, Doctors, Nurses, Hospitals, Climate, Water, Food, Air, Exercise, Rest, Sleep, Clothing, Bathing, Cleanliness, Sanitation, Heredity, Infection, Contagion, Quarantine, Vaccination, Antiseptics, Germicides, Disinfectants, Microbes, Bacteria, Parasites, Animalcules, Germs, Spores, Fungi, Mould, Mildew, Yeast, Ferments, Decay, Putrefaction, Poisons, Acids, Alkalies, Minerals, Metals, Vegetables, Animals, Air, Water, Earth, Fire, Electricity, Magnetism, Light, Heat, Cold, Darkness, Sound, Color, Taste, Smell, Touch, Matter, Force, Motion, Time, Space

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 33 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1892. NUMBER 23.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line for first insertion. Obituaries and Notices of Deaths, and resolutions of Respect, and notices of Meetings, and notices of Festivals, and notices of Entertainments, and notices of Lectures, and notices of Concerts, and notices of Exhibitions, and notices of Shows, and notices of Circuses, and notices of Menageries, and notices of Theatrical Performances, and notices of Balls, and notices of Parties, and notices of Picnics, and notices of Excursions, and notices of Fairs, and notices of Bazaars, and notices of Raffles, and notices of Lotteries, and notices of Gift Enterprises, and notices of Prize Fights, and notices of Cock Fights, and notices of Dog Fights, and notices of Horse Races, and notices of Foot Races, and notices of Boat Races, and notices of Yacht Races, and notices of Regatta, and notices of Tournaments, and notices of Jousts, and notices of Duels, and notices of Challenges, and notices of Acceptances, and notices of Declinations, and notices of Apologies, and notices of Explanations, and notices of Retractions, and notices of Withdrawals, and notices of Resignations, and notices of Appointments, and notices of Elections, and notices of Nominations, and notices of Conventions, and notices of Caucuses, and notices of Primaries, and notices of Platforms, and notices of Resolutions, and notices of Speeches, and notices of Addresses, and notices of Orations, and notices of Poems, and notices of Songs, and notices of Hymns, and notices of Anthems, and notices of Chants, and notices of Psalms, and notices of Prayers, and notices of Sermons, and notices of Texts, and notices of Benedictions, and notices of Amens.

Obituaries accompanying candidates for office will be handed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

☞The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: {Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the Atkins Concave Tooth Dexter Saw has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "Atkins Dexter" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Minneapolis, Minn. Memphis, Tenn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

MONDAY.—Speaker Crisp gave the silver situation a severe twist Monday, one which the anti-silver men exultantly claim means the death of free coinage, at least at this session. He informed Mr. Bland that, holding the casting vote in the committee on rules, he should decline to vote to report the cloture resolution offered by Mr. Bland last Friday for the purpose of bringing the silver bill to a square aye and nay vote, unless a clear majority of the democrats of the house should instruct him to do so. Speaker Crisp's position, he explains, is entirely consistent with his record. A cloture rule is odious and distasteful. When the matter was discussed in the caucus, Speaker Crisp, in a ringing speech, insisted that the cloture should be the last resort of the majority, in the most emphatic and unequivocal manner. The speaker's action aroused the ire of Mr. Bland who charges Speaker Crisp with bad faith. Although the news had gone forth that the committee on rules would not report the resolution for the consideration of the silver bill during the day, yet the galleries were well filled with spectators, and there was an air of anxiety pervading the members in the chamber. The speaker laid before the house a communication from Representative Joseph McKenna, of the sixth district of California, informing the house that he had sent his resignation as representative to the governor of California. The communication was spread upon the Journal. The speaker also laid before the house a communication from D. D. Donovan, of the sixth Ohio district, stating that on page 263 of the congressional record he was recorded as voting in the negative of Burrow's motion to the bill (the silver bill on the table). He was not in the hall when his name was called on this or any other roll pertaining to the silver bill, he being at home sick. The speaker stated that correction would be made and communication spread upon the journal. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, inquired whether this would make any change in the result of the vote. The speaker reported that it had been stated at the time that it would not.

TUESDAY.— The silver excitement seemed to have entirely subsided when the house met Tuesday morning. The attendance both on the floor and in the galleries were small, and the silver and anti-silver leaders relaxed their activity. Mr. Bland and Mr. Pierce, were absent, and the only leaders of the antis who were present when the speaker called the house to order were Tracey and Harter, whose faces wore an expression of perfect content. The speaker laid before the house a communication from Mr. Roger Q. Mills stating that he had sent to the governor of Texas his resignation, as representative.

WEDNESDAY—On the floor of the house Wednesday morning before the hour of noon there were but few members, but these few congregated behind the screens on the Democratic side and tendered an informal reception to Mr. Mills, of Texas, who severs his connection with the lower branch of congress in order to accept the toga of the senate. While he was congratulated on every hand upon his promotion the congratulations were blended with earnest regrets that the house had lost one of its prominent leaders and the individual members a pleasant and able colleague. At the conference of the Democratic members of the ways and means committee during the morning, it was formally declared that a general debate on the Springer wool bill should be brought to a close Saturday. In order to give as many members as possible an opportunity to discuss the tariff, it was resolved that night sessions should be held for the remainder of the week. In accordance with this programme, Mr. McMillin, immediately after the meeting of the house, announced the desire of the committee to close the general debate Saturday, and moved that night sessions be held for the discussion of the wool bill. The motion was promptly agreed to, and the house went into committee of the whole, (Blount, of Georgia, in chair,) on the free wool bill.

THURSDAY—The attendance in the house Thursday morning was small. Inclemency of the weather, coupled with the fact that nothing was expected but speeches upon the tariff—and of these the representatives seem to have become wearied—had the effect of keeping more than half the members from their seats. After the transaction of routine business the house went into committee of the whole (Mr. Blount in the chair) on the free wool bill. Mr. Brosius, of Pennsylvania, spoke in opposition to the measure, and made vigorous defense of the protective system. Protection, he said, was no more a tax than it was a tax to build a fence around a farmer's cornfield to keep cattle out. Other members also addressed the house, but the debate was without incident. The committee having arisen the house took a recess until 8 o'clock p. m.

THE SENATE.

SATURDAY.—The day was occupied by the senate in the discussion of the Behring sea matter. The session was held with closed doors. Notwithstanding this, it was developed that the treaty will be ratified with a modus vivendi attachment, and that President Harrison will be sustained.

MONDAY.—Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar Monday was one to amend the act establishing circuit courts of appeal and to define and regulate, in certain cases, the United States courts. Mr. Hoar, who reported the bill, gave notice that he would ask the senate to consider it at a very early day.

TUESDAY.—In the senate Mr. Stewart gave notice that he would, Monday next, move to take up the senate bill to provide for the free coinage of gold and silver. At 2 o'clock the senate went into secret session and the call of senate was immediately ordered for full attendance.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate, Wednesday, after several reports from committees had been received, Senator Coke presented the credentials of Roger Q. Mills as senator-elect from the state of Texas. After the reading of the credentials Vice President Morton announced that they would be recorded and placed on file, and requested the senator-elect to come forward and take the oath of office, which he did, escorted to the vice president's desk by Mr. Coke. Vice President Morton read the oath of office, to which Mills signified his adhesion by a formal bow and by his signature. The new senator then returned to the rear of the senate where he was compelled to hold a reception, as his former associates in the house crowded forward and caused more confusion than is usual in the decorous senate by extending warmly their congratulations. The usual morning business was then transacted, a number of petitions being presented and a number of reports made and bills introduced. None of them were of special importance, except one by M. Dolph, from the committee on foreign relations, to provide for the punishment of violations of treaty rights of aliens. This bill was suggested by the Italian trouble in New Orleans last year. The bill went on the calendar. Mr. Stanford then addressed the senate in support of the bills introduced by him to determine the value of the legal tender dollar. The Indian appropriation bill having been taken up, the discussion which was begun last week on the subject of army officers being assigned to the duties of Indian agents, was resumed. Two hour's debate followed, principally consumed by Mr. Pettigrew in a speech advocating a motion to strike out the house provision permitting the employment of army officers as Indian agents. Mr. Hawley moved to amend the house provision by adding to it a proviso that whenever the president shall be of the opinion that the good of the service specially requires it, he may appoint a civilian. After another long debate Mr. Hawley's amendment to the house provision was agreed to; and without reaching a vote on the amendment to strike out the house provision, the senate at 2 o'clock p. m. adjourned.

THURSDAY.—In the senate, Thursday, Mr. Morgan introduced a series of resolutions directing the committee on finance to inquire into the causes of depression in agriculture and business, and the effect of the silver act of 1890. Mr. Sherman appealed to him to allow the committee to make inquiry before the debate is had, but Mr. Morgan said he intended to call the resolutions up Friday and discuss them regardless of the feelings of President Harrison, the democratic presidential nominee or any other person.

NOTES.

Secretary Blaine has resumed the discharge of his official duties on Wednesday and will conduct all further negotiations on behalf of this government in the Behring sea matter.

Ex Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, and Mr. Phelps, Cleveland's minister to England, have been decided upon by the president as the representatives of the United States in the Behring sea arbitration.

A cabinet meeting was held at the white house Tuesday morning. All of the members were present. The Behring sea question was taken up at once, and President Harrison's response to Lord Salisbury's latest note discussed.

Mr. Bland and Mr. Pierce have given up the free coinage fight in the house. They realize that there is no way to bring on the free coinage vote and pass the bill, except by a gag law, and the majority of the party declines to resort to that. The petitions have been destroyed, and the fight in the house is at an end.

Senator George has a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the amount of internal tax collected upon cotton produced in each of the states, and upon demand to pay the amounts so ascertained to the governors of the respective states to be held in trust for the benefit of the producers of cotton so taxed. The secretary of the treasury is authorized to issue enough treasury notes, bearing no interest, to carry out the purposes of the bill.

Chairman Hatch on Tuesday reported to the house from the committee on agriculture the Paddock pure food bill. In an accompanying report the committee says that the measure has been pending before the past four congresses and the demand for its passage has grown and strengthened with the years during which it has been discussed by the people. Its passage is demanded by all the agricultural organizations.

The report of the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, recommending the repeal of the mail subsidy act, was submitted to the house Wednesday by Mr. Enloe. It takes the broad ground of dissent from the policy of granting subsidies to persons engaged in any character of pursuits whatever, which policy it asserts is robbery in the teeth of the law. If the principle of subsidy is right, it should apply to all, and the cotton planter of the south has as much right to a subsidy or bounty as the ship owners, sugar planters and tree tappers, who now receive it.

JUDGE LESTER DEAD.

Georgia's Attorney-General Joins the Silent Majority.

Attorney-General George N. Lester died at his home near Marietta, Ga., Wednesday night at nine o'clock. This distinguished lawyer, jurist, soldier and statesman is no more. His death is a sad loss to the state he loved so well, and to whose interests the best years of his life were devoted with unfaltering zeal and fidelity. A man of great brain, legal learning, unflinching devotion to right, Judge Lester ranked amongst the most distinguished of Georgia's many noble sons. Cradled in adversity, from early youth until stricken down, he maintained an unquestioning loyalty to principle and duty; and in the councils of the state and church, and at the bar he has always been a prominent figure. A native Georgian, he loved the state of his birth with a devotion rarely equaled and never surpassed.

He had filled many offices of honor and distinction, and in all of them illustrated signal ability and attachment to duty. In October, 1890, he was elected attorney general for Georgia. About three months thereafter he was stricken with paralysis and for fifteen months has been in a helpless condition, but until Thursday last was in full possession of his mental faculties. On that day he lost consciousness and remained in an unconscious condition until Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, when he quietly breathed his last.

THE "REFORM CLUB"

Wants $50,000 to Protect Wall Street's Interests.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says: The Reform Club, with headquarters at 52 William street New York, is earnestly at work to protect the interests of Wall street, and is mailing circular letters to many of the most distinguished democratic members of the house and senate, asking for assistance.

In these circulars the statement is made that "the suicidal course of the democratic advocates of the free coinage of silver in congress threatens the party with great danger. The election of a republican president which has been made possible by the politicians of New York and the free silver fanatics at Washington, would destroy the cause of tariff reform. We appeal to you for assistance in this great work. We have already held over one hundred meetings in New York and Ohio. We shall require a large amount of money. We need during the year 1892 at least $50,000. We earnestly solicit your subscription, etc."

"JACK THE RIPPER."

A Murderer Captured in Australia Supposed to be the Whitechappel Fiend.

Considerable excitement was caused at Melbourn, Australia, Saturday by the statement published by a reliable newspaper which declared Deeming, the murderer, had made a confession. There has been strong suspicion entertained that Deeming is none other than the notorious "Jack the Ripper," the slayer of the Whitechappel, London, outcasts, and this suspicion is borne out in a measure not only by Deeming's appearance, which closely tallies with the description given of the Whitechappel fiend, but by his alleged confession.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

The cruiser Raleigh was successfully launched at the Norfolk, Va., navy yard Thursday.

At a meeting of the Charleston cotton exchange Thursday, a resolution was adopted authorizing dealings in futures on the floor of exchange.

The sales of leaf tobacco in the Danville, Va., market during March were 5,388,000 pounds, the largest sales ever made in a single month. Sales for the first half of the tobacco year were more than twenty million pounds. This is a slight falling off as compared with the same period last year.

English capitalists have secured an option on the Memphis, Tenn., cotton compress. The option runs sixty days and the purchase price is $1,500,000; one-third cash and the balance in first bonds. This is par for the stock. The same syndicate now controls the principal cotton handling business of the south.

A Raleigh dispatch of Tuesday, says: General Manager John C. Winder, of the Seaboard Air-Line, was shown the statement that his road had withdrawn from the Southern Passenger Association. He said it was true, and that under the rules the road would be out of that association April 23d. He added, "we withdrew because we thought it best to do so."

A dispatch of Monday says: Mrs. C. K. Smith, wife of a white laborer living on a farm near Holly Springs, Miss., has given birth to six babies, all boys, well developed and weighing in the aggregate forty-five pounds. The mother and babies are doing well. They have been named Lee, Jackson, VanDorn, Grant, Sherman and Buell.

The Savannah, Ga., board of trade held its annual meeting Thursday, this being the end of the naval stores year. Reports presented showed that 1,100,000 packages of naval stores were received during the past year, being 140,000 packages more than in the previous year. The receipts of naval stores in Savannah now represent over one-half of the total receipts of all ports.

A suit of unusual interest to investors was filed in chancery at Chattanooga Wednesday. Under the state law, all land companies are taxed $500 per annum. The companies declined to pay the tax, and about twenty companies organized to fight it. The present suit is a test case, in which the county of Hamilton is plaintiff, and the East Chattanooga Land Company defendants.

As a result of the session of the interstate commerce commission at Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday, to hear charges of discrimination in coal rates against the Louisville and Nashville railroad, First Vice President Stuart R. Knott announced that the road will hereafter give the same rates on coal to all manufacturers or others alike, from the Kentucky mines to Nashville. Heretofore some manufacturers received a rebate, while others were refused it.

A Columbia, S. C., dispatch of Wednesday says: The railroad situation is still gloomy. Business does not seem to have brightened to any considerable extent. A majority of the roads have reported their earnings for February, and only two of the roads show up to any advantage, and they are both small lines. The Richmond and Danville system shows February earnings, 1891, $349,429.01; February, 1892, $285,849.89, a decrease of $54,424.03, or 16.03 per cent. The decrease of business for January of the Richmond and Danville system was 37.67 per cent.

A dispatch from Macon, Ga., states that J. R. Whiteside, of Atlanta, was in that city Tuesday as attorney for the New York Security and Trust Company, which holds a mortgage on the Macon and Birmingham road as trustee to secure the payment of $1,940,000 bonds. In the mortgage there is a clause providing that whenever any of the interest is in default, the whole amount shall become due. Interest is now behind, and Mr. Whiteside made application to the court to foreclose the mortgage. Judge Miller allowed Mr. Whiteside's claimant to come in in the general bill and not as special creditor.

OF THE WORLD GENERALLY.

"There go the Spicer-Wilcoxen Mamma! I'm told they're dying to know us. Hadn't we better call?"

"Certainly not, dear. If they're dying to know us they're not worth knowing. The only people worth our knowing are the people who don't want to know us!"

OYSTERMEN AT WAR.

A Conflict in Which Several Men are Killed and Wounded.

Telegrams of Thursday from Tasley, Va., state that a furious battle occurred Tuesday between the oyster men in Chesapeake bay. Several years ago some persons residing in Accomack county took up a large tract of oyster ground in the Pokomoke sound. The oyster men in the neighborhood of Tangier claimed that the planters had violated the law by taking up a natural oyster look.

The courts decided against the planters who, under an act passed by the Virginia legislature, proceeded to take up the oysters from their reservation. This greatly enraged the islanders, who determined to prevent it at all hazards.

THEY MAN THEIR VESSELS.

Early Tuesday morning they manned two sloops with a force numbering 75 men and proceeded to where the dredgers were operating. They found twelve schooners at work, and close by was one of the Virginia oyster police boats to protect the dredgers. The commanders of the state police boat ordered the islanders to keep off, and when they disregarded his orders, he opened fire on them with his cannon. The islanders were armed with rifles, and soon the firing became general. The dredgers came on deck and fired volley after volley into the islanders, who finally withdrew from the unequal contest.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

In the engagement Captain Thomas Dies, of Pungateague, Va., was killed, and several islanders received slight wounds. The fight took place in full view of Fangier island, and while it was going on the entire population of the island watched its progress.

Great excitement prevailed on the island all Tuesday night, and scarcely any of the inhabitants went to bed. The dredgers and islanders are both greatly incensed against each other, and it is feared that hostilities will break out afresh.

CENTRAL'S RECEIVERS MEET.

They Will Petition the Court to Postpone the Election of Officers.

A Savannah telegram is to the effect that the directors, or temporary receivers, of the Central railroad went into session Tuesday morning. Mr. H. M. Comer, the newly elected president, was present and was duly installed in his office. The meeting was a long one, and the discussions were of a most important nature. The board of receivers was organized, and Mr. H. M. Comer was unanimously elected chairman. In this capacity, rather than as a board of directors, the directors will hereafter act. Each man took the oath of receiver.

It was decided to endeavor, if possible, to continue the present control until next January, and the court will be asked to grant an order deferring the election until that time. It is generally felt that nothing is to be gained by having an election on May 16th, as ordered by the court. The directors feel very much gratified at the renewal of public confidence in the company. They will bend every energy toward extricating it from the predicament in which it has been placed through a laudable desire to benefit the stockholders. No one questions the fact that General Alexander was working in everything he did for what not only he, but a host of others, considered the best thing possible for the property, and they resent some of the insinuations that have of late been heard.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS

Will Meet in Convention at Washington City April 13th.

A call has been issued for the national convention of railroad commissioners to be held at the office of the interstate commerce commission in Washington city on the 13th of April, 1892. The commissioners of all the states and state officers charged with any duty in the supervision of railroads or railroad interests are requested to attend. The Association of American Railroad Accounting Officers is also invited to meet with the commissioners or to send delegates to the convention for the discussion of such questions of special interest to their association as may arise at the meeting.

KEEP COOL.

Is a lion in the way?
Keep cool;
Tell him that we respect pride,
Tell him that the world is wide
And that he must stand aside.
Keep cool.

THE RIVAL.

Banker—What is your profession in Chicago?

Sharper—Well, I'm in the [illegible] just at present.

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 7, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

R. M. HONEYCUTT.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic party.

W. H. FOSHEE.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILL SARTOR, Jr.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. I am subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

Very respectfully,

G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR,

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

B. M. GENTRY.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce D. A. WHITE as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

To the Democratic Voters of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for Tax Collector subject to the action of the Democratic party and most respectfully ask your support. If honored with the nomination, I promise to devote my time and ability in faithfully performing all duties devolving upon me.

E. L. McKEE.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.

E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR TREASURER.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce SEABORN JONES as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce J. M. PARRISH as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

J. W. MOORE.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The friends of F. B. BALDWIN announce him as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature subject to the Democratic primary.

At the solicitation of many friends, I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

O. M. MARTIN.

The eighth annual report of the Birmingham public schools has been received at this office. The examination of this report proves Birmingham to be a great city. It is a model of the typographical art and is the work of Roberts & Son, of that city.

Birmingham is rejoicing over a reduction in the freight rates on pig iron. The reduction will range from 15 to 40 cents a ton on iron shipped to Eastern and Western markets. Which causes the Age-Herald to exclaim: "The world is ours,"—something it has wanted for a long time.—Greensboro Watchman.

The New York legislature seems to be terribly alarmed at the idea of annexing Canada to the United States. Well, how would it do to annex New York to Canada? If our voting was all done by dollars and cents, counting out the votes of the people entirely, not only the great state of New York but the whole United States would be annexed to England in less than twenty-four hours.—Progressive Age.

An Important Omission.

President Adams of the State Alliance has issued a call for a conference of "all labor organizations" at Birmingham on May 30th, to consider "for the purpose of adoption" the platform adopted at the St. Louis Convention on Feb. 22nd. His call is reproduced in full in this issue.

In this call he pretends to set out the platform as adopted at St. Louis. In doing this, however, he leaves out a conspicuous plank. Not only did all the newspapers at the time report the adoption of the plank below, but the official proceedings issued from headquarters at Washington also contain it. Here it is:

We demand that the government issue legal tender notes and pay the Union soldiers the difference between the price of depreciated money in which he was paid in gold.

Now, why should President Adams have left out such an important plank as that? That is a new demand, it is true, but it is far reaching the purpose it proposes. If enacted into law, it would mean a tremendous increase in our national expenditures. The pension list that has helped swamp the treasury would have an immense addition in back pay. It would put millions into circulation.

None of the millions would come to the South, it is true. That, of course, was the aim of the "demand." It was to popularize the Third Party movement beyond Mason and Dixon's line. It would do the South no good. The Southern Alliancemen would get no taste of the addition to "the circulating medium." It is not calculated to catch Southern votes. In fact, it is more likely to reveal to Southern Alliance the demagogism of the whole platform and movement. The whole thing is unquestionably a Greek horse whereby the Third Party proposes to enter the old organization' strongholds. Some planks are gotten up to catch one section and some another, some to fool one class of people and some another. That is the whole thing in a nutshell.

No wonder president Adams omits this plank devised to catch Northern support. Yet he has called the conference to consider that platform "for the purpose of adoption." He favors its endorsement as a whole. And so when the conference gets together, it will have to adopt it as a whole. The Third Party can't be formed if all sections don't get together. The Alliance down South can't refuse to swallow the plank to catch the Northern soldier vote, while the West spew out the sub-treasury bill. Divided the thing will fall. President Adams will have to submit the the whole platform; he cannot leave out the parts that may not be popular in Alabama.—Advertiser.

Capt. A. T. Goodwyn.

This gentleman was in town last week and authorized the VIEW to make public his announcement for State Senator from the district composed of Elmore, Chilton and Shelby. We have no information at hand in relation to his political history, further than that he is an Alliancemen and has seen some service in the Legislative harness, having represented Elmore in the last Legislature. He has the endorsement of the Alliance in his county and will have the vote of that county solid in the Senatorial convention. May the best man win.

Barbour County for Jones.

Gov. Jones carried Barbour county by nearly three-fourths majority. In Eufaula the beat went four to one in Jones' favor. Jones carried the majority of the county beats. This should forever settle Mr. Kolb and his Alliance Herald clique. There is no earthly chance for Mr. Kolb to be Governor. Gov. Jones carried six other counties on the same day, which were as follows: Autauga, Crenshaw, Covington, Jackson, Marion and Russell. In Marion only eight men in all the county voted for Kolb.

The one issue before the white people of Alabama is to maintain the integrity of the white man's Democratic party. That is the one thing to which the party organization should look. That is the one thing to which the voter should address himself. The struggle in some counties between the people and the party organization is ominous of evil.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Bosses And Partisans.

Haynesville Citizen-Examiner.

Those men who lose their temper, fill themselves with spleen, fall out with their neighbor, curse the powers that be and do many other unseemly things for a man who wants to be governor, judge, or congressman, may deceive themselves and a few others, that is to say they may be so blind to themselves and so plausible to those whom they lead that they cannot perceive that their zeal is to often not begotten of a love of right, of fair play, of country, of honest government, but rather of an invidious desire to lord over their neighbors, to outwit or humiliate somebody, and to enjoy the inflation that comes with victory.

The love of broils and contentions prompts too many to become ardent partisans.

It is precincts from which peace has been banished that cunning men get in their work.

When the Persians sought to conquer Greece, they first created dissension among the Greek themselves by sending Persians gold thither.

Did you ever stop to consider how meaningless and empty is the federol of that man who periodically makes himself hoarse declaiming against "bosses" and machines? Don't you know his zeal, if analyzed, might reveal something he would not like for the world to take recognizance of? He does not hate "bosses" and machines" as much as he would have you understand. You must not conclude from his windy declamations against bossism and machinism that he has an abstract hatred against that which he professes to despise, for he is himself either trying to enthrone other "bosses" or become a wheel or a cog on a wheel in a new machine. Bossism is only leadership, but it is one that arouses the fire of animosity and prejudices more quickly than the other, and to say that you despise bossism is only to confess that you want to change bosses, that you want to feel you are of the Warwick family.

After all, those who are sometimes offensive by their partisanship and create breeches between themselves and their neighbors, profit very little, for it is frequently true that the masters whom they serve have short memories; and to be prudent and wise, it might be well to deep-chisel in the adamant of memory and keep the debris of the flying years from obscuring it, the following is from an ancient and right respectable philosopher, 'How do you know that when you have ceased to be useful as a vessel, he (the man whose partisan you have been) will throw you away as a broken platter."

We do not condemn that partnership that has its chief corner stone moderation, but that other which creates broils, contentions and discords, and would make blind even the many eyed Argus. Nor are we of those who believe that all leaders, bosses if you please, have short memories or a gratitude that looks forward instead of backwards.

A Warning To Democrats.

Dr. R. A. Mosely, chairman of the State Republican executive committee has issued an address to the Republicans of Alabama, calling them to assemble in convention. The following significant paragraph appears in this address:

Your delegates to the State convention, relieved as they have been by the action of the State committee, in attending to local and detail work now imposed upon the District conventions, will have time to give though to the peculiar political condition of the state, and from this condition lead the party successfully between the contending factions of Democracy, now so relentlessly warring. Whether that success is to be attained by awaiting the breach sure to come to Democracy, or not to enter the field and contest the result of the State campaign is a vital question to Republicanism in this State, and one which the State convention must, in its wisdom, determine.

No Nomination.

Our neighbor of the Shelby Chronicle, we learn, is in error in stating that its especial pet, Mr. Longshore, of Shelby, was nominated for congress in this district by the district alliance recently in session at Childersburg. Delegates to that meeting inform us that no endorsement or nominating for the office was made.

MONTH OF CONVENTIONS.

They Are to be Held in Montgomery in April.

April will be a month of conventions for Montgomery and a right lively one, too.

It will be safe to say that over two thousand delegates will visit the city during the month of April, and some of them will remain for several days.

First comes the Republican Montgomery County Convention on Saturday, the 9th.

The grand lodge of the Knight's of Honor of the State follows on Tuesday the 12th.

On the same day the Alabama Medical Association and Alabama Dental Association convene.

Just four days later, Saturday, the 16th, the Montgomery County Democratic Convention assembles.

Three days after the Grand Lodge of Knight's of Pythias will convene in annual session.

On Monday, the 25th, the Republican Convention of the Second Congressional District meets.

So a total of eight is in sight. Others that are not known may develope hereafter.

Hon. John Purifoy of Wilcox county is a candidate for state auditor, and a better man for the place is hard to find. He was the first probate judge elected by the democrats of Wilcox after the reconstruction era. Mr. Purifoy served in the last legislature, and made a most valuable member. He will go into the state convention with a solid and enthusiastic support from his county. As Wilcox has never before asked a place on the state ticket, its advocacy of Mr. Purifoy's candidacy is bound to carry weight.—Tallpoosa Outlook.

Soon after the battle of Chickamauga a "Johnny" went about the streets of New Orleans accosting every man who wore the blue coat with: "Didn't Longstreet give you h—l at Chickamauga?" Gen. Butler called the exultant rebel before him and told him he either could take the oath of allegiance or go to Ship Island for two years. Jonny deliberated but finally agreed to take the oath. When he had sworn to support the Constitution he turned to Gen. Butler and exclaimed: "Now we are both loyal citizens, ain't we, General?" "Well, I trust so," said General Butler. "Then," said Jonny, "I want to ask you if Longstreet didn't give us h—l at Chickamauga.—Ex.

The Committee Rules.

Mobile Register.

The papers that jumped on our state committee for promulgating certain rules to secure an orderly and legal convention are now very worried at discovering that the rules were adopted by the last state convention unanimously and that the executive committee have simply voiced the orders of the convention. The Huntsville Mercury, one of those which jumped upon and kicked the committee unmercifully, now says:

We plead guilty as to our ignorance, and throw ourselves squarely on the mercy of the court, and will not plead the baby act either, but will take the penalty as it comes, and we suggest that those state executive committeemen who entered such an earnest protest, and who have, like ourselves, raised so much sand should go out and kick themselves.

The revolution in China still moves on. In a bloody battle last week between the Imperialists and the rebels about 1,400 of the latter were put to death and many others imprisoned. If this continues what is to be the fate of our American missionaries?—Progresstve Age.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

Report of County Treasurer.

GENERAL FUND.

J. M. PARRISH, County Treasurer, In Account with Chilton County, From August 10th, 1891, to February 8th, 1892.

1891.	RECEIPTS.	DR.
Aug. 10,	To balance on hand at last report,	$ 928 09
"	To amount received from B. M. Gentry, Tax Collector,	185 00
"	" " "	418 00
Sept. 9,	" " "	150 00
Nov. 2,	" " H. J. Callen, Redemp. of Land,	137 50
"	" " H. J. Callen, License,	4 87
"	" " B. M. Gentry, Tax Collector,	892 45
Dec. 1, 1892	" " B. M. Gentry, Tax Collector,	3,506 14
Jan. 1.	" " H. J. Callen, License,	22 71
Jan. 4.	" " B. M. Gentry, Tax Collector,	157 15
Feb. 1.
	Total amt. received,	6,395 91
1892.	DISBURSEMENTS.	CR.
Feb. 8.	By amount paid out since last report as per vouchers,	2,472 43
	By commissions on $8,868.34, amount received and paid out,	221 70
	By Balance	3,701 78
	Total	6,395 91

FINE AND FORFEITURE FUND.

J. M. PARRISH, Treasurer, In Account with Chilton County.

1892.	RECEIPTS.	DR.
Aug. 10.	To balance on hand at last report,	$ 229 22
"	To amount received of H. J. Callen, costs in Co. Court	7 00
"	" " " W. H. Foshee, clerk Cir. Court	166 25
"	" " " H. J. Callen, hard labor,	50 40
"	" " " H. J. Callen, county court,	14 00
Dec 21,	" " " H. J. Callen, county court,	1 00
1892.	" " " H. J. Callen, county court,	7 50
Jan. 4.	" " " H. J. Callen, hard labor,	32 72
Feb. 6.
	Total amount received,	508 09
	DISBURSEMENTS.	CR.
Feb. 8.	By amount paid out as per vouchers,	319 61
	By commissions	15 58
	By balance	172 90
	Total	508 09

J. M. PARRISH,
Treasurer of Chilton Co.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, of Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figures possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed.

C. L. RUTH,

(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,

—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILLS

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills, and all kinds of Machinery and Mill Supplies. Write for circulars.

MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.

DRY GOODS

—AND—

-CARPETS-

NEWEST THINGS IN

DRESS GOODS

ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheetings, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.

LARGEST

CARPET DEPARTMENT.

In the City. All Grades of

CARPETS.

Mattings, Office Mattings, Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,

9 DEXTER AVE.,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 7, 1892.

ANDOLPH M. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.
Trains runs Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop 5:00 a. m.
No. 3 Mail 8:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation 8:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast 9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express 9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation 6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Board of Revenue met Monday.

Mr. Joe Chandler visited Verbena Monday.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips has returned from a pleasant visit to Montgomery.

Mrs. C. G. Reading, of Montgomery, visited relatives here this week.

An error in the Teacher's Institute programe prompts us to republish it.

Misses Fannie and Sidney Pitts, of Verbena, visited friends in Clanton last week.

40 cents will buy a white shirt usually sold for 75c. or $1.00 Don't fail to see it at Alex Rice's, Montgomery.

Rev. W. J. Elliott will preach at the Baptist Church the third Sunday in this month.

Mrs. E. C. Lawrence has returned to Clanton after a visit of several months in Northport.

Dr. B. R. Pearson, of Montgomery, was in our city Friday on professional business.

Miss Kate Marshal Collier, of Troy, has been visiting Mr. W. A. Collier's family in our city.

Prof. Cantie Brown, of Stanton, was in town last week shaking hands with his many friends.

Mothers—To get a good fitting suit and well made boy's clothing you must go to Alex Rice's Montgomery.

Evans Pinkard and John Stansfield left last week for Louisville, Ky., both to attend the Bryant & Stratton Business College.

Rev. Bassett, a Congregational Methodist preacher, from Georgia preached at the Baptist Church last Tuesday night.

Rev. W. J. Elliott, of Montgomery, has accepted the call, as pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church and also the call from Jemison.

Children's kilt suits, sailor suits, and all styles of knee pants, suits from $2.00 and upward at Alex Rice's, Montgomery.

Mrs. Armstrong and daughter, Miss Sirena, of Arkansas, who have been visiting relatives here for the past two weeks have returned home.

Mr. W. J. Martin's wife and children arrrived here Friday. Mr. Martin has rented the Adams' place, where they will reside. We welcome them here.

Jones men are requested to meet at the courthouse Saturday night as business of importance will come before the club.

H. J. CALLEN,
President.

The card of Mr. Alex G. Dake which appears in this issue withdraws him from the race for Probate Judge. This is a somewhat unexpected move to those not in the Alliance. It also proves that disorganization within the Alliance has not materialized. The withdrawal of Mr. G. A. Northington from the race for Representative is also a pointer in the same direction.

ADAMS'
Sweetens a bottle, or children who want baby up, should take
SNAP'S TRON BITTERS
It is pleasant to take. Cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

The communication received from Mr. L. H. Reynolds in defense of his Democracy came too late for this issue, but will be published next week.

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending April 1st, 1892.

Mises Annie Lane, Blanche Foshee, Minnie and Jessie Gilchrist.

Master R. Q. Lane.

The friends of O. H. P. Wright desire to have it understood that Mr. Wright was not put in the race for Probate Judge of his own accord and that any rumors that his name wil be withdrawn are without foundation: It seems that his friends mean to run him through whether they have his assent or not.

Announcement.

The Commercial Fire Insurance Company is pleased to announce to its patrons, friends and general public that on Monday, April 4th, 1892 it moved into and occupies the handsome office at the corner of Court Square and Commerce St., formerly occupied by the late firm of Moses Bros., of Montgomery, Ala., where it will continue its local and general fire insurance business.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Agent.

The Explosion of the Sterling Dynamite Company's plant at Bessemer, which occured last Friday hurled four men into eternity. Enough human flesh was picked up to fill three coffins. Every house within 400 yards of the explosion was wrecked. The explosion occurred in the packing house which was blown to splinters. The force of the shock was so great as to alarm everybody within twenty miles around. The names of the four men that were killed are George Hartley, Walter Lake, Ed. Boykin and Frank Boykin.

L. H. Reynolds.

At a regular meeting of the Chilton county alliance legislative council. The following resolution was unanimously adopted without a dissenting vote viz:

Resolved, That we endorse Bro. L. H. Reynolds for the state senate from this district, and believe him to be true and worthy, and if the honor was to fall on his head, he wonld fill the position with credit.

HENRY NORTHINGTON,
Sec'ty Pro. Tem.
JOE WHITE,
JOHN WELLS.

March 5th1892.

WETUMPKA, Ala., April 4, '92.

K. WELLS, O. A. DUKE.

Dear Sirs:—In answer to inquiries which I learn are current among the Democrats of your county as to whether O. M. Mastin was a candidate upon a political ticket in this county on which was also a negro candidate, I state the following facts:

I was one of the managers at beat eight in this county in 1884 and at that election a ticket was numerously voted in opposition to the regular ticket upon which Mr. Mastin's name appeared with other Independents and Republicans as candidates for membership in the Commissioners' Court of our county and also on the ticket appeared the name of Alex Rogers, a negro, as candidate for Justice of the Peace. These outsiders in opposition to the regular Democratic nominees received about the same number of voters at this box.

R. S. WILLIAMS.

ED. VIEW:—Please say to the citizens of Chilton County through the columns of your paper that I have withdrawn my name from before the primary election of April 12th, 1892 for the office of Probate Judge, my reasons for so doing are, that whereas I did not think justice had been done me in in the convention of Feb. 2nd, '92, and that I might get a fair expression from the people, I had asked that I be allowed to submit my name before the primary assuring them no other man would be submitted, therefore since other names are before the primary, I, in accordance with my promise, hereby withdraw my name, and to my friends who have given me their support, I hereby tender them my heart felt thanks and beg to assure each and every one that I deeply appreciate their efforts and sympathies in my behalf and whereas I have the interest of the whole people at heart, I am too much of an Allianceman to cause dissension. I again thank my friends for their support.

I am Respectfully,
A. G. DAKE.

Democratic Primary Election Ticket.

ERASE FROM THE NAME OF THE MAN YOU DO NOT WISH TO VOTE FOR.

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE.
W. H. Foshee.
O. H. P. Wright.
R. M. Honeycutt.

FOR CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT.
G. C. Hanks.
W. H. Sartor.
J. P. VanDerVeer.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.
J. W. Moore.

FOR SHERIFF.
P. M. Moore.
Jno. Garner.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.
F. B. Baldwin.
O. M. Mastin.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.
E. G. Rollins.
W. A. Smith.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.
D. A. White.
E. L. McKee.
B. M. Gentry.

FOR TREASURER.
J. M. Parrish.
Seaborn Jones.

FOR COMMISSIONER.
T. D. Parnell.

Verbena Views.

Miss Mamie Reed has gone to the Capital City to live, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. J. T. Mullins and son have gone to Atlanta to see a specialist. Her son has been afflicted a good while with rheumatism.

Mrs. O. T. Grimes, of Jemison, to the delight of her many friends, has been visiting Verbena.

Miss Mary Brown, of Autauga, has been visiting friends in our city.

Miss Mamie Bethea, of Montgomery, is visiting Miss Mary Williamson.

Mr. M. A. Baldwin, of Elmore, has been visiting his uncle, Col. B. J. Baldwin.

Miss Mary Williamson has been visiting relatives in South Carolina and Georgia.

A good many Clantonians came down to attend the Jones' Club Saturday night.

Master Ed. Reed has gone to Montgomery to live.

Programe of Teachers' Institute.

A Teacher' Institute will be held at Verbena on the 29th and 30th of April, 1892.

PROGRAME FOR FRIDAY.

10 a. m.—Welcome Address and Miscellaneous Business.

10:45, a. m.—Uniformity of Textbooks. J. W. Moore.

11:15, a. m.—The Primary Teacher. Miss E. B. Bonham.

11:45, a. m.—Music.

RECESS.

2, p. m.—A Recitation by Miss Minnie Phillips.

2:20, p. m.—How Many Hours Each Day Should School be Kept Open? E. E. Todd.

3, p. m.—History. G. L. Speer.

3:30, p. m.—Elocution. T. J. Griffin.

4, p. m.—Miscellany.

SATURDAY.

10 a. m.—Music.

10:20 a. m.—Female Education. Mrs. M. A. Bowdoin.

10:40 a. m.—Geography. W. N. Johns.

11:20 a. m.—Applied Pyschology. Tipton Mullins.

11:40 a. m.—Miscellany.

RECESS.

2 p. m.—The Relation of the Teacher to his Profession. J. W. Moore.

2:30 p. m.—The Relation of the Parent to the Teacher. G. C. Hanks.

3 p. m.—A Plan for Better School Houses. Prof. Lovett.

3:30 p. m.—Miscellany.

To relive the monotony of the Institute, short recitations by pupils will be admissible.

All teachers are expected to attend.

R. E. R. HICKS,
County Supt. Ed.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

There were thirty-six graduates in the State Medical College at Mobile this year. The closing exercises took place last Saturday. At the meeting of the Alumni Association Dr. W. T. Parnell of Prairie Bluff, was elected second vice-President.

A great many people are under the impression that it is a violation of the postal laws to "dun" a person, for an account due, on a postal card, we publish the following section from the United States Postal Guide, which shows that you can, providing you do it in a genteel way: "A postal card may be sent in the mails with an ordinary statement of account written or printed thereon, but when such statement is accompanied by a threat the card becomes unmailable under the provisions of the statute." So it will be seen that you can send John Smith, or any other man, his account on a postal card, but you must not threaten to "lick" him or start the constable after him. If you do the postal card and account goes into the postoffice waste basket.—Ex.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Register's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a decree of sale rendered at the March Term, 1892, of the Chancery Court for Chilton county, Alabama, in the case of A. M. Whitworth vs. Joseph B. Webb, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, at the courthouse door in the town of Clanton, Ala., on Monday, the 2d day of May, 1892, between the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate situated in Chilton county, Alabama, to-wit: N e ¼ of sw ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10, township 21 north, range 15 east, containing 80 acres more or less.

W. E. STEWART, Register.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, executed by O. A. Duke and wife, Julieta T. Duke, to J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings, and by said J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings duly transferred and assigned to the Alabama National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, and by said Alabama National Bank duly transferred and assigned to Albert Adler, J R P Durham, S M Adler and J E Morris, composing the firm of Adler, Durham & Co., the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on TUESDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1892.

the following described property to-wit: N half and sw quarter of ne quarter sw quarter of the ne quarter, and s e quarter of s e quarter section 1. All, except n half of sw quarter of sec 9. All of section 15, 16, 17, 21, 26, 27 and 35. All, except s e quarter of s e quarter section 19, sw quarter of n w quarter and nw quarter of ne quarter, and s half of n e quarter and n half of se quarter section 24, e half of section 25, e half of sw quarter and se quarter of nw quarter section 28, all, except sw quarter of nw quarter and se quarter of sw quarter, of section 29, all, except e half of se quarter and se ¼ of ne ¼ of section 31, ne ¼ of se ¼, section 32, all, except ne ¼ of ne ¼ of section 33, all in township 21, range 14, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama, and also w half of sw ¼ section 19, township 21, range 15, in Chilton county, Alabama.

ADLER, DURHAM & CO.,
By Wm. A. Collier, Their Attorney.
Clanton, Ala., March 24th, 1892.

Executor's Sale.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at Clear Creek, in said county, between the legal hours of sale, on the 30th day of April, 1892, the personal property belonging to the estate of M. E. Vanderveer, deceased. Said property to be sold for division of the same.

J. P. VANDERVEER,
mar24 Executor.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on May 21st, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2684, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 23 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smithermau, William Smithermau, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 28060 for the n w ¼ of n e ¼ sec 10 township 22 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Burnett, Tandy Robinson, and Warren Maddox, all of Sylvania, Ala.

mar24-o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES.

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds,

Wall Paper, Artists' Materials And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

County Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workmanship first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[2-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25-92]

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned Shorthand, best and highest Honored College, the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful, quiet healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual enrollment of 1,000, from Alabama attending last year. 12 efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It has received by award of Highest Honor at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including many from Ala., by Governors, Etc. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Typewriting, Telegraphy, &c. Graduate. This paper has a Full Diploma Business Scholarship in this famous College, which will be disposed of, on reasonable terms, to a deserving young lady or gentleman.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2016 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in way of clothing and gents furnishing goods.

Now is the time to write for Catalogue.

BUDGET OF FUN.

NUMEROUS SKETCHES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

A Gentle Wind—The Result of Observation—A Sound Base is Valuable—A Candid Tramp, Etc.

She winds a skein of yarn to-day,
While at her side I linger;
So in that soft and gentle way
She winds me round her finger.
—New York Press.

A SOUND BASE IS VALUABLE.

Old Snagg—"Hain't you ashamed to be at the foot o' yer class, Tommy?"

Tommy—"I don't know why I should be, Popper; the foot's the foundation, isn't it?"—Puck.

THAT REQUIRED COURAGE.

"What particular incident in the life of George Washington marked his undaunted courage?" asked the teacher.

"He married a widow, ma'am," replied Benny Bloobumper."—Life.

A NEW CONCESSION.

Mrs. Cobwigger—"Is the women's reading room the same as the men's?"

Cobwigger—"Exactly, except that they had to take down the sign of "No Talking Allowed."—New York Sun."

THE RESULT OF OBSERVATION.

He—"I don't see how a girl can marry a man she's known only two weeks."

She—"And I don't see how she can marry one she's known longer."—Life.

KNEW HIS LITTLE GAME.

Mr. Courter (to her little brother)—"Now, my nice little man, come and tell me how old you are."

Her Little Brother—"I know yer; sister's twenty-six."—Harvard Lampoon.

TRADE IS SO VULGAR.

He—"Why doesn't that English girl come on deck, and be wooed by the breezes, too?"

She—"Her mother won't let her. She heard the captain say this was a trade wind."—Life.

DIVIDED THE LABOR.

"John, what's the matter with the clocks! This one just struck two while the one up stairs struck three."

"They are just keeping the score between them. It is just five o'clock by my watch."—London Tid-Bits.

A CANDID TRAMP.

Gentleman—"Does work make you tired?"

Tramp—"No, sir."

Gentleman—"What!"

Tramp—"I never get so far as that. But the thought of it makes me tired."—Epoch.

A REMARKABLE MODERN EPISODE.

Clara—"Have you heard the startling news about Kitty Van Twiller!"

Maude—"Why, no. Do tell me quick."

Clara—"It is reported that she is going to marry the man to whom she is engaged."—Epoch.

QUICK AT FIGURES.

Young Featherly—"Are these your children?"

Mrs. Brand—"Oh, yes! The boy is five years old and this girl seven."

Young Featherly—"Well, how time flies! It doesn't seem possible that you have been married twelve years."—Frank Leslie's.

SAME LANGUAGE FOR HORSES AND HOGS.

There was but one man on the car, and he was seated. The aisle was crowded with women standing. The conductor rang the bell.

"Get up!" cried the driver, addressing the horses.

"I won't do it!" yelled the man. "I've paid my fare, and I'm going to keep my seat."—Bazar.

PROOF POSITIVE.

Wooden—"Is Howler married?"

Bulfinch—"Why, I don't know, I am sure. Yes, now I think of it he must be."

Wooden—"What makes you think so?"

Bulfinch—"Why, he's around with the fellows so much more than he used to be."—Boston Courier.

AN ADVANTAGE.

Employer—"You are having a decided flirtation with the girl who has charge of our telephone wire!

Truthful Clerk—(with cold chills running up and down his spine, and with visions of instant discharge).—"Y-e-e-s, sir; but, please, sir—"

Employer—"Well, keep it up. She will give more attention to your calls if you do."—Puck.

THE REWARD OF COURAGE.

Young Allnerve—"I would like to marry your daughter."

Old Twomillion—"You would! Well, is there anything else you'd like?"

Young Allnerve—"Well, yes, now you ask, I would like you to settle a million on us at once, and I would like to enter your firm as an equal partner, and I would like to have you and your wife get a boarding place outside somewhere, as your home is hardly large enough for so many, and I would like—"

But the old man, after several short, sharp gasps, had passed away, and the courageous youth got the daughter, the whole two millions, the entire house and everything there was.—Boston Courier.

THACKERAY DIDN'T WEAR SPURS.

This story of Thackeray has never before been published. He was not a vain man, and he disliked vanity in others and made it the subject of his ridicule and sarcasm.

After long pleading his family induced him to have his portrait painted, and Lawrence, a famous London artist, gladly undertook the task.

Soon after the picture was completed Thackeray chanced to be dining at his club, when a pompous officer of the Guards stopped before the table and said:

"Haw, Thackeray, old boy, I hear Lawrence has been painting yer portrait."

"So he has," was the response.

"Full length?"

"No; full-length portraits are for soldiers, that we may see their spurs. But the other end of the man is the principal thing with authors," said Thackeray.—New York Mercury.

FRANKIE'S INTERPRETATION.

Little Frances had two apples. One was a very large one, and the other was decidedly small.

One of them she was to give to her papa, and the other was to be for herself.

As Frances is but four years old, her mamma tries to inculcate in her young mind the Golden Rule, and to induce Frances to guide her actions by its teaching.

In this case Frances manifested an intention to give her papa the smaller apple, when her mamma said to her

"Now, Frances, you know the Golden Rule, don't you?"

"Yes, 'm," replied the tot; "do to uvvers what you'd have uvvers do to you."

"Just so," said mamma. "Now, if papa had those two apples, which would you like him to give to you?"

"Dis," replied Frances, promptly, holding out at arm's length the small apple, and keeping the other snuggled up to her bosom.—Puck.

A Cruiser in the Form of a Goose.

A naval cruiser in the form of a goose is one of the latest novelties in naval architecture. This suggestion comes to the Navy Department from W. R. Frick, an old sailor residing in San Diego, Cal. In a crude pencil sketch he endeavors to show the naval authorities how a vessel might be designed after a goose and make a formidable, fast and safe fighting ship. The sketch represents a goose and a number of goslings. The former is called a cruiser, the latter torpedo boats. In the centre of the interior of the goose is some crudely-drawn machinery connecting with the feet, which are to be the propellers. The head of the goose is the pilot house, a man with spy-glass in hand is peering through the eye. In the after-quarter are a number of goslings ready to be launched. The tail is to be used as the launching apparatus. The writer thus describes his design:

"The goose should be at least 200 feet long, seventy-five feet wide, and only five or six feet out of water. It should carry twenty-four goslings. Each gosling should carry six men. They should be six feet under water and the head four feet above water. They should be provided with floating torpedoes carried under and attached to the bow and arranged so that they can be detached at the will of the man at the head. They should each have three propellers. They should have power enough to run twenty-five miles an hour. They should be made of the best steel, bent to the shape of a goose. The propellers should be where the goose has its feet, and the rudder further aft."

The writer considers his design not only desirable for naval vessels, but for life-saving boats. Their shape, he argues, would make it impossible to capsize them.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

How to Read the Tongue.

The principle involved in the old saying, "The man who is his own lawyer has a fool for his client," holds good, though in a less degree, of the man who dallies with home remedies when severe sickness is imminent, instead of calling in professional medical aid. Nevertheless there are certain indications of disorder which every one should be able to read the significance of, and foremost among these is the appearance of the tongue. The Medical Adviser gives a few concise hints which will be useful in this relation. The perfectly healthy tongue is clean, moist, lies loosely in the mouth, and has no prominent papillae. The tongue may be furred from local causes or sympathy with the stomach, intestines or liver. The dry tongue occurs most frequently in fever, and indicates a nervous prostration or depression. A white tongue is diagnostic simply of the feverish condition, with perhaps a sour stomach. When it is moist and yellowish brown it shows disordered digestion; when dry and brown, a low state of the system, possibly typhoid. When it is dry and red and smooth, inflammation, gastric or intestinal, is at hand. When the papillae on the end of the tongue are raised and very red, "the "strawberry tongue" is developed, and that means scarlet fever. A sharp-pointed red tongue suggests brain irritation or inflammation, and a yellow coating indicates liver derangement. It will thus be seen that it is worth while to acquire the reading of a health barometer at once so useful and so handy.—Courier-Journal.

Why the Irish Like Green.

A well known writer for one of the standard publications of the United States in summing up the Irishman's legends, tastes, fads, etc., has this to say in regard to their preference for green: "The early Celts worshiped the dawn and the sunrise. It is more than probable, therefore, that their liking for the color green, which we see in their flags, sashes, etc., arose from a mistake among those who had lost a thorough knowledge of the Irish language. The sun, in Celtic, is called by a word pronounced exactly like our word "green," and it is likely that the Irish fondness for that color arose throuh the striking similarity of the two words. In the same way when we talk about a greenhouse we think they are called so because plants are kept green in them during the winter; yet it is far more probable that that the word is derived from the old Celtic word for sun, because greenhouses are so built as to catch the rays and heat of the sun and store them for future use.—St. Louis Republic.

Indian Estimate of a Dog.

Major Peter Ronan, agent of the Flathead Indians in Western Montana, recently purchased a fine-blooded and ugly-faced bulldog, not to guard his pleasant quarters at the Flathead agency, but to give his Indian wards a new subject for study in the animal kingdom. The appearance of this strange quadruped caused as much excitement among these untutored sons of the forest as a behemoth of the paleozoic age would arouse by a sudden appearance on Main street. The chiefs held a long consultation over the characteristics of the animal, and finally decided to call him "a good bad dog." The first adjective is doubtless caused by a certain Indian sense of diplomacy to be exercised in addressing the animal, while the latter is evidence of the red man's regard for truth at all times. At all events, the name is worth studying.—Helena (Montana) Independent.

Some Clever Smuggling.

One of the most clever frauds ever perpetrated upon the revenue was practiced by a diamond merchant in New York. For years he was known to be smuggling precious stones, but the custom's detectives could not catch him. Every time he returned from Europe he was carefully searched, and it was even proved that he did not swallow his diamonds before going ashore, but never was anything found except a few inferior stones, and these he did not attempt to conceal. Traps were set to capture the wily old culprit, but without avail. At last a detective learned that, whenever one of the members of the suspected firm arrived in New York upon a certain steamer, another member of the firm or an agent took the same state room upon its return trip. It was further learned that he invariably took the entire state room, so that he was alone upon a voyage. This led to the discovery of the fraud.

It appears that the importer, when on his way from Europe, would cut a small piece out of the flooring under the carpet of his stateroom, and, after concealing the diamonds to be smuggled, would put back the flooring and replace the carpet. When he left the ship he left the diamonds, too, in their place of concealment, and of course the detective never found any in his possession.

A few days afterwards, when the vessel was about to sail for Europe, the other member of its firm or its agent, having secured the state-room for the return trip, would go on board accompanied by his confederate. The latter would then remove the diamonds, and go ashore perfectly safe. There were no custom officers on active duty when vessels were departing.

Facts Worth Knowing.

Q. Is Alabastine expensive?

A. No, it is the cheapest article for the purpose on the market.

Q. How is that? Cannot I purchase kalsomines at a few cents per pound?

A. Yes, kalsomines can be purchased at almost any price.

Q. Why then is Alabastine less expensive?

A. In the first place a package of Alabastine, costing a few cents more, will cover double the surface that a package of kalsomine will.

Q. What other advantage has Alabastine that kalsomines do not possess?

A. Alabastine is entirely different from all kalsomines. It is manufactured from a base in itself a cement, and when applied to a wall sets hard.

Q. How do kalsomines differ from this?

A. Kalsomines are made from whiting, clays, chalks or some inert powder for a base and are entirely dependent on animal glue to hold them on the wall.

Q. What are the results?

A. In one case the Alabastine being a cement hardens with age, and the kalsomines as soon as the glue, which constitutes its binding quality, decays, rubs and scales off, as it has nothing to hold it on the wall.

Q. Does Alabastine require washing and scraping off before recoating?

A. No, Alabastine when once applied to a clean surface can be recoated for any length of time without having to wash or scrape the walls.

Q. Does this texture count for much?

A. Ask any practical housekeeper, who has been driven from home to have walls washed and scraped, whether it will be desirable to have all of this overcome, and walls improved instead of spoiled by coating them.

Q. How can I get Alabastine?

A. From your local paint dealer. If he does not keep it in stock, and tries to sell you something else, tell him you are determined to try Alabastine, and if he will not keep it you will get it elsewhere.

Did Not Fill the Bill.

Old Lady—"There is one thing I notice particularly about that young man who calls to see me. He seems to have an unborn, instinctive respect for woman. He treats every woman as though she were a being from a higher sphere, to be approached only with the utmost delicacy and deference."

Granddaughter (sweet eighteen)—"Yes, he's horridly bashful."—New York Weekly.

No Heirlooms.

Mrs. Maiflour (after proudly showing her family treasures to new neighbor's little daughter)—"Have you any such heirlooms at home, my little dear?"

Little Dear (with dignity)—"No'm, I guess our folks was always rich 'nough to trow away their old things an' buy new ones."

For impure or thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

We must tramp on our feelings when principle is at stake.

Willie Tillbrook
Son of Mayor Tillbrook
of McKeesport, Pa., Cured of Scrofula in the Neck
By Hood's Sarsaparilla

All parents whose children suffer from Scrofula, Salt Rheum, or other diseases caused by impure blood, should read the following from Mrs. J. W. Tillbrook, wife of the Mayor of McKeesport, Penn.:

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"My little boy Willie, now six years old, two years ago had a

Bunch Under One Ear

which the doctor said was Scrofula. As it continued to grow he finally lanced it and it discharged for some time. We then began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and he improved very rapidly until it healed up. Last winter it broke out again and was followed by

Erysipelas

We again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla with most excellent results and he has had no further trouble. His cure is due to the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He has never been very robust, but now seems healthy and daily growing stronger. The doctor seemed quite pleased at his appearance and said he feared at one time that we should lose him. I have also taken myself and am satisfied that I have been helped by it." Mrs. J. W. TILLBROOK, Fifth Ave., McKeesport.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, do not gripe.

If you have no appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down" or losing flesh, take

Tutt's Tiny Pills

They tone up the weak stomach and build up the flagging energies. 25c.

KEYSTONE HAY LOADER

Loads a ton in 5 minutes. Saves time, work, men, hay. Strong, durable, light draft. Send for description.

KEYSTONE MF'G CO., Sterling, Ill.

$65 A MONTH for a Prompt Young Man or Lady in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & Co., Phila., Pa.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

Ex-President Cleveland has accepted an invitation to speak at the opera house in Providence R. I.

Nelson, Neb., was visited by a terrible cyclone Thursday which damaged property to the amount of $100,000, but no loss of life is reported.

The anarchists concerned in the explosions in Paris, have made a detailed confession. They say that Ravachal was the chief conspirator.

A cablegram of Wednesday says: The Chinese government has garrisoned all mission districts in China, and has promised to severely punish the perpetrators of any outrages in the future.

An officer of the army of high rank is authority for the statement that a court martial may be ordered for the trial of Gen. A. W. Greely, the chief signal officer of the army, for violation of the orders of the war department.

A sale under the vagrant act took place in Fayette, Mo., Monday afternoon, when three negroes were sold on a block to the highest bidder. One brought $25, another $5, and a third $1. The negroes of the place are highly indignant, and threaten revenge.

A Washington dispatch of Wednesday says: The attorney general will take an appeal from the judgments recently rendered by the court of claims in several cases involving the construction of the eight-hour law as applied to the work of these employes.

Miss Adelaide Utter has been appointed clerk of the circuit court of the United States for the western district of Missouri. This is the first case on record in the United States where a woman has been appointed clerk of a circuit court to fill a vacancy caused by death.

The building of the Ohio Spiral Spring Buggy Company, at the northwest corner of Sycamore and North court streets, Cincinnati, burned Wednesday morning. The building was seven stories high, extending from Northcourt street to the canal. It, with the contents, was totally destroyed. Losses estimated: On the building, $75,000; stock and machinery, $65,000; insurance light.

A cablegram from Paris says: In accordance with the decision of the government to adopt most stringent measures to repress the anarchists, orders for their expulsion from France were communicated to forty of the leading foreign anarchists in Paris on Wednesday. No actual crime is charged against these men, but the authorities determined to prevent them from committing any acts of violence in the city.

The large and valuable plant of H. O. Wilbur & Sons, manufactures of chocolate of Philadelphia was almost completely gutted by fire Sunday afternoon, and the contents that escaped the fire were deluged with water and practically destroyed. The buildings were filled with valuable machinery, stock and manufactured goods, ready for shipment. The loss, it is believed, will reach fully $200,000, nearly covered by insurance.

In the United States district court at New York, Judge LaCombe filed an opinion granting the petition of Mrs. Varina Davis for an order restraining Robert Belford and the Belford Publishing Company from publishing, printing, selling or assigning any copies of the book of memoirs of her husband, Jefferson Davis, and compelling the defendant to show cause on April 1st why the United States Book Company should not be made a party to the suit on the grounds as alleged, of the fraudulent transfer to that company by defendants of the copyright of the book.

NUNNALLY EXONERATED

Of the Charge of Murdering His Grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Barrett.

The now celebrated case of W. W. Nunnally, charged with the murder of his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. M. Barrett, on January 3d, was begun at Griffin, Ga., Tuesday. When the indictment was read Mr. Nunnally pleaded "not guilty." After the call of witnesses the state announced ready, and when the list for the defendant was completed, they did likewise. Several witnesses were examined which tended to demonstrate the innocence of the accused. As Judge Hall was going to address the jury for his client, Colonel Womack stated that he felt it his duty to say that he had no case, and was willing to let the defense take a verdict of not guilty. As to Jerry Holt and Sam Kendall, they were both ordered released on their own cognizance.

Judge Boynton stated that if a conviction under the evidence was found by the jury he would not let it stand. There were separate indictments against each of the prisoners for murdering Dr. and Mrs. Barrett, which were not tried, but the prisoners were released on their own recognizance. Solicitor Womack stated that he would like this to be his last case.

Mr. Nunnally is free, and his many friends are congratulating him on being fully exonerated from all connection with the matter.

TRADE REVIEW.

The Past Week's Business as Reported by Dunn & Co.

R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The business failures occurring throughout the country during the week ended March 26th, number for the United States 200, Canada 31, total 231, against 240 last week. Business indications are not quite so clear. Perhaps it is partly because the unfavorable weather temporarily retards trade at many points and perhaps because uncertainties regarding the results of the silver agitation and the Behring sea controversy somewhat affect financial and commercial calculations, but there is on the whole less evidence of improvement in distribution, and yet the prospects in the great industries seems brighter. The movement of grain and cotton has fallen off, and a sharp decline in prices is felt in many quarters.

THE STATESVILLE WRECKER

Breaks Jail at Charlotte and Makes Good His Escape.

A dispatch from Charlotte, N. C., says: This city was thrown into a state of great excitement Thursday morning when it became known that six prisoners had broken jail and made good their escape. Among them was John Boyd, the noted train wrecker of the Berlin bridge, near Statesville, and strenuous efforts are being made to recapture him.

France and Spain.

The diplomatic negotiations between Germany and Spain have lately seemed to look toward the consummation of reciprocity treatiat which should that France quit from any commercial relations with the Castilian monarchy. It is supposed that such a result would have been very pleasant to the Queen Regent Christina and the Spanish premier, Senor Castillo. But it could not be worked safely. France is the best customer that Spain has, and though in time Germany might have stood in somewhat the same relation, it was dangerous to exchange a certainty for a mere possibility. The Spanish premier has therefore instructed his minister in Paris to say that Spain desired to bring about an understanding with France either through a definite commercial treaty or by a temporary agreement. Of course, France will promptly and cordially accept these overtures, and Germany, for the present at least, will have to abandon the effort to connect Spain commercially with the central powers.

Managing a Boy Baby.

Tired Woman (in a railway car)—"Please, sir, will you please hold my baby awhile! He's crying so I can do nothing with him."

Male Passenger—"Um; what is he crying for?"

"Nothing at all, sir."

"Well—er—what good will it do for me to take him?"

"Then he'll have something to cry about."

"Oh, he will?"

"Yes, sir. He'll be crying for me then, and the longer you hold him the louder he'll yell."

"I presume so."

"Yes, sir. Then, when he is real sure it is only me he is crying for, I'll take him and he'll stop."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Asbestos Cloth.

Asbestos rolled cloth packing is made both with and without India rubber core. Asbestos block packing consists of an India rubber back upon which there are built up edgewise a number of layers of asbestos cloth. Sufficient elasticity is thus imparted by the rubber back, while great durability and protection to the rubber is insured by the use of asbestos.—India Rubber World.

Deafness Can't be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLE FREE.

COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, etc., quickly relieved by Brown's Bronchial Troches. They surpass all other preparations in removing hoarseness, and as a cough remedy are pre-eminently the best.

If you suffer from sick, nervous, neuralgic, spinal, bilious, or dyspeptic headaches, Bradycrotine will cure you promptly. Fifty cents; drug stores.

ONE dose of Beecham's Pills relieves sick headache in 20 minutes. For sale by all druggists. 25 cents a box.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers

Makes Child Birth Easy.
Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.
Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"German Syrup"

William McKeekan, Druggist at Bloomingdale, Mich. "I have had the Asthma badly ever since I came out of the army and though I have been in the drug business for fifteen years, and have tried nearly everything on the market, nothing has given me the slightest relief until a few months ago, when I used Boschee's German Syrup. I am now glad to acknowledge the great good it has done me. I am greatly relieved during the day and at night go to sleep without the least trouble." ●

Kennedy's MedicalDiscovery

Takes hold in this order:

Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Driving every thing before it that ought to go out.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by
DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

An Embroidered Boy's Work.

Pretty Teacher (severely)—"Did your mother write this exercise?"

Bad Boy—"Yes'm."

Pretty Teacher—"Humph! It looks very much like one of your scrawls."

Bad Boy—"Mamma wrote it; but, please ma'm, she had sister Jennie in one arm, crying with a bumped head, and brother Willie in the other, with a cut finger, and a lot of sewing on her lap, and she was rocking the cradle with her knees, and she had to write with her toes."

Pretty Teacher (in the evening)—"I am very sorry, Mr. Poorchapp, but I have changed my mind. I shall never marry."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Not So Anxious.

Smart Boy—"Please, ma'am, it was two minutes after nine when you got here. W'en we're late you always keeps us after school."

Teacher—"Very well. You can all stay and keep me after school, if you wish."

[Smart boy subsides.]

Short Enough.

Stranger—"I see it is proposed to shorten New York into "York."

Gotham Host—"Oh, no need. N'Yo'k is short enough as it is."

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

Prosperity is no just scale; adversity is the only balance to weigh friends.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

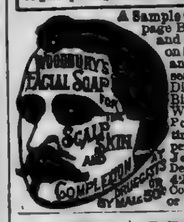
Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.



A Sample Cake of Soap and 128 page Book on Dermatology and Beauty; illustrated; on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and Blood diseases sent sealed for 10c.; also on Disfigurements, like Birth Marks, Moles, Warts, India Ink and Powder Marks, Scars, Pittings, Redness of Nose, Superfluous Hair, Pimples. John H. Woodbury, Dermatologist, 125 W. 42d St., New York City. Consultation free, at office or by letter.

WELL DRILLING

Machinery for Wells of any depth, from 200 to 1,500 feet, for Water, Oil or Gas. Our Mounted Steam Drilling and Portable Horse Power Machines set to work in 30 minutes. Guaranteed to drill faster and with less power than any other. Specially adapted to drilling Wells in earth or rock 10 to 1,200 feet. Farmers and others are making $25 to $40 per day with our machinery and tools. Splendid business for Winter or Summer. We are the oldest and largest Manufacturers in the business. Send 4 cents in stamps for Illustrated Catalogue. E. ADDISON, Pierce Well Excavator Co., New York.

KING COTTON
Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES
$60 5-Ton Cotton Scale.
NOT CHEAPEST BUT BEST.
For terms address
JONES OF BINGHAMTON,
BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM & MULLEIN CURES COUGHS COLDS CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG TROUBLES

Sold by all dealers. Accept no substitute.

THE COST IS THE SAME

The Hartman Steel Picket Fence

Costs no more than an ordinary strong wood picket and lasts three times as long. For Hartman Fence is practically indestructible. It is the only fence that will not sag or get out of line. It is the only fence that will not rot or burn. It is the only fence that will not blow down. It is the only fence that will not rust. It is the only fence that will not corrode. It is the only fence that will not decay. It is the only fence that will not warp. It is the only fence that will not shrink. It is the only fence that will not swell. It is the only fence that will not crack. It is the only fence that will not split. It is the only fence that will not break. It is the only fence that will not bend. It is the only fence that will not twist. It is the only fence that will not turn. It is the only fence that will not move. It is the only fence that will not change. It is the only fence that will not vary. It is the only fence that will not alter. It is the only fence that will not modify. It is the only fence that will not transform. It is the only fence that will not metamorphose. It is the only fence that will not evolve. It is the only fence that will not develop. It is the only fence that will not progress. It is the only fence that will not improve. It is the only fence that will not advance. It is the only fence that will not grow. It is the only fence that will not increase. It is the only fence that will not multiply. It is the only fence that will not reproduce. It is the only fence that will not propagate. It is the only fence that will not perpetuate. It is the only fence that will not continue. It is the only fence that will not endure. It is the only fence that will not last. It is the only fence that will not stand. It is the only fence that will not remain. It is the only fence that will not abide. It is the only fence that will not tarry. It is the only fence that will not wait. It is the only fence that will not delay. It is the only fence that will not linger. It is the only fence that will not loiter. It is the only fence that will not dawdle. It is the only fence that will not procrastinate. It is the only fence that will not postpone. It is the only fence that will not defer. It is the only fence that will not put off. It is the only fence that will not adjourn. It is the only fence that will not suspend. It is the only fence that will not intermit. It is the only fence that will not discontinue. It is the only fence that will not cease. It is the only fence that will not stop. It is the only fence that will not halt. It is the only fence that will not pause. It is the only fence that will not rest. It is the only fence that will not repose. It is the only fence that will not sleep. It is the only fence that will not slumber. It is the only fence that will not doze. It is the only fence that will not nap. It is the only fence that will not drowse. It is the only fence that will not snooze. It is the only fence that will not take a siesta. It is the only fence that will not take a nap. It is the only fence that will not take a rest. It is the only fence that will not take a repose. It is the only fence that will not take a sleep. It is the only fence that will not take a slumber. It is the only fence that will not take a doze. It is the only fence that will not take a nap. It is the only fence that will not take a drowse. It is the only fence that will not take a

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Birmingham, Columbus and Montgomery Railroads pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill. Pop. Population 18,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 33 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor and Publisher. FREEDOM, JUSTICE, NOMINATION. TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1892. NUMBER 24.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Professional Cards, Notices of Lodges, Societies, &c., will be charged for according to space occupied.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, 10c per inch.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be treated as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Full Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. ACE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter

THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS of a depression of the face of the

The patent by which this Saw is protected, thus removing all friction while cutting teeth through the center from p and increasing three-fold the dur in use, giving strength and stiffness to IR WORLD to produce a Saw bility of the "set." WE CHALLENG DEXTER. equaling the ATKINS FAST ing Handles, $1.00 per Dz. cent Handles, .75 per Dz.

PRICE: {Silver Steel Special Steel

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led to attempts to make inferior Saws which they claim "the Dexter." These imitations are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship and without the patent concave teeth. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount direct to us.

Ask your hardware dealer for the DEXTER and take no other.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Minneapolis, Minn. Memphis, Tenn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

FRIDAY—The attendance of members in the house was again meagre Friday and this fact was emphasized by Mr. Baily, of Texas, who, without antagonizing any special measure, made a point that there was no quorum present, and several bills that were called up had to be withdrawn in order to clear the track for the regular business of the house. Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, from the committee on rules, reported back the resolution for the appointment of a special committee of seven members to investigate all charges made against the Census bureau. Mr. Wilcox, of Connecticut, said there was no necessity for the creation of a special committee; the standing committee on the eleventh census was abundantly able to conduct the inquiry. He offered an amendment putting the investigation in charge of that committee. Mr. Enloe thought a special committee could accomplish it was very difficult to secure a quorum of the large committee of 15 or 18 members. Mr. Catchings demanded the previous question, whereupon Mr. Miller, of Wisconsin, assumed the role of filibusterer. He moved adjournment, and this being defeated by a vote of 126 to 2 (Kilgore, of Texas, good-naturedly voting with Miller), he moved for a recess until 5 o'clock. On this b made the point of no quorum. Mr. Catchings called atten on to the rule which provided that pending a report from the committee on rules but one motion to adjourn sh be entertained. Mr. Miller denoun the rules, declaring that the busin of the house could be conducted without any rules. The house had ing, or worse than nothing, on account of these rules. Wilcox's amendment was ag to, and as amended the resolu was adopted. Mr. Enloe moved that the use go into a committee of the whole on the private calendar. This was antagonized by members who were desirous of proceeding with the debate. Mr. McMillin, in response to a query from Mr. Burrows, said that it was his intention to ask the house to use the general tariff debate Saturday at 2 o'clock. Mr. Enloe's motion was rejected, and then the third party essayed the part of obstructors. Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, was leader, and his supporters were Messrs. Watson, Baker and Miller. But the struggle was a brief one, and the house went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill. Mr. Cox, of Tennessee, spoke in favor of the bill and in general denunciation of the protective system. He was followed by Mr. McRae, of Arkansas. Mr. Watson, of Georgia, then took the floor and voiced the sentiments of the third party on the tariff question.

SATURDAY.—In the house Saturday morning Mr. Blanchard reported on the river and harbor appropriation bill which report was ordered printed and the bill recommitted. Mr Fithian, of Illinois, from the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, submitted a favorable report on the bill for the free admission to the American registry of ships built in foreign countries. Placed on the house calendar. The house then went into committee of the whole (with Mr. Blount of Georgia in the chair) on the free wool bill. Messrs. McKinley, of New Hampshire, and Cummings, of New York, spoke in favor of the bill, and were followed by Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, in opposition. Messrs. Bowers, of Wisconsin, and Dearmond, of Missouri, also spoke in favor of the bill. At the conclusion of Mr. Dearmond's remarks the committee rose and Mr. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, from the committee on elections, submitted the report on the Noyes-Rockwell contested election case, and it was placed upon the house calendar. The house then adjourned.

MONDAY—In his prayer Monday morning the chaplain of the house invoked divine protection upon those families rendered homeless by tempests in the west and by the fire in New Orleans. Mr. Gray, of California, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill to absolutely prohibit the coming of Chinese persons in the United States. The house passed the Chinese exclusion bill by a vote of yeas 179, nays 43.

TUESDAY.—After the preliminary business Tuesday morning, Mr. McMillin moved that the house go into a committee of the whole on the free wool bill, and pending that moved that all debate on first section be limited to half an hour. This met with opposition from the republicans, who, while they were willing to take a vote immediately on the pending amendment, thought that no limitation should be placed upon the debate. Mr. McMillin said that he did not wish to be unreasonable. He would amend his motion and move that the debate be limited to one hour. Mr. Burrows moved to amend by making it two hours, and on division the vote stood 41 to 187. When Mr. McMillin made a motion to limit the debate on the first amendment to one hour, it was about to carry. Tellers had been ordered, when Mr. Burrows attempted to discuss the matter and agree upon time. It was too late then, for the vote was being taken. The speaker so notified Mr. Burrows, but the Michigander wanted to talk anyhow, and insisted upon it, delaying the vote. Speaker Crisp informed him he was out of order. He insisted he was not, when the speaker promptly ordered him to take his seat. This angered Mr. Burrows, and he immediately proceeded to filibuster, and he kept it up all day.

WEDNESDAY.—After the transaction of some miscellanous business in the house, Wednesday, Mr McMillin moved that the house go into a committee on the free wool bill. Pending that, he moved that all debate on the first section be limited to one hour and a quarter. After some good natred discussion between Mr. McMillin and Mr. Burrows, Mr. McMillin suggested that "three-fourths of an hour be given to each side. Mr. Burrows said that the time offered was so anxious to proceed with the bill that he would acquiesce. So Tuesday was over and the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Blount, of Georgia, in the chair. The pending amendment was that offered by Mr. Burrows, striking from the first section the word "wools." Though this amendment was a vital one, little interest was taken in the vote, and it was rejected on a division—28 to 140.

THE SENATE.

FRIDAY.—In the senate, Friday, the resolutions on the silver question offered Thursday by Mr. Morgan, having been laid before the senate by the vice president, Mr. Morgan said he did not wish to have them taken up for action and would prefer that they should go over till Monday. They were accordingly allowed to remain on the table. After the transaction of the regular morning business, the Indian appropriation bill was taken up and the senators had an opportunity of offering amendments. Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, a member of the ways and means committee, followed in a speech against the bill. At the conclusion of Mr. Dawes's speech the committee rose.

MONDAY.—The expectation of an interesting discussion on the silver question, based upon Mr. Morgan's resolutions instructing the committee on finance to examine into and report upon certain phases of the subject, seemed to have no particularly attractive power on the general public, for the galleries had even less than the usual number of spectators when the session of the senate began Monday. The vice-president having laid before the senate Mr. Morgan's silver resolutions, said the senator expressed his willingness to let them go over till Tuesday, so as not to stand in the way of the Indian appropriation bill, on the condition, however, that he should be allowed to call them up then and to address the senate. Mr. Sherman remarked that under the rules of the senate, the senate might call up his resolution and discuss it, but when discussion was interrupted at 2 o'clock the resolution would have to go on the calendar, and could then only be taken up on motion. Considerable discussion was had over this point, which was decided against the bill going over. Mr. Morgan thereupon took the floor to address the senate, but yielded to Mr. Walcott, who gave notice that he would address the senate on the silver question Wednesday.

TUESDAY—In the senate, Tuesday, Mr. Morgan offered an amendment to his silver resolutions, which was ordered to be printed. It instructs the finance committee to repeal the bill supplementry to the act of July 14, 1890, which should provide for the coinage of gold and silver bullion on equal terms as to each metal and for the issue of treasury notes in denominations not to exceed $500 (and upon the same terms and conditions as in the act of 1890) upon all gold and silver bullion that the United States may acquire by purchase, and that any depositor who shall deposit in the treasury gold or silver bullion in quantities of not less than $100 in value, the product of mines in the United States which has not been previously coined shall, at his option, receive coin certificates for the same at mint value of the such bullion. Mr. Sherman, from the committee on finance, reported adversely a number of alliance financial schemes. They included Peffer's bill for paying pensions, settling idle laborers to work and preventing crime among the poor and vice among the rich and under influx of alien labor by a graduated system of income tax, which, Mr. Sherman said, provided a principle of taxation which it was not in the power of the senate to originate; Also Mr. Kyle's bill to repeal the power of the secretary of the treasury to anticipate the payment of interest on the public debt; Mr. Call's bill to prohibit national banks from receiving or paying interest on deposits made by national banks, and Mr. George's resolution instructing the committee to report the bill requiring the issuing and keeping in circulation of United States treasury notes to the extent of ten dollars per capita of population.

WEDNESDAY.—After the transaction of the ordinary routine morning business in the senate, a resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Hale, calling on the secretary of state for copies of all the agreements made with other countries, relating to the interchange of trade, was taken up and agreed to, with the amendment (offered by Mr. Morgan) calling for information as to what steps have been taken to inaugurate the reciprocal trade with Mexico and if not successful the causes of the failure.

NOTES.

EX Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, and Mr. Phelps, Cleveland's minister to England, have been decided upon by the president as the representatives of the United States in the Behring sea arbitration.

A Washington special of Wednesday states that the Chinese minister had indicated to Senator Sherman, of the foreign committee, that if the extreme Chinese exclusion bill becomes law the government of China would sever diplomatic relations with the United States.

The southern congressmen are rejoicing over the news from Alabama. Telegrams came Wednesday that Congressman Oates had already practically defeated his opponent. The Alabama congressmen are delighted, and feel that all the balance who are candidates will be returned.

Secretary Blaine and General Foster had a conference with the president Monday morning in regard to arrangements for the closed season, in Behring sea this year and the president devoted the greater part of the day to consideration of that subject, denying himself to all visitors. It is understood that negotiations for the modus vivendi is nearing conclusion and that when that compact is signed, arrangements will be made to exchange ratification of the arbitrarion treaty.

Mr. Hatch, from the committee on agriculture, reported a bill to the house Saturday as a substitute for the various measures before the committee defining futures and options and imposing special taxes on dealers therein. The bill itself is a voluminous document, comprising fifteen sections. Its provisions may be briefly stated as follows: The word "options" is to be understood to mean any contract under which a party acquires right or privilege, but is not hereby obligated to deliver at any future time or within a designated period raw unmanufactured cotton, hops, wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, grass seed, flax seed, pork, lard, bacon and other edible products of swine. The word "futures" is understood to mean a contract whereby the party agrees to sell or deliver at a future time or within a designated period any of the above named articles when he is not the owner of the articles or has not acquired by purchase the right to their future possession; provided that this is not to apply to government, state or municipal contracts, nor contracts made by the farmer for the future delivery of articles belonging to him in the course of growth on his lands. The difference between this bill and the Washburn bill, already described up to this point, is to be found in the inclusion in the present bill of cotton and hops among the articles which may not be dealt in through futures and options. The remainder of the bill is substantially similar to the Washburn measure.

THE THIRD PARTY PLATFORM

Indorsed by the Trades Unions of St. Louis.

A ratification meeting composed of delegates from all the trades and labor unions in St. Louis was held at the Central Turners' hall Saturday night to take action on the call from the state labor committee requesting the indorsement of the third party or the people's party platform, adopted at the recent convention. The delegates had been elected by all the unions and knights of labor assemblies to represent each body in the meeting. When the assemblage gathered there was a large attendance. The entire evening was spent in organizing, and it was after midnight when all the real work of the body was done. This was, in short, a full indorsement of the recent industrial conference with an eight-hour plank added. Delegates were selected to the state third party convention at Sedalia, June 21st, and after arranging for thorough organization and effective work the meeting adjourned.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

Ravachal, the French anarchist, has made a full confession.

The Argentine Republic has suspended telegraphic communication.

Minister Egan and Consul McCreary have been granted leave of absence from Chili.

Severe earthquake tremors and rumblings occurred Wednesday at Mecina, province of Granada, Spain.

An immense tobacco factory was burned in Havana Monday. Twenty workmen injured. Two will die.

The upper house of the Prussian diet on Wednesday, by a unanimous vote, approved the Guelph fund bill.

The Mutual Banking Surety, Trust and Deposit Company, of Philadelphia, was suspended by the state examiner Saturday.

The National Steamship Company has notified the board of trade that it is about to abandon its Atlantic passenger service.

Dispatches of Tuesday state that a blizzard is prevailing in western and central Nebraska. Illinois is also suffering from wind and snow. Trains are blockaded.

A special of Saturday from Montreal, Canada, says: La Patrie, the leading French liberal organ, has come out flat-footed for political union with the United States.

Hon. Willard Saulsbury, chancellor of the state of Delaware since 1874 and United States senator from 1859 to 1871, died at his home at Dover, Wednesday morning of apoplexy.

Advices of Wednesday received from Samoa show that affairs are daily becoming more and more unsettled and that tribal war is imminent. The government is powerless to maintain authority.

A special dispatch from Cherryvale, Kan., says the country a mile east of Cherryvale was struck by a tornado about 10 o'clock Sunday night and half a dozen houses were demolished, two people, names unknown, being killed.

A telegram from Long Island City says: The fire box of a locomotive on the Long Island railroad exploded Wednesday morning while the engine was standing on the track near Bliesville. Five men were fatally injured.

A collision occurred on the Chicago and Northwestern road near Wales station, Wis., Tuesday night. The Madison Express collided with a west bound freight. A telephone message from Waukeshaw states that four persons were killed.

A systematic robbery of the banking house of Dix & Phyfe, at New York, by employes, was unearthed Wednesday. The loss by the speculation aggregate $68,000. The robbery was committed by employes of the bank who have been placed under arrest.

A terrific cyclone struck Olean, N. Y., Tuesday night, wrecking ten houses and a church. One woman was killed and a number of people seriously injured. There were sixteen people in the church, which was lifted from its foundations and carried twenty feet away.

Wall street reports heavy selling of Richmond Terminal stocks Wednesday. The price of Terminal common fell off 1 3-8 to 5 3-8 under the attacks of the bears. Semi official admissions that the Olcott reorganization plan is likely to be a failure, was the cause of the hammering of the stock.

A cablegram of Monday from St. Petersburgh, Russia, states that a steamer bound from the Persian coast for Baku, in the Black sea, with two hundred passengers and a cargo of cotton, has been lost with all on board. It is said that the disaster was due to the fact that the steamer was greatly overloaded.

There was a tremendous explosion in St. Petersburg, Russia, Monday night at the steam factory for the manufacture of smokeless powder. A building in which there were five tons of gunpowder was blown to splinters, and the shock was so great that the whole city was shaken and houses swayed on their foundation as though from an earthquake. Nine workmen were blown to atoms.

A dispatch from Fort Madison, Ia., says: Seven people lost their lives in a fire which broke out in the store of McIntosh & Pease at 12:30 Wednesday morning. The building was crammed and the family of S. V. Stephan, living up-stairs, seven in all, were burned to death. An explosion of gas is said to have prevented their escape. The fire department did good work in preventing the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings.

A London cablegram states that a meeting of bankers and merchants was held in that city Wednesday, at which it was decided to form a city of London committee of the bi-metallic league, consisting of Messrs. Gibbs, Thomas Sutherland, Montague and Provand, members of parliament, S. S. Lloyd, Sir Hector Hay, Edward Sassoon, Reuben Sassoon, H. R. Grenfell, J. Howard Caythes and many others.

BIG COTTON FIRE

In New Orleans in Which Eighty Thousand Bales Are Burned.

One of the most destructive fires on record in New Orleans broke out at 10:30 Sunday morning among some cotton on the sidewalk in front of the fireproof press on North Front street, between Race and Orange. The fireproof press had about ten thousand bales of cotton stored in it. In half an hour after the flames had started the fireproof was totally consumed and the flames had communicated to the upper press. The destruction here was as great as at the other press. In a marvelously short space of time the flames had attacked the building on all sides, working their way in the woodwork with wonderful rapidity. In this press were stored 50,000 bales of cotton, some of which was taken out and brough to a place of safety. A large portion of the staple, however, was in flames in a short time and it was impossible to save it. In a second almost the entire square was ablaze and the flames formed almost a solid block of fire. In the yard were stored some ten thousand bales of the fleecy staple. In a little time it was consumed. At length four rows of charred walls were all that stood to remind one that the large buildings had once occupied the site. Last to catch was the Orleans. The place was gutted and its contents, consisting of about twenty thousand bales, were consumed. There was no chance to save any portion of the cotton, as the work of destruction was very rapid.

The walls of the different burned presses fell within a short time of each other. The district burned over is bounded by Peters, Front, Thalia and Robin streets, and the presses destroyed are as follows: Fireproof, Penrose Bros., managers, South Front street, southwest corner of Robin street; Shippers, Boyd & Herrick, proprietors, South Peters street, between Henderson and Robin; Independent cotton yard, South Peters street; Orleans cotton press, Adam Lorch, manager, South Peters street, between Thalia and Terpsichore.

EIGHTY THOUSAND BALES BURNED.

The total amount of cotton burned as near as can now be ascertained is estimated at 80,000 bales held by factors and commission merchants, and covered by their open policies. Much of this cotton will be sent to the pickeries and saved so that the total loss will probably not exceed $80 per bale, making a total loss on cotton of between two and two and a quarter millions of dollars. The loss on presses and sheds is estimated at $150,000. It is thought the fire started from a cigarrette which some person threw among the cotton.

THREE FIREMEN KILLED.

While the firemen were working on the fire proof press at the corner of Terpsichore and Peters streets the walls suddenly shook and in an instant came tumbling down and to the horror of the already excited crowd three men were seen falling under the mass. Willing hands were soon working on the walls and shortly the unfortunate firemen were taken from the ruins.

PHOSPHATE MINING QUESTION

In South Carolina Decided by the U. S. Supreme Court.

A Washington dispatch says: The United States supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of the United States for the district of South Carolina in favor of the state of South Carolina in its suit against the Coosaw Mining company. This is a case of great importance to the state, involving its right to control the phosphate rock and phosphatic beds in the Coosaw river, which are exceedingly valuable. The Coosaw Mining company claimed that in 1876 the legislature of South Carolina made a contract conferring on it a perpetual grant to the exclusive mining of all phosphate rock and phosphatic deposits in the Coosaw river. The state contended that by this act the legislature had granted the Coosaw company exclusive rights for only a limited period, namely, until the expiration of twenty-one years fixed in 1890, when the Coosaw company was given the right, but not exclusive right, to mine phosphate. This period expired in 1891. The court, in an opinion by Justice Harlan, holds that the act of 1876 did not give the Coosaw company the perpetual and exclusive

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 14, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year - - - - $1.00
One copy six months - - - - 75
One copy four months - - - - 50

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Announcements $5 cash in advance.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

R. M. HONEYCUTT.

The friends of O. H. P. WRIGHT, hereby announce him as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.

I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. WILL SARTOR, Jr.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892. J. P. VANDERVEER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

My engagements prohibiting me from making a canvass at present for the office of Circuit Clerk, I avail myself of this opportunity of informing my friends that I am in the race.

I hope I may be pardoned if I remind the voters of Chilton county, that for several years my relations to the public have been such that they may easily judge whether I shall perform the duties of the office satisfactorily. I am subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

Very respectfully,
G. C. HANKS.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election to be held April 12th, 1892.

P. M. MOORE.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

B. M. GENTRY.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce D. A. WHITE as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

To the Democratic Voters of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for Tax Collector subject to the action of the Democratic party and most respectfully ask your support. If honored with the nomination, I promise to devote my time and ability in faithfully performing all duties devolving upon me.

E. L. McKEE.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County. I am subject to and will abide by the action of the Democratic primary election to be held on the 12th day of April, 1892.

E. G. ROLLINS.

FOR TREASURER.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce SEABORN JONES as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

THE VIEW is authorized to announce J. M. PARRISH as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, to be held April 12th, 1892.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Education, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

J. W. MOORE.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The friends of F. B. BALDWIN announce him as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature subject to the Democratic primary.

At the solicitation of many friends, I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Lower House of the General Assembly of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

O. M. MASTIN.

Ex-Governor Thomas Seay has been suggested as permanent chairman of the coming State Convention. The Democracy could not honor a truer Democrat nor select a better man for this trying position.—Evening News.

When a candidate goes before the people and is defeated his Democracy is tested. If he says, "I'm for the nominee," he is all right. If he gets his back up and says the thing was run by the "bosses" and threatens to withhold his support, you can put him down as a wolf in sheep's clothing. Defeat never weakens the ardor of a true man.—Marion Standard.

Editor Lane, of the Mercury, reminds us of the fellow who climbed up a tree to catch a possum. He slipped his hand in the hole and Mr. Possum clamped his teeth. About this time the other fellow on the ground ask him if he had the possum, he replied that he had, and wished he would come up and help him turn it loose. Editor Lane has hold of Mr. Kolb, but would be glad if some one would help him turn him loose.—Florence Banner.

The Centreville Express has this to say concerning the Alliance:

The Alliance of Bibb county has about ruined (?) the James family who live in the neighborhood of Harrisburg. Old Uncle Dan is the father of several boys and girls who in turn are raising families of their own. The entire family name numbers in the neighborhood seventy souls, and just another busy family would be hard to find. But a dark (?) day came to the homes of this thrifty family—the day the Alliance—which order most of the male members belong to—run cotton down to five cents. Previous to this the family had enough cotton to supply all of Bibb county; it kept all the teams on the place as well as all the menfolks on the way to and from the railroads with cotton one way and fertilizers with which to raise more cotton, on the turn trip, so busy were all hands that rest and pleasure were never thought of cotton! more cotton! was the watchword! But of late things have taken a change. Instead of working for monopolies, the families are working for themselves. The program now is to raise fine horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, corn, fodder, hay, oats, and the yards are alive with chickens, geese and turkeys, while the fruit trees receive attention once given to cotton; the fence corners are clean and new fields are being opened every year. In addition to farm products, this poor family raise cabbage, turnips, and everything else grown in a truck patch. On Sunday, after church—and they built the greater portion of the church—the family congregate around the parental roof, and after a home dinner that would make a city boarder weep for joy, the menfolks sit around the old landmark of 75 years, and tell of their fine stock, their corn, and other homelike productions; count their imported hogs, admire the fat mules, horses and cattle, while the turkey gobbler struts around with no fear of being butchered for five cent cotton pickers to eat. No one can stop there who does not receive a warm welcome and a good dinner. Our sympathy is with the oppressed, and we now state that the Alliance is driving every good farmer in the country away from cotton. They will then have something to eat and wear, money to loan, and can live at home. If the Alliance can only hold together another year there will be more busted cotton planters in the country than there are office seekers in the order.

The Peace of the White Race.

"These are not times when Democrats can afford to trifle with the peace of the great white race. A crisis has arisen in its history. No true Democrat can fan the fires of passion that they may light its pathway to office.

"These fair women, these little children, these school houses, this altar of justice, these churches, the memory of our past sacrifices, and all the proud hopes that beckon us to a glorious future cry out 'God forbid.' The weal or woe of this generation, and the generations yet unborn, depends upon the unity and success of the Democratic party of Alabama. Shatter or rend it in twain, and all the woes of our past will be bright compared to the futre which awaits us. What man shall deem himself so great or so low that he will consciously be made the instrument to work out our riun?

"Men are nothing. If there is nothing in this contest but the personal ambition of Reuben F. Kolb and Thos. G. Jones, it would be better for them and better for the State that the lightening should strike them down than that either of them should strike the blow that will break down the walls of our civilization, which can be guarded only by a united white race. No extremity can drive me to take the party by the throat, no matter how wrongful I might deem a decision against me. Whatever the voice of the party uttered by those whom the party appoints to speak for it, I will heed and obey it.

"If my competitor cannot see his duty as I see mine, the people will surely judge between us. The verdict of Barbour county, if it speaks for me, will end this long contest, which envolves so much, and where one of the contestants himself threatens to destroy the party rather than submit to its decision.—Gov. Jones at Clayton.

Subscribe for the VIEW for a year and get the AMERICAN FARMER.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

Major L. C. Ramsey, A Candidate.

Major L. C. Ramsey is one of the best known men in the State, with a list of friends running up into the thousands, scattered from the Tennessee line to the Mobile bay, and from Georgia to Mississippi, all of whom will be glad to know that he has entered the race for the nomination of secretary of state. He has already received many flattering endorsements from the press. The Evening Star says of him:

"We take great pleasure and pride in presenting the above named gentleman to the people of Alabama as a candidate for secretary of state. We have known Major Ramsey from his boyhood days, and he has always proven to be true to his friends and unflinching in his devotion to principle. Major Ramsey possesses rare business qualifications that eminently fit him for that honorable position, and in the dark days when Alabama was struggling to free herself from corruption and misrule, he stood firm and labored hard in the face of federal bayonets to accomplish that which makes the state to-day the peer of any in the union of States. Major Ramsey has always been in the fore-front of every movement that tended to advance the interest of the democratic party, and has shown himself to be an earnest, faithful adherent to its principles. To be a good secretary of state requires certain business qualifications and experience. Major Ramsey possesses these in an eminent degree, having served in the capacity of chief clerk in the office of secretary of state from July 1889 to January, 1892.

"When a boy fifteen years of age, he left school and went with his father, J. N. Ramsey, who commanded the first Georgia regiment to Virginia and remained during the war, surrending with the army April, 1882. In 1876 he represented Macon county in the legislature; although the youngest member in the house, he was placed upon two of the most importane committees; chairman of the committee on engrossed bills and finance committee. In 1878 he was elected [illegible] sentatives, engrossing clerk, and in 1888 was elected again to the same position, which he filled with entire satisfaction. Major Ramsey is well known throughout the State as a friend to widows and orphans. If the people of Alabama want an officer who will be honest, capable, charitable and true, they should choose Lucius C. Ramsey, of Macon county.

Our correspondent from Beat 10 mentioned the fact last week "that mad dogs, mad cows and candidates were thick" in his section. A gentleman suggested, upon reading it, that after the 19th of May—the date of the convention to nominate county officers—that a great number of candidates would also go mad.—Greensboro Watchman.

Lowndes county with 17 delegates, Talladega with 8, and Marion with 4, have been added to the Jones column since last issue of this paper. Capt. Kolb says he is still in the ring and is paying no attention to the newspaper "clatter." Which means that he is considerably sore over the way things look for him.

Two or three candidates names were left off the regular tickets on account of not paying their assessments on time. One of them gave as an excuse, that he did not take any of his county papers and consequently had not seen the notice to candidates in regard to their assessments. Queer isn't it that a man should ask to be elected to a county office, and especially to that of County Commissioner, when he does not take enough interest in county affairs to subscribe for a county paper. Did he get left? Well ask him.—Northport Breeze.

The Mobile Register is out spoken on the political situation in Alabama and makes this prophecy:

We are betting on one hundred majority for Jones in the next convention, and we venture to bet further that any man of ability or ambition who votes for Kolb at the next convention will not in two years from now be able to carry his own town for dog-catcher. The people are long suffering and sometimes lose their heads, but in the long run they visit condign punishment upon frauds and impostors.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Indiscreet and Impolitic.

Jacksonville Republican.

We regret to read in one of our state daily papers a dispatch from Barbour county claiming that the overwhelming defeat of Captain Kolb is a victory over the alliance. The result is that the country shows that this is not so. While Gov. Jones beat Captain Kolb very badly in the town of Eufaula, still the result shows that Kolb got 116 votes in that town, not one of whom is probably an alliancemen. It is said that the governor has beaten Kolb nearly four to one in the county of Barbour. If this be so it is necessarily the fact that Governor Jones got a heavy vote among the farmers, many of whom were alliancemen. In Jefferson Kolb got a very large vote in Birmingham among men who did not belong to the alliance. In Marion county, on the contrary, the dispatches tell us the alliance went almost solidly for Jones and against Kolb. And so it has been throughout the state, and it will be unfair to say that the defeat of Kolb is a defeat of the alliance. It is moreover impolitic. The alliance embraces many of our most patriotic farmers and as staunch democrats as we have in the land. These men will be called on to and they will support the nominee of democratic party of the state. They have shown themselves to be proof against all temptations to lead them out of the party into the ranks of the third party. Mr. Kolb is making his own race, and his defeat can on no account be charged as a defeat of the alliance. In Jefferson he distinctly disclaimed running on the alliance platform and there they formulated a plan for him that was antagonistic to three objectionable planks of the Ocala platform. It is a straight race of Jones and Kolb, Jones asking them to endorse him as is the custom of the party, for a second term, and Kolb asking the voters to nominate him because he was strong in the last convention. The farmers have nothing to do with it except vote as other people, and they are dividing between the two men as other people do. Let us not create further inharmony in the party by claims that a victory over the Alliance people or [illegible] people who do not belong to it. We are all democrats and white men anxious for the welfare of the state, and we will all be found together when the party has put up its nominees, if we have discretion, prudence and mutual forbearance over temporary differences of opinion.

Reports come from all over the state of the damage done by the recent rains. Railroads suffered heavy loss. Many thousand acres of land are under water along the Coosa, Tombigbee and Warrior rivers, and it is said that the damage will reach into the thousands. Great damage in Mississippi is also done.

ADDRESS
Sending a boy, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints.

THE PEOPLES' PARTY

Will Make Its Formal Appearance on April 29th in Cleburne County.

Information comes from Cleburne County says the Birmingham Age-Herald, that the Alliance held a meeting on the 6th and 7th and by about a two-thirds majority voted for independent political action. Some strong efforts were made to hold them back, and a considerable number of those who were democrats refused to be pulled away from their mooring. Hon. John F. Burns, of Dallas, was there and plead with them in vain. He made a stout argument for feality to to the party, but the majority was in earnest, and the Democrats were over-run. The Age-Herald's informant stated that a mass meeting was called for April 30, to formally organize the Peoples' Party and nominate a ticket. When the Age-Herald stated that the new party would soon be organized in Alabama, it foretold a fact.

A Farmer Talks.

From the Huntsville Mercury.

A prominent Madison county farmer, one whose fists are hard from labor and whose hoary beard shows age, a man of brains and fine character, said on the streets of Huntsville yesterday, "I voted for Kolb because I considered him a slandered man, I now regret it, because they are coming too devlish near proving the correctness of the charges. "He reminds me," said the farmer," of the old man who ran for the legislature, and who told his wife that since he was a candidate they had charged him with hog stealing, and the good little wife said, 'why husband, it makes no difference about accusations that vile politicans would make against you.' 'Oh no,' said the old man, the charge alone did not hurt, but d—n their stinking persisent souls, they have proved it."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. [un11

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters Cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Spenker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said it was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely.

How To Do It.

It will cost you nothing to try it, and will surely do you good, if you have a cough, cold, or any trouble with throat, chest or lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or Colds is to be paid back. Sufferers from grip will find it just the thing and Grippe sufferers have found it a speedy and perfect cure. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.00.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST
SURE CURE SAFE

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks,
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watches of other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneider, Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great care from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and American CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Spectacles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest figure possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repaired. All work guaranteed
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue,
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILLS
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mills
and all kinds of Machinery and
Mill Supplies. Write for circulars
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting, Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT
the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Matting, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

GO TO BLANK BROS. LEADING CLOTHIERS

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 14, 1892.

PENSACOLA & N. ALA. RAILROAD. Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	4:05 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:00 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:22 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Next Sunday is Easter.

Snow in Alabama in April.

Candidates were busy here this week.

The public school closed Friday a week ago.

Mrs. O. A. Duke is visiting relatives in Selma.

Candidate, O. H. P. Wright was in town last week.

Mrs. R. H. Croswell is visiting relatives in Deatsville.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, of Selma, was in Clanton last week.

Mrs. G. O. Logan, of Verbena, has been visiting relatives here.

Mr. Taylor has established a barber shop over Mr. J. P. Allen's store.

Mr. Will Robinson has taken charge of the school Mrs. Hartwell gave up.

Mrs. Zella Givhan and children spent several days in Montgomery the past week.

For the editor we return thanks for kindness shown him by friends during his illness.

This week some of our candidates are mourning. Thursday last was a bad day.

Mr. W. H. Foshee withdrew from the race of Probate Judge on Saturday in a circular.

The Sunbeams are preparing some very entertaining exercises for next Sunday afternoon.

Master James Morris Bivings arrived in Clanton on the 8th inst., and is visiting Dr. Biving's family

The remains of Mrs. Quintero were brought here last Tuesday and interred in the Clanton cemetery. Mrs. Quintero lived in Clanton for a number of years.

The bright spring days are causing the sap to rise in nature and in man. You may expect to hear a good deal of foolishness political and otherwise in the next few weeks.

One of the members of a Clanton church suggested recently, that while politicians were organizing Jones Clubs and Kolb Clubs, he thought it would be a good idea for the members of his church to organize a good old Prayer Meeting Club.

The VIEW does not publish the vote of the primary election in this issue because it prefers to await the official figures as arrived at by the executive committee next Saturday. Besides those familiar with the political issues in this county can have no doubt as to the result.

As there was some disposition to find fault with the tickets printed for the primary election, the printer desires to say that he had no authority to print them otherwise than directed by the secretary of the Executive Committee. We offered to print 2,000 more tickets in different form if they were desired.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

There is only one thing the VIEW can feel very sure about in the politics of Chilton, and that is that any chicanery or sharp practice in the selection of men to fill the offices will redound to the benefits of the victims of such trickery; and at the same time result in the political burial of those who resort to such measures and of those who are the beneficiaries.

An election of any character generally develops "kickers," and the kickers always happen to be among those who get left. This is all very well understood and expected gentlemen, but it will never do any good, unless you have good reasons. Kicking at straws and shadows will but excite the contempt of the masses of voters, and make you a fit subject of ridicule.

Went Down the River.

On last Thursday a man and a yoke of oxen were seen to pass down the river at Adams' Ferry, the oxen first and the man shortly afterwards. It was not thought the oxen were dead, but the man was. The discription given of him by those who saw him, say that he had light hair and whiskers. A horse was also seen going down the river the same day.

MR. EDITOR:—I notice a letter in a recent issue of your paper written by Mr. Wells, where he expresses some doubt in my Democracy or rather intimates the same. I would like to know where he gets the authority to question or judge my Democracy. I have stood every test that has been applied since I was twenty one years old. His entire objections seem to lie in my endorsing the Ocala platform. Surely, Mr. Editor, he does not mean to say that every one who endorses it is not a Democrat? If so, from his standpoint the Democrats are very few in this country. While I endorse the Ocala platform I believe it is in accord with the true principles of Democracy and most assuredly I will never endorse anything that conflicts with the principle. "Equal rights to all." And as Mr. Wells mentions especially the illustrious carcters of Jefferson and Jackson, we think that a few lines quoted from the others will be sufficient to prove to him that the Alliance principles are exactly in harmony with their precepts. Jefferson said, "I believe that banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies." All ready they have raised up a money aristocracy that has set the the government at defiance. The issuing power should be taken from the banks and restored to the government and the people to whom it belongs. Old Andrew Jackson said, "If Congress has the right under the constitution to issue paper money it was given them (the people) to be used by themselves, not to be delegated to individuals or corporation."

In conclusion I will say to Mr. Wells that the farmers have some pride, and it grieves them to see fifty per cent of their homes under mortgage, where the wealth of this country is rapidly increasing. Yes, there is sufficient evidence to convince them that there is something wrong somewhere, and I believe the good people of this country are going to find where it is. Now, we don't want to run our platform down anybody's throat, we invite a free and open discussion, and then let the people decide for themselves, believing when they speak that they are the highest authority yet known, and the Democratic party will return to the people for men and for measures and yet in line with Jefferson, Jackson, Calhoun and others we could point to with pride, she would sweep the country like wild fire, but she must turn Wall Street loose first.

LEWIS H. REYNOLDS.

April 4, 1892.

Train men who reached here from Chattanooga on the noon Alabama Great Southern train report that snow fell as far south as Fort Payne this morning. The snow was followed by rain. In Willis Valley above Fort Payne the snow was quite heavy for that region.—Evening News.

When you pass a farm and see a large barn and a small house you may know the man is boss. When you see a fine house and a dilapidated barn you may understand that the woman has things her own way; and when there is a new house and a good barn you may take it for granted the man and woman are equals and work together in harmony.—Ex.

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Jemison.

Mr. Jake McLendon's little son was found dead in the yard last week. He had fallen in a hole of water only a few inches deep with his face down and being unable to get out he drowned.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week the Alliance quarterly meeting was held at Collins' Chapel. Notwithstanding the bad weather there was a fine representation from all over the county. The harmony and zeal that prevailed showed that they were all willing to stand up and be counted, as every lover of home and liberty should manifest, especially the farmers who have been taking back seats in the past.

A MOTHER.

Verbena Views.

Dr. J. M. Mason, Presiding Elder of the Prattville district, held quarterly meeting here on the 5th inst.

Dr. A. A. Green, of Montgomery, spent Sunday in Verbena.

Messrs. Wright, Hanks, White, and W. A. Smith, candidates for various offices were in town last week.

There was a dominoe party and dance at the Chilton on the evening of the 8th inst.

Miss Annie DeJarnette, of Montgomery, has been visiting Miss Lilla Gulledge.

The many friends, of Miss Mamie Reed are glad that she will still make Verbena her home.

VOX.

Maplesville Dots.

Farmers are working in earnest, tickling the great brown earth with hoes which we sincerely hope will not laugh at a collapse of pocket.

Candidates are on the dash yet. Mr. Robbins and G. C. Hanks were in town this week.

We are fully satisfied that much of the peach and plum crop escaped our March freeze.

The quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church was held here on the 9th inst., with a good attendance.

Our young soldiers are still marching in, and Tom Gandy is the happy father this time.

Mrs. Crit Woolley has been visiting the old folks here.

REVOLG.

A Valuable Present!

A Years Subscription to a Popular Agricultural Paper Given Free to Our Readers.

By a special arrangement with the publishers we are prepared to furnish FREE to each of our readers a year's subscription to the popular monthly agricultural journal, the AMERICAN FARMER, published at Springfield and Cleveland, Ohio.

This offer is made to any of our subscribers who will pay up all arrearages on subscription and one year in advance, and to any new subscribers who will pay one year in advance. The AMERICAN FARMER enjoys a large national circulation, and ranks among the leading agricultural papers. By this arrangement it COSTS YOU NOTHING to receive the AMERICAN FARMER for one year. It will be to your advantage to call promptly. Sample copies can be seen at our office.

Stamp Cancelling Machine.

WASHINGTON, March 29—The postmaster general has approved a contract for furnishing the department with one hundred stamp-cancelling machines at an annual rental of $400 each while in operation.

The following postoffices will each receive one of the machines: Richmond, Va., Atlanta, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Knoxville, Jacksonville, Augusta and Savannah.

These machines, it has been demonstrated, will cancel on an average about thirty thousand pieces of mail per hour. Their capacity for cancelling postal cards alone is in excess of this number. The machines will be delivered within the next few days.

A Hotel Tragedy.

Roseleaf.

"Is it true that Chollie lost all his clothes in a hotel fire?"

"It is true. When Chollie was fired they kept his trunk."

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, also digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

J. R. Hochstader vs. Jacob Lavinsley in the Circuit Court of Chilton County Alabama.

Under and by virture of an Execution in the above entitled cause made at the Fall Term, 1891 of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, I will proceed to sell for cash to the highest and best bidder at Cooper's Station, Chilton Co., Ala., on Monday the 25th day of April, 1892, the following described property, to-wit:

One Engine and Boiler, about 15 horse power, one large circular saw, and one small circular saw, as the property of Jacob Lavinskey.

LEE HAYES,
Sheriff Chilton Co., Ala.

The above sale was postponed until April 25th, 1892.

Register's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a decree of sale rendered at the March Term, 1892, of the Chancery Court for Chilton county, Alabama, in the case of A. M. Whitworth vs. Joseph B. Webb, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, at the courthouse door in the town of Clanton, Ala., on Monday, the 2d day of May, 1892, between the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate situated in Chilton county, Alabama, to-wit: N e ¼ of sw ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10, township 21 north, range 15 east, containing 80 acres more or less.

W. E. STEWART, Register.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, executed by O. A. Duke and wife, Julieta T. Duke, to J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings, and by said J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings duly transferred and assigned to the Alabama National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, and by said Alabama National Bank duly transferred and assigned to Albert Adler, J R P Durham, S M Adler and J E Morriss, composing the firm of Adler, Durham & Co., the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on TUESDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1892.

the following described property to-wit: N half and sw quarter of ne quarter sw quarter of the ne quarter, and s e quarter of s e quarter section 1. All, except n half of sw quarter of sec 9. All of sections 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 27 and 35. All, except s e quarter of s e quarter section 19, sw quarter of n w quarter and nw quarter of ne quarter, and s half of n e quarter and n half of se quarter section 24, e half of section 25, e half of sw quarter and se quarter of nw quarter section 25, all, except sw quarter of nw quarter and se quarter of sw quarter, of section 29, all, except e half of se quarter and se ¼ of ne ¼ of section 31, ne ¼ of se ¼, section 32, all, except ne ¼ of ne ¼ of section 33, all in township 21, range 14, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama, and also w half of sw ¼ section 19, township 21, range 15, in Chilton county, Alabama.

ADLER, DURHAM & CO.
By Wm. A. Collier, Their Attorney.
Clanton, Ala., March 24th, 1892.

Executor's Sale.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at Clear Creek, in said county, between the legal hours of sale, on the 30th day of April, 1892, the personal property belonging to the estate of M. E. Vanderveer, deceased. Said property to be sold for division of the same.

J. P. VANDERVEER,
mar24 Executor.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on May 21st, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2884, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 25060 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10 township 22 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Burnett, Tandy Robinson, and Warren Maddox, all of Strasburg, Ala.

mar24-o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Subscribe for this paper.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass,
Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Wall Paper, Artists' Materials
And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,
MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

CHURCH GUIDE.

Clanton—Fist Thursday after the second Sunday in March, continuous and continues three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and each continues two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
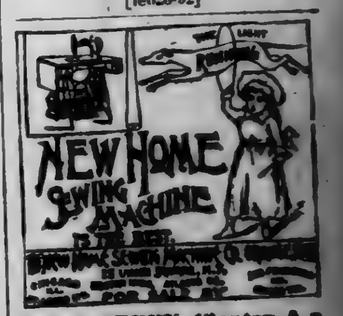
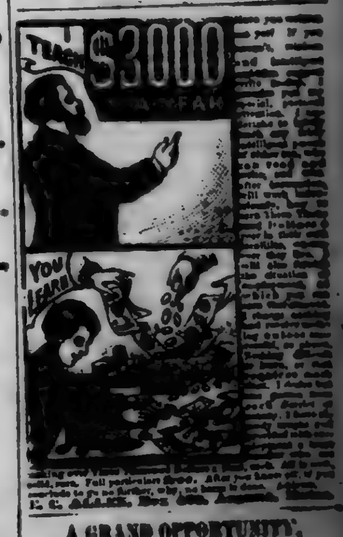
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[3-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25-92]



W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.



A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "shorthand, best and highest honored College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, from Alabama alone last year, 75 different and high minded students were employed. It is endorsed by nearly all Highest Honors at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including governor, from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Typewriting, Telegraphy, &c. &c. Tuition per Term a Full Business Course only $40. Board in this famous College, with all its advantages, can be obtained for $12 per month, two desirable young ladies or gentlemen.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 24 Avenue, Montgomery, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Now is the time to subscribe for your county paper.

THE NATIONAL LIBRARY.

A GREAT COLLECTION OF BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS.

Nearly 800,000 Volumes — Facts About Copyrights—A New Library Building.

"THE great American brain is the most active in the world, writes the Washington correspondent of the Times-Democrat. The gray matter which lines our cranium seems to grow in power from year to year, and there are almost as many literary inventions as there are mechanical ones. We are fast becoming a bookish nation, as well as a working one, and the day will come when our national library of Congress will surpass in size any of the other great libraries of the world. We have one of the finest librarians in the world in the Hon. Ainsworth R. Spofford, who for a quarter of a century has been dealing out books to the Congressmen, scientists and literateurs who make Washington their headquarters. I called on Mr. Spofford and asked him to tell me the extent of the library, and to give me the condition of the copyright bill. Said he:

"We have now in the National Library very nearly seven hundred thousand bound volumes and two hundred thousand pamphlets. This is an immense amount of literary matter, and we now rank as the sixth great library of the world. The five greater ones are the National Library of France at Paris, the British Museum Library at London, the Royal Library of Germany at Berlin, the Imperial Library of Russia at St. Petersburg. The Paris library is the largest, containing two and a quarter million volumes. The British Museum Library ranks second, with one and a half million volumes.

"These foreign libraries are much older than ours. The Library of Congress had a small beginning in the year 1800, when an appropriation of $3000 was made to purchase books for the use of Congress. The selections were limited to such works as were needed by the members for reference. As a people we were then almost unknown in literature. There was evidently no thought of giving to the library its present wide scope. Additions were made from time to time, and the library gradually assumed a more extended range.

"Besides copies of all books copyrighted and published in the United States, the library contains probably 200,000 foreign books, which are procured by both purchase and exchange. About three-fourths of the whole number are of American and English issue. The remaining fourth represents all civilized nations of the world, with France and Germany in the lead. There are books in all the languages of Europe, and a limited number from Asia and other countries. Any foreigner visiting Washington and wishing to consult books in his mother tongue may find them here."

"Does the library grow much from year to year?"

"The yearly increase of books in the library is from 15,000 to 20,000. In the actual number of volumes the increase is 10,000 to 12,000 greater, as the copyright law requires the filing of two copies of each publication. One copy is placed in the library and the other is deposited in the copyright archives. From 3000 to 5000 volumes, chiefly foreign, are added by purchase each year and as many more by donation and deposit."

"Tell me something about copyrights."

"The first copyright law," replied Mr. Spofford, "in the United States was passed in 1790. There are books on our shelves bearing that date. In these later days of making books there is no end, but at that time the copyright business was not a hundredth part of what it is now. Last year the number of entries for copyright was 36,325. Of these there were Books, 14,783; periodicals (in round numbers), 7000; musical and dramatic compositions, 9000; photographs, 2000; engravings and chromos, 2000; the remaining 3500 embrace prints, cuts, designs, drawings, paintings, maps and charts. Formerly business trade-marks and labels were also issued under the copyright law, but in 1874 these were transferred to the Patent Office. The issue of copyrights by the librarian of Congress is now confined to literature and art in their various branches. A copyright secures the author against pillage of the product of his brain, as a patent does to the inventor. The life of a copyright is twenty-eight years. At the expiration of that time it may be renewed for fourteen years more by the author, or by his heirs if he be dead. It cannot be extended beyond forty-two years. There are very few publications the vitality of which is not exhausted long before even the first limit is reached.

"The library of Congress is open to the people of Washington. Books may be drawn upon a deposit of money to cover their value, the money being returned when the drawer wishes to close the account. The books that may be taken out are the duplicate copies upon the shelves. Those in the archives are not disturbed. There is no library in Washington that is accessible to the general public. Each of the departments has a library for the use of its employes only. The loss of the books of the library of Congress in consequence of the circulating system is small and is made good from the money forfeited in such cases. The rebinding of books when necessary is done out of the library appropriations."

"The library is now very much crowded, is it not?"

"It may be safely said that no branch or bureau of the Government has such urgent need of more commodious quarters as the library. The space alloted to it in the Capitol Building was full fifteen years ago. Since then the alcoves and recesses have undergone a process of absolute cramming. Every shelf was full long ago, and in every corner upon the floor lie great heaps of books, pamphlets and newspapers, for which no other place can be found. Eleven rooms elsewhere in the Capitol are filled with the accumulation, and still the stream flows in day by day, in every week, month and year.

"A new and adequate building should have been erected years ago. Congress has long had the subject under consideration, and it is a matter of congratulation that at last the project has crystallized into definite form, and the walls of the new National Library building are slowly but surely rising. An entire square, just east of the Capitol, was bought for the purpose. Architects were sent to Europe to examine the great libraries in order that the best possible plan might be perfected. As matured, it is believed to be second to none in the world. The building will cover three acres. It will be larger than the great State, Army and Navy building. Its estimated cost will be $6,000,000. It is the only structure yet undertaken by the Government that will be built for a century. Not one of the present public buildings in Washington is even now sufficient to meet the needs of the vast and rapidly growing business of the country. The new library building will suffice for 150 years to come. When finished it will afford room for 4,000,000 volumes—nearly fifty per cent. more than are now embraced in any library in the world."

SELECT SIFTINGS.

Envelopes were first used in 1839.

Anæsthesia was discovered in 1844.

The Franciscans arrived in England in 1224.

The first horse railroad was built in 1826-27.

A Macedonian gold coin dating from about 200 B. C. was found at Bergerac, in France, the other day.

The first society for the exclusive purpose of circulating the Bible was organized in 1805, under the name of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

The first telegraphic instrument was successfully operated by S. F. B. Morse, the inventor, in 1835, though the utility was not demonstrated to the world until 1842.

A penman of Vienna, Austria, once wrote 400 Hebrew letters on a single grain of wheat. At another time he wrote a Hebrew prayer on the edge of a visiting card.

Almost any place in the Sahara desert one can find glass sticks or tubes from one to three feet in length, caused by lightning striking the pure sand and instantly converting it into that fragile substance.

The La Plata was discovered by Juan Diaz de Solis in 1516, who took possession of the country for the crown of Spain. Buenos Ayres was founded by Don Pedro de Mendoza, who became governor in 1535.

It is recorded that in the time of King William II. there occurred in England a wonderful shower of stars, which "seemed to fall like rain from heaven. An eye-witness seeing where an aerolite fell, cast water upon it, which was raised in steam with a great noise of boiling."

One of the earliest accounts of star-showers is that which relates how, in 472, the sky at Constantinople, Turkey, appeared to be alive with flying stars and meteors. In some Eastern annals we are told that in October, 1202, "the stars appeared like waves upon the sky. They flew about like grasshoppers, and were dispersed from left to right."

The "National Guard" was first organized in Paris, France, in 1789 by the revolutionary Committee of Safety. There were 48,000 in Paris, 300,000 in France, and the whole were under Lafayette and carried the tricolor flag. In 1745 they were defeated and broken up by Napoleon, were reorganized by him in 1814, dissolved by Charles X. in 1827, again reorganized in 1830, and again in 1831. They fell away from Louis Philippe in 1848, were remodelled in 1852, served against the Germans in the war of 1870-71, and in the latter year a part of them took a share in the Communist struggle.

Of late years steps have been taken to prevent the destruction of forests by fire in certain districts of India. This care has had one curious result. Cover and water, which vanished with the timber, have again become common, and there has consequently been a large increase in the number of wild deer. In one sense it is fortunate that the deer have grown in numbers with the tigers, for the latter have preyed upon them instead of upon cattle and human beings. When, however, they shall have scared away the deer, or have become tired of venison, they will probably prowl arouud villages and play havoc with battle, besides killing their man or two.

WISE WORDS.

Beware of a fawning exterior.

Give attention and you will get knowledge.

A sinister glance betokens an evil purpose.

Rebuff is a wet blanket that dampens ardor.

A kindly feeling cannot fail to touch the heart.

Never let your curiosity get the better of your discretion.

He who would exert influence must exercise judgment.

Only the quickening of conscience can hasten repentance.

A show of opposition is very apt to be an exhibition of folly.

In the flutter of excitement the flight of time is unheeded.

The truthfully exact will make sparing use of positive assertion.

Many shall court distinction for whom the wedding day will never be set.

Don't flatly refuse to pay a bill and fondly cherish the belief that that settles it.

People are in the best humor with those who say the pleasantest things to them.

Some never uncork the vials of their wrath except to pour forth a torrent of abuse.

There is hardly a statement to be made which would not bear a qualifying phrase.

Nothing so strengthens belief or principle as the necessity of re-enforcing it against opposition.

Crows in Exile.

Four crows ventured on what is known as Great Gull Island, off the northeastern extremity of Long Island, N. Y., and were immediately held in exile by the terns. There were about five thousand of the latter, and so of course the crows had no show at all. Over and over again they attempted to leave the island, but the inexorable gulls pounced on them the moment they rose in the air and compelled them to return to seclusion. Finally, in some strange way the unhappy Napoleons managed to get word from their St. Helena to their friends on land, and one day a company of a hundred or more, constituting the old guard no doubt of crowdom, swooped down on the island and after a fierce battle with the gulls bore the exiles home in triumph.—Chicago Post.

It Didn't Burn.

Boston Matron—"My love, you should study domestic as well as political economy, for in the exigencies of mundane existence no one can prognosticate the future. You have already disbursed all of the presents your uncle gave you."

Small daughter—"I know, mother, but the money was all in new coins and the designs are so inartistic that I disliked to retain them in my possession."—New York Weekly.

Three Kinds of Lighthouses.

There are three classes of lighthouses—the primary seacoast lights, which mariners make for in coming from across the waters; the secondary seacoast and lake-coast lights, by which vessels find their way by night along our coasts, and the sound, bay and harbor lights. Each of these lights consist of a lamp set in a lens inside of a lantern which crowns a tower.—Harper's Young People.

Suspicions Aroused.

Neighbor—"What a nice, big express wagon your papa has bought you."

Boy (gloomily)—"I wish he'd got me a littler one."

"Why?"

"I'm 'fraid he'll want me to haul something with this.

Temporary Shortage.

Wife—"That new bonnet—"

Husband—"My dear, you can't have that new bonnet. I've been nominated for a high position of public trust, and it will take all I can rake and scrape to buy votes."

Might Have Been Worse.

"I am very sorry, but our engagement must cease. I can never marry."

He—"My gracious! What has happened?"

She—"My brother has disgraced us."

He—"Oh, is that all? That doesn't matter. I feared maybe your father had failed."

A Powerful Explosive.

The most wonderful and the most powerful explosive known is said to be chloride of nitrogen. It is believed to be the only substance that will explode on coming in contact with a bright beam of light, whether the beam be from an electric light or the sun.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sanitary Walls and Ceilings.

Q. Does the Bible have anything to say regarding sanitary walls?

A. Read Leviticus, xiv. Chap., 33-41 verses.

Q. What do modern sanitarians say?

A. That wall paper and glue kalsomines are directly responsible for much of the sickness, ignorantly attributed to other causes.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean in an article on papering walls, under the caption of "Nasty Practice," has this to say: "Our health officer, Dr. DeWolfe, says 'the free passage of air through walls of living rooms is an important element in proper ventilation. The practice of repapering rooms by layer upon layer of wall paper, made adhesive by glue or paste, which adds a decomposing material to the nasty practice, can receive nothing but condemnation from the sanitarian. The perfect wall for domestic habitation is of material which resists decomposition in every form, and which permits the free passage of air. It seems to me that Alabastine is admirably adapted for the purpose.'"

The Doctor agrees with the Inter-Ocean, that a special law should be passed to prevent the practice of pasting repeated layers of paper on the walls.

Write the Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, Mich., for supplement from the Report of the Michigan State Board of Health entitled "Sanitary Walls and Ceilings."

Remember the name Alabastine, made from alabaster rock.

THE members of the Japanese club in New York city issue a Japanese newspaper. It is printed on a hektograph, and only a small number of copies are made. It is intended chiefly for the information of their friends at home.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

No man knows his powers, whether he is capable of great or only little things, until he has tested them by actual trial.

Mr. M. A. Murry, Wilmington, Del., writes: "I had one of my severe headaches and was persuaded to try your valuable (Bradycrotine) medicine. I never had anything to do me so much good for headache."

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

BEECHAM'S PILLS will cure constipation, keep the blood cool and the liver in good working order: price 25 cents a box.

The worst cases of female weakness readily yield to Dr. Swan's Pastiles. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

Mr. S. G. Derry
of Providence, R. I.

Widely known as proprietor of Derry's Waterproof Harness Oil, tells of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, followed by

Salt Rheum

breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms, a foul mass of sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my 15 years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged twice a day.

Thousands of Dollars

"Finally a friend urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, 2 years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend from personal experience." E. G. DERRY, 48 Rock and Dorset, Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

If you take Hood's Pills

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

Dun & Co. Make a Very Favorable Report for the Past Week.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of the trade for the week ending April 1st says: "The business outlook is distinctly improving. Two important causes of uncertainty have been removed during the past week in the settlement of the Behring sea controversy and the failure of the silver bill to pass the house. The former has caused much selling of American securities by foreign holders, which has now diminished, though no material improvement in prices or demand for such securities abroad is yet noticed. The silver question caused an uncertainty in the minds of many investors, and while there remained a possibility of an important change in the currency this year, all enterprise and business were, to some extent, affected, but besides the clearing away of obstacles, there has come a distinct increase in the marketing of manufactured products and greater activity on many lines of domestic rates. This is in part due to more favorable weather in most sections and the improved condition of the country roads, and to the prospects of an early spring.

COTTON FACTORIES BOOMING.

Manufacturers are doing well. Probably cotton manufacturers have never turned out as great a quantity of goods at any other time as this year thus far, with less accumulation of products in the hands of manufacturers or wholesale dealers. Distribution has been remarkably large and the results of trade generally satisfactory, as the prices of material have been declining, while goods, though on the whole as cheap as at any other time, are fairly maintained in price. Reports from the various cities are generally encouraging. Trade in groceries is light; in chemicals and tobacco quiet, and in coffee dull. Depression in iron continues, though it is thought bottom prices have been reached and bar mills have full orders. Wheat has declined 2 5-8, corn 1-2, oil a fraction and pork 25 cents. Decline in wheat is mainly due to shrinkage in foreign demands. Western receipts continue large. As the new crop draws nearer and the prospect that it will be very large, prices naturally tend downward. Although cotton receipts have been smaller than a year ago the pressure of enormous stocks at New York and abroad have caused a further decline of 1-16. Coffee is also lower and the general tendency of prices is toward a lower level.

THE IRON TRADE.

In the iron trade the bottom seems to have been reached. More business is seen at Philadelphia and many furnaces have ceased production, so that fewer failures are reported, though a new and large furnace in Alabama begins work. No improvement is seen in bar iron, but there is some in plates and in structural iron, the demand is better than a year ago.

Money markets at New York and throughout the country are abundantly supplied, and there is no sense of anxiety manifested in any quarters.

Failures during the first quarter of 1893 were 3,384 in the United States against 2,545 last year, and liabilities $39,284,849 against $42,167,631 last year. In Canada failures were 559 against 557, liabilities $5,744,873 against $6,048,284 last year. An increase is seen in the eastern states, but a great decrease at the west, and some decrease in every other section. Business failures occurring throughout the country during last week number for the United States 199, Canada 19. Total 218 against 231 last week.

SOUTHERN PROGRESS.

Industrial Developments for Week Ended April 2nd.

The Tradesman, Chattanooga, Tennessee, in its review of the new industries established in the southern states for the week ending April 2d, reports that its correspondents throughout the southern states says that there is a more healthful and satisfactory condition of industrial affairs. While no advance in prices has occurred in the iron market, the recent reductions in wages and in freights enable iron masters to sell their products at a small profit, and no plant has been shut down. The improved condition of the cotton mills continues, and the favorable weather has enabled farmers to plant a large area. A decided, though somewhat limited improvement is reported in general business transactions and building operations for manufacturing and mercantile purposes have largely increased. The general tone is more encouraging from all parts of the south, and the belief is justified that the worst period of depression has passed.

Sixty-nine new industries are reported as established or incorporated during the week, including an aluminum manufacturing company at Wheeling, W. Va., and one with $25,000 capital, at Covington, Ky.; brick and tile works at Gainesville, Ga., with $35,000 capital, and at Eagle Ford and Velasco, Texas, and at Mason, W. Va.; and canning factories at Easonville and Hawkinsville, Ga. Florence, S. C., and Richmond, Texas. Cotton mills are reported at Carthage, N. C., and Bamburg, S. C.; cotton seed oil mills at Alexandria, La., and Cameron, Dublin and Hillsboro, Tex., and one with $700,000 capital at Atlanta, Ga.

A large distillery will be built at Louisville, Ky., copper plating works will be established at Ducktown, Tenn., an electric lighting and power company at Brenham, Texas, and one with $50,000 capital at Hinton, W. Va., flour and grist mills at Buford, Ga., Godwin Tenn., Westminster, S. C., Summerville, Texas and Duffield, Va., and ice factories at Blackville, S. C., and Grenada, Miss.

The Tradesman also reports foundries and machine shops at Rome, Ga., Ethridge, and Humboldt, Tenn.; stove works at Stephens, Ark., and Grand Sabine, Texas, and an iron furnace at Big Stone Gap, Va. Among new mines for the week are coal mines at Corinth, W. Va., and Fort Worth, Texas; a mica mine at Jackson City, Tenn; a kaolin mine at Villa City, Fla., and phosphate mines at Anthony and Interlachen, Fla., and near Savannah, Georgia. Smelting works are reported at Dallas, Tex.; a sugar refinery at Richmond, Tex.; lumber companies at Atlanta, Augusta and Rome, Ga., and Central City, W. Va. Saw and planing mills will be built at Rome, and Greenville, Ga. Brookhaven, Miss., Sumter, S. C., and Ivor, Va., and spoke works at Stephens, Ark., and Norwood, N. C.

Waterworks will be built at Calhoun, Ga., Canton, Miss., and a plant to cost $100,000 at Lake Providence, La. Among the new buildings reported for the week by the Tradesman are business blocks at Dunlap, Knoxville, and Greenville, Tenn., Union, S. C., and Roanoke, Va., a church at Knoxville, Tenn., a court house at Batesville, Ark., a large hotel at Galveston, Texas, school buildings at Morristown, Tenn., and Roanoke, Va., and warehouses at Covington, Ky., and Murfreesboro, Tenn.

An All Around Beau.

A man owning a double house up town rented the half he did not occupy to a noisy tenant. Such a racket was kept up that he notified the tenant to get out.

"What's the matter with me?" he asked much hurt in his pride.

"Ah, you raise the deuce all the time and I can't stand it."

"Why don't you offset it by raising something yourself? I don't object."

"Don't you? Well, I'll just raise the rent," and he did to such an extent that the tenant left.—Detroit Free Press.

Particular About Butter.

Little Boy—"Mom wants two pounds o' butter exactly like wot you sent us last. If 'tain't exactly like she won't take it."

Grocer (to numerous customers)—"Some people in my business don't like very particular customers, but I do. It's my delight to serve them and get them exactly what they want. I will attend to you in a moment, little boy."

Little Boy—"Be sure to get the same kind. A lot o' pap's relations is visitin' at our house, an' mom wants to drive 'em away."—Street & Smith's Good News.

The Skill and Knowledge

Essential to the production of the most perfect and popular laxative remedy known have enabled the California Fig Syrup Co. to achieve a great success in the reputation of its remedy, Syrup of Figs, as it is conceded to be the universal laxative. For sale by all druggists.

Women are ever in extremes; they are either better or worse than men.

If your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

It is with words as with sunbeams, the more they are condensed the more they burn.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of $100 for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

A. W. GLEASON,
(SEAL) Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Six Dollars to Chicago.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton R. R. announce a reduction of the fare between Cincinnati and Chicago to six dollars. This rate is now in effect, and in purchasing tickets to the World's Fair City see that they read via the C., H. & D., the Pullman Safety Vestibuled Line, with Dining Cars.

"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are widely known as an admirable remedy for Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Coughs, and Throat troubles. Sold only in boxes.

Every Month

many women suffer from Excessive or Scant Menstruation; they don't know who to confide in to get proper advice. Don't confide in anybody but try

Bradfield's
Female Regulator

a Specific for PAINFUL, PROFUSE, SCANTY, SUPPRESSED and IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed free.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.
Sold by all Druggists.

The casting out of the devil of disease was once a sign of authority.

Now we take a little more time about it and cast out devils by thousands—we do it by knowledge.

Is not a man who is taken possession of by the germ of consumption possessed of a devil?

A little book on CAREFUL LIVING and Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil will tell you how to exorcise him if it can be done.

Free.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.
Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

"August Flower"

"I am happy to state to you and to suffering humanity, that my wife has used your wonderful remedy, August Flower, for sick headache and palpitation of the heart, with satisfactory results. For several years she has been a great sufferer, has been under the treatment of eminent physicians in this city and Boston, and found little relief. She was induced to try August Flower, which gave immedaite relief. We cannot say to much for it." L. C. Frost, Springfield, Mass.

Jackson's Wonder Bean.

THE GREATEST Vegetable Introduction For Many Years.

It is a Dutch Bean. Prolific, Sweet, Rich Flavor, good for the Table and fine for Forage. A combination Soup, Lima and Butter Bean.

25c. per Packet by Mail. Special rates to Alliance Organizations. Send for Seed Catalogue.

MARK. W. JOHNSON SEED CO.
35 S. PRIOR St. ATLANTA, Ga.

TAKE Tutt's Tiny Pills

The first dose often astonishes the invalid, giving elasticity of mind, buoyancy of body, good digestion, regular bowels and solid flesh. Price, 25cts.

TO SECURE AGENTS

For 25 cts we will send by mail one of our Hanging Rug and Tidy Stamping Outfits with 5 plaid needles and pattern catalogue or Rug and Embroidery Publications.

P. O. Send price of Machine $1.25.
E. ROUS & CO., Toledo, O.

AGENTS make $20 per day, and with this new Patent Scissors Sharpener you can sharpen any pair of scissors in 5 seconds. Sells at sight. Every family buys. Sample 25c. Address, KEYSTONE MFG. CO., 23 S. 9th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

PATENTS

Mothers and Politeness.

For the decline of politeness in one respect women are to blame. They have permitted the practical ignoring of that law which commands home courtesy. Children are not now taught to honor their father and their mother, and neither the tone of society nor its securities have been improved by neglecting those domestic good manners which sweeten and strengthen life at its very roots.

This dereliction supposes another—rude fathers and nagging mothers, who replace their artificial public manners with icy sarcasms, providing silences and irritable complainings at home. And true politeness depends upon an undeviating habit. No man is polite enough, whose public curtesies have not their origin in the gracious sweetness generated upon its own hearth.—Amelia E. Barr in Lippincott's.

Out of Observation.

Miss De Fashion—"I've been having a perfectly lovely time; teas and parties, and music and private theatricals, and everything you can think of. Haven't had so much fun for a year."

Friend (shocked)—"What! During Lent?"

Miss De Fashion—"Oh, it's all right, dear. We were in the country."—New York Weekly.

LOST—Sometime yesterday, between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered as they are forever gone.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

The seed is planted

when you feel "run-down" and "used-up." Malarial, typhoid or bilious fevers spring from it—all sorts of diseases. Don't take any risk. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery invigorates the system and repels disease. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. For all diseases that come from a disordered liver and impure blood, skin, scalp and scrofulous affections, it's the only remedy that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure in every case, you have your money back.

You pay only for the good you get.

The worst cases yield to the mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. That's why the proprietors can, and do, promise to pay $500 for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure.

Obstinate Blood Humor.

I HAD TERRIBLE ECZEMA FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS—WAS in bed six months at a time—body and limbs swollen and scaly like a dead fish. The itching was terrible, and finally LOST MY SIGHT. After treatment by five physicians, and other remedies without relief, I took S. S. S. AND IT CURED ME. My skin is soft and smooth, and the terrible trouble is all gone.—R. N. MITCHELL, Macon, Ga.

I know the above statement to be true.—S. S. HARMON, Macon, Ga.

I was for some time troubled with an obstinate RASH OR HUMOR, that spread over my face and breast. I consulted physicians, and used many remedies without a cure. At the suggestion of a friend I used Swift's Specific, which completely cured me. This was two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble.—E. H. WELLS, Chesterfield, Va.

S. S. S. is the safest and best remedy for all troubles of the Blood and Skin. It cures by removing the cause, and at the same time builds up the general health. Send for our Treatise, mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOE

For gentlemen is a fine Calf Shoe, made seamless, of the best leather produced in this country. There are no tacks or wax threads to hurt the feet, and is made as smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. It is as stylish, easy fitting and durable as custom-made shoes costing from $4.00 to $5.00, and acknowledged to be the Best in the World for the price.

For GENTLEMEN.

$5.00 Genuine Hand-Sewed.
$4.00 Hand-Sewed Welt Shoe.
$3.50 Police and Farmer.
$2.50 Extra Value Calf Shoe.
$2.25 Workingman's Shoe.
$2.00 Goodwear Shoe.

For LADIES.

$3.00 Hand-Sewed.
$2.50 Best Dongola.
$2.00 Calf and Dongola.
$1.75 For MISSES.
For BOYS' & YOUTH'S $2 & $1.75 SCHOOL SHOES.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES.

IT IS A DUTY you owe to yourself and your family, during these hard times, to get the most value for your money. You can economize in your footwear if you purchase W. L. Douglas' Shoes, which, without question, represent a greater value for the money than any other makes.

CAUTION. W. L. DOUGLAS' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe, which protects the consumer against high prices and inferior shoes. Beware of dealers who acknowledge the superiority of W. L. Douglas' Shoes by attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent, and subject to prosecution by law, for obtaining money under false pretences. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. AGENTS WANTED. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers where I have no agent and advertise them free in local paper.

DR. BIGGERS
HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL
CURES ALL
BOWEL AND STOMACH TROUBLES
CHILDREN TEETHING
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS
ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE

Cheaper than Barb Wire.

HUMANE, STRONG, VISIBLE, ORNAMENTAL.

HARTMAN WIRE PANEL FENCE.

Double the Strength of any other fence; will not stretch, sag or get out of shape. Harmless to Stock; a Perfect Farm Fence, yet Handsome enough to Ornament a Lawn. Write for prices, Descriptive Circular and Testimonials, also Catalogue of Hartman Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Tree and Flower Guards, Flexible Wire Mats, &c.
HARTMAN MFG. CO., Beaver Falls, Pa.
SOUTHERN SALES AGENCY, 37 and 38 S. Forsyth Street, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. HARTER'S

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Constipation, Pain.
REVIVES Failing ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Pain Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Quickest to Use, and Cheapest.
CATARRH
Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
DR. J. F. HARTER, Toledo, O.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

BE NOT DECEIVED with Pastes, Kalsomine, and Paints which soil the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.

The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, purify the blood, are safe and give perfect festival. The best family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Painful Digestion, Pimples, Sallow Complexion, Tired Feeling, and every symptom of disease resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over-eating are specially benefited by using RIPANS TABULES. Five (in each vial) for sale by all druggists, or by mail, if desired. 12 bottles, $1. Send to THE RIPANS CHEMICAL Co., 10 Spruce St., N. Y. Agents Wanted. EIGHTY per cent. profit.

KANSAS FARMS and Mortgages are all right. Big crops. Big prices. Farms for sale or to trade. List free. CHAS. H. WOOLLEY, Osborne, Kan.

MINERAL BOOK. Showing extent of deposits, Silver, Gold, Copper, Iron, Coal, Fire Clay, Fluxing Stone, Building Stone, Marble, Slate, Mineral Waters, Timber, Soil, Climate, Railroads, Towns, Population, Statistics, Maps, Prices, Terms, etc. Sent free. Address PHILADELPHIA BOOK, Burlington, Vt.

CHILTON COUNTY

Is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the S. F. V. & Gulf and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The chief industries are farming and saw mill, ing. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 26 miles south of Birmingham and 40 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. FREEDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1892. NUMBER 25.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business notices twenty cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, 10c per line.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be headed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

BIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: { Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CELEBRATED TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a poor grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Memphis, Tenn. Minneapolis, Minn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

FRIDAY.—Interest in the tariff discussion is steadily on the decline and the attendance in the house Friday morning was small. On motion of Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, a resolution was adopted directing the committee on public lands to examine into the circumstances under which certain leases for parcels of ground in Yellowstone National park were made in March, 1889, by the secretary of the interior to the Yellowstone Park Association, and why they were afterwards rescinded and the same granted to one S. S. Huntley. Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, moved that the house go into committe on the cotton bagging bill. Mr. English, of New Jersey, opened the debate in a spech against the bill. At the beginning he said it was well to consider the end. There was a jute trust in Calcutta absolutely controlling the output of raw material. The moment the duty was taken off of jute American manufacturers were placed at the mercy of that jute trust. Then bagging could be procured for 6 cents a yard until our manufacturers were broken up, but when that was accomplished the screws would be put on and he would go back to gunny at 35 cents a yard. Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, spoke in favor of the pending bill. Under the existing law the cotton planters of the southern states were taxed 10 cents on every dollar invested in the the cotton bagging industry in the United States. All talk about the combine of Calcutta, thousands of miles from the United States, was not pertinent to the subject when it was remembered that in 1890 the manufacturers of cotton bagging in the United States had formed a combine by which they ran the price up from six or seven cents to thirteen or fourteen cents a yard. The cotton-raisers of the south asked to be relieved from this burden of taxation. Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, announced himself as an absolute free trader, and he made a speech in accord with his declaration. General debate having been concluded, the bill was read for amendments. Mr. Turner, of Georgia, in charge of the bill, moved to strike out the clause which makes free "hoop or band iron, or hoop or band steel, flared, splayed, or punched." Mr. Clover, of Kansas, offered an amendment providing that "for the purpose of supplying any deficiency in revenue arising from the act"—here follows a free-silver bill. Mr. Turner raised the point of order against the amendment, and it was ruled out. Messrs. Elliott, of South Carolina; McRae, of Arkansas, and Clark of Alabama, favored the removal of duties from cotton ties. Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, moved to amend the bill by striking out the words, "for baling purposes," and insert "for baling cotton;" that the bill will put on the free list hoop or band iron or steel, wholly or partially manufactured into hoops or ties for baling cotton. Mr. Terry, of Arkansas, offered an amendment placing on the free list saws, brushes and screws used in making cotton gins. Mr. Turner's amendment to strike out was agreed to. Mr. Bynum's amendment was rejected, as was, also, Mr. Terry's. The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house. Mr. Turner gave notice that he would ask for a vote on the bill Saturday. The house then took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills.

SATURDAY.—Mr. Turner made the concluding speech on his bill placing cotton bagging cotton ties and cotton gins on the free list Saturday. Mr. Turner spoke forcibly in favor of the bill and in general denunciation of the McKinley act, and at the conclusion of his speech was vigorously applauded. The bill was then passed by an enormous majority—yeas 167, nays 460. This was a strict party vote, except that Messrs. Coburn of Wisconsin, English of New Jersey, and O'Neill of Missouri, democrats; voted in the negative. The following is the text of the bill as passed. "That the following articles, when imported, shall be exempt from duty, namely: Bagging for cotton, gunny cloth and all similar material suitable for covering cotton, composed in whole or in part of flax, jute or jute butts, cards, roving frames, winding frames, softeners and other machinery, purchased abroad and used in the manufacture of bagging for cotton; gunny cloth and all similar materials, suitable for covering cotton; cotton gins and parts thereof; and also hoop or band iron or hoop or band steel cut to length, or wholly or partially manufactured into hoops or ties for baling purposes, with or without buckles or fastenings." Mr. Shively, of Indiana, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill to reduce the duty on tin plate and it was referred to the committee on the whole.

TUESDAY.—In the house, on motion of Mr. Peel, of Arkansas, the senate amendment to the Indian appropriation bill were non-concurred in. On motion of Mr. Raines, of New York, a bill was passed to codify, simplify and amend the existing laws relative to the execution of declarations and other papers in pension claims. But this was done only after a roll call, which was necessitated by the desire of Mr. Bailey, of Texas, to disclose the presence of a quorum.

WEDNESDAY.—The house committee on appropriations, Wednesday, listened to an appeal by Representative Allen, of Mississippi, in favor of his resolution asking an immediate appropriation of $50,000 to alleviate the condition of the flood sufferers in Mississippi and Alabama. Mr. Allen urged the committee to take action at once, as the people along the river banks were in a terrible condition, and asked relief from the government. Telegrams received by Mr. Allen from Columbus, Mississippi, state that over one hundred persons were drowned in one county and already sixty bodies have been recovered from the waters and many others can be seen floating on the surface. His people, he stated to the committee, who had suffered were probably poorer in actual money than any people in the country and while they had homes and means of subsistence they had little to give in the aid of others. At the suggestion of Mr. Holman the resolution was referred to a committee which will take prompt action upon it. Allen has also received a request from his district asking the secretary of war to provide 1,000 tents for the homeless people. The tents will no doubt be promptly forwarded by the department. Dailey called up the bill to grant the right of way through the Indian Territory to the Gainesville, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad company. The point of no quorum was made. Mr. Dailey demanded the yeas and nays. The roll call resulted in yeas 186, nays 8. There was no quorum and a call of the house was ordered.

THE SENATE.

FRIDAY.—The senate resumed consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill. The clause under consideration was that making an appropriation for the entertainment of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic next fall. The question was on Mr. Cockrell amendment to Mr. McMillin's substitute (appropriating $100,000 for the purpose), and requiring the amount to be paid exclusively out of the revenues of the district of Columbia. After two hours' debate Mr. Cockrell's amendment was lost and Mr. McMillin's substitute, appropriating out of the treasury of the United States $100,000 for subsistence and quarters for visiting old soldiers attending the encampment, was agreed to. Mr. Quay offered a resolution restricting the use of the appropriation to the subsistence and quarters of visiting soldiers—excluding those residing in the district. It was agreed to—yeas, 43; nays, 5. The amendment as agreed appropriates out of the United States treasury $100,000 to pay for the subsistence and quarters for such honorably discharged non-resident union soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the late war as may attend, as delegates or otherwise, the twenty-sixth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in the city of Washington. The bill was reported to the senate. Mr. Call tried to get in an amendment for the benefit of the Little Sisters of the Poor, and as it was ruled out on the point of order, he moved to strike out all items for charity, so as to have the whole subject passed upon in conference. Mr. Vest had also something to say in favor of an appropriation for St. Joseph's orphan asylum, and spoke of two sisters of that asylum standing every day at the doors of market houses with their baskets, asking, literally, "Give us this day our daily bread." That institution had been carried on in Washington for thirty-six years, and had never received a dollar from the municipal government or from the United States. Last year it had 131 orphans. If he had to choose between old, broken-down drunkards (provided for in an item of $3,000 for a temporary home for soldiers and sailors) and these poor, unfortunate boys, he would give the money to the boys. Mr. Sherman supported Mr. Call's motion, so as to have the whole matter of charities revised by a conference committee. Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, saw no reason why if congress made an appropriation for St. Joseph's asylum it should not also provide for St. Vincent's hospital. There were also the Washington asylum, Associated Charities, Children's Aid Society and others for which no provision was made; and if one was put in the bill, what answer could be made, he asked, to the demands of all the others. St. [illegible] always in order to care for the helpless and poor. It was always in order to care for children; to take them in out of the streets, to take them out of temptation and out of the storms of vice and trouble. The Little Sisters of the Poor, who went from door to door soliciting charity, were doing their duty; it was a grave question whether the senators were doing theirs. The point of order of Mr. Vest's amendment was withdrawn and he thereupon renewed his amendment to increase the amount for St. Joseph's asylum from $500 to $3,000, and it was agreed to. The chapter as to charaties having thus been amended, necessitating a conference on the subject, Mr. Call withdrew his motion to strike out the chapter. The bill was then passed. After a brief executive session the senate, at 5:30 o'clock, adjourned till Monday.

TUESDAY—After the routine morning business of the senate the resolution offered Monday by Mr. Stewart in relation to the purchase of silver and coinage of standard silver dollars, having been taken up and amended (on motion of Mr. Sherman) by inserting the words "and a detailed statement of the amount purchased each day," Mr. Stewart proceeded to address the senate on the subject.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate Wednesday Mr. Dolph, from the committee on foreign relations, reported back to the house a bill for the absolute exclusion of the Chinese, with the senate bill as substituted for it, and has given notice that he will call it up as soon as possible.

NOTES.

A bill was passed by the house Monday making West Point, Va., a sub port of entry and delivery.

After several weeks devoted more or less steadily to the tariff question, appropriation bills will now have the right of way in the house for some time to come. All appropriation bills which have accumulated on the calendar during the time spent in tariff discussion will be acted upon before any other legislation of much importance is permitted to come forward and several appropriation bills now in the hands of committees are expected to be reported in season to be taken up by the house immediately after the bills now ready for action. This early continuance of consideration of appropriation bills is in pursuance of the policy of the democratic majority in the house to make an adjournment of congress possible before midsummer.

PHOSPHATE MINING QUESTION

In South Carolina Decided by the U. S. Supreme Court.

A Washington dispatch says: The United States supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of the United States for the district of South Carolina in favor of the state of South Carolina in its suit against the Coosaw Mining company. This is a case of great importance to the state, involving its right to control the phosphate rock and phosphatic beds in the Coosaw river, which are exceedingly valuable. The Coosaw Mining company claimed that in 1876 the legislature of South Carolina made a contract conferring on it a perpetual grant to the exclusive mining of all phosphate rock and phosphatic deposits in the Coosaw river. The state contended that by this act the legislature had granted the Coosaw company exclusive rights for only a limited period, namely, until the expiration of twenty-one years fixed in 1870, when the Coosaw company was given the right, but not exclusive right, to mine phosphate. This period expired in 1891. The court, in an opinion by Justice Harlan, holds that the act of 1876 did not give the Coosaw company the perpetual and exclusive grant, but merely an exclusive grant for the balance of the twenty-one years covered by the original contract of 1870.

BLAINE MAY BE A CANDIDATE.

A Report from Washington that he Will Enter the Race.

A Washington dispatch of Saturday says: Mr. Blaine is in the contest for the republican presidential nomination. The announcement was made in private by a Maine congressman, who was authorized by the secretary of state to speak for him.

"Mr. Blaine will be the republican nominee, notwithstanding he has stated in a letter that he would not be a candidate," said the Maine man to a party of personal friends. "He is in better health than for many years. He believes he can be elected if nominated, and naturally is ambitious to be the president. But he will not announce himself as a candidate. He will say nothing one way or the other. All the republicans of the country care to know is that he will accept if nominated. When they know he wants it, the nomination will be tendered him. The powers of the administration cannot prevent it, for the republicans of the country want Blaine above all men. He [illegible]

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Happenings of the Day Culled from Our Telegraphic and Cable Dispatches.

WHAT IS TRANSPIRING THROUGHOUT OUR OWN COUNTRY, AND NOTES OF INTEREST FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

A dispatch from Tokio, Japan, says a conflagration that broke out there Sunday last, did enormous damage.

The Steamer City of Fitchburg, of the colony freight line, which arrived at New Bedford, Mass., Sunday from Newport, was burned Monday morning.

A Pittsburg, Pa., dispatch of Tuesday says: It has just leaked out that Gamble Wierr, superintendent of police who died suddenly three months ago, was poisoned.

The legislature of the Brazillian province of Matto Grosso, according to Wednesday's dispatches, has declared that state independent of the republic of Brazil.

A terrible cyclone struck Cadoo, Indian Territory, about 12 o'clock Monday night, sweeping houses and everything else in front of it, but luckily no one was killed.

An indignation meeting of about 350 negroes was held in St. Louis Monday night to denounce the recent triple lynching at Memphis and burning at the stake of a negro at Texarkana.

A London cablegram of Tuesday is to the effect that Home Secretary Matthews has decided to shortly release Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne, who is serving a sentence for the theft of Mrs. Hargreaves's pearls.

Spreckles' enormous sugar refinery at Philadelphia shut down Wednesday, and all hands were paid off. It was the current rumor that the purchase of the refinery by the sugar trust was responsible for the move.

The democrats of the seventh district of Kansas, now represented by Congressman Simpson, at a meeting Monday night adopted a resolution calling for a congressional convention to nominate a democrat for congress.

Attorney General Miller is making a tour of inspection of the judicial districts in the south. He will go as far as New Orleans, and will make a short visit to each of the principal cities on the route from Washington.

A Buenos Ayres dispatch of Wednesday states that the Montevideo papers pronounce the London Times' story relative to the alleged negotiations between Uruagua, and the United States for securing that island as a naval storage place, an absurd calumny.

A cablegram of Saturday from Valparaiso says: United States Consul McCreery is authority for the statement that Mr. Blaine has offered to Minister Egan the appointment of minister either to Paris or Pekin. Mr. Egan, McCreery declares, declined both offers.

The bureau of American republics has been officially informed that the Mexican government has not authorized the establishment of the so-called Juarez lottery, or guaranteed the payment of its prizes, as advertised generally in the newspapers. The Mexican government requests all newspapers to give this denial general circulation.

A New York dispatch of Saturday says: The total visible cotton supply for the world is 4,810,468 bales, of which 3,783,368 bales are American, against 3,288,471 and 2,612,071 bales respectively last year. Receipts at all interior towns, 88,378 bales. Receipts at plantation, 41,505 bales. Crop in sight, 6,484,204 bales.

The city of Rio Janeiro, according to dispatches, was in a state of seige Tuesday. A number of prominent military and naval officers were placed under arrest for having participated in the great public manifestation in favor of President Fonseca. The prisoners will be tried by a council of war.

Eleven persons afflicted with small pox were discovered in overcrowded tenement houses in New York Monday, where hundreds had been exposed. The health officials fear the dread disease may become epidemic. The Brooklyn health authorities are also anxious. On Sunday they discovered five cases and they have taken every precaution to prevent a spread.

The steamship Philadelphia, from Santos, arrived at New York Sunday short seven in her crew. While lying at Santos yellow fever broke out on board and three of her crew were sent ashore and left. On the trip Hans Larsen, Nicholas Weeden and Patrick McCloskey, all members of the crew, died of fever. Engineer Wm. Cranston was [illegible] of February has been issued. The payments aggregated $16,797.40; on account of deaths, $9,750; on account of accident disablements, $3,243; on account of sick disablements, $3,804.40. The total number of cases 1,162. The association paid twenty-eight death claims; nine from accident and nineteen from natural causes.

Gen. Charles W. Field died at his residence in Washington City Saturday night of Bright's disease. He served in the United States army until 1861 and then entered in the confederate army as major-general of the volunteers. After the war he entered the army of the Kedive of Egypt, where, in command of these forces, he remained several years. He was door-keeper for the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses.

It was reported in Wall street, New York, Monday, that negotiations were in progress looking to the purchase of the 40,000 shares of the Georgia Central stock held by the Richmond Terminal company. The alleged purchasers were Messrs. Speyer & Co., the bankers who financed the five-million-dollar floating debt of the Georgia Central last summer. According to the rumor, the purchase was to be effected by the exchange of $7,500,000 of the Terminal 5 per cent bonds for the 40,000 shares of stock. Whether anything comes of the rumor remains to be seen.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS

Elect Uninstructed Delegates to the Chicago Convention.

The Massachusetts democratic state convention, for the choice of four delegates to the national convention at Chicago, met in Tremont temple in Boston, Friday afternoon. After temporary organization the committee on credentials reported that 328 towns and twenty-eight cities were represented by 1,931 delegates. Hon. Edward Avery, of Braintree, was unanimously chosen as permanent chairman. On taking the chair Mr. Avery addressed the convention at considerable length. He began by expressing the conviction that the coming election would take Massachusetts out of the column of doubtful states, and make it certainly democratic. Taking up the silver question, the speaker said:

No Massachusetts democrat, in Boston or in Washington, in convention or in congress, hesitated to express himself on the silver question. We are thankful that the danger of the passage of a free silver coinage act seems for the present to be averted. Some of the votes which contributed to the result may have been given from pure patriotism, some from pure politics and some from pure satisfaction with the existing law.

Discussing the effect of the McKinley tariff on New England industries Mr. Avery said:

"Success is a duty; how to secure it will be one of the problems submitted to the convention to which you to-day elect representatives of your state. The first great step is the adoption of sound principles and a declaration of policy to guide legislators and the executive. The next duty will be the selection of a candidate. I believe the candidate should be as strong as the platform, and not merely that, but one who is so welded to his principles that he would encounter defeat in their open support rather than insure success by discreet silence. I doubt not the delegates from Massachusetts will give their unalloyed votes, and such a man I believe the united democracy will elect as the president of the United States."

The following were elected delegates: John W. Corcoran, Patrick A. Collins, John E. Russell and Albert Houghton.

RIOTOUS BELGIANS.

Factory Operatives Make a Fight for an Increase in Wages.

A cablegram of Wednesday from Prague, Belgium, says: Operatives employed in the linen mills at Nachod, in Bohemia, went on a strike, and finding that they were not likely to succeed in their demands, they began to act in a riotous manner. Threats were made that they would destroy the mills. Later the strikers assumed a very menacing attitude, and a large force of gendarmes tried to disperse them. The strikers were desperate and a pitched battle followed. The gendarmes drew their sabres and struck right and left, while the strikers used sticks and stones as weapons. Several of the rioters were badly cut by the sabres of the gendarmes.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

A Powder Mill Wrecked and Two Men Killed [illegible] Powerful Explosion.

The Moosic powder mills near [illegible], Pa., blew up Wednesday [illegible]

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 21, 1892.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year $1.00
One copy six months 75
One copy four months 50

The statement that it will take $2,000,000 instead of $1,000,000 to complete the Porter census is a very modest one. A great many people believe that no amount of money would make that census complete.—World.

Overproduction makes hard times among the overproducers. Wheat manufacturers get to cutting each others throats in this way, they combine and decrease production. Cotton planters are cutting each others throats by overproduction and the sooner they combine to limit production the better for them.

Because short crops abroad made a market for an increased amount of American breadstuffs the Protection organs "point with pride" to the fact that "the McKinley bill has not suppressed exports." No one supposed it would when the Old World is hungry; but it eats up in taxes the greater part of the small profits of the American farmers' crops.—N. Y. World.

There is no longer a possible show for Capt. Kolb. He did carry Chilton county, but even "Lawless Bibb" would be against him did she have a chance to show her hand. The third party advocates denounce Kolb, the Democrats repudiate his advances—his townspeople scratch him at the polls—the Republican party wouldn't have him; now, will some one please tell us what he is running for? Just to hear the noise, perhaps.—Centreville Express.

L. T. Grant, deputy sheriff of Shelby county absconded last week and it is thought has gone to South America. He is reported a defaulter to the amount of $5,000 He was Secretary and Treasurer of Ala. Sheriffs' Association. He wrote his wife from New Orleans that he preferred flight to the penitentiary. He was called chief deputy in Shelby which probably stands for being a greater rascal than the others. He is the only "chief" deputy heard of in Alabama, and no more will be needed.

Some people advised their friends to stay away from the polls two years ago and not vote. Strange to say this advice was heeded, and now they are sniveling because the number of delegates to the state convention is cut down. It is the fault of their own silly advice, not of the State Committee. For the past twenty years the democratic vote for governor has been the basis for representation, and on that basis alone has the representation to the state convention been cut down. These same self appointed guardians of the people are now crying out fraud and seeking to rouse the prejudices of the people because the people, without thinking for themselves, followed their silly advice. To these men we say don't blame others for your own silly acts.—Roanoke Herald.

There is at least one newspaper in the state that wants the gubernatorial race to end in August. It is a paper that loves to fight and imagines it helps a good newspaper to have one. That is one sort of patriotism. If it helps one newspaper it ought to help another, and weeklies will be in it. But as for the Journal, it wants the fight to end when the state convention meets, if not before, and to that end, it will do all that lays in its power. The people do not want strife, but peace and harmony. Two state tickets would mean disastrous defeat to the ticket that opposed the regular nominated democratic ticket; but it would leave behind discord and a condition of affairs lamentable and unfortunate. The discord would be a nucleus around which would gather opposition in many counties and many districts which would prove a menace, if it did not actually cause the defeat of the democracy.

The above is from the Montgomery Journal, and the paper which wants the gubernatorial race to end only in August is the Alliance Herald judging from the last issue of that paper. Capt. Kolb is crazed upon politics and would run as an independent candidate even if the Alliance Herald should refuse its support. But the Herald wants him to run, and from present indications he is sure to do so. [illegible] hope of getting the regular [illegible] nomination is past, [illegible] one in opposition to [illegible] at all.

The Nominees.

The VIEW fully anticipated the action of the Democratic primaries and county convention in placing before the people of the county the ticket which was successful and is, therefore, not among the disappointed. Further, it has no dissatisfaction to express at the result unless in the case of the nominee for representative.

It is easy to recall the fact that every representative which Chilton has had in the Legislature has had to meet charges of affiliating with negroes and Republicans. We have heard these charges made against each and all, but they probably came nearer being proven in Mr. Mastin's case than in the the others, with the exception of Alfred Baker, who was elected as a pronounced Republican, we believe. Whether or not such charges are necessary in order to elect a man to the Legislature in Chilton county we leave to the judgment of our readers. It is an Alliance ticket strictly and as one of the Alliance principles is to ignore parties the ticket is such a one as was to be expected. The other nominees we consider good men and Democrats so far as known, not being personally acquainted with Messrs. Bailey, Glasscock and Pate, three of the nominees for Commissioner. Mr. Mastin himself is now a Democrat, there being no law to ostracise a man who has been a Republican or an Independent should he repent of evil ways and desire to vote with the Democrats, though the charge will militate against his usefulness and weaken his influence in party councils for all time. It is well known that Mr. Mastin positively denies that he has ever been worse than an Independent candidate, and that charge stands against several of the nominees.

Nevertheless, it is not at all probable that there is any man in the county who can see enough fun in being beat to run for an office in opposition to any of them.

That the entire ticket will be elected in August there can be no doubt.

Hon. Cecil Brown will get the Talladega delegation solid in the Congressional convention of this district. Longshore, of Shelby, ran against Browne in Talladega, but his delegation got left. It is understood by some that Longshore is not a candidate and that if he had secured the vote of Talladega that vote would have been thrown to Burns. Burns it is said, could have secured the endorsement of the district alliance if he had desired it, but he did not desire it for fear that it would have cost him his prorate in his own county. The Dallas delegation is anti-Alliance it seems. Burns is an allianceman and could get the Alliance support in some counties. But the Alliance is not strong enough in the district to control the convention, and as that insures the seating of the anti-Alliance delegation from Shelby the race will soon narrow down to the outspoken anti-Alliance candidates, Grant and Robbins. Chilton Alliance delegation is likely to be the only such delegation in the convention. Congressman Oates has won in the third district by boldly opposing the Alliance and its demands and it is now very probable that Robbins or Grant will win in this district. That is the way things look now to an impartial observer.

THREE THOUSAND FAMILIES

Suffering for the Necessities of Life in the Flood District.

JACKSON, Miss., April 14.—The lowest estimate placed on the loss of life in the flood districts is fifty all of whom are negroes. The most of the damage is in the vicinity of Columbus, Miss., which is on the banks of the Tombigbee, but more than 3,000 families in the counties of Lowndes, Monroe and Noxubee are reported homeless and suffering for the necessaries of life, which are being supplied by private subscriptions. A similar overflow occurred in 1874, but the waters are over higher, and suffering is bound to follow, unless congress heeds the appeal for assistance.

Yellow pine lumber is to be put up in price. We are glad if one Southern product shall command more remunerative prices. This section has been suffering all along the line.

Judge A. E. Coffey, of Lowndes county, has entered the race as a candidate for Secretary of State.

Capt. Kolb's Statements.

Eufaula Times.

The Times has a word to say in answer to Capt. Kolb's statement in an interview with the Birmingham News man and published elsewhere this morning.

Capt. Kolb complains of the black belt beats in Barbour and names them. The Capt. has been in at least one dozen Barbour county conventions with the black beat representation and he never one time in his life for all those years admitted that it was not what it ought to be until now.

Two years ago he won this county by a trade for Spring Hill beat that he didn't carry in the primaries.

One of his leaders in the last county convention, Mr. C. C. Lee, in an oration against the present apportionment pointed out Spring Hill as being specially obnoxious, and the Times recalled as this remarkable speech was being delivered how Mr. Lee and his followers two years ago stood in the same Court House and applauded Spring Hill to the echo. Great was Spring Hill two years ago!

Eufaula, Fort Browder, Spring Hill and Hawkinsville could have been wiped out and unrepresented in the convention altogether and Mr. Kolb couldn't have gotten a state delegation. This statement is deliberately made.

The Jones people didn't need either one of the beats he complains about!

The Times means to say that these four big beats while they had 85 in a total of 167 delegates in the convention still the Jones people could have selected a Jones delegation if these beats had not been represented by as many as one delegate for the four beats!

What silly, very, very silly and ridiculous nonsense is this the Captain talks when he prates of a popular majority.

As it was he didn't have one delegate in four in the convention and he claims the county and is reported to have said that he "was going to have it."

The thinking people of Barbour know now what he means when he claims 116 votes to Jones' 125 votes in the state and counts Barbour to get them. The people of Barbour know that he didn't come in the neighborhood of carrying this county.

It is, in this connection, worth while to observe that in the interview Captain Kolb says he will be "elected." He did not claim that he would be nominated."

The Union Soldiers' Plank Again.

From the Douglasville New South.

We demand that the government issue legal tender notes and pay Union Soldiers the difference between the price of depreciated money, in which he was paid, and gold.

We clip the above from a paper published at Dayton, Ohio, called the Workman and Farmer. This paper is the official organ of Dayton Trades and Labor Assembly. Both of these papers had delegates in the St. Louis convention. In fact the editor of this paper was one of the delegates and knew fully the workings of the St. Louis convention from beginning to end. He published the platform and all the proceedings. The paper from which we copy the above item puts the soldier plank in as the twelfth plank in the platform and demands that the union soldiers should stand up to the St. Louis demand because of this plank in the platform. It bears the date of March 24, 1892. There are plenty of other papers through the North and Northwest that publish the platform with the union soldier plank in it.

A platform that causes its defenders to deny what it contains is, to say the least of it, very weak.

Let Col. Post, Mrs. Post and Mr. Baggett come out and tell the people the truth, and tell them the plank is in the platform, and it is right for southern people to donate to union soldiers two billion dollars, and then tell them that this is economy, reform, justice, fairness "equal rights to all, and special privileges to none."

A History of Alabama.

History and Civil Government of Alabama, by Newton W. Bates, A. M., Professor of Languages and Literature in the State Normal College.

This book is just issued from the press of the Florence Publishing Company. It is designed as a text book for use in the schools and colleges of the State, and is a complete and accurate history of the State, prepared in a convenient form for use.

The Advent of "Looking Backward" in Politics.

The following interesting article is an editorial from one of the very best Southern newspapers, the Macon Telegraph.

We see it stated that Mr. Edward Bellamy will be a delegate from Massachusetts to the third party convention in Omaha on July 4.

Mr. Bellamy is the author of "Looking Backward," a novel which by its wide circulation and the serious discussion provoked, probably convinced its author that socialism was right and that his mission was that of a prophet of socialism. At any rate, he is now recognized as the head of the socialists of the United States, and will appear in that character at the third party convention. No doubt he will be a prominent and influential member, representing the "culture and philanthropy of the East."

"The plain farmers of the South who are dissatisfied with the Democratic party and are tempted to go into this new movement would do well to inquire why the Socialist prophet feels that he will be at home and comfortable in the third party convention. We do not know, but suppose he was satisfied by the platform adopted at St. Louis. His idea for good government is for the government to own everything and do everything, and he must, therefore, regard that platform as a long step in the right direction. No other party ever proposed that the government should do so much or own so much, and Mr. Bellamy knows that if that policy was entered upon it would soon develop into the kind of socialism he desires—a socialism in which the government would do everything for everybody and everybody would belong to the government.

"One of Mr. Bellamy's ideas is that the government must own the land of the country. In fact that is one of the fundamental ideas on which his system of socialism is built. What do our Southern farmers, who think of sending representatives to co-operate with Mr. Bellamy, think of this idea? Are they prepared to turn over their landed possessions to the central power at Washington and live thereafter as tenants? It is probable that Mr. Bellamy will not propose anything of the kind at the convention, but we may be sure that he will endeavor to set the new party marching as straight toward socialism as possible. It is not at all improbable that he may gain even larger concessions to his plans than were voluntarily made at St. Louis. Who would have admitted in advance that the Southern delegates to the convention of February 22nd would have voted for the platform plank adopted by it declaring in favor of paying out hundreds of millions of dollars to ex-Federal soldiers to make good their loss through the depreciation of greenbacks during the war? Yet they did, apparently, as the platform was adopted, it is said, with practical unanimity. The desire to please everybody will greatly help Mr. Bellamy in carrying out his scheme in Omaha."

A Bold Scheme to Reconstruct the South.

The legitimate and logical sequence of the third party movement is to reconstruct the southern states upon a line that means democratic annihilation. It means the complete overthrow of democratic tradition and gives domination to a hybrid political element which means political anarchy. It becomes a serious and alarming question when applied to the conditions that must inevitably follow its agitation in the southern states. The masses, who are now wantonly misled by demagogues, must be made to see the peril that threatens their peace and welfare. The southern states have prospered and developed into a rich and powerful political and industrial empire under the democratic rule. Only recently as it were, has the south been rescued from political slavery and industrial bankruptcy. Nothing can be more disastrous to its progress and the peace of the people than the third party agitation, which has been defiantly precipitated by the leader, whose semi-official utterances are elsewhere printed in the National Democrat. The remedy lies in immediate and courageous action. When thoroughly organized the democratic party is invincible. When it deals honestly and courageously with public questions it commands the approval of the people. When it cowardly submits to senseless popular clamor it goes to the wall. The situation in the southern states demands wise and prompt action, and our attention now is only to sound the warning.—National Democrat.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. jun11

From a Kolb Organ.

Not receiving the delegation from his home county, Capt. Kolb should retire from the race for Governor.—Gadsden Leader.

Guaranteed Cure for LaGrippe.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell you Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds upon this condition. If you are afflicted with La Grippe and will use this remedy according to directions, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We make this offer, because of the wonderful success of Dr. King's New Discovery during last season's epidemic. Have heard of no case in which it failed. Try it. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Columbia, Ala., has nearly completed her cotton factory. Every town in Alabama ought to be in the same fix.

Good Looks.

are more than skin deep, depending upon all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a billious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at 50c per bottle.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CHAS. L. RUTH,

—DEALER IN—

Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clock

Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,

Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TR WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Watch other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schneid Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.

A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with great from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.

The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and Amer CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination Sp cles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-bead Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest p possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repa All work guaranteed

C. L. RUTH,

(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenu

—MONTGOMERY, ALA.—

ALABAMA MADE

ENGINES & SAW MILL

Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mill

and all kinds of Machinery an

Mill Supplies. Write for circular

MONTGOMERY IRON WORK

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & C

DRY GOODS

—AND—

CARPETS

NEWEST THINGS IN

DRESS GOODS

ALWAYS IN STOCK.

BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIAL

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Shee Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in

Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves

LARGEST

CARPET DEPARTMENT

In the City. All Grades of

CARPETS.

Mattings, Office Mattings,

Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shad

JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,

9 DEXTER AVE.,

MONTGOMERY A

JOEL WHITE,

BOOKS AND STATIONERY,

DEXTER AVENUE,

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH

The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,

Montgomery, Alabama.

Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.

Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.

W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT

FOR MAN OR BEAST

SAFE SURE SPEEDY

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 1018 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 21, 1892.

SCHEDULE S. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	5:50 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. G. L. McCrary visited her son in Jemison last Friday.

Mrs. W. A. Collier is visiting her father at Pine Level, Ala.

Miss Mattie Wright spent several days in Birmingham this week.

Mrs. O. A. Duke has returned home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Selma.

Rev. J. F. Smith, the Episcopal minister, will preach here next Tuesday night.

Mrs. Zella Givhan and children have returned home from a pleasant stay in Montgomery.

Capt. and Mrs. DeJarnette, of Montgomery, have been visiting relatives near this place.

Hon. John Purifoy, candidate for State Auditor attended our county convention Saturday.

Dr. Stewart and Dr. Matthews, of Clanton, attended the Medical Association in Montgomery last week.

Those who attended the Baptist church last Sunday night were highly entertained by the Sunbeams.

Mr. W. F. Middleton, of Texas, and Mr. Gussie Middleton, of Haynesville, Ala., have been visiting their parents here the past week.

Rev. W. J. Elliot, of Montgomery, who has recently been called as pastor of the Baptist Church at this place, preached to a crowded house Sunday morning. He was accompained by his wife.

The Baptist Sunbeam Society requests us to return thanks through the VIEW, to Mesdames Sampey and Matthews for their aid in rendering the celebration of the Society successful.

Maj. L. C. Ramsey, of Montgomery, Hon. Cecil Browne, of Talladega, and Hon. Brad. Browne, of Shelby, were in attendance upon our county convention Saturday, as was also Hon. John F. Burns, of Dallas.

Mr. G. W. Deramus, of Jemison, will remove next week to Tuscumbia, Ala., Rev. A. E. Burns, his son-in-law is now pleasantly located at Tuscumbia, having charge of the Sheffield and Tuscumbia Baptist Churches.

Hon. N. D. Denson, of Chambers county, was in attendance upon our county convention. He is a candidate for the high and responsible office of Judge of this Judicial circuit. The VIEW found him a pleasant and intelligent gentleman.

Capt. A. T. Goodwyn, of Elmore, was the second choice of our county convention for State Senator. Capt. Goodwyn has always taken a strong position for the unity of the Democratic party and against the third party spirit, claiming that the needed reforms in legislation could be more speedily accomplished through the Democratic party. That the Democratic party in its origin and history was based on the principle of the sovereignty of the people. "Equal rights to all and special favors to none."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS.

At 2:30 Mr. J. H. Bostwick, chairman of the county executive committee, called the convention to order. Mr. G. A. Northington was selected chairman and Messrs. A. G. Dake and J. H. Pounds, Secretaries. The counting of the vote of the primary election having been made by the county executive committee, the following result was reported:

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

R. M. Honeycutt	1212
O. H. P. Wright	530

Honeycutt's majority, 682. 1742

CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. P. Vanderveer	1190
G. C. Hanks	284
W. H. Sartor	297

Vanderveer's majority, 509. 1797

SHERIFF.

P M Moore	1118
John Garner	560

Moore's majority, 628. 1678

TAX COLLECTOR.

B M Gentry	1325
D A White	483

Gentry's majority 842. 1202

TAX ASSESSOR.

E G Rollins	966
W A Smith	492

Rollin's majority, 474. 1458

TREASURER.

J M Parish	1377
Seaborn Jones	413

Parish's majority, 964. 1790

REPRESENTATIVE.

O M Mastin	1395
F B Baldwin	502

Mastin's majority, 893 1897

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.

J W Moore	1523

The following were declared the nominees:

Probate Judge—R M Honeycutt.
Circuit Clerk—J P Vanderveer.
Sheriff—P M Moore.
Tax Collector—B M Gentry.
Tax Assessor—E G Rollins.
Treasurer—J M Parish.
Representative—O M Mastin.
Superintendent—J W Moore.
Commissioners—Sam Pate, E. W. Bailey, Moses Robinson, Alex. Glasscock. The count did not take the full vote for commissioners, but only enough to find that the foregoing received a majority.

The following delegates were elected to the State convention, and instructed for R. F. Kolb for Governor, receiving 26 votes: J. H. Bostwick, Z. W. Langston, Lee Hayes, Joe White and W. A. Conway. The following delegates received the six votes of Dixie beat: W. W. Little, W. I. Mullins, B. T. Rasberry, T. U. Crumpton and H. J. Cullen. Delegates to the Congressional convention were voted on with the following result: W. H. Shaw, J. T. Cooley, Lee Hayes, J. M. Robinson, B. H. Wells, received 26 votes. H. W. Caffey, Joe Hill, R. Cox, Hamp Shoults, H. J. Cullen received 6 votes. The first delegation was declared elected and was instructed to vote for Jno. F. Burns.

The delegates to the State Convention were selected as delegates to the Judicial and Chancery conventions, with instructions for Chancellor McSpadden but without instructions for Circuit Judge.

On motion Judge J. R. Dowdell was endorsed for associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

The following delegates were selected to the Senatorial Convention: Ira Campbell, J. F. Wise, H. B. Rogers, Thos. Driver, and J. P. Vanderveer. They were instructed for L. H. Reynolds, with A. T. Goodwyn as second choice.

On motion, the delegates to the State Convention were instructed to vote for Major L. C. Ramsey for Secretary of State.

Moses Robinson was selected as executive committeeman for Senatorial district.

The following executive committee for the county was then selected:

Beat 1—J. W. Sorrell.
Beat 2—L. H. Reynolds.
Beat 3—Jasper Giles.
Beat 4—H. B. Rodgers.
Beat 5—J. H. Bostwick.
Beat 6—John Scott.
Beat 7—W. Y. Nix.
Beat 8—P. E. Harris.

CONVENTION NOTES.

The VIEW having no representative in the convention the foregoing has been transcribed from notes of the proceedings as furnished us by the Secretaries, and is official.

Mr. Bostwick stated that he would not consent to the instructions to vote for Kolb for Governor, but no action was taken on his notice and he remains a delegate.

It is worthy of note that every man on the ticket is an anti-whiskey man. The temperance people of the county can be congratulated upon this fact.

Rev. R. M. Honeycutt, the nominee for Probate Judge, is a leader of public sentiment in the county on almost any question; and when he aided in open, bold and aggressive work for prohibition in the county, victory over the whiskey men was easy. As President of the county Alliance, he seems to have instilled the organization with the same sentiment.

It is thought by a good many that when Mr. Burns swallowed the Alliance demands in full his chances for going to congress in the fourth district vanished.

Hon. G. A. Robbins attended the convention and addressed the body, openly declaring his opposition to the Ocala demands of the Alliance.

The convention endorsed an able man for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

The "straightouts" seem to have made a mistake in the supposition that there was a split in the Alliance in this county. About the time the straightouts got into the crack the Alliance came together with a bang.

It is understood that the convention would have instructed for Hon. W. A. Collier for Circuit Judge had he been a candidate.

And the VIEW in the campaign entered upon will endeavor to treat all with charity "setting down naught in malice."

Honor Roll.

Court Avenue Institute for two weeks ending April 15th, 1892.

Miss Annie Lane.
Master R. Q. Lane.

Capt. A. T. Goodwyn, of Elmore, was in attendance upon our county convention. Though Capt. Goodwyn is an Allianceman, he is nevertheless a straight democrat of the "all wool and a yard wide" character.

Difficulty at Dixie.

The primary election passed off quietly with the exception of a difficulty which occurred at Dixie between Hon. Jno. F. Burns, candidate for congress, and Mr. W. M. Stewart. It is reported the cause of the difficulty was that Mr. Burns challenged Mr. Stewart's right to vote, which led to hard words and blows, ending in Mr. Stewart being stabbed by Mr. Burns. Mr. Burns was arrested and placed under bond to appear at the next term of our circuit court.

Several small squibs having been received at this office on the subject of the candidacy of Wiley Vines for sheriff we will say that he had his announcement written out by a friend and sent to us with a request to publish it which was done in no spirit of ridicule, but to please and humor the unfortunate man. Anything else upon this subject will be rejected more especially because the man's very unfortunate mental condition is usually treated with too much levity. While the VIEW is very much disposed to get all the fun possible out of this remarkable campaign, yet it thinks that there are political idiots enough in the country to enable us to eliminate other idiots entirely from the canvass.

Jury List.

For the Spring Term of the Circuit Court which begins the second Monday in May.

GRAND JURY.

George Reed, A T Hathcock, P S Prim, F A Gulledge, H H Lassiter, L B Broadhead, H C Young, A C Pool, Thomas Domany, J R Swinford, E H Wingate, Sr., Newton Eddings, J L Williams, P C Dennis, S K Rasberry, W L Sampey, J R Hill, John Parnell, Jr., J J Hicks.

PETIT JURY—FIRST WEEK.

William Bearden, J H Aldridge, J W Maddox, Robt Martin, C T Zimmerman, G W Littleton, Jr., Claud Mooney, R. P. Kendrick, J W Letcher, J J Smitherman, Y O Freeman, A H Courtney, G A DuBose, John Shaw, W H Cox, L L Killingsworth, W M Gray, F M Headley, Thos J Bland, Ed Smitherman, M A Watts, William Parnell, J N. Barnes, G. W. Mims, G S Speer, T H Williams, Z J Jones, James Edwards, Croff Harris, T N Lawrence, A J Rollinson, E. T. Connell.

PETIT JURY—SECOND WEEK.

John Reynolds, J B Killingsworth, J M Hayes, W E D Edwards, W P Headley, S A Blount, W A Curlee, W J Fleming, J D Holcomback, John Reynolds, A J Wilson, J W Sorrell, P E Harris, Joseph Broadhead, Amsy Thompson, S B McCary, J C Williams, W F Roebuck, John Splawn, John Edwards, Louis Gentry, J L Rasberry, Samuel Pate, Ira Headley, R. J Walker, Allison Sipe, Thomas Mims, H C Cole, J M Adams, C J Stewart, J St. Watson, Henry Benson.

Flashes of Sunshine.

The fountain of the only beauty that lasts is the heart.—Emerson.

To be content with what we possess is the greatest and most secure of riches.-Cicero.

Loving kindness is greater than laws; and the charities of life are more than all ceremonies.-Talmud.

The cheerful live longest in years, and afterward in our regards. Cheerfulness is the off shoot of goodness.-Bovee.

The perfect woman is as beautiful as she is strong, as tender as she is sensible. She is calm, deliberate, dignified, leisurely; she is gay, graceful, sprightly, sympathetic; she is severe upon occasion, and upon occasion playful; she has fancies, dreams, romances, ideals.-Gail Hamilton.

LUMBER COMBINE.

Fifty Cents Per Thousand—Many Mills Idle.

St. Louis, Mo., April 14.—The directors of the Southern Lumber Manufacturers' Association have raised the price of yellow pine lumber 50 cents per thousand. This change is to take effect on the 1st day of May. The directors assert that the association is not trying to control the output of yellow pine lumber, but is simply seeking to maintain prices at paying figures. The directors decided to meet in Memphis May 4, and to further consider the condition of trade.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes causes of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Final Settlement.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Estate of D. A. Wells, Deceased.

This day came E. A. Gullidge, Administrator of said Estate, and filed his statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a final settlement of his administration. It is ordered that the 16th day of May, 1892, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper. H. J. CALLEN, Judge of Probate.
apr21

Register's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a decree of sale rendered at the March Term, 1892, of the Chancery Court for Chilton county, Alabama, in the case of A. M. Whitworth vs. Joseph B. Webb, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, at the courthouse door in the town of Clanton, Ala., on Monday, the 2d day of May, 1892, between the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate situated in Chilton county, Alabama, to-wit: N e ¼ of sw ¼ and nw ¼ of s[illegible] sec 10, township 21 north, range 15 east, containing 80 acres more or less.

W. E. STEWART, Register.

Mortgage Sale.

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, executed by O. A. Duke and wife, Julieta T. Duke, to J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings, and by said J. M. Bivings and A. E. Bivings duly transferred and assigned to the Alabama National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, and by said Alabama National Bank duly transferred and assigned to Albert Adler, J R P Durham, S M Adler and J E Morriss, composing the firm of Adler, Durham & Co., the undersigned will proceed to sell at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, between the legal hours of sale, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on TUESDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1892.

the following described property to-wit: N half and sw quarter of ne quarter sw quarter of the ne quarter, and s e quarter of s e quarter section 1. All, except n half of sw quarter of sec 9 All of sections 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 27 and 35. All, except s e quarter of s e quarter section 19, sw quarter of n w quarter and nw quarter of ne quarter, and s half of n e quarter and n half of se quarter section 24, e half of section 25, e half of sw quarter and se quarter of nw quarter section 25, all, except sw quarter of nw quarter and se quarter of sw quarter, of section 29, all, except e half of se quarter and se ¼ of ne ¼ of section 31, ne ¼ of se ¼, section 32, all, except ne ¼ of ne ¼ of section 33, all in township 21, range 14, and lying and being in Chilton county, Alabama, and also w half of sw ¼ section 19, township 21, range 15, in Chilton county, Alabama.

ADLER, DURHAM & CO.,
By Wm. A. Collier, Their Attorney.
Clanton, Ala., March 28th, 1892.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 10, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on May 21st, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2084, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 12 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 25000 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10 township 22 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Burnett, Tandy Robinson, and W[illegible] Maddox, all of Strasburg, Ala.

mar24-o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

"You Must Eat To Live."

And I Am Headquarters for

THE BEST GROCERIES

In this Part of the Country.

BESIDES GROCERIES I HANDLE PURE AND FRESH

FRUITS and CANDIES

I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds,

Wall Paper, Artists' Materials

And Builders' Hardware.

18 COMMERCE STREET,

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

THE ALABAMA (PREMIUM NO. 14) FREE.

This handsome Carriage is only one of the many Vehicles which THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY is offering its customers for 1892.

Special Premiums for Men, Women, Boys and Girls.

THE ALABAMA FERTILIZER produced the Champion Crops reported in the State last year. Write for Circulars and Prices.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER COMPANY,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA

In answering this advertisement, please mention this paper.

The Alabama Printing Company

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the Seventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law.
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
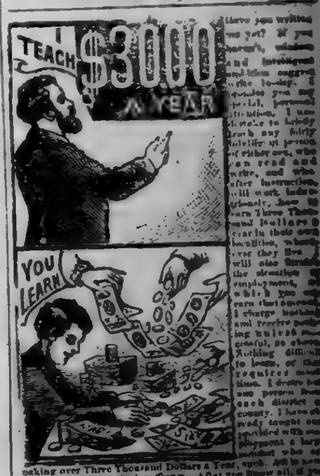
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama.
[3-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue

H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited.
[feb25-9z]

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.



seeking over Three Thousand Dollars a Year, each. Add to your skill, save. Full particulars free. After you know all, if you wish, we invite you no further, why, no harm is done. Address, J. C. ALLEN, Box 486, Augusta, Maine.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "cheapest, best and highest honored College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President. It is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, 8% from Alabama attending last year. 14 efficient and high salaried teachers are employed. It is endorsed by award of Highest Honor at World's Exposition, by 10,000 graduates, including scores from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book-Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Type-writing, Telegraphy, &c taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business Scholarship in this famous College, which will be disposed of, on reasonable terms, to deserving young lady or gentleman.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 1018 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in your way of clothing and gents furnishing goods.

Now is the time to subscribe for your county paper.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The Items of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

King O'Keefe has written friends in Savannah that he will give up his business on the Island of Yap, in the Pacific ocean, over which he reigns, and return to Savannah this fall to enjoy his fortune with his family.

The date of the convention of the naval stores operators of the south which was to have been held in Savannah May 3rd, has been changed to May 10th, so that those in attendance may enjoy the merchants' week festivities.

The flour mill of J. G. Patton & Co., at Cattlesburg, Ky., was destroyed by fire Sunday. Charles McCoy, a miller, was burned to death. The fire started, it is supposed, of incendiary origin. Loss on the mill $50,000; uninsured.

The New Orleans rice merchants have organized a stock company with $500,000 capital to fight the rice trust. A new rice mill will be erected in that city, as all the present mills are in the trust. It is thought the rice farmers will join issues with the new company to fight the trust.

A meeting of the passenger rate clerks of the different lines in the Southern Passenger association was held in Atlanta Monday. The meeting was for the purpose of arranging rates from Rome, Ga., and other points to Memphis. Rates to Texas points from Atlanta will be increased slightly.

A dispatch of Sunday from Macon, Ga., says: The late committee, before whom the melon and fruit growers were to appear in Atlanta on the 12th of April, will meet in New York instead of Atlanta. The growers' committee will not go to New York, but their petition will be acted on at that time.

The Central officials at Macon, Ga., received notice Monday morning that the pay rolls and money was ready and they were instructed to begin paying off at once all employes of the Central and Southwestern who have their headquarters in Macon. The amount to be paid out is over fifty thousand dollars.

Deep interest is felt at Savannah in the rumors concerning the sale of the Terminal's Central stock to Speyer & Co. As Speyer & Co., urged Mr. Comer for the presidency, the purchase of the majority of the stock by that firm would be more acceptable to the minority than the way it is now held.

The Georgia, Carolina and Northern will run its first passenger train into Atlanta next Sunday unless something unexpected occurs. This train will leave Elberton at 5 o'clock in the morning and reach Atlanta at 9 o'clock. Returning it will leave Atlanta at 3 o'clock p. m. and arrive at Elberton at 7 o'clock p. m. This is Atlanta time. The road, however, will use eastern time, which is an hour later than Atlanta's Standard.

Tuesday's dispatches from Columbus, Miss., report that the Tombigbee river is higher than ever known. Many people have been drowned; cattle in bottoms have been swept away by hundreds, and houses are floating down like driftwood. Railroads are washed all around, and wires have been swept down. More than a hundred people have drowned in the flood. Large farms have been swept bare. Hundreds of homeless negroes are in the care of the city.

A decision was filed by the United States court in Charleston, S. C., Saturday in the railroad tax suits. The decree is as follows: "It is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the demurrer (of the state) be overruled, and that defendants have leave if they be so advised, to answer over; that a temporary injunction issue in the terms prayed for in the bill until further order of this court." Signed by judges Bond and Simonton. It is understood that the state will next put in an answer to the complaint, which will necessitate a reargument of the question on its merit.

Dispatches of Monday from Birmingham, Ala., are to the effect that still more damage is being done by floods. There have been no trains to Memphis over the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham road for a week. In one place the road washed out for half a mile and trains cannot be run for many days yet. In Marion county large iron bridges across creeks and rivers have been swept away. Near Pearson's mill, John Livington and two children, while crossing the creek in a wagon, were swept away and drowned. Eight miles south of Carbon Hill two women were drowned.

A Raleigh, N. C., dispatch says: The Patapsco Guano Co., raises in the United States circuit court the question of the validity of the present tonnage tax on fertilizers. Two years ago the license tax of $500 annually was declared by the federal court unconstitutional. The legislature then levied a tax of 25 cents a ton, and this the company claims is quite as unconstitutional as the former direct tax. The company also contends that more money is raised from this tax than is required for the analysis of fertilizers, and that much of it is disbursed for different objects. The case is set for hearing before Judge Bond at Greensboro May 7th.

A Montgomery, Ala., dispatch of Tuesday says: Colonel Hawkins, president of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery, has expressed his great satisfaction of at last having conquered obstacles as to the right of way, etc., and that his passenger trains will, from next week on, run a regular daily schedule between Americus and Montgomery. As to the building of their extension from Lyons to Savannah, Colonel Hawkins expects that, perhaps, other arrangements now pending may, for the present, render that project unnecessary, negotiations to that effect being now on foot with another road running in the same direction.

A very important case was decided in the Atlanta courts Monday morning. The jury in the case of the Atlanta Glass Company vs. the Niagara Fire Insurance Company, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $2,963 39 and attorney's fees. The Glass Company took out a policy in the Niagara on June 6, 1887, and on June 21, 1887, the glass works were destroyed by fire. The insurance company claimed that it had notified its agent that the policy was canceled. The point was made by the defense that a clause in its policy stated that a notice to its agent canceled the policy. The Glass Company had never been notified. The decision decided a very important point.

The report of the State Superintendent shows that the fire and marine insurance companies in New York did business last year at a loss of $2,320,000.

A SARATOGA CO. MIRACLE.

HELPLESS FOR YEARS AND REGARDED FROM HOSPITALS AS INCURABLE.

THE REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF CHAS. QUANT AS INVESTIGATED BY AN ALBANY (N. Y.) JOURNAL REPORTER—A STORY OF SORE-PARALYZING INTEREST.

Albany, N. Y. Journal, March 11th.

SARATOGA, March 11th.—For some time past there have been reports here and elsewhere in Saratoga County of a most remarkable—indeed, so remarka le as to be miraculous—cure of a most severe case of locomotor ataxia, or creeping paralysis, simply by the use of a popular remedy known as "Pink Pills for Pale People," prepared and put up by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Morristown, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont. The story was to the effect that Mr. Chas. A. Quant, of Galway, who for the last six or eight years has been a great sufferer from creeping paralysis and its attendant ills, and who had become utterly powerless of all self-help, had, by the use of a few boxes of the Pink Pills for Pale People, been so fully restored to health as to be able to walk about the street without the aid of crutches. The fame of this wonderful, miraculous cure was so great that the Evening Journal reporter thought it worth his while to go to Galway to call on Mr. Quant, to learn from his lips, and from the observation and testimony of his neighbors, if his alleged cure was a fact or only an unfounded rumor. And so he drove to Galway and spent a day and a night there in visiting Mr. Quant, getting his story and interviewing his neighbors and fellow-townsmen. It may be proper to say that Galway is a pretty little village of about 400 people, delightfully located near the centre of the town of Galway, in Saratoga County, and about 12 miles from Saratoga Springs. Upon inquiry the residence of Mr. Charles A. Quant was easily found, for everybody seemed to know him, speak well of him, and to be overflowing with surprise and satisfaction at his wonderful cure and restoration to the activities of enterprising citizenship, for Mr. Quant was born in Galway and had spent most of his life there. Mr. Quant was found at his pretty home, on a pleasant street nearly opposite the academy. In response to a knock at the door it was opened by a man who, in reply to an inquiry if Mr. Quant lived there and was at home, said: "I am Mr. Quant, Will you come in?" After a little general and preliminary conversation, and after he had been apprised of the object for which the Journal reporter had called upon him, he, at request, told the story of himself and of his sickness and terrible sufferings, and of the ineffectual treatment he had had, and of his final cure by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People, and cheerfully gave assent to its use for publication. He said: "My name is Charles A. Quant. I am 37 years old. I was born in the village of Galway, and, excepting while traveling on business and a little while in Amsterdam, have spent my whole life here. My wife is a native of Ontario. Up to about eight years ago I had never been sick and was then in perfect health. I was fully six feet tall, weighed 160 pounds and was very strong. For twelve years I was a traveling salesman for a piano and organ company and had to do, or at least did do, a great deal of heavy lifting, got my meals very irregularly and slept in enough 'spare beds' in country houses to freeze any ordinary man to death, or at least give him the rheumatism. About eight years ago I began to feel distressed in my stomach and consulted several doctors about it. They all said it was dyspepsia, and for dyspepsia I was treated by various doctors in different places, and took all the patent medicines I could hear of that claimed to be a cure for dyspepsia. But I continued to grow gradually worse for four years. Then I began to have pain in my back and legs and became conscious that my legs were getting weak and my step unsteady, and then I staggered when I walked. Having received no benefit from the use of patent medicines, and feeling that I was constantly growing worse, I then, upon advice, began the use of electric belts, pads and all the many different kinds of electric appliances I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars for them, but they did me no good. (Here Mr. Quant showed the Journal reporter an electric suit of underwear for which he paid $124.) In the fall of 1888 the doctors advised a change of climate, so I went to Atlanta, Ga., and acted as agent for the Estey Organ Company. While there I took a thorough electric treatment, but it only seemed to aggravate my disease, and the only relief I could get from the sharp and distressing pains was to take morephine. The pain was so intense at times that it seemed as though I could not stand it, and I almost longed for death as the only certain relief. In September of 1888 my legs gave out entirely and my left eye was drawn to one side, so that I had double sight and was dizzy. My trouble so affected my whole nervous system that I had to give up business. Then I returned to New York and went to the Roosevelt hospital, where for four months I was treated by specialists and they pronounced my case locomotor ataxia and incurable. After I had been under treatment by Prof. Starr and Dr. Ware for four months, they told me they had done all they could for me. Then I went to the New York hospital on Fifteenth street, where, upon examination, they said I was incurable and would not take me in. At the Presbyterian hospital they examined me and told me the same thing. In March, 1890, I was taken to St. Peter's hospital in Albany, where Prof. H. H. Hun frankly told my wife my case was hopeless; that he could do nothing for me and that she had better take me back home and save my money. But I wanted to make a trial of Prof. Hun's famous skill and I remained under his treatment for nine weeks, but secured no benefit. All this time I had been growing worse. I had become entirely paralyzed from my waist down and had partly lost control of my hands. The pain was terrible; my legs felt as though they were freezing and my stomach would not retain food, and I fell away to 120 pounds. In the Albany hospital they put 17 big burns on my back one day with red hot irons, and after a few days they put 14 more burns on and treated me with electricity, but I got worse rather than better; lost control of my bowels and water, and upon advice of the doctor, who said there was no hope for me, I was brought home, where it was thought that death would soon come to relieve me of my sufferings. Last September, while in this helpless and suffering condition, a friend of mine in Hamilton, Ont., called my attention to the statement of one John Marshall, whose case had been similar to my own, and who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People.

"In this case Mr. Marshall, who is a prominent member of the Royal Templars of Temperance, had after four years of constant treatment by the most eminent Canadian physicians been pronounced incurable, and was paid the $1000 total disability claim allowed by the order in such cases. Some months after Mr. Marshall began a course of treatment with Dr. Williams's Pink Pills, and after taking some 15 boxes was fully restored to health.

"I thought I would try them, and my wife sent for two boxes of the pills and I took them according to the directions given on the wrapper on each box. For the first few days the cold baths were pretty severe, as I was so very weak, but I continued to follow instructions as to taking the pills and treatment, and even before I had used up the two boxes of pills I began to feel beneficial effects from them. My pains were not so bad; I felt warmer; my head felt better; my food began to relish and agree with me; I could straighten up; the feeling began to come back into my limbs; I began to be able to get about on crutches; my eye came back again as good as ever, and now, after the use of eight boxes of the pills—at a cost of only $4.00—see!—I can, with the help of a cane only, walk all about the house and yard, can saw wood, and on pleasant days I walk down town. My stomach trouble is gone; I have gained 10 pounds; I feel like a new man, and when the spring opens I expect to be able to renew my organ and piano agency. I cannot speak in too high terms of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People, as I know they saved my life after all the doctors had given me up as incurable."

Other citizens of Galway, seeing the wonderful cure of Mr. Quant by the Pink Pills for Pale People, are using them. Frederick Ierton, a sufferer from rheumatism, said he was finding great benefit from their use, and Mr. Schultz, who had suffered from chronic dysentery for years, said he had taken two boxes of the pills and was already cured.

Mr. Quant had also tried Faith cure, with experts of that treatment in Albany and Greenville, S. C., but with no beneficial results.

A number of the more prominent citizens of Galway, as Rev. C. E. Herbert, of the Presbyterian church; Prof. James B. Kelly, principal of the academy; John P. and Harvey Crouch, and Frank and Edward Willard, merchants, and many others to whom Mr. Quant and his so miraculous cure by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People are well known, were pleased to have the opportunity of bearing testimony to the high character of Mr. Quant, and of verifying the story of his recovery from the terrible affliction from which he had for so long a time been a sufferer.

Truly, the duty of the physician is not to save life, but to heal disease.

The remarkable result from the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills in the case of Mr. Quant, induced the reporter to make further inquiries concerning them, and he ascertained that they are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is generally used, but a highly scientific preparation, the result of years of study and careful experiment. They have no rival as a blood builder and nerve restorer and have met with unparalleled success in the treatment of such diseases as paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus's dance, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling which affects so many, and all diseases depending upon a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves.

Dr. Williams's Pink Pills are also a specific for trouble peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In the case of men they affect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

On further inquiry the writer found that these pills are manufactured by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Morristown, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in bulk by the hundred), at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies, or medical treatment.

Pile Driving in New Guinea.

In "Two Years Among the Savages of New Guinea," W. D. Pitcairn describes how the natives of that country drive piles:

The people have a curious way of driving piles. We gave them a rope, which they fixed round the head of the pile, leaving the two ends dangling. Several natives got hold of each end and pulled alternately, until the pile was worked down to the required depth.

The piles are made of white mangrove, and in order to prevent the ravages of the cobra insect, it is best to tar the piles well, or better still—though very expensive—to copper them all over.

The flooring of a house is of cane, the walls are made of the bark or skin of the palm, and the roof of the leaves of the sago palm, which have to be put on separately, the leaves overlapping a little, and on the outside are placed some branches of the cocoanut palm.

The Law's Delay.

Lawyer—Hurrah, let me congratulate you. You are the luckiest of mortals. Thanks to my skill, I have obtained a judgment in your favor in the supreme court.

Client—After nine long years.

"But, my dear fellow, better late than never."

"How much do I get?" asked the client anxiously.

"The court decrees that you shall receive $3,000. The costs and my fee will only amount to $3,000, so all you will have to pay me is $1,000."

"Merciful heavens! and I must lose my money besides?"

"Of course you lose your money, but console yourself. You have gained your case. You can't expect to gain everything.—Texas Siftings.

He Never Takes the Papers.

He never takes the papers, for "they're dull as all creation,"
And, besides, he's "up" with everything that goes.
That's the way the train has left him when he gallops to the station,
And his friends are dead a year before he knows!
He never takes the papers, for he isn't a believer
In the news and the sensations of the day;
That's why they've put his business in the hands of a receiver,
And his creditors are hauling him away.
—F. L. Stanton.

How Often the Watch Ticks.

Many watches make five beats per second, 300 each minute, 18,000 every hour, or 432,000 per day. Thus it will be seen that a half dozen turns of the key once a day, taking up but a few seconds of time, stores up a modicum of power in the spring which is cut up into nearly a million of beats. If we multiply the daily beats by 365¼, the number of days in a year, we find that the watch ticks 157,788,000 times while the earth is making one annual trip around the sun.—St. Louis Republic.

An Unfortunate Accident.

A loaded gun was lying in a wagon which jolted along over a road in New Mexico the other day. The wagon jolted too hard and the gun went off. Mr. B. R. Young, with his family, was following in another wagon. The bullet went through Mr. Young's shoulder, then through his son's hip, then a baby's body and then lodged in Mrs. Roberts. The baby is dead and the rest severely hurt, and nobody to blame for a pure accident.

Woman's Mistake.

It may be that the tale of Darby and Joan was a mistake, for the Columbian Association of Housekeepers, of New York, a society composed of women, has decided that men are better house keepers, better cooks and better dressmakers than the members of the opposite sex are. As this is the verdict of the women themselves, it should settle the matter, though there is no doubt that many an appeal will be taken from the decision.

The Mother's Fault.

Small Boy (complainingly)—"Why isn't thur any griddle cakes this morning?"

Mother (reprovingly)—"Because you neglected to go to the store yesterday and get me some eggs, as I told you."

Small Boy (with an injured air)—"You didn't tell me they was for griddle cakes."—Street & Smith's Good News.

Proposed Spelling Reform.

A member of congress wants an appropriation of $50,000 to inaugurate the spelling reform. According to his idea, if the reform should ever come, this will be a fair specimen of the new method: "The old sittems." A sin ov the dan (a sign of the dawn). Publik opinyun. Farwel old spelin book. Gali the trubadar tucht his gita. Farit langwejez (foreign languages)."

It is said that the biggest organ in the world, at Sydney, has such great vibratory power that it cannot be used to its utterment for fear of injuring the building.

Following Instructions.

Cheatire owns the stupidest man in the kingdom. He is a farm hand, and was engaged to plow a ten acre field. Wishing him to make a straight furrow, his employer directed his attention to a cow grazing right opposite, telling him to drive directly toward that cow. He started his horses, and his employer's attention was drawn to something else, but in a short time, on looking around, he found that the cow had left her place, while the sagacious plowman was following her, drawing a zigzag furrow all over the field.—London Tit-Bits.

The Skill and Knowledge

Essential to the production of the most perfect and popular laxative remedy known have enabled the California Fig Syrup Co. to achieve a great success in the reputation of its remedy, Syrup of Figs, as it is conceded to be the universal laxative. For sale by all druggists.

To tell a falsehood is like the cut of a sabre: though the wound may heal, the scar ever remains.

LADIES needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints, makes the Blood rich and pure.

Like clocks, one wheel another must drive: Affairs of diligent labor only thrive.

Elsewhere in this issue are published the particulars of a remarkable cure that fairly outrivals the celebrated case of John Marshall, of Hamilton, which created such a sensation throughout the country. The particulars of this case are vouched for by the Albany Evening Journal, recognized as the leading newspaper at the New York State Capital, and one of the leading papers of the United States. There is, therefore, no room to doubt that the particulars of the case are accurately and carefully set forth, in every respect true, and must therefore prove of deepest interest to our readers; the article is commended to their careful perusal.

Catarrh Can't be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, price 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS or SAMPLES FREE.

For strengthening and clearing the voice use "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES."—"I have commended them to friends who were public speakers, and they have proved extremely serviceable."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

Mr. C. D. Payn, publisher of the Union Signal, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I never saw anything that would cure headache like your Bradycrotine." All druggists, fifty cents.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Women are never in extremes; they are either better or worse than men.

MANY persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. A splendid tonic for women and children.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.

BEECHAM'S PILLS are not a new remedy. They have been used in Europe for 50 years, all well tested and excellent.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c per bottle.

Miss Mattie A. Cobb
of Providence, R. I.
For the terrible weakness and prostration

After the Grip, Diphtheria

Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Pneumonia, Malaria Fever, etc., Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used with wonderful success as a building-up medicine and blood purifier. For example, read the following from Miss Mattie A. Cobb of Providence, R. I., and her mother. Miss Cobb is a young lady of 18, a Picture of Health and a promising pupil in the High School. Her father is a well-known police officer:

"Messrs C. I. Hood & Co.:

"I write to tell how much good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I had diphtheria and was sick for a year afterward, being

Weak, Blind and Helpless

I used one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me well and strong." MATTIE A. COBB, South Chester Avenue, Providence, R. I.

"As my daughter wanted to write how well she liked Hood's Sarsaparilla, I thought I would say a few words. I think it is the Greatest Blood Purifier

before the people. Some of my friends say 'go away with your medicine.' I said the same once, but since my daughter has taken

Hood's Sarsaparilla

My opinion has changed considerably." MRS. GEO. M. COBB, Providence, R. I.

Hood's Pills do not weaken the system like other cathartics, but actually tone up and give strength.

Kennedy's Medical Discovery

Takes hold in this order:

Bowels,
Liver,
Kidneys,
Inside Skin,
Outside Skin,

Driving everything before it that ought to be out.

You know whether you need it or not.

Sold by every druggist, and manufactured by

DONALD KENNEDY,
ROXBURY, MASS.

Tutt's Tiny Pills

stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as a mild, safe, sure laxative. Does not gripe. Price, 25 cts. 39 & 41 Park Place, N. Y.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Dunn & Co.'s Trade Review for the Past Week.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade for the week ended April 5th says: Business failures occurring throughout the country during the last week number for the United States 177; Canada, 31; total, 208, against 218 week before. Another week brings additional proof of actual improvement in business at many points, while slackness at a few is explained by causes obviously local and temporary. Thus at some points bad weather and impassable roads still retard, while at others where that condition has passed a vigorous revival is seen. The extreme low prices for cotton still depress at the south and the production of iron in excess of demand has caused the failure of one company and the closing of several furnaces. Spring brings the usual revival for building, and demand for material at some points is larger than usual and at only one as yet is it reported as checked by an expected strike. Money markets continue abundantly supplied and easy, with no trace of the pressure often seen about April 1st and while at most points the demand is only moderate, at some importance of an increased demand is reported.

TWO THEORIES ADVANCED.

Two theories exist regarding the state of business which find frequent expressions. That trade has disappointed expectations to some extent is obvious, and there are some who claim that a reaction has begun of unknown duration, which appeared in Europe last year, and was only in part deferred here because of extraordinary crops. These have to support them unusually low prices, and in some departments shrinkage in sales. But others argue that the disappointment is due to excessive expectations, and especially to a failure to take into account the great volume of indebtedness left from real estate speculation at the west and south and influence here of bad crops and financial depression abroad. These have to support them much evidence that the actual business transacted, all branches considered, is greater than ever before at this season in spite of all obstacles and complaints.

Sales of wool at all the principle markets for the year thus far exceed last year's, indicating larger manufacture. Shipments of boots and shoes now exceed last year's. Coal is dull but firm. A better tone with larger sales is seen in iron, for the output has been reduced 7,500 tons weekly, and an improved demand is seen for plate, structural and sheet iron. Speculation has been stronger, wheat advancing 3½ cents, corn 3 cents and cotton 1-16 with smaller receipts. Oil is 1 cent higher, but coffee ½ lower. Money has been very easy and foreign exchange a fraction lower, though exports fall a little behind last year's for the week. Treasury shipments exceed receipts for the month thus far over a million dollars.

WORK OF THE FLAMES.

Jersey City's Courthouse Burned—Disastrous Blazes at Other Points.

A fire occurred Wednesday morning in the city hall at Jersey City, N. J., while the great crowd still waited about the building to hear the result of the charter election. Great excitement prevailed among the large number of persons who witnessed the fire, and many of them on account of their defeat by the republicans, expressed the opinion that the fire had its origin in some dire political plot. The fire was of a mysterious character, as there was nothing inflamable or likely to cause flame in the office where it originated.

The press, stereotyping and composing rooms of the Evening Star office, at Washington City, were burned Wednesday morning. Several large and expensive presses were ruined. The rear extension of the building—four stories—was completely gutted. No estimate of the losses has as yet been made but was well insured.

The great mercantile house of Henry Ellenson at Leavenworth, Kansas, was partly destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The building covered half a block and was three stories high, and filled to the roof with dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, the entire stock being valued at $150,000. The stock of dry goods was nearly all destroyed. The loss cannot be estimated as yet. About $80,000 insurance.

The Manitowoc Manufacturing company's plant at Manitowoc, Wis., was burned Tuesday; loss $200,000; insurance $8,000. Two hundred workmen are thrown out of work. The company made theater, school, and church furniture.

The smelter of the Butte and Boston company, at Battle City, Montana, was destroyed by fire Tuesday. The loss is estimated at $350,000; insurance $60,000. The fire was caused by the intense heat from the furnace. The eight O'Hara furnaces, six Brucknere and four reverbatory furnaces were totally destroyed and five hundred men were thrown out of employment.

DROWNED BY FLOODS.

Fearful Catastrophes Along the Banks of Tombigbee River.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch of Sunday says: Passengers from Columbus, Miss., bring horrifying descriptions of the suffering from the flood in that city. Up to Saturday afternoon the Tombigbee river was higher than ever known by two feet and a half, and hundreds of people had been driven into the town for food and shelter. One report says the number dead up to that time was fourteen.

A single wire is up and reports are coming in constantly from the wide territory of more deaths. Twenty have been heard from already and no communication has yet been had with a very wide stretch of country. The refugees are a charge upon the town and county, and already it has been decided to appeal to the general government for help. The number of these refugees now in town is put at 600 and the inhabitants up and down the river will be destitute. Wild rumors are heard that the loss of life would reach 200, but those evidently came from local and excited estimates. Many rescuing parties have been at work and several of those in turn have been rescued by other relief parties after suffering wreck.

In one case a lawyer, whose name is not known, with a negro man, rescued a colored family of nine persons. They had a pig and the old woman insisted on taking it into the boat. While on the water the pig fell out and the woman made a grab for it, upsetting the boat. The entire family were drowned and the two rescuers narrowly escaped with their lives.

All alone,

both in the way it acts, and in the way it's sold, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women.

It acts in this way:

If you're weak or "run-down," it builds you up; if you suffer from any of the painful disorders and derangements peculiar to your sex, it relieves and cures. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. For all functional weaknesses and irregularities, it's a positive remedy. Hence,

It's sold in this way:

It's guaranteed to give satisfaction, in every case, or the money paid for it is refunded.

They're the smallest, the cheapest, the easiest to take.

But all that would be nothing, if they weren't also the best to take.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets prevent and cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

"German Syrup"

I must say a word as to the efficacy of German Syrup. I have used it in my family for Bronchitis, the result of Colds, with most excellent success. I have taken it myself for Throat Troubles, and have derived good results therefrom. I therefore recommend it to my neighbors as an excellent remedy in such cases. James T. Durette, Earlysville, Va. Beware of dealers who offer you "something just as good." Always insist on having Boschee's German Syrup.

"MOTHERS' FRIEND"

To Young Mothers

Makes Child Birth Easy.
Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.

Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Dr. S. C. Parsons, Blood Purifier.

Cures Syphilis, Itch, Humors, Swellings, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Pimples, Scrofula, Malaria, Catarrh, Fevers, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Old Sores, Eruptions and all disorders resulting from impure blood.

Price $1.00.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

Dr. S. C. Parsons, "Family Physician" tells how to get well and keep well; 400 pages, profusely illustrated. ☞For pamphlets, question lists, or private information free of charge, address with stamp,
DR. S. C. PARSONS, Savannah, Ga.

$50.00 A WEEK

A bright, energetic man or woman wanted to take the sole agency for an article that is needed in every home and indispensable in every office. SELLS AT SIGHT in town or country. $700 in 90 days and a steady income afterward. A "Bonanza" for the right person. Good jobs are scarce and soon taken. Write for one.
J. W. JONES - Manager, Springfield, Ohio.

HOW TO BEHAVE IN COMPANY.

Clear and Concise Directions for Correct Manners on all occasions, Conversation, &c.

Many people have been misjudged for years simply because they had neglected to perform some little polite act at the proper time; many young men and women have lost the opportunities of a lifetime on account of their ignorance of some trifling customary rule of society. Our Hand-book of Etiquette tells all about it. 192 pages, heavy board sides, cloth backs, size 4½x7 in. Price FIFTY CTS., by mail on receipt of price. Eastern Publishing Co. 60, 67, 69 Rose St. N. Y.

PENSIONS—Due all SOLDIERS! 3 decided. $2 FEE for increase. 16 years experience. WRITE FOR LAWS. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, WASHINGTON, D. C. & CINCINNATI, O.

MINERAL RODS. Locating mines of Gold and Silver, buried treasure. PHILANDER BOOTH, Burlington, Conn.

AN ASTONISHING TONIC FOR WOMEN
MOFFETT'S

WINE OF CARDUI

It Strengthens the Weak, Quiets the Nerves, Relieves Monthly Suffering and Cures

FEMALE DISEASES

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST ABOUT IT
$1.00 PER BOTTLE.
CHATTANOOGA MED. CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

TRADE MARK

THE ONLY TRUE

Will purify BLOOD, regulate KIDNEYS, remove LIVER disorder, build strength, restore appetite, restore health and vigor of youth. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, that tired feeling absolutely eradicated. Mind brightened, brain power increased, bones, nerves, muscles, receive new force.

LADIES suffering from complaints peculiar to their sex, using it, find a safe, speedy cure. Returns rose bloom on cheeks, beautifies Complexion.

Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent." Send 2 cent stamp for 32-page pamphlet.
DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

W. BAKER & CO.'S

Breakfast Cocoa

from which the excess of oil has been removed.

It is absolutely pure and it is soluble.

No Chemicals are used in its preparation. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, EASILY DIGESTED, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Jackson's Wonder Bean.

THE GREATEST Vegetable Introduction For Many Years.

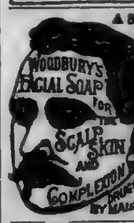
It is a Bunch Bean, Prolific, Sweet, Rich Flavor, good for the Table and fine for Forage. A combination Snap, Lima and Butter Bean.

25c. per Paper, by Mail. Special rates to Alliance Organizations. Send for Seed Catalogue.

MARK. W. JOHNSON SEED CO.
35 S. PRYOR St. ATLANTA, Ga.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn off. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.



A Sample Cake of Soap and 12 page Book on Dermatology and Beauty; illustrated on Skin, Scalp, Nervous and blood diseases sent sealed for 10c.; also Disfigurements, like Birth Marks, Moles, Warts, India Ink and Powder Marks, Scars, Pittings, Redness of Nose, Superfluous Hair, Pimples. John H. Woodbury, Dermatologist, 125 W. 42d St., New York City. Consultation free, at office or by letter.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has never injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c.
CONSUMPTION

DROPSY Treated FREE.

Positively Cured with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured thousands of cases. Cure patients pronounced hopeless by best physicians. From first dose symptoms rapidly disappear; in 10 days two-thirds of all symptoms are removed. Send for free book of testimonials and miraculous cures. 10 days' treatment free by mail. If you order trial, send for, in stamps to pay postage. DR. H. H. GREEN & SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

KING COTTON

Buy or sell your Cotton on JONES

$60 5-Ton Cotton Scale.
NOT CHEAPEST BUT BEST.
For terms address
JONES OF BINGHAMTON,
BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

A. N. U. ..... Fifteen '93.

DR. BIGGERS HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL

CURES ALL BOWEL AND STOMACH AND CHILDREN TROUBLES TEETHING

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS
ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE

THE COST IS THE SAME.

The Hartman Steel Picket Fence

Costs no more than an ordinary sharp wood picket while that surrounds the yard and will not at any part in a short time. The Hartman Picket is strong, simple, ornamental and durable. Handsome and effective. Illustrated and Price List Free. Agents Wanted. Address HARTMAN STEEL FENCE CO., BELLE BROOK, OHIO.

CHILTON COUNTY

is the geographical center of Alabama. The Louisville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. and the Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memphis Railroad pass through the County, and the Coosa river is the boundary line on the east. The manufactories are farming and saw mills. Population 15,000.

Clanton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. R. R., 33 miles south of Birmingham and 43 north of Montgomery. Several large saw mills are located in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1892. NUMBER 26.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.

Communications recommending candidates for office will be headed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.

Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.

The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

CAHEEN'S Tremendous Sacrifice OF NEW GOODS.

The great depression in Dry Goods in the Eastern markets, caused by the depression in trade, has forced importers and Manufacturers to throw whole stocks of new and desirable goods into the Auction Rooms in New York. Never has there been such Slaughter in Prices!

We will Sell goods Lower this month than other houses pay. 2100-2102 1st Av., Birmingham, Ala.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE JOB PRINTING With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man who will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much labor and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit everybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 peunders---of all shapes, ages and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the present year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montgomery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons sewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: {Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CONCAVE TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you, remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Minneapolis, Minn. Memphis, Tenn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

FRIDAY.—Whether in deference to the religious sentiment or in deference to the inclement weather, a number of members were absent Friday morning, and when the speaker called the house to order at noon the vacant seats far outnumbered those which were occupied. The speaker laid before the house a house bill to promote the safety of national banks with the senate amendment thereto, Mr. Bacon, of New York, in charge of the measure, not being present, a request was made that the bill be permitted to remain upon the speaker's table, but to this Mr. Bland objected, and upon his motion the bill was referred to the committee on banking and currency, which action, in the opinion of the advocates of the measure means its death. Private business was then proceeded with.

SATURDAY.—In the house, Saturday, only private business was transacted.

MONDAY.—Easter Monday opened dismally. Rain fell in torrents, and there was a mixture of chill and warmth about the atmosphere which was very disagreeable. The result was that the attendance of the members in the house was small when the hour of noon arrived. Mr. McRae, from the committee on public lands, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill to adjust the swamp land grants and to fix limitations for filing claims thereunder. The motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill was defeated. Yeas, 113; nays, 77, not two-thirds voting in the affirmative. The house then went into committee of the whole on the naval appropriation bill. Mr. Elliott, of South Carolina, favored the clause for the increse of the navy, in the precise language in which it was couched in the pending measure. He believed that the committee on naval affairs had followed the wisest and safest course. He was opposed to the motion of the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Holman) to strike out the provision for the construction of one cruiser, and also to the amendment of the gentleman from Maine (Mr. Boutelle) for the construction of two additional battleships. Mr. Boutelle, in advocating his amendment, urged the importance of of immediately proceeding with the construction of two new battleships. Mr. Herbert took the ground that if the democratic party struck out the clause for the construction of an additional crui er it would commit a political blunder. Mr. Boutelle's amendment was then rejected —65 to 102; ten democrats voting in the affirmative and no republicans in the negative. Mr. Cummings, of New York, offered an amendment for the construction of one battle ship and five torpedo boats. Lost—78 to 99. Mr. Boutelle offered an amendment for the construction of two steel gunboats at a cost of $500,000 each. Lost—58 to 104. Mr. Boutelle then moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the committee naval affairs to report it back with the incorporated in the original amendment for the construction of two battle ships at $8,000,000 each, and ten torpedo boats at 120,000 each. The motion was defeated—yeas, 61; nays, 184.

TUESDAY.—In the house, a rule was brought in by committee putting a stop to the general leave to print in the Congressional Record. After a brief discussion it was passed almost unanimously. Mr. O'Ferrall then called up the Noyes-Rockwell contested election case. He gave notice that at the end of ten hours debate he would demand the previous question. Judge Lawson, of Georgia, made the opening speech in favor of the majority report that Mr. Noyes was legally elected and entitled to the seat. Judge Lawson's speech was followed by several other members of the committee reviewing the evidence in the case. Judge Lawson was frequently interrupted by questions from the opposition, and when Mr. Cockran, of New York, rose to ask a question, Mr. O'Farrall protested that the frequent interruptions were intended to break the continuity of his colleague's argument. This brought on a little spat between Cockran and O'Ferrall. Mr. Cockran warmly protested against any interruptions from the gentleman from Virginia. He had addressed his question to the gentleman from Georgia, not to the gentleman from Virginia. Mr. Lawson yielding to the question, peace was restored. In conclusion, Mr. Lawson expressed his belief that the principles of the democratic party were right; that the principles of the republican party were wrong. There were, of course, some bad democrats, but very few. There were some good republicans, but not many. When as good a democrat as he was, voted to oust a democratic representative from his seat, he cast his vote from a sense of duty of the highest character. Wherever the path of duty pointed no man should fear to go. Mr. Johnson, of Indiana, argued that according to the positive evidence Noyes was elected by six majority. The question was one above party and beyond party, and one that should be decided upon the evidence and the law. Mr. Bacon, of New York, supported the title of Rockwell, the sitting member. Pending action the house adjourned.

WEDNESDAY—After preliminary business the house resumed consideration of the Noyes-Rockwell contested election case. Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, in a speech, gave his adherence to the cause of the contestee and criticised the report of the majority of the committee on elections. In his opinion no case had ever been presented for the action of the house where so little ground existed upon which to base the findings of the majority. Mr. Cobb, of Alabama, who, with Mr. Gillespie, of Pennsylvania, signed the minority in favor of the sitting member, then took the floor. His argument of three hours in support of Mr. Rockwell was listened to with a great deal of attention by the democratic members. Mr. Magner, of New York, favored the claim of Mr. Rockwell in a brief speech. Pending action the house adjourned.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY.—The familiar figure of ex-Senator Edmunds was seen in the senate chamber at the opening of Monday's session of the senate. While Secretary McCook was reading the journal of last Thursday, Mr. Edmunds moved around on the republican side and received greetings from the senators of both political parties. The first business transacted after the reading of the journal was the announcement by Vice President Morton that he had received a communication in the nature of a petition from James R. Young, late chief executive clerk, to be laid before the senate, which will, Morton added, be laid upon the table, it having been printed. Mr. Vest introduced a bill to prohibit the contracts by the postmaster-general with any steamship company making unjust discrimination against any part of the United States as to imports by vessels carrying foreign mails. In connection with the bill, and before asking its reference to the committee on commerce, Mr. Vest said he desired to submit certain resolutions of the merchants' exchange of the city of St. Louis. Mr. Sherman, the chairman of the foreign relations committee, gave notice in the senate that he would on Tuesday ask the attention of the senate to the Chinese restoration bill. It was necessary, he said, that it should be passed within ten days, as present legislation on the subject would, under the certain construction of it, expire some time in the month of May next. Senators Vest, Cockrell and Daniel called the attention of the senate to the alleged discrimination made by the United States and Brazilian Steamship company against the merchants and produce dealers of the south and west by refusal to land at the port of Newport News, coffee shipped from Brazil on account of the objections by the merchants of New York. Mr. Vest presented the resolutions of the St. Louis merchant's exchange, protesting against the discrimination as being a blow aimed at the commerce of the west and south, and he also offered a bill to remedy the evil. Mr. Daniel stated he had received a number of resolutions to the same purport from many boards of trade, etc., which he would present at an early day and address the senate upon this unjust discrimination. Mr. Cockrell supplemented these statements by presenting resolutions of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, of St. Louis, to the same effect. The bill and resolutions on the subject were referred to the committee on commerce.

TUESDAY.—There was a test vote in the senate Tuesday on the free coinage of silver. The question came up in an Arizona bill providing that the bonds in a funding act should be payable in gold coin of the United States. Senator Kyle moved to strike out "in gold coin" and insert "in lawful money." Immediately the gold men arrayed themselves on the side of gold coin, and the silver men took the side of lawful money. It was a contest between the gold and silver men of the senate, and the silver men won by a vote of 36 to 24. The vote on the Kyle amendment was not anticipated by many senators. Many of the gold men insist that the vote was not a square test of the sentiment of the senators on the silver question; but the silver men claim a victory. Senators who opposed the Kyle amendment hold that they were voting to allow the territory to manage its own affairs. A feature of the vote was the disclosure of the attitude of Senator Hill, who was recorded on the silver side. There were other features of interest, however. Mr. Gorman, who was present, did not vote. Hansbrough voted under a misunderstanding. He believed that, in voting for the Kyle amendment, he was carrying out the wishes of Delegate Smith, of Arizona, who had been strenuously pushing the bill. Mr. Shoup, who was in the cloakroom, did not vote, and his colleague, Duboise, voted for the amendment with reluctance, although a silver man, because he feared that the amendment would not help the people of Arizona to place their bonds at the best figure. Eight republicans voted with the democrats. So did Peffer and Kyle, alliance senators, and two democrats voted with the republicans.

WEDNESDAY.—After the usual morning business, Mr. Sherman notified the senate that the further examination of the Chinese immigration had convinced the committee on foreign relations that the existing Chinese exclusion legislation would not expire till 1894, and that there was therefore no pressure for immediate action on the question. He would, however, call it up at the convenience of the senators who desired to speak upon the subject. Thereupon the silver resolution offered by Morgan was taken up and the teller proceeded to address the senate upon it.

NOTES.

The postmaster general has notified Speaker Crisp that free delivery will be established in Americus, Ga., on the first of June.

On Wednesday the house labor committee agreed upon a bill relating to limitation of hours of daily service of laborers and mechanics employed upon public works. It limits and restricts to eight hours in any one calendar day the service and employment of all laborers and mechanics employed by the government of the United States by the District of Columbia, or by any contractor or sub-contractor upon any public works of the United States, or of the District of Columbia.

The recent liberties taken in connection with the Congressional Record were called to the attention of the senate Tuesday morning in the shape of a resolution which instructed the judiciary committee to inquire whether the publication in the recent record of copyrighted books, without the consent of the proprietor is an infringement of the right of such proprietor, and whether it subjects any person who sells the record containing such reprints to liability for damages. The resolution, however, went over without action.

Riding a Free Horse.

On account of the many books, of hundreds of pages each, which have been printed in The Congressional Record, the past few days, the committee on rules brought in a rule Tuesday morning putting a stop to the general leave to print. There was but a few minutes' discussion when the house, by an almost unanimous vote, passed it. The practice of stuffing the Record full of all sorts of dead stuff has become so repulsive to all the sensible member of the house that they were glad to get an opportunity to vote to put a stop to it.

For Public Buildings.

The house committee on public buildings Friday completely negatived the supposition that, in persuance of an economical policy, the construction of new public buildings was to be very much restricted, for it presented favorable reports upon twenty-three bills, authorizing the construction of new buildings, as well as upon two bills increases of original appropriations. The bills reported were as follows: At Cumberland, Ind.; Gardiner, Maine; Newport News, Va.; Laredo, Texas; Brunswick, Ga.; Anniston, Ala.; Hastings, Nebraska; Joliet, Ill.; Spokane Falls, Wash.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; Boise City, Idaho; Helena, Mont.; Durham, N. C.; Massillon, Ohio; Gallipolis, Ohio; Suspension Bridge, N. Y.; Brockton, Mass.; Bedford City, Va.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Waterbury, Conn.; Clinton, Iowa; Providence, R. I., and Nashua, N. H. Also increasing the limit of cost of building at Paterson, N. J., and Kansas City, Mo. Also for the sale of the old custom house at Louisville, Ky. All of the bills were placed upon the calendar.

Mail Subsidy.

The Atlantic coast line mail subsidy matter, over which there has been quite a fight, has been settled by the house post-office committee, and they have reported in favor of continuing the subsidy. The appropriation last year was $395,000 for the fast mail service between Washington and Tampa. Under the contract between the post-office department and the coast line, however, only $196,000 was paid. The committee therefore decided to make the appropriation this year $196,000. As the postmaster-general recommended an entire discontinuance of the subsidy there will be a fight on it in the house, but as this road has received a subsidy for fourteen years, the chances are it will be continued for a while [illegible] western congressmen think if the coast line subsidy is to be continued the Piedmont Air-Line, which runs the fastest mail service of any railroad entering the south, should likewise receive additional compensation. Perhaps an amendment to the bill to that effect will be offered, when it comes up, in either the house or the senate. The Air-Line people claim that their fast vestibuled train would pay if they received the additional mail compensation allowed the coast line. The New Orleans, Texas and Central and South American mails go over this line. They are important, and by the fast train on the Piedmont Air-Line one day is saved in the time to Mexican and Central and South American countries.

SCENES OF DEVASTATION

As Witnessed in the Overflowed Bottoms of the Tombigbee River.

Further news of the devastation in the flooded districts in Mississippi is given in telegrams of Friday. The reports from the flood-stricken regions confirm all heretofore said and as the waters in the Tombigbee and its tributaries' bottoms recede, the destruction is more fully realized. Deputy Sheriff Crocker, of Lee county, is reported as saying that he was a passenger on the first Mobile and Ohio train that crossed the Tombigbee river in eight days. At that point half a mile of track has been washed out and carried a mile, where it lodged against trees. He also says the published reports do not give half an idea of the wreck and ruin to Lowndes, Clay and Monroe counties. Houses, fences and bridges are all gone. Thousands of dead horses, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry and occasionally the body of a negro can be seen in every direction.

The Warrior river in Alabama, just across the line, rose forty-seven feet in four hours. He relates many incidents of personal suffering among the negroes, with whom these bottoms were thickly settled, and upon whom the mad torrents decended with terrible fury, wiping homes and families out of existence.

The city of Columbus is feeding 500 refugees, but telegraphs Governor Stone that they doubt the wisdom of asking government aid, though they would like a few hundred tents for shelter. Water is falling in the Yazoo and Big Black rivers in the western portion of the state, and the danger of immediate serious overflow there is about over and trains are running.

THE WYOMING "RUSTLERS"

Form a Subject of Discussion at a Cabinet Meeting.

A Washington telegram says: The "rustlers" trouble in Wyoming was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting of the cabinet Tuesday. All the members were present except the secretary of the treasury and attorney-general. The situation in Wyoming is regarded as serious in view of the fact that the feeling against the prisoners in charge of the military is very bitter, and also because of the freely expressed threats of desperate men that they mean to avenge the killing of Champion and Ray at the first opportunity.

No word has been received from Colonel Van Horn and his captives at Fort McKinney since Saturday morning, when he telegraphed General Brooke, at Omaha, that he would start Thursday for Douglass to turn his prisoners over to the civil authorities. General Brooke, department commander at Omaha, expresses himself as having no fear about Colonel Van Horn's command getting through safely, and General Schofield said that he felt no uneasiness on account of the soldiers, as there was no reason why they should be attacked and even if they should be, he was confident of their ability to protect themselves and their prisoners.

JUDGE MAYNARD UPHELD

In His Decision Regarding the Contested Election Cases.

A dispatch from Albany, N. Y., says: The majority and minority reports of the Maynard investigating committee were presented to the legislature Monday night. The majority report, signed by democratic members of the committee, contained about six thousand words. It says that all that Judge Maynard did he did as an honorable, upright and conscientious lawyer, and recommends the adoption of resolutions endorsing the action of Judge Maynard in taking the Dutchess county returns from the comptroller's office, and also endorses the action of the state board of canvassers in determining the four contested election cases.

The minority report, signed by republicans, was about twelve thousand words long and reviewed the litigation in the election cases. It characterized Maynard's action in connection with the Dutchess county returns as a criminal act, and closes with a resolution demanding [illegible] from the court of appeals.

THE SOUTH IN BRIEF

The News of Her Progress Portrayed in Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs

AND A COMPLETE EPITOME OF HAPPENINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM DAY TO DAY WITHIN HER BORDERS.

The comptroller of currency has authorized the Atlantic National Bank, of N. C., to begin business with a capital of $125,000.

A fire at Savannah, Ga., Sunday morning, injured the stock in Saul's ten cent store, Sampson's fruit store and Field's furnishing store to the extent of $12,000.

Virginians are taking hold with a vim the proposition to have a grand naval review in Hampton Roads and in New York harbor as preliminary to the world's fair.

A special from Sherman, La., says the most terrific rain, wind and hail storm that has visited those section of the country for fifteen years occurred Tuesday.

A Washington telegram says that Quartermaster-General Batchelder has ordered the department quartermaster at St. Louis to send 400 tents to Columbus, Miss., for the benefit of the flood sufferers.

The state board of prison inspectors of Tennessee have decided that they had no authority to interfere with the working of the state convicts on the streets of Nashville, and declined to interfere.

Lawyer Edrington, of Memphis, has been at Washington, Pa., securing affidavits for use in the defense of Alice Mitchell, indicted for the murder of Freda Ward. He learned that Alice Mitchell's mother's maiden name was Isabella Scott and insanity was hereditary in the Scott family.

A Vicksburg, Miss., dispatch of Monday says: Serious trouble is apprehended at Hardtimes, La., where 300 to 400 levee laborers are out on a strike. The men claim to have been paid in paper subject to a heavy discount, and they were obliged to pay extortionate prices for supplies. They are utterly destitute and said to be desperate.

The immense plant of the Sample Lumber company, at Hollins, Clay county, Ala., burned Sunday, causing a loss of seventy-five thousand dollars, with an insurance of fifty thousand. Two million feet of lumber was destroyed. The fire started in the dry kiln and everything went. The plant was one of the largest in the south. It will be rebuilt at once.

The Southern Express Company has offered a reward of a thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of the robbers of the north-bound train on the Illinois Central, near Tangipahoa, La. An express messenger of that road was attacked and robbed on last Thursday and a lot of Louisiana lottery tickets, diamond pins, drafts and other papers taken.

The story was published in Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday to the effect that a mammoth deal is pending looking to the consolidation of the vast properties of the Cahaba Coal Mining Company, the Excelsior Company, the Pioneer Mining and Manufacturing Company and the Woodward Iron Company with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the Debardeleben Coal and Iron Company, which two recently combined.

There have been a number of incendiary fires at San Antonio, Texas, in the last three weeks. Sunday night three fires started simultaneously in the business portion of the city, entailing a loss of $100,000. Citizens stood guard all night over the city. The city marshal, Shardein, received an anonymous note saying the fires have just begun. A meeting of citizens has been called to devise means to protect the city and incidentally to punish the incendiaries if caught.

Seven attempts were made to burn the city of Louisville, Ky., Tuesday night. In four hours fifteen buildings were destroyed, and a loss of $15,000 entailed. All were of incendiary origin. All the alarms came from the same section of town, and so rapidly did they follow that engines and trucks five miles distant were called out. Saturday night there were five fires in the same radius. The largest losses were on a tobacco factory and an excelsior factory. Two men have been arrested for the crime. Several common balls saturated with oil were found in the pocket of one of them.

Earthquake in California.

A San Francisco dispatch says: The worst shock of earthquake since the memorable one of 1868, occurred shortly before 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The shock was [illegible] land, but no [illegible] reported.

CHILTON VIEW.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 28, 1892

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One copy one year - - - $1.50
One copy six months - - - 75
One copy four months - - - 50

Gov. Jones appointed Hon. Wm. S. Thorington to fill the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Clopton.

The anti-lotteryites have been successful in electing their State ticket in Louisiana. This is another crushing blow to the lottery and is good enough news for one day.

A newspaper printed in Austria recently contained the following advertisement, which is a specimen of the truly economical spirit: "A widow, who still posseses the entire wardrobe of her deceased husband, is disposed to enter into correspondence with a suitable gentleman, if such can be found, with a view to matrimony."

The Pitts Executive Committee in Shelby county has disbanded. This means that Shelby will not send contesting delegations to the State, Congressional, Chancery and other conventions. It can also be taken for granted that unless the conventions nominate Alliancemen the nominees will not get the support of the Pitts crowd in Shelby.

Hon. Wm. L. Brown, a Democratic member of the New York Senate, and editor of the New York Dailey News, the official organ of Tammany Hall, offers to bet $25,000 that Mr. Cleveland will be elected President if nominated. What makes this offer more significant is the fact that Mr. Brown was lately regarded as a supporter of Mr. Hill. —Birmingham News.

Memphis will do herself proud and reflect credit on the whole South in the magnificent celebration which she is to give at the opening of the great trans-Mississippi Bridge on May 12th. The city will be gorgeously decorated for the occasion and every feature of entertainment conducted on a magnificent scale. The railroads offer reduced fare and an immense attendance is expected.

A strong pressure is being brought to bear upon Reuben F. Kolb to withdraw from the race. His staying will indicate more than ordinary purposes. What they are, whether for good or evil, we are unable to figure out. As his defeat in Barbour meant his political death, he perhaps considers it as safe to go to political sheol by one route as another. When taken from this standpoint, there is a considerable degree of correctness in this theory.—Huntsville Mercury.

The Nashville American says:

"What's a city boy, full of mercury, going to do when the house is full of furniture too fine for him to touch and the street is full of bad boys he must not play with?"

The boy wants to get a new mother at once or have the present one "done over," and the Nashville American wants to help in the "doing-over" process. Many a mother does not realize the absolute sin of too clean and too nice a house for comfort; does not realize that her growing, healthy, all-alive boys and girls have a right to a place where their "kodak" and tool chest; their muss, litter, dog and boy friends can be perfectly at home. When she does learn this, then shall a mother's heart be made glad, for her boy will be with her always.

One of the features of the big bridge celebration at Memphis will be the illumined historical sketch of Memphis on float early at night, after which there will be a brilliant display of fireworks from the bridge and from floats in the river, mirroring the dazzling splendor of multi-colored lights on the placid surface of the Father of Waters and illuminating the scene from shore to shore and from the mouth of Wolf river above the city to where the current of the Mississippi breaks on President's Island a mile below Jackson Mound. There is also an effort on foot to have the bridge brilliantly illuminated by electricity and a train decorated with colored lights pass over while the pyrotechnic display is in progress. The occasion promises to be a grand success, and the attendance something stupendous. The committees are leaving no stone unturned for the comfort and enjoyment of visitors. The railroads offer reduce rates.

The Age-Herald Throwing Stones.

The Birmingham Age-Herald according to Capt. Kolb, is "the fairest daily paper in the State." The A.-H. has been partial to Capt. Kolb. It has the following to say of how Capt. Kolb has used the the party machinery, in his own interest and finding that by even such manipulation he would not be successful in securing the Democratic nomination for Governor he has turned upon the State machinery and will charge it with his defeat, because forsooth the State machinery will not permit his county machinery to override the will of the Democratic voters. The Age-Herald throws this stone at a very hard head:

The issue that the machinery has been used to negative the will of the people is the by-play of treasonable intent. The opening gun of the campaign was the claim that fifty-six of the county executive committees were dominated by Captain Kolb and would manipulate the game in his interest. They started out to do it, and the first act was the prorate in Jefferson by which a popular majority of 638 was overridden through the machinery. The next act was the snap convention of the Kolb committee in Madison and the next a similar convention in Butler. Such remorseless grinding of the machinery in a candidate's interest had never been known before. With such an opening does Captain Kolb seriously believe fair-minded men will listen to the cry from him that the machinery has been used against him?

Many men are to-day hesitating on the brink of the precipice down which Captain Kolb is inviting them to leap in his company They had best keep on hesitating to all eternity.

Stand by the Party.

Opelika News.

The time was in the present campaign, when the issue was Jones and Kolb, but that phase of the race is past, and the issue now is simply Kolb against the organized Democracy of the State. Nothing it appears to us, that has not actually transpired, is more certain than that Captain Kolb does not now intend to abide by the action of the organized party in the State. All over the State the charge is being made that the Captain intends to disregard the action of the convention and run anyhow provided he is not made the nominee. Neither the Captain or his friends deny this, therefore the issue is no longer Kolb and Jones, but Kolb and the organized Democracy. When that issue is presented to the white people of Alabama, how can a single man hesitate to choose between the two? How can Alabama Democrats avoid being impatient in awaiting an opportunity to go to the rescue of the party, which is the only salvation for this land of ours.

Mr. Kolb is already by the verdict of the Democrats of the State, defeated in his aspirations for the nomination for Governor. Then, if he be a Democrat and entitled to the votes of Democrats, why does he not retire from the race? If he is a Democrat worthy the support of Democrats, why does he fail and refuse to state plainly and positively that he intends to abide the action of the party in convention assembled?

The Democratic Party in Alabama is the white man's party, and it stands to-day in great peril. Every vote for Kolb from this time on is just that much assistance being rendered him in bringing about a disruption in the party that can but bring disaster to the people and blight the prospects of this fair land of ours.

Jaskson's Disgrace.

Some one made a call for a mass meeting in Jackson county, the object of which was to nominate county officers. It was composed of "republicans—white and black, alliancemen, people's party politicians and third party advocates—with republicans decidedly in the majority."

The convention was harmonious till the time came to nominate county commissioners, when the colored element began to get somewhat discordant. The negroes thought that as they had served the republicans for this long twenty-six years merely in the capacity of a cat's paw, that it was about time they were being recognized among the dignitaries, office holders of the county, so they conceived the idea of putting a pair of their color on the board of county commissioners. Of course, the white republicans did not want them to be quite so previous. But they were determined to be heard, and the inevitable was to encounter. The chairman saw what was up and appointed a committee to report four names for county commissioners. Some informal business was gone through with while the sages deliberated (?) in secret. The Committee returned and despite all effort to keep the negroes off the ticket, two names of negroes were reported by the committee. This was something of a surprise, and the chairman tried to get around it, but it was demanded in a hot speech by a "cullud gemmen." This put them in the soup with two negroes to paddle round with, and talk politics and love. An expert saw the fix they were in and moved to table the motion to put the report on its passage. The affirmative side was put and announced "carried;" the chairman refusing to put the negative side. Some of the natives were infuriated and made some wild denunciations, but the thing was declared adjourned. What a shame!

A lesson is in this for Pike and the other sections of the white man's country. Let our people note this and frown down any action out of which might grow such a thing, the most prominent political movement of today is the Third Party movement. Be upon your guard if you regard yourself a man and white supremacy a treasure worthy its preservation. —Troy Messenger.

KOLB'S PLAN.

The Steps That He Will Take at the State Convention.

Anniston Hot-Blast.

The Hot Blast is onto Kolb's little scheme. It leaked out after he left here last Saturday, and came from one of his trusty lieutenants. It lays bare Kolb's mode of procedure in the State Convention.

1. Kolb proposes to go to Montgomery with all of his contesting delegates, and demand admission. Of course this will be refused.

2. He will then claim that he has not had a fair chance before the people, and will make a proposition to leave the matter before the Democracy of the State, at a primary to be held on a certain day in every county in the State at thirty day's notice. This will be rejected.

3. He will then propose that both Jones and himself be taken down and a man put upon whom both factions can unite. This too, will be rejected by the large Jones majority.

4. Kolb will then say, "Gentlemen, you do not give me a chance. I will take my followers and repair to the Court House and have myself nominated, and will leave it to the people at the polls as to who shall be Governor of Alabama. I am not running as an Independent, but as the nominee of the biggest half of the Democratic party."

This is the programme, and mark what the Hot blast tells you, it will be carried out. Kolb is going to run as the nominee of the bolting convention. Let him do it. That will eliminate him from Alabama politics, and he will then be a dead cock in the pit. The Democracy is ready to meet the issue.

Beware the Tempter.

That an attempt will be made to split the next State Convention is now well assured. That it will be a disastrous experiment on the part of all those who participate in it, goes without saying. The people of Alabama are not only Democrats, they are something better, for they are organized Democrats. They will stand by the action of the organized Democracy and support its nominees. The crowd that will rally to oppose it will comprise the Republicans, the Independents, the cranks and a few misguided farmers. Against the forces that the organized Democracy can summon to its aid they will become a mere byword, and reproach. Every newspaper in Alabama of character will be enlistened. Thousands of men will be on the stump, nearly every man, indeed, who knows how to speak. The mongrel opposition will dissolve like dew. No man who allows his feelings and ambitions to mislead him into joining this foolish movement will live long enough to recover from it.

The campaign of the opposition will not be based on any principle. It will be a mere outcry of the disappointed and the disaffected, claiming wrongs at the hands of the party organization. Sensible people will take no stock in such a cry. Captain Kolb is not a man who can make such an issue. He cannot complain of the party machinery. He set out to misuse it in his own interest. It has succeeded in reflecting the will of the people. He had the same chance for the Black Belt representation as Jones had. He worked for it hard. He lives in a Black Belt county. He is an original Black Belt machinist. The clamor in his mouth becomes patent nonsense. He will be routed on every stump, he will be beaten on every issue. He will have no ground to stand on.

Kolb men have been legitimately elected as delegates to the State Convention. Some one hundred or more will be there as representatives of Democrats at home. They will be in positions of trust. They will have no right to violate that trust by attempting to break up a party they were sent to serve. Let every man stand true. Resent the voice of the tempter. To ask you to assist in breaking up the State Convention is an insult to your Democracy and to your manhood. It is an invitation to you to pull down your party and bury yourself in its ruins. You would succeed only in ruining yourself.—Age-Herald.

Mr. Longshore was the only candidate for Congress who ran against Mr. Browne for Congress in Talladega county. All other candidates respected the rule of courtesy which has heretofore prevailed in the district, which rule was founded on the presumption that a candidate can carry his home county against any outsider. Mr. Longshore counted upon the Alliance of Talladega sustaining him in the violation of this rule of courtesy; but he has found out his mistake by this time. Gov. Jones beat Mr. Kolb 247 votes in Talladega, but Mr. Browne beat Mr. Longshore 871 votes, showing that 624 men who voted for Mr. Kolb refused to vote for Longshore against a county man.—Jacksonville Republican.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

LADIES
Needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Billousness and Liver Complaints.

A REMARKABLE CLUBBING RATE

But a few More Weeks to take Advantage of it.

By special arrangement with that greatest of all American weekly newspapers, The Atlanta Constitution, we are enabled to offer our paper with it for the remarkable low rate of $1.50 for one year.

The Constitution has a weekly circulation of 156,000 and is the model weekly newspaper of America. Bill Arp, Joel Chandler Harris, (Uncle Remus), Dr. Talmage, Betsey Hamilton, Sarge Plunkett, and a number of other writers of national reputation contribute to its columns.

Its farm and farmers' department is the ablest of that of any American newspaper, and the women's and childrens' department is conducted with a special view to interest and instruct those for whom it is prepared.

Its news department is the most complete of any weekly newspaper published. This great paper has correspondents in all parts of the world, and covers the news of the southern states in every detail.

This clubbing offer will only last until the first of June, as by an arrangement with the Constitution we cannot offer it after that time.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all drug dealers. [until Guaranteed Cure for LaGrippe.

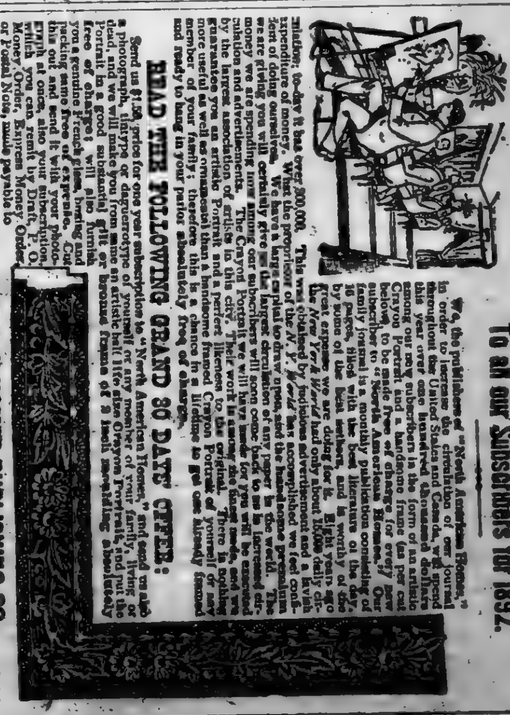
We authorize our advertised druggist to sell you Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds upon this condition. If you are afflicted with La Grippe and will use this remedy according to directions, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We make this offer, because of the wonderful success of Dr. King's New Discovery during last season's epidemic. Have heard of no case in which it failed. Try it. Trial bottles free. Large size 50c and $1.

Good Looks.

are more than skin deep, depending upon all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a billious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at 50c per bottle.

JOEL WHITE,
BOOKS AND STATIONERY,
DEXTER AVENUE,
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA.

INSURE WITH
The Commercial Fire Insurance Company,
Montgomery, Alabama.
Capital $100,000. Surplus $171,477.
Directors:—P. J. Anderson, C. A. Lanier, H. C. Tompkins, A. M. Kennedy, M. P. LeGrand, S. C. Marks, J. H. Clisby, C. W. Buckley, Frank Duncan.
W. H. Lawrence, Agt., Clanton.



FREE CRAYON PORTRAITS & FRAMES
To all our Subscribers for 1892.

COUSSEN'S LIGHTNING LINIMENT
FOR MAN OR BEAST
SAFE SURE SPEEDY

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion.
Without injurious medication.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N.

CHAS. L. RUTH,
—DEALER IN—
Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clock
Jewelry, Spectacles, &c.,
Sole Agent in Montgomery for the celebrated ROCKFORD QUICK TR WATCHES, the best for Railroad men. Also has a large stock of Wate other makes, including the famous watches manufactured by A. Schmitz Dresden, and the watches he had made specially to order in Geneva.
A complete stock of the newest styles of JEWELRY, selected with grea from the stocks of the largest manufacturers.
The latest designs in SILVER and PLATED WARE. French and Amer CLOCKS and BRONZES in great variety. Julius King's Combination S cles, Eye-Glasses, Gold-head Canes, &c. All goods marked at the lowest p possible. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry skillfully and promptly repa All work guaranteed.
C. L. RUTH,
(Sign of the Eagle and Watch.) 15 Dexter Avenue
—MONTGOMERY, ALA.

ALABAMA MADE
ENGINES & SAW MILL
Cotton Gins, Presses, Grist Mill
and all kinds of Machinery an
Mill Supplies. Write for circular
MONTGOMERY IRON WORKS
MONTGOMERY, ALA.
Salesrooms 130 Commerce Street.

JNO. L. COBBS & CO
DRY GOODS
—AND—
CARPETS
NEWEST THINGS IN
DRESS GOODS
ALWAYS IN STOCK.
BLACK DRESS GOODS A SPECIALT
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Specially Low Prices on Table-Linen, Towels, Sheeting
Toilet Quilts, Etc. Best Makes in
Hosiery, Corsets and Gloves.
LARGEST
CARPET DEPARTMENT.
In the City. All Grades of
CARPETS.
Mattings, Office Mattings,
Rugs, Lace Curtains and Shades
JNO. L. COBBS & CO.,
9 DEXTER AVE.,
MONTGOMERY, AL

GO TO BLANK BROS., LEADING CLOTHIERS, 2016 SECOND AVENUE, BIRMINGHAM, AL

CHILTON VIEW.

CLANTON, ALA., APR. 28, 1892.

SCHEDULE S. & N. ALA. RAILROAD.—Trains pass Clanton daily, as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1 Express Don't stop	5:30 a. m.
No. 3 Mail	5:35 p. m.
No. 9 Accommodation	8:56 a. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 2 Fast	9:32 a. m.
No. 4 Express	9:28 p. m.
No. 10 Accommodation	6:08 p. m.

Nos. 9 and 10 make all stops. Nos. 2 and 3 stop at all regular stations.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Croquet parties are now the fad.

Lamb and peas are ripe. Strawberries will be on in a week.

Dr. A. M. Rambo, of Verbena, Ala., visited our city Tuesday.

Mr. Tom Evans and wife, of Randolph, visited relatives here last week.

Shirt waists, Knee pants, Hats and everything worn by children can be had at Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Messrs. Charlie and Lee Bivings have been on a visit to relatives at this place.

Mrs. J. W. Duvall, of Selma, has been visiting the family of Mr. O. A. Duke.

Ladies!—We make boys goods (from 2 years up) a specialty. We have everything worn by the little and big boys. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

We make wedding outfits, a specialty. We can fix you up with everything except the girl, and save money on your outfit. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

There was a most enjoyable sociable at the residence of W. L. Sampey on last Friday night.

Childrens' day will be celebrated at the Methodist Church here on the fourth Sunday in May.

Mothers—To get a good fitting suit and well made boy's clothing you must go to Alex Rice's Montgomery.

Mrs. Dr. Green, of Montgomery, spent several days here last week on her way to Talladega.

Clanton is still trying to run a beef market. Hope she will succeed better than heretofore.

40 cent will buy a white shirt usually sold for 75 cents, or $1.00. Don't fail to see it at Alex Rice's, Montgomery.

The young folks are looking forward to the Sunday School picnics which will be given sometime in May.

12½ cents will buy a pair of fine French Balbriggan men's socks, brown, black or double, at Alex Rice, Montgomery.

The pupils of Court Avenue Institute had a picnic at Duke's Mill last Friday. They reported a fine time.

Mr. Nannie Duke visited Jemison during the Cumberland Presbyterian meeting at that place the past week.

Children's kilt suits, sailor suits, and all styles of knee pants, suits from $2.00 and upward at Alex Rice's, Montgomery.

If you want a good newspaper without cost, subscribe for the VIEW and we will send you the Atlanta Constitution (weekly) one year as a premium. This offer only extends until the first of June.

We guarantee our low prices. Any goods purchased of us and not satisfactory as to price or quality can be returned and money will be refunded. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

In this issue will be found the spring advertisement of Alex Rice, the popular clothier of Montgomery. When in Montgomery call at his store.

Something to Eat!

Realizing the fact that at this season of the year it is usually hard to get a variety of eatables, I have just gotten in a supply of fine Canned Goods, and will sell them at reasonable prices. Also very fine sugar house molasses at 60 cents per gallon. Staple groceries always on hand.

W. L. SAMPEY.

COUNTY CHAT.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Maplesville Dots.

We are sorry our good friend Zeke Martin has gone to Texas, and hope he may return to our town as we need more of such young men.

Our northern friend, N. A. Saportas, has left us after making his home with us almost three years. None was more ready to do an act of kindness than he, and for many such acts he will long be remembered here. None can say that N. A. Saportas wronged them of a cent.

Last week I. W. Gullahorn, after living here about five years moved to Calera. With them we lose kind neighbors and a most generous citizen. Miss Mamie too left some aching heart.

Miss Mamie Kelley and Mr. R. Martin have lately been to Selma to attend the opera.

Stanton Notes.

On Saturday night, April 16th at 9 o'clock Stanton was considerably stirred up over the murder of a young negro woman, Martha Lewis, who with her husband, William Lewis, occupied a cabin in the quarters. Will and the majority of his neighbors had gone to a church supper. A woman living in an adjoining house was with the deceased a short time before 9 o'clock leaving Martha's father-in-law, Bill Lewis, with her. Shortly afterwards she heard a noise like something heavy had fallen in Martha's house. Supposing one of the children had fallen out of the bed she gave no attention to it, until attracted by a smell of burning cloth. She began looking for the fire. She went to Martha's room but the door was fastened, and getting no answer went to Bill Lewis' house for assistance, and they together opened the back door to find Martha lying on her back dead. A brass lamp with the burner off was sitting by her head and a cat in a corner of the room saturated with oil was on fire. Martha had marks on her throat resembling finger prints. An inquest was held Monday. After all the evidence was heard the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Martha Lewis came to her death by being choked or strangled and from the evidence it was their belief that Bill Lewis was the murderer. Thereupon Lewis was arrested and taken to Clanton to await the action of the circuit court.

John F. Burns' case was to have had a hearing before Capt. A. A. Dyer on the 23rd inst., but has been postponed until the 28th. Mr. Burns, the Alliance candidate for Congress, stabbed Bill Stewart on election day at Dixie.

Verbena Views.

Mr. L. Putillo, of Anniston, visited our city recently.

Miss Mollie Pritchett, of Columbus, Ga., has been visiting Mr. F. A. Gulledge's family.

Mrs. G. A. Northington and daughter have returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Autauga.

Miss Lucas Brooks, one of our most charming young ladies, gave her young friends a delightful sociable on the evening of the 15th inst. All who attended had a pleasant time.

Miss Lila Williamson has returned from a visit to relatives in Snowdon.

Capt. R. F. Kolb and Major L. C. Ramsey spent the night of the 13th in Verbena.

Mr. Hugh Foster, of Tuskaloosa, has been visiting the family of Mrs. Nix.

Mr. Fred Thornton, of the capital city, has been visiting Verbena.

Mr. Frank Boykin, of Evergreen, is visiting friends here.

Your correspondent was shocked to hear of the corpse of Miss Hattie Penrce passing through Verbena, when but a few days ago she passed through here in all the brightness and happiness of youth on her way to visit friends in Tuskaloosa. Who would have thought so soon to see that lovely form clothed in death? She was one of Prattville's most lovely flowers. Miss Hattie was a school mate of the writer and she was as good as she was lovely. God doeth all things well. The family have the deepest sympathy of their friends here in their great loss.

Messrs. John Parker and G. T. Key, of Montgomery, have been visiting Verbena.

Mr. B. J. Fitzpatrick, of Elmore, has been visiting here.

Mr. Hughes Mullins has returned from Atlanta much improved.

Hon. G. A. Northington has returned from a business trip to Wetumpka and the capital city.

Miss Gonnie Gerald, a charming young lady of Montgomery, is the guest of friends in our city.

Mr. Clarence Moody, of Montgomery, is visiting his parents here.

Mr. Ben Williams has closed out his store here and will move away soon to the regret of his many friends. We are sorry to lose such a good business man and citizen.

The Sheriff of Jefferson county, Joe Smith, and one of his deputies, J. H. Lockhart, were arrested in Nashville last week on a charge of having appropriated a drummer's valise containing diamonds valued at $2,000. The Sheriff's excuse is that they were too drunk to know what they were doing. They were placed under bond.

Fishing is now the fashion.

OH, GIRLS!

You Started this Discussion, Where will it End?

To the Editor of the Rhem. News.

I want to answer Miss Julia Bates' diatribe against boys.

I think for my part the girls of Birmingham are no better than the boys; what little I have learned about them.

It is but natural that the boys should love other girls better than their sister; because they expect some future day to marry one of them.

The reason why the boys do not like to take their sisters out with them is because they are seldom in the other young ladies company, which causes the boys to love them a great deal more than their sisters.

In most cases if a young man wishes to take his girl for a buggy ride, nine times out of ten his sister wishes to go with him just to hear what her brother says to his best girl; the one that is as bright to him as the sun that shines out of the Heavens, and because her brother gives her a denial answer, no, sis, you cannot go this evening, she thinks in her heart what a cruel brother I have.

A girl will stay out and jump rope from morning until night and have lots of fun and then go to a ball up town at night, while her brother is working hard all day and probably away into the night, and when he comes home from work, tired and all broke up, she expects him to help her get in the wood, kindling and coal. The girl ought to be pleased to pull up the grass among the flowers and have a nice bouquet for their brother, so that they can work and make money to buy his sister a summer dress.

Girls do not play baseball because they can't; but you can bet they can ride a bycycle as well as any man.

The reason why boys do not buy candy for their sisters is because they think she is sweet enough without eating candy.

And the reason why they buy candy for their best girl is because they want to make her still sweeter.

If you buy your sister oranges, it will turn her skin yellow, and if they drink lemonade it will make them sour; therefore the boys do not wish to spoil their sister's good looks.

Girls are far more deceitful to boys than boys are to girls.

Girls are always reading love stories, and still they say they hate the boys, but if they were to tell the honest truth they would say that they love the boys.

I think some of our girls will have to "go West" to marry or else or else live the life of old maids in Birmingham.

Col. Oates "Blode Fust."

Democrat in Union Springs Herald.

The remark of I. S. D. about what "Democrats of all creeds need," reminds me about the negro playing "hose doctor."

Rastus was his name. A friend of his, Jonas, met him and noticed something was the matter.

Said Jonas: "Lowd er mity, Rastus, am dat you?"

Rastus: "Dis am what is lef ob me."

Jonas: Hadn't it been fur yer mouf and dat wart on your nose, I clar to goodness I wouldn't er knowed ye. Wat's bin de matter wid ye no how?"

Rastus: "Well Jonas, yer knows Ize er tending Marse Tom's Hamertonian hoss. 'Bout six weeks ergo, more'n less, I 'cided dat animule kneed some dat er med'cine wa't bring him to his senses an break him ob some ob his bad ways. So I gits a reed, I did, and den I chuck in it a big dose of oilcanoman, and salt, and some ginger and red pepper and 'tinks to myself; if I kin git dis ere down ye, I sho gwine to boss ye from dis time hense an' further. Den I put one eend ob de reed in de hoss mouf, and de udder eend I tuck and put in my mouf and, for to blow dat tamin' dose kleen in 'im; but ever I was knowing of it an 'fo I gits ready fur ter blo"—

Jonas: "Den 'wat?"

Rastus: "De hoss he blode fust."

The Bullock county Alliance filled their reed with the St. Louis and Ocala platform accompained by many lotions of vile stuff, and and declared that the "Old war horse" of the third district must be drenched with it or resign. He was too quick for them, and "blode fust."

Send $1.50 and get the View and Atlanta Constitution for one year.

Any alteration in a suit that may be necessary for a perfect fit we cheerfully do without charge. Alex Rice, Montgomery.

Etwah county is being flooded with letters and circulars from confidence men in New York, offering to sell their "green goods" or counterfeit money 10 to 1. It is said that one of Gadsen's citizens has lost his home fooling with these swindlers.

Jury List.

For the Spring Term of the Circuit Court which begins the second Monday in May.

GRAND JURY.

George Reed, A T Hathcock, P S Prim, F A Gulledge, H H Lassiter, L B Broadhead, H C Young, A C Pool, Thomas Downey, J R Swinford, E H Wingate, Sr., Newton Eddings, J L Williams, P C Dennis, S K Rasberry, W L Sampey, J R Hill, John Parnell, Jr., J J Hicks.

PETIT JURY—FIRST WEEK.

William Bearden, J H Aldridge, J W Maddox, Robt Martin, C T Zimmerman, G W Littleton, Jr., Cloud Mooney, R. P. Kendrick, J W Letcher, J J Smitherman, Y O Freeman, A H Courtney, G A DuBose, John Shaw, W H Cox, L L Killingsworth, W M Gray, F M Headley, Thos J Bland, Ed Smitherman, M A Watts, William Parnell, J N. Barnes, G. W. Mims, G S Speer, T H Williams, Z J Jones, James Edwards, Croff Harris, T N Lawrence, A J Rollinson, E. T. Connell.

PETIT JURY—SECOND WEEK.

John Reynolds, J B Killingsworth, J M Hayes, W E D Edwards, W P Headley, S A Blount, W A Curlee, W J Fleming, J D Holsomback, John Reynolds, A J Wilson, J W Sorrell, P E Harris, Joseph Broadhead, Amsy Thompson, S B McCary, J C Williams, W F Roebuck, John Splawn, John Edwards, Louis Gentry, J L Rasberry, Samuel Pate, Ira Headley, R. J Walker, Allison Sims, Thomas Mims, H C Cole, J M Adams, C J Stewart, J St. Watson, Henry Benson,

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Blk, Rochester, N. Y. apr16-y

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters Rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

Final Settlement.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Estate of D. A. Wells, Deceased.

This day came F. A. Gulledge, Administrator of said Estate, and filed his statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a final settlement of his administration. It is ordered that the 16th day of May, 1892, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper. H. J. CALLEN, Judge of Probate.

apr21

Register's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a decree of sale rendered at the March Term, 1892, of the Chancery Court for Chilton county, Alabama, in the case of A. M. Whitworth vs. Joseph B. Webb, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, at the courthouse door in the town of Clanton, Ala., on Monday, the 2d day of May, 1892, between the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate situated in Chilton county, Alabama, to-wit: N e ¼ of sw ¼ and nw ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10, township 21 north, range 15 east, containing 80 acres more or less.

W. R. STEWART, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE

Land Office at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the Circuit Court, at Clanton, Ala., on May 21st, 1892, viz: Priscilla Coburn, heir of Eli H. Cobb, homestead 2984, for the n ½ of s e ¼, n e ¼ of s w ¼ of sec 36, township 22 n r 13 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Prim Davis, Aaron Talley, Wiley Smitherman, William Smitherman, all of Maplesville, Ala.

feb25o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 22, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the judge or in his absence the clerk of the circuit court at Clanton, Ala., on April 30, 1892, viz: John F. Crosby, homestead 25000 for the n w ¼ of s e ¼ sec 10 township 22 n, range 14 e. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George W. Hill, Joseph Burnett, Tandy Robinson, and Warren Maddox, all of Stanstead, Ala.

mar24o J. H. BINGHAM, Register.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE RUSH IS OVER!

Because Money is Scarce, but I am still Selling at Low Prices for the Cash

THE BEST GROCERIES

FRUITS and CANDIES

TO BE HAD FOR MONEY.

Small Profits and the best Goods win the trade.

W. H. PHILLIPS,

Clanton, Alabama.

Hale, Dingley & Co.

—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles,

PERFUMERY, SOAP, BRUSHES & STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES,

—:MONTGOMERY, ALA.:—

Keep constantly on hand a complete stock of articles in their line of business. Particular attention is called to the following articles manufactured by them and especially recommended to the public: Extracts of Lemon, Vanilla, Ginger, &c.; Elixir Cinchona and Gentian Compound; Howard's Colic Cure for Horses; Esprit de Millefleur. may22-y

The Best is The Cheapest.

Is a Maxim That Applies With Peculiar Force to Schools.

THE LOUISVILLE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE stands at the head of the list of commercial schools in its character as an educational force, as a medium for supplying the business men of the country with trained and capable assistants, as a means of placing ambitious young men and women on the high road to success, and in the extent, elegance and cost of its equipment. Thorough Short-hand and Telegraph courses. The Twenty-seventh Annual Catalogue will be mailed to any address.

WINTERS & MURPHY.

—DEALERS IN—

PIANOS & ORGANS

And Musical Merchandise

Of Every Description.

Instruments Sold on Easy Payments and Thoroughly Guaranteed. All Orders sent to the House receive Prompt Attention.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Builder's and Painter's Supply Co.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors, Blinds,

Wall Paper, Artists' Materials And Builders' Hardware.

—18 COMMERCE STREET,—

MONTGOMERY, - - - - ALA.

Please write for prices and sample cards.

You Want to Subscribe FOR THE VIEW

Before the first of June and get the Atlanta Constitution one year as a Premium.

The Alabama Printing Company.

(Successors to Baptist Printing Co.)

For Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, SAW MILL, CHECKS, and all classes of COMMERCIAL AND PAMPHLET PRINTING write to this company. They guarantee work and duplicate prices given by any house.

Hare, Pope & Dewberry, Montgomery, Ala.

COURT CALENDAR.

Chancery—First Thursday after the second Monday in March and September and continue three days.

Circuit—On the eleventh Monday after the fourth Monday in February, and on the thirteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue two weeks each time.

Commissioners'—Regular term second Monday in February and August, and first Monday in April and November. Special term second Monday in May and July.

County—First Monday in each month.

A cross mark (X) after your name means that your subscription is due and that we would be glad to have you renew.

E. M. BARRETT,
Attorney at Law,
CLANTON, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama. Office over J. P. Allen's store.

F. B. BALDWIN,
Attorney at Law,
VERBENA, ALA.
Will practice in all the courts of Alabama.

ALEX. G. DAKE,
Justice of the Peace,
CLANTON, ALA.
Collection of Claims a Specialty.

F. W. DENTY,
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
General Boot and Shoe Workman. Work first-class. Prices low. Satisfaction guaranteed.

DR. A. J. MASSEY,
DENTIST.
Will visit Clanton and other points in Chilton county, soon. All wishing his services write him at Birmingham, and he will see you on his round and be glad to do your work.

FOR FRESH BREAD
AND CAKES
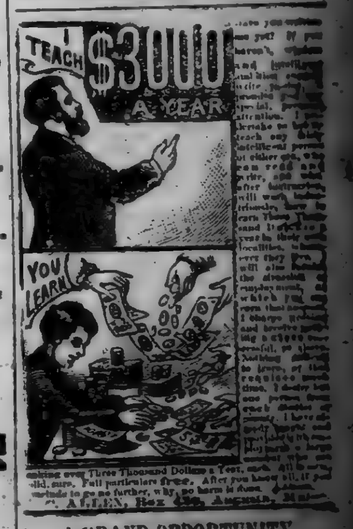
Call on H. P. BABER, near Postoffice, Clanton, Alabama. [4-2]

When thinking of having pictures made call at Number 7, Dexter Avenue
H. P. TRESSLAR'S
PHOTO STUDIO.
Montgomery
Correspondence solicited. [feb25-9t]

THE LIGHT RUNNING
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE
IS THE BEST.
NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO. ORANGE, MASS.
CHICAGO, ILL. BOSTON, MASS. ATLANTA, GA.
FOR SALE BY

W. L. SAMPEY, Clanton, Ala.



A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

FOR AN AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN.

Attend the most renowned "cheap" cost, best and highest ranked College," the Commercial College of Kentucky University, W. R. Smith, President, is situated in the beautiful and healthful city of Lexington, Ky., and has an annual attendance of 1,000, from Alabama attending last year, efficient and high salaried teachers employed. It is endorsed by over Highest Honors at World's Exposition by 10,000 graduates, business men from Ala., by Governors, &c. Book Keeping, Banking, Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Phonography, Typewriting, Telegraphy, &c taught. This paper has a Full Diploma Business scholarship in this famous College for will be disposed of, on reasonable terms, to deserving young lady or gentleman.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leaders of Fashion, 2016 2d Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you want in the way of clothing and gents furnishing goods.

IN A MAPLE SUGAR CAMP.

MODERN METHODS OF MANUFACTURE ON A LARGE SCALE.

Tapping an Orchard—Gathering the Sap—The Process of Evaporation—Drawing Off the Sugar.

ONE improvement after another has followed, till now in the best-conducted camps in Vermont (which all remember makes more maple sugar than any other State), a large, tight, finished sugar-house stands in a convenient part of the orchard, and all the utensils when not in use are stored in the house.

The process from first to last, in a model camp, is practically as follows. At first three men work most effectively tapping and putting in order a large orchard in one day; 1500 to 2000 trees are at least a fair average for the orchards throughout the State. The first man, armed with a bit-brace, goes ahead, and with a three-eighths-inch bit makes an incision about an inch deep in the fibre of the wood on the lee side of the tree. A second man inserts a round double tin spile or spout from two and a half to three inches long in the aperature. The spile not only conducts the sap, but has an arrangement by which the bucket is suspended beneath its mouth. Lastly, the sap-buckets are hung. Both wooden and tin buckets are used.

The work of gathering has been much simplified. Many still put a pair of stout horses to a strong short sled carrying a holder, as the large wooden tub holding several barrels is called, and drive from tree to tree collecting the sap; but a better and easier way is to run leaders through the orchard, collecting in sap-pails and emptying into leaders, which are wooden gutters run through the orchard like arteries, and terminating in a store tank at the sugar house. Though several different varieties of evaporators and pans, alike in the main, are in use, we will describe the process with what is conceded to be the best apparatus. In a brick framework in the sugar house is set an iron arch with a square iron chimney. An arch for a large bush is 5x20 feet, perfectly level on top, the bottom slanting from 2½ feet deep in front to ten inches at the chimney end. In this arch is set the evaporator, a deep boiling-pan in front and four smaller and shallower pans further back. The bottom of the evaporator is deeply corrugated, nearly doubling the surface exposed to the heat. Rapid boiling is a great point in sugar-making—the shorter the time from sap to syrup the better the quality. The sap in the holder or store tank flows through a strainer and rubber hose into a regulator, which is adjusted by automatic gauge to keep the supply in the boiling-pan at a certain depth. When the sap in the boiling pan has reached a certain stage in evaporation, it is emptied into the pan next back by means of a siphon, which removes only the syrup, leaving the scum behind. The boiling-pan is again filled with fresh sap and the process repeated. The pans are connected with each other by siphons, each pan perfecting the work of the preceding pan until the fourth and last pan is reached, which evaporates the liquid to the syrup of commerce, weighing eleven pounds to the gallon.

Whether canned or made into sugar, the syrup is drawn off through a faucet. So far, from sap to syrup, the machinery runs itself after being started, if fires are kept up. If properly canned, the syrup is allowed to cool before being put up in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon glass or tin cans; the latter are much better and more desirable every way. If canned hot, the syrup contracts one-half pint to the gallon in cooling. The air at the top of the can is the main cause of mildew, mould or crystalization if the syrup is not soon used. But to the onlooker the most delightful part is "sugaring off." The great pan filled with a mass of amber liquid, evenly boiling all over, slowly rising to the line of sweet cream around the rim of the pan, above which it will not go. The great fun of "trying" it to see if it is done, entertains the children and inexperienced. Long before it is done, a little is dropped into water to see if it wont "crackle," but it slowly dissolves and makes a sickish-looking liquid; the spoonful dropped on an adjacent snowbank quickly disappears from view; prolonged stirring will not induce it to grain; the novice, blowing drops of it off a knotted birch twig, beholds his syrup sail off in bubbles instead of fine gauze-like threads. At last the sugarmaker dips into the seething mass of small, fine bubbles, and watching it drip off the edge of his dipper, says calmly, "The sugar seems about right to eat." Then the rush begins, and the sweet liquid is poured on the clean, hard snow in all sorts of fantastic forms. Nothing more delicious can be imagined, and, for a time at least, each one is at peace with all the world, if abundantly provided with pickles and thin pink slices of dried beef or ham. Later a dish of it is stirred to flaky whiteness with the fragrant little birch paddles the boys whittle out while waiting.

In the meantime the sugarmaker is most busily employed in removing the pan from the arch and rapidly stirring the whole mass until sufficiently cool, and having a fine, even grain, when it is turned into tubs holding from ten to one hundred pounds each. If made into cakes it is stirred longer, till it becomes dry enough to retain its shape. The whiteness of maple sugar does not by any means determine its price. The difference in soil, the length of time the sap stands before boiling, whether or not snow or rain has fallen in the sap, the rapidity with which it is converted into syrup—all affect it somewhat. The pure tub or cake maple sugar is a brownish amber in color, a cross shade between coffee and snuff color, and a small lump crumbles into fine particles or grains about the size of pulverized refined cane sugar. The absence of the fine grains and occasional air-holes indicates adulteration by cane sugar, glucose or clay.

The average yield per tree is two pounds per season extending from four to six weeks—till frosty nights cease and the leaf buds begin to swell and the sap tastes strong and ceases to flow. One sap-pail of sap (holding a cubic bushel) makes one pound of sugar, or less than a pint of standard syrup. When sap runs only during the day, with proper apparatus it can be boiled in eight hours, but during a "drive" when it runs night as well as day, the poor sugarmaker often works through the twenty-four hours.—Boston Transcript.

Lower California is part of the Republic of Mexico.

SELECT SAYINGS.

Our "humbug" comes from the Italian "uomo bugiardo," meaning much the same thing.

A wild grape vine was cut down in Iowa that had a trunk fifteen inches in circumference one foot above ground.

Utah was the early home of the powerful tribe of Ute Indians, and it is from them that the Territory takes its name.

It is claimed that the pheasant of the English preserves can trace its pedigree directly to the brilliant bird of the same species in Japan.

The Park Commissioners of Buffalo, N. Y., have been compelled to kill eight peacocks whose harsh cries kept babies and nervous people awake.

The French soldiers have lately been engaged in an extensive series of experiments with bicycles. That machine has now taken its place as an appliance of war.

Jack Irvin is a Kentuckian of Glover's Mill, who, in thirty-six years has not swallowed a drop of water. He drinks only tea, coffee, and milk, and has passed his eightieth year.

Mrs. Henry K. Updegrass, of Tower City, Penn., is a great-grandmother at forty-seven. She was married at fourteen, her daughter at fifteen and her granddaughter at sixteen.

A whale which was captured in the Arctic Ocean the other day was found to have a harpoon in his body which belonged to a whaling vessel which had been out of service for more than fifty years.

The wedding anniversaries run in this order: First, paper; fifth, wooden; tenth, tin; twelfth, leather; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, ivory; thirty-fifth, linen; fortieth, woolen; forty-fifth, silk; fiftieth, golden, and seventy-fifth, diamond.

Axolotl, or fish with legs, is the name Mexicans give a queer creature which can swim like a fish or run up a smooth wall like a fly; can live and grow when kept constantly in water like a true fish, and yet can live and grow entirely away from water (excepting a little to drink) like a true air breathing animal.

Fish are drowned when taken from the water into the air, and animals when put even for a short time under water, but the axolotl cannot be drowned anywhere. Yet he is nowhere safe, for the inhabitants of the place where he is found—Mexico, New Mexico and Texas—think that his flesh is very good to eat, and catch great numbers of the axolotl for food, which they cook in various ways.

One Cent a Month.

A reader sends a "curiosity in figures," which is appended:

Hire a man to work at the rate of one cent a month for the first month and then agree to double his salary at the end of each of the following months for a term of three years and see how badly you will be surprised when he calls for the grand total of his wages. Here are the figures in a nutshell: First month, .01; second, .02; third, .04; fourth, .08; fifth, .16; sixth, .32; seventh, .64; eighth, $1.28; ninth, $2.56; tenth, $5.12; eleventh, $10.24; twelfth, $20.48; thirteenth, $40.96; fourteenth, $81.82; fifteenth, $163.84; sixteenth, $327.68; seventeenth, $655.36; eighteenth, $1311.72; nineteenth, $2623.54; twentieth, $5247.08; twenty-first, $10,494.16; twenty-second, $20,988.33; twenty-third, $41,976.64; twenty-fourth, $82,956.28; twenty-fifth, $165,906.56; twenty-sixth, $331,813.12; twenty-seventh, $663,626.24; twenty-eighth, $1,327,352.48; twenty-ninth, $2,654,504.96; thirtieth, $4,609,009.92; thirty-first, $8,618,019.84; thirty-second, $17,236,039.68; thirty-third, $34,472,073.38; thirty-fourth, $68,944,156.72; thirty-fifth, $137,888,313.44; thirty-sixth, $275,776,626.88. Grand total of the thirty-six months' or three years' salary, $552,554,253.65.—St. Louis Republic.

Soldiers Omnipresent in Havana.

Soldiers seem omnipresent in Havana, and are on duty at all places of amusement. There are three classes of them, those that wear blue facings being under the authority of the municipal government; those that wear red under the the military power, and those that wear white borders on low round felt hats being the Civil Guards. The latter patrol the rural districts, but the others are confined to the city limits. Cavalry are on duty after dark, and occupy every point of advantage in case of an uprising. The foot soldiers travel in pairs while on duty, and are therefore known as the Pares, a name to which some of them promptly respond when addressed. It may be expensive to have so many idle men in uniform parading the streets, yet but for them it would not be safe for a man to cross the Prado at any hour of the day or night.—New York Post.

An Ingenious Contrivance.

A firm in Birmingham, England, is manufacturing an ingenious device for indicating the existence of a fire or for regulating the heat in the preparation of food and drink. The fire alarm consists of a series of very sensitive diaphragms which are connected with an electric battery in such a way that, as soon as the temperature of an apartment in which the appliance is fixed reaches a predetermined point, an electric bell is set ringing and continues to ring for some hours if necessary, until a reduction of the temperature is effected. The instrument is capable of very nice adjustment, and on the occasion of a recent trial it is stated that the bell was caused to ring by breathing upon the diaphragms.—Philadelphia Record.

Japanese Fads About Flowers.

The Japanese consider it especially difficult to arrange chrysanthemums, and seven faults are noted which must carefully be guarded against in disposing of large blossoms of this plant. A blossom must not present its back in a composition, nor yet turn its full face to view; the different flowers must not have stems of the same length; three must not be arranged in a triangular form, nor may any number be placed in a regular step-like way; the flowers should not be hidden by leaves, nor should a large open blossom be put near the base of the composition, and, finally, the artist must not fall into the sin of color-sand wishing of placing a blossom of one color between two others of another that.—Garden and Forest.

The Reason Why.

We call it Alabastine, as it is manufactured from alabaster rock.

The people use it because it is durable and beautiful.

The sanitarians endorse it because it is of a sanitary nature, and contains no poisonous material.

We advertise it as we want all to have an opportunity to be benefited by its advantages.

Wall paper firms fight it, as it displaces their poisonous products.

Some dealers talk against it, as they can buy cheap kalsomines, and where the people are not posted, sell at Alabastine prices, thus making more profit.

Kalsomines must go, as they are only temporary and spoil the walls.

Alabastine has come to stay, as it possesses merit, and has the unqualified endorsement of those who have used it for years.

Alabastine has stood the test of time, and now stands higher in public favor than ever before.

Prof. Kedzie, the eminent sanitarian of Michigan, says: "Have carefully tested for arsenic or copper; none could be found. Find no traces of poisonous or injurious material."

Dr. DeWolfe, the health officer of Chicago, says: "The perfect wall for domestic habitation is the material which resists decomposition in every form. It seems to me that Alabastine is admirably adapted to the purpose."

The Good Health Publishing Co., of Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "We will, probably, use Alabastine as long as it is in existence."

We are located at Grand Rapids, Mich., and will cheerfully answer any communications in relation to our goods.

A Man In a Thousand.

Stranger—"Are you the gentleman who caught a big, burly burglar, and held on with bull-dog tenacity until he ceased to struggle, and you were able to bind and gag him?"

Gentleman—"Yes. What is it you wish?"

Stranger—"I called, sir, to ask if you would not accept an agency for some of the long-felt wants which we manufacture and which no family should be without."—New York Weekly.

An Easy Way to Break Up a Cold.

A brisk walk is recommended for breaking up a cold. The person threatened should put on extra clothing, and walk hard and fast until he is in a free perspiration. Then, while still heated up, he should go home, quickly undress and get into a warm bed and take a glass of hot water or hot lemonade. Where this course is pursued the chances are many that all the threatening signs will have disappeared the following morning.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Mr. Warren D. Wents of Geneva, N. Y.,

Is given the highest endorsement for honesty and integrity by all who know him. For years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the harness maker and member of the Geneva Board of Health. Read the following statement of his terrible sufferings from

Dyspepsia

And his cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I was taken sick last October with gastric fever, and my recovery was considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks the fever slowly left me, but I could not eat the simplest food without

Terrible Distress

It seemed that I had recovered from the fever to die of starvation. I took nepsin compounds, bismuth, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician confessed that he did not know what else to try. Everything I took seemed

Like Pouring Melted Lead

into my stomach. I happened to think I had part of a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla that had been in the house for two or three years, that I found had benefited me previously for dyspepsia. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing me, even to which I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words enough to permit me to express the praise I would like to give to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. WENTS, 18½ Castle Street, Geneva, N. Y.

Pie and Cheese

A Good Voucher

"I have known Mr. Warren D. Wents for many years and can vouch for him as a man of veracity and one well known about here. I have sold him several bottles of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

during the past few months." M. H. PARTRIDGE, Druggist, Geneva, N. Y.

Hood's Pills Cure Liver Ills

Young Mothers!

We Offer You a Remedy which Insures Safety to Life of Mother and Child.

"MOTHER'S FRIEND"

Robs Confinement of its Pain, Horror and Risk.

After using one bottle of "Mother's Friend" I suffered but little pain, and did not experience that weakness afterward usual in such cases.—Mrs. LEVIE GAGE, Lamar, Mo., Jan. 13th, 1891.

Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle. Book to Mothers mailed free.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR. S. C. PARSONS, FEMALE REGULATING PILLS,

Made for women and the diseases peculiar to her sex.

They regulate the menstrual flow, are safe and reliable, have been sold for years, and cure all discharges and inflammations of the womb.

Sold by druggists and sent by mail.

Price $1.00.

Dr. S. C. Parsons, "Family Physician" tells how to get well and keep well; 400 pages, profusely illustrated. For pamphlets, question lists, or private information free of charge, address with stamp.

DR. S. C. PARSONS, Savannah, Ga.

Jackson's Wonder Bean.

THE GREATEST Vegetable Introduction For Many Years.

It is a Bunch Bean. Prolific, Sweet, Rich Flavor, good for the Table and fine for Forage. A combination Soup, Lima and Butter Bean.

25c. per Paper, by Mail. Special terms to Agents. Descriptive circulars free. Send for Seed Catalogue.

MARK W. JOHNSON SEED CO.
[illegible]

SOUTHERN PROGRESS.

The Industrial Development in the Week Ended April 16th.

Correspondents in the flooded districts of Louisiana and Mississippi report that the damage is being rapidly repaired, and that the loss will be considerable, chiefly affecting the railroads, however. The increase in the stocks of iron has a depressing effect on the market, and nearly every furnace in the south is in blast; unless some recovery occurs in prices, a further reduction in freights is possible. The lumber markets show a slight improvement and an advance of 50 cents per thousand has been made in yellow pine, with an improved demand. The textile plants continue in full operation. A slight advance in cotton has stimulated trade, and general business shows a shade of improvement. One of the significant features of the week was the shipment by steamboat of 1,000 barrels of sugar from New Orleans, via Cairo, to the Tennessee valley, opening up thereby, a new channel of commerce via the Mussel Shoals canal.

Sixty-six new industries are reported as established or incorporated during the week; among them being brick and tile works at Dothen, Ala., Lewisburg, Tenn., Paducah and Keene, Texas; canneries at Harrisburg, Ark., Ellisville, Ga. Owensboro, Fla., and Florence, S. C.; electric light plants at LaGrange, Ga., Harriman, Tenn., and Culpepper, Va., and a development company at Luling, Texas. Grain elevators will be built at Harrold and Iowa Park, Texas. Fence works at Griffin, Ga., and Texarkana, Texas, and flour and grist mills at Knoxville, Tenn., Lebanon, Ky., and San Antonio, Texas.

An iron mining company, with $3,000,000 capital, is reported as chartered at Bristol, Va., and one with $1,000,000 capital at Galveston, Texas, a bolt and screw manufacturing company at Eatonton, Va., plow works at Fort Worth, Texas a coal mining corporation, with $150,000 capital, at Rolf, W. Va., a marble and quarrying company capitalized at $100 000 at Atlanta, Ga., oil and gas companies each with $100 000 capital, at Newport, Ky., and Wace ing, W. Va., and cotton seed oil mills at Henderson, Texas, and Shreveport, La., the latter having $100,000 capital.

Shoe factory at Louisville, Ky., and Petersburg and Ettricks, Va., a clothing factory at Durham, N. C., cotton mills at Bamberg, S. C., capital $400,000, at Dillon and Clinton, S. C., and Double Shoal and Placville, N. C., flour works with $1,500,000 capital at Atlanta, Ga., and a hemp factory at Mobile, Ala. A stone working plant is to be established at Eureka Springs, Ark., and steel making works on a large scale are in contemplation at Birmingham, Ala.

Among woodworking establishments of the week are a $40,000 lumber company at Little Rock, Ark., a box factory at Harriburg, Ark., a furniture factory at Buckhannan, W. Va., spoke and handle works at Lexington Ky., and saw and planing mills at Chattanooga and Erwin, Tenn., Claiborne, Ala., and Lawa, Tex.

Water-works will be built at Carrollton and Eatonton, Ga., Hickman and Hopkinsville Ky., Port Gibson, Miss., Alcolu, S. C., and Hallettsville, Texas. Cotton mills will be enlarged at Augusta, Ga., Burlington and Bynum, N. C., and Maryville, Tenn., and the foundry at Tupelo, Miss., will be increased in capacity.

Among the new buildings of the week are bank buildings at Pine Bluff, Ark., and Chattanooga, Tenn., business houses at Roanoke, Va., Opelousas, La., and Chattanooga, Tenn., a court house to cost $225,000 at San Antonio, Texas, and one at Talbotton, Ga.; $25,000 college building at DeLand, Fla., school buildings at Milledgeville, Ga., a $75,000 hotel at Fort Smith, Ark., and government buildings at Little Rock, Ark.; Anniston, Ala., Jacksonville, Fla., Brunswick, Ga., Durham, N. C., Laredo, Texas, and Bedford City, and Newport News, Va.—The Tradesman (Chattanooga, Tenn.)

A DESPERATE ENCOUNTER

In Which a Deputy Sheriff is Killed by a Desperado.

A dispatch of Friday afternoon from Murphy, N. C., says: Last Saturday night another of Bill Murphy's victims bit the dust. This time Charley Ray, deputy sheriff of Monroe county, Tennessee. After killing his brother, Medlin and Martin, he sent the sheriff of Monroe county word that he didn't want to hurt him, but he must not come and try to arrest him. The sheriff did not go until a warrant was sworn out and placed in his hands for Murphy's arrest. He then summoned a posse of fifteen men and, with Charley Ray, his deputy, they went to Jellico. It was after dark as they approached Tom Miller's house, where Bill Murphy and his brothers, Arch and Jim, were. They heard the crowd approaching and got out of the house in the chimney corner. Sheriff McKean ordered them to surrender and they opened fire on the posse with Winchesters. A hot fire from both sides was kept up for a few minutes, and Charley Ray, the deputy, fell with a bullet in his brain. Then the sheriff's posse, except Dan Murphy, ran. The sheriff was shot in the shoulder, but fortunately for him the ball struck the breech of his gun, splintering it, and saved his life. The Murphys then made a dash for the house again, which is built of logs, with only one door, and began firing through the cracks. The whole crowd then precipitately fled, leaving the dead body of Ray where he fell.

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED.

A messenger was sent to Sweetwater for medical aid for the sheriff, and to telegraph the governor for troops. More trouble is expected, as Murphy will not be taken alive. He has staked off his grave by the side of his dead brother.

THE "TECH" BURNED.

Georgia's School of Technology Goes Up in Smoke.

The Georgia Technological school was burned to the ground at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. When the alarm was sounded in the city the magnificent pile was a solid sheet of flame.

It required but a short while after the alarm was given for the fire department to respond, although the buildings were far out of the corporate limits. When they reached the school the machinery hall and the engine room were a mass of flames and immediately a general alarm was turned in. Part of the hose had to be stretched from the corner of Marietta street and North avenue, a quarter of a mile distant, and the delay occasioned by that added to the control the fire had gotten. When water was finally played upon the conflagration the building adjoining the main building was doomed and the main efforts were directed to saving the latter. Hardly a half hour after the fire first started a portion of machinery hall fell in, and in the midst of the furore heat the firemen worked all the harder to check the course of the flames. The building cost $63,000. The apparatus cost $30,000. There were 199 pupils on the roll.

Convicts Revolt.

A Chattanooga dispatch says: One hundred and twenty-five convicts employed at Durham, Ga., coal mines, sixteen miles south of Chattanooga, on Lookout mountain, mutinied Friday on account of change of bosses. For a time things looked serious. Principal Keeper Jones, who was summoned from Atlanta, succeeded in quieting the mob, and at last accounts everything was serene.

Hot Weather in Texas.

Telegrams from Denison, Texas, state that the horrid were [illegible] that place. The thermometer at 5 p. m. Monday was 90 degrees in the shade. The weather is stifling and the result [illegible]

Set Up Head.

Mother (proudly)—"And so you got to the head of the spelling-class to-day!"

Little Son—"Yes'm. The whole class missed on spellin' a word 'cept me."

"And you didn't?"

"No'm. There was only one way left to spell it."—Street & Smith's Good News.

No Hope for Statesmen.

American Boy—"Pop, we're taking up political economy in our school now."

Pop (a local statesman)—"That's all right, my boy, but it's no use. All the book learnin' in th' country will never git votes down to less'n two dollars."—Street & Smith's Good News.

People Know a Good Thing.

THAT'S WHY REMINGTON TYPEWRITERS ARE IN DEMAND.

Some idea of the present wonderful growth of the typewriter business may be gained from the fact that the sales of Remington typewriters for January and February, 1892, exceeded those of the corresponding months of 1891 by $160,000.

The great and constantly gaining popularity of the Remington is clearly shown by the fact that the business has more than doubled within three years. The Remington factory at Ilion, N. Y., employs 700 men to fill the demand or sale by the sales agents, Wykoff, Seamans & Benedict, who dispose of machines at the astonishing rate of one every five minutes.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Friends are like melons. Shall I tell you why? To Find one good, you must a hundred try.

BROWN'S Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Men are usually tempted by the devil, but an idle man positively tempts the devil.

FITS stopped free by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free. Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

SUFFERERS FROM COUGHS, SORE THROAT, etc., should try "Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple but sure remedy. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cts.

The worst cases of female weakness readily yield to Dr. Swan's Pastiles. Samples free. Dr. Swan, Beaver Dam, Wis.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Consumption carries off many of its victims needlessly. It can be stopped sometimes; sometimes it cannot.

It is as cruel to raise false hopes as it is weak to yield to false fears.

There is a way to help within the reach of most who are threatened—CAREFUL LIVING and Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Let us send you a book on the subject; free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. 31

"August Flower"

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years and first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried, but to no purpose. A friend recommended August Flower and words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold it. It has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia and biliousness." JESSE BARKER, Printer, Humboldt, Kas.

It is for the cure of dyspepsia and its [illegible] that Tutt's Tiny Liver Pills are [illegible]

Remedy for Dandruff.

The best thing to clear dandruff from the hair is kerosene. Of course, if it is used, it ought to be combed, and that can be done. I made what little I own on that discovery. It was when I was running a little shop in one of the interior towns. By mistake I put some on a man's hair one day, and he came back to tell me that it worked like a charm. He did not know what it was, and I did not tell him. He said he wanted some more of it, and I gave it to him. Then I bought several gallons of it, scented it, put it in bottles, gave it some high sounding name, and people bought it by the dozen bottles. The demand was so great that I was afraid the grocer in the town would get on to me, and I sent to Chicago and bought a barrel of it. I sold every drop of it for the hair. I got my start in that way, and that is why I am now in business in the city.—Interview in Chicago Tribune.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

There is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

There is a past which is gone forever. But there is a future which is still our own.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

But one upon earth is more beautiful and better than the wife—that is the mother.

Is it sensible? Is it reasonable? Is it economy to suffer yourself and worry others with a headache when Bradycrotine will relieve you in fifteen minutes? It costs only fifty cents a bottle, at drug stores.

THE pleasant coating of Beecham's Pills completely disguises the taste without impairing their efficiency. 25 cents a box.

Rather risky

—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Risky for them. For you, if you have Catarrh, it's a certainty. You're certain to be cured of it, or to be paid $500. That's what they offer, and in good faith—they cure you, or pay you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing.

But—is it so much of a risk? They have a medicine that cures Catarrh, not for a time, but for all time. They've watched it for years, curing the most hopeless cases. They know that in your case there's every chance of success, almost no chance of failure.

Wouldn't any one take such a risk with such a medicine?

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist fifty cents and the trial begins.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

My little girl suffered for three years from a large Abscess on her hip, the result of a fall and dislocation. The Abscess was large, with six openings, all of which discharged pus. I was induced by friends to give her S. S. S., and by the time the fifth bottle was finished the Abscess was entirely healed, and the child was well and happy.—MRS. J. A. WEGNER, Slatington, Pa.

I had three little girls who were attacked with obstinate ECZEMA or Blood Trouble, which at first resembled heat, but soon grew to yellow blisters, some of them quite large. One of the children died from the effects of it, but we got Swift's Specific and gave to the other two, and they soon got well. S. S. S. forced out the poison promptly. The cure was wonderful.—J. D. RAINS, Marthasville, La.

S. S. S. has no equal for Children. It relieves the system promptly, and assists nature in developing the child's health. Our Treatise mailed free.

SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

DR. BIGGER'S HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL

CURES ALL BOWEL AND STOMACH AND CHILDREN TROUBLES TEETHING

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOE

For gentlemen is a fine Calf Shoe, made seamless, of the best leather produced in this country. There are no tacks or wax threads to hurt the feet, and is made as smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. It is as stylish, easy fitting and durable as custom-made shoes costing from $4.00 to $5.00, and acknowledged to be the Best in the World for the price.

For GENTLEMEN.		For LADIES.
$5.00	Genuine Hand-Sewed.	$3.00	Hand-Sewed.
$4.00	Hand-Sewed Welt Shoe.	$2.50	Best Dongola.
$3.50	Police and Farmer.	$2.00	Calf and Dongola.
$2.50	Extra Value Calf Shoe.	$1.75	For MISSES.
$2.25	Workingman's Shoe.	For BOYS' & YOUTH'S.
$2.00	Goodwear Shoe.	$2 & $1.75	SCHOOL SHOES.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES.

IT IS A DUTY you owe to yourself and your family, during these hard times, to get the most value for your money. You can economize in your footwear if you purchase W. L. Douglas' Shoes, which, without question, represent a greater value for the money than any other makes.

CAUTION. W. L. DOUGLAS' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe, which protects the consumer against high prices and inferior shoes. Beware of dealers who acknowledge the superiority of W. L. Douglas' Shoes by attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent, and subject to prosecution by law, for obtaining money under false pretences. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. AGENTS WANTED. We will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers where I have no agent and advertise them free in local paper.

Cheaper than Barb Wire.

HUMANE, STRONG, VISIBLE, ORNAMENTAL.

HARTMAN WIRE PANEL FENCE.

Double the Strength of any other fence; will not stretch, sag or get out of shape. Harmless to Stock; a Perfect Farm Fence, yet Handsome enough to Ornamente Lawn. Write for prices, Descriptive Circular and Testimonials, also Catalogue of Hartman Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Tree and Flower Guards, Flexible Wire Mats, &c.

HARTMAN MFG. CO., Beaver Falls, Pa.
SOUTHERN SALES AGENCY, 21 and 23 S. Forsyth Street, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. HARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

TRADE MARK. LOCAL 1878.

DO NOT GRIPE NOR SICKEN.

Sure cure for SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid glands. They arouse vital organs, remove nausea, dizziness. Magical effect on Kidneys and bladder. Conquer Bilious nervous disorders. Establish perfect and DAILY ACTION.

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. PURELY VEGETABLE.

The dose is nicely adjusted to each case, as one pill can never be too much. Each vial contains 40, carried in vest pocket like Lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent."

Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with example.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which crack the hands, injure the iron, and burn off.

The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, purify the blood, are mild and efficient. The best general family medicine known for Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Foul Breath, Headache, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Paleness, Pimples, Boils, Complexion, Tired Feeling, and all diseases resulting from impure blood, or a failure by the stomach, liver or intestines to perform their proper functions. Persons given to over eating are benefited by taking RIPANS TABULES. Five grains (one capsule) Price, 72 cents. Sold by druggists, 1 bottle (60 tabules) 60 cents. Sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price. Address THE RIPANS CHEMICAL CO. 10 Spruce St., N. Y. Agents Wanted; EIGHTY per cent profit.

$50.00 A WEEK

HILTON COUNTY
graphical center of Alabama. The lle and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga.
Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Memille all pass through the County, and a river is the boundary line on the east.
of industries are farming and saw mill.
Population 15,000.
ton, the county seat, is on the L. & N.
miles south of Birmingham and 40
Montgomery. Several large saw mills ated in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1892. NUMBER 28.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.
Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.
Communications recommending candidates for office will be handed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.
Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.
☞The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE.

CORNER FIRST AVENUE AND TWENTY-FIRST STREET.

What we want is for you to come and substantiate what we say to be the truth. Our prices cut right and left, through every department in our grand, magnificent store, and on the st desirable stock of spring and summer goods in the South. A clear riddance of our entire spring stock by the Leaders of Low Prices.

N ANNOUNCEMENT TO BE OBSERVED AND NOTED DOWN.

CAHEEN BROS. & COMPANY.

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

OLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much r and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

PRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, rts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit rybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the sent year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

UT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Montmery. We want your money and

OU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than e goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons wed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsehere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with e fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, lt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: {Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CONCAVE TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Minneapolis, Minn. Memphis, Tenn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

FRIDAY.—In the house Friday morning the speaker called attention to the fact that at the time of adjournment Thursday the sergeant-at-arms had been given warrants for the arrest of absent members. He would now ask the officer to make his report. Colonel "Ike" Hill then proceeded to the space in front of the speaker's desk to submit his report, when he was interrupted by Mr. Owens, of Ohio, with the point of order that after the adjournment of the house the sergeant-at-arms had no authority to bring in the absentees. The speaker replied that that was not a question of order. It was a question for the house to decide. Colonel Hill stated that nineteen warrants had been put in his hands. Two members he had failed to find; one had been suddenly called away on account of sickness in his family; four were out of town. He had notified the other twelve and they had promised to be on hand Friday morning. The speaker stated that the sergeant-at-arms had called on him in the meantime and asked what he should do with the members upon whom he served warrants. The speaker had taken the liberty to instruct him to notify them to be present at Friday's session.

SATURDAY.—There were not one hundred members present when the speaker called the house to order at noon Saturday. By unanimous consent the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Oates, of Alabama, in the chair, on the diplomatic and the consular appropriation bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, restoring the salary of the minister of Venezuela to $7,500, which the bill proposed to reduce to $5,000. Hitt and Blount resumed business as tellers, but received little patronage from the republicans. However, they were patient, and for almost an hour awaited the democratic customers who were summoned from the committee rooms by pages and doorkeepers; and their patience was rewarded, and they were enabled to close up business with honor. A quorum appeared and the amendment was lost—19 to 149.

MONDAY.—Being suspension day in the house, Mr. Fowler, of New Jersey, moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill which authorizes the secretary of the treasury to grant registers as vessels of the United States to such foreign built steamships, now engaged in freight and passenger business, and sailing in an established line from a port in the United States, as one of a tonnage of not less than 8,000 tons and capable of speed of not less than twenty knots per hour, of which not less than ninety per cent of the shares of foreign corporation or association owning same was owned January 1, 1890, and has continued to be owned until the passage of this act, by citizens of the United States, provided that such American owners shall, subsequent to the date of this law, have built, or have contracted to build, in American ship yards, steamships of aggregate tonnage of not less in amount than that of steamships so admitted to registry. After a brief explanation by Mr. Cockran, of New York, the motion was agreed to and the bill passed. The Bryan bill, providing for free binding twine, was then taken up and passed by a vote of 183 to 47, three republicans voted for it, and two democrats (Covert and Coburn of New York) voted against it; all the third party people voted with the democrats. The bill granting a pension to the survivors of the Indian wars of 1832 to 1842 was also passed. It provides that the names of the survivors who served thirty days in the Black Hawk war, the Creek war, the Cherokee disturbance, or the Florida war with the Seminole Indians and were honorably discharged, as well as the surviving widows of such officers or enlisted men, provided such widows have not re-married, shall be placed upon the pension rolls. The pension will be $8 a month. The bill will undoubtedly pass the senate very soon and will become a law at this session of congress.

TUESDAY.—But little routine business was done in the house Tuesday morning, and shortly after the reading of the journal the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Oates of Alabama in the chair, on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Consideration of the consular portion of the bill having been completed without any material change having been made toward increasing the salaries of the various consuls above the amount appropriated by the bill, the committee reverted to the amendment offered a few days ago by Mr. Chipman of Michigan and temporarily passed over that part providing that no part of the emergency funds shall be paid to any foreign government in settlement of any claim against the United States. The amendment was adopted. Mr. Blount, of Georgia, in charge of the bill, moved to strike out the appropriation of $65,000 to continue the preliminary survey for an international railway. Mr. McCreary opposed the motion. The only gentleman on the foreign affairs committee who opposed the appropriation was the chairman, who had reported the bill. That gentleman stood in the attitude of asking the house to strike from the bill, which he himself had reported, one of its most important features. It was not a proposition to build a railroad. It was simply a proposition that the United States should furnish $65,000 to complete a survey which was already two-thirds accomplished. There was nothing in the clause that pledged the United States to furnish one dollar for construction of a road. After further debate the motion was agreed to, 118 to 71. Mr. Blount thus triumphed over the otherwise united vote of his committee. Mr. Blount then moved to strike out the appropriation of $25,000 for the collection and distribution of commercial information as recommended by the International American conference. Agreed to—97 to 69. The committee arose and reported the bill as amended to the house. Mr. Hooker of Mississippi demanded a separate vote on the amendment striking out the $65,000 appropriation for an intercontinental railway commission. It was agreed to; yeas 145, nays 84. He demanded also a separate vote on the amendment striking out the appropriation for a commercial bureau of the American republic. The amendment was rejected, yeas 74, nays 148, and the appropriation for an international union of the American republics remains in the bill. The bill was then passed. On motion of Mr. Outhwaite of Ohio, the senate amendment to the army appropriation was non-concurred in and a conference was ordered. The house then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.—After approval of the house journal and reference of a number of senate bills, Geary, of California, presented the conference report on the Chinese exclusion bill. Geary demanded the previous question on the adoption of the report, and notwithstanding the protests of Hook, of Mississippi, it was ordered.

THE SENATE.

MONDAY—Numerous petitions were presented in the senate Monday against legislation for the closing of the World's fair on Sundays. They came from the states of Vermont, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas. Many of them were from religious bodies. Also one from a Methodist church in New Hampshire urgently protesting against further adverse legislation against the Chinese. In presenting the petition for legislation for the closing of the world's fair Sunday, Mr. Vest described it as a "machine petition." It had been originally, he said, addressed to two Ohio senators, and it contained a resolution pledging signers to refuse, henceforth, to support for any office or position of trust any senator or member who should vote for further aid of any kind for the world's fair except on conditions named in the memorials. Whatever might be his vote on the question, he said, he should certainly pay no attention to that sort of resolution. He did not hold people who had sent him the petition responsible for it. It had been obviously prepared in the city of Washington as a sort of political blackmail. If that sort of practice were to continue, and we were expected to vote for the bill, which he might believe unconstitutional, he did not want to hold office on any such conditions. As to closing the world's fair on the Sabbath, that question was before the committee, of which he was a member, and was being considered very carefully. A much more serious question, however, was as to the expenditures that had already been made about the Columbian exposition, among which he noticed that of the five millions contributed by the city of Chicago $90,000 had been expended for the location of the exposition in that city. He stated that the committee which had lately visited Chicago had investigated that question to see whether the expenditure was necessary, how it was expended and who got the money. He had expressed the opinion when the bill was first presented in the senate, that expending five millions the city of Chicago would come to congress and say that it was necessary, for the honor of the entire country, that the exposition should be of the people of the United States.

TUESDAY.—After the usual routine of the morning business was disposed of in the senate Mr. Morgan called up the president's message on the subject of the international conference as to silver coinage. Mr. Kyle then proceeded to address the senate in favor of free coinage. At the close of Mr. Kyle's speech the message was again laid on the table, Mr. Morgan giving notice that he desired to speak upon it. The conference report on the Chinese exclusion bill was then laid before the senate. As soon as it was read Mr. Sherman stated that, although a member of the conference committee, he had not been able to sign the report; he was very willing to provide any necessary legislation for the restriction of Chinese labor, and thought that the senate bill had done so very broadly. Mr. Sherman found great objection to the registry and certificate provision of the bill as amended by the conference committee. That, he thought, was in violation of the treaty of 1880 with China. Messrs. Dolph and Morgan, members of the conference committee, defended the registration provision. Mr. Call declared himself in opposition not only to the conference report, but to the principle on which the whole anti-Chinese legislation was founded. He believed that the pending measure would involve a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the already ruined cotton industry of the south. After half a dozen other senators had spoken both for and against, the conference report was agreed to—Yeas, 30; nays, 15. The house bill placing binding twine on the free list was laid before the senate and referred to the finance committee. Several other house bills were presented and referred. After a brief executive session, the senate adjourned.

NOTES.

A bill to establish free mail delivery in towns having a population of five thousand, or annual post office receipts of five thousand dollars, is pending in the senate and will probably pass.

Notwithstanding the time lost in adjournments from Thursday or Friday of each week until the following Monday, the senate is disposing of business with a degree of rapidity that is in marked contrast with the conduct of affairs in the house.

An early adjournment of congress is one of the things earnestly desired by the majority party in the house, and in order to attain it, the policy is to pass the appropriation bills as speedily as possible and send them to the senate, so that on that body may be fixed the responsibility for any possible prolongation of the session well into the summer. The promptness with which the senate has passed the appropriation bills heretofore sent to it has stimulated the desire for an early adjournment, and has also increased the possibility of its accomplishment, if the house does its part.

Sporting Congressmen.

During the past week the race course has proven more attractive to the average member of congress than the capitol. Since the races commenced it has been almost impossible after 2 o'clock in the afternoon to get a quorum in either house of congress, but should the roll be called at the race track there is little doubt but that a quorum would answer to their names. On Thursday the house had to suspend business and send the sergeant-at-arms out to the track to arrest absentees and compel their attendance, but the track is five miles from the capitol, and although the officers of the house captured several carriage loads of members they did not return with them until those members who were at the capitol became tired of waiting and adjourned the house. Nineteen of the arrested members were carried before the bar of the house and put on trial Friday; but as usual all made excuses and were only punished by their colleagues making sport of them for a time.

A Protest from Railroads.

The proposition made by the house postoffice committee in the postal appropriation bill to reduce the compensation of land grant and subsidized railroads for carrying mails from 80 per cent of the rate allowed to non-aided railroads, as the law at present provides, to 50 per cent, has awakened various opposition from land grant railroads and they are protesting against the proposed legislation as unjust and unreasonable. On Tuesday representatives of a number of these railroads appeared before the committee and stated the reasons for their opposition. Major E. B. Stahlman, of Atlanta, Ga., commissioner for the Southern Railway and Steamship Company, spoke for the roads in the south. The present compensation for carrying mails, he said, was not equal to the amount the company would receive if it collected fare from a single mail messenger at the rate of 3 cents per mile. The Louisville and Nashville at present lost by means of the reduction of 20 per cent made under the existing laws between $13,000 and $15,000 per year, which was equal to 4 per cent on the amount the road had received by reason of the government land grant. Representative Clark, of Mobile, Ala., district read a letter from the president of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, protesting against the reduction. Representatives of several western lines of railroad also opposed the contemplated action of congress.

AN ADDRESS

Promulgated by the Conference of Alliance Presidents at Birmingham.

MUCH DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AMONG DELEGATES BUT HARMONY PREVAILED THROUGHOUT THE MEETING.

The Farmers' Alliance convention met at Birmingham on the 3d inst. The convention was composed of the presidents and members of the executive boards of the various southern states. Every state was represented. The meeting, which was secret, was called to order by Col. L. L. Polk, president of the National Alliance, who was made the permanent chairman, and W. F. Gwynne, of Tennessee, was selected as secretary.

Considerable differences of opinion are known to have developed in the conference as to the extent to which the order should be influenced in politics. The People's party idea prevailed by a large majority, but the element that opposed taking the Alliance as an order into politics was strong enough to force a compromise. Some of the members proclaimed their right to freedom under the constitution of the order to vote as they pleased, and the address given below formally accords that right. But all members of the order are urged to vote for their demands. The proceedings were harmonious and it is understood the members go home with a general purpose to hold the Alliance out of local politics, as individuals supporting Alliance principles.

The Birmingham Age-Herald was furnished with the following as a correct statement of the alliance proceedings and prospects: "The day was spent in receiving reports from different states upon the situation and perfect harmony seems to prevail, and wise conservatism that will prevent any radical action governs the entire work. All present express a determined support of alliance principles by their constituents, and seem to be disposed to keep the order entirely free from any partisan estrangements."

WORDS OF ADVICE.

Following is the text of the address:

To the Brotherhood of National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union: We, the presidents and executive officers of the states of Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Texas, Louisiana, Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, West Virginia and Florida, together with the members of our national executive committee, national legislative committee, national judiciary committee and President Polk, having been called together in council to consider the reported peculiar conditions in the order in the southern states, which it was believed seriously threatened that harmony, brotherly love and unity of action so necessary to the success of our cause, and success of our order in these states, after counseling together and hearing detailed reports, rejoice to say to you that we feel greatly encouraged and inspired by the splendid spirit of unity and determined adherence to principle which pervades the order in nearly every one of these states, notwithstanding the combined efforts of our enemies to sow seeds of discord in our ranks, pending heated political contests, local and national.

We therefore feel it our duty as servants of the people we represent, standing upon the outposts and watchtowers of this, the greatest political revolution ever known to the nation, to say to you that we have entered the crucial period in the history of our great reform movement in which the greatest caution, earnest deliberation and strict adherence to our principles, are necessary to preserve intact that organization which stands today as the sheet anchor and hope of millions of wealth producers in the great battle for the God-given rights of humanity. You are congratulated upon the great harmony and unity of sentiment in regard to the alliance principles which prevails within your borders, and upon the fact that a careful canvass of the subject at this meeting has shown that practically the members of the order in these states stand squarely upon their demands, with the avowed determination of holding devotion to them above that to any method of action, and that today the number of those who so endorsed the principles of the alliance is much greater than ever before.

The sentiment also prevails, strong and uniform, that this great order as an organization is the greatest of all modern forces for the spread of reform education, and that its work must be perpetuated and encouraged in this high sphere entirely free from any partisan entanglements. The only danger which seems in any way to threaten a lack of the fullest development and prosperity of the order are those which attend the disposition of a few men and papers to publicly criticise and condemn others for their methods. This is not of sufficient extent to damage our order, but it mars that perfect unity that should prevail, and always injures all concerned, and is contrary to the spirit of brotherly love and forbearance that should prevail. Another evil which fortunately prevails only in very few localities is the disposition of members to seek political office at the hands of their brethren, forgetting that principle of alliance doctrine which declares that the office should seek the man and not the man the office. In consideration of these views as to the situation, the following rules of action are suggested as well calculated to enable the order to go through the coming ordeal of fierce political contest and come out strengthened and purified.

1. Let a spirit of harmony prevail and let unity of action be the rule. Let none condemn a brother who stands squarely by principles of the order or speak in any way disparagingly or disrespectfully of him because they may differ as to the best methods of enforcing our principles. Grant to every brother honesty of purpose.

2. Let fealty to the principles of the order be the true and only test of membership and let those who value partisan affiliations more than their alliance obligations be informed that their order demands strict and full devotion to its principles and leaves each to his own methods, but that method can in no case control principle and, therefore, all who affiliate should accept as supreme the principles of the order.

3. Every member who takes the obligation always administered to those who join, is first told as a condition precedent and upon which all that is to follow is predicated: "That it shall in no way interfere with your political or religious liberty." Therefore, this order as such, or any of its branches, has no right to take any partisan, political or sectarian religious action. We urge upon the brotherhood of all reform associations and all good citizens who believe as we do, that the enactment of laws based upon our demands is for the preservation of free institutions of our government and to rescue the masses from degraded servitude, that they use all honorable means to secure the election of men to our national legislative council who who stand pledged to work for the passage of such laws.

Finally, brethren, remember that devotion to our principles is only to be emphasized and our influence made effective by voting for our demands at the ballot box. We send greeting to the brotherhood in the north and the great northwest, and assure them that our hearts beat in unison with them in their efforts for industrial freedom, and we will stand by them in all laudable efforts to redeem this country from the clutches of organized capital, and that we will stand with them at the ballot box for the enforcement of our demands.

Signed by all the members of the conference.

THE IMPRISONED CATTLEMEN.

Are Awaiting the Action of the Courts in Their Cases.

Governor Barber, of Wyoming, has written a letter to the prosecuting attorney of Johnson county, where the recent cattle trouble occurred, in which he states that the men who surrendered to the commanding officer at Fort McKenny are confined at Fort D. A. Russell, and will be held until the prosecuting attorney has had reasonable and sufficient time to prepare and commence in the district court of his county criminal proceedings against any of them who, upon consideration, he shall deem justified and warranted by the evidence which the investigation may disclose to him. He urges the district attorney to make such investigations as he may deem proper, with all due diligence, and institute in the district court appropriate criminal prosecutions, so that those against whom there are no criminal accusations may be released and the others prosecuted for the crimes or violation of law committed by them.

ANOTHER THEATRE FIRE.

A Woman and Child Burned to Death---Narrow Escapes.

Sunday night a fire started in the rear of the stage at Loeb's Variety theater at Leadville, Colorado, and in a few moments the entire place was ablaze. The flames spread rapidly, and before they were got under control half of the block on State street was gutted. There were a number of narrow escapes. One woman and a little child were burned to death. The damage is estimated at $40,000, and about $10,000 insurance.

A Preacher Gets Damages.

A Boston, Mass., dispatch of Friday says: In the case of Rev. W. W. Downs for slander, against three of the members of the Berkeley Square Baptist church, the jury reported a verdict giving the plaintiff $10,000 damages. Mr. Downs sued for $20,000. The verdict [illegible] Dr. Rufus K. Noyes, Abbie Cheney and Alice Negress alias Alice Wilson.

CHILTON COUNTY
...graphical center of Alabama. The ...ville and Nashville, the E. T. V. & Ga. ...he Montgomery, Tuskaloosa and Mem... ...ails all pass through the County, and ...so a river is the boundary line on the east. ...half of industries are farming and saw mill. Population 13,000. ...ton, the county seat, is on the L. & N. ...36 miles south of Birmingham and 40 ...of Montgomery. Several large saw mills ...ated in the vicinity of the town.

The Chilton View.

W. H. LAWRENCE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. WISDOM, JUS... MODERATION. TERMS: $1.50 PER ANNUM.

VOLUME XI. CLANTON, ALA., ... NUMBER 28.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.
Business Notices Twenty Cents per line each insertion.
Obituaries and Tributes of Respect, half rates.
Communications recommending candidates for office will be handed as advertisements and charged for accordingly.
Liberal contracts made with those advertising by the year.
☞ The money is due on all advertising after the first publication.

MISSING ISSUE

THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE.

CORNER FIRST AVENUE AND TWENTY-FIRST STREET.

What we want is for you to come and substantiate what we say to be the truth. Our prices cut right and left, through every department in our grand, magnificent store, and on the ...ost desirable stock of spring and summer goods in the South. A clear riddance of our entire spring stock by the Leaders of Low Prices.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT TO BE OBSERVED AND NOTED DOWN.

CAHEEN BROS. & COMPANY.

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

WE ARE PREPARED TO

EXECUTE JOB PRINTING

With Economy and with Neatness and Dispatch.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Are what the American Public is toiling for day after day, and the man ...o will sell you the most for the Great American Dollar saves you that much ...ior and is your friend. We have on hand a tremendous stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Consisting of Children's Clothing, Boys' Clothing, Men's Clothing, Hats, ...hirts, Underwear, in fact everything worn by men or boys---goods to fit ...erybody, tall men short men, stout men and 300 pounders---of all shapes, ...es and sizes. Owing to tightness of money and the very hard times of the ...esent year, we will sacrifice all our profits and

CUT THE LIFE OUT OF PRICES.

Prices that were never heard of before in the good old town of Mont...omery. We want your money and

YOU WANT OUR GOODS,

In plain language we say to you

Come And See Us

Before you spend a cent or a dollar for spring and summer goods. We

Guarantee Our Clothing

To be of better material, superior workmanship and better fitting, than the goods sold at other houses for same or more money.

You will find the seams in our suits or pants better stayed, the buttons ...ewed on a little tighter, and the fit a little nicer than the suit you see elsewhere. We look sharply after these things and we want to impress you with the fact. For the next 60 days we will sell

5000 WHITE SHIRTS

New York mill muslin---2000 Linen Bosom, reinforced back and front, felt seams, continues facing

AT THE UNHEARD OF PRICE OF 40c.

5000 pairs of men's socks, fine French Balbriggon Double Heels, black, white or brown, only 12½ cents.

Money Saved is Money Earned.

A Base Ball and Bat Given Away Free With Each Child's Suit.

ALEX. RICE,

Montgomery, Ala.

Atkins' Patent Concave Tooth Dexter.

DIXIE'S FAVORITE. FOR THE WOODS OF THE SOUTH IT HAS NO EQUAL.

The patent by which this Saw is protected consists of a depression of the face of the cutting teeth through the center from point to base, thus removing all friction while in use, giving strength and stiffness to the teeth and increasing three-fold the durability of the "set." WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a Saw equaling the ATKINS FAST CUTTING DEXTER.

PRICE: {Silver Steel, Including Handles, $1.00 per foot. / Special Steel, Without Handles, .75 per foot.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The large demand for the ATKINS CONCAVE TOOTH DEXTER SAW has led competitors to make inferior Saws which they claim "as good as the Dexter." These imitation Saws are made from a lower grade of steel, inferior workmanship, and without the patent concave tooth.

Ask your hardware dealer for the "ATKINS DEXTER" and take no other. If the dealer will not order it for you remit amount with order direct to us.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis, Ind. Memphis, Tenn. / Minneapolis, Minn. Chattanooga, Tenn.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

What is Being Done in Congressional Halls for the Country's Welfare.

PROCEEDINGS FROM DAY TO DAY BRIEFLY TOLD—BILLS AND MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION—OTHER NOTES.

THE HOUSE.

FRIDAY.—In the house Friday morning the speaker called attention to the fact that at the time of adjournment Thursday the sergeant-at-arms had been given warrants for the arrest of absent members. He would now ask the officer to make his report. Colonel "Ike" Hill then proceeded to the space in front of the speaker's desk to submit his report, when he was interrupted by Mr. Owens, of Ohio, with the point of order that after the adjournment of the house the sergeant-at-arms had no authority to bring in the absentees. The speaker replied that that was not a question of order. It was a question for the house to decide. Colonel Hill stated that nineteen warrants had been put in his hands. Two members he had failed to find; one had been suddenly called away on account of sickness in his family; four were out of town. He had notified the other twelve and they had promised to be on hand Friday morning. The speaker stated that the sergeant-at-arms had called on him in the meantime and asked what he should do with the members upon whom he served warrants. The speaker had taken the liberty to instruct him to notify them to be present at Friday's session.

SATURDAY.—There were not one hundred members present when the speaker called the house to order at noon Saturday. By unanimous consent the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Oates, of Alabama, in the chair, on the diplomatic and the consular appropriation bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, restoring the salary of the minister of Venezuela to $7,500, which the bill proposed to reduce to $5,000. Hitt and Blount resumed business as tellers, but received little patronage from the republicans. However, they were patient, and for almost an hour awaited the democratic customers who were summoned from the committee rooms by pages and doorkeepers; and their patience was rewarded, and they were enabled to close up business with honor. A quorum appeared and the amendment was lost—19 to 149.

MONDAY.—Being suspension day in the house, Mr. Fowler, of New Jersey, moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill which authorizes the secretary of the treasury to grant registers as vessels of the United States to such foreign built steamships, now engaged in freight and passenger business, and sailing in an established line from a port in the United States, as one of a tonnage of not less than 8,000 tons and capable of speed of not less than twenty knots per hour, of which not less than ninety per cent of the shares of foreign corporation or association owning same was owned January 1, 1890, and has continued to be owned until the passage of this act, by citizens of the United States, provided that such American owners shall, subsequent to the date of this law, have built, or have contracted to build, in American ship yards, steamships of aggregate tonnage of not less in amount than that of steamships so admitted to registry. After a brief explanation by Mr. Cockran, of New York, the motion was agreed to and the bill passed. The Bryan bill, providing for free binding twine, was then taken up and passed by a vote of 183 to 47, three republicans voted for it, and two democrats (Covert and Coburn of New York) voted against it; all the third party people voted with the democrats. The bill granting a pension to the survivors of the Indian wars of 1832 to 1842 was also passed. It provides that the names of the survivors who served thirty days in the Black Hawk war, the Creek war, the Cherokee disturbance, or the Florida war with the Seminole Indians and were honorably discharged, as well as the surviving widows of such officers or enlisted men, provided such widows have not re-married, shall be placed upon the pension rolls. The pension will be $8 a month. The bill will undoubtedly pass the senate very soon and will become a law at this session of congress.

